HAIL THE WORLD CHAMPIONS!

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

Hail, The Champions!

Hail, McFarlands, Conquerors of the World's Best.

The city whose name you so proudly bore through the thick and thin of world tournament battle opens its heart and arms to you!

Canada Welcomes You. Your Fans Salute You!

You defied your critics and proved by an illustrious record you are worthy successors to the teams that carried the name of Canada to the championship heights in the past.

You carried the good name of Canada and Belleville, and maintained your country's prestige as the leading hockey nation of the world to the far-flung hockey centres of Europe!

You were brilliant in many a hard-fought victory. You were gallant in a single defeat.

You celebrated your triumphs, as victors should. Yet you never gloated over a fallen foe.

You accepted your laurels with the modesty of true champions. You paid tribute to those who fell before the brilliancy of your onslaught and the solidity of your defence.

You won championship honors off the ice. As Canadian ambassadors of good will, the nation could not have selected a finer group of young men.

You respected the people, customs, habits and traditions of every foreign nation you visited. You held high the name of Canada.

You showed championship qualities during the long gruelling grind of a lengthy toll-exacting exhibition tour.

The exigencies of travel; one-night stops, strange accommodation and other temper-fraying factors did not elicit complaint. You took such things in your stride.

You were tired, travel weary, when at last you halted on the threshold of the greatest hockey adventure of your lives.

World Hockey Trophy

In Bratislava came your biggest moment. You knew it. Fatigue dropped from your shoulders like a cape after a day's rest.

This was the tournament preliminary. You swept through it more or less easily, defeating the highly touted Czechs in your victory stride.

On to Prague and the biggest test of all. Here you attached the most brilliant feather of all to your cap of triumph.

You defeated the famous Russian team, picked by many foreign observers as tournament champions. You whipped them strictly on your merits. There were no "breaks" favors or fol-de-rols. The Russians went all out to win. So did you. And you did.

Your defeat at the hands of the brilliant Czechs in that last fateful game was no disgrace. The enemy played inspired hockey. They were "up" and would have defeated any team in the tournament on their game's play.

Then the greatest moment of all. The heart-warming scene as the Canadian Red Ensign fluttered aloft in token of Canada's world hockey supremacy. The familiar melody of "O Canada" as thousands of foreigners stood at attention and the salute. In a few brilliant moments of triumph all else was forgotten.

There were instances of individual brilliancy. But not one of you aspired to nor tried for personal glory. Never was the famous battle-cry of the Three Musketeers better exemplified than in your team work. "One for all and all for one."

You were sparked by a brilliant leader, Ike Hildebrand. He had faith in you even as you placed all your faith in him.

Some foreign writers did not like your aggressive, rugged type of Canadian play. Yet other European teams emulated it. Imitation, it is said, is the sincerest form of flattery.

You are worthy champions. Canada is proud of you. Belleville is prouder of you.

WELCOME HOME McFARLANDS!

Macs Bury Swiss Beneath Goal Avalanche

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia (CP) — Canadians sharpened their scoring averages almost at will today, submerging a hapless Swiss team 23-0 in a lopsided match in the world hockey championships.

Four players scored three each — Johnny McLellan, Bert Bradley, Red Berenson and George Gosselin. Scoring twice were Denis Boucher, Jean-Paul Payette, Al Dewsbury and Moe Benoit, Pete Conacher, Jean Paul Lamirande, and Floyd Crawford added singles to complete the slaughter.

McLellan added two assists, Payette three, playing coach Ike Hildebrand four and Gosselin, Conacher and Lou Smrke one apiece as the Belleville squad scored a total of 36 points.

In other preliminary matches, the United States outclassed East Germany 9-2 in a group B game at Brno and West Germany beat Italy 7-2 in the Group C match at Ostrava.

CERTAIN IN FINAL

The win coupled with Canada's 8-0 whitewashing of Poland Thursday, made certain Canada's entry into the final round. The two top clubs of each of the three groups of four teams will move into the final series to be played at Prague.

Canada's final preliminary series game will be played against Czechoslovakia here Saturday.

The Canadian players were criticized by some Czech fans Thursday for what was considered a poor showing against the weak and inexperienced Polish club. The fans thought the Belleville crew did not show enough scoring punch.

That criticism was killed in short order today as Canada raced to a 10-0 lead by the end of the first period. Play slackened considerably in the second period. Canada counted another four goals, but fired only 10 shots at the Swiss goaltender, compared with 20 in the first period.

The Canadians barrelled back in the final period, scoring nine times.

EDWARDS IN NETS

Marve Edwards, North Bay goalie who joined the club in Zurich, Switzerland, just before the championships started, was in the nets for Canada, replacing veteran Gordie Bell who was trying to shake a heavy cold.

Edwards had to make only 10 stops, and only one in the first 20 minutes when his free-wheeling teammates gave the Swiss club no chance to get out of their own zone.

The game again was cleanly played, with Canada getting 3 of the 5 penalties. Benoit was chased in the first period, Dewsbury in the second and Crawford in the third.

Berenson's three-goal outbreak, matching his performance Thursday, gave him the scoring lead on the Canada team. The 20-year-old centre who passed up a chance for a two-year contract with Montreal Canadiens to go to university was added to the club just three days before it sailed for Europe.

McLELLAN TOPS

Matching Berenson in total points was McLellan, a veteran of the professional American Hockey League, with four goals and two assists.

The U.S. also qualified for the finals with its win over East Germany. The U.S. scored three times in each period, letting the East Germans score once in each of the second and third periods.

Three more games, one in each group were scheduled for later today.

Victory over the Norwegians would secure the Russians a berth in the finals, where they are likely to be joined by Czechoslovakia, expected to beat Poland tonight.

Canada — goal: Edwards; defence: Crawford, Lamirande, Dewsbury, Benoit; forwards: Bradley, Hildebrand, Gosselin, McLellan, Smrke, Conacher, Payette, Berenson, Boucher.

Switzerland — goal: Hiener; defence: Handschin, Gerber, Meyer, Weingartner; forwards: Stambach, Berry, Pappa, Wehrli, Sprecher, Bagnoud, Chappot, Schlaepfer, Riesch.

Referees: Adamac, Czechoslovakia, and Wagner, Germany.

Summary

First period: 1, Canada, McLellan 3.00; 2. Canada, Boucher (Payette) 5.03; 3. Canada, Payette 6.00; 4. Canada, Bradley (Hildebrand) 6.10; 5. Canada, Berenson 11.10; 6. Canada, Dewsbury 12.15; 7. WINNIE TOP DRAWER

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill's exhibition of paintings Monday established an attendance record—beating one by the great master Leonardo da Vinci. The Royal Academy said the Churchill exhibit was visited on Easter Monday by another 2,285 cash customers. In 2½ weeks, more than 48,000 have attended the Churchill show. In 1952, "in an exactly comparable period" a da Vinci exhibition drew 39,000.

Hildebrand Says

Russia Best Team McFarlands Played in Tournament

PRAGUE (CP) — The relief was audible in the Belleville dressing room after Wednesday night's 3-1 victory by Canada over Russia and playing coach Ike Hildebrand could barely be heard over the din.

When he could be heard, he said the Russians were definitely the best team Canada has met in the tournament. The Canadians still have to play Sweden, the U.S. and Czechoslovakia and team members said they would not let up after the big game with Russia.

"If we played a string of 10 games with them, they'd win about 40 percent," the stocky Hildebrand said. "It was a real close game.

"We thought that if we could hold them in the first period, we could win. That's when they usually score their goals."

Hildebrand said no other team in the tournament was likely to beat the Russians, and that includes the Czechs who haven't lost a game in the final round yet.

"We won on real good teamwork", said the coach who added he was happy when he scored the third Canadian goal himself.

Roman Kiselev, an official of the Russian sports committee acting as spokesman for the Soviet team, said:

"The best team won. There is no denying that they deserved the victory. We did not play well especially in the first period. I congratulate Canada on this fine team."

TOURIST RECORD

LONDON (CP) — Britain enjoyed a record year for tourists in 1958. Official estimates put the total of visitors from abroad at 1,250,000, one-fourth of them from the United States.

Czechs Hail Macs!

PRAGUE — Canada's Red Ensign fluttered proudly in rafter-packed Zimni Stadium here Sunday and "O Canada" rang out in a paean of victory as the Belleville McFarlands were acclaimed the 1959 world hockey champions.

The proud but hockey-weary Macs were given a thunderous ovation by 15,000 happy Czechs, delirious with the winds of victory, after their national team had defeated the highly-favored Canadians. The Czechs played brilliant hockey, capitalizing on Canada's penalties and off-goal shooting, to chalk up their 5-3 victory.

The Czechs were a better team than the Canadians or Russians on the day's play.

A little band of Canadians, their red Mac booster tams tossed high in the air, cheered lustily as Macs' captain Floyd Crawford mounted the centre pedestal, flanked by the Russian and Czechoslovakian captains.

The stadium rocked to the cheers as Crawford accepted the world hockey trophy. The mug was filled with beautiful yellow daffodils. The Czech and Russian representatives embraced Crawford after the presentation.

Flash bulbs exploded from a hundred and one cameras. Television cameras carried the picture to outside reporters from a dozen nations. The reporters crowded around players and officials for interviews.

Later Ike Hildebrand, carrying the flower-laden trophy, skated around the ice surface followed by the Canadian players. The fans reached over the boards to shake the Macs' hands and pat them on the backs. Cheers resounded again as the players presented their sticks to homage-paying Czech kiddies.

Maurice "Rocket" Richard was one of the first fans to hop over the boards to congratulate the Macs. Earlier this great star of the Montreal Canadiens had emphatically denied a statement appearing in the Russian press which accused the Canadians of being drunken worn-out pros.

Ike Hildebrand grinned happily, although disappointed with the defeat in the Czech game. "Winning the championship is the answer to Canadian critics, both here and home", he said.

"I am proud of the Macs. They did a splendid job. The victory over Russia was exceptional", Hildebrand concluded.

Manager Drury Denyes was overjoyed with winning the championship. "This bears out the statements made earlier that this is one of the best teams to ever represent Canada', he said. "The boys were gentlemen on and off the ice and I am very proud to be associated with such a grand bunch of guys.

"Sure, I was disappointed with our loss today but we are bringing home the bacon", Denyes said.

Czechs Drop 7-2 Verdict to McFarlands

PRAGUE (CP) — Canada was pitted against Czechoslovakia in the last match of the 1959 world hockey tournament in the draw announced by tournament officials Sunday, raising the possibility that the championships may end on a note of anticlimax.

It is believed that the host country drew the windup game March 15 against the Canadians at the insistence of Czech officials, despite the 7-2 defeat the Czechs suffered at the hands of the Belleville club Saturday in their preliminary match at Bratislava.

Results of the three preliminary round-robin competitions indicated that Russia, unbeaten and untied in three matches, or the Swedes, with two wins and a tie, stood a better chance of making a stab at the title than the Czechs.

The draw sent the Canadians against Finland, the underdogs among the six finalists, in their first game today.

They drew a bye Tuesday before facing the Russians at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the game that may decide the tournament. It was Russia that balled the Whitby, Ont., club to a closely-fought 4-3 decision when the Canadians won the title at Oslo a year ago.

The badly crippled Swedes, who lost ace centre Sven (Tumba) Johansson before the Tournament began and his top replacement, Nils Nilsson, during the preliminary rounds, meet Canada Thursday.

Canada has another off - day Friday and faces the United States, beaten 5-3 by the Russians in their preliminary round Saturday, before taking on the Czechs at 9 a.m. EST next Sunday.

The Russians are relegated to a supporting role on the final day, playing Sweden at 4 a.m., five hours before Canada and Czechoslovakia step on the ice.

The two biggest factors that emerged from the preliminary games were the power and expertness of the reinforced Belleville team and the precision of the Russian squad.

Canada was virtually untested in its first two games, beating Poland 9-0 Thursday and crushing Switzerland 23-0 Friday.

The Czech team, however, was highly rated and Saturday's game with Canada was touted as a forecast of the deciding game of the final.

The Czechs more than lived up to their fans' hopes in the first period, as they battled on even terms for the first 20 minutes.

Conacher gave Canada a 1-0 lead at 11.40 of that period that stood up, but Czechoslovakia kept pressing and tested goalie Lorne (Gerry) Bell, who started Friday's game because of an attack of flu, with 19 shots. This was a only two less than the Poles managed to fire at Bell during the entire game Thursday.

But in the second period, the Czechs seemed to fall apart under the Canadian pressure as Conacher scored his second goal on a screened shot shortly after the period started and his third eight minutes later.

George Gosselin made it 4 - 0 early in the third period on a power play while Mirosla Vlach was off for tripping and holding. Coach Ike Hildebrand poked in a rebound to complete Canada's scoring.

Vlach gave the 13,000 fans something to cheer about when he beat Bell from 10 feet out. It was the first goal allowed by Canada in 162 minutes of tournament play.

A Canadian lapse left Jaroslav Jirik uncovered in front of Bell, and he beat him easily for the Czechs' second counter.

But the Canadian defence tightened and held off the stubborn Czech attack.

The Canadians, who had managed to steer fairly well clear of the penalty box for the first two games, fell from grace as they drew 12 of the 16 misdeeds called by the West German officials, including a misconduct and four minors by defenceman Al Dewsbury.

The misconduct in the first period resulted from an involved series of happenings. John McLellan was in the penalty box for minor infraction when Bill Reay, assistant manager of the Canadians, started walking towards him.

An occupant of the press box grabbed Reay, who was momentarily blocking his view, and Reay struggled to break free, a photographer levelled his camera at the pair, Dewsbury promptly skated over and swung his stick at the cameraman, and was immediately judged for 10 minutes.

Despite the loss, the Czech team still was rated highly for the finals, and experts figure it to give some of the other teams a hard time.

Macs' Jean Paul Lamirande Best Defenceman in Tourney

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia— (CP) — A Russian goalkeeper, a Canadian defenceman and an American forward were awarded individual prizes in the 1959 world hockey tournament Sunday night.

Nikolai Puchkoh, 23-year-old netminder who has played for the Russian team since it entered international competition in 1954, received a motor-cycle as the tournament's best goalie.

Jean Paul Lamirande, one of the oldest players in the tournament at 35 and a close contender for top honors when he played for Whitby in the 1958 tournament that Canada won at Oslo, received a leather valise.

Bill Cleary, 24-year-old centre and captain of the United States entry from Boston, was given a camera. The smooth stickhandling forward who scored seven goals for his team during the competition is an avid amateur photographer.

J. F. (Bunny) Ahearne, president of the International Ice Hockey Federation who made the presentations, said Puchkoh got the nod from the awards committee in a close vote over Canada's Gordie Bell and Cleary was elected by another close vote over unidentified competitors. The vote for Lamirande was unanimous.

Another award for a fair play trophy went to the United States as the team judged to have shown the highest standard of sportsmanship during the series.

Czechs Hail Macs!

PRAGUE — Canada's Red Ensign fluttered proudly in rafter-packed Zimni Stadium here Sunday and "O Canada" rang out in a paean of victory as the Belleville McFarlands were acclaimed the 1959 world hockey champions.

The proud but hockey-weary Macs were given a thunderous ovation by 15,000 happy Czechs, delirious with the wine of victory, after their national team had defeated the highly-favored Canadians. The Czechs played brilliant hockey, capitalizing on Canada's penalties and off-goal shooting, to chalk up their 5-3 victory.

The Czechs were a better team than the Canadians or Russians on the day's play.

A little band of Canadians, their red Mac booster tams tossed high in the air, cheered lustily as Macs' captain Floyd Crawford mounted the centre pedestal, flanked by the Russian and Czechoslovakian captains.

The stadium rocked to the cheers as Crawford accepted the small world hockey trophy. The mug was filled with beautiful yellow daffodils. The Czech and Russian representatives embraced Crawford after the presentation.

Flash bulbs exploded from a hundred and one cameras. Television cameras carried the picture to outside reporters from a dozen nations. The reporters crowded around players and officials for interviews.

Later Ike Hildebrand, carrying the flower-laden trophy, skated around the ice surface followed by the Canadian players. The fans reached over the boards to shake the Macs' hands and pat them on the backs. Cheers resounded again as the players presented their sticks to homage-paying Czech kiddies.

Maurice "Rocket" Richard was one of the first fans to hop over the boards to congratulate the Macs. Earlier this great star of the Montreal Canadiens had emphatically denied a statement appearing in the Russian press which accused the Canadians of being drunken worn-out pros.

Ike Hildebrand grinned happily, although disappointed with the defeat in the Czech game. "Winning the championship is the answer to Canadian critics, both here and home", he said.

"I am proud of the Macs. They did a splendid job. The victory over Russia was exceptional", Hildebrand concluded.

Manager Drury Denyes was overjoyed with winning the championship. "This bears out the statement made earlier that this is one of the best teams to ever represent Canada", he said. "The boys were gentlemen on and off the ice and I am very proud to be associated with such a grand bunch of guys.

"Sure, I was disappointed with our loss today but we are bringing home the bacon", Denyes said.

Czechs Drop 7-2 Verdict to McFarlands

PRAGUE (CP) — Canada was pitted against Czechoslovakia in the last match of the 1959 world hockey tournament in the draw announced by tournament officials Sunday, raising the possibility that the championship may end on a note of anticlimax.

It is believed that the host country drew the windup game March 15 against the Canadians in the insistence of Czech officials, despite the 7-2 defeat the Czechs suffered at the hands of the Belleville club Saturday in their preliminary match at Bratislava.

Results of the three preliminary round-robin competitions indicated that Russia, unbeaten and untied in three matches, or the Swedes, with two wins and a tie, stood a better cahnce of making a stab at the title than the Czechs.

The draw sent the Canadians against Finland, the underdogs among the six finalists, in their first game today.

They drew a bye Tuesday before facing the Russians at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the game that may decide the tournament. It was Russia that battled the Whitby, Ont., club to a closely-fought 4-2 decision when the Canadians won the title at Oslo a year ago.

The badly crippled Swedes, who lost ace centre Sven (Thumba) Johansson before the Tournamenti began and his top replacement, Nils Nilsson, during the preliminary round, meet Canada Thursday.

Canada has another off - day Friday and faces the United States, beaten 5-3 by the Russians in their preliminary round Saturday, before taking on the Czechs at 9 a.m. EST next Sunday.

The Russians are relegated to a supporting role on the final day, playing Sweden at 4 a.m., five hours before Canada and Czechoslovakia step on the ice.

The biggest factors that emerged from the preliminary games were the power and experience of the reinforced Belleville team and the precision of the Russian squad.

Canada was virtually untested in its first two games, battling Poland 9-0 Thursday and crushing Switzerland 23-0 Friday.

The Czech team, however, was highly rated and Saturday's game with Canada was touted as a forecast of the deciding game of the finals.

The Czechs more than lived up to their fans' hopes in the first period, as they battled on even terms for the first 20 minutes.

Conacher gave Canada a 1-0 lead at 11.40 of that period that stood up, but Czechoslovakia kept pressing and tested goalie Lord Bell, who missed Friday's game because of an attack of flu, with 10 shots. This was only two less than the Poles managed to fire at Bell during the entire game Thursday.

But in the second period, the Czechs seemed to fall apart under the Canadian pressure. Conacher scored his second goal on a screened shot shortly after the period started and his third eight minutes later.

George Gosselin made it 4 - 0 seconds later with a 30-foot backhander that Czech goalkeeper Vladimir Nadrchal never saw.

Red Berenson, who had scored six goals in the two previous games, made it 5-0 with a lone rush. Paul Payette scored on a power play while Miroslav Vlach was off for tripping and playing - coach Ike Hildebrand poked in a rebound to complete Canada's scoring.

Vlach gave the 13,000 fans something to cheer about when he beat Bell from 10 feet out. It was the first goal allowed by Canada in 152 minutes of tournament play.

A Canadian lapse left Jaroslav Jirik uncovered in front of Bell, and he beat him easily for the Czechs' second counter.

But the Canadian defence tightened and held off the stubborn Czech attack.

The Canadians, who had managed to steer fairly well clear of the penalty box for the first two games, fell from grace as they drew 12 of the 16 minderals called by the West German officials, including a misconduct and four minor by defenceman Al Dewsbury.

The misconduct in the first period resulted from an involved series of happenings. John McLellan was in the penalty box for a minor infraction when Bill Reay, assistant manager of the Czechs, started walking towards him.

An occupant of the press box grabbed Reay, who was momentarily blocking his view. As Reay struggled to break free, a photographer levelled his camera at the pair. Dewsbury, thinking Reay was being attacked, promptly skated over and swung his stick at the cameraman, and was immediately jugged for 10 minutes.

Despite the loss, the Czech team still was rated highly for the finals, and experts figure it to give some of the other teams a hard time.

Order of Events, Program For Macs' Homecoming

The Mac Booster Club has arranged a heart-warming welcome for the homecoming world champion Belleville McFarlands tomorrow.

Booster Harry Rollins is chairman of the Homecoming Committee; Lieut.-Col. Angus B. Duffy will be the grand parade marshal.

Following are the parade and homecoming instructions issued by Col. Duffy which should be rigidly observed if the "welcome" is to be a success.

THURSDAY, APRIL 2

1.45 p.m.—All personnel, bands, cars, floats and other equipment taking part and all taking part in the parade must be in position at this time.

2.18 p.m.—The Montreal train arrives with the McFarlands at the C.N.R. station.

2.30 p.m.—The parade moves off from the CNR station. No vehicles will be allowed in the station yard except those authorized by police and those carrying officials.

3.30 p.m.—Reception at the Bridge St. armouries.

9 - 12 p.m.—Homecoming dance at the Bridge Street armouries.

No one but officials and press will be allowed on the CNR station platform.

Police Inspector Clair Hayes will be in charge of traffic regulations, aided by his department and personnel of the Hasty Pees.

The allotted time at the station is twelve minutes before the parade moves off. There will be no speeches, no press interviews at this point.

Cars for players and wives will be lined up two abreast at the station by 1.45 p.m. The first three cars will carry officials. The cars will move fifty yards apart with a band or majorettes in front.

Bands will take up position at the station under the supervision of Deputy Fire Chief Warpy O'Brien at 1.45. They will form up en masse with majorettes in front of each. Bands will entertain the crowd during the wait for the train.

Floats under the supervision of chairman Jim Matthews will form up on Station Street facing west. They will be led by the Belleville Fire Department.

Decorated cars will form up on Station Street east of the floats section.

Marching personnel and clowns will form up in the station yard, east of the station and north of the bands.

All vehicles and floats will proceed east on Bridge St. after arriving at the armouries. The color party, bands, majorettes, marching personnel and players' cars will enter the armouries.

The route of parade is from the CNR station to Station Street to Front Street to Bridge St. to the armouries.

The order of march: Color Party, mounted; majorettes, Lella Canning group; Quinte Pipe Band; Belleville Fire Department; Floats, except World Float; majorettes, Heather Durno group; Hasty Pees Band; World Float; officials' cars; Majorettes, Miss Smith's group; Picton Cube Band; four cars players; majorettes, Brenda Archer group; RCAF Band; four cars players; majorettes, Colborne; Colborne Band; four cars players; majorettes, Sam Cook group; Belleville Municipal Band; four cars players; majorettes, Hendricks' group; Royal Canadian Artillery Band, Picton; four cars players; majorettes, Marching Debs group; Marching Debs Band; four cars players; decorated cars.

At 3.30 Mayor Gerald Hyde and other officials will formally welcome the team.

The homecoming dance starts at nine o'clock under the chairmanship of Alderman Robertson Collins. The music will be supplied by the Commodores orchestra. The players will be present and admission is free.

The opening ceremonies of the world hockey tournament in which the McFarlands took part, took place in Bratislava, Czechoslovakia on March 5. Participating teams in this third of the tournament were Canada, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Switzerland. Over 14,000 fans packed the big stadium as high-ranking officials of the International Ice Hockey Federation got the tournament officially under way. The McFarlands are seen to the left of the picture almost obscured by the pretty Czech girls garbed in native costume. Next are the Poles, the Swiss and the Czechs. After the ceremonies the Czech beauties presented each team with a bouquet of beautiful flowers. Canada defeated Poland 9-0 in the opening game.

Biggest Victory of All, Canada 3-Russia 1

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (CP) 3-0 lead in the first period and Canada swept the Russians from its path to the world hockey championship Wednesday night with a 3-1 victory and became firm favorites to win the title for a second straight year.

Earlier, the United States crushed Finland 19-3 to tie Canada and idle Czechoslovakia at the top of the six-team standings in the tournament's final round. Czechs and Canadians are unbeaten in the round-robin competition and the Americans have lost once.

But it was the Russians, last year's runners-up and conquerors of two Canadian teams in four previous meetings, whom Belleville feared most. A year ago at Oslo, Whitby needed two goals in the last five minutes to whip them 4-2 and this year's Soviet team looked just as strong.

The Canadians this year needed no late surge. They took a stalwart defensive play backed by Gordie Bell's sound goaltending never gave the losers a chance.

THREE TO GO

Belleville still has three games to play — against Sweden today, the U.S. Saturday and Czechoslovakia Sunday.

The Americans, who were beaten 5-1 by Russia last Monday, had a goal harvest against Finns but both sides showed the strain of playing three games on successive nights. Neither looked like a championship contender.

The U.S. got three goals from Paul Johnson and two more from Bill Cleary, a three-goal man himself in Tuesday's 7-1 victory over Sweden. John Newkirk, Bob Cleary, Tom Williams, Bob Turk and Dickon Olson also got in on the scoring parade.

The Canada-Russia game was much tighter and the defensive work of both sides was outstanding.

Big Al Dewsbury, who became the national villain of Czechoslovakia when he drew 16 minutes in penalties against the home team in Canada's 7-2 conquest of the Czechs at Bratislava, actually earned a round of applause from Wednesday night's crowd when he stickhandled his way out of trouble in the second period.

FACEFUL FOR BIG AL

Dewsbury also earned a faceful of lemonade from a rinkside spectator when he tangled with a Russian on the boards a few minutes later. But hard-bumping play was a potent factor in slowing down the speed of the Russian forwards.

When Whitby won the title at Oslo, the Canadians nearly blew the final game because of nervousness. This time it was the Russians who seemed to suffer from the jitters.

Their smooth passing style appeared sidly awry and they mired a number of good chances with wild shooting.

The Canadians forwards also had a few lapses but finished off the plays when goals were needed.

Both goalies had plenty of opportunities to shine. Nikolai Puchkov made 38 saves in the Russian net—many in the best acrobatic style. But Bell's 28 stops included several labelled drives.

The capacity crowd of 14,800 was generous to both teams. The Russians had a powerful rooting section pulling for them but there were organized cheerleaders from another section of the stand for the Canadians.

BOO THE REF

Universal disfavor was reserved for Costa Ahin, a Swedish referee whom the Czech crowds consider baised against their team in international matches. He was greeted with derisive whistles every time he appared on the ice.

The Canadian victory preserved a jinx that has persisted since the start of the week. In 41 seven games played in Prague so far, the winning team has defended the goal at the east end of the stadium in the first period.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard, in Prague as a guest of the government, watched the game and judged the style of hockey as "pretty good".

Today, Canada plays Sweden at 9 a.m. EST and Czechoslovakia goes against Russia in the night game.

Lineups:

Canada—goal: Bell; defence: Lamirande, Crawford, Dewsbury, Benoit; forwards: Brown, Bradley, Hildebrand, Conacher, McLellan, Smrke, Boucher, Bergenson, Payette.

Russia — goal: Puchchov; defence: Sologubov, Tregubov, Ukolov, Sidorenkov; forwards: Loktev, Alexandrov, Krylov, Pantiukhov, Pryazznikov, Gurynbev, Dekoshi, Grohov, Yakushev.

Playing-coach Hildebrand put Referees — Pokorny and Ad- Marv Edwards, a native of amec Czechoslovakia. North Bay, Ont. into the nets SUMMARY instead of regular Gordie Bell. Bell had the toughest workout he has had in the tournament against Russia Wednesday, kicking out 28 shots.

Hildebrand said before the game that he wanted to give the tall goalie lots of rest.

EDWARDS NOT TOO BUSY

Edwards, although having only 17 shots to handle as the Canadian defence and back-checking kept the Swede attack off balance, made some good stops, especially in the first period when Sweden made their best attacks.

Both teams started slowly, and play was disorganized for the first five minutes. Brown took advantage of a Swedish defensive lapse to get Canada's first goal, stealing the puck from a Swedish defenceman and rifling an ankle-high shot past Karl Karlstroem before the goalie could move.

Play slackened again after that and didn't pick up until the second period, when Canada roared to the attack and scored two fast goals.

Gosselin made it 2-0 at the one-minute mark as his hard drive dribbled through Karlstroem's pads. Two minutes later Bradley made it 3-0, scoring on a long screened shot after a goal-mouth scramble.

A hard slap-shot by Brown actually set up the goal, Karlstroem blocked that one, but was unable to control the rebound. Jean Paul Lamirande picked up the loose puck and passed back to Bradley at the blue line and he blasted it home.

TERMINATED THIRD

In the third period, the Canadians again dominated the play. Karlstroem made some spectacular saves, stopping Bradley, Brown and Berenson on breakaways. Lamirande just missed early in the period when

MOVE INTO TROUBLE SPOT

LONDON (Reuters) — An organization that wants all colored persons banned from Britain has opened headquarters in a racially-tense area of London, it was reported Monday. Newspaper reports said the White Defence League had set up an office in Notting Hill, scene of a week of clashes between white and Negro residents last August.

"My fast ball's O.K., boss. Now I just gotta work on my curve a little!"

The moment of triumph! Captain Floyd Crawford of the McFarlands accepts the world championship trophy from the hands of A. J. 'Bunny' Ahearne of London, England, president of the International Ice Hockey Federation. Czech beauties smile approval in the background.

Finland Drops 6-0 Decision to McFarlands

PRAGUE (CP) — Canada today followed up its sweep in the preliminary round of the world hockey championships by downing Finland 6-0.

The game saw the team from Fa[illegible]eville, Ont., take command with a goal in the second minute of play. The Finns retaled stubbornly but had few opportunities to score.

Canada was virtually untested in the three round-robin preliminary games, downing Poland 9-0, Switzerland 23-0 and Czechoslovakia 7-2.

TWO FOR CONACHER

Pete Conacher, former National Hockey League player who joined Belleville the day before the team left for Europe, paced the Canadians with two goals.

The game was the first of three scheduled for the opening day of the six team, round-robin competition.

It was 3-0 by the end of the first period and 4-0 at the second interval.

Besides Conacher — who scored in the second and third periods — the scorers were Wayne Brown, Ike Hildebrand, Gordon Berenson and Dennis Boucher.

The preliminary rounds which concluded Saturday, showed Canada and Russia as the teams leading the pack in the final rounds. The other clubs in the playoffs are from the United States, Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Finland.

The Canadian and Russian teams emerged from the preliminaries as the only two teams with unbeaten records.

MAJOR FOR BROWN

In today's game Wayne Brown the 23-year-old leftwinger, who missed all three games of last week's preliminary round because of flu, drew a major penalty for a brawl with Finland's Jouni Seitajaer.

Finish goalie Esko Niemi played a big part in keeping the score down, making a total of 54 saves.

The Canadians tested Niemi severely in the first period, in which he was called on to stop 32 shots, frequently coming far out of his net to smother the puck. Canada's goalie Gordie Bell, made only 17 stops —most of them at long range.

COMPETITION WINNERS

The Booster Club

Fans Behind the Guns That Fired Victory Shot

Never in the hockey history of this city—or any other—did so many do so much for so few.

Fund-raisers, morale-builders, cheer-leaders, they were the second strongest force behind the McFarlands' drive for the world hockey championship.

The team, the management and those outside the membership pale, salute the McFarlands Booster Club.

Since its inception two years ago under the presidency of Dick Beare, the club's record has been one of magnificent achievement.

A counterpart of efficiency, Armand Duffy took up the presidential reins last year. His efforts lacked none of the drive and success of his predecessor.

Both were backed by a hard-working tireless executive that did not know the meaning the word "quit."

The most brilliant achievement of the club was the raising of $10,000 for the McFarlands' Overseas Fund.

Funds were raised and donated for the purchase of players' contracts.

No project that would bring silver lining to the club's exchequer was too great or too small.

Apart from tireless efforts they took time out to accompany the club on many a long safari. Their "More, Macs, More" was a familiar battle-cry on many a "foreign field."

They were the right and left bowers and the supporting deck to the "Aces" that won the world title.

Their banner and jaunty red tams were evident—and cheered—in the world tournament stadiums in Czechoslovakia.

And a handful was present at the moment of supreme triumph when the McFarlands won and were awarded the world hockey championship in Prague.

Tomorrow should be their greatest day. The Welcome Home, Macs, will rank among their finest efforts.

Poland Bows 9-0 in Tournament Opener

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia (CP)—Canada opened its defence of the world hockey title Thursday night with a 9-0 victory over Poland. It was a scrappy game in which the winners showed only flashes of championship form. None of the opening games brought surprises.

Belleville and its top rivals seemed headed for more easy victories in today's preliminary-round matches. Canada met Switzerland this morning.

In group A, Canada tied Czechoslovakia for first position after the Czechs blanked Switzerland by another 9-0 score. The United States headed group B by defeating Norway 10-3. The Russians were in second spot with a 6-1 win over East Germany. And in group C, the darkhorse of the tournament Sweden, trounced Italy 11-0 and Finland defeated West Germany 5-3.

MARGINS COUNT

After today's and Saturday's games when all four teams in each of the three groups have played each other, the two leading teams from each will meet in the final round at Prague next week. Ties will be settled by the difference in goals scored and allowed, the side with highest net total of goals getting the nod. Anetted them four goals in four final-round tie will be decided by minutes.

Boucher poked the puck home from a scramble at 11.20 of the first period. Then the 20-year-old Berenson, described last year by Boston Bruins scout Harold (Baldy) Cotton as the most promising junior in Canada, got two in 25 seconds — one from five feet out and the other in a goalmouth melee.

Hildebrand followed as Bart Bradley set him up with a perfect pass.

POLES DIG IN

The Polish defence stiffened in the second until 12.48 when McLellan backhanded a waist-high shot past Pabisz.

The veteran Dewsbury, a former NHL campaigner, drove in a long screened shot just 12 seconds later and Gosselin made it 7-0 with a shot that bounced off the post into the net.

The lacklustre third period saw Berenson notch his third goal and left winger Boucher's second was scored after a scramble.

Two of four penalties went to Canada — McLellan for elbowing and Hildebrand for hooking.

CZECHS IN SHAPE

The Czechs appeared to be in top condition against the Swiss and virtually scored at will — three times in the first period and twice in the second before overwhelming their opponents with four in the third.

Tom Williams, 18 - year - old power shooter, scored four of the 10 U.S. goals against Norway. The Norwegian defence was no match for the fast American side which has been troubled by injuries.

Russia, which also had three sick players, appeared to hold some of its strength in reserve while defeating East Germany.

The Swedes had no trouble with the Italians, while the tough Finnish side overcame a 1-0 deficit to score four third-period goals against West Germany.

"The boss must be nuts, letting a $8,000 holdout pitcher throw at a $50,000 bonus rookie!"

This Was the One!

PRAGUE — Wow!

What a game! What a victory! What a team!

The Macs were magnificent in an all-out effort against a Russian team said to be stronger than last year's club.

The Macs swept into their 2-0 first period lead with all guns blazing. They never looked back.

This great Canadian club was led by the "four Bees", Bell, Berenson, Boucher and Benoit. The latter trio played superb hockey going and coming. Gordie Bell was out of this world.

The Hewitts, the Heskeths, the Farmers and other gloomy Canadian critics were muzzled here last night by a team that the European press says is the best to ever come out of Canada.

The Russians died hard. They threw everything they had at a rampaging Canadian team that did not know defeat.

Gordie Bell cannot get too much praise for the tremendous game he played in the Belleville goal. Big Al Dewsbury, too, was great. He hit them hard and he hit them often and best of all he made them like it.

Actually, outside of Bell, there was no individual stars. The team as a whole knew what was at stake and came up with a magnificent performance. You folks back home never saw anything like it.

The dressing room after the game was a scene of wild celebration with reporters jamming their way in to talk with coach Ike Hildebrand.

A wide grin beamed across Ike's sweat-streaked face as he praised the boys for their great game. But in the next breath he warned them that it was not over yet, although it should be easier from here in.

"This was it", smiled Ike. "Our club had it in the bag in the first period when we scored twice, matched and bettered everything the Russians had."

The Macs never let up for a minute. They skated miles and matched the highly-touted Russians stride for stride, checking and back-checking in brilliant fashion.

Three more wins and we have the world championship in the bag. Ike ordered no letup however. He told them to go all out to win the games against the Czechs, Yanks and Swedes by as big a margin as possible. He wants to make sure there is no doubt as to which team is the best.

Ike, the Leader

Among the many souvenirs the Belleville Macs will bring home with them will be plaid scarves, presented to them by the manager of the Bata Shoe Store on Glasgow's famed Sauchiehall St. Here the Macs' coach, Ike Hildebrand, is given his scarf by Mr. A. A. Nosek of the Bata Company in Scotland.

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

Last winter after the McFarlands had won the Eastern Ontario title, Ike Hildebrand looked at his heavily-decorated trophy mantel. "I want to make room for one more, and possibly two", he told his attractive wife Helen.

Helen raised inquiring eyebrows. Ike explained, "A hockey trophy or two would make fine company for all those lacrosse mugs", said. "And I think I shall get them. I believe I have the production material."

Ike was so right. However, at that time he made provision for room for one trophy, and a few weeks later he pushed a replica of the Allan Cup into place. Actually he doesn't need it as a reminder. He will always have one in the person of bouncing baby son Allan, named after the achievement.

In the not too distant future Ike Hildebrand will realize the ambition of a lifetime of sports. He has attained many others as trophies bear out but these are minor in comparison to that which he will place in position on his mantel. The miniature of the cup emblematic of the world's amateur hockey championship.

Ike earned it the hard way. He was no bench-pacing fire-spouting coach. Generally, comparatively speaking, he was mild-mannered, preferring the do-as-I-say-and-do-as-I-do system. He could, however, and did on not a few occasions deliver a solid sermon that convinced those within earshot who was boss.

From the time Hildebrand joined the McFarlands he has shown a fierce will-to-win. On not a few occasions during the past two years he has picked the club up by its bootstraps, so to speak, and by his own dashing, effective play spurred it to greater effort.

As some might have believed, Hildebrand was not a personal glory-seeker. He took whatever individual honors came his way modestly. But he was a team man from skate to crewcut.

He was popular with his players—and they had a wholehearted respect for the 155-pound bundle of energy. We do not believe Ike played any favorites. Player reprimands when necessary were promulgated in the dressing room. Ike was never what is termed a "back-biter."

Ike's quality of leadership was never better demonstrated than on the safari to Europe in quest of the world championship.

One of his hardest tasks, a job he would have rather lost an ear than do, was to cut players from the team to meet the tournament regulations. He did not do this without consulation, but his was the final word.

But the pain of it was eased to a great extent when he saw Paul Payette, Minnie Menard, Fiori Goegan, Billy Graham, Keith McDonald and Lionel Bolly smile bravely and chorus "It's okay by us, coach. We want the team to win." They were great fellows, great players and great champions.

This reporter was the only "journalist" allowed in the Macs' dressing room "between periods". Foreign writers and photographers were permitted after the game for interviews and pictures.

During the intermissions, Ike sat quietly in his seat just inside the door. With a big lead there was no gloating, no criticism of a weaker foe. The team sat relaxed sipping hot tea and cracking jokes.

Ike always spoke to them before leaving for the next period. He was no fiery Phil Watson. He was no innuendo-throwing Imlach. He was no blusterous Conny Smythe. He spoke quietly, pointing out perhaps the mistakes of the previous period and the remedy. He never once to our knowledge "blasted" an individual player. When penalties were creeping in the game he reminded them forcibly what would happen on the scoreboard.

Ike is a great Canadian. We were under the impression he had been "hurt" by unfair criticisms of the McFarlands before leaving for the European theatre of operations. It was one of his great ambitions to prove to those at home that the Macs were of world championship calibre. What he did is history.

He was never forgetful of the fact that the eyes of Canada were on the McFarlands both off and on the ice. And he did not have to remind his players of it. It was not necessary.

Over there he carried a tremendous load of responsibility. He was in complete charge of the team and directed them from both off and on the bench.

His well-laid plans made during and after the gruelling exhibition tour received two early jolts. Davy Jones broke a wrist in the first two minutes of play of the first game and a virus bug "hit" Wayne Brown hard.

Ike experimented with Paul Payette on left wing — and it paid off. Goose Gosselin got the nod — and it too paid off. "Wiener" never really got back to peak form.

Ike didn't grumble at fate. He merely prayer that the accident and sickness jinx would desert the club. Besides he knew he could win the title with the rest of the gallant crew. He had that much confidence in them. And they didn't let him down.

The dark cloud of disappointment that followed defeat in the final game was lined with the silver of world championship victory In his hour of final triumph Ike forgot his heartache of loss and his voice had a note of elation when he said to us "Winning the championship is the answer to the Canadian critics both here and at home.

So this column salutes a great leader, a great player and a great guy who refutes Leo Durocher's statement, "The good guys always lose." And when the selectors vote on the "athlete of the year" they shouldn't pass up a little guy by the name of Ike Hildebrand.

Welcome Home Macs!

Czechs Only Blot on Victory Shield

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (CP) — The fighting Czech hockey team served notice on Canada's newly-crowned world champions Sunday that on its day it is a match for the best of international teams.

The Czechs, with virtually the same lineup that the Canadians slaughtered 7-2 in Bratislava eight days bef..re, rang down the curtain on the tournament by springing its biggest upset when they jolted Belleville 5-3 to give the champions their only defeat.

28 GAMES IN SIX WEEKS

While the Canadians, who were playing their 28th game including 17 exhibitions in six weeks since their arrival in Europe, were clearly below their best, the inconsistent Czechs turned in a performance that lowered over their previous tournament efforts.

Unlike the meeting of the two clubs in the preliminary round at Bratislava in which the Czechs fell apart badly in one period, conceding six Belleville goals, they battled all the way Sunday, never giving Canada a chance to take over.

But champions they were with the title safely chalked down before they stepped on the ice because Sweden held Russia to a 4-3 victory earlier in the day. That meant that only a seven-goal defeat at the hands of the Czechs could have left the Canadian goal spread inferior to that of the second-place Russians.

Both Canada and Russia had four wins and a loss. But the Canadians ended the series with 21 goals for and seven against, a difference of 14. The Soviet Union had a 20-10 record for a difference of 10.

These are the final standings:

	W	L	T	F	A	Pts.
Canada	4	1	0	21	7	8
Russia	4	1	0	20	10	8
Czech.	4	2	0	22	14	6
Un. States	3	2	0	23	15	6
Sweden	1	4	0	6	21	2
Finland	0	5	0	7	32	0

U.S. SQUEEZED OUT

Czechoslovakia's two - goal margin over the Canadians was just enough to squeeze out the United States for third place. Both teams had three victories and two defeats and both had identical goal spreads — eight. But the Czechs had a slight ad.. vantage in goal average, 22-14 to the Americans' 23-15.

Sweden's sole victory over Finland gained it fifth spot and the Finns, who didn't win anything in the final round, were sixth. Finland lost to Russia 6-1 in its last game Saturday and the United States, in closing out its schedule the same day, went down 6-1 to Belleville.

The Czechs, with the roars of the capacity crowd of 14,000 urging them on, looked willing enough to supply the seven goals that would have spelled a Russian tournament success. But the Canadian defence, despite a few lapses, held up too well for that.

GOAL IN EMPTY NET

In fact, the only goal that was scored on an empty net when Belleville pulled netminder Gordie Bell for an extra forward in the game's dying moments prevented the margin from becoming narrower.

Defeats at the hands of Russia and the United States had ended Czechoslovakia's championship chances earlier last to the Russians was another cliff-hanger.

The Canadians hit the heights Wednesday when they outclassed the Russians in winning 5-1 and had been on the downgrade ever since although they subsequently beat Sweden 5-0 and the Americans.

The Russian game in effect decided the championships.

Nobody expected any trouble in the rest of the schedule.

Nobody but the Czechs.

The two heroes of the Czech performance were Jan Starsi, who supplied two goals, and goaltender Vladimir Nadrchal who made some spectacular saves among the 44 he stopped. The other Czech scorers were Jaroslav Volf, Rudolph Potach and Miroslav Vlach.

Pete Conacher, Bart Bradley and Berenson counted for Canada.

Belleville dominated play in the first period, outshooting Czechoslovakia 21-11, but Nadrchal blocked every one that came his way while two goals went into Bell's net.

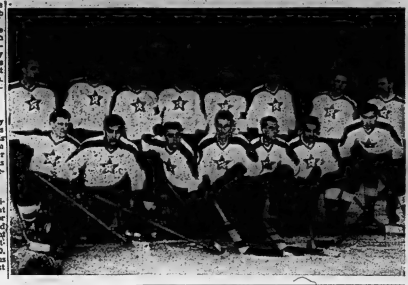
Belleville peppered Nadrchal again as the second period opened. At last Conacher took a pass from centre Johnny McLellan and whipped a backhander past the goalie at ankle-height from five feet out.

Then it was Bell's turn to be the busy spot again. The Canadians survived three penalties without loss before Potach connected with a long screened shot to make the score 3-1.

Two minutes into the final frame, Bradley lowered the margin by shooting through a milling group of players.

A Czech picture play restored the advantage to 4-2 as centre Karol Fako passed across the goalmouth to Starsi, who easily put the puck into the net.

Berenson whipped home a 25-footer while Dewsbury was serving a cross-checking penalty. Minutes later is appeared that Canada had a tieing goal as Berenson shook right winger Dennis Boucher loose in front of the net but Nadrchal kicked the shot away.



Two minutes from the end Hildebrand gambled on a face-off in the Czech end and pulled Bell in favor of a sixth attacker. It didn't work. Vlach broke loose and, taking aim from outside the blue line, shot a long, lazy shot into the empty cage.

Against the U.S. Saturday, Canada took a 1-0 lead in the first period, increased it to 2-0 in the second and outscored their hard-hitting rivals 3-1 in the third. Boucher led the Canadian attack with two goals, Hildebrand and Lou Sparke scored the others.

Tempers flared a bit in the third, with a total of seven penalties being called, four against Canada. The Canadians took four of the six called in the first two periods.

The Canadians appeared to relax in the closing minutes of play and the U.S. team took advantage of it to spoil Gordie Bell's shutout bid when Bob Turk scored at 18.50.

The consolation round for the six teams that failed to reach the final was completed Saturday. West Germany won it by downing Switzerland 6-0 in its game, Norway was second, East Germany third and Italy fourth. Poland finished fifth and Switzerland sixth.

GAUDY FROG

LONDON (AP)—L. B. Gentry found a frog with bright red eyes and a pinkish-yellow skin in his garden. The Horniman Museum gladly accepted the gaudy leaper for its aquarium, explaining it is a rare albino of a common species.

RECORD CIGARET YEAR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans smoked cigarets last year at the record rate of 185 packs for every person 15 years of age and over, the agriculture department announced Monday. Cigaret output last year was 470,000,000,000, six per cent above the previous record set in 1957. The 1958 cost to smokers: $5,700,000,000.

SWITCH TO LAND

LONDON (AP)—Donald Campbell, world water speed king, left London Tuesday for the United States and another world speed bid—this time on land. "I am going to Salt Lake City for talks about my bid to better the land speed record next year," Campbell said. "I'm hoping my car will be able to do more than 500 miles an hour." The record of 394.2 m.p.h. was set by the late Sir John Cobb on Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, in 1947.

5 Contributors To Macs' Fund Will Attend

Contributors to the McFarland's Overseas Fund will be represented at the civic banquet being tendered by the city of Belleville to its world hockey champions next Tuesday evening at the Hotel Quinte.

There were over 300 contributors from Belleville and district who made donations to the overseas fund and five of these contributors, chosen at random, will receive invitations to attend the civic banquet honoring the McFarlands. The draw for the five names was made last night following the regular meeting of city council.

"It will be the first time that the city has ever conducted a community banquet," Mayor Gerald Hyde as he suggested that five contributors be picked to attend the banquet.

Mayor Hyde noted that the over 300 contributors from Belleville and district had contributed a total of $3,250 to the overseas fund. The amount of the donations had ranged from $1 to $1,000. The mayor felt it was only right that this group of sports-minded residents be represented at the banquet.

Names pulled from the hat in the draw were Don Baxter, Bloomfield; Mrs. Doriel Ellsworth, Canniffton; Howard Booth, 25 Yeomans Street; Nathan Jones, R.R.1 Picton and G. L. Tripp, Bank of Nova Scotia, Belleville.

'Can't Make Sophisticate Out of Me' Says Jimmy Dean

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—"I'm about as sophisticated as a denim shirt," says Jimmy Dean. "You just can't make a sophisticate or a cutie-pie out of me."

Sophistication would be attempting to do that awhile ago with The Jimmy Dean Show on CBS-TV (8 p.m., EST weekdays). But it didn't work. The audience ratings for the program declined.

And then one day, Dean, a Texan, appeared in his old relaxed style of singing and chatting. Ever since the audience has been on the increase and everybody is happy again.

"Nobody was intentionally trying to fool me," Dean said. "They were trying to help me, I know, but I don't reckon anybody can help me change myself. I don't think you can do anything with a person's happy."

"When I don't like what I'm doing it shows all over. The audience and everybody else know it."

Dean was asked whether he'd ever seriously thought of going back to farming if things got tough in the television business.

"No, sir," Dean replied. "You are looking at a man who has milked his last cow. I'll never be a farmer again come whatever. A farmer leads a dog's life and never gets any credit for anything."

A press agent present told Dean rather nervously that there was no point in antagonizing everybody who lives on a farm.

"Oh, shoot," drawled Dean. "Nearly anybody who works a farm would agree with me. But I bet they'd don't it's better than living in New York. There are a lot of phonies in New York. We're trouble with New Yorkers is they never slow down long enough to live. They—"

BROADWAY STAR IS HOT IN 'PERFECT FURLOUGH'

One of Broadway's most scintillating stars embellishes the film of "The Perfect Furlough," the spicy Army comedy now at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre. She is Elaine Stritch, also remembered by many as the very sympathetic nurse in the love affair of Rock Hudson and Jennifer Jones in "A Farewell To Arms".

In "The Perfect Furlough", however, Miss Stitch finds herself split out of Tony Curtis' amorous attentions of Tony Curtis toward Linda Cristal, as a movie star on a Paris holiday, with further complications in the person of Janet Leigh, as a second lieutenant who has Tony, a mere corporal, under her watchful eye. Elaine Stritch, talented as song-stress and dancer as well as actress, had scarcely breathed one after she finished in "The Perfect Furlough", for she immediately went into rehearsals in the lead of the Broadway musical, "Goldilocks". Her previous nighttimate theatre assignments included leading roles in "Pal Joey" and "Angel In the Wings". She also succeeded Ethel Merman in the leading feminine role in the road company to "Call Me Madam".

The press agent told Dean he was doing great, just great. First he antagonized the farm vote, and then the city vote.

"I ain't antagonizing anybody," said Dean. "I'll tell you what. Let's walk out of this restaurant and stand on the corner and wait for a car to break down. If one single fellow walks up to the driver of that car and offers to help him I'll take back every word I said about New York."

He had no takers.

Rock Hudson Still Does Not Enjoy Making Love Scenes

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I don't like to kiss anybody in a train station or airport," said Rock Hudson. "Here" — he indicated a movie set — "you practically have to have an affair in front of a lot of men."

He was explaining why after 16 years of screen lovemaking — to Liz Taylor, Jennifer Jones, Jean Simmons, Jane Wyman, Anne Baxter and others—he still doesn't enjoy it.

"It's a pleasant contact but I don't like a public display of emotion," he said.

At 9 a.m. with the rest of southern California swinging into an average workday, Hudson and Doris Day were in a clinch for Any Way the Wind Blows. Getting it right was hard work.

Hudson, who got more than any one man's fair share in the distribution of good looks, and Miss Day, sat in various experimental positions on an enormous divan.

The director hovered, making suggestions. Carpenters hammered some of the scenery loose to make way for the camera.

Doris complained that part of the action — Rock breaking off a passionate kiss to stir up the fire — was phony. Rock didn't wholly agree. Leisurely lovemaking, he told her, is sort of like boxing: "There are rounds." After several kisses a couple may pause for a cigaret, conversation or a change of phonograph records, he said. Doris seemed persuaded.

Between rounds of the rehearsal, Rock told why love scenes are tough:

"You have to be intimate and yet impersonal. It's like being in an arena. You have to try to forget people are looking at you"—about 50 members of the crew in this case — "and try to be uninhibited. . . make the audience think it's looking in you through a keyhole."

Hudson's toughest love scene was in A Farewell to Arms.

"The Rome weather was hot, the sound stage unbearable. The sprinklers were turned on to simulate rain, and I was like a steam bath. I wore a tight wool uniform with a stiff collar. Jennifer a starched, nurse's uniform with stiff collar.

"The perspiration poured off us. Tempers got short. When we'd get the scene going well, a plane would fly over. It took about three days. I couldn't have felt less like making love."

How does Miss Day like smooching before a sound-stage audience?

"Oh," she shrugged, "you get used to it." Enjoy it? Yeah, it's nice."

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — If properly attuned astrologically, you arise feeling joyful and ready to tackle whatever duties await you. Set in motion quickly any new plans you may have for really successful results. Planets are with you, but you must work.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — Ideal day to contact those experts who can lead you in the right direction so that you reach your goals more quickly. Be sure to co-operate and lend own support to their enterprises so that there can be a general uptrend all around.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — A day for action and happiness for you. Unite efforts with those of associates and friends so that there can be a general increase of abundance. Planets are favorable now. Success is assured, though you may have doubts. Labor diligently.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Working along with successful and dynamic persons in the business world is fine right now. However, do not stay in public places or confide in outsiders or you may lose many of the benefits that are possible to you this fine day.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Many interesting new outlets are in the offing this day, especially if you take a little trip to new and fascinating places with the right people. Impress them with your broad view of things and be willing to take advice and suggestions.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Inspired as you are today to increase abundance for both self and loved ones, it behooves you to keep active all day. There are two definite outlets possible to you which should show results quickly. One is personal, the other business.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Endeavor to go out to new site with new friends today whose background is unlike your own. Fine ideas will come to you and you can set them in motion to your great benefit. Full speed ahead!

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Be certain you get sufficient remuneration now for any work you may do to help others today. While you like to help other persons, remember that you serve best when you help others to help themselves.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — A very enjoyable day this can be for you. Particularly if you go off to some delightful spot with an associate where you can cement better relations and come to a real meeting of minds. Persevere most earnestly.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — What has been impossible for you to attain heretofore in business or career matters is relatively simple for you to reach today. Start an upswing through hard work. Don't hesitate to set plans in motion or you lose out.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) —Fine day for creative thoughts and knowhow now to commercialize on them. A pleasant attitude and friendly mind work wonders. Do some entertaining in elegant style if you possibly can. Succeed.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — While a family tie may appear too dynamic and determined, he or she nonetheless holds the key to greater success for you. Listen and learn, then show gratitude in some tangible way. Also for ideas that are not as yet operable.

If your child is born today... The wonderful child born today is the type of individual who will ever be dabbling over with hundreds of truly fine, constructive new ideas that can be whittled down to workable size. However, be certain you early teach your youngster to complete what has once been started. Then your progeny can achieve great success in various departments of his or her life. Set the pattern yourself by always being thorough.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough and complete that sufferers made astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And sufferers themselves were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

2 Soviet Embassy Attaches Ordered Out Of Mexico

Charged Having Hand In Easter Rail Strike

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico has ordered two Soviet Embassy attaches expelled from the country, charging they had a hand in the Easter weekend rail strike. Two other Communist attaches were reported marked to go.

An official source said the second secretary of the Soviet Embassy, Mikhail M. Reniiev, and a military-naval attache, Nicolai Y. Asenov, were given until Friday to get out of Mexico. There were reported planning to take a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane to Toronto Friday morning en route home.

Two members of a diplomatic mission from an unidentified Soviet satellite also were reported declared persona non grata—no longer welcome in Mexico. There was speculation they are Czechoslovakian or Hungarian.

CHARGE RED PLOT

The strike fizzled Monday after the government rounded up an estimated 3,000 leftist union leaders and followers. The government said it had evidence the strike was a Communist plot.

Workers flocked to their jobs Tuesday and officials said 140 trains were back on the run. Many of the workers said they had been coerced into striking by threats of torture or reprisals against their families.

The two Russians were said to have had regular contact with Demetrio Vallejo, leftist railroad union leader arrested the last three national rail strikes. He was arrested Sunday and reported to have talked to the author. ities about the Soviets' role in the walkout.

Official sources said the activity of the two Russians was "not compatible with the democratic regime which Mexico observes."

BORDER LIBERTIES

After Vallejo's arrest, the government appointed a four-man group to direct the railway union temporarily. An election of new officers was ordered in an effort to root out Vallejo's influence.

The strike began a week ago on two regional issues. Leftist strikers called for a 16-per-cent wage boost and other earlier workers on the National Railways, which carry the bulk of Mexico's passenger and freight traffic.

A wave of sympathy strikes began on the National Railways and the government, anticipating a nationwide shutdown of sympathy walkouts by other leftist-led unions, ordered the widespread arrests.

Approve Plan To Cancel Out Some Teachers

NORTH BAY (CP) — A plan which will put teachers themselves to the test was approved Tuesday by the Ontario Public School Men Teachers Federation, provincial executive, as a step towards removing inefficient teachers from the profession.

The plan calls for cancellation or suspension by the Ontario Teachers' Federation of teaching certificates of all male public school teachers whose work has been judged grossly inefficient over a number of years.

The federation's members-teachers will themselves recommend the names of offenders to the federation. The teacher being judged will be kept informed of each step taken.

Seeds of Cancer May Lurk in Body, Gift From Some Cave-Man Ancestor

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—The seeds of cancer may lurk in your body—an unwanted gift planted perhaps 100,000 years ago in the cells of an ancestor.

Only a few such seeds was in the trillions of cells of your body could start deadly, uncontrolled cancer.

As these seeds—perhaps sleeping viruses — were passed on generation to generation they could become activated from time to time bringing a sudden and unexpected cancer attack.

This is a theory expressed at this week's American Cancer Society meeting here and reported by progress by Dr. Ludwik Gross, research chief of the Veterans Administration Hospital, Bronx, N.Y.

ROBLIN DISSOLVES MANITOBA HOUSE ELECTION MAY 14

Will Go to People Second Time in Year

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Manitoba's minority Conservative government — which overthrew the Liberals in an election last year—will go to the people for the second time within a year in the hope of gaining a majority as did the federal government.

Premier Roblin dissolved the legislature Tuesday night and announced that a provincial general election will be held Thursday, May 14.

Dissolution came after Lieutenant-Governor J. S. McDiarmid gave royal assent to seven bills passed earlier in the session.

The government was defeated after Premier Roblin proposed suspension of the throne speech debate to permit presentation of the budget. The opposition demanded that the complete 1959-60 financial program be approved before the house returned to the throne speech debate, a demand which the premier refused to commit himself.

NEAR END OF WORK

Royal assent was also given to bills in the Saskatchewan and Alberta legislatures as the session neared the end of their work load.

Included in the official publication of the New Brunswick Teachers' Association reported debate in the legislature in Fredericton as the House reopened Wednesday after a recess.

The Conservative government declined a statement in the article which said entrance requirements at the Fredericton teachers' college are being lowered.

HAD BEEN SHAKY

The Manitoba government's position in the provincial legislature had been shaky since it was returned with a minority in the 1958 election and at dissolution was Conservatives 26, Liberals 25, Progressive 10, CCF 11, Independent 1.

Liberals and CCF voted together to defeat the government.

Mr. Roblin, 63, showed only the least minimum of time—44 days — between dissolution and election day. Polling will be held on Thursday will be a departure from the Manitoba tradition of Monday elections.

Mr. Roblin sounded the theme of his campaign almost immediately after dissolution with a statement to newsmen that the legislature the stand his party would take.

Wounding Charged

TORONTO (CP) — Alfred Wilkinson, 58, has been charged with unlawfully wounding during a scuffle in a suburban East York house Tuesday in which Gordon Bow, 52, suffered a seven-inch wound.

Bow is in critical condition in hospital. He underwent an emergency operation.

St. Thomas Man Found by Car With Half His Head Missing

ST. THOMAS (CP)—The body of Sgt. Hall Ouard Tessier, 30-year-old service station operator was found Tuesday night on a concession road in Dunwich Township two miles south of here with half the head missing.

The body was lying beside Mr. Tessier's car in the ditch at the side of the road. An empty 12g gauge shotgun shell was found about 30 feet from the body but police said no weapon has been found.

Police declined further comment on the case.

The dead man was last seen at 10:35 p.m. when he drove an employee, Walter Mulligan, 22, to his home. The place where the body was discovered by a passing motorist at about 11:20 p.m. was in the opposite direction Tessier would have taken if he were going straight home.

About $200 was found in the dead man's wallet.

PUSHED IN DITCH

It appeared from marks on the ground that Mr. Tessier was shot, the car pushed into the ditch and the body dragged up beside it.

Coroner Dr. Ross Mitchell of Aylmer said an autopsy was ordered and mandated that the complete 1959-60 financial program be approved before the house returned to the throne speech debate, a demand which the premier refused to commit himself.

Diapers Drove Boy, Age 12, to Spree of Crime

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 12-year-old boy told police he was driven into a three-week crime spree by a desire to change sidetracks instead of diapers.

The youngster, picked up after running away from his home in nearby Altadena, admitted committing some 20 residential burglaries in which more than $300 was taken.

He told juvenile officers Tuesday that he wanted to go to Pennsylvania to look for his father, whom he had not seen in five years. There are already four younger children in his family, he said, and his mother is expecting again—"not with situation, he decided:

"I didn't want to change any more diapers."

CRUSHED BY TRUCK

NATO at Crossroads as 10th Anniversary Being Observed

OTTAWA (CP)—NATO is 10 years old this week. As usual, it stands at the crossroads.

Amid celebrations observed by nations plaging safety above sovereignty, the alliance enters its second decade amid anxieties about Berlin, doubts about its future and talk of calls for "new NATO."

But this anniversary week—to be marked in Ottawa Saturday by a military parade and a meeting of Parliament Hill and a speech by Prime Minister Diefenbaker—will emphasize the North Atlantic community from within and without.

Externally, the Soviet menace to Germany varies in intensity. NATO parries thrusts for a solution, without convincing signs of success.

Internally, French insistence on national "grandeur" threatens the declared concept of integrated forces.

The goal of 100 divisions dwindles to the reality of 20, of which 15 are ready for action.

Is NATO therefore a creaking coalition, foredoomed to early dismemberment?

Canadian experts say no.

Veteran diplomat Dana Wilgress spent eight years at the heart of affairs as Canada's ambassador to NATO. In his view, he said he is optimistic about the way the alliance is gradually growing and developing.

"We are an alliance of free countries," he said. "It is perfectly natural that there should be some disagreements."

As solid achievements of NATO's first 10-year span, Mr. Wilgress mentioned the growing degree of political consultation and the complex agreements on infrastructure, covering joint ar-

U.S. Rejects Soviet Warning About High Berlin Flights

BERLIN (AP)—The U.S. Air Force accused the Soviets today it will go on flying high-altitude transports to West Berlin "if at any time a military requirement is established."

An air force spokesman made this statement shortly after a Soviet Embassy warning that commercial airliners of any of the United States persisted in flying planes to West Berlin at altitudes above 10,000 feet.

The spokesman of the U.S. Air Force headquarters in Europe said that "if at any time a military requirement is established for use of C-130s in transporting cargo or military personnel in or out of West Berlin it will be used.

"The most efficient altitude for carrying it out on these relatively short runs is between 20,000 and 25,000 feet depending on winds and cargo," he added.

A guarded statement from the Soviet Embassy declared that explosive incidents might erupt in West Berlin, as in Germany and by Western planes into the isolated city unless there is a settlement of the dispute which became public Tuesday.

The U.S. state department has declared that the United States will continue to fly in Germany and return flight to West Germany.

The Russians insist on a 18,000-foot ceiling for Allied planes, saying flights at greater heights violate Soviet air space, entering the corridor. The United States refuses to recognize the ceiling.

J. W. Beburov, the Soviet spokesman in East Berlin, told a press conference the Russians had no right to "unilaterally alter a regulation of years standing."

"If a change in the regulations is desired then negotiations must be carried out," Beburov added.

In London, a foreign office spokesman said today that Britain has never considered that the air corridors to West Berlin have a ceiling. He denied there was any tacit agreement with the Soviets on maximum flying heights.

"Flights to West Berlin should be between 2,500 feet and 10,000 feet.)

21 Teachers Crowd Into Little Auto

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) Twenty-one adult women and all female—crammed into a little foreign car Tuesday.

They set the biggest crowds into telephone booths.

The high school and graduate students thronged into the hood and trunk, as well as inside the tiny DKW, a German car. They were attending a lecture at Long Beach State College when somebody got the bright idea.

German Package Deal Discussed by Ministers

Meet in Washington To Determine Policy

WASHINGTON (CP) — Western foreign ministers were reported today to be framing a package deal to propose to Russia for settlement of the Berlin crisis and the larger issues of German reunification.

The foreign policy makers of Britain, France and the U.S., many gathered in mid-morning around a conference table at the state department with Acting State Secretary Christian A. Herter.

TWO MAIN AIMS

They want, in their highly secret day-long discussions, to do two things:

1. Reach a common position to recommend to the other Atlantic pact partners when the NATO council opens meetings here Thursday to celebrate the 10th anniversary of their defensive alliance.

2. Agree on a unified plan to place before Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko when the East-West foreign ministers conference opens in Geneva May 11 to lay the ground work for a summit conference this summer.

SEEMS PROGRESS MADE

State department spokesmen frankly admit that difference exist but they say there was considerable preliminary talks Tuesday night which seem to point to progress.

They also stressed the advisory capacity of German officials to be invited to sit in on the Geneva discussions.

The statement was aimed at a Soviet diplomatic note Monday which tended to accept the summit talks as a foregone conclusion and referred to the German officials as "their representatives" rather than advisers.

Hamilton Bank Teller Wounded As Bank Robbed

BURLINGTON, Ont. (CP) — A bank teller was shot and wounded as two masked men robbed the Imperial Bank at the corner of Caroline and Brock streets shortly before noon today.

Minutes later a man was captured when police surrounded a car on a concession road one conservation area, Palermo Road. Provincial, Hamilton and Burlington police helped in the search for the Queen Elizabeth Way and Highway 5.

The teller was shot in the shoulder and was taken to the office of Dr. C. E. Bolkin, a few doors from the bank.

A second suspect was arrested after a short chase on foot.

Chinese Reds Seize Tibetans By Thousands

KALIMPONG, India (Reuters) — Communist Chinese soldiers are rounding up thousands of Tibetans and carting them off to camps, probably to forced labor camps, according to reports from Tibet quoted by Indian official sources here today.

The Chinese also have tightened the guard around India's consulate-general in Lhasa, the Tibetan capital, and refused an Indian courier permission to visit the Chinese foreign bureau near by, the sources said.

Sir John A's Chair Given Place Of Honor in New Hebrew Building

JERUSALEM (CP) — A chair from the study in the Kingston boyhood home of Sir John A. Macdonald, first "Canadian prime minister, has been given a place of honor in the board room of the faculty of law building at Hebrew university, Jerusalem.

The announcement was made Monday, officially Canada Day in Israel, by Hebrew university president Dr. Abraham Granot.

Allan Bronfman of Montreal, president of the Canadian Friends of Hebrew University, announced the gift of Sir John's chair, which comes from John Bruce, Kingston chair of the Toronto Telegram.

Mr. Bronfman said it would remain in the university "not only as a sign of the friendship existing between the two countries but in recognition of the ideals of a free society they hold in common."

Canadian flags were everywhere in the Jerusalem capital.

Mr. Bronfman's group campaigned in 29 centres across Canada and raised $1,000,000 for the law building, which was carved from Jerusalem stone. He led a delegation of 25 to Jerusalem and, after Monday's ceremonies, they left to speak throughout the country and survey higher education and scientific research.

Shortly 10 a.m. Wednesday those were in Israel joined in the Independence celebrations.

Mr. Justice Ivan C. Rand of the Supreme Court of Canada said before leaving Montreal he was pleased about building a great university "and being involved in a work of immigration unprecedented for any country."

At night, Alexander Brott, Canadian composer and conductor, led the Kol Israel Orchestra in Canadian compositions—Serenade Concertante and Symphony No. 2 by Willgoose by Colin Campbell and Symphony No. 2 by Willgoose by Colin Campbell and Symphony No. 2 by Willgoose by Colin Campbell

CITY and DISTRICT NEWS

TAX BILLS READY IN TWO WEEKS

City property owners will get the bad news in about two weeks time.

This is when they will get their 1959 tax bills indicating the amount property taxes will be up from last year.

At city council Tuesday night, City Manager Drury Denyes said tax bills would be out about the middle of April and the last day for payment of the first instalment would be May 3rd.

Mayor Gerald Hyde noted this would see property owners getting their tax bills about a month later than usual.

ERROR IN HEADLINE ON RETIREMENT STORY

A regretable error occurred in a headline over a report in yesterdays edition of the retirement of Mr. John Balyzy, who has the longest service record of any employee of the Stewart-Warner. The headline read "Retires After 21 Years With Stewart-Warner" Mr. Balyzy has been with the company much longer than 21 years, having been in charge of plating and finishing operations since the fall of 1921, or for almost 38 years.

Dinner Is Held To Honor BRT Retired Members

East Toronto Lodge No. 106, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, honored retired members at an annual dinner held in the C.N.R.A. hall on Monday.

Over 250 members and wives and friends sat down to a turkey dinner served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the C.N.R.A.

R. Ashman, local chairman was master of ceremonies with his wits and timely jokes kept the gathering happy.

Jim Flindall, president, welcomed the retired guests and congratulated them on their long service with the railway and their loyalty to the Brotherhood.

Vice-president Frank Collins represented president, W. P. Kennedy at this highly-successful testimonial. Frank Collin congratulated the veteran members, the success of them back to 1942 when the conductor became boss of the train. He outlined how progressive steps taken by the Brotherhood to protect and improve working conditions and wages for the members today.

In speaking of the recent wage and rules movement completed recently, he said it was the fine co-operation of the entire organization that made it successful. He pointed out the changes in working conditions today, also the method of railways in selecting their officers and emphasized the point that the Brotherhood must embark on an educational program and train officers who are capable of doing a good job. With the coming of improvements and automation the brotherhood must be prepared to meet the challenge, he concluded, he said.

The retired members who were honored were R. J. Muir, H. Gist, J. A. Doucett, W. Mills, D. Callaghan and R. Sutherford. Absent members were H. Murray, D. Brunton, R. Irwin.

Harbern Dinnett provided a fine entertainment which was appreciated very much. Dancing followed until the small hours of the morning.

Navy League Prepares Budget

The Navy League of Belleville had a budget meeting yesterday organized by Councillor Quinte. Proposed expenditures for the forthcoming year were discussed and unified. Amongst those items receiving the scrutiny of the budget committee were repairs to the dock, painting of the interior and exterior of the Navy League as well as taxes and normal operational costs.

The proposed budget will now be forwarded to the Toronto headquarters of the Navy League of Canada, Ontario division, for final approval. This is being done under the supervision of Mr. Ross Silver, chairman of the local committee. Also present at the meeting were Captain John Thompson, Alderson Lloyd, William Judge, and Lt. Jack Donovan, commanding officer of the "Quinte".

Charles Sloan Guest Speaker At Kiwanis

An earnest and forthright address on "Christian Stewardship" was the highlight of yesterday's dinner meeting of local Kiwanians at the Kiwanis clubrooms in Dundas St.

Charles Sloan, head of the English Department at Quinte Secondary School, made a quite thorough and plain appraisal of modern society, its mores and values, and the relative positions of adults and teenagers in this society.

Commenting on a newspaper article which opined that an aroused public is the best thing to quell juvenile delinquency, the speaker's graphic expanded the vein of this article into an appeal for the responsibilities of an adult in modern society as being something more than a fleeting thought of duties of a mature adult, regardless of whether one be a parent or not, include setting a good example and providing leadership for the youth in society. The material changes wrought by the ever-increasing technological knowledge of today's civilization do not predicate a change in fundamentals, but rather in concepts and responsibilities which have formed the basis of Christianity over the centuries which have gone before the present day.

The "worship of the new" and the "false gods of the huckster" have served to confuse the spiritual values of what is important to make between the temporary and the permanent aspects of this existence. "Man hasn't made that kind of progress that he can afford to lose the spiritual values of life," stated Mr. Sloan.

Skip Gist thanked the speaker and realize where one's society and its mores are leading humanity.

Holding to the theory that a picture is worth a dozen of what is than of what he knows, the speaker suggested that the best way to learn about one's community, and way of life is by first improving it. Going to the church of one's choice is the first step towards self-improvement.

Amongst the responsibilities of a Kiwanian is those to himself, to his family, to his community, and to future generations. Charles Christ Church advised his listeners to evaluate the worthiness of their actions by comparing with the quotation "In the human world nothing is worth building unless it builds the man."

Mr. Sloan was introduced by Everett Fairman and thanked by Hal Floyd. Also on the program was several fine choral selections by some of the members of the Christ Church Boys' Choir under the direction of Mr. John Withers, choirmaster. The reception included a range of religious music from the year 1600 up to the present time. Ron Godden introduced this part of the program and the group was thanked by Tom MacFie, who presented the boys with complimentary passes donated by the management of the Belle Theatre.

There were several events of a lighter nature which took place during the course of the meeting. A gift to Jack Kiwanians, purportedly from the Spanish Main, created a bit of consternation when the presentation of an "Award for Utter Confusion" which was bestowed upon Mark Vanner. The "award" did not seem to find a ready home, however, and was readily, almost eagerly, shuttled about from one person to another and its final disposition was a bit confused.

Chris Lockett of the Picton group gave a short talk on his recent trip to the site of the world hockey tournament in Czechoslovakia. He assured those present that their team had done an excellent job indeed, both as hockey and as ambassadors of Canadian goodwill.

A sing-song was also enjoyed by those present with Don Rose leading and Mrs. Olivert accompanying on the piano. Bill Burden introduced the guests, Gerry Wisher, club president, executed the duties of chairman. Grace was given by Bob Freestone.

SOUTHPORT, Eng. (Reuters) Twenty children were among more than 30 persons injured Monday night when the roof of a double decker bus was ripped off as it went under a low railroad bridge here. Children on the top deck pounded their feet on the floor in an effort to approach the bridge to warn the driver he had taken the wrong route back from a seaside excursion.

Temporary Zoning Law Given Third Reading After Debate On 'Freezing' of 'Green Belts'

The city's temporary zoning by-law setting forth permissible land uses for the newly annexed area was given third reading at city council last evening.

Third reading wasn't given without considerable debate however, and the meeting saw two delegations from the West Moira Street area and Alderman Ross Gould to establish green belts in the area, thereby "freezing" land use and forbidding sale for other uses.

Representation for the two delegations were Frank Bedell, who represented 80 property owners on the south side of the CNR railway tracks, and Lorne Thorpe, representing owners on the north side.

Mr. Bedell said residents in his area were opposed to the green belt and residential zoning, stating that the duties of a mature adult, regardless of whether he be a parent or not, include setting a good example and providing leadership for the youth in society. The material changes wrought by the ever-increasing technological knowledge of today's civilization do not predicate a change in fundamentals, but rather in concepts and responsibilities which have formed the basis of Christianity over the centuries which have gone before the present day.

The "worship of the new" and the "false gods of the huckster" have served to confuse the spiritual values of what is important to make between the temporary aspects of this existence. "Man hasn't made that kind of progress that he can afford to lose the spiritual values of life," stated Mr. Sloan.

Skip Gist thanked the speaker and realize where one's society and its mores are leading humanity.

Holding to the theory that a picture is worth a dozen of what is than of what he knows, the speaker suggested that the best way to learn about one's community, and way of life is by first improving it. Going to the church of one's choice is the first step towards self-improvement.

Amongst the responsibilities of a Kiwanian is those to himself, to his family, to his community, and to future generations. Charles Christ Church advised his listeners to evaluate the worthiness of their actions by comparing with the quotation "In the human world nothing is worth building unless it builds the man."

Mr. Sloan was introduced by Everett Fairman and thanked by Hal Floyd. Also on the program was several fine choral selections by some of the members of the Christ Church Boys' Choir under the direction of Mr. John Withers, choirmaster. The reception included a range of religious music from the year 1600 up to the present time. Ron Godden introduced this part of the program and the group was thanked by Tom MacFie, who presented the boys with complimentary passes donated by the management of the Belle Theatre.

Alderman Robertson Collins pointed out that council was going ahead on the presumption that if council made a mistake the Municipal Board would pick up this mistake and put it out. He said that this happened if the Municipal Board made the same mistake and the city was satisfied with a zoning by-law it did not want.

He was assured by Ald. Digby that there was no danger of this, as the by-law would be up for review, possibly within a year, and it was unlikely that any building would have taken place on the green belt area at this time.

He assured that it had always been the intention that owners of green belt property should be properly compensated.

Third reading of the zoning by-law was approved on a 10-2 recorded vote. Approving were Mayor Hyde and Aldermen Collins, Digby, Ellis, Forrester, Graham, Grandiane, Ireland, Sal Ketchabaw, Osborne, Reid, McCabe and Tice.

Watchmaker To Keep Tab On Clock

In an effort to help Old Betsy (the city hall clock) keep accurate time and all the four faces, a qualified watchmaker will be retained to make periodical inspections of the old timepiece.

The question was raised by Alderman Digby at city council last night who said there was a need for minute-by-minute reference in time on the four faces of the city hall clock "and one of them was correct."

Alderman C. D. Tice suggested that starting resetting on the clock hands may be responsible for the differences of time on the four faces of the clock.

City Manager Drury Denyes said a qualified watchmaker was being retained to make monthly inspections of the old timepiece to keep it in proper working order.

Hillcrest Area Wants Water Mains Installed

Polluted wells in the Hillcrest area of the city are causing great deal of inconvenience to residents of that district and unless action is taken on the health, city council was told Tuesday evening.

The latest time council was presented with a request to have the temporary water mains installed last summer by Thurlow township again turned on.

The request was made by Ligil Little who said that 25 families in the Hillcrest area as well in the Hillcrest area, which was now going bad.

A large percentage of Hillcrest residents have signed petitions for the installation of permanent watermains in the area but costs for this work to be paid for entirely by local improvements will be very high and the matter is now being held in abeyance.

Last summer while the Hillcrest area was still under Thurlow township, the temporary water main was laid into the area when wells in the district went bad.

However this water supply was turned off early last winter when there was danger of freezing.

ROBERT A. WOODS (Madoc)

Following a period of failing health over the past six months, Robert A. Woods died at his residence in Madoc on Tuesday evening, March 31st, in his 84th year.

Born in Madoc Township, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woods, he was married to Miss Ethel Eliza Victoria Pringle.

A resident of Madoc for the best 33 years, Mr. Woods formerly resided in Thurlow Township.

He was a Conservative and a member of the St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, he was on the Board of Managers of that church. He was also a member of the Independent Order of Oddfellows No. 425, Madoc, of which he was a Past Noble Grand, and a member of the Deseret Loyal Orange Lodge No. 425. Mr. Woods was also very active in sporting life in Madoc, a former member of the Madoc Town-ship Rifle Club, also served as a deputy reeve and sat on the County Council a number of years.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Robert Jr. (Bob) Woods of Madoc Township, and Mrs. Mr.B. (Eunice) Sayers of Campbellford; a son, Ed. (Bob) Woods of Madoc; and by four grandchildren.

Resting at the MacKenzie Funeral Home, Madoc; funeral arrangements appear elsewhere in this edition.

MRS. JAMES HARRIGAN Frankford

Mrs. Florence Ethel Harrigan died in Trenton Memorial Hospital on Tuesday, March 31st, following a lengthy illness. She was in her 71st year.

Born at Rockland, Ont., she was the wife of James Harrigan of Frankford, who survives. She had resided in Frankford for the past 16 years, living previously in Belleville and at Sine's Corners.

She was affiliated with the Frankford United Church.

Resting at the Ross Funeral Home, Frankford, from 10.00 a.m. Thursday, April 2; funeral arrangements appear elsewhere in this edition.

Not All Stores Go Along With Proclamation

Not all Belleville stores are going along with Mayor Gerald Hyde's proclamation that half holiday on Thursday afternoon in honor of the McFarlands' homecoming.

This was revealed at city council meeting when it was noted that the retail merchants association had declined closing along with the compliance with the proclamation.

Mayor Hyde at the council morning individual groups of merchants had met with many of those stores and anyway Mayor Hyde said last night that the proclamation was sent to 50 to 75 per cent of the stores would "go along" with the proclamation.

"Maybe by Thursday afternoon the stores will have decided to close," he said.

At the same time, however, Mayor Hyde wondered just what action the city might take against merchants who ignored the proclamation and it was intimated that legal advice on the matter would be sought.

BUS FARES IS CENTS

DETROIT (CP)—The Detroit Street Railway Commission has announced it plans to increase bus fares in the city five cents by July 1. The new fares will be 25 cents for local buses, 30 cents for express buses and five cents extra for transfers.

Water Safety Discussed by Many Agencies

A meeting of the Belleville Water Safety Council was held recently at the YMCA. Members of various organizations interested in water safety and lifesaving instruction were present to outline the activities of their various organisations or to comment on some aspect of water safety in this area.

Several unsafe areas which have been used, mostly by strangers to the community, for swimming were mentioned. Jack's Island and McFarland's Quarry were among the locations listed. It was suggested that signs be posted warning people that these were dangerous.

Mr. G. H. Trill of the Harbor Commission stated that the ground that the harbor had been cleaned up and many submerged piers have been removed. Pipe poles and the Bridge piers have been piloned at strategic points along the water's edge. It was also mentioned that a new phone available at the government dock would allow day and night coverage for calls for help. This would reduce the present phone which allows only day emergency calls.

Chief Gerald Vance gave a description of the facilities available from the Fire Department in the event of a water accident. A 14-foot aluminum boat with a 7½ h.p. outboard motor, air pack and artificial respiration and resuscitation equipment, which is manned by two men, was available. It was indicated that at no time service should be acquired for underwater rescue.

The various organizations conducting swimming and lifesaving programs outlined their activities. The Recreation Committee, the Red Cross, the YMCA, the Y's Men and John Ambulance Corps all take part in some form of water safety or swimming instruction.

CHAIRMAN NAMED

Dr. H. Craig was appointed chairman of the council and Mrs. J. L. Lowis was appointed to the position of secretary.

The Council will be taking action in the near future on several project. Four signs giving instructions as to what to do in the event of an accident occurring on water safety will be obtained and will be placed in government warehouse. A letter is to be sent to the proper authorities urging the erection of warning signs on the Zwick's Island area. The Fire Department will be responsible for the posting of instructions re emergency procedure. Signs will be placed along the waterfront. An audio-visual aids committee to procure appropriate films; a handout committee, to obtain and distribute pamphlets, booklets and booklets; and a publicity committee, to propagate the activities and aims of the council, were all established at the meeting.

It was mentioned that the St. John Ambulance Corps would be available to give artificial and artificial respiration classes for industries which do not have a first-aid system established.

IN MEMORIAM

BEES. — In loving memory of a loving husband, George Bees, who passed away April 1st, 1953. Resting where no shadows fall, Where no sorrow comes at all, Where the heart is always free From the touch of memory. As one by one we're all reminded, Again, remembered by wife Minnie.

HALES. — In loving memory of a dear husband and daddy, Frank Hales, who passed away April 1st, 1952.
Time has flown by since you left us,
The loss a heart holds dear;
Memories keeps you with us day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
Sadly missed by wife and family.

KINCAID. — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Arthur Kincaid, who passed away six years ago, April 1st, 1953.
Dad's last sleep
Is a splendid one to make;
No sickness, pain or suffering
He knew;
Grandma was so kind, so generous and true.
On earth he did his best,
Now he has eternal rest.
Inserted by his loving wife Bertie Carrie, children Mabel, Hazel, Clarence, grandchildren Norma, Dorothy Beth, Ann, Elaine, Sharon; sons-in-law Bill and Earl, daughter-in-law Ellen.

LEE. — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Earl Lee, who passed away April 1st, 1957.

Accuse Chinese Of Questioning Nehru's Honesty

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's deputy foreign minister today accused the Communist Chinese Embassy here of challenging Prime Minister Nehru's "integrity and honesty" in the Tibetan revolt.

Mrs. Lakshmi Menon told parliament it was "highly improper" for the embassy to distribute a statement that the trading town of Kalimpong in northeast India was the "nerve centre of the Tibetan revolt" after Nehru had denied the allegation.

The Communist minority sought to shout her down but they were drowned out by the cheers of the other members.

The Communist New China news agency last Friday cakrried the original statement describing Kalimpong — a centre for Tibetan refugees — as the headquarters of the rebellion. Nehru denied the charge in Parliament Monday.

The Chinese Embassy, despite Nehru's r e p u d i a t i o n of the charge, distributed the same statement Tuesday — this time from the official Peiping People's Daily.

Another touchy diplomatic situation loomed for Nehru with reports that the Dalai Lama and members of his cabinet, who had been replaced by the Chinese Communists, might be heading for India.

The 23-year-old Dalai Lama, worshipped in Tibet as its chief spiritual and political leader, disappeared from his capital in Lhasa shortly before or during the fighting against the Communist occupation forces.

AP correspondent Henry Bradsher reported from Kalimpong that the Tibetan resistance was known to have sent secret messages to India's government. Bradsher said that observers in Kalimpong assume that India has agreed to grant the Dalai Lama asylum either now or later if the rebel forces around him become hard pressed.

Tibetans in Kalimpong say the Dalai Lama is expected to cross the Indian border within the next few days. If so, he will have succeeded in evading more than 50,000 Communist Chinese troops who have blocked almost every known route in and out of Tibet.

REMANDED FOR TRIAL

TRENTON — Six youths, one a juvenile, were remanded for one week for trial yesterday when they appeared before magistrate T. J. Wills on several charges of car theft. All but the juvenile appeared in magistrate's court yesterday and are: Melvin Lawes, 17, of Wooler; Carl Buck, 17; Gary Rbotson, 16; Keith Dunkley, 17 and Harold Dunkley, 19, all of Trenton, were remanded for one week on request of the Crown prosecutor, John Pringle, pending the possibility of further charges and investigations.

VOTES AGAINST WAGES

Councillor Howard Aziz said yesterday that when the question of salary for the councillors came up during the budget meetings he had voted against any remuneration-for members of the council. Mr. Aziz said his platform at the ratepayers' meeting last December had been the discontinue the practice of town monies to councillors for their services. He also said that when the Board of Education's resolution came before council last Thursday night to increase salaries for councillors he had voted for the increase and the other five councillors voted against the resolution which asked the discontinuing of payment to council members.

Three youths were remanded for sentencing yesterday after they pleaded guilty to charges of trespassing on railway property in Belleville and attempting to steal gas from a parked car also on railway property. The three appeared in court that the boys had been apprehended by police when they tried to steal the gasoline. A small hose and a five gallon pail were apprehended when they tried to steal the gasoline. The accused were: Wayne Kirby, 19; Carl Miller; Allan A. Cooney, 18, of Brighton, and Gary Hobston, 16, of Trenton. They will be sentenced in Magistrate's Court in Belleville on Tuesday, April 7.

Sea Cadet Ceremony Is Noted in Magazine

TRENTON — In the February publication of the "Sea Cadet," published in London, England, a very interesting item appeared regarding the presentation of colors to the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps "Trent," at the Trenton Legion Hall.

The item was as follows:

"R.C.S.C.C. Trent, Trenton, Ontario were presented recently with colors at a parade that included Cadets from Belleville, Picton, Peterborough, Oshawa and Lakefield, led by the band of R.C.S.C.C. Howe. After a church parade to King Street United Church and St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church the cadets assembled in the market square, where the salute was taken by Commissioned Officer A. E. Hill, R.C.N., the assistant area officer. The combined cadet force marched past the Cenotaph, paying homage to those who lost their lives in the two World Wars, and then marched to the new Legion Hall, where lunch was served by the Legion Auxiliary. In the afternoon at an impressive ceremony in front of Branch 110 Canadian Legion Hall, the newly received colors of R.C.S.C.C. Trent were handed over by Lieutenant R. Sheppard, commanding officer of the corps, to Legion President J. G. Farrell, for safekeeping in the Legion Hall.

Breaks Two Fingers

TRENTON — F. R. Oldrey, 81 McCann Street, sustained a painful and disabling accident at his work on Monday, when he fractured two fingers of his left hand between two pieces of steel.

Mr. Oldrey, who works at Central Bridge, was moving steel at the time of the accident. The extreme pain caused him to lose consciousness. He was rushed to Trenton Memorial Hospital, with Dr. J. Johnston in attendance.

Upon arrival at the hospital, the hand was X-rayed, showing that two fingers were broken. Mr. Oldrey is now convalescing at home, having come out of the hospital yesterday.

Prime Minister Says Smallwood Imaginative Man

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker, arriving from Saskatoon early today, dismissed as "imaginative" the suggestion by Premier Smallwood that the federal government's decisions affecting Newfoundland have acted on a grudge toward the premier.

"He is an imaginative man," Mr. Diefenbaker said in an interview as he stepped from the RCAF Comet jet returning him to Ottawa. He declined further comment.

The Prime Minister had been asked about a statement by Mr. Smallwood last Saturday. Mr. Smallwood said then that "if Mr. Diefenbaker is acting toward us the way he is because of a grudge against me," he would resign as premier provided Ottawa treats Newfoundland "fairly and generally."

Mr. Smallwood had been critical of the federal government's decision last week on a financial settlement with Newfoundland under the 1949 terms of union, and on the dispute over RCMP reinforcements during the loggers' strike.

After Years of Controversy Strip of Land Finally Sold

Sale of a narrow 30-inch strip of land 40 feet six inches in length at the rear of the Simpson Sears store on Front street to Mr. W. Bean was formally approved by city council last night ending a matter of over four years controversy.

The matter first came before council back in 1954 when Bean was recommended to sell the strip of city property to Bean on condition that Mr. Bean obtain the proper survey description and pay all costs of the transaction.

The survey of the property was delayed, however, and in 1957 council changed its mind and instead of selling decided to lease the property to Mr. Bean. A month later the matter was again before council with members again changing their minds and deciding to sell to Mr. Bean for $105. The sale, however, had never been completed.

The proposed sale question is part of a public street at the rear of the Bean property which council has considered closing.

The matter was revived a week ago by Aldermen Dibby who recommended the sale be completed, the covering by-law was before council last night for approval.

Ald. Graham claimed that council had no definite policy with respect to sale of city property claiming that each case which came up was decided on its merits. He claimed that council was morally bound to sell the property to Mr. Bean.

COULD NOT APPROVE

Alderman William Argue couldn't remember any recommendation to sell to Mr. Bean city property and suggested if there was any such recommendation that it be produced.

"The recommendation is on the books," assured Ald. Tice. It was back in 1954.

"If the city agreed to sell in 1954 then I must say that Mr. Bean has been very lax," noted Ald. Ben Sills. He said he was opposed to "giving" away any city land.

A suggestion that there had been a "strong lobby" was heard from the-council floor as Mayor Hyde proceeded to look up the recommendation approving the property sale to Mr. Bean in 1954.

"I resent any suggestion of there being a lobby," answered Mayor Hyde. "I definitely was not lobbied by Mr. Bean, but I want to see justice done."

On a recorded vote Mayor Hyde and Aldermen Digby, Ellis, Forrester, Greenstone, Ireland, McCabe, Tice and Wishart approved the by-law while Aldermen Argue, Collins, Graham and Sale opposing.

"I am glad to see the last of that," commented Alderman Graham as the vote was completed.

'Y' Basketball

The basketball semi-finals of the YMCA Youth House League were played yesterday evening in the gym of the local "Y". In the first tilt of the evening the Warts bumped the Spooks by a score of 47-31, with Ross Parkhurst and Don Skinner leading the winning team with 14 points apiece. High scorer for the game, however, was Brian MacKenzie of the Spooks with 16 markers to his credit.

In the second game of the play-offs the Devils, led by Jim Ashton with 17 points, outdanced the Hawks by a score of 48-38. John Baker was high man for the losers with 17 points also.

The champions will be decided in a sudden-death game between the Warts and the Devils to be played next Tuesday evening in the "Y" at 8.00 p.m.

WELCOME

Welcome Home Macs!

Quinte residents of all ages will echo that greeting tomorrow.

To some you will appear as conquering heroes back from the hockey wars.

To others you will be honest, skilful craftsmen, returning after a job well done.

Still others will view you as ambassadors for your country, returning after making friends in many lands.

To others you will be successful salesmen, who have made the name of Belleville a household word throughout Canada.

And to others, and these by no means the least important, you will be "Daddy," who scored all the important goals and made all the impossible saves.

Luck to you all!

HOUSES SHOULD BE BUILT TO LAST

"The Rural Scene," in its mid-March issue, states that "an official of the National Housing and Mortgage Corporation has publicly stated that houses should be built to last no longer than it takes to pay for them."

If this statement was actually made, it is scandalous. There would be cause for public indignation if such an assertion had been made by an official of a private firm, a contractor, a supplier of building products, a labor union official or a realtor. But for such an opinion to be voiced by an officer of a Crown corporation entrusted with facilitating the erection of sufficient houses to provide suitable homes for Canada's growing population provides cause for more than indignation - - it cries out for action.

Indeed, the statement is so outrageous that, until chapter and verse are quoted, we shall refuse to believe that it was made. Perhaps there must be some misunderstanding, some misinterpretation here.

Let us endeavor to turn this to some useful purpose by realizing how disastrous such a policy would be. The theory of "built-in obsolescence" has been accepted by some in the so-called "durable goods" industries. Although it may go against the grain for many of us to accept the theory that goods should not be made as well as their manufacturers know how - there is a case which can be made for it. Science is moving so fast that many products manufactured today will be obsolete in a few years, no matter how well they may be made. People will want to replace them with more efficient, more economical designs. There is no reason why today's purchaser should pay for extra years of wear which he will never use.

To attempt to apply the same theory to houses, though, is to overlook the fact that a house should be more than a home - - it should be an investment.

There was a day when the virtues of home-owning were stressed. We suspect that today a greater proportion of Canadians "own" their own homes than ever before. This ownership, however, is largely a figure of speech, for the vast majority of these homes have large mortgages against them. The so-called "owner" is really a minority share-holder, with trust company or insurance firm being the real "owner." This can be made true if the long-established custom of new homes under the National Housing Act has been undesirable. Quite the reverse. But the full benefits of home-ownership will not accrue until these mortgages have been paid off. To suggest that houses should be built so that the usefulness of these structures as assets expires at the same time as an individual advocates the real, rather than the nominal, owner is to advocate a particularly cruel and harmful form of fraud.

A house which is paid for, and which is still a comfortable home, provides precisely that form of security which the average Canadian so urgently needs as he nears the end of his working years. "Built-in obsolescence" in homes would make a mockery of most of the pension schemes, private and public, with which our society is now trying to safeguard the retirement years of today's workers.

Fortunately, there are few signs that materials and workmanship are so shoddy as the statement alleged to have been made by this housing official would suggest. Many of the wartime housing homes, which were admittedly rushed to completion to meet an emergency need, still are serving their purpose admirably. Few people, we suspect, will expect most of the houses being constructed today to stand up to time and weather as well as some of the magnificent old homes built by our forebears, but we refuse to believe that in twenty or twenty-five years they will be unfit for habitation.

ALL FOOLS' DAY
By EDGAR A. GUEST

Don't kick the hat
That's in your way
Or take cigars
From friends today.
Don't stoop to grasp
The purse you see
Or size up April
Fool you'll be.

And when this day
Of fools is gone,
In laughter gravely
Ponder on.

It is not wise
To interfere
With things as that don't Concern you here.

Just go your way
From day to day
And guard well what
You do or say.
This motto in
Your hat now pin:
Wise men walk on,
But fools butt in.

Shoot Seed Out of Trees

Ontario Department of Lands and Forests

The sharp crack of rifles in the timber woods of Ontario's northland has been heralding not hunters but ranger foresters gathering pine and spruce "echoes" for the ultimate production of commercial tree seed.

In the Chapleau District, for example, and in the Geraldton area and elsewhere, reforestation men from the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests have been using rifles to shoot off select topmost branches sometimes 100 feet up. From them, small twigs are broken off and packed in plastic bags for shipment to the Department's Southern Research Station at Maple, near Toronto, for the extraction plant at Angus, not far from Barrie.

In co-operation with a lumber company, Lands and Forests Forests crews selected superior trees of red and white pine in the Chapleau area, checking them for diameter, straightness of the bole, height of bottom branches, taper, diameter of branches, vigor and lack of defect. The trees were marked with bands of aluminium paint so that the cutters would leave them standing.

Dr. C. C. Heimberger, of the Southern Research Station staff, Maple, known as one of the world's foremost geneticists, believes that local trees of superior quality can breed such qualities down to their progeny. However, in a forest with natural pollination, the progeny may suffer from seed mixed with it be the result of pollination from inferior specimen. To avoid this, he is getting the cones collected from the quality trees grafted on the stems of young trees in greenhouses.

The scions, being from mature or over-mature trees, carry their flowering habit with them, and within ten years should bear commercial quantities of seed. In seed orchards, the pollination can be partially controlled because of the distance of the trees and limited numbers of them.

Best scions for grafting are collected in winter months. These could be gathered easily if the timber felled but, in that case, there would be no future scions. Also, climbing these 100 feet or more trees is slow and risky. So, to hasten the job and leave the tree standing, "scion shooting" with rifles were introduced.

Using shotguns, sights and special high velocity ammunition, the marksmen discovered that upon striking the branches bullets shattered frozen pine twigs, severing them from one inches thick. Red pine proved somewhat resistant to shattering and frequently had to be hit time with a series of shots across the limb. Then called for some very fine shooting to sever the small branches caught on lower ones and the lower twigs had to be severed — again with bullets — to permit them to fall.

This sparing the grafted trees will be planted out in "seed orchards" where these small, yet mature specimens are expected to produce seed with the inherent qualities of the trees from which the twigs were taken.

The long-range plans for seed source improvement are part of a continuing program aimed at improving the quality of forest tree crops on the lands which will be planted throughout Ontario.

After the scions (mature twigs) have been collected personnel of the Timber Division continue this practice to better quality trees for the next year's collection. In the Geraldton area, foresters have selected, measured, marked and reserved, two large white spruce of better quality than any selected in that district to date. One is 28.2 inches through breast high (dbh) and 106 years old, the other 22.2 inches dbh—diameter, 116 feet tall and 105 years old. Both are excellent form and should be worthy parents for a fine, healthy crop of young trees, experts say.

For years, the Department of Lands and Forests has been working to produce disease-resistant white pine for which Ontario was once noted. Now, it is believed, there is at Maple and out would come dinner

Add 50 Feet To North Pole

B.B.C. London Letter

Generations of children have been taught that the world is shaped like an orange, round and oval, but flat at the top and the bottom. But the National Space Administration in Washington recently announced that the idea of the world was egg-shaped and our globe is really more like a pear in shape.... Gerald Priestland, one of the B.B.C. Washington correspondents, spoke about this question of the shape of the world in "Listening Post London."

"The space men are still plowing through the result of the International American satellite Vanguard 1 — the little round one sent up nearly a year ago. Now, Dr. Vanguard one thing it revealed was the shell of radiation surrounding the world in "Listening Post London."

"The space men are still plowing through the result of the International American satellite Vanguard 1 — the little round one sent up nearly a year ago. Now, Dr. Vanguard one thing it revealed was the shell of radiation surrounding the globe, but the next thing was this: the nearest approach of the satellite is over the north pole in the northern hemisphere than in the southern. This is not true due to the drag of the atmosphere, nor to any electrical or magnetic effect, but because the only one other explanation, that the earth is not round but pear shaped higher in the north and lower in the south. The picture of the world as an orange is wrong, the point that there are about twenty-seven miles more land at the two Poles, but Vanguard has now taught us to add on fifty feet to the north pole, that is—and shave off fifty feet from the south. The scientists we must lower the sea level in the northern hemisphere by about twenty-five feet and add that on to the sea level in the southern hemisphere. You put the orange up a bit at the top, as it were, press it down on the table at the bottom, and you should some of the bulk down from the top to the bottom. The scientists say that this now looks like a pear," Gerald Priestland thought it better one day to those grapefruit with a rather pronounced peak where the stalk joins on.

"One thing this suggests to the experts," he added, "is that the inside of the earth is like pear-shaped, and that, therefore, otherwise it wouldn't support these unsuspected bulges. But apart from the fact that I enjoy asking once again, as I often do with orange peel, 'Is it in my thumb and pulls out a plum, so what?' And the answer, I think, for the benefit of the state, is that even though we don't have planetary liners yet, and landed aircraft at the Poles, and are now talking airily of colonizing Venus in ten years, we are still a long way from knowing all we need to know about our own little planet. One of the scientists, who revealed this pear shaped globe theory discovery, remarked in passing that the inside of the pear globe is presumably made of molten iron. We have yet to prove that. It's a guess. But I hope we ever get at it, what a limitless supply of raw materials, coal, and energy would be opened up — if we can spare the time from Venus, and from Mars!"

Specter of Communism Big Topic at OEA Convention

TORONTO (CP)—The specter of communism and Communist education systems is appearing repeatedly at the annual convention of the Ontario Education Association meeting this week.

Almost 19,000 delegates are attending the convention, largest vocational gathering in Canada, which lasts until Friday. The convention is divided into some 30 sections.

Dr. Murray G. Ross, vice-president of the University of Toronto, and Professor J. Tuzo Wilson of the university's physics department, indicated at a meeting of one section that the balance of world power may be shifting from the West to the East because of Communist concentration on education.

Other speakers Tuesday also mentioned Communist education and not all of them were complimentary. Dr. J. R. D. Owen, provost of Trinity College of the University of Toronto, told the OEA's classics section that the Soviet type of education is made to produce "mass men" rather than resulting from a liberal education.

Other speakers discussed means of improving education in Ontario and one warned against clinging to the nostalgic memories of the British past.

Dr. Ross recently returned from a study of the Russian educational system and Prof. Wilson toured Communist China.

Prof. Wilson said in 20 years there will be almost 1,000,000,000 Chinese. "Better educated and more industrialized than ever before, together they will be powerful people—much more powerful than Russia."

Dr. Owen said Canada must not give way to pressures to transform its school facilities into producing technicians. Technicians were needed, he said, but must make sure they are mature of human beings as well, capable of wisdom as well as knowledge.

He told educationists to avoid the heresy that education is the key to all problems.

"It is an illusion, like all Utopian ideas. A highly - educated man can be wicked and a highly-educated nation can be dangerous. Sometimes the more educated the nation is the more dangerous it can be."

He spoke to the joint luncheon meeting of the OEA classics section and the Ontario Classical Association.

Dr. R. C. Dilts, dean of the Ontario College of Education, in a luncheon address to the supervising and training department called for "inspired teaching" which would inspire creative thinking in schools. He said students must concentrate on knowledge and not perfection of physical prowess, social gifts or gall.

"Begin the pupil and end with a mob that needs leadership, supervision and management; begin with essential knowledge and you may end with individuals of character, of initiative and determined to be free."

LIVING WITH U.S.

Prof. A. H. Lower, head of the history department of Queen's University, Kingston, said that while Canada must learn the art of living next to the United States "for this giant could ride over on us in his sleep without feeling it," Canada must avoid enfeebling to nostalgic memories of its British past if it is to survive in the shadow of the U.S.

He said Canada should become the "smarting little brother" of the U.S., voicing loud disagreement whenever it was felt necessary.

F. S. Philmister, director of education, Toronto, said more money is spent on alcohol in Canada than on education.

Speaking before the training and supervising department, he said society finds it easy to buy new cars and refrigerators because they are presented in attractive terms and can be purchased on easy instalments. But education, which costs money, comes by because they needed collective action.

BACKS FLUORIDATION

Dr. Wesley J. Dunn told the public health section that the dental profession plans a campaign to get public support behind fluoridation of municipal water systems.

Dr. Dunn, secretary of Ontario branch of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons, said fluoridation "has become a hot political issue."

Dr. Dunn said studies have proven that fluorides prevent two-thirds of the tooth decay in children and added it "the most important health measure ever developed."

PANEL DISCUSSION

A panel discussion recommended that students in all parts of the province be given a single set of standards for promotion to grade 13 from grade 12. It asked a special study of this proposal.

Taking part in the panel were principals George Cameron of Sault Ste. Marie, George Roberts of Oshawa and Robson Bowman of Barrie along with William Stewart, assistant superintendent of secondary schools.

John R. McCarthy, assistant superintendent of curriculum for Toronto, said text books of a distinctive Canadian flavor are replacing text books published in the U.S. in Ontario schools.

DANCING ALBERTANS — Britain's Royal Ballet School passed an important landmark March 21 when for the first time in its history a public performance was given by a cast consisting almost entirely of students. Dancing important roles in a special performance at Sadlers' Wells were Canadian students —Judith Rotterill, 18, of Lethbridge, Alta., and Taras Samchuk, 18, of Edmonton. They are among 80 students attending the school from Britain and other Commonwealth countries. The performance was a success artistically and financially and another performance may be staged in the fall. (CP Photo).

'Cover Bosoms' Decree Annoys African Dancers

MONTREAL (CP)—The manager of the North American tour of Les Ballets Africaines says the show has been discriminated against by a Montreal police official—by cops' standards a few female dancers must be covered.

"We'll obey, but we're being discriminated against", manager Harold Russell said Tuesday night in an interview.

"This is the worst treatment of the whole North American tour," he said.

"Even in New York they let us put on the show properly for three days before demanding changes. And even then, their hand was forced."

SAW THE SHOW

Lieut. Lucien Quintal, head of Montreal's morality squad, made his ruling after seeing the first half of Tuesday night's opening performance before a packed theatre.

The show depicts the native dances of Africa, and the first half included two dances performed by African women unclad from the waist up.

"The Montreal Museum of Fine Arts doesn't collect. Quintal come in to judge every nude painting or statue they are going to exhibit," Mr. Russell said. "This ballet is also art and we could be judged on the same light.

"Because it has not been viewed in this way, we are being discriminated against."

Lieut. Quintal said: "A Montreal by-law forbids that type of dancing . . .

"I did not find the show obscene or suggestive. In fact I was absolutely bored by all that savage mumbo-jumbo."

CZECH DRINKERS

VIENNA (AP) — Among Communist Czechoslovakia's 13,500,000 citizens there are 120,000 alcoholics and another 500,000 whose drinking damages their work capacity, says the Czech economic periodical, Hospodarske Noviny.

rangements on pipelines, airfields and the like.

NATO—North Atlantic Treaty Organization — came into being April 4, 1949, after the coup d'etat in Czechoslovakia and the Berlin blockade. Twelve nations signed. Greece and Turkey joined in 1952, West Germany in 1954.

Former prime minister Louis St. Laurent, one of NATO's founding fathers, said in a speech Dec. 11, 1948, that the Commonwealth alone could not constitute a system of collective security against totalitarian communism.

"Anything less than North Atlantic pact would give us no real hope of maintaining a preponderance of material and moral strength on the side of peace."

Canadian leaders consistently campaigned for implementation of Article 2 of the Atlantic Charter, the so-called Canadian clause covering economic and political co-operation.

The feeling is that political progress has outstripped development in the economic field.

Not Easy to Rear Children In Hollywood Says Crosby

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bing Crosby has admitted what other famous fathers have discovered: it's not easy to rear children in Hollywood.

Speaking of his four older sons, the crooner commented in an interview: "I think I've failed them by giving them too much work and discipline, too much money and too little time and attention."

Symptoms of Crosby's "failure" as a father: Two sons have been arrested for drunk driving; one have haunted the gay world of Las Vegas (Philip and Dennis married showgirls); the parties of Gary and Lindsay have brought complaints from neighbors.

Bing is not the only star to be troubled by his children. His brother Bob's son, Chris, 15, once was arrested when police said he tried to steal a car.

Edward G. Robinson Jr., has been in the news repeatedly with drunk arrests.

John Barrymore Jr. made the papers recently with a drunk-and-run, drunk driving charge. His half-sister Diana, wrote a teary book about her long battle with alcoholism.

Charles Chaplin Jr. has a police record for drunkenness.

Barbara Ann Scott, daughter of the late comedian Bob Burns, was sentenced to 90 days for drug addiction.

Chris Crawford, adopted son of Joan Crawford, was convicted in Indianapolis on charges in Greenport, N.Y., after a shooting spree with an air rifle. Most famous name was Cheryl Crane, daughter of Lana Turner, who killed her mother's lover but was absolved of blame.

Of course, these headlined scions of the famous don't tell the whole story.

There are far more sons and daughters of stars who never get in trouble, scandalous news. But there are enough troubled stars to point a trend.

There appear to be two big reasons:

1. The position of a movie star can be an overpowering one, leaves little time for family matters. Many film children are reared by strangers or shunted off to boarding schools.

2. It can be hard for anyone to bear a noted name.

Bob Crosby has observed: "It's a natural urge for all kids to compete with their fathers. When the father is famous, the urge to compete comes in the form of publicity."

St. Joseph's Sponsors Attractive Easter-Time Bazaar, Tea

St. Joseph's Easter tea and bazaar was ushered in yesterday afternoon at the school by a military, navy skies and a fine attendance of patrons and guests.

Receiving at the door were: Mrs. F. F. Halloran and Mrs. J. Hanley, while Mrs. A. Gibbons and Mrs. George Bell extended a graceful welcome while receiving the tickets.

Tall pedestals of Easter lilies divided the emporium section with its gaily decked booths in pastel tints of green, with mauve and yellow garlands, lilies, Peter Rabbits and colorful eggs from the tea room where little guest tables were centred by tiny baskets of little rabbits and eggs, and miniature duckings.

ATTRACTIVE TEA TABLE

The long tea table was appointed with an ecru English lace cloth centred by a lovely arrangement of mauve and golden chrysanthemums, and flanked by tall yellow and mauve candles in tri-branched silver candelabra.

The homebaking table was most attractive with a white tissue cloth bordered by Easter motifs in yellow, pink and mauve with ropes of entwined green and ending in a large bow and streamers. Mrs. H. Bankey, assisted by Mrs. Ed. Coyer and Mrs. Ft. Pointer, were in charge of delicious apple, cherry and butterscotch pies; angel cakes, tarts and cup-cakes topped with snowy white icing; cookies; cuttopped chocolate squares; coconut macaroons; date bread and many other delicious confectionery.

The delicatessen table tempting aromas ascended from baked ham and buns, assorted tato salads; sausage rolls; meat pies; baked custards; relishes, pickles and jams and jellies. Convening these were Mrs. B. Labelle and Mrs. L. Boos.

The candy booth, under the convenership of Mrs. B. Bierne and Mrs. T. McQuade had mouth-watering maple creams, chocolate fudges, nut creams, cocoanut rolls and rich fudge. These latter were made by Mr. O'Connor.

FINE SEWING

The sewing booth was a necessary for those looking for gifts for the wee tots, as well as the particular homemaker with its attractive display of tiny coats and baby sacques; a little girls' dress like a dream; also a rose drew the attention of many by its three, tiny tots bags in plastic with jewelled tops, doilies, play suits, a doll's pantie work quilt, lovely embroidered dresser scarfs, and overalls Mrs. L. Hopkins, Mrs. S. McKenna and Mrs. S. Kazak were in charge here.

In charge of the aprons were Mrs. P. O'Connor, and Mrs. A. Bridge. Many styles and colors predominated; there were half aprons, as well as the all-over type, made from colorful and flower prints; organdy and print combination, in all colors of the rainbow. Doll clothes ranged from everyday dresses; balmy, fussy party dresses; coatees and aprons.

LOVELY DOLL

A lovely, life-size doll with golden hair, dressed in blue corded silk lace-trimmed, with matching hat, and a matching bonnet, as well as a three-quarter-length coat, went to the holder of the lucky ticket, Miss Mary Doran.

A table was also provided for the religious articles which included picture of the Sacred Heart; rosaries in pink and white and rainbow-tinted beads; Crucifixes; figurines of saints; prayer books and book marks.

In the hall was the well patronized flatpond in charge of Mrs. C. Nichols and Mrs. J. Murphy.

Other drawing cards were the draw on the $100 bill, which went to Mr. J. Doran; an angel cake, won by Mrs. McInerney; a beautiful rose cyclamen to Mrs. J. Anton the centrepiece of mums to Mrs. E. Cooper, and the door prize of a hamper of groceries, was won by ticket 390902, which may be had by phoning 5-6139. The $10 permanent to Mrs. E. Hilbig.

TEA ROOM CONVENERS

The tea room was convened by Mrs. H. Carr-Brairi, Mrs. E. Cooper, and Mrs. D. Mavety; the tables by Mrs. E. Pulver and Mrs. R. Johnston; and the tea room by Mesdames Mrs. C. Hayes and Mrs. T. Whalen.

Those who served at the tea tables were Mrs. H. O'Neil, Mrs. A. Rouleher; Mrs. P. Greene, Mrs. J. Bracefield; Mrs. R. Chipman, Mrs. C. Ford, and Mrs. P. Melchior; while those behind the tea urns and services included: Mrs. T. Bowler and Mrs. H. Hamilton; Mrs. A. Edgosiae and Mrs. Bulger.

A prettily arranged bazaar and tea bringing commendations to the convener, Mrs. J. Hanley, and to all who assisted in its successful culmination.

Five Children Burn to Death In Sydney Fire

SYDNEY MINES, N.S. (CP)—Five children in one family were burned to death early today when fire destroyed a two-storey, two-family home in Coxheath Beach Point. The children's parents and one child escaped the flames, as did seven members of the other family in the house.

Dead are John Joseph, 15; Marcella, 14; Charlotte, 11; Cambrian, 13, and Margaret, 4, all children of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Harriehs.

The fire was believed caused by an overheated stove.

Smallwood Pleads for Better Understanding by Mainland

By IAN MACDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Joseph R. Smallwood Tuesday night marked his 10th anniversary as premier, and as Newfoundland's first decade as a Canadian province, with a plea for better understanding from the mainland.

"We have been bitterly hurt by the lack of understanding we have encountered in the rest of Canada," he told about 600 people at a banquet in honor of the birthday of the fiery orator who led Newfoundland into Confederation.

"Many Canadians simply do not seem to realize that only 52 per cent of the people on this island voted for Confederation. Those who voted against cried in the streets of St. John's when they lost.

He said Newfoundlanders are "passionately proud" of the fact "just a little mental, just a little unnatural." They were proud of the hardships they had endured, proud of their British ties, proud of their fishing independence of years and a province only 10.

BELIEVE RICHES THERE

In his buoyant speech he said Newfoundlanders believe there have the richest province in Canada, but need money to develop it. A little money wisely spent would yield rich dividends. Newfoundlanders did not want to be "always on the receiving end" of handouts from Ottawa.

Recently newspapers across Canada had given Newfoundland publicity, not at a time when things were normal, but at a time when there was rioting, a man slain and an upheaval in Newfoundland.

"We want to be given publicity when there are no strikes, no men slain and no riots."

He urged the audience "not to blame Canadians for Prime Minister Diefenbaker's announcement that Newfoundland would receive only $6,000,000 a year for five years, as a result of the McNair royal commission report."

"Whatever sum has done may yet be undone. I hope 10 years from tonight there will be less uncertainty than there is tonight. I hope then none will have any reason to doubt the wisdom of Confederation."

The premier gave added weight to his persistent hints of retirement, and set next year as a tentative date.

Lieut. Governor Opens Tweedsmuir Library

The Tweedsmuir Library was officially opened Tuesday afternoon by Lieut.-Governor Matthews. Mrs. Matthews was also present. Mrs. Matthews cut the ribbon which was held by Mrs. Ross Thompson, president of the Women's Institute, and Mr. Matthews declared the library open.

Mrs. Matthews was presented with a bouquet of flowers by Mrs. Thompson.

Mr. Matthews spoke briefly, saying that he was pleased to be present at the opening of the library. He said that he was glad to see that the Women's Institute had taken an interest in the library and had helped to make it possible.

Mr. Matthews said that he was glad to see that the library was not only for children but for adults as well. He said that he was glad to see that the library was not only for children but for adults as well. He said that he was glad to see that the library was not only for children but for adults as well.

Three Tornadoes Sweep Texas; Six Die, 51 Hurt

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — At least three tornadoes and a spring storm Tuesday night killed six persons and injured 51 in north central Texas.

Three persons died at Vaughan, a village of about 50 persons south of Hillsboro. The twister flattened all the half dozen houses a gasoline station and two churches there. A cotton gin was set in two.

The twister moved east to Bynum and killed two more persons. About 300 persons live there. Bynum and Vaughan are about 70 miles south of here.

A house was blown away about four miles southwest of Hillsboro, south of here, and officers were unable to locate the two Negroes who lived there.

An auto was blown off the highway as Dr. C. B. Bruner drove back toward his Waco home with his wife and two small children. Mrs. Bruner was killed and Dr. Bruner and one child were injured.

Another tornado cut a path of destruction one mile wide and six miles long northeast of Cleburne, Texas. Seventeen persons were injured.

The tornadoes inflicted heavy damage to a gasoline plant, an oil field and a number of homes and ranches.

In Oklahoma, tornadoes slammed two communities Tuesday night, injuring at least eight persons and wrecking scores of homes.

Hardest hit was the small community of Silver City, 30 miles west of Tulsa in northeast Oklahoma where at least six homes were blown away, dozens of others damaged. Police estimated that three-quarters of the tiny farm community was damaged.

Wedding

CORNISH — BROADBENT

Easter lilies and yellow daffodils decorated St. George's Memorial Anglican Church, Oshawa, for a wedding at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, March 29, when Gloria Mary Broadbent, a graduate of Oshawa General Hospital School of Nursing, class of 1952, was united in marriage to Mr. Barry Edward Cornish, a 1956 graduate from University.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy E. Broadbent of Oshawa, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cornish of Belleville, Ontario. The Reverend Clifton Cross performed the ceremony.

The wedding music was played by Mr. Walter Watson, who accompanied Mr. Albert Wedgery who sang "The Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Hymn."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ankle-length gown of frost white peau de soie on princess lines fashioned with a scoop neckline, empire waist caught with seed pearls. The bouffant skirt featured a chapel train. Matching mittens complemented the short sleeves. A cap encrusted with seed pearls held her finger tip veil of tulle illusion and she carried a prayer book crested with a white orchid.

Mrs. Donald Allewell of Barrie, Ontario, was matron of honor, wearing a cocktail-length gown of petal pink organza over net, and taffeta, having a portrait neckline, short sleeves, shirring accenting the hipline of the bouffant skirt. Short white gloves completed her ensemble.

Miss Anne Blasko and Miss Jean Cornish, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids, wearing identical cocktail-length gowns of pink aqua silk organza over net and taffeta, having short sleeves and bell shaped skirts. Their millinery matched their gowns. All the attendants were matching bow-knot headdresses and they carried crescents of pink and white chrysanthemums.

Mr. William Hannaford, of Belleville, performed the duties of best man, and the ushers were: Mr. Edward Broadbent, brother of the bride, and Mr. William Hunt, of Belleville.

The reception was held in St. George's Parish Hall, Centre St., Oshawa, where the bride's mother received the guests wearing a champagne beige sheath of Chantilly lace over satin, trimmed at the Victorian waistline with beige satin. Her hat was a close fitting cloche of beige silk organza flowers; she wore a mink jacket and a corsage of yellow roses. Assisting was the bridegroom's mother, who chose sapphire blue silk crepe on sheath lines, a wide brimmed hat of delphinium blue straw, a grey lamb jacket and a corsage of pink roses.

White and red formed the setting for the three-tier wedding cake, flanked with white tapers in silver candelabra which centered the bridal table. The wedding dinner was served by the Boulevard group of St. George's Church.

For the honeymoon trip, by motor car, to Montreal and Quebec City, the bride travelled in a charcoal green wool sheath dress, brown Persian lamb jacket, black straw hat, matching accessories, and a white orchid corsage. On their return the couple will reside in Oshawa.

Guests were present from Toronto, Belleville, Prescott, Peterborough, Goodeham, Exeter, Kitchener, Barrie, Thistle River, Whitby and Bowmanville.

Flight Lieutenant Gerald Frederick George Clift and Mrs. Clift are shown signing the register following their recent marriage in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Belleville. The bride is the former Miss Sherrill Ann Turner, elder daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Turner of this city. The bridegroom is the elder son of Brigadier and Mrs. F. A. Clift of London, Ontario. (Photo by William E. Riley, Belleville.)

CLIFF — TURNER

Tall white standards of calla lilies, white chrysanthemums mingled with white snapdragons adorned the nursery and bank-ed Easter lilies the chancel rail-ing in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, on Saturday, March 29, at 4.00 p.m. for a lovely, early spring-time wedding when Sherrill Ann Turner, of Belleville, elder daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Turner, became the bride of Flight-Lieutenant Gerald Frederick George Clift, of Kingston, Ontario, elder son of Brigadier and Mrs. F. A. Clift of London, Ontario. The Reverend R. D. MacLean, pastor of the church officiated.

Mr. Egerton Boyce, church organist, provided the traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, Dr. W. S. Turner, the bride was radiant in her bridal gown of white silk taffeta featuring a draped and fitted bodice and draped, ballerina-length skirt. Her white, velvet bows covered the crown of her white net cap and she carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies.

She was attended by Miss Sandra Wright, of Belleville, as bridesmaid, wearing an avocado green shantung sheath featuring an empire waistline with bloused back. Her headdress was of matching net and spring flowers, and she carried a second cascade of white carnations.

Mr. James Lovejoy, of Kingston, attended the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held for the immediate families in the Prince Edward suite at Hotel Quinte, where the bride's table was appointed with white damask, and centred by white chrysanthemums. The three-tier, all-white wedding cake, topped with a cluster of white freesias, and flanked by tall white candles in tri-branched silver candelabra, completed the charming nuptial accent.

The bride's mother, for her daughter's marriage, chose a Queen Anne blue silk shantung ensemble with matching flower hat, black accessories and corsage of maroon orchids, while the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in beige shantung in draped effect with beige hat accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

For the wedding trip to Lake Placid, the bride chose a charcoal tweed suit, black accessories, and corsage of orchids. Upon their return, Lieutenant and Mrs. Clift, will reside in Kingston, Ontario, for the present.

CANCER CAMPAIGN

TORONTO (CP)—The 11th annual campaign of the Canadian cancer society swings Wednesday with a $2,150,000 objective, the society announced Monday.

Mrs. Jay Campbell Gives Full Report of Nursing Registry

The following report was presented by Mrs. Jay Campbell Reg. N., Director of the Belleville Community Nursing Registry, at a recent meeting of the Board of directors of this community welfare organization:

It will be most interesting to former members of this service organization, and informs the public of the scope of service of the Community Nursing Registry in Belleville.

"To many of you, it will hardly seem possible that with the closing year of 1958, we have completed our 15th year of organized nursing service to Belleville and district. Each year has given us a new challenge to become a more recognized, important welfare organization; our aim, to help the sick, and strive to have a better understanding of the health needs of our community.

"To the citizens of Belleville and district, our value as a 24-hour nurse placement service has certainly assisted our physiotherapists has been a very interesting study. Our thanks for this opportunity to service we extend to Miss McIlldowie, who has recently served Nursing Australia to be in charge of this district's medical work.

"The Victorian Order of Nurses, who, for years, have used our full time nursing service are very valuable to our work. Miss Ethel Hughes and her staff, we extend our sincere thanks for the splendid co-operation and assistance they have given during the past year. The partnership we share in this nursing service to the public of Belleville is very important to our Society and the health of our community.

REPRESENTATIVES C.C.S.

"As your representative on the Executive of the Belleville unit of the Canadian Cancer Society, whose president is Dr. Stobie, I would like to ask all nurses to help in every way in this fight against cancer fear; education of the public is one of the main purposes of this Society.

"With a view to further centralizing our nursing service to the Belleville community, I have had an interview with Mrs. Buchannan, who is supervisor of the Victorian Order Service sponsored by the Red Cross in this district, and am hopeful that at some future time we may be able to assist them with a nursing staff service.

"It is a happy rewarding experience for me, this year to spend a lecture period with the graduating class from the Belleville General Hospital and explain to them what the ultimate purpose of the Community Nursing Registry is. We discuss our registry policies and welcome each to the field of private practice, and help them to understand their responsibilities to society as a Registered Nurse.

"I would like to take the pages of this call-book on the completion of another year of service, and publicly express that we have supplied nursing service to private homes, nursing homes, hospital schools, Trenton Memorial Hospital, temporary duty in Belleville Hospital, 616 emergency calls to Hospitals in other cities.

"Last year we had 1,588 calls for private duty were taken, unfortunately 350 of these were unfilled due to our shortage of nurses. 75 calls for private duty in homes were filled, 313 calls were accepted for emergency duty duty at the R.C.H. of these 76 calls were unfilled. However, the Registry supplied 1,588 days duty in the hospital and to these nurses who accepted staff calls we express our sincere thanks.

While we do not accept responsibility for the health nurses in homes, we do have supervision of these ladies and we take requests from patients who are in need of this nursing service. There were 80 practical nurses placed in homes this year by this method.

"I would like to express my sincere appreciation for the privilege of being sent as one of your delegates to the Conference on Registry, sponsored by the R.N.A.O., and held in the new building at 33 Price Street, Toronto.

"It was a most rewarding experience and I hope to present a detailed report for the benefit of our members at our next meeting, until then, my sincere thanks.

"In closing my 1958 report, I would like to extend my thanks to my assistant director, Mrs. Morton, who has been most faithful in executing her duties, to Miss Pearl, past director of the R.C.H., for her kindly guidance, to president Mrs. D. Howie and the Board of Directors ,and to you, the general membership, for your splendid spirit of service and responsibility, without which the aims of our nursing needs to this community could never have been fulfilled."

Women's Activities

ST. ANDREW'S W.G.

St. Andrew's Women's Guild held its March meeting on Tuesday evening. Mrs. J. W. McKay, president, opened the meeting.

The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Morris and taken from the Gospel of St. Mark.

The roll call, correspondence and minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Ely and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Tounsley.

Mrs. McKay welcomed the members of the Guild and at this time thanked Mrs. Shaw who was in charge of the Easter flowers.

A get-well card, signed by members of the Guild who were present, was to be sent to Mrs. Richardson who was seriously hurt in a car accident and is still in Toronto General Hospital.

Plans were discussed in connection with catering for two luncheons and a dinner for the Women's Missionary Society convention which is to be held here in May.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Richardson's group and a sing-song followed collaborated at the piano by Mrs. Mantle.

Mrs. Picard's group served refreshments.

Woman to Survey Methods Of Teaching Children to Read

WINNIPEG (CP) — Mrs. Mary Johnson of the neighboring city of St. James plans to make a world-wide survey of methods of teaching children how to read, it was learned here today in connection with Canadian methods are falling with a "dangerous number" of people.

Mrs. Johnson and her husband Emerson, a lawyer, have been campaigning to get changes made in the system Manitoba schools use for teaching children to read.

"I got the idea for a world survey while arguing with a post-school official," she said in an interview. "He told me that the reading system taught in Manitoba is the same as is used throughout the world.

"He said there was no use arguing against the system would have to change the whole world."

Mrs. Johnson accepted the challenge. With about a dozen volunteer assistants—all of them parents of school-age children—she set out to write letters to English-language newspapers all over the world.

The letters ask parents to say whether they are satisfied with their children's reading ability, whether they have any confrontied with unfamiliar words.

Mrs. Johnson contends that under the present system children in primary reading classes are taught basic sentence words mainly by sight. They do not learn to use the alphabet or to use reason in reading.

The remedy, she says, is to drill the children thoroughly on the alphabet and on the sounds for letters. After they have mastered this, they should be taught to blend the letters into short words.

The housewife, who has three school - age children, and no volunteer helpers so far, has written a letter to nearly 50 persons including the Yorkshire Post in England. The year - all projects she says, "probably will take years."

Results have been light so far. But of letters received from persons in various Canada and from such places as England and South Africa, a high percentage indicate a similar concern with reading failures among children, Mrs. Johnson said.

When the survey is completed, Mrs. Johnson plans to compile the replies and send the overall results to the newspapers which published the original letters from Canada.

Mrs. Johnson said she originally became interested in the problem when one of her own children received a couple of reading unfamiliar words. She learned that other parents had similar experience.

Together with her husband she invited various groups of school-age children in Winnipeg into grounds and schools, completing the test, subject and progressing it to a Manitoba royal commission on education.

Leathercraft Classes Display Handiwork

Last evening a fine display of leather handicraft was shown at the home of Mrs. Charles Ling, West Bridge Street, by her leathercraft classes, and beautiful purses; bookends; gloves, key cases, change purses and other attractive articles.

During the evening, Mrs. Ling's grandsons, Roger and Steven entertained the groups with piano solos, followed by a delightful showing of colored slides of Alian Gardens, and Glen Iris Park, New York, by Miss Mary Thain. Among the pictures were lovely close-up of flowers, one especially beautiful shot of Lael had a diamond drop of water; another of a bird in the midst of a storm with all its gleaming glory.

On behalf of the Tuesday and Thursday classes, Mrs. Ling was presented by Mrs. Lingwell with a gift of appreciation for her gracious helpfulness in their chosen hobby of leathercraft.

Mrs. Ling, assisted by her daughters-in-law, Mrs. C. Ling and Mrs. J. Ling, served bountiful refreshments.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

SHOULD WOMAN WEAR HAT TO HOUSE WEDDING?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My mother and I have been invited to a house wedding to take place soon. I have never been to a house wedding, and so I don't know whether or not I should wear a hat. My mother, who enjoys knowing about, or finding out about, such questions of propriety, insists that a woman should wear a hat to any religious ceremony, such as a wedding, whether it takes place in a church or in a home. She says she was brought up to do this, and will continue to do it because it is right. — Dorothy K.

Your mother is entirely right in her point of view about wearing a hat to a religious ceremony, no matter where it takes place. This applies not only to a marriage ceremony, but also to a christening ceremony, funeral service, and so forth.

CORRECT TO TYPEWRITE THANK-YOU NOTES?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Would it be proper for me to typewrite my thank-you notes for wedding presents? — Bride-to-be

No, ma'am! Your thank-you notes must be hand written.

by Mary Moore

Some of you will remember a story syndicated writer by the name of O.O. McIntyre who wrote a column entitled New York Day by Day.

I enjoyed it chiefly because he often described the food in and his wife ate in restaurants and hotel dining-rooms in and around New York. He occasionally mentioned a fresh applesauce cake in glowing terms but never the name of the restaurant.

Dinner Menu

by Mary Moore

WEDNESDAY

Citrus Juice Cocktail; Grilled Calves' Liver and Onions; Baked Jacket Potatoes; Mexican Corn; Applesauce a la Mode; Coffee.

When he died I wrote to Brentano's in New York asking for a book that was out of print of some of his selected columns. Eventually the little volume arrived by mail, and had been gutted down in a secondhand book store in Austin Texas. Unfortunately I loaned it to someone and forget who it was. This is reminding me to return all the borrowed books I have and I hope those who have mine will please return them.

But it is a rare jane that has no turning. One of our readers in Collins Bay let me by a roundabout route to the best applesauce cake I ever made or tasted. It may not equal O. O. McIntyre's nostalgically but vicariously remember and, but it pleases me to perfection.

Mrs. H. Q. asked me to try and to correct her Aunt's recipe for Spice Gum Drop Cake. As is my custom I made up the batter first without adding the gum drops and raisins and this delightful applesauce cake resulted:

FOUND - AT - LAST APPLESAUCE CAKE.

One cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 large eggs, 1 cup applesauce (I used canned strained), 3 cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon each salt, cinnamon, nutmeg (I grated half of a whole nutmeg for this), 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon baking soda. Under the electric beater I creamed the butter until light, then added the sugar and beat until very fluffy, then added the eggs and continued beating, then added the applesauce and 1 cup flour and continued beating until all were very light. I sifted the remaining 2 cups sifted flour with the remaining dry ingredients and folded them in. I lined the bottom of my 10" tube pan with wax paper and buttered it and the sides and turned in the batter and baked it at 350 deg. F. 75 minutes (1 hour 15 minutes) and turned it out on rack to cool. Superb cut and eaten as soon as cool (or before if you can't wait!)

Now to answer Mrs. H.Q.: Using above recipe (which is basically yours with the one change of 1 teaspoon baking powder to 2 teaspoons) I made a second cake and added 1-2 lb. (instead of your Aunt's 1 lb.) cut-up gum drops (no black ones) and 1 cup raisins (boiled 1 minute in 1-2 cup water and drained and cooled and dried) and baked the cake as above. The cut-up gum drops tend to fall but not the raisins. As in ordinary applesauce cakes the raisins may be added to above and increased to 2 cups (boiled, drained and dried). As Mrs. H. Q. mentions this applesauce cake freezes very well for those of you who have deep freezers and big families.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Peter V. — I promised I won't marry until I graduate.

Gwen R. — I don't think 19 is too young.

Peter V. — I am 17 and planning to start college next fall. I am very worried about a particular problem involving my girl friend.

Gwen and I have been going steady for nearly two years and I feel that we are really in love. She wants to go to college too, but she thinks that we can get married in another two years if we both work part time and save our money.

I have promised my parents that I won't marry until I graduate. They say that I should give Gwen up and date others for the time I go to college. I don't particularly feel like going out with others, but I'd be willing to do it if Gwen didn't raise such a fuss about it. I feel that we should be willing to put our feelings to the test.

Gwen R. — It's all very well to talk about putting our feelings to the test if there weren't half a dozen strikes against us. Peter's parents are after him all the time, trying to get him to give me up. His mother has him tied so tight to her apron strings that he has even asked me to call him at home because she's afraid of what she'll say.

I know all the arguments against early marriage, but I don't think 19 is very early if you are both mature. I feel that we have grown up a lot since we have gone out together and that we'll certainly be capable of making a good marriage after another two years.

By the way, all our steady dating hasn't lowered our school grades, so why would getting married hurt?

The Council: The trend toward college marriages was started by veterans several years older than the average college student. To some extent these men were mentally and emotionally prepared for marriage. They at least had some exposure to the world outside their immediate home and family — and they did have some support from the G.I. Bill. Even so, many found the going very rough when children appeared on the scene.

But the veterans set a fashion that intrigued their younger schoolmates. Here the boys involved were 18 to 22, the girls a bit younger, and neither 'dad' been weaned from home. In most cases they had never become well acquainted with either members of the opposite sex. They had "gone steady" from their earliest teens.

The fact that some such marriages turned out successfully is no indication that it was a good idea. The survivors of some of the best admit that they would have been better off if they had waited.

Our answer must be mainly directed at Gwen for she, like most girls, with unready boy friends, is putting on the pressure. In her eagerness to get a husband, Gwen is defeating her purpose. She'll never have a husband worth his salt in a boy who yields to the idiotic world and to his parents' home and college dormitory. A man needs to test himself in the outside world and to achieve some small stake in it in order to develop the strength and confidence women like in a husband. Gwen would find herself quite disillusioned with a 19-year-old schoolboy husband.

Peter shows that he is torn between his parents and Gwen. He should recognize that he must scramble to his own feet before he starts off on important adventures.

Nationalistic Trends Show In African Colonies as Ghana Gained Independence in 1957

By RUSSELL ELMAN

ACCRA, Ghana (CP) — Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana says the liberation of his country from colonial rule is "meaningless unless it is linked with the liberation of the rest of Africa."

In the two years since Ghana became the first "black" colonial territory in Africa south of the Sahara to gain independence, Nkrumah's words have achieved an almost prophetic significance. Today nationalism is on the march across Africa.

Other colonies have won independence, some are on the threshold of it, while in nearly every dependent territory progress is being made towards eventual self-maturity. Only in Portuguese Africa and independent South Africa has there been no real political advance for the African.

MOULDS PATTERN

With Accra holding the spotlight following two recent conferences of independent African states and African political leaders, Ghana has tended to mould the pattern for the emergent nationalism elsewhere on the continent, with Nkrumah himself the human symbol of the new spirit of independence. As far away as Tanganyika on the other side of Africa, Nkrumah's photograph decorates walls in African homes.

Africans, particularly in British territories, are watching developments in Ghana. Many consider their future may be shaped by the success or failure of Ghana to stand on its own feet.

In Africa today the speed with which colonies move toward self-government may hinge largely on whether there is leadership and effective party organization to create political and national consciousness among peoples whose outlook in the past has been tribal. Other factors are the willingness of the colonial powers to encourage political advancement among Africans, the extent of education and economic opportunity. The problem is complicated where there are large European (white) or Asian minorities as in Kenya, Rhodesia and Belgian Congo.

Britain took the lead in guiding colonies toward self-government, but in the last year there have been significant developments in French Africa, with the establishment of black republics within the French community. For the first time the population of the Belgian Congo has been given some political rights with a promise of ultimate independence.

INDEPENDENT TWO YEARS

Ghana gained its independence March 6, 1957, after only a comparatively short transitional period on internal responsible government. The same pattern is being followed in neighboring Sierra Leone and Nigeria on the West Coast, Uganda, Zanzibar and Tanganyika on the East Coast.

Sierra Leone, rich in diamonds and with long-standing ties with Britain, is almost completely self-governing internally. Some African politicans predict it will be independent within three to five years.

Nigeria is due to be independent next year but national unity is lacking. With a population of 35,000,000 Nigeria has more people than Ghana, South Africa, Belgian Congo and Sierra Leone combined, and if united, is bound to have an extremely influential position in the new Africa.

The chief problem is whether its federal system of government will work out. The east and west regions are already self-governing internally, the inhabitants are industrious, have a higher standard of education and generally control the economic life of the entire country. The north, which has more than half the country's population, is still largely under the influence of Muslim emirs, is politically less advanced, and the poorest part of Nigeria.

NOW SULTANATE

On the east coast, Zanzibar is a sultanate under British protection. Britain has pledged to lead Zanzibar toward self-government and the island was the first territory in East Africa to hold common roll elections to the legislative council.

Another British protectorate, Uganda is also assured of eventual self - government. Already there are a majority of African representatives in the legislative council and Africans are being trained in the civil service but the timing of independence may depend on the settlement of internal differences among the Africans themselves.

Tanganyika, a United Nations trust territory, held its first elections to the legislative council last year and although Britain has said Africans ultimately will have the largest share in government, no timetable has been set for self-government. Tanganyika probably has the best organized African political movement outside Ghana in the Tanganyika African National Union, under the leadership of Julius K. Nyere.

In Kenya where conditions are returning to normal following the Mau Mau uprising, Africans today have a much larger role in government. The minister of housing, Musa Amalemba, is an African and there are as many elected Europeans in the legislative council. However, there is little immediate prospect of Africans taking over from Europeans altogether.

SIMILAR SITUATION

In some respects a like situation exists in the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland. The federal government is committed to a policy of "partnership" between European, African and partly on this platform won an election victory last year. There are African MPs in the federal Parliament, but there is no real unity among the African population. Britain still controls racial policy within Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland, but Southern Rhodesia — a self - governing colony under white rule since 1923—directs its own radical affairs.

Many Africans in Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland — the latter now in a state of emergency as a result of recent riots — would like to secede from the federation and become independent African states. Meanwhile the federal constitution and the possible granting of independent status within the Commonwealth are to be reviewed next year.

Three other British territories occupy a unique position in southern Africa — Bechuanaland and Swaziland protectorates and Basutoland colony. The South African government has frequently stated it would like to incorporate these territories within the Union. Basutoland, wholly surrounded by the Union, however, has already started on the traditional road toward self-government.

Since President de Gaulle's offer of independence to any French overseas territory, there has been a remarkable transformation in French Africa. Guinea, on the west coast, has broken away from the French Union and formed a republic. In a joint declaration, Guinea and Ghana announced their intention to seek some sort of union.

Other territories chose to stay within the French community, but some have also become republics. Togoland and French Cameroons, United Nations trust territories, are following independent paths.

SITUATION IN CONGO

In the Belgian Congo, the Belgian government has announced it aims eventually to bring up the Africans to govern themselves. Despite recent riots—partly due to a slowing down of the economy following the fall in copper prices—Africans and the 100,000 European minority have been given a measure of municipal self-government. But politics as in other areas, are still largely conditioned by regional and tribal factors.

In Portuguese Africa, Mozambique and Angola are both provinces of Portugal and send representatives to the Lisbon parliament, but as yet there is little demand for self rule.

Independent South Africa allows no share in the central government by Africans, Coloreds (half-castes) or Indians, although the government's stated policy is to introduce some self-government within segregated African areas. As yet there is no strong African leader nor evidence of a well-organized African political movement.

As to the future, the Ghana-Guinea declaration has raised speculation as the possibility of a United States of Africa. Because of widely different backgrounds, histories and differences in ethnic groupings language and religion, the problems involved are many. Meanwhile, co-operation is increasing among independent African states, particularly in economic and cultural ties.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Two months ago the McFarlands took off from Malton Airport, a happy crew of pocketsacers, confident they would return with the world hockey championship-tucked away in their duffle bags.

Now, twenty-nine victories, one defeat and one tie later they are returning to Belleville, with the world title tucked away in their duffle bags.

Tomorrow they will step off the 2.18 p.m. Montreal train, the central figures of a tremendous homecoming reception from thousands of loyal city and district fans.

Profiting by mistakes made in the homecoming following the winning of the Allan Cup at Kelowna last spring, the Macs Booster Club has laid down a program schedule which if followed closely will ensure success for the biggest reception of all.

First of all the players' reunion with their wives and loved ones will be spared the spotlight of the public eye. Their wives will join them on the train at Kingston and complete the journey to Belleville.

To insure against a further delay of schedule and possible mix-up of the program, Manager Drury Denyes will also join the club at Kingston and brief them on the sequence of events after they detrain here.

Much, in fact a great deal of the success of the homecoming reception, will depend on the people. But if the instructions as laid down by parade marshal Lt.-Col. Angus Duffy are followed with a reasonable degree of closeness, the homecoming should result in the success it is hoped it will be.

These instructions were published in this newspaper last Saturday and appear again in today's editions. The general public is urged to read and follow them.

Fans will not be allowed on the station platform. This will facilitate the expedient exit of the giant parade, which is expected to leave the station some fifteen minutes following the detraining of the team.

The players will ride in convertibles, with each player and his family riding in separate cars. The players will be identified by signs on the cars.

The route will be spaced some fifty yards apart interspersed by bands, majorettes and marching personnel. Police Inspector Claire Hayes will be in charge of traffic. City police will be aided by personnel of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment.

The team will be officially greeted at the armouries by Mayor-Gerald Hyde and other officials after the parade. Fans will be able to meet the players then and at the dance being held there in the evening. There is no admission and the public is invited to attend.

The Booster Club, which has done such a magnificent job for the team since its inception two years ago, will pay their own tribute at the Booster Ball scheduled for the Club Commodore on April 19. The Macs and their wives will be the guests of honor and the Boosters will show their appreciation of the world championships in a tangible manner.

Thousands of people from all parts of the district as well as the city are expected to be on hand to welcome the Macs. Police Inspector Hayes and the Booster Club ask the fans to co-operate with their plans as much as possible so the parade, reception and other phases of the homecoming will be devoid of any untoward incidents.

Barring accidents and incidents and with good weather prevailing, tomorrow should see one of the greatest events in the sports history of the city.

Cards Get Blast From Brass For 'Failure to Go All Out'

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

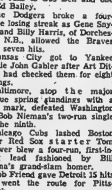
The starting ball hasn't been for the third straight day, sounded in the big-league baseball schedule but players of St. Louis Cardinals are already being upbraided for "failure to go all-out".

The blast came from Bing Devine, general manager of the Cards, after watching his club take a 5-1 whipping from Chicago White Sox Tuesday, the 18th loss in 19 exhibition games for St. Louis.

Devine said he felt the criticism was justified after watching two rookies misplay fly balls, Segelan and shortstop Julio Gotay —display what he called non-chalance in the field.

Gotay, one of the club's better prospects, played second base for Winnipeg last season; Ensegian was formerly with Miami Marlins in the International League.

CITES THEIR FAULTS



Devine singled out the pair because he said:

Ensegian had eased into a fly-ball single that permitted a Chicago runner to go from first to third in the sixth inning;

Gotay had only jogged to first after grounding to third baseman Lou Skizas, who fumbled for a ninth-inning error.

While the Cards were losing to Chicago, New York Yanks were being beaten by Kansas City Athletics for the third straight day, 4-2. Cincinnati-Redlegs shut out Philadelphia Phillies 5-0, Los Angeles Dodgers trounced Milwaukee Braves 8-3, Baltimore Orioles edged Washington Senators 9-8 in 11 innings, Chicago Cubs lashed Boston 11-4, Pittsburgh Pirates squeezed by Detroit Tigers 6-5 and San Francisco Giants downed Cleveland Indians 7-5.

Southpaw Billy Pierce and Bob Shaw combined on a six-hitter to defeat the Cards. Bill White hom-

Hull Scores First Cup Goal In Chicago's 3-1 Victory; Mahovlich Is New Leaf Hero

CHICAGO (CP)—A red-hot netminder and a pair of light-scoring utility forwards have put Chicago Black Hawks right back in the thick of the battle for the Stanley Cup.

The upstarting Hawks, skating as if the devil were on their heels, beat the vaunted Montreal Canadiens 3-1 Tuesday night before a near-record playoff crowd of 17,338 in Chicago Stadium to square their best-of-seven semi-final 2-2.

The teams headed back to Montreal today for the fifth game, set for Thursday night.

Rudy Pilous was saying, "If we can win in Montreal, I think we can take the silverware."

BLAKE GRIM

Montreal coach Toe Blake, whose strategy of pulling netminder Jacques Plante in the game's dying moments backfired for the second consecutive game, said grimly, "Both teams were checking hard . . . I guess the Black Hawks checked a little harder than we did."

As on Saturday when Hawks won 4-2 after losing the first two games in Montreal, the man who hoisted Black Hawks' petard was Glen Skov, the penalty-killing centre who scored into an empty net at 19:55 to clinch the Chicago win. Skov scored at 19:55 Saturday under the same circumstances.

TWO HEROES

But the real heroes of the game were left winger Lorne Ferguson, who scored the third-period goal that broke a 1-1 deadlock, and goalie Blake's desperate manoeuvres. Ferguson, a converted defenceman Glen Hall who time and again stopped Canadiens' most potent shots-on-goal, scored the only shot the winners 31-21.

The first Chicago goal, which gave them a 1-0 lead after Montreal had gone ahead on Marcel Bonin's deflected shot at 11:45, was Bobby Hull. It was his first in Stanley Cup play and the youth-ful centre barely grabbed the puck from the referee.

For both Skov and Ferguson it was the second goal of this playoff. The former got only three goals during the regular season and Ferguson had only seven. Earl Balfour, who pairs with Skov on penalty-killing chores, collected assists on both goals.

Chicago started more cautiously than in their brushing win Saturday and when defenceman Jack Evans took a penalty at 4:04 the Canadiens iced their fearsome power-play.

PAID OFF

It paid off just 29 seconds later when Bonin deflected Bernie Geoffrion's shot past Hall.

The penalty box was a busy spot in the middle section of the period but both Hall and Canadiens' goalie Plante were brilliant with the pressure on. The veteran Hall was particularly smashing on three consecutive close-in drives by Geoffrion.

At 18:08 Hull took Eric Nesterenko's pass and tucked the puck into the corner of the net to tie the score.

The second period was scoreless but the teams set a terrific scoring pace.

At 13:26 of the third, after two of the same style of play Ferguson blasted a 15-footer past Plante and the crowd went wild. They were still cheering when Skov put the puck square in the middle of the net.

LACKED CENTRES

Canadiens played without centres Phil Goyette and Jean Beliveau. Beliveau was put out Saturday, perhaps for the rest of the playoffs, when he suffered a spinal injury when checked by Skov. Goyette was out in the first game of the series. To replace Beliveau Canadiens called up 36-year-old Ralph Backstrom from Montreal Royals of the Quebec Hockey League.

Blake has had expected to play without Elmer (Moose) Vasko, the gigantic defenceman, whose trick shoulder popped out Saturday, got back in the ninth.

"Maybe we're just coming into our own right now," shouted a happy Rudy Pilous.

MUST WIN ANYWAY

"We still have to win one in Montreal and if we do that, I think we can take the silverware," continued the Black Hawk coach.

Lorne Ferguson who scored the winning goal is a 6-foot goaltender Glen Hall were in for back-stagging.

"You have to have good goaltending to win the Stanley Cup," said Pilous, "and we had it tonight. But any team that beats a club as great as the Canadiens must have everyone skate hard and play hockey."

In a subdued Montreal dressing room Canadiens Toe Blake said it was "anybody's game."

"We expected tough resistance from Chicago from the start and we got it," said Blake.

Results at Peewee Tourney

GODERICH (CP)—The Young Canada Week peewee hockey tournament will mark the 500th game in its 10-year history today when Owen Sound meets Brampton.

Tuesday's Milverton - Seaforth game was a battle to the final whistle with each team having a shots on goal. Bobby Cosp, with less than two minutes left, gave Milverton the 4-3 victory.

Forest had a double win, a frustrating night. They outshot St. Mary's by a wide margin, but lost 6-3.

Mountsfield took a short-lived 1-0 lead in the first period, but Georgetown came back with four goals without a reply. When the smoke cleared, Georgetown had the game salted away 8-3.

Forest had a double victory in its C series.

Forest Milverton, then Southampton fell to Forest by identical scores of 5-3.

SENIORS SQUEEZES BY

Elmira, which took the C series two years ago, fell to Exeter 3-2 in overtime. It ended 3-3. Elmira picked up the game on a goal by Ron Mueller. Both sides all ties except in the championship round — coming out ahead 1-0.

Goderich Lions came out on top in the opening team scoreless. In a second game, Markham came back with a rush to tie St. Mary's 2-2 and win 4-3 on a shots on goal.

Chatsburg showed too much power for Waterloo and rang up a 7-3 victory. Guelph scored three third-period goals to edge Chatham 4-3 in the two A series games.

Phils No Last-Place Club Says Manager Eddie Sawyer

By JOE REICHLER

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Manager Eddie Sawyer said, "We need a Don't mention last place to Eddie Sawyer. The likable Philadelphia manager has declared these two words taboo in the Phillies' camp.

"We're definitely not a last-place club," Sawyer said. "We're greatly improved over last year. We've made several changes but the biggest change has been in our attitude. I think the biggest thing we've accomplished is getting rid of the losing complex. That alone makes us not a last-place club."

The Phillies have made three important trades that should help the club emerge from the cellar. One gave them a second baseman, who may rank as one of the best defensive infielders in the league. He is George (Sparky) Anderson, formerly of Montreal. The second brought a new battery, pitcher Ruben Gomez and catcher Valmy Thomas, from San Francisco.

"I've got to like that deal," Harry Anderson, the regular left fielder, gives every indication of being one of the top home run and RBI men in the Pirates' this year. Richie Ashburn, the National League batting champion, again will be centre fielder with Wally Post in right. Bob Bowman and pinch hitter Dave Philley are the outfield alternates.

The infield shapes up with Ed Bouchee at first, Anderson at second, Chico Fernandez at short and either Gene Freese or Willie Jones at third.

Sawyer has four catchers and doesn't yet know which three will stick. They should rate in this order: 1. Thomas; 2. Jim Bolger; 3. Carl Sawatski; 4. Rookie Jim Coker.

GONZALES TIES HOAD

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Pancho Gonzales turned back Australia's Mal Anderson 6-4, 8-6 Tuesday night and pulled even with Lew Hoad in the over-all standings of the professional tennis tour. Hoad defeated Ken Rosewall for the second consecutive evening, losing to fellow Australian Ashley Cooper 6-4, 6-2. This gave both Gonzales and Hoad a record of 16-7, although Hoad still leads in money won, $10,835 to $10,250 for Gonzales.

GODERICH (CP) — If Morley Meyers, 19, of Winnipeg had a motto it would probably be "have whistle, will travel." Meyers is a hockey referee and he is here for the fourth straight year to referee games in the Young Canada Week peewee hockey tournament. He pays his own way and doesn't receive a cent. None of more than a dozen referees at the tournament is paid. Rozz said Tuesday: "I like the hockey here. They are doing a wonderful thing to help minor hockey."

Deputy Sheriff Will Coach Sarnia Bears

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — In a few years a man shorter than five-foot-10 will be an oddity in baseline golf, veteran professional Henry Picard says.

"We are entering an era of giants in all sports," the pro from the Canterbury Club in Cleveland added. "The accent is on power. Everything is being done for the big man.

"I believe in 10 or 15 years a man under six feet will be under a severe handicap in golf and a man under 5-10 will be almost non-existent in the major tournaments."

Picard said Tuesday he foresaw the day that golf greatness might be measured in terms of muscle and brawn.

"There's no once a day that the tall man was considered too awkward to play the game," he said. "But now they are making longer clubs to fit and a fellow like George Bayer (6-3 and 240) has all the advantage in the world.

"Most men of the title squirrel match him off the tee and ultimately on the scoreboard."

Picard said golf merely was following the trend of other sports.

"In basketball you have to be almost seven feet. In football, how many men do you see under six feet?

"And milers such as Roger Bannister, John Landy and Herb Elliott. They are tall men with long easy strides. The little guy with the churning legs hasn't a chance. They just lope past him."

Red Berenson Scores Three For Flin Flon

FLIN FLON, Man. (CP)—Controversial Red Berenson scored three goals as Flin Flon Bombers trounced Edmonton Oil Kings 8-3 here Tuesday night in the Western Canada semi-final Memorial Cup playoffs.

The win put the Flin Flon, Saskatchewan champions, a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series. This is Edmonton Thursday.

Berenson was picked up as a replacement by Bombers for the interprovincial playoffs. Oil Kings have protested against the use of Berenson who played for the Belleville club in the world hockey championships.

Berenson also counted three times as Flin Flon took the opening game Monday 6-3.

Phillies Get Braves' Conley In Player Deal

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday traded catcher Stan Lopata and infielders Ted Kazanski and Johnny O'Brien to Milwaukee Braves for pitcher Gene Conley, shortstop Joe Koppe and infielder - outfielder Harry Hanebrink.

Lopata, 33-year-old distance-swinging righthanded hitter, slumped last season. He batted .248 in 92 games. His home run output dipped to nine and he had only 33 runs batted in. He had been with the Phils 11 seasons and owns a .257 lifetime average.

Kazanski, 25, is a utility infielder whose lifetime mark with the Phils is .217. Last season, his sixth in the majors, he hit .226.

O'Brien was drafted by Philadelphia in the off-season after dividing the 1958 campaign with Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Rochester of the International League. The 25-year-old righthanded batter and shortstop has been used at second base, shortstop and as a pitcher.

Conley's best season with the Braves was 1954, his rookie year. The 6-foot-7 - old righthander posted a 1-4 won-lost record and a 2.97 earned-run average. His 6-0 mark last season made his lifetime won-lost slate 43-43.

Koppe, a 37-year-old shortstop, has spent most of his career in the Milwaukee farm system. Hanebrink, 31, batted .188 in 65 games with Milwaukee last season.

Don Johnson 'Hooked' for Drunk Driving

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—Florida state pelvisman Hugh Pennel said he hooked Don Johnson, 32, a Toronto Maple Leafs pitcher, on a charge of driving while intoxicated when the pitcher turned over four times Tuesday night.

Pennel said he administered first aid for a cut on the back of Johnson's head, but Johnson refused further treatment.

The pro said the accident occurred as he pursued the speeding car.

The Leafs of the International League are training at Fort Pierce. Johnson had pitched well in spring training and was expected to hurl when the Leafs open the season in Havana.

Eilers, Toronto Cage Winners

CALGARY (CP) — Vancouver Eilers and Toronto Teamsters took important victories Tuesday in their pursuit of the Canadian women's basketball championship.

Eilers, defending champions, had trouble with Saskatoon Aces but scored seven points in the last 30 seconds for a 53-48 victory.

Toronto used fast-breaking offence to win a 61-47 win over Calgary Maxwells, last year's runners-up.

Play in the five - day round robin tournament continues tonight with Montreal Unity Boys' Club playing Saskatoon and Calgary meeting Winnipeg Eilers.

The Montreal team is a group of girls sponsored by the boys' club.

Hull Bows To Miramichi

HULL, Que. (CP) — Miramichi Beavers received standout performances from Charlie MacTavish as they edged Hull Legion 3-2 Tuesday night to deadlock their Eastern Canada Allan Cup semi-final at one game apiece.

Third game of the best-of-five series is scheduled for Hull Wednesday night. Winner may meet either Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen or Whitby Dunlops in the eastern final.

Quebec Hockey

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Royals rapped Trois-Rivieres Lions 6-2 Tuesday night to take a 2-1 lead in their best-of-nine Quebec Hockey League final.

Royals took a 3-1 lead in the first period and increased it to 5-2 in the second with rookie Bill Sutherland and Lulu Denis getting two goals apiece. Sutherland-Denis and Skippy Burchell picked up the other Montreal markers while Matt Ravlich and Bob Sabourin scored for Trois-Rivieres.

FIRST CRICKET LOSS

LAHORE, Pakistan (Reuters) — The West Indies suffered its first cricket test match defeat on Pakistan in its own country by winning the third and final test by an innings and 156 runs Tuesday. The Pakistan batsmen were routed at 84 for three, were trapped on a drying pitch by off-spin bowler Sonny Ramadhin and Alf Gibbs, and were all out for 104.

TRIBS ROSTER

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Manager Bob Scheffing trimmed four players from San Francisco Giants' roster Tuesday. Don Rysman, righthanded pitcher and John Fitzgerald, lefthander, were optioned to Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League, along with first baseman Willie McCovey. Frank Sullivan, righthanded pitcher, was optioned to Toronto of the International League.

DODGERS CUT

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Four more Dodgers were cut Tuesday as the big league roster was reduced to 33 players. Pitcher Ed Roebuck and rookie infielder Gene Wallace were optioned to St. Paul. Pitcher Rene Valdes was returned to Montreal. Earl Robinson, a third base prospect, also will play with St. Paul this season.

Shore Puts Springfield on Sales Block

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The owner of Springfield Indians is believed to have placed the club's American Hockey League franchise on sale for $260,000, the Harrisburg Evening News says.

The newspaper said that owner Eddie Shore would like to drop the Massachusetts club's franchise in order to obtain a Western League franchise in either San Francisco or Los Angeles, where attempts have been made to attract the sport.

Both New York Rangers and Toronto Maple Leafs are interested in purchasing Springfield's franchise, the News said.

One of the indications of Shore's impending move was to get Ralph Backstrom, centre of top AHL or Western League calibre, on waivers, according to The News.

Cut-N-Shooter Fights Tonight

DALLAS (AP) — Roy Harris of Houston, Texas, tonight for the third fight since his failure to gain a pro heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson. Harris meets light heavyweight Don Fullmer.

The speedy young man from Cut and Shoot, Texas, rated seventh, hopes to win decisively and get another title match.

The 13-round will be nationally televised and will be for the Texas heavyweight championship which Harris has held for several years.

Entering Era Of Giants In All Sports

BARRIE (CP) — The deputy sheriff from Allegheny County has promised that the 1959 Barrie Golden Bears team will be a "running ball club" with top conditioning.

Fran Rogel, 31-year - old ex-Hamilton Tiger - Cat fullback, hired as head coach to lead the Bears into OHFU competition this year, showed the football club executive his deputy sheriff's badge which he has held for five years, while making a few statements about Canadian football.

"I don't think," said former fullback with Pittsburgh Steelers, "that Canadian boys get started in time. American boys get the fundamentals while in grade school, then when they come up to here."

Rogel gestured with an outstretched arm in the downtown office of club president Harold Zierler.

Rogel also said he liked unlimited blocking.

Mr. Rogel owns a 103-acre farm near Bakerstown, Penn., and is completing post-graduate studies as a teacher.

So What! It Helped The Hawks

CHICAGO (CP) — President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League says there has been some misconception about the unsigned cheques for $2,350 handed over to each player on the Chicago Black Hawks by Hawk president Jim Norris.

The stunt got plenty of publicity in Chicago newspapers Saturday before Hawks scored a 4-2 win over Montreal Canadiens and trimmed Canadiens' lead to 2-1 on games in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final.

The cheques were reported to be an incentive for Hawks to go on to the Stanley Cup title. If the Hawks should become champions, Norris would sign the cheques — representing the amount they will win if they go the distance.

"It would simply be the money that would be coming to them anyway and would not be incentive money in the form of a bonus," said Campbell. "The impression has got around that Norris was matching the amount the Hawks would win. This isn't correct."

Western Hockey

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS
Vancouver Canucks, defending Western Hockey League champions, have taken the first step towards retaining the crown.

In a fight-studded tilt Tuesday night they whipped Spokane Flyers 5-2 to win the best-of-five round division semi - final 3-1. They now meet Seattle Totems in the division's best-of-seven final starting at Seattle Friday.

Little Walt Peacosh scored what proved to be the winner early in the third period.

The game was highlighted by a wild brawl between Canucks' tough Ron Hutchinson and Flyers' Ron McBride, and a wicked second-period fight between Vancouver rookie Mel Pearson and Al Johnson of Spokane. All received majors.

AN EXPLANATION
OF
YOUR 1959 MILL RATE

HEREWITH IS PUBLISHED A STATEMENT OF THE ESTIMATED RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES OF THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE FOR THE YEAR 1959, AS COMPARED WITH THE 1958

FOR THE INFORMATION OF THE TAXPAYER

SO THAT YOU MAY SEE FOR YOURSELF HOW YOUR MILL RATE IS ARRIVED AT. FURTHER DETAILED INFORMATION IS AVAILABLE ON ANY ITEM HEREIN UPON REQUEST FROM YOUR MAYOR, YOUR ALDERMAN OR YOUR CITY MANAGER.

FOOTNOTE 1

The large increase in anticipated revenue is accounted for by our having the taxable assessment on the properties belonging to the Ontario Hydro which were formerly in the Township of Thurlow. These include the Regional Office Building at the corner of Dundas Street East and Herchimer Avenue and the substation and houses on Centre Street.

FOOTNOTE 2

This money represents the taxation on houses owned by the Ontario Provincial Police and the Ontario School for the Deaf which are separately taxable and shown in this manner for the first time.

FOOTNOTE 3

A reduction here is expected because the speed trap and the fines which resulted therefrom are no longer recognized; as they formerly were, in court and accordingly it is expected that our fine revenue will be lower this year.

FOOTNOTE 4

This revenue is derived from taxation assessment on buildings which are made ready for occupancy during the course of the calendar year and in anticipation of the large building program envisioned this year in Belleville, we expect our revenue from this source to be double that of last year.

FOOTNOTE 5

The increase here reflects the anticipated increased grants from the Department of Highways as their share of road maintenance in the city resulting from the greatly increased mileage on streets now within the city limits and it also reflects the expectation of a 50% grant on approved expenditures in the new sections of the city as compared with the 33 1/3% received on approved expenditures in the old city.

FOOTNOTE 6

The Federal and Provincial Government pay 80% of approved expenditures to relief recipients. We have allowed an extra $10,000.00 for non-sharable cases which represents about 10% of the total cases the Department administers each year.

FOOTNOTE 7

This represents a new grant to be received for the first time this year against the cost of maintaining indigents in nursing homes following their release from hospital.

FOOTNOTE 8

The grant being received this year is a special "one-time" grant to assist the city in the cost of changing over from paying the statutory per diem rate which was paid in other years for city indigents under hospital care and who will now be covered under the provisions of the Ontario Hospital Services Commision Act. The provisions of this act have made it possible for us to reduce very considerably our estimated expense on behalf of indigents in hospital care. Our hospitalization expense also provides for the city's share of maintaining city patients in the County Home.

FOOTNOTE 9

The sewers which were formerly rented to residents of the Township of Thurlow are now in the city limits and of course are maintained by the Public Works Department and no rental will henceforth be received.

FOOTNOTE 10

An active Civil Defence Committee has been appointed and is functioning this year and the Committee has authorized the purchase of several desirable pieces of equipment for their work. Seventy-five percent of this expense is refundable from the Federal and Provincial Governments.

FOOTNOTE 11

Last year was the final year of making use of the surplus which had accrued to the benefit of the high school area when the area board was formed in 1953. The special school funds which remain represent the school board's share of supplementary roll assessments.

FOOTNOTE 12

The increases here allow for a start being made on a reassessment program for the city which is expected to be carried out over a three year period. It also allows for the increased expense incurred by the city in the running of the annual elections due to the increased number of polling subdivisions and the staff required to man these polls.

FOOTNOTE 13

Virtually all of the increase in this Department is made up of higher salaries to municipal employees and the additional staff required to maintain the civic administration. Of the total of $151,369.00 some $320,524.00 has been budgeted for salaries. The balance covers such things as telephone, stationery, postage, advertising workmen's compensation, registry office fees, unemployment insurance, association memberships, car allowances, etc.

FOOTNOTE 14

Provision has been made in this Department for a 5% increase to the hourly-rated public works employees and for some $40,000.00 worth of new equipment in accordance with the yearly equipment replacement program adopted by the Council last year. The balance represents the funds required to carry out the work of this Department in the greatly increased road, sidewalk, sewer establishment which now lie within the city limits. It might be pointed out that this sum is approximately $35,000.00 less than the second request of the Department and approximately $100,000.00 less than the first estimate prepared by the Department.

FOOTNOTE 15

The increase here allows for an across-the-board increase to every member of the Department and for the addition of two extra men to the Department. It also allows for the trade-in of the chief's car which is due for replacement this year.

FOOTNOTE 16

The large increase here allows for the taking on of several new constables, five of whom are required to effect the 40 hour week which commenced for the members of the Department on February 15th. It also allows for a gradual increase in staff to the recommended requirement of one constable for every 750 population AND it provides for the purchase of two additional police cruisers to properly cover the city, all of which has been ordered by the Police Commission.

FOOTNOTE 17

The increase here allows for the extra staff taken on by the Department which is now at full strength for the first time in several years.

FOOTNOTE 18

The Industrial Commission has engaged the services of an Industrial Commissioner who will combine this work with the supervisory duties of Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. He is expected to spend at least ¾ of his time on industrial promotion and his background indicates that he is well qualified for this work. The Council recognize the urgency of new assessment as the chief means we have available to maintain a steady mill rate. Hence we intend to support the Industrial Commission in its efforts to make this department of municipal government much more in evidence than it has been in past years.

FOOTNOTE 19

The Parks Board received by statute one mill for the operation and maintenance of our municipal parks. The difference from last year represents the increased assesment and the resultant value of one mill.

FOOTNOTE 20

The Library Board received $1.30 per capita and the increased population provides the extra revenue for the Board in this Department. In addition, we have included the sum of $1,215.00 which the Board will require, over and above its debenture issue, to build the addition to the Library.

FOOTNOTE 21

Here is the complete list of civic organizations assisted by municipal taxation. Quinte Assoc. for Retarded Children, $500.00; C.N.I.B., $700.00; Belleville Bands $7,300; V.O.N., $3,500.00; Kiwanis Club, $667.70; Hastings County T.B. Assoc., $300.00; Chamber of Commerce, $1,000.00; Film Board, $200.00; Children's Aid, Society, $2,000.00; Y.M.C.A., $1,706.10; Sea Cadets, $184.26; Canadian Legion, $200.00; Central Ont. Cheesemakers Assoc., $300.00; Belleville Agricultural Society, $450.00; Albert College, $5,000.00; Army and Navy Vets, $200.00; Four school year books, $112.00; C.N.E. Recreation Assoc., $50.00; Santa Claus Parade, $300.00.

FOOTNOTE 22

The large increase here allows for the fees of our Planning Consultants who are preparing our planning and zoning by-law for the enlarged City of Belleville. They have also been engaged to go over the old city with a view to bringing it into conformance with the planning being done in the new parts of the City. These fees represent approximately ⅓ of this entire budget. The balance is largely devoted to the work of the Moira River Conservation Authority.

FOOTNOTE 23

The chief reasons for the increase in this Department are the provision of a traffic light at the intersection of North Front and College Streets, the increased cost of street lighting resulting from the larger number of light units now within the city limits and the provision of an increase in salary to the school guards of the city.

FOOTNOTE 24

Practically all of the increase in this Department allows for the purchase of a new bulldozer in connection with the sanitary land fill project. This is the final year of the existing garbage collection contract but Council made no additional allowance to the contractor for his increased expense resulting from annexation as the contract clearly stipulated that any such action of annexation by the city would not affect the tender price. In all likelihood the collection of garbage and its disposal will be much more costly commencing next year.

FOOTNOTE 25

Many items, most of them uncontrollable, contributed to the deficit which accumulated last year. The City Manager has prepared a break-down listing some 30 items which account for this deficit and the list is available to any taxpayer upon request.

FOOTNOTE 26

This represents the monies received by the Public School Board and the Separate School Board to operate and maintain the elementary schools of the city exclusive of Provincial grants. Both Boards have additional schools to operate this year as a result of annexation and in addition, they have inherited certain debenture charges on the buildings, hence, their requirement for approximately 30% more money than that required last year.

FOOTNOTE 27

This represents the city's share of secondary school education costs as determined by our proportion of the total assessment of the area divided into the total cost. Our percentage has increased over the previous year by some 12% as a result of annexation and these figures allow for this and allow for a teaching staff in the new Moira Secondary School effective September 1st and for the higher salary range for teachers which has been approved by the Board. It is interesting to note that the debenture charges have been reduced and that the Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School is now fully paid for.

FOOTNOTE 28

This sum allows for the renovation of the present building on the municipal parking lot on Pinnacle Street into offices for the Board of Health and the Recreation Commission. The work on this building should be finished within the next month when it will be officially opened and become available for the use of our citizens.

Peiping Declares Dalai Lama Has Fled Into India

New Fighting Flares In Vicinity of Lhasa

LONDON (AP)—Peiping radio declared today Tibet's Dalai Lama has taken refuge in India.

The broadcast, quoting the New China News Agency, said the Dalai Lama left Tibet "under duress by the rebellious elements."

It added that he and his party "arrived in India on March 31" and that by order of the Indian government police authorities had been sent to meet him.

The place of his reported arrival into India was not stated.

There has been no definite word on the fate of the Dalai Lama since fighting broke out between Tibetans and Chinese Communist occupation forces on March 20.

But unofficial reports said the 24-year-old spiritual and political leader of his mountaintop country was with rebel forces in southern Tibet and perhaps trying to reach Assam in India.

KALIMPONG, India (Reuters)—Fighting in Tibet has flared up again between Communist Chinese forces and pockets of anti-Communist Khamba tribesmen about 25 miles south of Lhasa, usually reliable sources said today.

The fighting began at noon Wednesday as the Communists trained heavy guns on the rebels for the first time since the rebellion began.

Reports of the fighting appeared in Nationalist Chinese government sources in Taipei claimed Khamba tribesmen had rallied 300,000 men and were preparing to retake the capital city of Lhasa, which they overran on March 20.

The Nationalist sources said the Khamba force was concentrated along the border of Tibet and the Chinese province of Sikang "ready to march on Lhasa."

DROPPING SUPPLIES

Local press reports in Taipei also said Nationalist airplanes dropping of supplies to Tibetan rebels had been "progressing satisfactorily."

Sources here said the new combatants appeared to have got the start of an all-out Chinese attempt to put down the rebellion.

The sources also said Chinese fighter planes were patrolling rebel-held southeast Tibet in an attempt to locate the Dalai Lama, Tibet's divine ruler, as he attempted to escape with members of his family and followers to the countryside in search of the Dalai Lama.

These sources discounted reports that the godking might already have left the safety of Bhutan state, which has treaty relations with India.

The sources said the rebels now are in full control of a 30,000-square-mile area.

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Indian Defence Ministry admitted today that Kalimpong, the Indian frontier post near Tibet, is a nest of spies and counter-spies and that agents are European, Asian, Communist and non-Communist.

But he again rejected Communist charges that Kalimpong is the centre of the Tibetan revolt. Speaking in Parliament, he said: "In spite of the presence of people in Kalimpong to whom the Chinese government might object because they are opposed to Chinese policy and of all kinds of other people indulging in espionage and counter - espionage, I cannot conceive how their activities could be construed into a statement that Kalimpong was the commanding centre of the Tibetan rebellion."

He also said it may have been "completely unfair" for the Communist Chinese Embassy here to publish a pamphlet in Peiping Peoples Daily editorial describing Kalimpong as the rebellion's centre — after he himself had refuted the charges.

While "it may not be the right thing to do", Nehru said, "there is no question of a breach of diplomatic privilege."

Nehru spoke after Thursday's meeting in Parliament.

It was the first real rift in India's five years of friendly relations with Communist China.

A spokesman for Prime Minister Nehru's office said the Communist Chinese Embassy here of "highly improper" behaviour after the Government circulated charges that the Indian frontier town of Kalimpong served as a centre for launching an anti-Communist revolt in Tibet.

Mrs. Lakshmi Menon, deputy external affairs minister, speaking in Nehru's absence, declared amid cheers from all except Communist members that the Chinese Embassy was guilty of "highly improper" behavior in circulating the charge after it had been denied by Nehru this week.

"Prime Minister has her unanimity and honesty have been challenged and I take very strong exception to it", she said.

The uproar in the lower house was matched by Nationalist Indian Communist members for denouncing the Chinese charges concerning Kalimpong.

Communist and non-communist members shouted at one another for about 10 minutes. They quietened down to faithfully before the speaker closed the debate pending Nehru's return today from Europe via Moscow.

After the shouting died down, the Chinese Embassy's action was "likely to bring about unfriendly relations between the two countries which exist between India and China".

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: A vigorous early spring storm is moving rapidly across Ontario this morning. As this storm moved through Southern Ontario Wednesday night rainfalls in excess of one inch occurred in the Windsor area and some unfortunates in central Ontario found half a foot of new snow on the ground this morning.

Although cooler overnight temperatures are expected tonight a new storm will be moving over Lake Superior early Friday.

END OF ANTI-H-BOMB MARCH — Crowds of anti-H-bomb marchers move toward London's Trafalgar Square March 30. About 8,000 people participated in this final rally which ended four-day, 50-mile trek by smaller groups who came from Aldermaston Atomic Weapons Research Centre in Berkshire. AVRO EXPERTS ARE SCATTERING TO U.S., BRITAIN

Few Technicians Find Jobs in Canada

TORONTO (CP) — It was a $100-a-day advertisement, obviously addressed to aircraft engineers and scientists laid off at the A. V. Roe plants at suburban Malton:

"The Columbus division of North American Aviation Inc. has a team of their engineering management of their engineering trade-in-specialists before the plant is rapidly expanding engineering department."

It got 75 replies in the first three hours.

Thus it appears that while Avro and government officials look for a substitute for the Arrow interceptor program cancelled by Ottawa Feb. 20, foreign firms are taking a heavy toll of the elite force of 2,500 engineers and scientists built up by Avro since 1945.

"The raiding has been constant — all you have to do is look at the advertisements in Toronto newspapers", says Peter Podgers, file business agent of the Inter-

Canadian on Queen's Staff Starts Dry Run of Tour With Gen. Graham

OTTAWA (CP)— A dry run of the Queen's forthcoming tour of Canada starts next week.

Maurice Butler, Canadian-born Canadian who became the first person from outside the United Kingdom to be made Mayor of Buckingham Palace staff, will play the role of the Queen Bee.

His escort will be Lt.-Gen. Howard D. Graham, commissioner of the Royal Tour.

Mr. Butler, chosen just a year ago by the Queen to be her assistant press secretary, arrives in Ottawa Sunday.

After that Monday and Tuesday with Gen. Graham, he begins a 12,000-mile route to be followed by Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip on their six-week coast-to-coast visit.

Mr. Butler said today the dry run will take 10 days, after which Mr. Butler will return to London to advise the Queen of preparations that have been made and to receive any suggestions for changes.

A spokesman for Royal Tour headquarters said there will not likely by an interim listing of the visit this week as expected earlier. Although changes in stopping places had been made since a preliminary itinerary was announced January 20, it now was expected there would be no new itinerary until a complete program could be issued, perhaps in mid-May.

Mr. Butler and Gen. Graham will visit most of the seven big stopping places in the itinerary and discuss program plans with local and provincial royal tour committees.

Their objective, in part, will be to ensure programs planned follow the tour themes of industry, of letting the public see their monarch, and of making the tour as restful and interesting as possible for the royal party.

Mr. Butler is a 35-year-old former assistant to the secretary of Governor-General Massey. The Queen selected him for his present job when she visited Ottawa in 1957.

Purpose of his appointment was to help arrange last summer's visit of Princess Margaret to the British Columbia centennial and this summer's tour after which his appointment is terminated.

Seek Man Who Got $487,000 To Invest for Anti-Red Body

VICTORIA (CP) — British Columbia brokerage superintendent J. Stewart Smith flies to Vancouver today to confer with police about a $500,000 fund-raising deal to finance extinction of gangs on the sands of the Fraser River, a scheme which never paid off.

The charges have been laid in the case.

Informants here said the whole case appears to hinge on what whereat outs of 68-year-old James Herris McKee, in whose name about $487,000 was deposited in trust to invest as he saw fit, mainly for right-wing Ontario-based Freedom Foundation.

The Freedom Foundation was set up to combat communism. Profits from the gold-mining ventures to be used to build a radio station near Prince George, B.C. which was to be beamed at Communist China.

Most of the money was invested by Baptists in Toronto and Vancouver. It was loaned on a one-year promissory note basis and under a clause in the B.C. Security Frauds Prevention Act "a trade in negotiable bills of exchange or promissory notes or other commercial paper maturing not more than one year from the date of issue" is exempt from prosecution.

Records in the provincial securities office show McKee spent money on eight different ventures in B.C. to release from the black sands of the Fraser by a flotation process. The records also show that only some $200 was left in his trust account as of May 31, 1958 and apparently none of the gold mining ventures were successful.

McKee has been missing from his Vancouver headquarters for some months. Authorities here believed that he may be in California.

Insp. Leslie Millin, a director of the Freedom Foundation, arrived here Tuesday to talk to the superintendent of brokers, accompanied by his lawyer. He was non-communicative when questioned by reporters.

Work on the first new gold mining project was suspended about six weeks ago.

About $410,000 was reported collected in the Toronto area by the Red-Chain of Strikes Plot Said Uncovered in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—Informed sources said today that investigation of the Easter rail strike has uncovered a Communist plot to upset Mexico's economy with a chain of strikes in key industries.

The Mexican government has linked two Soviet embassy officials with the plot and ordered them to get out of the country in 72 hours.

A reliable Mexican source said the Soviet embassy put some 1,000,000 pesos—about $80,000—to strike agitators, but secret police trailing a leftist union leader seized the cash.

Train service is gradually getting back to normal, but there still are pockets of resistance.

Jorge Torres, a non-commissioned officer in the army commander of the 4th military zone, in Jalapa, an important rail junction 150 miles east of Mexico City, more than 300 women demonstrated Wednesday for the release of Demetrio Vallejo, jailed head of the railway workers union.

Vallejo was rounded up with an estimated 3,000 other union leaders and rail workers when the government moved to break the strike. Most of the others have been freed.

Officials said confessions show that the rail strike was to have been only the beginning of a daily a staff of six.

Eisenhower States West Has Proposals To Make On Arms, Germany, Space

'Concrete and Realistic' Programs Will Be Presented to Russians

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told the North Atlantic council today that the Western powers intend to make "concrete and realistic proposals" to Russia for agreements on disarmament, Germany, European security and outer space.

At the same time he said the next need for world peace is that the Communists abandon their "purpose of world domination."

In a speech prepared for the opening session of the 10th anniversary meeting of the 15-nation alliance, Eisenhower said that though they strive for settlement, the free nations must expect to live in an atmosphere of tension and conflict with Russia for years.

To meet that test successfully, he declared, the free world's Communist world is unity, "the very life blood of NATO," he said.

The speech was released to the press prior to delivery.

BRIEF REFERENCE

Eisenhower, opening the ceremonial session of the Western defence organization's 15 - nation council meeting, referred only briefly to the Berlin crisis.

He said the West has open door to Berlin — even to those whose creed is world domination — but there must be progress and negotiations with the Soviet Union. We use regular diplomatic channels, foreign ministers committees, organs of the United Nations, and occasional meetings of responsible political leaders. No means are overlooked that yield promise of constructive results. . . .

"Although we shall always avoid substituting illusions for reality, we shall continue to strive for a more general and fair reaching, but always practical, agreement of differences with the Soviets."

TO DISCUSS BERLIN THREAT

The first business session will be held in the afternoon to discuss the Soviet threat to Berlin and learn the general lines which Britain, the United States, West Germany and France have developed for meeting it.

Christian A. Herter, secretary-general of the defence organization, at a press conference Wednesday night summed up the theme of the sessions insofar as the United States is concerned —emphasizing the grave dangers which Berlin holds for the West.

"We have a very well known word for a clear - cut confrontation of the alliance and of the West."

NEGOTIATION

How to avoid a military showdown and at the same time prevent the Soviets from using its diplomatic victory with their pressures on Berlin will be among the U.S., British, French and West German foreign ministers here for the three days.

They concluded their discussions on negotiating procedure and strategy Wednesday night. Informants reported that they had talked out all their differences over how to deal with the Russians at a Big Four ministers conference at Geneva in

BERLIN (AP) — Responsible informants today said the United States will continue dispatching high-flying transports to West Berlin despite Soviet objections. But the time for the next flight remains to be fixed.

A plan to order a second flight by a U.S. Air Force C-130 turboprop Wednesday was reported postponed.

Discussions are under way in Washington on a new date for a flight to test Soviet intentions, the informants said. A C-130B was reported standing-by at an air force base in West Germany, awaiting Washington's go-ahead.

The altitude issue boils up to much more than a squabble over a technicality.

American officials say the U.S. government is determined to preserve every one of its vital access rights to isolated West Berlin. One of these rights, it considered, is to fly into the city over Soviet-occupied territory at any height it sees fit.

But why pick this time to insist on the right—five weeks before the foreign ministers get together in Geneva to discuss the Berlin crisis?

The Soviets know that British commercial turbojets have been flying into West Berlin at altitudes below the 10,000-foot ceiling the Russians have set, although they operate more efficiently at high altitudes just as the American C-130 does.

The explanation for Washington's timing appears to be worry over a possible Communist blockade of West Berlin. This might happen if the Geneva conference parleys fails.

The U.S. may be trying to set a firm precedent for the use of the high-altitude turbojet transports, which are more efficient than the old C-47 and C-54 workhorses of the airlift that broke the 1948-49 blockade.

13 Was Lucky For This Nag And Backers

LONDON (AP) — Horseplayers will be watching Thursday's next race of Hands Off, a steeplechaser.

Whetherby, Yorkshire, Wednesday Hands Off was No. 13 on the race card. His owner, Tom Todrick, was given club badge No. 13 and Hands Off was ridden by Jockey Patrick Hurley, who has 13 letters in their names.

Hands Off won at the near-record British bookies lay to 13-1 — 100-8.

"Thirteen is my lucky number," said Todrick, smiling.

Why will superstitious horseplayers be betting for the horse's next race?

Well, the event was his 12th race at the season.

Priest Enters Narrow Mine Cavern Calmly Talks Man Out of Suicide

SUDBURY (CP) — A 46-year-old Roman Catholic priest went into a narrow cavern 1,200 feet below the surface of a nickel mine here Wednesday and calmly talked a man out of committing himself to pieces.

Officials of nearby Murray Mine said Father Jean Fleckerls, 38, had made good his threat to crawl on a switch bar and set off 2½ sticks of dynamite strapped to his waist, he would have killed himself and a miner and a nearby party of workers.

Father Fleckerls, assistant, of St. Casimir's Church here, was called after the miner, kept fellow workers at bay for several hours with his treat to blow himself up.

The priest, speaking softly in Polish, first shook hands with Fleckerls and asked him his name and why he had not been attending church lately. He persuaded the man to accompany him to the surface and it was only then that he was relieved of his explosive belt.

Fleckerls was taken to nearby Copper Cliff Hospital where he is being held under police guard for psychiatric observation.

The drama started at midnight Tuesday when Fleckerls and his fellow workers were coming off shift. Fleckerls stopped at the change house to get his work gloves and went to look for them.

When he did not return a search was started and he was found eight hours later in the cavern, sitting on a pile of blasting operation.

FULTON SEEKS TO DELAY PARLEY ON RCMP PACTS

Gives Force Shuffle As Reason for Move

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Justice Minister Fulton says he will seek a postponement of this month's scheduled conferences to review the federal - provincial RCMP contracts. He will propose that it be held later this year.

His announcement in a Vancouver interview Wednesday, causes attorneys-general of some of the provinces that lease RCMP services called for speedy clarification of the controversial emergency - reinforcement clause in the contracts.

A dispute over the interpretation of Newfoundland's RCMP agreement led to the resignation of RCMP Commissioner L. H. Nicholson.

SAYS CONTRACT BROKEN

Col. Nicholson said it was a breach of contract when Ottawa failed to provide promised cost for RCMP reinforcements during the province's strife. It also is on this ground that Newfoundland has filed suit against the federal government in the Exchequer Court.

Premier Manning of Alberta protested Thursday that before the general contract - review conference is held, the attorneys-general should have a chance to clarify the reinforcements clause.

In Vancouver, Mr. Fulton said that the general conference was called before the Newfoundland situation arose and added that "as soon as this question arose, we insisted that there should be specific discussions" on the reinforcement clause.

However, he now would write to the attorney-general and seek postponement — a delay in the conference because of the resignation of the RCMP following Col. Nicholson's resignation.

Mr. Fulton did not set a date. There was no immediate comment from the attorneys-general on this proposal.

The RCMP have contracts to police all provinces except Ontario and Quebec, which have their own forces.

CHERRY BLOSSOMS BLOOM IN B.C.

Cherry blossoms on April 1st? It wasn't an April fool's trick which Mrs. Bert Forbes of Wellington, was playing on her neighbors yesterday. The cherry blossoms were for real.

She had received them in the mail from her sister Mrs. Wally Pellatt in South Burnaby, near Vancouver, where apparently spring comes a bit sooner than in Ontario. The bit of cherry bruned was wrapped in brown paper and the blooms were well developed.

Israeli Error Causes Jitters In Arab Lands

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli government sought today to calm war jitters caused by a broadcast implying that Israeli army reserves.

The army said the announcement Wednesday night should have been a routine notice to three reserve units being called for training manoeuvers. But the army said the government radio broadcast it in a way "likely to create panic in the country and misunderstanding abroad."

Neighboring Syria had immediately ordered all military men on leave back to duty and put five army reserve formations on 36-hour notice. Damascus radio said Syria had taken "all necessary measures to defend herself against any emergency" in the wake of the Israeli announcement.

Jordan's higher defence council held a late-night emergency meeting and announced it was taking "all necessary measures to protect the Jordan border and security." The communique, broadcast by the government radio in Amman, did not specify what measures were being taken.

INTERRUPTS DEBATE

Shortly after the Israeli broadcast, which gave the impression of a large-scale mobilization order, Finance Minister Levi Eshkol interrupted a budget debate in parliament to express the government's regret over the misunderstanding.

Premier David Ben-Gurion, who also is Israel's defence minister, met this morning with heads of the armed services. Afterward a spokesman said the "incorrect version of the army chief of staff's order as broadcast corresponds in no way to the decision or original intention of general headquarters."

Ben-Gurion named a special committee to find out who was responsible for the broadcast.

Plan Royal Commission on Rail Problems

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government is looking into railway problems will take the form of a royal commission, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today.

The prime minister, entering the first cabinet meeting since the Commons recessed for Easter said the commission, which he expects the investigation to be completed within a year.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the commission will be set up before the Commons reconvenes next Monday. Mr. Diefenbaker replied:

"It's not far removed, but it wouldn't get just now."

Transport Minister Hees announced last week that the government does not intend to allow any further general freight rate increases and that inquiry is concluded, which he estimated at $30 million a year. Mr. Diefenbaker was asked whether he expected the job could be completed in that time.

HOPE NOT TOO LONG

"We hope that with the information that will be available, from the board of transport commissioners, that it shouldn't be too long," the prime minister said. "I think there is no doubt the report will be available within a year."

Fisher Will Wed Liz in Mexico Within 6 Weeks

By JAMES BACON

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Eddie Fisher said today that he and Elizabeth Taylor will marry in Mexico within the next six weeks.

Wednesday night he had said they would wed in Las Vegas if he could get the consent of his former wife, Debbie Reynolds.

But he added later that he had slight hope of getting Miss Reynolds to agree to a Nevada divorce. She has obtained a California divorce which will not be final for a year.

Fisher said he could get a divorce in Mexico without his former wife's consent.

LEAVING FOR EUROPE

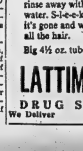
He said Miss Taylor is leaving in May for Europe to make a movie. He is going with her.

"We want to travel as man and wife," he said.

Miss Taylor said Wednesday night she hopes Miss Reynolds will consent to a Nevada decree on her return from movie work in Spain in a few days.

"Debbie very much hurt at first to find out that Eddie and I were in love," said Miss Taylor.

"That is very understandable, but I think the hurt has now left and that she may consent to Eddie getting a divorce in Nevada. What time for me to gain by opposing it?"



Fisher said that he tried to get Debbie's consent to a quick-in-Nevada divorce but was rebuffed. He said that under Nevada law it is necessary to get the consent of both parties in a divorce.

WOULD BE EMBARRASSED

Debbie had said that she wouldn't consent because it would be embarrassing to explain to her two children how their father could have two wives at the same time.

Under a Nevada decree, Fisher and Miss Taylor could not live as man and wife in California until Debbie's decree is final, under penalty of bigamy charges.

Fisher was favorably received at his singing appearance at the Tropicana Hotel Wednesday night. But earlier, pickets appeared before the hotel with signs, one of which read: "Liz, go home!"

Parade Delayed Half an Hour, Train Late

Due to the late arrival of the Montreal train, today's parade honoring the Belleville Mc-Farlands was delayed half an hour.

Late this morning Lt.-Col. Angus Duffy, parade marshal noted that instead of the parade moving off from the north station at 1:45 as originally planned, it would not commence until 2:15.

Time of the parade commencement was set back when it was learned the Montreal train would be late.

Must Strengthen Unity of NATO States Pearson

OTTAWA (CP) — Lester B. Pearson, one of the architects of NATO, warned Wednesday unity and non-military co-operation among the Atlantic nations must be strengthened or the coalition "will go the way of other military alliances."

The Liberal party leader issued his statement in connection with NATO's 10th anniversary meetings starting in Washington Thursday. Mr. Pearson, chief informal affairs minister, signed the NATO treaty for Canada in Washington April 4, 1949, and attended every ministerial meeting up to April, 1957.

Someone Broke The Code of British Crooks

LONDON (AP) — The man who robbed Sir Winston Churchill's house of £10,000 in goods may have been another master crook who broke the code of the crooks.

Scotland Yard men and crime reporters said Wednesday they always believed the elder statesman's house on Hyde Park Gate was protected by some kind of gentlemanly agreement among London criminals.

Wealthy dwellings nearby were pillaged so often that residents came to accept housebreakers as something that came along with mice.

"But somehow no one ever raided the house at No. 28," one policeman mused.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Golds were the only losers as the stock market moved ahead today amid the fastest first hour trading in two weeks.

The 11 a.m. volume was 1,375,000 shares, compared with Wednesday's 881,000 at the same hour. New Kelore was the most active speculative, up 2 cents at 95 cents. Can-Erin lost 4 cents at $1.78. Radiore added 6 cents at $1.66.

Among industrials gains were limited to fractions. General Development dipped 3¼ points at 49 as it continues to react to an announcement by the American Stock Exchange in New York of an investigation into recent selling of the stock. It gave up 4½ points Wednesday. Exchange officials here said there is no investigation of the stock here.

In base metals Hudson Bay added ¼ at 30 and Noranda was up ¼ at 53½. International Nickel however, lost ¼ at 89½.

In golds, Dome and Hollinger lost fractions while Kerr-Addison and McIntyre gained.

Wednesday, industrials were narrowly ahead on the stock market.

Industrials, after gaining more than a point in the first hour, faded somewhat, closing up .40 at 329.09.

Final volume was 4,225,000 shares, slightly less than Tuesday's 4,236,000.

New Kelore was the most active speculative, up 6 cents at 23 on a turnover of 535,000 shares. Moneta Porcupine had the best gain, ahead 17 cents at 81.22.

General Development featured industrials, it traded 12,300 shares, off 4½ at 53¾. The stock reacted to a selloff on the American Stock Exchange in New York where trading in the issue was suspended for an hour as a backlog of sell orders were handled. American exchange officials said they were conducting no special investigation in regard to the stock.

Among other industrials most groups were mixed. Pipelines were easier as Interprovincial lost 1 at 53 and Trans-Canada gave up ¾ at 28⅛.

Most industrial changes were small. Senior mines were the big losers in base metals. Hudson Bay Mining and Geco each lost ½.

In golds Hollinger and Kerr-Addison each lost ¼.

Dome Bay Oil added ¾ at 17⅝ but few other western oils showed gains.

Index industrial: golds off .38 to 90.27; base metals off .79 to 101.81; western oils off .27 to 131.96.

DANGEROUS RELIC

SEVENOAKS, England (CP)—An army mortar bomb was found among relics in a church jumble sale in this Kent town.

Declare X-Rays More Dangerous Than Fallout

HAMILTON (CP) — A McMaster University professor says "we are receiving far more radiation" from diagnostic x-rays than from strontium-90, the radioactive fallout from nuclear test bombs.

"If we are worried about radiation", says Dr. H. G. Thode, the university's director of research, "we should start reducing the exposure to the radiation of such as x-rays which we do know can cause cancer".

A colleague, Dr. R. H. Tomlinson, who did original research in strontium-90, says "we have no evidence at all that strontium-90 will cause cancer. We assume strontium radiation may have some effect but we do not know."

The two scientists took issue in interviews Wednesday with a Washington report last week which said radioactive fallout from strontium-90 was more intensive than had been anticipated. The U.S. report said strontium-90 might be expected to increase the incidence of bone and blood cancer.

Dr. Tomlinson said "Present world radiation levels mean very little, since we haven't any real idea of what effect strontium-type radiation has on life."

1959 Could Pave Road of Peace Says Khrushchev

LONDON (Reuters) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev said 1959 could become a year of leaving the road of the arms race and of cold war for the road of peace and friendship between nations, the Soviet news agency Tass reported Monday.

In a message to the All-India Peace Council, Khrushchev said the way to an agreement on banning nuclear weapons tests would be opened if the West took Russia's interests into account and dropped groundless demands which put Russia in an unequal position.

Ice Conditions Delay Welland Canal Opening

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Bad icing conditions were blamed Wednesday for delay in the opening of the Welland Ship Canal—the first time in a number of years the canal has not opened April 1.

Navigation of the canal is expected to open Monday, but thick ice still exists in many sections. Canal officials say mild weather should break up the ice before navigation starts.

Ice varies in thickness from 14 to 17 inches above lock eight of the canal at Port Colborne. The canal surface is also iced-coated at the Lake Ontario end.

M. L. Larose were also promoted to corporal. Safety equipment technician H. Jurgens was promoted, as was teletype operator J. Wilson.

Economy Move Blocks Library Extension Plan

TRENTON — Councillors said recently one of the cuts they were forced to make in the 1959 budget was to put an extension to the library. They said they regretted not being able to allot some $4,000 for this. A considerable cut in funds for suburban roads was the reason with regret.

One councillor said he felt the Library Board has always been careful with its monies and has made a dollar stretch to its most when using it. J. F. Cox is chairman of the board.

In a letter to the council the Library Board had stated its plans for the coming years. They included the building of an extension to the present library on the west side of the building, exactly the same size as the present library.

The board felt the present council's room was now no longer enough for the increased number of youngsters using it and had wanted to double the size of it by building the extension. It felt this could be done for $7,400 to $8,000 and had saved about $4,000 for this purpose.

The present town grant to the library each year is on a per capita basis. This is $5 cents and the board asked this be increased to $1.20. This request was not granted by the council because of the need to cut down expenses to the barest minimum to keep the mill rate from increasing more than the five mills it was boosted.

The Library Board met last Tuesday evening but its future plans have not been revealed as yet.

STRIKERS GET UNION

BRANTFORD (CP) — The United Auto Workers (CLC), local 397, was certified Wednesday by the Ontario Labor Relations Board as bargaining agent for striking employees of Presto Auto Products Limited. Some 100 employees were not unionized when the strike broke out nine months ago in a wage dispute. The company has continued operations with new employees.

U.S. Official For Far East Resigns Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Spencer Robertson, 65, resigned Wednesday as assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

A state department spokesman said he was in ill health. Robertson has been a symbol of United States opposition to Communist China and support for the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa.

The department spokesman declared Robertson's resignation does not portend any change in U. S. Far Eastern policies.

The White House said President Eisenhower will nominate James Graham Parsons, a deputy in Robertson's career diplomat of broad experience, to take over the Far Eastern post.

Booster List Was Omitted

The lists of contributors to the Macs Overseas Fund published yesterday were those donating to the Civil Defence.

Unfortunately the list contributing to the Booster Club Fund was not available by press time.

The greater majority of these donors has not complained about non-publication of their names. However some have.

The Booster Club appreciates the fine gesture of the majority who gave their donations for the purpose of sending the Macs overseas, and not for resulting publicity..

SILENT REMINDER

Duffm's Creek Floods Highway Near Pickering

PICKERING, Ont. (CP) — Duffin's Creek overflowed its banks Wednesday night flooding about 1,000 yards of Highway 2 to a depth of 18 inches, but posing no immediate danger to the few buildings in the area.

The water uprooted trees and rubble. All traffic was rerouted. Minor flooding occurred a half mile away near a Highway 401 cloverleaf but motorists were able to get through the six-inch deep water.

Earlier, an ice jam on Duffin's Creek broke, relieving conditions in one area where water had covered lawns and gardens around six houses. Two families have been evacuated.

AN AMAZING STATEMENT

On March 17 J. J. Wintermeyer, Ontario Liberal leader, made a statement in the Ontario Legislature which, it seems to us, is worthy of closer examination.

Mr. Wintermeyer, Premier Leslie Frost, Hon. Kelso Roberts and, we presume, other members were discussing the definition of obscenity. Mr. Wintermeyer made some observations which seem to us sound — that art does not deny the realism of life, that life is not all good and that some of the greatest works of art are demonstrations of the bad features of life. We are not so certain that all would agree with a further observation, that art "is an honest effort to demonstrate life as it is." But let us pass this over. The statement which amazed us was the declaration that "every good author will certainly admit a deliberate effort to excite emotions is not art."

Let it be admitted at once that the writer has no claims to authority as a judge of art in any of its many manifestations. Nevertheless, it does seem to us that the exciting of emotions is one of the primary functions of any art. And let it be added that this statement comes from one with an ingrained distrust of emotional appeals, from one who regards an appeal to sentiment as prima facie evidence that the person making the appeal has a weak case which will not stand close, logical examination. Yet, when all this is said, emotions are a part of all of us and without them our reasoning would be a dead thing, our lives of no more meaning than the electric current which provides the life-force for the latest mechanical brain.

What distinguishes a good story from a classic? Surely it is the ability of the writer of the latter to so stir our emotions that we live with the characters of the book, hunger and thirst with them, hate with them, throb with their passions and choke with their sorrows. If they be real men and women, not all their impulses are good, so that the emotions which must be aroused in us must, if we are to understand them, include the evil as well as the good. Mr. Wintermeyer thus is deprived of even the excuse, which the context of his remarks made a remote possibility, that he was decrying the arousing of emotions other than noble ones. It seems to us that with the artist, as in so many other fields of activity, what makes his work evil is not so much in what he does as the purpose for which he does it, not so much what kinds of emotions he arouses as the final state of mind in which he leaves the reader - - or the listener or the viewer - - when all these conflicting emotions have had their sway, have played one against the other and have blended into a final whole.

PUBLIC OPINION SURVEY

A despatch from John C. Noel, public relations officer with the Canadian National Railways, informs us that a new independent opinion survey service indicates overwhelming support for reducing the number of employees from three to two in diesel locomotives used in freight and yard service as now proposed by the Canadian National Railways."

The survey shows that 15 per cent of those questioned believe there should be no one except the engineer in the cab of a diesel pulling a freight train.

Approximately sixty-five per cent believe there should be only one man with the engineer.

Another 17 per cent of those questioned also have a definite opinion and the inference is that they believe the three men in the cab at present should remain.

But we are also told that the survey showed that "most Canadians don't know that when the fireman is removed - - as is being done on Canadian Pacific - - there are still two men left in the cab of a freight diesel."

This leads us to one conclusion.

The only persons who answered the survey about whom it can be said without reservation that they made a sensible answer are those in the three per cent who said they were not sure how many men should be in the cab. Count us in that category.

ALWAYS IN DEMAND

An American economist says he expects there will be a "big demand" for money this year. Was there ever a time since money was invented that there was not a big demand for it? (Charlottetown Guardian.)

THE WEATHER MAN
By EDGAR A. GUEST

What does the weather man tell us today?
Is it of good or of evil he sings?
When we inquire, does the weather man say?
What is the message the newspaper brings?
Briefly the weather man's message is told:
"Showers for tomorrow; continuing cold."

Does the weather man ever thinking of you?
Is he for cheeriness totally lost?
Clouds and gloomy his thoughts
every day?

Surely the weather man now is a frost.
All that he sees is the storm
cloud that lowers;
Always his message is "probable showers."

Was ever so gloomy a man known before?
Was ever a man so depressing
as he?
Was ever a weather man quite such a bore?
Wait for a minute, he's looking to see;
He's searched the records and listens to state
There was such a churi in 1906.

HISTORIC BELLEVILLE

(Article 74 contributed by members of the Hastings County Historical Society)

THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR AND BELLEVILLE

The years following the 1837 Rebellion in Upper Canada were fairly quiet ones for the Belleville militia.

The chief duty of the unit was the relatively calm upset and the security of the country threatened.

This threat came from the discontent in the United States. During the American Civil War, Britain had seemed to favor the South against the North, and there was the possibility that the northern people might therefore try to "liberate" Canada from British control.

To guard against this possibility, the Canadian Government reorganized and expanded its military forces. Associations "for the purpose of training their drills" were set up throughout Canada as the reinforcement to the regular garrison of the Queen's Own Rifles of this Province".

The Belleville association formed was created at Belleville as an independent unit, the 1st Hastings (Belleville) Rifles.

The organizational work for the new unit began in late October, 1862, and by the end of November the men of the proposed regiment paraded on the Court House grounds under the command of Lt. Col. Archibald Ponton.

Two months later, Lt. Col. Ponton wrote to Head Quarters at Ottawa:

"My sincere wishes for a happy New Year to you. Its commencement finds our efforts very favorably on our efforts to secure public recognition and co-operation in the volunteer cause here, and I feel every confidence that before another week's time I will be able to report the battalion complete.

"Having been honored by the confidence reposed in me in appointing me to the command of the battalion, I can not but observe here that I shall always hope to be held personally responsible for all the arms and accoutrements, these being no armoury of any kind in the town, and I am little at a loss to know what we are to do without a drill hall, the only building occupied and used at present by the 'rifles' being rented at the public expense also."

On January 16, 1863, the new regiment at Belleville was officially gazetted by military authorities in Belleville's waiting of the Argyll Light Infantry.

Five months later, the 15th held its first inspection at Ponton. A newspaper account described the day as this fashion:

"Early in the morning, even before Aurora had kissed the sun, volunteers with their scarlet uniforms were promenading the streets of the little Ambitious of the Argyll Light Infantry.

POLICE INVESTIGATE SLAYING — Police examine the area where the body of Real Tessier, 35-year-old service station operator was found Tuesday night. The body was lying in the ditch beside his car two miles south of St. Thomas, Ont. Half his head was missing and an empty 12-gauge shotgun shell was found about 30 feet from the body. (CP Wirephoto)

Salvation Army Will Mark Its 75th Anniversary Here

This weekend marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Salvation Army in Belleville. The Belleville Citadel, which was first located on the present site of the Bank of Commerce, was opened in 1884 by a Major Moore. Throughout the years the Salvation Army's service to the members of the community has been both decisive and colorful. A local commanding officer of the 1880's assisted in the transportation of a cow, donated by a local resident, to the Toronto Home of Rest. The sight of this officer leading the cow down through downtown Toronto streets was reported at the time as attracting crowds of amazed onlookers.

Apart from the humorous sidelights the work of the Belleville Citadel has progressed steadily through the years. From the rented premises on Front Street where the local corps has advanced, through the diligence and application of its workers and contributions of local citizens, to the present Pinnacle Street quarters which were opened in 1946.

The Belleville Citadel has made its contribution to the furtherance of the Salvation Army's work across Canada. Sr. Major Arnold Brown, who will be the guest speaker for the anniversary commemoration, and who is the National Publicity Representative for the Army, entered the service through the Belleville corps in 1934. He has been assistant editor of the War Cry and is responsible for the weekly radio program, "This Is My Story," broadcast over a large number of English-speaking radio stations in Canada. The major has also been very active in the establishment of music camps in Canada and the United States. He also wrote "What God Hath Wrought," a history of the Salvation Army in Canada.

Another feature of the celebrations over the weekend will be several programs given by the Hamilton Citadel Band. These will be given on Saturday at 8.00 p.m. at BCIVS auditorium and on Sunday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the citadel.

Incidentally the band of the local corps appeared around 1906 under the direction of Bandmaster Hughes. As the proficiency of the band grew, it was in great demand at local community functions. Many programs were also played to the loggers as pairing along the Moira River when the logs were brought down this river from the north. Bandmaster Wyatt succeeded Bandmaster Hughes in 1906 and continued as head of the band until 1950 when the current leader, Jack Green, took over the band. Since that time it has played in weekend campaigns in Toronto, Hamilton, Montreal and many smaller communities nearer to Belleville. Last spring it played as a solo combination in the annual Spring Festival in Toronto.

SR. MJR. ARNOLD BROWN

The ceremonies will start on Saturday at 2.30 p.m. and continue over Sunday and Monday. A massed parade along Front and Pinnacle Streets will start at 4.00 p.m. Saturday, with visiting groups from other corps participating.

Railway Won't Return to Former System

The efficient and economical operation of the CNR made necessary the change in the method of handling through freights between Toronto and Montreal, city council has been informed by Transport Minister Hon. George Hees.

The change in the method of handling through freights makes it necessary for Belleville railway personnel to "deadhead" to Toronto to board trains whereas formerly they boarded through freights in this city.

At the time of the change Belleville freight crews objected strongly to the move declaring it was the first step in Belleville being removed as a terminal point. Submissions were made to Ottawa through Hon. George Hees as Minister of Transport to have a schedule of train operations which would not necessitate so much lost time.

The letter from Transport Minister Hees to Mayor Gerald Hyde noted that the efficient and economical operation of trains denied any return to the previous system.

McKee is reported to be a native of Brandon, Man., where he is said to have once been bursar of Brandon College. The B.C. Securities Commission here has a voluminous file on his mining ventures dating back 10 years.

In Toronto, O. E. Lennox, chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission, said his officials were studying a financial statement showing that Mr. Millis has collected approximately $300,000 from persons in Ontario and sent it to B.C.

Mr. Lennox said "on the financial statement audited we say that certain items haven't been vouched for."

W. R. Common, provincial deputy attorney-general, said "no complaints have been made by anybody, although we are looking into the transactions."

Mr. Millis said earlier that the project was promoted by McKee.

Rev. Irwin Davies of Toronto, Mr. Millis's assistant, said Mr. Millis advised him from Vancouver Wednesday that Mr. McKee was on a "well-earned holiday" and was "not available."

Rev. W. R. Wigston of Oshawa, who directed construction work on the project for two months up to June, 1958 said Wednesday he is no longer connected with the foundation.

Russia Plans Greater Use Of Arctic Route

OTTAWA (CP) — Russian plans to make its already active northeast sea passage a communication lifeline linking the Soviet west with the Far East under a new seven-year program.

More icebreakers, more stout Arctic shipping, more aid to navigation and more research into ice, currents and weather are envisaged, says the Soviet news bulletin published by the Russian embassy here.

The logic behind the move is indicated by the fact that it is 5,800 miles from Murmansk to Vladivostok by the northern sea route compared with 12,830 miles by the Suez Canal. One third of Russia, including regions under intensive development, lies north of the Arctic Circle.

Some details of the seven-year plan, as authorized by the Communist Party's 21st Congress, are made public in an article credited to V. Burkhanov, deputy chief of the northern sea route administration for the Soviet's merchant marine industry.

EXPRESSED INTEREST

Transport department officials here expressed deep interest and said it indicates that Russia plans to add to tremendous achievements in northern shipping.

May but they did reach some agreement.

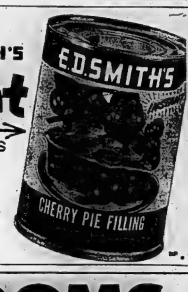
The talks of the "Western Big Four" cleared the way for debate on the Berlin issue in the larger NATO group of 15 foreign ministers. The meeting is to commemorate the creation of the alliance 10 years ago.

Defence Minister Pearkes, heading a 13-man Canadian delegation, arrived Wednesday. Pearkes said he is looking forward to a "very interesting meeting."

Military pomp and ceremony, symbolizing the strength NATO has generated during the troubled decade, were arranged to dramatize today's gathering in the same great hall in which the NATO treaty was signed April 4, 1949.

HAD COUNTERFEIT BILLS

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Three Toronto men Wednesday were given prison terms for uttering and possessing counterfeit money. Kenneth Goon, 26, and his brother, Edward, 28, were both sentenced to two years less a day. Edward also received an additional six months indeterminate to run concurrently. Louis Sit, Louis, 33, also received two years less a day.



Barn Burned Near Bancroft

BANCROFT (Special) — An explosive clap of thunder, which roused local residents at 2:15 a.m. today, accompanied the bolt of lightning which set fire to the barn of Stewart Sirtzger on Highway 36 on the outskirts of this town. Livestock, housed in the barn, were rescued without any loss. The Bancroft Fire Department answered the call but the barn and contents were completely demolished.

Mrs. P. Downes Holds Musical Evening

A delightful musical evening, arranged by Mrs. Patricia Downes, of Belleville, was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wilson, at Foxboro.

The program was in two parts and consisted of light and classical songs, together with a piano solo. Lois Lynn Kelleher sang "Horse the Hippo," and was followed by Margaret St. Hilaire, who sang two songs, "Linden Lea" and "Tammy"; Audrey Eigle gave an old English song, "Canterbury Fair," and Gwen Wilson contributed "Cherry Ripe." A piano solo, "The Desert Song," was played by Margaret St. Hilaire. Noreen Brooks sang "Romance," followed by "My Happiness."

A humorous element was introduced at this point, with Mr. Arnold Downes reading a Stanley Holloway monologue entitled, "Albert and the Lion." This was followed by a musical quiz, which was greatly enjoyed by all present. Richard Downes recited "Pussy Willows" and "Catkins."

The second half of the program commenced with Lois Lynn Kelleher singing "The Fairy Weavers," and "The Moonlit Forest"; Audrey Eigle sang, "On the Street Where You Live," followed by Margaret St. Hilaire singing the waltz song, "Beautiful Blue Danube."

Gwen Wilson introduced a delightful piece of musical comedy in "A Girl Named Daisy," which was followed by Noreen Brooks singing "Someday My Prince Will Come."

At this time, bouquets were presented to Mrs. Wilson, for her wonderful hospitality, and to Mrs. Downes, from the girls. Corsages were given to the accompanists of the evening, Mrs. Roy Brooks and Miss Gwen Wilson.

Noreen Brooks concluded the musical evening with the song so appropriate to this time of the year, "All In An April Evening." Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wilson and her helpers.

do kind things."

The senior pupils presented a lovely playlet "Easter Thoughts".

A short work period followed with the leader showing the children how to make pretty bookmarks with cutout colored flowers and short lengths of ribbon.

Meeting was dismissed by Mrs. Fitchett.

A dainty luncheon of cookies and homemade cream candy was served by the lunch conveners, Marilyn Stapley and Brian Kovach.

Mother's Helper

LEARNING to tie shoestring bows is difficult at best, and it often happens that another child can teach your youngster more quickly than you can. Curiously, the loops in some new shoes just aren't long enough for inexperienced young fingers to manage. Substitute another pair, if this seems to be the case.

Medical Society L.A. Plans 'Daffodil Tea'

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Hastings and Prince Edward Medical Society took place Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. George Stobie.

The business portion of the meeting, presided over by Mrs. K. Douglas, was largely devoted to plans for the "Daffodil Spring Tea and Fashion," to be held in May. The proceeds of this project are to be divided between the Canadian Arthritic Society and some needy child, or more if possible, to summer camp.

Mrs. Ken Smith gave a most interesting and timely demonstration on how to remodel last year's Easter bonnets, changing the entire appearance by re-shaping and adding bright new trimmings.

A social half hour brought the meeting to a close.

Melrose W.I. Enjoys Talk On 'Denmark'

The March meeting of Melrose Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Gerald Stration with 21 members and five visitors present. The president, Mrs. Clare Weese, took charge of the meeting.

Correspondence, consisting of a letter of thanks from Mrs. J. Milligan, also a letter from Mrs. Akey of Tyendinaga Esq. regarding the rabies epidemic, were dealt with.

Mrs. Ed Lazier, district director, reported on the recent district executive meeting and announced the appointment of Mrs. Roy Bardgley as resolutions convener; also, Melrose has been asked to present the memorial service at the district annual to be held at Eeppy Hall on May 20th.

SMART COTTONS

The 4-H girls put on a demonstration on their project, "Cotton May Be Smart," with Barbara Weese giving the commentary. Other members of the club modelled the dresses they had made and their record books were on display.

A vote of thanks was given to the club leaders, Mrs. Ruby Howard and Mrs. Genevieve McLaren, for their excellent work with these girls.

The home economics and health convener, Mrs. Roy McLaren, took charge of the program and opened with community singing. Mrs. McLaren gave a health motto, "For powder may catch a man, but it takes baking powder to hold him." The importance of a pleasant home atmosphere was stressed with attractive meals served on time and harmonious table conversation.

Following along the same theme, short humorous readings each month, by Mrs. Reg Fox, "What She Wanted"; Mrs. Frank Bailey, "What He Wanted," and Mrs. John McLaren told "How To Preserve A Husband." A reading entitled "What Is the Girl You Married," by Mrs. Raymond Clarke, was followed by an inspiring Easter message by Mrs. Arthur English.

An etiquette contest was won by Mrs. G. McLaren and Mrs. A. English.

DANISH LIFE

Mrs. John Asmussen (nee Marion English), who is visiting from Denmark, gave an interesting talk on life in Denmark, speaking mainly on food habits. A small loaf of warm bread is delivered daily so bread over a day old is never seen. A favorite specialty is afternoon coffee and cakes, so in the morning there are often lineups in the bakeries to obtain sweets for these occasions.

Houses have no refrigeration but have special openings in the pantry to allow outside air to circulate through. Only about 10 percent of families have washing machines as laundry service is so economical. She told of the difficulties she encountered with the language at first but she now speaks Danish fluently.

Everone enjoyed this informal talk by Mrs. Asmussen.

The hostess and her assistans served refreshments.

I.O.D.E. Plans Coming Events

MARMORA — The March meeting of Marmora Chapter of the I.O.D.E. was held at the home of Mrs. Roy Frost, with 18 members present.

The Regent, Mrs. Frost, presided. The secretary, Mrs. M. Borland and treasurer, Miss M. Savage gave the minutes and financial report.

The convenors for the coming year were appointed.

Mrs. Frost thanked the members for their donations and assistance at the hockey dance luncheon which was a financial success.

Mrs. Borland reported on treats given to the pee wee hockey team in the arena which were enjoyed and appreciated by the boys.

PLANS AGENDA

Plans were completed for the following agenda which the chapter is sponsoring: a public bridge party to be held at the home of Mrs. R. Frost on April 8th and a "Spring Dance" on April 24th, Mrs. A. M. Jones to be responsible for the orchestra and a rummage sale, date to be set.

It was decided to order material for the sewing convener and also wool so that articles could be completed and turned in at the June meeting and sent to headquarters.

The regent asked all members to help the Girl Guides by attending their Girl Guide fashion show to be held in the Sacred Heart parish hall on April 4th, and also the Boy Scout auxiliary tea at the home of Mrs. T. Pearce on April 10th.

PLAINFIELD W.M.S.

The Easter meeting of the Plainfield W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Violet Elliott with an attendance of 32.

Quiet music was played by Mrs. W. Sills after which Mrs. Wilder took charge of the devotional.

Mrs. Sherman Parks gave a reading on "Palm Sunday" and Mrs. Stinson one on "Joseph and Nicodemus."

Mrs. Sills favored with a solo reading by Mrs. Emerson and prayer by Mrs. Ethel Hodgen; Mrs. Brennan sang a solo, "The Old Rugged Cross," and Mrs. Clarence Hall read Mrs. McGibbon's report on "Christian Citizenship."

The first chapter on the study book "North American Continent," was given by Mrs. Clayton Hall.

After Mr. Middleton closed the meeting, refreshments were served and a social half hour spent.

EGGLETON M. B.

MADOC JUNCTION — The March meeting of the Eggleton Mission Band was held at the school on Friday afternoon, with 15 members and three adults present.

The worship centre at the front of the school had been arranged with a lovely picture in keeping with Easter.

Owing to the absence of the president, the vice - president, Grant Reid, presided over the program prepared by Beverley Stapley and Marilyn Stapley.

Opening hymn, "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone", with Mrs. R. Bebbe, pianist.

The Scripture lesson from St. Matthew 27 was read by Sam Danford.

The offering was gathered by Michael Browning and dedicated with a prayer read by Isabelle Pratt.

Next meeting will be held on the 3rd Friday afternoon in April.

Ivan Reide read the minutes and called the roll, which was answered by giving thought on Easter.

An interesting reading "A Fortunate Unfortunate Boy" was given by Dianne Pratt.

A lovely poem, "Spring is Coming", was read by Sheila Clarke.

The chapter from the Study Book 'Lucky Alberto' was told in story form by the leader, Mrs. Maurice Clancy. Alberto was a little orphan boy who became very ill and was taken to the Christian hospital in Puerto Rico. He was always smiling and cheerful and soon made many friends at the hospital. One day the minister, Mr. Garcia, happened to meet a couple who had lost their own son and were hoping to find a little boy with a sunny disposition, that they could adopt. Mr. Garcia at once thought of Alberto, and arranged for them to come to the hospital and see him. They were captivated by his smiling face and felt he was just the little boy they were looking for; and Alberto was very happy to have a real home, and someone to love and care for him.

A group of the Junior pupils took part in a little motion drill as they repeated the verse: "Jesus Wants Little Children to do little things:

This - - - and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

We are in the position that we know most of you have experienced at one time or another, when returning from a visit of more than a week. There seems to be a period of time in which you are suspended midway between the two points and your conversation gets all mixed up, confusing listeners and yourself alike. However, we will not apologize for the fact that, over the next two weeks, we may return in retrospect to New York.

For emphasis and clarification, we would like to repeat that we held a three weeks' fellowship sponsored by the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs which allowed us to sit in on the thirteenth session of the Commission on the Status of Women. This commission was one of those set up under the Economic and Social Council, an organization created by the two main bodies of the U.N., the Security Council and the General Assembly, to study social problems similar to these conditions are the problems of child injustice and inequality as they appear all over the world and which show up even the very minute progress to peace.

Patience and understanding are the two qualities most needed in the seemingly interminable talks before all branches of the United Nations. They seem especially insurmountable when we consider that the United Nations cannot legislate on anything — it does not have that power. It is only a voluntary meeting of sovereign states, a crystallization of world opinion. It is our principal hope and we must keep on. Some of the topics studied by the Commission on the Status of Women were political rights of women, status of women in private law, nationality of married women, international opportunities for women, and so on. Under the last heading, a very spirited debate took place concerning the age of consent of women and their right to pension.

Some topics, and the discussions on them, have progressed to a point where a convention has been arrived at which is acceptable to all participating members. Other topics are being worked towards that point; it is very slow work.

The Canadian delegation is under the able leadership of Mrs. Harry S. Quart, of Quebec City, with Miss Marion Royce of the Women's Bureau as alternate and Mr. Derek Arnould as adviser. Mrs. Quart was awarded the M.B.E.

Other nations sitting on the commission (this is at their own request) are Argentina, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, the Dominican Republic, France, Greece, Israel, Japan, Mexico, the Netherlands, Pakistan, Poland, Sweden, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the United States of America. A country elects to serve for a period of three years and may be re-elected for another term if so wishes.

And so, for three weeks, we listened to the statements and discussions of the delegates of the above countries, always with a little plastic cup-like reception hung on one ear. This became so much a part of us that we found ourselves not listening to ordinary conversation when we first took it off. Our diet for this listening post was, of course, set for English translation; that is what we heard whether the original voice was speaking in French, Spanish or Russian.

The thirteenth session is now closed after making a few steps forward, and we feel as if we had been sent home from fourteenth grade. The fourteenth may be held in Argentina which has extended the invitation to have the meeting there. Though we will not be there, these problems have come alive to us. We know that our interest will never wane.

BACK AT HOME

VICTORIA (CP) — Miss Jessie Read's pet pheasant, Cherry, has been retrieved after a vagabond existence around here for three months. The bird was raised by a brooding turkey since it was a day old.

Handsome Spring Coat

By VERA WINSTON

Basket-weave wool in either pastel or dark tones makes up into a new spring coat of the type that is slated for popularity. A high waistline seam sets the silhouette pace. The seam ends on either side of the three buttoned front - closing of the bodice. The simple, away-from-the-neck collar provides for a pretty scarf tie-in. The navy coat is lined in bright red; pockets are lined in matching tones.

WANT BETTER SERVICE

HANOVER (CP)—Town council has authorized a brief to the Board of Railway Commissioners urging better CNR service to this area south of Owen Sound. The railway has announced plans to reduce passenger and express trips to one a day.

Wife Preserves

Best time to substitute cod liver oil and other medicines is when the mother is in the best mood for it. That's when the spillage is easiest to clean up.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each week it takes a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Mrs. J. F. — My two daughter-in-law treat me, my husband, Leonard F. — She doesn't let us do baby for her.

Mrs. J. F. — I am a 65-year-old widow, living alone and working part time to support myself and not be a burden on anyone. My husband died a year ago, leaving me next to nothing.

My big pleasure in life is my grandchildren. My two sons each have three children and I love spending time with them. I like to have one family or the other over every Sunday for dinner. In addition, I visit a couple of evenings a week. I just love to bake, make a pert of myself. I just talk to the children for a while. I don't even want a cup of coffee.

In spite of this my daughters-in-law treat me coldly. They always seem to find excuses for not coming to me during Sunday dinner. They are very cool to me when I visit. I have done everything I can to be the right kind of mother, but somehow I seem to have failed.

Leonard F. — My wife and I love our two sons, daughters-in-law and grandchildren. Mother, but she never lets us. We have been to her home only twice.

We would like to contribute to Mother's support, but she won't let us. She is well off, still working, but complains all the time of tiredness. We try to stick to a strict schedule for her Sunday visits, but it doesn't always work out. She arrives at all sorts of times come up and we can't make it.

Also, Mother has a habit of bringing the kids things they shouldn't have before bedtime. But if we say anything she is all set for war. She always acts as though she is unwanted and sometimes won't even take off her coat.

The Council: Probably it would help everyone concerned if Mrs. J. F. would admit to herself that she is lonely and frightened and actually wants more from her children than they are able to give her. She doesn't want money at this time, or even more contact with them, but a sense of security.

Undoubtedly Mrs. J. F. is deeply troubled by her sudden loneliness and can't help thinking about the future — about the time when she may not be able to work and to maintain herself. Perhaps her sons can give her some reassurance on that score. From both accounts it is apparent that they would not desert her.

Once she has acknowledged her fears, Mrs. J. F. would realize that she must try to get over her self-pity and take a more realistic view of things. She actually has as much security in a pension can reasonably expect. She can take some pride in her ability to work and be independent, and this should strengthen her innermost feelings.

Mrs. J. F. could gain additional strength by making a bid for to find sociability and interests outside of her children. She is young enough to become active in church and community affairs, to find hobbies and new friends. When she needs her children and grandchildren less, she will find herself becoming more at ease with them. She will not refuse to take her cue to have a cup of coffee in her son's home because she will know from inside that she needs and wants little more from them than affection and happy social interchange.

Mother's Helper

A FRONT HUNT is an exciting party game for youngsters, suitable for a wide age span. Your bank can usually give you one or two dollars in bright new coins for this special event. Pennies are easy to hide, fun to find. Provide small sacks for the hunters, give penny banks as favors.

HALLOWAY W.M.S. - W.A.

Halloway W.M.S. and W.A. March meeting was held at the home of Mrs. E. Donaldson.

Mrs. Gordon Kennedy led the worship service with the assistance of Mrs. E. Emerson and Mrs. R. Townsend. Mrs. G. Roth presented the study book with much discussion by the group.

The W.M.S. business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Roabury Hough. An Easter card was signed by the members to be sent to a missionary.

The W.A. business came next with Mrs. F. Wellman in charge. A committee was formed to decide to continue or discontinue the fall fowl suppers.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

Frosting Petits Fours

by Mary Moore

Mrs. R. M. has been asked to make Petits Fours for a wedding; another reader wants to make them as her contribution to a church bazaar bake table, rightly thinking they are inexpensive to make but bring a good profit if care is taken.

Dinner Menu

by Mary Moore

THURSDAY

Meat Turnovers (see Monday); Mushroom Sauce; Tomato Casserole; Buttered Broccoli; Shredded Fresh Pineapple; Applesauce Cake (see Wednesday); Coffee.

SUNDAY

Roast Loin of Pork; Pickled Crabapples; Candied Yams; Cauliflower with Parsley Cream Sauce; Waldorf Salad; Coffee Spanish Cream with Apricot Halves (see—Tuesday); Petits Fours (see Thursday); Coffee.

On my desk in front of me I have a wire rack full of some I made today. They require patience but are worth the trouble for their never-failing eye-appeal.

PETITS FOURS

Take a tip from professional bakers and use 1" thick slabs of firm pound cake to cut out dessired shapes. This reduces pesky crumbs to a minimum. Glaze: (Sufficient to frost 4 dozen little cakes; reduce recipe by one-half to frost 2 dozen little cakes for a small party or for the family.) One-half teaspoon gelatin, 2 teaspoons cold water, ¼ cup granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons corn syrup, ¼ cup water, 2 lbs. sifted icing sugar, 2 large egg whites, 4 tablespoons soft butter or shortening, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Soak the gelatine in 2 teaspoons cold water; in saucepan combine granulated sugar, corn syrup and the ¼ cup water. Bring just to full rolling boil stirring just until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat, stir in soaked gelatine and cool to 120 deg. — just above lukewarm. Stir in the icing sugar, then the egg whites, soft butter and vanilla and beat very well until smooth.

How to Pour the Glaze: If different colored glazes are to be applied to cakes arrange cake shapes on wire racks — one rack full for each color. Do not apply different colors to cake on one rack. Work on metal or hard-surfaced table or counter. Apportion glaze into as many small bowls as you want colors. I used 3 bowls and left one-quarter of the amount in the saucepan and left it white. I colored the other pink, blue and green. You may want yellow. Pour the white glaze steadily over the cakes. When pan is empty lift rackful of cakes to a clean position, scrape up with a spatula all of the frosting which has dripped through to the table and return it to the pan. Pour it over cakes again and continue until cakes are coated on tops and all over sides. Proceed the same with the next batch of cakes, frosting (or which has been delicately tinted as desired. Continue this way until all are coated. Don't let over wasted frosting dripping through to table at the end, for it is very inexpensive. If you are going to decorate them with sugar crystals or vari-colored cake decorations — "non pareils" — or chocolate shot or nuts or cocoanut, do it before frosting sets, or the decorations will slide off. If you have a big batch to do it is advisable to have a helper.

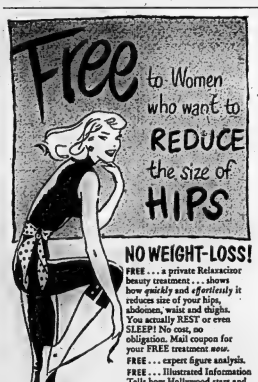
HARMONY CLUB

MARSH HILL — Marsh Hill Harmony Club held its March meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dellor as host and hostess.



The president, Mr. Fred Campbell, opened the meeting.

Mrs. Harry Coulter read the Scripture lesson, St. Luke 24:1-14. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clare were program convenors and opened the program with the theme "Christ Is Risen" followed with prayer.

Mrs. Allyn Pinkle read, "Thanks For Good Friday." "Easter Morning" was read by Mrs. David Little; "Thank, You Lord," was sung by Elizabeth and Linda Pinkle; "The First Easter" was read by Mrs. Charles Ross.

Mrs. Clare gave a paper on "Easter Symbols," which were the egg, Easter lily and Easter bunny.

After the closing hymn, "Alone," refreshments were served by the lunch committee.

GOOD MANNERS

By Miss Beechnut

USE THE FORK

Dear Mrs. Beechnut:

When putting butter into baked potatoes, is it correct to use a fork or a knife? — E. L.

It is correct to use a fork.

QUESTION OF TRAVEL ETIQUETTE

Dear Mrs. Beechnut:

When I am having a meal in the dining car on a train, I tip the waiter as I would tip the waiter in a restaurant. But I never know whether I am expected to tip the head waiter, the one who comes forward, seats me, and presents me with the menu-card.

Please advise me. — W. H.

The headwaiter usually isn't tipped, but it's quite proper to give him a tip if you wish to, particularly if he has given you some special service.

DOES EX-HUSBAND'S DEATH CHANGE HER NAME-FORM?

Dear Mrs. Beechnut:

Several years ago my husband and I were divorced. Ever since the divorce I have used his surname preceded by my maiden surname: let's say, Mrs. Taylor Duncan. Last week my divorced husband died. Now what form of name should I use — Mrs. John Duncan or Mrs. Taylor Duncan? This is very important to me at just this time, because I have recently moved to a new address, was planning to have some informals engraved with my name and new address, and wondered about what form of name I should order. — Reader

You should continue to use the name you have been using since your divorce — Mrs. Taylor Duncan . . . and this is the name you should use on the informals you are planning to order. The death of your ex-husband does not at all affect the name you have been using since the divorce, since you are not his widow, but his divorced wife.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1959

Proposal to Start Teaching French at Early Age Beaten By Trustees and Ratepayers

TORONTO (CP) — Some delegates to the annual convention of the Ontario Education Association hotly debated the teaching of French in schools while a noisy delegate quietly told interested parties of his plan to radically change the English language.

At a meeting of the Ontario Association of Trustees and Ratepayers held in conjunction with the OEA convention a proposal that French be taught in schools at the earliest possible age was defeated 62-35.

While some delegates said Canada is a bilingual country, others denied it. Shouts of "bigot" were heard.

PHONETIC SPELLING

In one of the convention bookstalls, Kyril Evans, an engineer from Hamilton was explaining his book on a phonetic alphabet and changes in spelling which he said could save two years of the elementary school program.

The system, developed by himself and his wife, adds eight letters to the present alphabet and reshapes 14. Under his spelling there is one symbol for each sound.

A sample of the spelling system, from the 23rd psalm:

Dhu Lord ez i mai sheperd: al shall not want. Hy meiketh mye lai daown in gyn peacful pas. Hy tydeth my bisaid dhu stil woturs.

DEBATE BILINGUALISM

At the trustees and ratepayers meeting, Rt. Rev. William A. Townsend of London, Ont., Anglican Bishop of Huron, said Canada is not bilingual. "We are not try teaching something else, too."

R. W. Gegner of Chatham said Parliament has two languages and statements that Canada is a one-language nation are not correct. Mrs. Mary Carmichael of Deep River replied that the French are the largest minority group in Canada, after a delegate had asked why other languages could not be taught as French is.

William J. Miller of Bognor, near Owen Sound, said: "You'll have a Tower of Babel if you permit this." The language is to be spoken it should be Gaelic—it is the language the devils don't understand and that the angels in heaven praise God with."

The association decided to leave for study of directors a resolution which asked for an 18-month freeze on teachers' salaries. Mayor Gus Edwards of suburban Mimico challenged delegates to "stand firm and put a stop to this deluge of salary increases."

WOULD PAY TRUSTEES

The trustees and ratepayers association did pass a resolution asking the provincial government to permit payment of trustees.

At present only some rural trustees receive small expenses for mileage and meetings. Metropolitan Toronto school board trustees receive $300 a year expenses, the only urban trustees in Ontario to do so.

W. Elmer Wright, resolutions chairman, told the 75 delegates the government had asked for an expression of opinion from the trustees.

Russian education came up again when Dr. Henry Chauncey told the elementary school department the success of the Russian education system lies in its teachers.

Dr. Chauncey is a member of the United-States National Research Council and a president of the educational testing services of Princeton, N.J. He made a recent study of education in Russia.

TEACHERS WELL PAID

He said teaching is an attractive and important position in Russia. Teachers are paid salaries equivalent to those of engineers and doctors. Russians saw education as the foundation of national power.

Earle Terry, director of music for London, Ont., told the urban teachers section children are being overwhelmed by "pseudo music." Teen-agers could have their rock 'n' roll but they must have serious music as well.

"If it continues, this prolonged musical malnutrition will be as deadly to the soul as strontium 90 is to the body. This is indeed a time for a strong clear call to the cultural barricades."

Dr. J. F. Flowers of the department of educational research of the Ontario College of Education said the only way to improve education quality in schools in areas of sparse population is to consolidate two or three schools and give the teachers some of the money the consolidation saved. Despite a higher per-pupil cost, the quality of education in rural schools was lower than that in city schools, partly because to the number of untrained teachers in the former.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE

Vernon S. Ready, principal of Kingston Collegiate, said there is need for vocational guidance in secondary schools. There should be a clinical study of students finishing Grade VIII so that the guidance teacher could help boys and girls to get the maximum benefit from high school.

Mr. Ready said some persons doing guidance work in Ontario schools are doing more harm than good. He urged good guidance teachers to share their knowledge with others and to work more closely with parents.

Dr. R. O. May, chairman of the department of mathematics and astronomy at Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., said a search is in progress for language to unify the unrelated fields of mathematics.

R. L. Smith, head of the classics department of the suburban East York Collegiate, said reading books is still the best way in the world to get information. He addressed the classics section.

Find Man Dead Of Bullet Wound

ANCASTER, Ont. (CP) — Police are attempting to identify the body of a man found last night on Hamilton Mountain above Highway 2.

He apparently died of a gunshot wound four to six weeks ago. A rifle was found nearby.

HEAVY POLLUTION

LONDON (CP) — Provincial district council stations for investigating air pollution report 37.25 tons of dirt was deposited on each square mile of the dockyard area in January.

Spring Bustle Begins Along New Seaway

MONTREAL (CP) — A spring bustle has begun along the St. Lawrence Seaway as melting ice heralds the opening of a new chapter in Canada's shipping history.

The seaway is due to open to shipping April 30, weather permitting, but as far as Montreal was concerned the seaway era began Wednesday when the first ship of the season arrived in port.

The trim German freighter Volumnia, a 5,000-ton craft designed especially for the seaway route, arrived in the inland harbor with flags flying for a hornblowing welcome.

Her skipper, Capt. Horst Wilke of Hamburg, Germany, won for himself the second time the gold case awarded each spring to the first salt-water ocean to bring his ship up the St. Lawrence River to Montreal.

The Volumnia will not stick around for the seaway opening. The Canada Steamship Lines vessel brought steel goods, glassware and general cargo for Canada and is to leave for Europe April 8 or 7 with a cargo of general goods.

The 135-mile seaway, a 27-foot deep channel from Montreal to Lake Ontario, was built by Canada and the United States at a cost of about $475,000,000, to be met by tolls during the next 50 years.

The seaway is to be officially opened June 26-27 by Queen Elizabeth and President Eisenhower.

Madoc Teacher Heads Rural Section of OEA

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Jean Milne Watson of Innerkip was named president of the Ontario Educational Association Wednesday.

Mrs. Watson will be responsible for the planning and detailed work of the large-scale centennial celebrations planned by the association for 1960.

Among presidents of the association's various departments are: Mrs. Aleatha Woods, Madoc, rural teachers; J. C. Hill, Chesterken, elementary school.

Smallwood Says Study Given Proposal to Charge CLC With Swindle Over Fund for IWA

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland says serious consideration is being given to a proposal to take action against the Canadian Labor Congress for "illegal swindle."

He made the statement Wednesday to reporters in connection with an announcement by CLC President Claude Jodoin that the congress is launching a "strike and defence fund" for Newfoundland loggers. (Mr. Jodoin said the objective is to raise $1,000,000 by asking for a $1 contribution from each of the CLC's 1,000,000 members.

Mr. Smallwood said there no longer is a strike of the International Woodworkers of America (CLC) in central Newfoundland and "the IWA's illegal strike in Western Newfoundland has been called off."

"There is the money going? What is it going to? What is it being used for?"

Mr. Smallwood gave notice in the legislature he will introduce an amendment to the Labor Relations Act.

The Newfoundland government March 6 passed an amendment to the act which gives the lieutenant-governor-in-council power to dissolve a union if a substantial number of its executives continue to hold office after being "convicted of any heinous crimes."

Mr. Smallwood said outside the legislature the amendment will make it necessary for the attorney-general to prove in the Supreme Court that a substantial number of the union's chief officers have been convicted of such crimes.

The legislature will adjourn April 10 for two or three weeks to Finance Minister Spencer may prepare a budget.

Two Men Held After Holdup Attempt Ends in Gunbattle

HAMILTON (CP)—A wounded bank accountant staged a glazing gunbattle with two would-be robbers Wednesday and foiled their bid to hold up the Imperial Bank of Canada branch in suburban Burlington.

Accountant Andre Michels, 28, was shot in the left shoulder when he pulled his pistol from a desk drawer. Despite the wound he turned and emptied the pistol, his shots driving the bandits from the building. Mr. Michels was reported in good condition.

Police arrested two men after a shooting chase through nearby municipalities. One of the captured men had a slight bullet wound in his back.

Inspector Ken Scott said charges of armed robbery have been laid against Gilbert and Gordon Tait, two Winnipeg brothers who are in their early 20s. He said they would also be questioned by St. Catharines detectives in connection with a $5,215 bank robbery in that city Wednesday.

Two masked men entered the bank shortly before noon and walked up to manager William Pizer. Both had revolvers in their hands.

"Andre Michels, saw what was going on and went for his gun," said Mr. Pizer. "They must have seen him out of the corner of their eyes and one of them fired at him.

"They must have hit him with the first shot for I heard him yell. "Andre emptied his gun at them even though he was wounded. They never got near the money."

About 13 shots were exchanged before the men ran to their car. A Burlington police cruiser driven by constable Robert Alferdan chased the getaway car. The constable fired several shots.

The cruiser followed the car through neighboring Aldershot to the upper middle road. Provincial police and officers from neighboring municipalities set up roadblocks.

The car was finally trapped in an orchard.

Worker Killed By Falling Wall

TORONTO (CP)—Mario Conti, 24, was fatally injured Wednesday when a concrete wall on a construction site collapsed and fell on him.

Witnesses said about 25 other men jumped clear as the 100-by-25-foot wall began to fall. Chief Coroner Dr. Smiglé Lawson has ordered an autopsy and an inquest.

Cannot Afford To Subsidize Agriculture

TORONTO (CP) — J. M. Appleton, vice - president of the Quaker Oats Company, says Canada cannot afford to subsidize agriculture.

A young country's "inate reverence for the soil" and for those who till it—because they are the source of food — results in an emotional rather than logical approach to agricultural problems, he told the Ontario Educational Association.

Mr. Appleton termed the "march" of western wheat farmers on Ottawa last month a serious commentary on the national ability to deal reasonably with agricultural matters.

It was all very well to talk of protecting the "little man," said Mr. Appleton, but little men would be supported as an economic group.

He said the belief that farmers have been exploited by city dwellers has not been true for 200 years.

Urban residents pay most of the taxes and these support experimental farms and the many services designed to make farm life profitable and attractive, he said.

Young Mother Electrocuted In Her Bed

TILLSONBURG (CP)—An inquest has been ordered into the electrocution death of Mrs. Cora Scruton, 19, of Vienna, who died in her hospital bed Friday, seven days after giving birth to a baby boy.

Chief T. O. Corbett said death was caused by a broken bed lamp and a heat lamp in the woman's bed that was not grounded.

Mrs. Scruton pulled the chain on the bed lamp while her body was in contact with the heat lamp. Chief Corbett speculated that while the woman was insulated from the metal frame of the bed by a rubber pad under the mattress, her body was grounded to the bed when she touched the bed lamp chain.

STUDENT PROTEST

CAMBRIDGE, England (CP)—Art and architecture students of the "Anti - Ugly Action Movement" demonstrated outside a new wing to a college here. They carried a coffin inscribed: "Here lies British architecture, suffocated in infancy."

Russ Claim NATO Existence Is Major Barrier to Settlement Of Thorny Political Problems

By ED SIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NATO was born out of the Berlin airlift and the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia. Italy was threatened from within by a large and aggressive Communist party and from without by a Yugoslav government that had not yet broken with Moscow. Romania, Albania, Bulgaria, Poland and Hungary had become Russian satellites and Greece was fighting for its life against Communist guerrillas.

The organization's founding fathers have never been in complete agreement as to the sum total of NATO's objectives. But a determined and urgent cause that brought them together was the desperate need of halting Communist inroads into Europe.

Today, NATO is subject to two types of criticism. Military men who look on it as the nucleus of the Western army that will fight a new world war, are apprehensive about its weakness. Civilians who hope for relaxation of East-West tension, are nervous about its strength.

Not surprisingly, there is a lack of warmth in Izvestia's greeting to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on this week's occasion of its 10th birthday.

The Soviet government newspaper offers the suggestion that no NATO member can say it is more secure today than it was before NATO existed.

Up to a point the statement is true enough. The intercontinental ballistic missile has cast a lengthening shadow over the peace of the world since 1949, and the prospects of international disarmament and a lasting boost of thorny political issues have not grown appreciably brighter.

The Russians say NATO's existence is a barrier to settlement of these disputes, which can be the only real basis of security in Europe or elsewhere else. They brand NATO as a chief cause of mistrust.

In most Western memories it was the other way around.

New Regulations on Safety Will Be Given Boat Owners

OTTAWA (CP) — Pleasure boat owners will be advised in the next few weeks of new safety regulations affecting them this summer.

Small vessel regulations under the Canada Shipping Act, consolidated into one volume for the first time last year, have been changed slightly for the forthcoming boating season to increase safety features.

And again the transport department will undertake distribution of a booklet to make the safety rules and other boating regulations known to small boat owners, whose numbers have increased enormously in recent years.

FIRE EXTINGUISHER

One of the changes that likely will have wide application requires operators of craft under 16 feet in length to carry a fire extinguisher if the fuel tank is fixed to or built into the boat or if built-in heating and cooking stoves that burn gas or liquid are carried.

Previously an extinguisher was required in this size boat only if it carried an inboard motor. Now outboard-motor craft with built-in tanks are included.

Additions are being made to the safety regulations on water skiing. Boats towing aiders, water sleds or surf boards will require two occupants—one to steer and the other to watch the skier.

Still in effect are requirements that such boats not endanger navigation, life or limb and that they must stop an hour before sunset and not begin until an hour after dawn.

Maximum penalty for breaking these regulations remains at a $500 fine or six months in jail if the fine isn't paid. The court also has the power to prevent a person from operating a small boat for up to a year.

A new warning to boat operators to take special care in areas where plans are landing or are taking off from the water has been inserted.

The major features of the new regulations plus additional safety advice to boat operators will be included in the transport department's publication, The Afloat. A new edition will be out in the next few weeks.

The transport department makes this booklet available free to any boat operator.

Commies Purge Outer Mongolia

MOSCOW (AP)—A purge in the Communist party of Outer Mongolia was reported Tuesday by Tass in a dispatch from Ulan Bator, the capital. It was the second reported shaking in less than a year.

Communist party chief U. Tsedenbal, in power in Outer Mongolia for many years, retained the post as first secretary.

The official Soviet news agency said a four-day party meeting at Ulan Bator ended Monday with the firing of second secretary D. Bamba for inefficiency and 11 separate political offences ranging from conservatism to opportunism.

Marsh Hill

MARSH HILL — Easter service was held Sunday morning at Marsh Hill United Church. The choir sang for an anthem, "Christ Arose," and Mr. Farley Lindenfield sang a solo, "The Holy City."

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Dier, Kathy and Bill, of Belleville, were Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Pinkle.

Mr. J. Keeble of Mountain View and Mr. Fred Campbell were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. William Slater.

Mr. and Mrs. Berson Mills were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Coulter, of Tweed.

Guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Pinkle were: Mr. and Mrs. Jermyn Palmer of White's and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bird of Oak Lake.

Miss Patsy Corrigan visited her cousin, Miss Gwenda Detlor, during the Easter holidays.

Mr. Harry Coulter was a bearer at the funeral of Robert Rodgers, of Belleville, on Saturday. Mr. Rodgers was a former resident of this community.

Declares SEATO Saves Lands From Fate of Tibet

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (AP) — Secretary-General Pote Sarasin at SEATO Wed. credited with anti-Communist alliance with saving its Southeast Asian members from the fate of Tibet.

But he warned that the "basic threat of communism remains as strong as ever." He said SEATO countries must continue to build highly trained, mobile defence forces.

Military advisers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization SEATO begin talks here Thursday as a preliminary to the meeting next week of the SEATO council of ministers. The alliance, formed in 1954, links Britain, the United States, Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines and Thailand in a joint defence against Communist aggression.

SEAL SPOTTERS

LONDON (AP) — Moscow Radio reports two ship-borne helicopters will spot seals for a fleet of eight Soviet fishing schooners en route from Murmansk to hunt Greenland seals. The fleet is commanded by Ernst Kumke, veteran captain of Soviet ice-breakers.

"You mean to say—just 3-a-day may send backache away!"

Sounds good! Logical, too! You see the normal job of the kidneys is to remove excess wastes and acids from the blood. The cause of backache often is the system. Dodd's Kidney Pills stimulate the kidneys in this function and so may help you relieve backache they have relieved many others. Try just 3-a-day. You can depend on Dodd's—it is the best bet with the red hood. 64

Bride-Elect Feted by Trousseau Tea

WELLINGTON — The home of Mrs. J. B. Lavender was the setting for a lovely trousseau tea given in honor of her daughter, Miss Grieve Mollard, last Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Miss Mollard, dressed in a lovely pink nylon sheer gown, received the guests, assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. Lavender, and the mother of the bridegroom-to-be, Mrs. Lott, Trenton.

The many guests were escorted upstairs where they were shown the lovely wedding and shower gifts and the beautiful trousseau, by Mrs. J. Wait, Mrs. E. Lavender and Mrs. W. Courneyea, in the afternoon, while the Misses Marilyn Callow, Marilyn Brickman and Joanne and Wellington Herrington had this honor in the evening.

The dining room looked lovely with Easter flowers. The tea table, covered with a beautiful white linen cloth, was centred with a large Easter lily flanked by crystal candelabra holding pink tapers.

Tea was poured from a silver tea service by Mrs. Roy Brown, Trenton, aunt of the bride-groom-to-be, and Mrs. (Rev.) J. E. Rogers in the afternoon. In the evening, Mrs. J. Chandler of Windsor and Mrs. Robert Gardner of Windsor, aunts of Miss Mollard, and Mrs. E. Lavender, poured the tea.

The Misses Nancy Guernsey, Judy Lavender, Mary Callow, Margaret Bailey, Lana Gallagher and Nancy Lane (Miss Mollard's former Bunday School class), served the dainty refreshments.

Miss Anne Springings was in charge of the guest book while Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Ralph Ellis helped in the kitchen.

Many friends were present both in the afternoon and evening from Trenton, Belleville and Wellington.

Two Men Know Joy of Seeing Wives First Time

ST. BONIFACE, Man. (CP)—Two men know the joy of seeing their wives faces for the first time in years Monday night when bandages were removed from their eyes after successful cornea transplants.

The men, cousins from Mariapolis, Man., were the first patients of the recently - formed Winnipeg Eye Bank. They received the gift of sight from Mrs. Pearl Shuttleworth, 61, a former Winnipeg nurse who died of cancer last Thursday.

One of the men, identified only as Henri, 63, had been blind for four years. His cousin, 47, was blind in one eye and had only partial vision in the other.

Henri, after seeing his smiling wife when the bandages were removed, briefly said: "I will be able to work again. I will be able to milk and drive a tractor and my wife won't have to do so much work."

In the next bed, his cousin cried with joy as he saw his wife leaning over the bed. Once a bookkeeper, he was forced to quit his job when his vision failed.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

Another crankpot critic has crawled out from under his rock and vented his pennyworth of spleen on the Mc-Farlands.

This time it is a psychiatrist character from Vancouver by the name of Brock Chisholm.

This remote control "expert" said, according to a Canadian wire story yesterday, "The Belleville McFarlands won the world hockey championship by beating up the other teams . . . They kept saying they always played them rules. But no other country's team did and it didn't help Canada's status in the world. In fact it created a lot of hate."

Chisholm made the statement while addressing a group of primary teachers in Vancouver. He said they should teach their pupils "there are more important things than the sports pages."

We do not remember coming across anyone by the name of Chisholm during our sojourn in Europe. However, there were a few funny-looking, long-bearded, suspicious-looking characters hanging around the various stadia. He could have been one of them.

In fact one of them once asked Lammy Lamirande what that round rubber thing was the players juggled around the ice with their sticks.

If Chisholm's knowledge of what happened in Europe and how the Canadians played and behaved themselves is on a par with his hockey knowledge, this character could have been him.

Chisholm's statements of "beating up the other teams and creating a lot of hate," is nothing but balderdash and hogwash.

Besides who is he to criticise? Was he in Europe during the exhibition and tournament games? Or did he base his criticism on what he read in Finnish and Norwegian newspapers, or what he "heard from the mob."

Or was he merely trying to convince a group of impressionable young school teachers with his imaginary ability as a critic of international hockey.

The McFarlands may have raised the ire of a couple of hot-headed European journalists with their rugged play during the exhibition series, but for Mr. Chisholm's information, during the tournament play the Canadians were the most popular foreign team in Czechoslovakia.

Bob LeBel, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association who saw the entire tournament series, had this to say to the press: "The McFarlands by their tournament play and their behavior off the ice have been a credit to Canada. They have done a lot to cement friendly relations with the countries whose teams they have played and beaten. They are fine representatives of their country, and I shall be proud to tell this to the people back home."

How is that for "helping Canada's status," Mr. Chisholm?"

The Czechoslovakian Sports Federation insisted that the Canadians stay over after the tournament and play exhibition games with regional teams of their country. They were most effusive in their praise of the McFarlands and extended cordial invitations to them to return some time in the near future."

How is that for "creating hate," Mr. Psychiatrist?

And you didn't know, Mr. Expert, that Al Dewsbury, the most penalized player in the tournament "for beating up the other teams," proved to be a national hero in Czechoslovakia.

Chisholm's statement "no other country's team played Canadian rules," shows his appalling ignorance of the situation. The Russian-Czech game was the roughest of the entire tournament with 19 penalties and four fights.

Harvey J. McFarland "blew his top" when he heard the story. "That man is a ——— liar," he exploded. "And I would like nothing better than tell him so to his face."

We believe Mr. Chisholm is badly in need of the services of a good psychiatrist.

There may be "more important things than sports pages" for youngsters, but one of them is not listening to self-styled "critics" of international hockey who have been in their hats resulting from too much talking through them.

Score 3 in Final Minutes To Fracture 1-1 Stalemate; Long John Stars in Pipes

KITCHENER (CP) — Long John Henderson, lanky Whitby Dunlop goaltender, doesn't meet Kitchener Waterloo Dutchmen too often, but when he does he believes in giving them a hard time.

The six-foot-three Toronto-born ex-pro did just that Wednesday night as he kicked out 41 Dutchmen shots to cement a 4-1 victory for Dunnies in the first game of the best-of-seven all - Ontario Senior A hockey final.

The towering 195-pounder, a key man two years ago in Dunnies' upset of Kitchener in the same round, kept Whitby's one-goal lead intact from late in the first period to 5:33 in the third when Kitchener finally found a way past him to equalize.

THREE LAST GOALS

Dunlops stormed to victory in the face of Kitchener pressure in the final seven minutes. They scored the last three goals in the game to win.

Ted O'Connor drove home the winner from a Fred Eicher rebound. Bobby Hassard and Ted O'Connor clinched things with a couple of goals in the final three minutes.

Playing coach Sid Smith grabbed the lead for Kitchener at 19:56 in the first after defenseman Harry Sneden's shot rebounded on the crease. Dutchies were shorthanded at the time with Murray Davison sitting out a holding penalty.

Kitchen put the back strong in the scoreless second and twice rang the pipes around Henderson's cage.

Bill Saunders was the man finally to beat Henderson as he cracked one home at 5:33 of the third. But he was robbed twice in the final second of the game when Henderson sprawled on his crease to deny Kitchener hopes.

Whitby's narrow lead gave them a chance to lay back and wait for their enough much of the game and during the second they rarely got out of their own end.

Eleven minor penalties were called with Whitby drawing six. There were 3,305 fans at the game.

Whitby leaded in the final after winning the OHA Eastern Senior A playoffs. Kitchener - Waterloo topped the OHA-NOHA Senior A contingent. Second game in the series is scheduled for Toronto Friday with the third back in Kitchener Saturday.

First period: 1. Whitby, Smith (Sinden, Atterton) 19:56. Penalties: Treen 8:09, Laufman 8:58, Atterton 9:29, Ted O'Connor 14:23, Davison 18:20.

Second period: No scoring. Penalties: Saunders 1:00, Maki 7:43.

Third period: 2. Kitchener, Saunders (Laufman, McKnight) 5:33; 3. Whitby, Ted O'Connor (Eicher) 13:14, 4. Whitby, Hassard (Ted O'Connor) 17:01; 5. Whitby, Tom O'Connor (Smith, Kane) 18:03. Penalties: Ibbards 11:02, Sinden, Laufman 15:22, Smith 18:20.

Puck Brawl Sees Two Wind up In Hospital

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A player and a former wrestler wound up in the hospital during a fiery International Hockey League playoff game that saw Louisville defeat Troy 8-5 Wednesday night.

Louisville now leads 2-0 in the best-of-seven series, with the next game scheduled here Friday.

Troy goalie John Craig was thrown out of the game after Louisville's Moe Bartoli and a 200-pound spectator were hit over the head with a stick.

The spectator, Wee Willie Davis, now a wrestling promoter, had jumped out of his seat to try to break up a penalty box fight between Bartoli and Bud Syverson of Troy.

Davis and Bartoli were taken to a hospital to have cuts stitched. No police charges were filed.

Warren Back and Ron Spong each scored two goals for Louisville and Troy's Andy Milne also got two.

ALL-ONTARIO MEET

PRESTON (CP) — Nearly 250 delegates from all parts of Ontario are expected to attend the 72nd annual Ontario Amateur Softball Association convention here April 3-5, Softball officials have expected from Kirkland Lake, Timmins, Sarnia, Ottawa, Windsor and St. Catharines.

Irish Need Win for Finals Defeat Petes in Fourth Tilt

TORONTO (CP) — Fighting, for their first OHA Junior A championship since 1947, St. Michael's College Majors downed Peterborough Petes 4-1 Wednesday night to renew within one game of the Eastern Canada Junior final.

Centre Dave Keon opened the scoring with the only goal of the first period and fired the first goal in the third to spark the Toronto win. It gave St. Michael's a 2-0 lead in games but put their point total at six since two previous contests ended in ties.

PETES BABCOCK SCORES

Right winger Dave Draper and centre Jack Cole were the other Toronto marksmen. Larry Babcock scored Peterborough's only goal.

St. Michael's second goal came in the middle frame when Draper flipped a loose puck over Petes' goalie Jacques Caron, who was sprawled in front of the net. Caron had just blocked Larry Keenan's drive from close in.

Goals by Cole and Keon, spaced three minutes apart in the second period, gave Toronto a 4-0 lead but just after the midway mark Babcock fired a 35-footer past Cesare Maniago to wipe out his shutout.

HELPS OTHER SIDE

Wayne Connelly set up Cole's goal when he overshaded the puck while bringing it out from behind his own net. Cole pounced on it and whipped in a five-foot shot. Keon's second goal followed a pass from Costello.

Both teams missed wide-open scoring chances in the period. St. Mike's picked up three of the four penalties handed out in the game.

The next and possibly last game will be in Peterborough Friday night.

Stratford Kids Favored in Peewee Tourney

GODERICH (CP) — Stratford got off to a flying start in defence of its title in the Young Canada Week peewee hockey tournament with a decisive 8-2 win over Fort Erie.

The Y-sponsored team has only two holdovers from last year's squad but is picked as one of the teams to beat for the Grand Championship Trophy.

Point Edward edged Forest 3-2 to win the C title Wednesday with both teams in the final for the first time.

As 5,000 fans watched, Point Edward took a 2-0 first-period lead then held on while being outscored 3-1 in the last two periods.

Close, well-fought action which has been a feature of this 10th annual tournament and is slowed in the two C semi-final games in which Forest took a 2-1 decision from Exeter and Point Edward won by a similar score against New Hamburg.

In other A contests, Brampton downed Owen Sound 5-3, Guelph whipped Wallaceburg 7-3, Preston nipped St. Thomas 4-3, Barrie took another close one from Galt 3-1, Woodstock shut out Noranda 3-0 and Lindsay defeated Leamington 2-0.

Goderich Pee Wees, in an exhibition game, downed Peterborough 3-1, in the final game of the night.

Thinks Red Sox Will Finish Better Than Third This Year

By CHARLES MAHER

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)— The fact that Boston Red Sox have been one of the hottest teams in the majors this spring strikes manager Mike Higgins as an omen of practically nothing.

But Higgins still thinks the Red Sox will win more games this season than last and he expects them to stay a little closer to the Yankees coming out of the gate.

The Sox finished third in 1958, 13 games behind New York. On paper — where baseball is not often played—they appear capable of coming at least that close and maybe a little closer this season.

They've picked up Vic Wertz, a first baseman who didn't play much last year but who drove in more than 900 runs in his 11 previous seasons in the majors. To get Wertz, Boston had to give Cleveland Jim Piersall, an outfielder who covers a great deal of ground with a great deal of skill. But Piersall hit only .257.

LOTS OF OUTFIELDERS

The Red Sox still have lots of outfielders, among them Jack Jensen and Ted Williams.

Jensen won the most valuable player award last year, hitting .286 and driving in 122 runs, and Williams won his sixth American League batting title with a .328 average for 129 games.

But Williams, 40 years old, is a doubtful starter for the early weeks because of a neck ailment.

The Red Sox also have Pete Runnels, one second baseman who was the league's second-ranking hitter in 1958 with a .322 and a golfing vacation.

PITCHING PROSPECTS

Higgins expects his pitching to be improved. Tom Brewer, who had mumps last spring, wound up 12-12. Other returning pitchers include Ike Delock (14-8), Frank Sullivan (13-9), Mike Fornieles (4-6) and Murray Wall (7-7). Higgins is also eyeing lefthanders Frank Baumann (2-2) and Ed Bowsfield (4-2). Bill Monbouquette (8-9 with Minneapolis and Louisville) will get a good shot too.

In the outfield with Jensen are Williams, Higgins can use Jim Busby (.237), Marty Keough (.250) and Gene Stephens (.219)—all of them fast. Also available is Gary Geiger (.231 with Cleveland).

Haywood Sullivan, disabled last season, rejoins a catching staff that includes veteran Sammy White (.259) and Pete Daley (.321 in 27 games).

IKE WILL MISS OPENER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, barring a last-minute change of plans, will miss the opening game of the major league baseball season a week from today. Vice-President Nixon apparently will be called on instead to throw out the first ball when Washington Senators meet Baltimore Orioles at Griffith Stadium. The White House reported Eisenhower hopes to lea early next week for Augusta, Ga

Have Home Games Advantage Breaks Due, Says Schmidt; Adams Picks Leafs for Cup

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs will even affect four rugged games, resume their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final series tonight.

"It's now a two-out-of-three situation and we have the advantage because two of those games are here in Boston," Bruins coach Milt Schmidt said Wednesday. "And the breaks are due to after those two overtime losses in Toronto."

"We're coming, and they're going," said Toronto coach Punch Imlach. "We spotted them two games here and then went home to take the two there. Now we're out to get this one."

The Bruins will be handicapped by the probable loss of two standout defencemen — rugged Fern Flaman and speedy Doug Mohns. However, both insisted on putting off any decision on whether they can play until game time.

TWO KEY MEN

Flaman, 31-year-old team captain, suffered a pulled groin muscle Tuesday. Mohns suffered torn knee ligaments last Saturday and missed the fourth game. He is a key man in the Bruins' power play.

Flaman and Mohns planned private workouts this afternoon to determine their fitness. Doctors doubted that Mohns would be able to skate well enough to help the Leafs.

In the event Flaman and Mohns are out of the lineup, Schmidt said his defensive corps will be Bob Armstrong and Allan Morrison and Leo Boivin and Larry Hillman. Jack Bionda has been summoned from Providence Reds in the American Hockey League for reserve use.

LEAFS LACK REGAN

Leafs are hoping to whelm Larry Regan, the former Bruins centre who has a badly swollen knee. Regan did not make the trip here from Toronto.

Ruby Mayer, with Leafs six seasons before being sent last year to Rochester Americans of the AHL, will replace Regan.

Rearguard Gerry Ehman, who picked up a twisted ankle Tuesday made the trip here. He is expected to play tonight but not at peak efficiency.

Mayer who went to Toronto Tuesday, just to see Leafs play and was told to remain with the club, said there has been a big change in the team's spirit.

"You can see it everywhere," he said. "Spirit, atmosphere, their play, anything you want to talk about. It's amazing."

The Beanzworers won the first game 5-4, and the series 6-4-2. They dropped the next two by 3-2 counts in sudden-death overtime.

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP)—Jack Adams, general manager of Detroit Red Wings, picks Toronto Maple Leafs to win the Stanley Cup. But he doesn't expect anyone to go along with him.

"How can my opinion mean anything?" Adams asked in an interview Wednesday. "I'm the guy who has been wrong all winter."

Adams, whose Red Wings finished last in the National Hockey League race after a promising start, explained his selection:

"The Maple Leafs have five or six 30-goal scorers. They are young, fast and aggressive and they're not afraid to check someone. Most of all, they believe in themselves. They think they can go all the way."

Leafs and Boston Bruins are tied 2-2 in their best-of - seven semi - final Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks are also deadlocked 2-2.

Adams, who has seen some of the Stanley Cup action, says the loss of big Jean Beliveau has hurt the Canadiens' chances of running away with the honors.

"The Richards and Dickie Moore got all the credit. But for my money, Beliveau is the heart of that team. He makes the plays and sets up the goals for the others."

Beliveau suffered a spinal injury last week and it is not known when he will return to action.

As for the Hawks, Adams thinks they could take the current series from Montreal "only if they big line of Bobby Hull, Ed die Litzenberger and Ted Lindsay starts rolling."

Canadians Out In American Bird Tourney

DETROIT (AP) — Defending men's singles champion Jim Pools moved into the semi-finals of the U.S. badminton championships Wednesday night with three victories. Five Canadians were eliminated in the third round.

The first-seeded American was forced to rally against Malaya's Teh Kew San before winning 15-7, 9-15, 15-7.

Two invaders from Thailand also advanced into Friday's semi-finals: Channon Wattanasin and Thanoo Khedajhkye.

The fourth quarter-final match was pending when Tan Joe Hok, the first seeded foreigner from Indonesia, was forced to the sidelines with an attack of stomach flu. Yan was expected to be well enough to play today.

Don Devis of Seattle defeated Ed Hrejac of Creighton Mines. Other Canadians ousted were Wayne McDonald, Vancouver; Howard Moody, Montreal; Mel Campbell of Toronto and Ann Cunnell of Montreal.

Dorothy Tinline and Joyce Campbell of Toronto and Ann Murray of Winnipeg were eliminated in the women's singles.

Ask Waivers On 'Barber'

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) St. Louis Cardinals said today they will ask waivers on 43-year-old Sal Maglie for the purpose of his unconditional release. He joined the Cards last year.

Quebec Hockey

TROIS-RIVIERES, Que. (CP) Playing coach Gerry Desaulniers scored an overtime goal Wednesday night to give Trois-Rivieres Lions a 3-2 win in their Quebec Hockey League final series with Montreal Royals.

Desaulniers' winning goal, at 3:48 of the extra period tied up the best-of-nine series at two games each. The teams meet again in Montreal Sunday.

Lions Matt Ravitch scored in the first but the lead was wiped out in the second by two goals each by Montreal rookie Bill Sutherland, Gilles Thibault tied it up early in the third.

Harris Wins Easily Over Don Fleeman

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Roy Harris possessed about $5,500, a cut forehead and another victory over Donnie Fleeman today, but his manager didn't think he was any closer to a rematch with world's heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

"I don't think so," Lou Viscusi, Harris' manager, laughed when asked whether he thought the one-sided Wednesday night victory brought the Texas heavyweight challenger from Cut and Shoot any closer to a rematch with Patterson. Patterson won Harris to ribbons last year for a TKO.

Viscusi had said earlier he felt if Harris won big it would help him toward a rematch.

Harris won a lop-sided margin over Fleeman, but he had to job his way to it from behind a mask of blood. Late in the fight Harris landed freely, but was unable to score a knockdown.

A butt in the second round opened a ragged, two-inch cut over Harris' eye. It bled hefty until after the seventh, when his seconds stopped the bleeding.

Fleeman, 181, of Midland, Tex., looked good in the early rounds, but faded badly and was a well-beaten fighter at the end of the 12th round.

Harris, 198, never let up with his steaming left jabs, and staggered the gritty Fleeman several times with hard rights.

Palmer Hopes to Set Record Win Masters Twice in Row

By MERCER BAILEY

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, a muscular young man from Latrobe, Pa., sets out today with hopes of accomplishing something no other golfer has ever done — successfully defend his masters' title.

Since grand - slam king Bob Jones and Cliff Roberts founded this classic event 25 years ago, some of the biggest names in the game have won it. A few have won it more than once.

But none has been able to tame this demanding 6,900-yard Augusta National course and the talent-rich field two years running.

And Palmer isn't favored to shatter precedent.

NO FAVORITE

In fact, when today's first round get under way there was no outstanding favorite in the field. Among those claiming most of the attention were Sam Snead, Ken Venturi and Jack Burke, Jr.

Top foreigners are Australia's Peter Thomson, South Africa's Gary Player, who fired a 64 in his final tuneup round, and Spain's Angel Miguel, individual champion of the 1958 Canada Cup matches in Mexico City.

Par for the rolling layout with its mammoth greens is 36-36—72. Lloyd Mangrum set the record at 64 in the opening round of the 1950 masters. Hogan holds the 72-hole record of 274.

Gigantic George Bayer of Glen Eagles, Ill., won the long driving contest preceding the tournament, for the second straight year.

Bayer whacked out a clinching drive of 304 yards on the first attempt then drove the spectators back with a 321-yard belt. His third-drive hit a tree on the fly some 250 yards from the tee.

Three Canadians are among the some 90 players entered.

They are Bruce Castator, of Toronto, 1958 Canadian amateur champion, Henry Mariell of Edmonton, 1958 Canadian Professional Golfers' Association title-holder, and Stan Leonard of Vancouver.

Castator and Mariell were invited to play because they won the Canadian amateur and pro titles last year. Leonard tied for fourth place in the masters in 1958 and is among the top 10 finishers of last year's event who were extended invitations.

Habs Must Do More Shooting To Beat Hawks Says Selke

MONTREAL (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks storm out of the hills today to take up their historical task—impeding the progress of the hardy French pioneers.

Historians recall that the original Black Hawks, ancestors of Chicago's National Hockey League team is named, was a Sac Indian whose grudge against French and English settlers helped slow down the taming of the wilderness.

The current Hawks are succeeding remarkably well in impeding the perennial progress of Montreal's flying Frenchman—the Montreal Canadiens—toward the Stanley Cup. The NHL champions have won the cup, hockey's most prized possession, three times running.

But the Hawks, when they come down from their Laurentian Mountains retreat tonight for the fifth game of the best-of-seven semi-final, represent a major threat this year. The series is tied 2-2.

WANT MORE SHOOTING

Canadiens have vowed to shoot accurately.

Frank Selke, Canadiens general manager, repeated bitterly Wednesday that what cost the Canadiens their Tuesday game in Chicago was shooting — not enough of it.

"If we had shot the puck instead of trying to beat a man right in on goal perhaps victory would have been ours. I cannot repeat too often that it's the shooting and shooting that games are won," he said.

The Hawks have to win one of two games in Montreal—and they believe they can do it tonight.

"We're about due to win one in Montreal. We've only won said.

He said the Montreal-Chicago game was being carried on the network under the CBC's policy of alternating the two semi-final series.

BC Lions Join National League, 'April Fool'

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Sun says the British Columbia Lions will leave the Western Interprovincial Football Union in 1960 to join the National Football League of the United States. But in fine print on another page, the newspaper adds: "April fool".

The newspaper devoted six entire column on its lead sports page to the story, quoting National Football League commissioner Bert Bell and Lion president Fred Emery Saying.

Two pages farther on, at the bottom of a story quoting football spokesmen from other cities, it adds:

"We don't believe it," said the president of the United States.

"And neither should you."

Red Berenson Is Eligible Says Dudley

MIDLAND (CP) — George Dudley, secretary - manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, says Red Berenson is "quite entitled to play with Flin Flon Bombers if he has a certificate with Regina Pats".

Dudley said that this must be so since Gordon Juckes of Medville, Sask., first vice-president of the CAHA, was to investigate the case last Saturday before the Bombers and Edmonton Oil Kings started their western junior final series. Bombers have won the opening two games and Berenson has scored three goals in each.

Dudley said he had not yet received a report from Juckes.

Oil Kings had complained that Berenson, because he left Pats before the end of the season, was ineligible to play with Bombers.

Under a CAHA rule provincial champions are allowed to pick up two players from their own league for the playoffs. Also, the two champions may add two western players for the Memorial Cup final.

Berenson left Pats to attend college in the United States. He returned to Regina then went to Europe with Belleville McFarlands, Intermediates.

Tom Melville, sports editor of the Regina Leader-Post, said in one column that it was "made very clear by the CAHA that Berenson was free to play junior anywhere he chose this year. The regulations state that a player does not have to play in any league games to take part in playoffs."

Sulley Linde Cristal says Hedy's "eighteen pound" difference between making pictures in Mexico and Hollywood.

In her more than a dozen starring roles below the border she kept to keep her weight, she reports, at 126 pounds because Latin-American men prefer their women amply padded.

When Universal-International put her under contract and teamed her with Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh in "Vienna, Perfect Furlough" she had to slim down to an eye-popping 106.

More than voluptuous by American standards, the ravenhaired beauty says she doesn't mind going back to Mexico in her present state.

"I can just hear the name they'd pin on me," she laughs—"Miss Skin-and-Bones."

The triangular roomantics of Linda, Tony and Janet are held over until Saturday at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre where the spicy army comedy "The Perfect Furlough is convulsing audiences. Keenan Wynn and Elaine Stritch also add to the hilarity. The picture is in color and CinemaScope.

Baby Canadiens Whip Baronets By 6-0 Score

QUEBEC (CP) — Held down for two periods, Hull - Ottawa Junior Canadiens scored six in the third Wednesday night to whitewash Quebec Baronets 6-0 in a Memorial Cup quarter-final game.

Next game of the best-of-three series is Sunday in Hull.

Canadiens fired all their goals in little more than 10 minutes. Jean Claude Tremblay and Andre Pompeani got Garratin and each and Andre Drolet and Gilles Tremblay one.

Tremblay was the night's leading point-getter, adding two assists to his six markers.

The series winner meets the OHA Junior A champs next.

Cards Have Grabbed Edge In Sam Jones-White Dicker

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The first returns are in on last week's Sam Jones - Bill White trade between St. Louis Cardinals and San Francisco Giants. It looks as if Card general manager Bing Devine might not have gotten the bad end after all.

Devine was criticized for giving up a good pitching mainstay last season with a 14-13 record, to the Giants for White, an infielder with limited major league experience.

Jones, in his first start for Giants' manager Bill Rigney, was blasted Wednesday for nine hits and nine runs in five innings by the Chicago Cubs who beat the Giants 10-5. Jones yielded three - run homers to George Altman and Moose Moryn.

WHITE HAS ERROR

On the other hand, White has made a favorable impression on Cards manager Solly Hemus although his error Wednesday paved the way for a three-run New York Yankee ninth inning that gave the world champions a 5-3 victory.

Hemus gave White the first base job and moved Joe Cunningham to right field. White has hit three home runs and batted over .300 since joining the Cards.

Whites error ruined a three-hit effort and nine-inning performance by Vinegar Bend Mizell.

In other exhibition games, Cleveland edged Boston 5-4, Los Angeles shut out Philadelphia 8-0, Cincinnati defeated Washington 6-4, Chicago White Sox trounced Milwaukee 5-3, Kansas City won over Detroit 4-3 and Baltimore edged Pittsburgh 4-3 in a 12-inning night game.

The Indians' Herb Score pitched three innings, giving up two runs on homers by Sammy White and Frank Malzone but striking out eight.

Gil Hodges' homer and double and Duke Snider's triple and double powered Los Angeles to its victory. Eddie Kasko's eighth-inning triple sparked the Cincinnati win.

The White Sox routed Joey Jay with a five-run eighth inning, and Kansas City pinchhitter Preston Ward slammed a two-run homer in the ninth inning to beat the Tigers.

Al Pilarcik singled in the 10th inning to give victory to Baltimore's Connie Johnson, a former Toronto Maple Leaf star trying to stick with Orioles despite an indifferent 1958 season. Johnson hurled four innings of hitless ball to wind up the game.

Off the field, the Orioles traded temperamental righthander Billy Loes to Washington Senators for Vito Valentinetti, another righthander.

Many Public Life Persons Use TV to Express Views

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Persons in public life increasingly make use of television panel programs to express views that make news.

One of these, in which young men questions, is College News Conference (ABC-TV, Sundays, 2 p.m. EST). Next Sunday, for example, the foreign ministers of some NATO powers will meet the program to discuss observance of the 10th anniversary of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

They will be questioned by Ruth Hagy, producer and moderator of the program instead of the usual panel of five young people.

Miss Hagy was saying recently that the purpose of the program not only is to learn the views of prominent people but also to "present American youth in a positive light."

The panelists are selected each week from a list of 700 colleges. Discussing these young Americans she has observed during the seven years of the program's existence, Miss Hagy said:

"The young college people we have met are more global-minded than when I was in school. But they don't seem able to work up the passions and indignations that we did when I was in college.

"They seem to feel that the era of social welfare reform is pretty much over. Their paramount concern is the threat of war."

"I've never decided what I'm going to do and then done it," says Richard Eastham. "Everything since he has taken me over and carried me along with it."

Eastham, who plays a newspaper editor in Tombstone Territory (ABC-TV Fridays, 9 p.m. EST) was "taken over" by the western series in spite of the fact that he made a name for himself appearing on Broadway opposite Mary Martin in South Pacific when illness forced the late Eric Fiima out of the leading role.

He loves his role in Tombstone Territory, E a s t h a m said the other day on a trip to New York, because it has given him the chance to prove he's an actor as well as a singer.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Aries (Mar. 21 to April 19) — Pals and closer ties, neighbors and even the younger element appreciate what it is you would like to accomplish and give you full support today. However, it is best you are very friendly and outline your plans minutely and honestly, clearly.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — Get all your business and social matters on truly even keel today so that supporters will be impressed and go along with you to a fuller extent. Then it is a good idea to have psychic ties with closest ties regarding the future.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — You are full of inspired thoughts today so you will be easy to step out of dull-doldrum routine work and get together with friends and partners to help you get a new outlet. Take care while out driving, but take a trip if it is necessary.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 20) — Financial affairs require immediate attention should be first on the agenda now, and this is also a good day to put into effect any changes you deem wise. P.M. be most affectionate with person who is first in your mind and thoughts.

Leo (July 23 to Aug. 21) — While you are full of inspiration now, it behooves you to seek the advice of wise associate or even competitor in order to round out ideas and plans properly. Do so in a very friendly manner. Read your paper and other worthwhile printed media.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) — You have only to roll up your sleeves and get to work in order to get behind you all those accumulated tasks and obligations. Let your motto "I serve" be manifest throughout the day. Seek advice from authorities, too. Add zest personal joy.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — If you get an early start on important labors so be performed today, you will then have free time for pleasure. Give attention to good grooming and ride your hobbies so that they will also be lucrative. Be gay. Smile.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — Are you sure that your monetary and practical affairs are at their ideal best right now? Plus day to take steps in vital matters to insure real security. Also, see that home life is super harmonious. Be astute.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Splendid day for getting results in the teeming world of activity, with very inventive and clever persons today gives you the key to more successful personal living, whether in business or socially. However, don't be too opinionated and stubborn. Listen and learn a great deal.

Leo (July 23 to Aug. 21) — If you display a more co-operative effort and attitude toward others today, they will look with favor upon you and give you the support and ideas you need so vitally. Be filled with a true sense of brotherly love and be warm with praise.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) — Executives or higher ups can only be impressed if you do your best work today. Be sure to work methodically and concentrate fully upon your labors. You will make quick strides forward and get results you had not dreamed possible.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Sleep out of comfortable but dull routine existence now and seek those persons who can help you to realize a better and fuller life through more modern methods. But you must apply yourself earnestly.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — You can achieve true security in all of your affairs now if you sincerely ask the advice of authorities concerning best methods to use to effect same. They will help you gladly and you will learn some very important lessons.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — You are able today to confer with those key people who can play an important part in your life, provided you adopt the right, co-operative attitude. Make definite plans and assume duties which you must discharge ably.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — The way in which you perform your basic and important duties now will bring you the honor and remuneration you covet. Be certain you accurately differentiate between the assets and the liabilities. Set up better whether you do so by paying personal calls or through correspondence, telephone, etc. P. M. is then fine for entertaining, personal leisure and relaxation.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — By concentrating on new age methods, you can go very much further toward your cherished goals now. Be as practical as possible. Seek those persons or literature that will put you wise to latest trends. Be less conservative.

Aquarius (Jan. 22 to Feb. 19) — A good day to think about how you are getting along with vital persons in your life and where to adopt a different and more progressive attitude. P.M. enjoy yourself ideally. Be your own happy and charming self.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Retire into the privacy of own quarters or nook today and think out just how far you have progressed and if you are completely satisfied with matters as they stand. Set a goal to reach, then seek right people who can help you attain it.

If your child is born today, the wonderful child born today will be a great pioneer and innovator, one whose inventive genius will be applied to changing the old outmoded and obsolete into the new and progressive. Be sure to give as careful a training as possible in ethical and practical values, so that his or her feet may be kept perfectly on the ground while working on the creative and visionary.

Friday, April 3

Aries (Mar. 21 to April 19) — You will have good luck in whatever enterprises or changes you undertake with partners or comrades today. Be alert and work with enthusiasm and you make quick strides forward. Be very sociable, too, for good.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — Any aspect of a mundane nature is fine to set in motion today since influential persons look with favor upon your constructive efforts and give the support you require. Be sure you impress with good practical sense where finances are concerned.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — If attuned properly astrologically, you arise full of vim and vigor and highly inspired. Concentrate upon the new and magnanimous which can be whittled down to workable size and bring highest returns. Be alert and broadminded.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Secretly counterfeiting with very inventive and clever

White's District

WHITE'S DISTRICT — Mr. and Mrs. George Bilton, Mrs. W. Jeffery and Mrs. Everett Nicolson attended the opening service at Bethel Temple, Trenton, on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones were Sunday evening guests of their daughter, Mrs. William Hunter, at Lake Ontario Park.

Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer and family and Mrs. Jermyn Palmer were Good Friday guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Ward and mother, Mrs. Hicks, of Hallowell.

Jermyn Palmer, Mary and Michael remained for part of the Easter holiday.

A number from this district attended the Eastern Star supper party in Trenton on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Casey Ketcheson entertained on Easter Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John Leigh and Mrs. Jack Ketcheson, Susan, Sonnia and Paul of Trenton, Miss Susan Jones of Harmonds and Mrs. Verna Waldron.

Mrs. Lyndon Brown and Mr. H. M. Brown were Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sadler, Miss Doris Sadler, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brown and Mrs. Leonard Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Westover were Easter Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton at the Bayside Rest Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Jones, Stephen and Susan were Easter Sunday visitors of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Desterbourg of Bancroft. Master Stephen remained for part of the holiday and will spend some time with grandparents to Ottawa to visit his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Cournoyer for the remainder of the holiday.

Miss Sylvia Bilton was an overnight guest on Saturday of Miss Sylvia Miller and attended the Sunday morning service at Grace United Church.

Mrs. R. Ketcheson was an Easter Sunday guest of her daughter, Mrs. Alva Vandervoort and Mr. Vandervoort, at Johnstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sandercock, George and Lee, were Easter Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cunningham at Rose Hall, Hillier.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Curtis entertained on Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pearson and Linda of Trenton, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Tribe, Stephen and Cathy of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sandercock were Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bowers.

Robins were seen in this district during the past week, though the weather has not been spring-like. Cows have been plentiful the past two weeks.

There was a good attendance at the Easter Sunday service at White's Church. The Rev. Roy Rickard, B.A., used as his text, "As it Began in Dawn," Matthew 28: 1. Easter hymns were sung throughout and the junior choir contributed "The Little Flower Came from the Ground." A solo was rendered "Hail Joyous Easter."

The Communion table was draped in purple and a white cross rested against this. On the table was a bible with a white crocheted cross. Two pots of Easter lilies were placed there also by Mrs. Neil Cox. Casey Ketcheson in memory of her son, Jack, and Mrs. Easter lily was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Hunt in memory of Mr. Hunt's father, Mr. Rowe Hunt.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giles on the birth of a daughter at Trenton Memorial Hospital on Good Friday.

The Misses Nancy and Cheryl Barr had their tonsils removed at Trenton Memorial Hospital on Wednesday. Both are doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Sickle entertained on Wednesday evening a number of friends and relatives.

national Association of Machinists (IAM) which covers the 13,250 workers formerly employed on the Arrow and its Iroquois engine.

He estimates 930 technicians, draftsmen and engineers have applied for entry to the United States. Another 210 have been offered jobs in Britain and 1,000 more offers expected.

Mr. Cadden says the number leaving Canada outnumber the technicians getting jobs inside the country.

"We have too many assembly plants in Canada and not enough development industries."

He says only about 500 Avro workers—few of them technicians—have found employment with Mr. Canadian firms and in many cases the jobs are in selling rather than specialized fields.

He says only about 100 technicians were among the 2,500 employees laid off on the aircraft take-off craft for the U.S.

And he says only about 100 have gone back to Avro under the federal government's plan to keep "an essential amount" of technicians on hand pending a new program.

The figures are backed by company officials.

"Some of the men we approached simply sail no—they just don't want to take another chance," says Jack Williams, assistant to company president Crawford Gordon.

There seems to be little optimism among workers for a substitute program although Premier Frost of Ontario hinted last week that one may be found.

Mr. Williams will say only that the company is "still actively canvassing" for substitute work.

About 10,000 workers are jobless—not to mention the substantial number" of men Mr. Cadden says have been laid off by sub-contractors employing 15-200.

The union spokesman is slightly bitter about government attitudes and future moves.

"There doesn't seem to be as much effort to solve this problem as there would have been if it had been a strike."

Nearly all the jobless workers received separation pay and now face the problem of selling their insurance benefits. But Mr. Podger says he knows of cases where workers have picked up and merely abandoned homes and belongings they had bought on instalment.

"The situation is very black."

PICTON

Urges All Household Pets Be Vaccinated

PICTON — Prince Edward County Health Unit is urging that all household pets be vaccinated, A spokesman for the Unit yesterday pointed out that 'of the four people currently receiving anti-rabies prophylactic treatment, three were bitten by cats'.

'As foreseen by the authorities, the fox, which was the principal source of infection, has now given way to the smaller animals such as the skunk, rabbit, coon, squirrel, etc. These, in turn, are more likely to come into contact with family pets and infect these', it was stated.

'It may well be that smaller animals in this county may harbor rabies well into the summer and extreme precautions should be used by those living in rural areas, and those who go to summer cottages', the Unit stated.

Therefore, have all your domestic household pets vaccinated especially if you are planning to live out of town during the summer', the Unit urges.

DANCE POPULAR

About seven hundred teenagers attended Ted Curt's dance party held in Picton armouries, Monday night. A feature of the evening was the drawing for a thousand dollar bill given by the Rotary Club in a draw to aid the new Memorial hospital at Picton. The winner was S. W. Meldrum of Montreal.

DIAL PHONES

Students Raise 'Canadian Flag'

WINDSOR (CP) — A band of Assumption University students Wednesday stealthily raised their version of a distinctive Canadian flag.

The flags, half red and half white, were raised on poles at city hall, the Ambassador Bridge, Assumption University, the Canadian National Institute for the Blind offices, the Red Cross Society Building, Riverfront Park, Ambassador Park and Jackson Park.

When the task was completed they sent a telegram to Prime Minister John Diefenbaker:

"Have raised distinctive Canadian flag stop Appreciate you do same stop Assumption University patriots."

STORM SNUFFS PARADE

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — A weekend blizzard dumped 15 inches of snow on the Avalon peninsula and sections of Newfoundland's south coast, snarling traffic and leaving at least 31 persons temporarily stranded. In St. John's the Easter Parade was forgotten as people tried to dig out buried cars and restore normal conditions.

CITY GIVES MACS ROUSING WELCOME

NATO Council To Study Threat Of Berlin Ouster

Hear Declarations By Three Major Powers

WASHINGTON (CP) — The NATO council today opens a study of the military implications of the Soviet threat to drive the West out of Berlin and turn the city over to its puppet East German regime.

Military and political chiefs of the 15-nation Atlantic alliance, here to celebrate the group's 10th anniversary, tackle the developing German crisis on the heels of a call by the NATO big three—Britain, France and the United States—for a firm stand in the face of the threatened Soviet ultimatum.

VIEWS OUTLINED

The council representatives, opening a three-day meeting, gathered Thursday for brief opening ceremonies and then quickly went behind closed doors to hear these declarations by the major powers:

1. A warning by Britain's Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd that the West must accept no German settlement that would weaken NATO and lead to the departure of American and Canadian troops from European bases.

2. A pledge by Acting U.S. State Secretary Christian Herter that the U.S. will use all the might of its arsenal of missiles and aircraft to defend West Berlin—if need be, to block further Soviet expansion.

3. A call by French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville for a strong front lest the West suffer diplomatic defeat over Berlin.

GIVE VIEWS

The three big-power spokesmen detailed their governments' views after giving the council still secret report of their deliberations here Tuesday and Wednesday in preparation for the May 11 East-West foreign ministers' conference on the German problem.

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano, reported to oppose any concessions at the Western approach to Russia, was scheduled to indicate his governments stand today.

Defence Minister G. H. Hees, leading a 20-man Canadian delegation, also was expected to summarize Canada's position.

Conference briefing officers, reporting on Thursday's deliberations, said Herter told the council the U.S. feels the Soviet Union will not back down on the Berlin issue if she becomes convinced the West will use military power to maintain its rights in the old German capital.

Hammarskjold Says Khrushchev Is Serious

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold says there is a serious will to negotiate on the Berlin crisis. He recently had long talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

At his first press conference since he saw Khrushchev, he said Thursday:

"There is a will, and a serious will, to negotiate, and to negotiate in the most serious sense of the word, that is to say not in order to mark time but in order to get somewhere."

He said statesmen involved in any negotiations are likely to take into account "what, if anything, the United Nations can do in various situations which may arise."

But he said he had not given thought to attending any such conference himself because "at present time it is not anything which is of practical in-

New Immigration Curbs Affect Italian Entries

OTTAWA (CP) — New immigration curbs aimed mainly at preventing Italians in Canada from bringing in large numbers of relatives have been put into effect by the federal government.

The new regulations, made effective by cabinet order-in-council, stops the flow to Canada from a large number of countries, including Italy, of all but the closest relatives of Canadian residents.

The action was taken mainly because of a steady rise in the number of Italian citizens with relatives in Canada who have applied to come to this country, a government official said.

Fled to Mexico But Bank Robber Returned Home

TORONTO (CP)—A 26-year-old youth pleaded guilty Thursday to the $1,700 robbery of an east-end Toronto bank and told the court he did it "because I looked an easy way to get some money."

Stewart Cottingham was extradited earlier Thursday in Buffalo, N.Y. He said he was on his way back to Europe.

Toronto detectives who picked him up in Buffalo said he apparently had no money left. He apparently spent $1,000 of the bank loot on a trip through the United States with a 15-year-old girl companion.

Cottingham, who was remanded for sentence until April 9, told the court:

"I escaped down to Mexico but figured the best thing to do was come back and face it."

Today's Chuckle

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: A vigorous storm today brought moderate rain to Southern Ontario and snow to the Georgian Bay regions. The North had mostly clear skies.

On Saturday the storm will be centred in the Maritimes allowing partial clearing in Southern Ontario while cloudy skies and a few flurries are expected in central and eastern regions. Little change in temperature is foreseen.

NEHRU DECLARES SAFE ARRIVAL OF DALAI LAMA

Will Be Given Political Asylum

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Dalai Lama, 23-year-old god - king of Tibet, slipped across the border into India three nights ago in a successful escape from pursuing Chinese Communists.

Prime Minister Nehru, in announcing the Buddhist ruler's safe arrival to a cheering Parliament today, indicated that he would quickly be given political asylum.

"Yes, he is in good health," Nehru declared in disclosing the end of a dramatic 7-day manhunt in which the Chinese Communists tried to head off the 24-year-old youthful monarch worshipped by Tibetans as a living Buddha.

Tibetan exiles today hailed the escape. They declared the Dalai Lama still is their god-king.

Prayers of thanksgiving were offered by Tibetan exiles from New Delhi to Kalimpong, the town nearest Tibet's frontier. The people at Kalimpong went wild with joy.

NOW IN INDIA

"The government of Tibet now is in India," said Silun Lukhwangwa, former premier of Tibet now in New Delhi. "There is only one legal and constitutional government of Tibet and it will always be wherever the Dalai Lama is."

Well-informed exile sources in New Delhi said:

Radar Plane Crashes

ARGENTIA, Nfld. (CP) — A United States radar Constellation aircraft of the Atlantic barrier force crashed and burned on landing here Thursday night, killing seven persons and seriously injuring several of the 24-man crew.

The U.S. Air Force officials declined to give the names of the dead man or the exact number injured.

Schoolchildren Have It Too Easy Need More Work Says Scot Teacher

TORONTO CP: — Mrs. Jean Thomson speaks with authority and says Canadian children need some of the rigors of Scottish schooling.

The new president of the Ontario Educational Association—Canada's biggest school organization with more than 100,000 teachers, school trustees, inspectors, professors and housewives—is gentle, bespectacled and 52. Her husband is a retired engineer in a hamlet called Innerkip between Woodstock in Southwestern Ontario.

She has spent eight years as a public school teacher and a full time executive secretary of the Ontario School Trustees Association, and now is rearing her third child since coming to Canada from Scotland 30 years ago. She still has the Scot's faith in education and hard work.

In an interview at the close of a five-day convention Thursday, she said it's a reality to many like Canada laid greater em-

Consumer Price Index Falls For 4th Consecutive Month

OTTAWA (CP) — Living costs declined during February for the fourth consecutive month, reducing the consumer price index by one-fifth of a point to 125.5 on March 1 from 125.7 on Feb. 1.

The February decline was caused mainly by lower food prices, including beef, pork, coffee, sugar, fats and fresh tomatoes. There offset a number of other increases, the bureau of statistics reported today.

In the last four months the consumer price index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, has dropped by a total four-fifths of a point from the record 126.3 set Nov. 1, 1958. The bureau said the decline was attributable mainly to a lower food index. "Most of this was seasonal in nature."

On average, food prices were lower at March 1 than a year ago. Compared with last year, the prices for fruits, vegetables, eggs and pork ranged between four and eight per cent lower while beef was up 14 per cent.

While food prices continued to decline during February, the cost of owning a home increased, along with clothing, household items and automobile repairs and operations. Cost of new passenger cars and batteries declined slightly.

The sub-index for food dropped for the fifth consecutive month, declining by one-fifth of a point during February to 120 on March 1. This compared with the peak of 123.4 last Oct. 1.

Shelter costs rose slightly, with rents remaining stable but home - ownership costs increasing. This section of the consumer price index rose by one-tenth of a point to a high of 140.3.

Clothing prices which eased slightly during January increased during February as year-opening sales ended. This sub-index increased to 109.4, up three-fifths of a point.

Up three-tenths of a point was the household operations column which rose to a record 122.5 as furniture prices rose along with fuel oil and coal, soaps, detergents and laundry rates.

Smallwood Does Not Intend To See P.M. on Ottawa Visit

OTTAWA (CP) — Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland said Thursday night he does not intend to meet Prime Minister Diefenbaker when he visits Ottawa next week.

Mr. Diefenbaker had said earlier he would be glad to meet with the premier.

The two leaders have exchanged barbs at long range recently over several issues.

Mr. Smallwood is expected here Tuesday to address the Canadian Club Wednesday noon.

He said Thursday night he is getting discussion on federal grants to Newfoundland to W. J. Browne, the province's representative in the cabinet, and James A. McGrath, Progressive Conservative member for St. John's East.

He was referring to Mr. Diefenbaker's announcement in the Commons March 24 that special grants averaging $8,000,000 annually to Newfoundland will be continued only until 1962, by which time a general review of federal fiscal relations with the provinces will have been made.

Mr. Smallwood on March 25 accused Mr. Diefenbaker of "betraying" Newfoundland in three instances, and this was one of them.

A spokesman for the prime minister's office said it is "usual" for provincial premiers to pay a courtesy visit to the prime minister if in Ottawa for a matter of ways and have time.

In his talk to reporters Mr. Diefenbaker also said:

1. A royal commission will be set up to conduct the government's promised long-range inquiry into freight rates and allied problems of the railways and their users. Details of the commission setup might be announced today.

2. The government will move quickly after the Commons recess Monday to introduce legislation establishing a national energy board on oil and gas, as recommended by the Borden energy commission last October.

3. The government will act promptly to fill Newfoundland Supreme Court appointments if the province proclaims its legislation to increase the number of judges to four from three.

A delay in filling the province's supreme court vacancy caused by the death last December of Chief Justice Sir Albert Walsh was another instance of "betrayal" cited by Mr. Smallwood.

Claude Jodoin, Canadian Labor Congress president, commented Thursday on Premier Smallwood's proposal to amend his recent labor legislation. He said

NEW EDUCATION RESEARCH BODY HAS BEEN FORMED

OEA Meet Attended By 10,000 Delegates

TORONTO (CP)—A new council will co - ordinate, correlate and disseminate the results of educational research in Ontario.

The Ontario Education Research Council was formed by the Ontario Teachers Federation, meeting in conjunction with the 95th annual convention of the Ontario Education Association which closed Thursday.

A teachers' federation announcement said Dr. R. W. B. Jackson, director of the department of educational research, Ontario College of Education, will be president of the new council which will be composed of representatives of various educational bodies, other organizations and individuals interested in the project.

DISCUSS MANY TOPICS

About 10,000 delegates attended the OEA convention and heard thousands of words from a variety of speakers. The convention opened Monday and for most of the week was divided into some 39 sections which dealt with everything from rural schools to music.

The 16th annual convention of the Catholic Education Conference also was held this week.

One of the OEA sections, the Ontario Federation of Home and School Associations, passed a resolution asking the government

Crowds Estimated At Over 30,000 Greet Champions

Colorful Parade Precedes Reception at Armouries

By GEORGE H. CARVER
Sports Editor

The Belleville McFarlands returned in triumph from their title seeking European odyssey yesterday.

Canada's new world hockey champions rode straight into the heart and arms of the city whose name they bore so proudly in their successful quest for global puck honors.

Wildly-cheering crowds in this hockey-mad city gave the returning champions the greatest homecoming ovation ever accorded a representative group.

Fan-packed streets were kaleidoscopes of color. Gay floats, majorettes, bands, marching clowns swelled the parade that escorted the homecoming heroes.

It was estimated that 30,000 people from all parts of the district were in the city to greet the champions.

Deafening cheers echoed in the armouries where the McFarlands were given a post-parade close-up welcome by Mayor Gerald Hyde and Mayor H. J. McFarland.

Brief addresses were given by the chief magistrates and officials of the team and Booster Club, while the players were introduced individually from a bunting-covered dais.

"Regardless of the weatherman's non-co-operation, the local crowd estimated that the Macs today left nothing but sunshine in their wake for the victorious homecomers," Mayor Hyde said in formally welcoming the team.

A thunderous ovation greeted Mayor McFarland as he stepped to the microphone. "This is a great moment for me," he said. "I have never been prouder of my town than I am right now, and I am glad to have been able to play the small part I did in helping this wonderful team of champions. It should be brought to the attention of the prime minister and the premiers of the provinces what a wonderful job this club did for the Dominion of Canada while they were overseas.

"We are going to do something now. We are going to see playing for the honor of Belleville, Hastings and Prince Edward county."

Mayor McFarland also paid tribute to the Macs' Booster Club, saying, "without this fine aggregation of fans, the Macs would not have been able to go on and win the world title."

President Jack Bateman of the Booster Club said, "This is absolutely the greatest moment of my life. The tremendous glory in the achievement of the Macs is wonderful to see and title. On behalf of the Booster Club I say God bless the McFarlands. They are the world's greatest.

Debbie Consents to Nevada Divorce Wishing Liz and Eddie Happiness

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An emotional Debbie Reynolds said Eddie Fisher today made plans for a private wedding that will make Elizabeth Taylor his bride Saturday.

"No one will know about it until it's over," the lyrical actress told a reporter Thursday night.

"We are both very grateful to Debbie."

She was referring to Debbie Reynolds, Hollywood star, who announced Thursday she would not oppose Fisher's desire to get a divorce so he could marry Miss Taylor.

Miss Taylor and Fisher have been living in Los Angeles after a transpolar flight from a movie location in Spain.

A reporter told Liz and Eddie of Debbie's statement while the two were at the $500 - a - week ranch that Miss Taylor rents while Fisher performs nearby at the Tropicana Hotel.

"Liz is flipping," said Fisher,

"She's jumping all over the place. I'm grateful that Debbie did this."

Then Liz got on the telephone and said: "I'm happy it's almost passed out at the news."

Fisher said he probably will assume responsibility in his divorce suit against Debbie.

Debbie was smiling and gracious at the Los Angeles airport Thursday. But her manner was strained when she read Eddie's announcement a crispy: "Yes, I will contest."

She then expressed some bitterness because she had learned of Fisher's latest entreaty from reporters.

"This has caught me a little by surprise to say the least," she said. "However, this will be my last statement on the subject. I'm sure everyone is frustrated by this topic as much as I am. I'll wish Elizabeth and Eddie happiness."

Four Naval Airmen Missing Off Bermuda

HALIFAX (CP) — Three ships continued the search today for four men missing since their Royal Canadian Navy Trackers crashed 100 miles off Bermuda Thursday night.

A navy spokesman here identified three of the missing as Lieut. George B. Houghton of St. Thomas and Windsor, Ont., who now lives at Head of Jeddore, N.S., pilot; Sub-Lt. Gary E. Logan, Q.C., of Ottawa, co-pilot, and PO Allan Hunter, 32, of Toronto, observer.

Name of the fourth crew member will be released when relatives have been notified.

The Tracker-type aircraft Tracker plane careened into the sea while trying to land on the carrier Bonaventure. The ship is taking part in NATO exercises.

Lindsay Man Is Surrounded By Ten Moose

LINDSAY (CP) — Grenville Martin has a bet tip for moose hunters: Next fall try Bruton Township, 60 miles north of Peterborough.

Mr. Martin was inspecting timber on his property in Bruton recently when he discovered a set of moose tracks and began following them. He had his police dog on a leash.

Suddenly he came upon three large moose. Afraid they might be inclined to attack the dog, he turned right to steer clear of them.

A few steps later he found four moose barring his path. He turned back and encountered two others. Trying still another direction, he almost ran into a 10th animal.

Finally Mr. Martin found a clear path and quickly left the area. He said none of the animals displayed any fear of him.

The incident was told in weekly lands and forests bulletin for Lindsay district.

Water Diversion Could Cost Hydro $360,000 a Year

DETROIT (CP)—Ontario will lose $360,000 a year in Hydro electric power production should Chicago be successful in its attempt to divert additional water from Lake Michigan into the Chicago drainage canal, Lyle E. Bryan, senior engineer with the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, said here.

Mr. Bryce Thursday night told a symposium he was called to consolidate opposition to the proposed diversion, that New York state would suffer an equal loss as its hydro developments at Niagara Falls and the mouth of the Lawrence if the diversion is permitted.

He added that Quebec would also suffer heavily from the diversion.

The symposium, attended by officials from seven Great Lakes states and Ontario, was sponsored by 10 Canadian and American organizations, and has been endorsed by labor groups in both countries.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials passed the stock market forward today in moderately-active opening trading.

The 11 a.m. volume was 1,174,000 shares, slightly less than Thursday's 1,375,000 at the same hour.

The best speculative gain went to Consolidated Halliwell, up 6 cents at 96 cents. Can-Erin lost 9 cents at 81.65.

Among industrials Chrysler Corp. had the outstanding single gain, rising 7 points at 62½ on a single sale.

Gaining ½ were Abitibi, Aluminium, Argus and General Development.

International Nickel was a standout in base metals, rising 1¼ at 80. Falconbridge and Quemont each added ¼ but Noranda dipped ¼ at 73.

Consolidated Discovery dipped 10 cents at $2.75 for the major change in golds.

Thursday industrials and western oils inched higher.

On index western oils were up .20 to 132.99, and industrials .24 to 329.33. Golds dipped .25 to 90.02 while base metals were down .11 to 179.70.

Final volume was 5,901,000 shares, compared with Wednesday's 4,275,000.

Five speculative mines accounted for almost half the total volume. New Kelore was the most active, up 2 cents at 25 cents on a turnover of 1,120,005 shares. It was the first issue to more than 1,000,000 shares in more than six months.

General Development for the second day featured the industrial list, being the most active and heaviest loser. Continuing to recet to heavy selling in New York, where the selling is under investigation by the American Stock Exchange, it dipped 6¾ points at 46 on a turnover of 13,450 shares. In two days it has lost 14¾ points. Toronto exchange officials said the stock is not under investigation here.

Among the other industrials International Paper had the best gain, up 4 at 119. Most groups were mixed although refining oils and pipelines were easier.

In western oils Hudson's Bay added ½ at 18½ and Canadian Husky ¼ at 11¾.

Geco, down 1 at 21, was the major loser in base metals. International Nickel dipped ¼ at 85¾.

Golds Hollinger dipped ⅝ at 33⅝ for the big change. Canadian Malartic was the most active at $33.91 to $34.03 an ounce.

General Strike Proposal Gets No Support

TORONTO (CP) — A proposal that labor stage a general strike in support of the International Woodworkers of America (CLC) in Newfoundland got no support Thursday night at a meeting of the Toronto and District Labor Council.

Robert Gregeau, director of the general Textile Board of the Textile Workers Union of America (CLC), made the proposal and said a fund-raising campaign initiated by the parent Canadian Labor Congress would get win the IWA's strike nor hurt Newfoundland Premier SmalIwood.

The IWA's two Newfoundland locals were decertified by the Newfoundland legislature after a strike marked by violence.

Mr. Gareau attempted to read a telegram from officers of a group of unions in Elliot Lake, Ont., urging more aggressive action on behalf of the IWA. He was ruled out of order.

It was reported the telegram noted that no world-wide boycott of Newfoundland paper companies has been initiated by the CLC.

Council President William Jenoves said every thing possible is being done to help the IWA and representations have been made to the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions for assistance.

Two Youths Face Trials for Life

TORONTO (CP) —The grand jury for the spring assizes of the Ontario Supreme Court returned two true bills for murder Thursday.

The murder indictments were against 18-year-old John Bell and 16-year-old Lionel Brady, both of Toronto.

Bell is charged with the bludgeon-strangle slaying of Stephen Lysyk, 31, and Brady with the March 9 icepick slaying of 31-year-old Ida Dean.

Says Year-Round Use of Seaway Is Not Feasible

CHICAGO AP) — Year-round operation of the St. Lawrence Seaway is not feasible, the head of the federal seaway agency said Thursday.

Lewis G. Castle, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation, said the cost of keeping the seaway clear of ice would be "phenomenal."

Castle, speaking at a press conference, described as impractical a suggestion that air bubblers could keep the channels free of ice.

He said such a method might work in small, narrow channels, but not in the seaway and the Great Lakes' connecting channels.

"Maybe de-icing can be accomplished through application of atomic energy in 20 or 25 years," Castle said.

Air Ranger Presented With Gold Cord

TRENTON — Air Ranger Sally Crewe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Crewe, R.R. 1, Trenton, received Guiding's highest award, a gold cord certificate, at Convocation Hall, University of Toronto, yesterday.

Miss Crewe, who is 17 and a grade 13 student in Trenton High School, was one of 40 Guides from all over Ontario who received such awards, which were presented by Mrs. Keiller MacKay, honorary president of the Ontario Council, Girl Guides Association.

Miss Crewe was chosen for the Gold Cord award for her ten-year length of service in Brownies, Guides and Air Rangers, and for the fact that she is a First Class Guide, with a large number of proficiency badges. She also was highly recommended by a court of honor, camp commandant, and Air Ranger Captain.

Two years ago Miss Crewe was chosen to attend the World Camp in England, and has since given instruction to Guide and Brownie groups, illustrated by the albums she took with her. These activities also helped to qualify her for the gold cord award, as have her proficiency carrying out of the other tasks which were set for her in this connection.

Way to Extract Strontium-90 From Milk Found

OTTAWA (CP)—An Ottawa biochemist has found a way to separate strontium-90 from milk.

Dr. B. B. Migicovsky, the federal agriculture department's chief consultant in radiation biology, reported Thursday night he had made the separation by using "Dowex 50" — a substance similar to water softeners used by housewives.

His findings may point the way to protection against the harmful effects of strontium-90, the deadly radioactive element in fallout from nuclear explosions.

Dr. Migicovsky announced his discovery in an address to the Ottawa section of the Chemical Institute of Canada.

"If you can remove strontium from milk, a great proportion of your strontium intake would be eliminated," he said.

At the time, Dr. Migicovsky debunked present "panic" over radioactive fallout, saying the danger is "greatly exaggerated."

"There seems no danger in present levels of strontium-90," he said.

"I am not suggesting there now is sufficient strontium in milk that we should bother to get rid of it," he said.

Picton Firm Awarded Contract at Barrie

TORONTO (CP) — First step in a program to clean up pollution of Lake Simcoe at Barrie was announced Wednesday by the Ontario Water Resources Commission.

A $34,500 contract for fill was awarded to George A. Crowe Construction Company of Picton, which will place 81,500 tons of granular fill and 650 tons of rock along the shoreline of Kempenfeldt Bay.

Area Commander Pays Visit To Hasty Pees

The Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment was visited Thursday by Brigadier Eric Snow, commanding officer of the Eastern Ontario Area. His purpose was to discuss training and administration problems and techniques and to check on the flood control situation.

Ever since the possibility of a serious flood became evident in this area about 500 military personel have been on constant 24-hour notice stand by orders. Two battalions of the Royal School of Artillery at Picton, one company of the Royal Canadian School of Signals at Kingston, and one squadron of the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers School, also of Kingston, have been on stand-by orders. Easter holidays for these men were curtailed in order to provide this 24-hour notice readiness to assist Belleville in the event of a flood. Arrangements were set up to proportionately shorten the notice required for the 24-hour stand by.

Toronto Woman Named Head of Ontario Liberals

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Jean McKenzie Brown of Toronto has been elected by acclamation as president of the Ontario Women's Liberal Association, succeeding Judy LaMarsh of Niagara Falls.

The women met Thursday on the eve of a one-day annual convention of the Ontario Liberal Association, billed as the start of the party's campaign in the provincial election expected this summer.

Vice-presidents elected include Mrs. Donald Shaver of Galt, Mrs. Gordon Harrison of Harriston and Mrs. Margaret Newman of Ottawa.

Mrs. Gordon Raynor of Brantford was elected treasurer.

NUCLEAR PROTEST

LONDON (CP) — About 1,000 people are expected to take part in a march to the atomic research station at Aldermaston near here at Easter, part of a campaign against nuclear warfare.

Trenton's town clerk-treasurer, O. W. Larry, looks over the town as he goes up the full 65 feet of the new combination aerial ladder and pumper truck purchased by the town. There is some confusion as to where the new truck will be stationed. It will either be in the fire hall at the Market Square or the town sheds on the east side of the river. This will be decided by the members of the protection to persons and property committee. The ladder and pumper is still undergoing rigid tests by the local fire department and it was during one of these tests that Mr. Larry took his ride. (Photo by Georgeson.)

MODIFICATIONS TO OUR PRISONS

We notice in the current edition of Saturday Night that some editorial thought is given to the problem of the reform of the penitentiary program in Canada. In the view of new horizons and endless progress in psychology, psychiatry, and criminology and the backing of their various theories and findings with accumulated facts it is quite evident that "stone walls do not a prison make," at least not with the end result which we come to expect of such an institution today.

Some comment was made on the necessity and problem of a public education program - - a program "which will outline how the Canadian public can be persuaded that far-reaching reform of our penitentiary program is both desirable and necessary."

We feel that there can be little doubt that the penitentiary program can stand some extensive modification generally. We do not know, however, the need for a nation-wide education program of the Canadian public in order to facilitate these modications. The modifications of the penal structure can be achieved quite readily by an act of Parliament once the Correctional Planning Committee of the federal Department of Justice has made its investigations and recommendations.

We feel that the monies spent on a public persuasion program might be better spent on the education, reform, and adjustment of those within the walls than of those without.

Public apathy, we realize, can be stifling, but we feel with a government in Ottawa that can act swiftly as that which curtailed the Arrow project in the face of what it undoubtedly knew would be more than usual comment and condemnation, surely the problem of penal reform can be adequately and quickly handled.

Saturday Night states "public apathy about the treatment of convicts in this country is as thick as the walls which surround our federal prisons - - and as difficult to pierce." Perhaps the committee of MacLeod, Stone and McLaughlin, working on this problem would be happy to obtain a Mickey McDonald to show them the way through those thick walls of apathy - - and of the Kingston Penitentiary.

WHAT A LANGUAGE!

"Most of us," complains the Hamilton Spectator, "have been up against serious problems where thoughts translated laboriously from English into another language fail to convey real understanding."

If only it was as simple as that! How easy life would be if difficulty in conveying "real understanding" occurred only when the spoken or written word had to be translated from one language into another!

Alas, real understanding is not as commonplace as might be inferred from the Spectator's complaint. We suspect it is the exception, rather than the rule, in any discussion involving something more complex than the time of day or the sum of two and two.

An advertisement in a Toronto newspaper invited applications from persons "with the most friendly terms with the English language." But how can one be on friendly terms with a language in which it is absolutely correct and completely accurate to say that the duties of this person would be to have oversight of the work of reporters and to check this work for oversights?

How can one overlook the difficulties of dealing in a language in which the first definition of the word "oversight" is "watchful care" and the second definition is "a mistake of inadvertence," especially when the word "overlook" can mean "to view fully" and also "to pay no attention?"

SHALL WE DANCE?

If anyone has wondered as to the purpose of the Native Sons of Canada movement they probably would not have been enlightened by a remark which one of the officials of that group made to a Toronto newspaper recently.

The remark was instigated by the recent Indian uprising on the Six Nations reserve where a group of the natives decided to secede from Canada and form their own nation. In the process of committing his organization to the war dance of the restless this gentleman stated "We're not sure what the Indians at Brantford are trying to do but we believe it's our duty to help them."

In other words: "We do not know what the orchestra is doing here but let's have the war dance anyways."

THE CLOCK
By EDGAR A. GUEST

The patient, plodding clock
Should tell
(If noble use you make of it)
How you can use your minutes well;

Not merely that it's time to quit.

The clock ticks off each second,
Begins another straightaway;
As minutes into hours grow,
So little deeds to great ones may.

The pendulum sways to and fro
As though to idle were a
No clock was ever meant to show
Merely the hour of quitting time.

Young man, now staring at the clock,
Take up your pen and go to work.
What matters now the hour of day?
Great deeds behind those minutes lurk.

As slowly moves that minute hand,
So slips away your chance to climb.
So many failures in this land
Have watched the clock for quitting time.

If you would use the clock aright,
Look at it every day to ask
If it will spare you time enough
To undertake another task?

Use Driverless Tractors

U.K. Information Service

ERIC, a non-person, will soon be guiding two driverless tractor trailers for British Electric Traction. The tractors, Roto-bugs — will go into service in April fitted with ERIC (Electronic Remote and Independent Control) to enable them to trundle about pulling their loads entirely unattended by a driver.

The new British contribution to the age of automation has been developed and manufactured by E. M. I. Electronics Ltd., Middlesex, England. The first order for this control system for tractor trailers was placed by the Western Region of British Railways, which has pioneered many labor-saving devices in the past. It is expected that ERIC, fitted to two Wynajor tractor trailers, will improve service in the freight handling departments at Newton Abbot, Devonshire, England.

ERIC is described as a simple, safe and foolproof system. Control is from a remote panel; the object to be towed is placed on the right path in a length of ordinary electric wire in which a desired route which it follows like a bloodhound on the scent. An oil engine of specified frequency is passed through the wire, which is buried below the surface of the floor for temporary routes or laid just beneath the surface if the route is to be permanent. Two sensing coils fixed in the front of the tractor trailer pick up signal currents from the magnetic field which has been set up, and keep it on the desired path. There is no physical connection between the wire and the guiding device.

Immediately the control current is switched on, the Roto-bug on the Rotobug are automatically released and it sets off on its driverless journey along the wire.

A stop signal—can be flashed from the control panel to apply the brakes automatically. There are built-in safeguards to prevent suddenly stopping the "tug" if the route is obstructed or if some failure should occur in the control system.

As long as the tractor remains on its true course, the steering motors and manufactured by the two pick-up coils is equal and the electrical control is not operated. Immediately it tends to wander, however, the current induced becomes unbalanced, and amplified signals operate a servo motor coupled to the steering mechanism. The motor immediately restores the Robotug to its intended course.

For almost all practical requirements the distance over which the tractors may be controlled is unlimited. Another big advantage is that the complete control system has a very low power consumption. The oil engine, outside a factory, for instance on temporary building sites, is also valuable in all cases where main current supplies might not be available, for it can be operated entirely from batteries.

Transistors, which give maximum reliability and almost unlimited life, are used throughout the electronic design. The Robotug can be operated manually as well as automatically; the changeover is made by moving a single lever.

Future developments may well include the full automation of complex routes, so that loads can be automatically coupled, taken to their destination and released without any supervision at all.

Rustlers Still Active

Milwaukee Sunday Journal

Critics of television movies often complain that Americans are forgetting their cares of today in nostalgic return to days that are no more, days of the cowboys and Indians, cattle rustling.

They're wrong. Charles A. Stewart, secretary of the Texas and South west Cattle Raisers' Association, says that "there are more cattle being rustled today than back in 1877, when our association was formed to bring cattle thieves under control".

The old days of the cowboy, a herd and running it off are good. Stewart said. The old West is gone, but the loss to cattlemen is not so much as discarded Christmas tree.

Some rustling is done at the fringe of cities where cattle are fattened for the market, he said. A lot of this, the lawmen feel, probably goes to supply home freezers. Quite a bit of cattle rustling is done by youngsters, who take a steer in the herd of their car and pick up a few hundred dollars. In the nine months ending in November, Stewart's association traced down the recovered 1,000 head of beef cattle, valued at $148,161.

You don't need a man for cattle stealing any more. But, as one cattleman said, "out here we consider stealing a calf as serious as kidnaping a baby". And the Federal government of Interstation enters rustling cases when cattle are taken across a State line, which is similar to kidnaping-cases.

Biggest headaches for ranchers are the "shade-tree butchers" — the thieves who kill and butcher from one cow right in town and carry off the meat. It's hard to stem down a case of beef. And with meat prices as high as they are, such butchering is a temptation. So don't laugh at the people who like Western pictures filled with rustlers. They're interested in a modern problem.

Many Changes In 1,000 Days

Stratford Beacon - Herald

A Victoria, B.C., woman, Dr. Anne Steel, has now lain unconscious for more than 1,000 days. The Vancouver Province says it cannot be certain that she would think of the world, if she ere to regain consciousness.

A thousand days does not sound so very long against little calendar of history and yet, since that May day in 1936, Anne Steel was tragically injured in a holiday riding accident, there have been some startling changes.

A thousand days ago there was no Spanish war and no threat of the prospect that there ever would be one seemed far in the future.

The world was still buoyed up with the German remilitarization. Like Abou Ben Adhem (may..his tribe increase!)—he had risen, enabled, in defiance of peace.

The Liberal Government seemed the inevitable order of things in Canada for all eternity.

The recession was far ahead. Cars had only two headlights and the most rudimentary of tail fins.

Pink shirts were the thing for men.

Nobody had heard about public people electors, or the bulldozer, or rock 'n' roll was brand new.

Nobody thought General de Gaulle would come out of retirement to power.

Ghana was still a Crown colony; the United Arab Republic did not exist; Kenya-Mau-Mau was largely bottled up in Kenya.

China had not yet added the word "commune" to her vocabulary.

The list could be many times that length.

And all this in 1,000 days.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

NEVER ADMIT DEFEAT

When our mind is solidly set upon a possible enterprise, it should take little courage to make the initial attempt. If we had just better—keep out of the rut and fashion our way ahead. Spring, with its new potential good eyesight. Also a never varying purpose. You may have to plunge into many a black cloud, but bear in mind that clouds, too, disappear and the sun comes to the yours again.

Never admit defeat. The moment you do, you lost all for which you dreamed. Keep your chin up. Train yourself to be silent. Keep making yourself more and more interesting. Then people will be interested in you. But be a victor — every day of your life. Give this one thought to it. Was the title of my first little book of Talks — You Can!

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

STATIC ELECTRICITY PRODUCES REAL SHOCKS

"Dear Dr. Molner: I've read your column ever since it started. Now I have a problem. Why do I get so many shocks, and what can I do to stop them? I get a shock every time I touch my TV I get a shock. I had the set checked and it is all right. In a store I touched another woman in passing and what a shock! I've been told this is from carpeting and shoes. I've worn rubbers on my shoes, and I wear sneakers in the house but these don't help. Have you heard of other cases like this? Is it serious? — Mrs. C.K."

The above letter was written when this year's rugged winter was still upon us, by now the springtime may be putting an end to your troubles.

Yes, I've had other people puzzled and annoyed at the same thing. It isn't anything to worry about, it is just annoying.

It is static electricity, caused by friction, when you walk, especially on a cold day you can rub a harg rubber comb (we used to use that kind) and develop enough electricity so that it will pick up little scraps of paper.

Well, you get a shock from it by the scuffing of your feet on the carpet, or on the floor, and the shock is just the friction of your clothes for instance, can build up a charge of (static) electric charge.

You don't feel it until this charge jumps from you to something else — especially when you touch a metal — like lightning bolt, only many billions of times smaller) finds its way to the ground. The switch, the faucet, or the stove which is probably grounded by the pipe, and you feel that shock as the charge of electricity rushes to dissipate itself in the ground.

DRAINS OF:

Maybe you've noticed that gasoline trucks usually have a piece of chain going so that it touches the ground. This is to let friction-created electricity drain off as it is created. A spark might set gasoline fumes afire.

Or in hospitals these days, very strict rules are observed in operating rooms because ether and some other anaesthetics are explosive, and a spark might, occasionally, do it.

The floors are of a kind which will conduct electricity, and the nurses wear shoes on the floor to the ground before it has built up to the sparking point. Likewise everyone is required to wear cotton — not nylon — stockings.

Because, you see, cotton becomes moist; the other things don't. Maybe you've noticed slightly moist — but moist enough to prevent static from being created, or, in any event, letting the static drain off along the moist piece.

You didn't get very good advice about how to prevent static shoes. Rubber is an insulator, and won't let the static pass. The gas trucks have rubber tires, don't they?

As the weather turns warmer and moister, the static problem subsides. But if we have another very cold winter, with very dry houses, people will get very little shocks again. The solution: Keep the house moist (lots of water in the furnace if it has a humidifier pan, or fish pans of water under or on top of radiators, etc.) don't expect rubber shoes to help, as they won't avoid static, wipe on lotion clothes if you are that much troubled.

Mrs. A.B.: From all you tell me, your boy is developing slowly from natural reasons. My best advice and I think it is excellent advice — is frankly to have your dentist examine his teeth to see if they are unduly late.

Note to A.F.: Some types of epilepsy have a tendency to be inherited, other forms have absolutely nothing to do with heredity.

Bed wetting can be conquered! To learn how, write to me in care of The Chicago Sunday Tribune, P.O. Box 176, Dalefield, Illfiois, requesting a copy of my booklet "Seven Ways To Stop Bed Wetting," and enclosing a large self-addressed stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Tax Snoopin Is Justified

Windsor Star

There often is resentment about income "snoopers" who go about checking up to make sure everyone pays his or her allotted taxes. Some statistics from Ottawa, however, put a different light on the picture.

In 1938 alone National Revenue assessors and auditors found $4,000,000 in income tax by making these checks. Nor is that unusual. In 1937 the total recovered was $3,843,000, and in 1936, $78,744,000. Those are large amounts.

Some of it would be accounted for by honest errors. But one must deduct a large part of it due to deliberate attempts at evasion. Another deduction is that these attempts would frequently have been by large taxpayers. There is much room for a large evasion in the payroll payment plan.

If $50,000,000 were recovered last year, with taxpayers aware that snoopers were being checked upon, how much would be involved if taxpayers knew they weren't subject to rigorous inspection? It could soon become a national scandal. The federal exchequer cheated of large proportion of its right revenue.

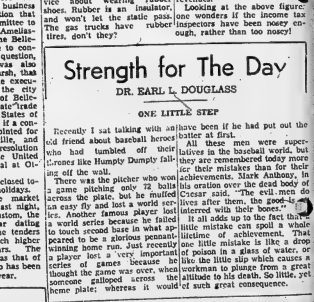
Looking at the above figures, one wonders if the income tax inspectors have been nosey enough, rather than too nosey!

Strength for The Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

ONE LITTLE STEP

Recently I sat talking with an old friend about baseball heroes who had tumbled off their pedestals. Among the names mentioned were Humpty Dumpty falling off the wall.



There was the pitcher who won a game pitching only 72 balls across the plate. But he also threw fly and lost a world series. Another famous player lost a world series when he failed to touch second base in what appeared to be a glorious pennant-winning home run. Just recently another player lost a very important series of games because he thought the game was over, when someone called him back to home plate; whereas it would have been if he had put out the batter at first.

All these men were superlative in the baseball world, but they are remembered today more for their mistakes than for their achievements. Mark Anthony, in his oration over the dead body of Cæsar said, "The evil men do lives after them, the good is interred with their bones."

It all adds up to the fact that little mistake can overshadow a lifetime of achievement. That one little mistake is like a drop of poison in a glass of water, or like the little slip which causes a workman to plunge from a great height to his death. So little, yet of such great consequence.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

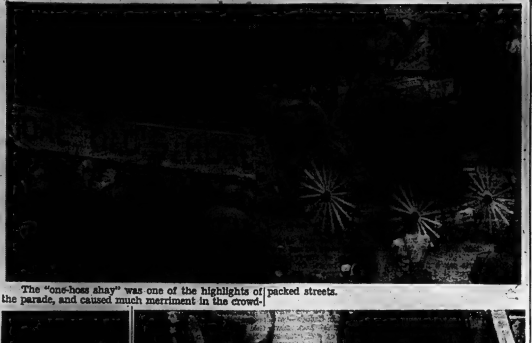
By R. J. SCOTT

THE PACKSACK
By GREGORY CLARK

Salads are now so common-place a part of the diet of all levels of the community that it is hard to convince people that within the memory of the older generation, salads were a sort of fancy luxury, served on special occasions.

This was natural, since lettuce was available only during the local growing season. The same was true of cucumbers and tomatoes. The time for salads was June. Of course there were always beets for cole slaw in winter. But out of the root house, they tasted a little woody. You were content to be living beyond your means if you had salads in winter time.

Today, the boys get salads in their lunch pails, along with their other goodies. And in the restaurants, even if you order only a sandwich, they put a little dab of salad on the side.



It is therefore time for the culinary trade to realize that the salad has come to stay. Further more, salads are growing bolder, bigger and more complex every day. To eat a modern salad with a knife, you need a knife to come to the rescue with some of the trickier portions. In addition to the meat of guidance, it is time salad tongs were invented.

These should be delicate, tendered tongs not unlike old-fashioned lump sugar tongs, but longer. And instead of having to manipulate an oil-soaked hunk of tomato or a six inch tendril of lettuce onto a meat plate, they would firmly grasp every darn bite, just bite size, in the firm pincers of the tongs.

Then each person could help himself to the salad of his choice, and place it on his own plate. Then he could eat it with his own fork, and not have to spear it with the fork of his neighbor.

Salads are now so important a part of the diet that they deserve the best.

CROWD

"The biggest thrill of my two-year sojourn as president of the Ontario Hockey Association came when the Macs won the world tournament in Prague," said Lorne Cook, OHA boss. "I am proud to be a native of Belleville and see a team from my old home town win world honors. I saw them play in the tournament. Don't let certain reports mislead you. They were gentlemen and sportsmen over there and brought honor to the OHA, Belleville and the Dominion. I hope they carry on."

Manager Drury Denyes said he thought he had the thrill of his life last May when the Macs came home with the Allan Cup. "But this is the thrill of all thrills. Pay no attention to those wacky reports you hear. These old pros are far from being over the hill. They will be with us for many years to come."

"This is the biggest thrill I have ever had in hockey," said assistant manager Billy Reay. "But I want to pay tribute to the unsung heroes of the Macs, their wives, who did such a grand job in making things easier for the boys."

The armouries echoed and re-echoed to cheers as Ike Hildebrand stepped to the microphone. Ike was visibly affected and his voice broke when he said "I am glad to be home."

Ike's son Jay tugged at his fathers' coat and looked proudly up at his dad. "I am so happy to be here I scarcely know what the say," said the popular player-coach. "I had a wonderful bunch of fellows who gave everything they had for me, and for the fine people of Belleville and for Canada. I am proud of them and what they did".

Again cheers rocketed through the armouries as the players were introduced to the fans.

WEATHER-MAN

The weather man was anything but wholeheartedly cooperative after a brilliant spring like day Wednesday. Yesterday morning it drenching rain inundated the city, putting dampers on the hopes of the Rooters and other fans. But it cleared up before noon but temperatures took a sudden drop and a chilly, penetrating wind swept in from the west.

However, thousands of fans were not to be denied and braved the coolish atmosphere to pay tribute to the returning champions.

The player-bearing Montreal train was an hour late arriving at the CNR station. Hours before, fans had begun to congregate. A large, colorful crowd wearing gay hats, carrying burgees and flags, confetti and streamers, waited patiently for train time. There was a rush for the station platform when the whistle heralded the approach of the train.

Police succeeded in restraining excited eager fans, and the player detrained quietly. Their wives and families were with them, and family reunions took place on the train as it left Kingston. The wives were taken to the eastern city by bus. Manager Denyes also met the train at Kingston and briefed the team on the sequence of events of the homecoming. Mayor McFarland joined the players at Brockville.

Police Inspector Claire Hayes and his force aided by Hastings and Prince Edward Regimental personnel did a grand job in organizing the departure of the parade from the station.

COLORFUL PARADE

Harry (Senator Claghorne) Rollins, resplendent in morning coat, striped trousers and a Calgary sombrero, was in charge of the parade. Lieut. Col. Angus B. Duffy was parade marshal.

Thirty-two convertibles were used to transport players, their wives and officials along the parade route to the armouries. Each player and his family had their own car. Their names were placarded on the front.

Marching baton-swinging majorettes and eight bands interspersed the convertibles and floats. Special mention should be made of the majorettes, who braved the cold breezes with bare limbs and not too warm uniforms. They did a grand job under their leaders.

Eight bands took part in the parade. These included the Hastey Pees; RCAF, Trenton; Belleville Municipal; Quinte Pipe Band; Colborne Band; Picton Marching Debs; Royal School of Artillery, Picton and the Picton Cub Band.

Majorette groups included those of Sheila Canning; Heather Durno; Gale Hendricks; Miss Smith; Brenda Archer, Sem Cook and Marching Debs.

A number of floats took part. These were featured by the the World Float manned by the Belleville Fire Department. Clowns performed admirably sometimes detouring from the parade with hilarious antics. A feature was a mother and baby act highlighted by a baby carriage that "leaked" intermittently.

Leaving the massed crowd at the station, the parade picked its way, led by a mounted color party, down Station street.

Turning into Front Street the motorcade was greeted with a deafening roar of cheers. Here the people were massed solidly. All the way down flag-and-bunting-bedecked Front Street the parade had to edge its way through a corridor a car's width.

DENEE GROWTH

The crowd pressing out from the pavement to almost the centre of the street on both sides was a happy, cheering, gaily bedecked throng. Hats, flags, streamers, banners waved high in a crest of color. Confetti and paper ribbons streamed from the throngs to the players and officials.

They yelled and shouted at the players as their cars passed slowly along the parade route. Kiddies crowded close up for autographs. Movie cameras clicked as did hundreds of others as fans took photographic souvenirs of the motorcade.

People shot confetti and ribbons from points of vantage on roofs and windows from upper storeys along Front Street. Faces appeared through shop windows.

The front corporation was another mass of solidity - packed humanity as the parade swung past Bridge Street on the last leg of the trip through the city.

The city was at its best for the biggest event of its kind in the history, sports and otherwise in the history of the Grand Old Lady of the Moira. Streamers of banners criss - crossed the main thoroughfares. A big banner "Home of the World Champions" fluttered over East Bridge Street off the four corners. Shop windows were gay with signs and displays welcoming the Macs.

Cheers echoed and re-echoed in the packed streets as the crowds recognized the Macs sitting smiling and waving in their convertibles. They showed no favorites. They cheered and called by name every player as he passed their vantage point.

HAPPY TO BE HOME

Gordie Bell and the rest of the boys smiled their approval. "Gosh, I'm glad to be home, but I never expected this" he grinned. Lionel Bolday was all smiles. After all he had a brand new daughter to see.

Moe Benoit and the rest of the gang were as happy as pigs in clover. Even big Al Pavelinury, "the dirtiest player overseas" was like a big schoolboy. "Brother, this was worth all the tough times we had over there" grinned big Al. "When is that big dinner?"

And so it went. A proud city welcoming home a grand team of champions in an aura of joy and happiness.

Despite the weather, staid old Belleville let her hair down in an explosion of homecoming celebration for a gallant crew of her puckchasing sons.

And from far-off Kelowna B.C. home of the Allan Cup runners-up the Packers came congratulations. Mayor R. F. Parkinson wired Mayor Hyde "Welcome Home, World Champions. Canada is proud of your achievement"

Last night it was estimated some 2,500 thronged the armouries for the city's victory dance. The players received another tremendous ovation when they were introduced from the orchestra stage where the Dominettes dispensed their famous rhythms.

Yesterday was but the beginning of the feting and celebrating.

Tuesday night the Macs will attend a civic dinner at the Hotel Quinte where they will be presented with grandfather clocks by the city fathers.

The Booster Club carries on a week from tonight with another victory banquet at the armouries. This time the players will receive gifts of engraved coffee tables.

Despite Growing African Political Unity, Continent Is Split by Many Languages

How the numerous tribal tongues still form a language problem in nations and territories of the African continent is told in this story by Russell Kiman, former Canadian Press staff writer now touring the Commonwealth.

By RUSSELL KLMAN

NAIROBI, Kenya (CP) — In awakening Africa south of the Sahara every territory has to tackle the problem of language.

Despite a growing African political unity, the continent is still split by hundreds of vernacular tongues. In many areas tribes less than 20 miles apart speak different languages. Adoption of a language acceptable to all is no easy task.

Because of its colonial past Africa today still retains the major European languages as the "lingua franca." Depending upon their historical ties, independent and colonial territories use English, French or Portuguese as their official languages in government and commerce.

But the average African who does not come into contact with Europeans, speaks only his native tongue. So as colonial territories seek independence, language can loom large as a unifying fact or as a serious obstacle to national unity.

AMERICAN ACCENT

Among independent African states south of the Sahara, Liberia, founded more than a century ago as a home for freed slaves from the United States, has been under strong American influence and English is the only official language. But it is English with an American accent. Many government servants have been educated in the U.S., and even the taxi drivers in the capital city of Monrovia tend to talk like Brooklyn cabbies.

In the French territories, suddenly plunged into self-government, policy has been to make "Frenchmen" out of the Africans. In the bush in Upper Volta Negro school children study French history and geography, as though they were at a French school.

Many educated Africans speak French as their "home" tongue, without the slightest trace of an accent.

Newly-independent Ghana, with 5,000,000 inhabitants, has six major languages. While acknowledging the right of the people to speak their native tongues, the Ghanian government has decided to establish English as the official language and last year for the first time English became the medium of instruction from the bottom classes of primary school up.

SOUTH AFRICA MIXED

South Africa's language problems are among the most complex in the continent. There are only two official languages, English and Afrikaans — the latter evolved from High Dutch. Among the 3,000,000 Europeans, about 60 per cent speak Afrikaans and 40 per cent English but it is necessary to be bilingual to hold any government job.

The 10,000,000 Africans in South Africa also speak English and Afrikaans in dealings with Europeans, but in their homes use native tongues such as Zulu. In the gold mines, where labor has been imported from outside the Union, a "lingua franca" has been devised called "Fanakalo." Vernacular languages are used as the medium of instruction in African schools.

In colonial territories still under British rule, English is the official tongue. Sierra Leone on the west coast has had contact with English civilization since the 18th century and there is a high rate of literacy in English in the capital, Freetown.

In Nigeria, shortly to become independent, the use of English as an official language may be a unifying factor. There are more than 100 dialects in this country of 35,000,000—with, Ibo, Yoruba and Hausa as the main regional tongues. Traders, schoolteachers and Nigerian officials have to use English to make themselves understood outside their home districts.

SWAHILI LINK

In Northern and Southern Rhodesia, English is the official language, but in British East Africa, Swahili is the language link. English is official, but in practice everyone understands Swahili in Tanganyika, Kenya and Uganda.

Swahili also presents its problems. In Tanganyika it is the native tongue on the coast and is accepted throughout the country. Its wide use is probably a factor in the Tanganyika African National Union being one of the best organized African political movements. However, in Kenya and Uganda tribal languages are spoken regionally and many Africans today prefer to use English to Swahili, which some consider an "interloper" imposed on them.

Yet Swahili comes closest to being a true national tongue for Africans. It has a grammar, literature and tradition. It has incorporated many English, Portuguese and Arabic words but it has also flavored the English spoken in East Africa. Settlers talk of "duka" for "shop," "garry" for "car," "jembe" for "hello."

The Belgian Congo, under colonial administration, has Flemish and French as official languages; among Africans only French has had any real impact.

In Mozambique Portuguese is the only official language for Europeans, or Africans who have attained a certain standard of education and become "assimilated". The majority of Africans, however, continue to speak their own tribal tongues.

But, as elsewhere in Africa, the illiterate African often can understand the European language better than he can speak it. Where African fit is quite common to meet Africans who speak English, Afrikaans and other European languages fluently but cannot write their own names.

New Industrial School for Girls Tops in Comfort

VANCOUVER (CP)—The new Girls' Industrial School just opened in nearby Burnaby looks like a smart finishing school. The spacious grounds laced with concrete walks and ornamental lighting will soon be planted with lawns and trees.

The buildings are divided into a main unit and smaller residences where the girls will live under "house mothers."

The main building contains administration quarters, medical and dental rooms and an auditorium that would be envied by any little Theatre group.

There's a swimming pool too, and a roller-skating rink.

The classrooms are set with typewriters, domestic science equipment, sewing and other handicraft machines. Fireplaces in the spacious lounges are of red brick and ceramic tile.

Furniture is maple and the kitchens are tiled in stainless steel. Bathrooms are finished in polic blue ceramic tile.

In the maximum security section the "cells" are painted in different pastel shades.

The Experts Say

Canadians as Readers Rank Far Below West Nations Except U.S.

By CAROLYN WILLETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians are being challenged to crack more books.

For the first time, Canada this year will have a Library Week. The week, April 12-18, is aimed at young and old alike. The theme of the week is: Wake Up and Read.

The theme is backed up by such data as that furnished by the bureau of statistics which, in a 1954-56 survey of libraries, found that in 1956 there were public library facilities for 61 per cent of the population.

But only 12.5 per cent of the population five years old and over took advantage of the facilities and borrowed books. Of these, 28.5 per cent were in the five-to-fourteen-year age group.

GROWING ALARM

Although the bureau of statistics figures don't tell the whole story of reading in Canada—readers can buy books from newsstands, bookstores and even supermarkets as well as borrow books from libraries—the theme of sponsoring the special week fell a growing alarm over Canada's reading habits".

The week's sponsors—the Canadian Library Association, the Book Publishers' Association and La Société des Editeurs Canadiens des Livres Francais — in a open survey of homes found that Canadians as readers rank far below all other western nations except the United States.

In effect, although library circulations increased nearly 40 per cent during 1951-56 to indicate that Canadians are reading more than ever before, they are being urged to read more and to read more widely.

"Limited horizons are dangerous to a free people; so, as we have discovered, is the mindless assumption of superiority and invulnerability," said a Library Week statement urging a "better-read, better-informed Canada."

HOW IDEAS GROW

"Though it can be an unparalleled source of entertainment, a book is also an excellent medium, a channel to new ideas and viewpoints that can help Canadians respond to the challenge of leisure in a creative, satisfying way."

Probably the busy member views the read-more challenge as something commendable in principle but not so easy in practice. What to read, and when to find time to read?

Perhaps it is a case of snatching a few minutes and a book. It has been said that an average reader can read an average book at the rate of 300 words a minute. 4,500 words in a quarter of an hour. At this rate, you could read 29 average-length books in a year if you could just snatch 15 reading minutes each day.

Witty Dublin Woman Mayor Visits Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Dublin's first mayor is a witty woman on a goodwill tour with a word for everyone from art collectors to over-domesticated husbands.

Mrs. Catherine Myrne, lord mayor since last June, told a reporter Thursday Dublin's art gallery has no money to buy paintings.

But it's open for donations.

"If the experts say a picture isn't good we put it down in the basement and then when the artist is famous we trot it out," she added.

As for wash-and-wear shirts that hubby can launder himself, she said:

"Who wants a man to wash a shirt for himself, poor devil? Hasn't he got a woman to do it for him?"

Edinburgh-born and educated, Mrs. Byrne and her sports writer husband were active in public life until his death in 1949.

She took over his Dublin council seat and stayed on to become lord mayor.

It's a job that keeps her up until three o'clock in the morning, she said.

With her daughter Clare she has visited several United States cities.

Here she is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. D. McKenzie of Winnipeg at the Ottawa home of Mrs. McKenzie's son.

Women's Activities

BETHEL - ZION W.M.S.

BETHEL - ZION — The regular W.M.S. of Bethel-Zion United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Allan Lott with an attendance of 11 members and four children.

The president, Mrs. John Ketcheson, presided and opened the meeting.

It was decided to have the April meeting on the second Thursday, Mrs. Cecil Ketcheson offered her home for the meeting. There were 11 cards and four calls reported.

Mr. Middleton gave a short talk on the amalgamation between the W.M.S. and W.A.

Mrs. Gerald Tumeon, leader of the Mission Band, outlined the plans of the band for the coming year and also displayed work that had been done.

Mrs. Clifford Ketcheson was in charge of the devotional and gave a fine Easter program.

Mrs. Earle Sayers read "The Story of the First Easter" by Peter Marshall. This was most ticteresting.

POPULAR ARTIST

ST. ALBANS, England (CP)— A watercolor by Pietro Annigoni is among gifts collected for a sale to raise funds to repair historic churches in Hertfordshire. The Italian artist has won a wide following in Britain as a result of his recent portraits of the Queen and Prince Philip.

Men Like 'Weed' Better Than Women

WASHINGTON (AP)—Smoking still is a lot more popular among men than it is among women, the world over.

A study by a House of Representatives tobacco subcommittee shows, for example, that seven out of 10 U.S. males smoke. Only a little more than three out of 10 American women do.

The situation is similar, the study says, in Britain, Canada, Sweden and Denmark — except that some of the Danish women favor cigars and cigarillos to cigarets.

The subcommittee made the study to determine what can be done to increase, declining U.S. tobacco sales abroad.

Man Would Forget Sex Battle If Woman Forgot It First

VANCOUVER (CP) — The averager man would forget the battle of the sexes if women forgot it first, Mayor Elizabeth Wood of New Westminster said in an address here.

She said she won her election and became she is a woman but because she has the qualities needed for office — ability, integrity and intestinal fortitude.

Mrs. Wood said the National Council of Women and Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs had done much to make it possible for women to share in public life.

However, since the first woman was elected to the Canadian Parliament 38 years ago, only nine women have reached Parliament Hill though women form one half the voting strength of Canada.

Only one of those defeated in their second try ever sought to run again. There now are three women members of the House of Commons and five women senators.

371 IN PUBLIC OFFICE

Referring to statistics compiled by The Business and Professional Woman, organ of the federation, she said that in 1958 there were only, eight women members of legislative assemblies, only eight women mayors, 97 women members of municipal councils and 269 women school trustees — a total of 371 women holding public offices.

"One of the reasons we have so few women in public office is that women do not aspire to these offices," Mayor Wood said.

"As women we are too easily defeated. We should not feel this way, particularly when women have not shrinked in industry or other fields.

"In my 14 years of seeking office I never recognized that there is a difference between men and women candidates.

"If give no quarter, I ask no quarter, I do not feel inferior to men. I do not feel superior to men with whom I work.

"No woman has a right to be appointed to any board because she is a woman, but only because she is outstanding."

Has Compiled Five Columns Press Clippings

OTTAWA (CP)—The colonel's daughter became a police commissioner's wife, and now Mrs. C. E. Rivett-Carnac needs a new scrapbook.

The wife of the newly - appointed commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police already has compiled five volumes of press clippings covering her husband's career since they were married 26 years ago.

Volume 1 had ended with clippings about her husband, then a deputy commissioner, starting his retirement leave. Volume 6 starts with his recall and appointment to the top post.

Mrs. Rivett-Carnac, daughter of Col. Francis B. Ware of London, Ont., has led a nomadic life, first in an army family and then as an RCMP wife. The post logs of the red-coated force have taken her to Prairie and Pacific Coast cities and to Aklavik, N.W.T., where their eldest daughter Beverley was born.

GAP IN RECORD

There's a gap in the scrapbook collection — it doesn't include any pictures of Beverley as a baby. But Mrs. Rivett-Carnac has the explanation.

Beverley, now Mrs. A. F. Gritfin of Toronto, was born in November just as the four - month Arctic night began.

And 25 years ago, there weren't any amateur flash cameras, her mother told a reporter. So the parents had to wait until daylight returned before the baby could be photographed. They stayed in Aklavik three years, the only RCMP family in the community inside the Arctic Circle.

They have a second daughter, Frances, 19, who is a stenographer and lives at home. She was born in Regina.

Woman Designs New Stamp To Commemorate Development Of Rural Women's Societies

By LES HOLROYD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Appropriately, a woman is the designer of a new Canadian five - cent postal stamp which will commemorate the development of a world-wide rural women's organization.

Mrs. Helen Bacon, 39, of Toronto, designed the stamp which will be issued May 12 to honor the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada, Cercles des Fermières of Quebec and similar groups belonging to the Associated Country Women of the World.

It is the first stamp which Mrs. Bacon—known in art circles by her maiden name of Fitzgerald—has had accepted by the post office.

KNEELING FIGURE

It depicts a female figure kneeling beside a tree over which a globe is poised. The words "Associated Country Women of the World" and "Union Mondiale des Femmes Rurales" border the stamp on three sides. On the fourth is the word "Canada" and the denomination is in the bottom right corner.

The female figure, the tree and the globe are pen outlines on a white background. The woman and the globe are in black and the tree is green.

J. A. MacDonald, director of financial services in the post office department, asked Mrs. Bacon to design the new commemorative with the specific thought that it should be done by a woman.

Mrs. Bacon, who spends most of her time as a housewife, is the mother of two daughters, aged 11 and 4. Her husband Wilfred is an electronics engineer with Canadian Arsenals Limited.

A graduate of the Ontario College of Art, she described herself in an interview as "a hodge-podge" of an artist rather than a designer. She does illustrated lettering, paints in oils—"although not much now" and designs advertising brochures.

Her paintings have been hung in exhibitions sponsored by the Ontario Society of Artists, and she has sold many to private purchasers.

DID MASSEY COVER

She drew the cover for the report of the 1951 royal commission on national development in the arts, letters and sciences, popularly known as the Massey report after its chairman, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, now Governor-General of Canada.

Examples of her illumination work, an ancient art of decorative lettering done in brilliant colors, hang in the YWCA headquarters in Toronto and in the YWCA in Stratford, Ont.

Mrs. Bacon, who has two other stamp designs now awaiting the approval of the post office department, draws her original to the actual size of the finished stamp. She said most artists prefer to work on a larger scale. She also makes several preliminary sketches. There were 12 on the women's stamp.

The first love for the women's institute came from Mrs. Adelaide Hoodless of Hamilton. The world organization was first proposed in the late 1920s by the late Mrs. Alfred Watt of Collingwood, Ont., who became its first president in 1933.

Presbyterian WMS Holds Annual Meet

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—The three-day annual meeting of the Toronto and Kingston synods of the Presbyterian Church Woman's Missionary Society ended Thursday with a closing address by president Mrs. John Newstead of Toronto.

Mrs. Newstead is starting her second term as president. Other officers were re-elected Wednesday except for three new secretaries, all of Toronto.

Installation of officers was conducted by Rev. J. H. Williams of Sault Ste. Marie.

CROWDED ROADS

LONDON (CP) — The number of vehicles on Britain's roads rose last year to 7,900,000 from 7,400,000, says the ministry of transport.

STAMP DESIGNER — Mrs. Wilfred Bacon, shown here at work in the studio of her Toronto home, has designed a postage stamp honoring the Associated Country Women of the World and its affiliated groups. The new Canadian stamp will be issued May 13. Mrs. Bacon, known professionally as Helen Fitzgerald has two other stamp designs being considered by the post office. Some of her other work, which includes oil paintings and illuminated lettering, hangs on the studio walls. (CP Photo).

The natural leghorn of the pert roller is complemented by a band and streamer of kelly green.

Expect Million to Watch Wedding of Prince Akihito

TOKYO (AP) — For Japanese police it's the biggest headache of the decade.

The April 10 marriage of Crown Prince Akihito and his bride commoner bride, Miss Michiko Shoda, first sent them into frantic preparations for handling an expected celebrating throng of more than 1,000,000 people.

Ten thousand officers have been mobilized. They are particularly worried about the route the prince and Michiko will ride in an open carriage drawn by six horses after the ceremony in the Imperial Palace.

"Hoodlums have already tried to reserve and sell space," a police spokesman said. "We're also afraid politicians may seize the opportunity to electioneer, or even solicit contributions from the crowds."

Preparations have been elaborate, including plans for 61 temporary toilets along the way. Workmen have been repairing streets for weeks. Officers have been assigned to keep traffic out of the area.

LODGING A PROBLEM

Lodging is a major problem. Hundreds of thousands, taking advantage of the national holiday, are expected to pour into the two city-owning districts. Hotels are booked solid.

Cabarets, nightclubs and pachinko parlors are said can remain open all night.

COMBINING TWO INVITATIONS: TO CHURCH WEDDING AND CLUB RECEPTION

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

Is it correct, or even permissible, to combine in one invitation the invitation to a formal church wedding and the invitation to the reception following at a Club? We thought this might be correct, since everyone invited to the church is to be invited to the reception at the Country Club to which we belong. Our daughter is to be married in June, a large, formal church wedding. If you tell us it is correct to combine the invitations, will you please give us the correct form?

— Mother

It is correct to combine these two invitations, if you wish, and it might be a very practical thing to do, since all the guests are to be invited to both the church ceremony and to the reception.

Here is the correct form: ↗

ADDRESSING LETTER TO MINISTER

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

Please tell me how to address the envelope of a letter to a Protestant minister. Should I use "Mr." before his name, or should we address him in speaking to him? Or is it true, as I was told yesterday, that I should write the word "Reverend" before his name? — Sara W.

Yes, you should write "Reverend" before the minister's name . . . and you should always write "The" before "Reverend." Like this:

The Reverend Paul Goode

HOW TO EAT "FRENCH FRIED" POTATOES

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

How should French fried potatoes be eaten? — E. A.

They should be eaten with a fork. Cut them in two or, if more convenient, in three parts.

HOW GUEST OF HONOR AT SHOWER THANKS HOSTESS

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

A close friend of mine is going to give a Stork Shower in my honor soon. To thank her for her kindness in giving this party should I write her a note the following day, or may I just telephone to thank her? — R. E.

You may write her a note of appreciation if you wish (a thank-you notes for this occasion is sometimes enclosed in a box of flowers). But since your friend is such a close friend of yours, it is quite proper for you to telephone to her . . . and, besides, you and she will, I'm sure, want to talk over all the news of the party! And of course your enthusiastic expression of thanks at the party is very important.

BRIDE'S TABLE . . PARENTS' TABLE . . AND THESE TWO COMBINED

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

1. Who should sit at the Bridal Table? That is, should only members of the wedding party sit there, or should their husbands and wives also be included?

2. Where do the parents of the bride and the parents of the groom sit? And where does the minister sit? — T.

1. At a formal reception the bride and groom and the members of the wedding party are usually seated at a Bridal Table. The bride and groom sit side by side, the bride at the right of the groom. At the bride's right, the best man; at the groom's left, the maid (or matron) of honor; then bridesmaids and ushers alternating around the table. If possible (and it usually is) the husbands and wives of the attendants are invited to sit at the Bridal Table.

2. Also at a formal reception there is usually a Parents' Table. At this table there is a seating arrangement most significant as indicating important relationships. At the right of the bride's mother, who is the hostess of the wedding, is seated the groom's father, who is the man guest of honor. At the right of the bride's father, who is the host, is seated the groom's mother, who is the woman guest of honor. At the left of the bride's mother is the minister who performed the ceremony, and, if the minister is married, his wife is seated at the left of the bride's father. (If the minister is not married, an important woman guest is seated here.) Around the rest of the table are seated members of both families and, very often, several intimate friends.

At a small wedding very often the Bridal Table and the Parents' Table are combined. Then the best seating-arrangement is the following: Bride's mother at head of table; at her right, the groom's father; at her left, the minister; Bride's father opposite Bride's mother; at his right, the groom's mother, and at his left, the minister's wife. In the center of one side of the table the Bride and groom sit together, the Bride at the right of the groom. At the Bride's right, the best man; at the groom's left, the maid of honor. Then, alternating now man is 28 and well established and I do like him.

I would like to go out with this man, but what am I to do about Frank? He has written back that he is the happiest man in the world and will walk on air until he comes home. I don't think it's right to double-cross him.

On the other hand, I'm afraid of upsetting him by telling him the truth.

The Council: No, we don't think that Frank ought to be double-crossed, but under ordinary circumstances would we recommend writing to a boy overseas that he has just been jilted. In this case, however, there are two differences. Neither proposal nor acceptance were made in person. No formal announcement has been made.

The fact is that Nancy has pulled a boner. She should have been aware of the fact that romantic boys in the service sometimes build up a particular girl in their imagination and, protected by several thousand miles, get the idea that they would like to be married to her. Nancy should never have committed herself on the basis of such a proposal. The kind and sensible answer would have been, "Let's see how we both feel about it when you get home."

Nancy should now confess her error to Frank. She definitely does not have to mention the existence of another man. He is not important in this picture. The true facts are that Frank and Nancy both overreacted themselves when they arranged matrimony by mail and it would be foolish to insist upon perpetuating the error.

MUST BRIDE'S FATHER STAND IN RECEIVING LINE?

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

My daughter and I have sent you several questions very important to us about our plans for her wedding — thank you for your helpful answers. Now my husband has one for you! He says it is not at all necessary for him to stand in the receiving-line at the reception; that it is much more important that, as a "good host," he mingle with the wedding guests and see that all goes well with their happiness and comfort.

He's being very persuasive about this, and I certainly admit that he's always a wonderful host. So what's your answer to his idea? — Bride's Mother

In today's weddings it is optional whether the bride's father stands in the receiving-line, or, as host, mingles with the guests. And I think your husband sounds like the masterful gentleman and accomplished host who should have the privilege of carrying out his own hospitality plans!

Readers' Friday Column

As conducted by Mary Moore

ANSWER:

(To Mrs. W.P.B. on Western camping trip con'd. from March 28). 5) Lunch is the ideal time for a picnic and a chance for everyone to run around and stretch their legs. Don't cook the lunch meal. Buy cooked meat, fresh bread, salad things, fresh fruits, being sure when you go through an area to buy what it is famous for, for instance, Northern Ontario blueberries; For William fresh fish at the wharves; prairie — Saskatoon berries; Okanagan fruits; Pacific shrimp, etc. Buy exact amounts of supplies for, and cook a hot supper. Never be caught hard to keep for more than 24 hours. 6) Don't hesitate to enjoy a good sit-down meal at a restaurant occasionally for a welcome change. 9) If tea vending machine is not easily located, ask at a restaurant or hotel. You often may have to settle for ice cubes but be sure to take on ice for your possible ice-box whenever you can buy it. These ideas will guide your thinking, but if you want more help from me you have time to write again.

QUESTION:

I have been searching in vain for a recipe for old-fashioned date turnovers. Years ago, we used to get them from the bakery but recently I've tried just everyone without luck. They have them, but they seem to be made with oatmeal. The others were not. I'm quite sure . . . Mrs. John D.

ANSWER:

DATE TURNOVERS:

Cookie dough: One-half cup soft shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons thick cream or milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 3 1-2 cups sifted flour, 1-4 teaspoon soda, 1-2 teaspoon salt. Mix shortening sugar and eggs together thoroughly. Stir in cream and vanilla. Sift dry ingredients together and stir in. Chill dough. Roll very thin (1/16"). Cut 3" rounds or squares. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Place on each a rounded teaspoonful of Date Filling: One cup dates finely cut up 1-3 cup each water and sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until thickened (about 5 minutes.) Cool. Fold over like a turnover, pressing moistened edges together with floured tines of a fork or tip of finger. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 8 to 10 minutes until delicately browned.

QUESTION:

. . . your recipe for popovers . . . how to serve . . . Can they be baked ahead and re-heated? . . . Jane R.

ANSWER:

POP-OVERS:

One cup flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 7-8 cup milk, 2 eggs, 1-2 teaspoon melted butter. Mix salt and flour; add milk gradually, in order to obtain a smooth batter. Add egg, beaten until light, and butter; beat 2 minutes — using egg-beater, turn into hissing-hot buttered iron gem pans and bake 30 to 35 minutes at 475 deg. Fahr. They may be baked in buttered earthen cups, when the bottom will have a glazed appearance. Small round iron gem pans are best for Popovers. No—pop-overs are never made in advance. Make and serve them at once, for breakfast or lunch.

Larger Water Heaters

The average family uses its water heater more than any other appliance in the home — for dishwashing, bathing, laundry, cleaning and a total of 140 different household tasks.

Overworking the heater takes years off its life, and it adds greatly to operating costs. The efficiency of many of automatic appliances depends upon the hot water supply.

Increasing use of home laundry and automatic dish washing equipment has brought with it a need for larger size water heaters in most homes. A properly sized tank is one which is large enough to provide a margin of extra capacity to meet maximum current as well as possible future demands.

The wise homeowner plans for the future as well as today. By selecting the right size heater you can give your family the luxury of abundant hot water 24 hours a day, every day. And you can add the new time-saving conveniences still to come without impairing the efficiency of your heater.

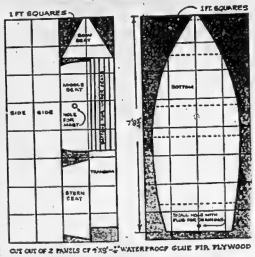
Water heaters range in size from 30 to 100 gallons The size should be determined by two things: The amount of hot water you need and the recovery capacity of the heater. This is the ability of the heater to replenish hot water as fast as it is used.

With a fast recovery heater you can use a smaller tank, thus saving on purchase price, installation maintenance and operating costs, with the added advantage that it will take up less space. Many 30-gallon gas-fired water heaters will recover their entire capacity in about one hour. They give more hot water per hour than any other kind of automatic heater (even those twice as large), making them the faster heaters.

Wainscot Offers Protection

A wainscot is the modern and most satisfactory way of protecting a vulnerable lower wall area, or covering up cracked plaster or similar damage already done.

Generally, in existing construction, there are two methods of applying wainscots. Over walls which are uneven, furring strips are recommended. There should be sufficient strips or headers so that all edges of each panel will bear on a continuous support.



If the hardboard is to be fastened to a solid backing, the latter should be straight, firmly attached and dry. If an adhesive is to be used on an old surface, remove any wallpaper or loose paint. Scratch the painted surface to provide a strong bond between the adhesive and the backing.

Spacing of the furring strips depends on the thickness of the panels. On open framing the studs or furring strips may be spaced up to 16 inches on centre with panels 3-16" thick and up to 24 inches with 5-16" material. With solid backing having little nail bolding power, the framing members for ¼" material may be spaced up to 12 inches on centre, for 3-16" panels up to 16 inches and for ¼" up to 24 inches.

When the panels are applied directly to the framework, begin at the centre and drive 1½" nails perpendicular to the surface at points approximately 8 inches apart at intermediate supports and 4 inches apart around all edges Use finishing nails which will penetrate into the nailing base at least one inch. To conceal nail heads, countersink.

If using an adhesive (linoleum cement, tileboard cement or a hardboard adhesive), spread it with a sawtooth trowl having 3-16" triangular notches over the entire back side.

Build a 'Little Skipper' Sandbox Of Waterproof Glue Fir Plywood

You don't have to spend years learning the shipwright's trade to knock this salty eight-footer together in an evening in the basement.

"Little Skipper" will never sink — because she never sails farther from home than the backyard. And because her stout fir plywood is bonded with a completely waterproof glue, this boat will stand up to any weather.

Materials required to make Little Skipper are two 4x8 panels of three-eighths-inch thick fir plywood, half a pound of galvanized nails, glue and paint.

USE CUTTING DIAGRAM

The fir plywood is sawn into pieces outlined in the cutting diagram. Start building with the two side pieces Tack the transom (the blunt end) temporarily into place and position the centre seat so that it holds the sides apart. Then, from a scrap of 2x4, shape a reinforcing piece to fit inside the stem (the sharp end).

Now go back to the transom and fit reinforcing pieces of scrap lumber inside the joint, glue and nail everything permanently into place. Do the same at the bow. Then atach the bottom.

The seats are nailed to battens fastened to the inside of the sides of Little Skipper and then she's ready to be painted whatever bright colors go best with your backyard decor.

JOLLY ROGER FLAG

An old broomstick will double for a mast, and perhaps Mother can be persuaded to put together a skull and cross-bones from some of the scraps in her sewing box.

Then fill up Little Skipper with jolly white sand and the children are set for a summer of adventure on the briny — in full view of Mom at the kitchen window.

NON-SLIP RULER

Ruler keeps sliding all over the work? Put an end to this by gluing small strips of fine sandpaper on the back at both ends and in the middle.

Questions and Answers

Q—How should nail holes be filled in room paneling and other home projects of pine wood?

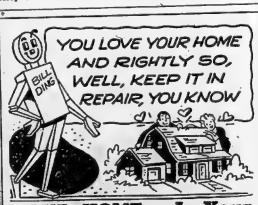
A—Yellow beeswax is often used. You can also use sawdust from the paneling itself; mix it with glue and color the same as the paneling provided the paneling is stained.

Q—Can the finish of a pine-paneled room be changed?

A—Yes. For example, an early American interior of varnished knotty pine can be made into a modern background for contemporary furniture without removing the finish. One method is to soften the varnish glaze and rub in a pigment; then finish it with the wax.

Q—Is it possible to remove a dent from a table?

A—Yes. First remove any polish or finish from the dented area. Then put a few drops of water on the dented area. This should swell the wood fibres to their original shape. If this proves inadequate, wet the dent again and cover it with a damp cloth. Then hold a warm iron close to the cloth to expand the damp wood fibres. Several treatments may be needed, but once the dent has been removed, the area may be refinished and repolished.



U.K. TAX CUTS SEEN

LONDON (Reuters) — The treasury Tuesday night announced a billion-dollar surplus of revenue over expenditure for the financial year 1958-59—a surplus which heralds tax cuts for taxburdened Britons. The actual figure was £377,196,000 ($1,055,148,800) compared with a surplus of £423,003,000 a year ago.

JUST LOOK at the cabinet and counter space in the kitchen! There's more than enough room for groceries and utensils.

FRAME CONSTRUCTION helps keep the cost of H-484-KF at a minimum. One pleasant feature of the house is a porch that runs across the front of the home from the entrance to the en[illegible] of the large and lovely living living room picture window.

LIVING ROOM, dining room and kitchen open on each other, at right. The plan provides for three nice-sized bedrooms.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

If you want to cut costs and save money when building a house, you have to eliminate extras such as, for example, a fireplace. It's nice to have one, but by omitting it from the plan, as has been done with H-484-KF, you can save up to $800.

BASEMENTLESS PLAN

You can chalk up an additional $1,000 saving by constructing the house without a basement. This, too, has been done with H-484-KF.

Lacking a basement, storage space is needed. In this home, it's been provided on the rear terrace, where an enclosed storage area's been constructed. Throughout the house, too, you'll note that closets are generously sized. Closets have even been provided in the attached garage.

LIVING-DINING AREAS

The home is well planned, with living room and dining room feet; 14,317 cubic feet.

separated by a cabinet-bookcase. It's an open layout that makes each of the rooms seem larger than it is.

Folding doors separate dining room from the nicely-sized kitchen. Both rooms have sliding doors leading out to the terrace with its planting trellis. Close to the kitchen, there's a laundry room with adjacent lavatory.

There are two front bedrooms, separated by a folding door. During the daytime, it can be thrown open to create the feeling of spaciousness. At night, when the door is closed, each bedroom enjoys privacy. A third bedroom is at back.

The bath is convenient to all three bedrooms, has a built-in vanitory, a closet for storing linens.

The heater room is located in the bedroom wing of H-484-KF, which comprises 1,256 square

Insulation Can Localize Fires

Insulation in a home also is a safety factor.

Wall-thick mineral wool, for example, is accepted in building codes as a noninflammable fire stop. It makes it more difficult for a fire in the basement, where a great many of them start, to spread through the rest of the house.

During a fire, the air space between wall studs tends to act as a flue. A draft is generated in this space, drawing the fire upward. When this space is full of insulation material, the draft cannot form.

Picture Story Of The Homecoming

Harvey McFarland waves a greeting to the photographer while Elmer "Sandy" Sandercock, MPP, and Manager Drury Denyes smile happily in the rear seat.

The Cavalcade of Convertibles lines up at the CNR station waiting for their homecoming passengers. Chilly winds forced "hands-in-pockets" and majorettes to stamp their feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Payette smile happily as they detrain at the CNR station. Also happy at being home are Johnny McLellan, Bart Bradley, "Wiener" Brown and Keith MacDonald.

Cheering crowd greets Barton Bradley as the convertible turns off Front Street to Bridge. With the speedy centre is Mrs. Bradley.

Gordy Bell is besieged by autograph-hunting youngsters as the parade paused on Station St. It's okay by the smiling Hasty Pee at the rear.

A proud palomino prances along to the skirl of the pipes while the Red Ensign flutters in the breeze.

"They were a great gang of fellows. They did their best for Belleville and Canada. I am proud of them," says playing coach Ike Hildebrand.

Homecoming to Be Televised

Max Jackson, sports director of CKWS television, Kingston, announced last night a fifteen-minute program of the Macs' homecoming will be featured on the station on Tuesday next, starting 7.45 p.m.

Leafs, Canadiens Could Make It All-Canada Final

Sport Slices

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

We learned from an English-speaking chappie in Prague that Czechoslovakia was seeking export trade with Canada.

The country had no money, he said, but the Czechs would be willing to swap their famous glassware for good old Canadian wheat.

They could toss in a couple of other commodities that would go well with Canadians.

Beer and lady barbers!

The beer would speak for itself. In fact Canadians, after a couple of beakers of Pilsen, would be talking to themselves.

But the lady barbers? Ah, that's different.

Importation of a few like Nadu, and safety and electric razor companies here would go out of business.

Nadu toiled in a men's barber shop just around the corner from the Hotel Jalta, Canadian fan headquarters in Prague,

This razor-wielding Czech equivalent of a Hollywood starlet bloomed like a rose in that weedy garden of local whisker-clippers.

By the magic of her art, she transformed homely Canadian mugs into things of sartorial beauty, if that is possible.

Nadu was seventeen. Her standard equipment was of the deluxe class. She never used a whisker-softener. Her smile wilted them. She has been transforming, tonsorially that is, human sow's ears into silk purses for the past five years.

She was adept with a razor, the long throat-cutting kind. She could shave a peach, without wrinkling a goose-pimple. Her skilful fingers could manipulate your jowls with a sleep-producing massage.

Contrary to her sex and calling, Nadu never talked while she worked. You couldn't have understood her anyway. She spoke little or no English. But like all Czechs she knew the difference between an American dollar bill and a hometown 100-kronor shin-plaster. She preferred the former.

But while Nadu could shave the fuzz from a duckling's dimple, her forte was masculine hair-do's.

She could give you anything from an upsweep to a ducktail.

She would encase unruly mops like those of Chris Lockyer and Erie Denyes in a close-mesh hairnet. She used a microscope to look for nits.

She would give you any style you wanted, but one day drew the line when Harvey J. McFarland asked for a semi-tail.

Through an interpreter, Joe Gould, Trenton's well-known sportsman, asked her to give him a haigcut to suit his calling.

Nadu must have thought Joe was a Tibetan monk. She shaved the top of his pate, and was on the way to putting the outer fringe in curlers when Joe called a halt.

This modest but beautiful young she of the shears was a prime favorite with the masculine side of the Canadian delegation.

We used to visit the shop in parties of three and four, just in case our wives heard about it.

Nadu's main counterparts used to snap to attention, click their heels, bow from the waist and smile a morning welcome.

And we got the red-carpet treatment from the local laddybucks in for their weekly, monthly or annual cleanup. They would stand and smilingly offer their places in the chairs to the visiting firemen from Canada.

You also get the full treatment after you sat in the chair. They were not exactly the last word in comfort, and broad-beamed occupants sometimes had difficulty in detraining.

Naturally, all of us could not avail ourselves of Nadu. The good-looking ones came first. We generally finished in the "also-rans."

Prices were such even a newspaperman could afford the "works." You got a shave, haircut, massage, vibration, electric treatment, ear-trim, nose-trim, eyebrow trim, and the finishing doodads.

The tab? $1.40.

And who do you suppose was at the McFarlands' victory party in the Hotel Jalta, daintily sipping champagne and toasting the victorious Canadians?

Nadu.

Punch's Prides Deliver KO To Boston Hopes in 5th Tilt; Pilous Blames Traffic Jams

BOSTON (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs, so hopeless at times this season they were ridiculed by their own ardent fans, were on the threshold of another amazing comeback today and a berth in the Stanley Cup final series.

They racked up their third straight victory in the semi-final set by beating the bewildered and injury-stricken Boston Bruins 4-1 Thursday night.

Leafs headed immediately for Toronto, holding a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven series and confident they can put the finishing touches on things in Saturday night's sixth game.

"We're going to try awfully hard to wind up this series in Toronto," said coach Punch Imlach. "We'll have our troubles but I think we'll win."

NOT IMPOSSIBLE

Don't pooh - pooh Imlach. He guided Leafs to victories in the last five games of the regular National Hockey League schedule to get them into the semi-final.

Should the Bruins, who have a record-breaking season when things are bleak, win a seventh game will be played here Tuesday.

The winner meets either Montreal Canadiens or Chicago Black Hawks for the cup.

After dropping the first two games in Toronto 5-1 and 4-3, Leafs won the next two by 3-2 counts in sudden-death overtimes. They seemed to have little trouble the Bruins on goals by left winger Bert Olmstead, left winger Dick Duff, right winger Frank Mahovlich and centre Bobby Pulford.

Jerry Toppazzini, Bruins' leading right winger, scored for Boston. It came too late to fire up the Bostonerres — at 11:25 of the third period with Leafs ahead 4-0.

PENALTIES HURT

Boston coach Milt Schmidt was critical of his players for running into "stupid penalties."

"You can't get stupid penalties in a short series," he said. "There's no sense to it. The players have got to start thinking instead of trying to put someone through the end boards. That's not aggressive hockey. It's poor thinking."

Milt said left winger Guy Gendron picked up two "stupid" penalties—for highsticking in the first period and slashing in the third—and Leafs made got one.

"I have a lot of work to do to get this team right. I'll do it if I have to make changes in my lineup."

Schmidt indicated he plans at least two changes for Saturday's game but didn't say what they would be.

"I want to sleep on it," he said. Bruins were without the services of defenceman Doug Mohns, who hurt his knee late Tuesday.

POWER PLAY WORKS

Leafs scored once while Bruins were shorthanded. Defenceman Fern Flaman, who played despite a painful groin injury, was sitting out an interference minor when Olmstead sent Leafs in front 1-0 at 9:26 of the first period.

Pulford converted Leafs' fourth goal at 9:02 of the final period while teammates Dave Keon and Bob Nevin were serving a hooking penalty. He broke into the clear at centre ice and whipped a 50-foot drive past goaltender Harry Lumley.

Imlach paid tribute to Lumley, who was spectacular in the first four games;

"He still played well and blocked at least four shots that I thought should have been goals."

SOMEE SCINTILLATES

Johnny Bower, who tends the Leaf nets in a rather unpolished manner yet produces results, was great for Leafs. He stopped 32 shots. Toppazzini beat him by steering Jim Morrison's passout into the net. Lumley made 22 stops.

Duff supplied Leafs with a 2-0 edge at 6:37 of the second period. He checked Bruins' Johnny Bucyk in the Boston zone, cruised in from left wing and fired a 25-footer between Lumley's legs.

The third period was only nine-teen seconds old when Mahovlich made it 3-0, tipping in Gerry Ehman's shot.

Leafs haven't made the Stanley Cup final round since 1951. They won it that year with such stars as netminder Turk Broda, defencemen Bill Barilko and Jimmy Thomson, centres Ted Kennedy and Max Bentley. They reached the semi-final four times since then but each time were knocked off.

Million in Sight for Champ If He Can Win Four Bouts

NEW YORK (AP) — "This is great news. I'm a fighter and I want to fight. The more the better."

So said heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson when told that a $1,000,000 (before taxes and manager's cut) between this May 7 and Nov. 1, 1960.

Definitely on Floyd's busy schedule are the defences against England's Brian London at Las Vegas, May 7 (NBC-TV) and against Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, undefeated European champion, at Yankee Stadium, June 25 (TV or theater-TV undecided). The stadium's top ticket price will be $100.

UNNAMED FOES

Beyond those two are title defences against opponents still to be picked and which will be shown over NBC television. The London fight and the two after Johansson are part of a three-fight deal with NBC for the Friday night series. The fights must be held before Nov. 1, 1960.

What happens if the lantern-jawed London, a 10-1 underdog, gets lucky and flattens Patterson?

"A return fight between the two would be our second fight then," said Harry Markson, sports director of NBC. It also would knock out the Johansson fight.

PROMOTER NOT SCARED

"I'm not worried about London beating Patterson, if that fight takes place," said Bill Rosensohn, who is promoting the Patterson - Johansson contest. "I have seen Patterson fight and I'm sure he will dispose of London."

Patterson has more respect for London's ability.

"I'm expecting a tough fight," said Patterson at his Chatham, N.J., training camp. "He's a BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams, who the Boston Red Sox outfielder, is continuing to show improvement and Lahey Clinic officials said he is free to move his neck with less discomfort when out of bed.

Williams was admitted to New England Baptist Hospital Monday for treatment of the neck pain which he suffered two weeks ago at the Boston Red Sox training camp.

Leonard Shoots Brilliant 69 To Lead Masters Tournament

AUGUSTA, Ga. (CP) — Stan Leonard, 44-year-old veteran pro from Vancouver, fought strong, gusty winds with patience and a bit of luck Thursday to fire a brilliant three-under-par 69 that gave him the lead in the Masters golf tournament.

He started out on the second round of the 72-hole event today with a two-stroke edge over Arnold Palmer, muscular young leading Canadian, Jackie Burke, the 1956 winner, and Chandler Harper.

Leonard, who finished fourth in last year's Masters and later won the $40,000 Tournament of Champions, became the first foreigner ever to lead the tournament at any stage.

PATIENCE PAYS

Leonard had good fortune and patience where others failed Thursday. The winds which swirled around the gulch encompassing the 10th through the 13th holes broke the spirit of many of the game's toughest competitors. Leonard had a 33, three under par, on the first nine after sinking putts of nine, 22, and 14 feet. He hit into the woods on the 10th but banged out sideways and recovered for his par.

On the short 12th he waded into the shallow water after dunking his tee shot, blasted out and sank a 35-foot putt for his par three. He had nine straight pars on the back nine.

FOREIGNERS SHINE

Four overseas players were within four strokes of first place. Peter Thomson of Australia, holder of the British Open, and Spain's amazing Angel Miguel were tied with three United States pros at 72. Gary Player of South Africa and big Dave Thomas of Wales were among nine men tied at 73.

Leonard, a five-foot-eight, 165-pounder, played the rest side with hardly a mistake.

From the 13th hole on Leonard turned conservative and settled for the example of Jimmy Demaret, who was just ahead of Leonard. He was two under par through the 10th hole. That's where the course dips into a valley and the winds are especially tricky.

Demaret put his second shot into the water at the 11th, drove into the creek at the 13th and hit the same creek with his second at the 12th. That cost him five strokes and he finished with 34-36—78.

Canada's two other entries were well back. Veteran Henry Martell of Edmonton, who won the Canadian PGA title for the second time last year, had 41-39—80. Two amateurs, Gerald Hain was Bruce Castator of Toronto, winner of the Canadian amateur crown for 1958.

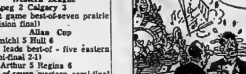
Casey Mum About Pitching Actions Louder Than Words

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Casey Stengel isn't doing much talking these days about his New York baseball Yankees. He just doesn't have to—his twirlers' actions speak louder than words.

With the Yankees getting into full swing a week from today, the world champions are pitting grade A performances from all of their expected starters. The only question mark is the Tucker ailment that is expected to hold back the start of Bobby Shantz, while contenders is the sudden back injury to first baseman Bill Skowron Thursday.

In five days Stengel has gotten top performances from Tom Sturdivant, Bobby Shantz, Art Ditmar, Don Larsen, Bob Turley, and the Coates and Whitey Ford.



Coates are the men Stengel expects to use in his starting pitching rotation. The latest line on them looks like this:

FORD WINS 2-1

Ford went eight innings Thursday, fanning St. Louis Cards 2-1, and scattered nine hits. He did not show any signs of arm weakness.

Willie Jones paced the Phils' 13-hit attack with two singles and a double in four trips.

Jim Landis' homer off Joe Schaffernoth was the only hit Philadelphia gave the White Sox their victory. Gus Bell had a three-run homer and Frankie Robinson one with none on for Cincy.

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Jim Norris isn't the great benefactor, after all.

A week ago, the 53-year-old millionaire owner of Chicago Black Hawks handed each player in an unsigned cheque for $3,250 with instructions to "bring them back to me after you win the cup and I'll sign them." At that time, the Hawks had lost the first two games of the Stanley Cup semi-final series to Montreal Canadiens.

Chicago sports writers hailed Norris' gesture as one of the biggest psychological moves in hockey history. A bonus of $3,250 to each Hawk player, statisticians quickly figured, would amount to $65,000 which would make Norris the all-time big spender in the National Hockey League.

But, it was all a mistake.

NOT A BONUS

The story stayed alive four or five days until NHL President Clarence Campbell pointed out that the $3,250 was not a bonus. It was simply the money due the Hawks if they won the cup. A Chicago team official confirmed Campbell's interpretation.

Norris has already shovelled an estimated $2,000,000 into the Hawks in the last five seasons in a free-spending effort to make the club a winner. He isn't the first man to try to buy hockey's most prized trophy.

In 1910, Ambrose O'Brien, angel of the Renfrew Millionaires team, made unsuccessful bid to win the trophy with a cheque book. He gave up in three years after losing a bundle of money which polished up one thing—he didn't have the patience of Norris.

In O'Brien's day, when the dollar wasn't as bloated as it is now and when admission charges to cup games was 50 cents, O'Brien came up with a gimmick. In the season's final game he offered $100 to be divided among Renfrew players for every goal scored against Ottawa and $50 to the scorer.

DIDN'T WIN CUP

Millionaires won 17-2, the flamboyant O'Brien front Ashginahl, N.S., paid out $2,550, but Renfrew didn't win the cup. It went to Montreal Wanderers, first-place finishers of the National Hockey Association who, under the play, automatically became cup holders.

The situation at the time was this:

Wanderers had finished their original schedule three points up on the second - place Renfrew Millionaires who had an end-of-season home-and-home doubleheader with Ottawa. This meant that the Millionaires had to win both games to finish on top but they lost the opener to Ottawa and the Renfrew townspeople were highly incensed.

O'Brien kept the fire going with his offer. He had brought in such players as Cyclone Taylor, Paddy Patrick, Cyclone Taylor, Newsy Lalonde and Bert Lindsay at salaries of $4,000 apiece plus fancy—$2,700 to Lester Patrick, $2,000 to his brother Frank and $1,500 to $2,000 to the others for a three-month season.

But that was the limit, the cup was their goal and Ottawa, a hated rival, had knocked the Millionaires out of the cup picture. All the Millionaires wanted then was to stalter Ottawa.

The final game was played on March 12, 1910, with the honest incentive worked. Two years later O'Brien called it quits—he had spent the last hard way that the cup, bought by Lord Stanley for $48 in 1892, couldn't be bought.

Goderich Wins Peewee Tourney B Series Title

GODERICH, Ont. (CP)—Goderich Elcos won its seventh Young Canada Week pee wee hockey title Thursday night by defeating Markham 4-0 to capture the B series championship.

Teddy Williams, team coach, with nine holdovers from last year's lineup, is pleased with the way the boys have grown, praised his whole squad.

Goal getters were John Arthur with two, Bob Graham and Larry Fapentosh.

Soop Springs won the D crown and Point Edward the C title earlier.

Stratford and Woodstock kept Western Ontario hopes alive in the A series by scoring victories. Woodstock whipped Barrie 5-2, while the defending champions, nipped Brampton 3-2.

In other A games, St. Lambert, Que., won twice, blanking Simcoe 7-0 and downing Guelph 4-1. Lindsay tied Preston 2-2 to win on shots on goal, 17-12.

Stratford defeated Lindsay and St. Lambert takes on Woodstock Saturday in the semi-finals.

PLAYOFF

In the AA series, which got under way, Peterborough edged Barrie Flyers 4-3, Ottawa downed Sarnia 5-3, Winnipeg blanked Port Arthur 10-0, and Sherbrooke improvered Quebec City 6-2.

Sherbrooke scored three first-period goals against Sarnia in a game which wasn't decided until the final minute of the cup picture. All the Millionaires wanted then was to stalter Ottawa.

The final game was played on March 12, 1910, with the honest incentive worked. Two years later O'Brien called it quits—he had spent the last hard way that the cup, bought by Lord Stanley for $48 in 1892, couldn't be bought.

Beliveau Not Responding to Back Treatment

MONTREAL (CP) — Big Jean Beliveau bobbled into the Forum for treatment of his injured back Thursday and said the way he feels now it is unlikely he'll be back on the ice this season.

Montreal Canadiens' high-scoring centre has been out since falling and fracturing two vertebrae in the lower spine during Montreal's Stanley Cup series with Chicago Black Hawks last Saturday.

The word from the Forum dressing room was that Beliveau fell to Ron Hutchison's treatment. He has been resting in bed at home since. "I have hardly slept for three days."

A board has been placed under his mattress to give his lapsed-up back added support.

Berenson Gets Four Assists In Flin Win

EDMONTON (CP) — Flin Flon Bombers, who are triangulated on the semi-finals at the Edmonton Oil Kings 10-1 Thursday night. Fourth game is set for tonight.

Gerdie (Red) Berenson, disputed Flin Flon sparkplug, was kept off the ice by sheer close checking, but got four assists. Wayne Hicks and Dick Meissner scored two apiece for Flin Flon.

Logart Fights Scott Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Isaac Logart still has designs on the world welterweight championship, and he's fully aware of the personal stakes in his 10-round pro rematch tonight with 22-year-old Charley Scott.

Logart, one of Cuba's more skilful exports to U.S. prizefighting, met Scott in what was generally regarded as a warmup three weeks ago.

Logart's veteran of 72 fights, was a 3-1 favorite but Scott won by a split decision.

Logart is again the favorite tonight but by 8 or 9 to 5.

Braves Shift Batting Order

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Outfielder Billy Bruton will lead off in the third baseman Eddie Mathews will bat second when Milwaukee Braves open the National League season at Pittsburgh April 10.

Bruton fills the leadoff spot held last year by ailing Red Schoendienst while Mathews moves up to the No. 2 batting spot. explained manager Fred Haney. "Too often in the past guys like Schoendienst and Henry Aaron came up with two out and nobody on."

CANADIANS LOSE

NEWTON, Wales (Reuters)—The touring Vancouver women's field hockey team was defeated 2-1 Thursday by a Welsh side. Their opponents included six Welsh internationals. But there was little to choose between the teams and the tourists were perhaps a shade unlucky not to have won.

Tribe Teepee Lit With Hope Score, Among Others, Is Back

By CHARLES MARER

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Cleveland Indians have swung a lot of deals since last fall but there's another big one in progress that could be a changed team.

Lefthander Herb Score, a fellow who can get a baseball from the pitcher's mound to home plate in a hurry, is back.

Naturally, since Frank Lane is running the show, there have been other changes too:

Outfielder Larry Doby, pitchers Ray Narleski and Don Mossi, first baseman Vic Wertz and infielder-outfielder - catcher Earl Averill have all been traded away. And infielder Billy Martin, outfielders Jim Piersall and Jim Bolger, first baseman-outfielder Tito Francona and pitcher Al Cicotte and John Briggs have all been acquired.

MANAGER HOPEFUL

"If we've got Score back," said manager Joe Gordon, "and we can use (Gary) Bell from the start, we're sound. We're set."

Score, out most of the last two seasons with bone chips in his right elbow, has phenomenal in exhibition games this spring. But he's throwing without any pain and he feels that's the important thing.

Bell came up in late May last season and won 12 games while losing 10.

Other possible starters include Cal McLish, 10-16; Jim Perry, 10-11), Don Ferrarese (3-4), Mike Garcia (1-6) and Cicotte (1-4) with Detroit; Gene Host and also work in the bullpen, along with Hal Woodeshick (6-4), Ray Brodowski (1-6), and maybe Bob Tiefenauer (17-5 with Toronto last year Jim Perry (16-8 with Reading).

COUNTRY KEY

Right now, Gordon could come up with several different lineups. On every one second baseman Billy Moran, the outfielder who hit .303, belted 41 homers and drove in 111 runs last season, Veteran Minnie Minoso (.302) also figures to be a regular outfield starter and Vic Power (.313) will be at first or third base. If Power plays first, Rocky Colavito (.242) may be at third. If not, Mickey Vernon (.259) or Francona (.265 with White Sox and .246 with Detroit) could take first.

Infielder Woody Held, who tried retirement for a year and didn't like it, is bidding for a shortstop job again, along with Woody Held (.214 with Kansas City and .194 with Cleveland). Also trying are Martin (.255 with Detroit) and Bill Bruton (.226). Russ Nixon (.301) should do most of the catching again. Piersall (.227 with Boston) could be used between Minoso and Colavito in the outfield. Jim Bolger also could be played in the outfield. So could Bolger (.225 with the Cubs) and Carroll Hardy (.125 with San Diego).

Cards Return Hot Shortstop To Rochester

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — St. Louis Cardinals have returned Ken Boyer, outfielder Julio Gotay to their Rochester International League team in Miami Beach, along with five pitchers, and announced they would keep Alex Grammas and Eddie Maglie for the purpose of an unconditional release.

Also sent out Thursday or to be shipped were pitchers Bob Blaylock, Bill Stafford, Jean Stone and the two right-handed Bob Millers.

The cut left the Cards with 30 players.

Regina Shades Port Arthur

REGINA (CP) — Pat Lundy scored with 27 seconds remaining in overtime to give Regina Caps a 6-5 win over Port Arthur Bearcats Thursday night and the title two of three Western Canada-Allan Cup semi-final series 2-2.

Deciding game will be played here Saturday.

Other Regina scorers were Elmer Schwartz, with three, and Bud Rogers and George Parker with one each. Ray Cerenko had two for Bearcats, while Ron Hendon, Johnny Irving and Pete Johnston got the others.

Bond Head Wreckers were leading Newmarket Sleasor Mouldings 4-2 half-way through the second period of the second game of the best-of-three final for the Bradford and District Hockey League championship.

Defenceman Don Thom, given a minor penalty, protested and was given a game misconduct. Newmarket goalie Joe Burke protested — in fact he refused to protest. There was no other goalie.

Newmarket put on six attackers and, before the game ended, managed to score two more goals.

However, Wreckers won the game and the series and hockey they scored 13 times on the empty net.

Would Join Western League

SEATTLE (AP) — The Times says Los Angeles and San Francisco are ready to join the Western Hockey League.

The commission operating the new 16,000-seat Los Angeles Memorial Arena voted Wednesday night to start negotiations with the league.

Nye Wilson, manager of San Francisco's Cow Palace, was quoted in the story as saying, "Whatever Los Angeles does, we'll follow."

Baronets Will Continue Play

QUEBEC (CP) — Quebec Baronets will continue in the Eastern Canada Memorial Cup semi-final, Lionel Fleury, president of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association, said.

The Baronets lost 6-0 to Ottawa-Hull Junior Canadiens in the opening game here Wednesday night. In the past series have been played on the ice that first game was too uneven.

Fuming Kings Will Play Out Junior Series

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Oil Kings, still fuming over the addition of Red Berenson to Flin Flon Bombers, have agreed to play out the remainder of the Western Canada junior hockey semi-final.

Berenson, picked up by Bombers from Regina Pats of the Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League, scored six goals in leading Bombers to victory over the Oil Kings in the first two games of the best-of-seven series.

Oil Kings coach Ken McAuley, who earlier had threatened that he might not ice a team, said Thursday the Oil Kings would play out the series.

Edmonton complained th a Berenson was ineligible. The centre holds a junior card from Regina Pats, although he left the Pats before the start of the season to attend college in the United States. He returned to Canada in January and went to Europe with Belleville for the world hockey championships.

George Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said in Midland Wednesday Berenson "quite entitled to play . . . if he has a certificate with Regina Pats."

SKI INJURIES FATAL

Fort Erie Opens Saturday

FORT ERIE (CP) — The 196-day Ontario thoroughbred racing season opens here Saturday, the earliest opening in the history of Canadian racing.

Fort Erie's 25-day spring meeting is the forerunner of a season in which the Jockey Club will distribute purses of $3,081,300 at Toronto's new $4,483,463 race arena, Woodbine. The horses will be in action continuously until Wednesday, Nov. 18.

Jockey Club officials are confident that attendance and wagering figures for the year will exceed the record year of 1958 when 1,587,331 patrons wagered a total of $63,483,463. Ave arerage daily crowd in 1958 was 8,098 and the average daily wagering was $401,160.

Racing moves to Old Woodbine May 4 while the first meeting of the year at the $13,000,000 New Woodbine opens June 1.

This season's feature will be the 100th annual running of the Queen's Plate at Woodbine on Tuesday, June 30. Queen Elizabeth will witness the centennial of North America's oldest stakes race and will present her traditional gift of the gallneck to the owner of the winning horse. This year's plate will have a gross value of more than $70,000.

BEATS GONZALES

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Lew Hoad outlasted Pancho Gonzales 6-4, 6-4, 6-2 in professional tennis Thursday night. He thus regained the lead in the series, holding an 18-7 record to Gonzales' 17-8. The Australian star topped his winnings to $11,250 against $11,150 for Gonzales.

Small Crowd Sees Hull Whip Miramichi

HULL, Que. (CP) — Miramichi Beavers will be battling to stay on the Allan Cup trail when they meet Hull Laptop Canucks in the fourth game of their best-of-five Eastern Canada semi-final.

Hull-Ottawa 2-1 series lead Thursday night with a 6-5 victory earned on 60-minute goal by Rhee Dagenais. His winning marker came after the New Brunswick club had erased a 5-4 deficit to take a one-goal lead midway through the third period.

Crowds for the series here have been disappointingly small. Thursday's turnout being only 713.

SETTLE FOR CASH

OTTAWA (CP)—J. P. McCafferty, says Ottawa Rough Riders decided Vancouver Lions Canadian Football League club's executive would accept a cash offer in return for relinquishing negotiating rights to all-American quarterback Randy Duncan of Iowa. The member of the Big Four Football would accept a cash offer in re- "We are satisfied with what we got."

"I'm afraid I'm going to lose this fight. He throws a left exactly the way my wife does."

At the McCarthy

HELD OVER AT THE MCCARTHY

The latest evidence of Hollywood realism to benefit cast as well as audience is in evidence in the spicy Army comedy, "The Perfect Furlough," held over today and Saturday at the Odeon-McCarthy theatre with Tony Curtis, Janet Leigh, Linda Cristal, Keenan Wynn and Elaine Stritch providing the fun, with igloos and the Hollywood An Eskimo village, complete version of deep snow, had been built on a sound stage for one of the sequences dealing with the plight of 104 snow-bound G.I.'s, among them Tony Curtis. When Director Blake Edwards viewed the set he had one suggestion that they drop the temperature on the stage to a shadow above freezing, which was accomplished with huge cooling machines.

Next morning when the cast arrived for scenes at the Eskimo village Edwards had no trouble getting them to simulate that chilled-to-the-bone feeling.

50 Rich Men Spend a Million To Give Stars Spot to Play

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fifty men are out to put some life in the Los Angeles-Hollywood social world, and they're spending $1,000,000 to do it.

Saturday night will mark the preview of the Cave des Roys, a new pleasure spot in the heart of Ladiesega's restaurant row. But it's different from the other stylish eateries on the boulevard. This one is a private club for 4,000 persons prominent in the movie and business world.

And the accent is not on food, but on fun.

"This will be a fun place," explained C. E. Erickson, local cafe owner and managing director of Cave des Roys. "Los Angeles sure needs something like this. It is the greatest town for its size in the country, people just don't go out and have fun here."

IDEA FROM LEBANON

It's styled in French 15th century and patterned after the Cave du Rois, which several of the investors visited in Beirut, Lebanon. Erickson said, "The sound of Beirut was committed to the desire of Woolworth building. Much of the wood was carved in Lebanon.

Among the entertainers: suits of armor valued at $5,000 each . . . a $6,000 mural depicting a leather wallpaper from the Rothschild chateau in Vienna . . . a bar backed with 4,000 champagne bottle bottoms . . . French, of course.

How did this all come about? It seems that a group of millionaires including Conrad Hilton, Ed Pauley, Justin Dart, Jack Warner and Jules Stein agreed there was a need for a place where the local elite could meet for good fellowship. Fifty founders kicked in a few grand apiece to start the project rolling.

EXCLUSIVE MEMBERS

"There was no solicitation of membership," Erickson said. "Friends were referred by friends until the roster mounted."

Among the Hollywood names who made the team: Desi Arnaz, Anthony Quinn, Paul Newman, Tony Curtis, Fred MacMurray, Danny Thomas.

Members have one thing in common: money. They pay $50 for a lifetime membership and get a key to the private door. No dues. Drinks are all $1.35, but that also includes hors d'oeuvres and dancing. Waitresses are Hollywood showgirls in mockmedieval, scanty costumes.

Cave des Roys means cellar of the kings, and you should pronounce it Cahve Day Rwah. You should, but few people will. "I can't even pronounce it myself," said Erickson.

AT THE PARK — Gregory Peck is cast as an easterner who goes out west in the 1870's and becomes embroiled in a bitter family feud. "The Big Country", filmed in Technicolor and Technirama, released through United Artists, showing at the Park Theatre today and Saturday. On the same program Leo Gorcey, Huntz Hall and the Bowery Boys in "Jalopy", Continuous show Saturday from 1.00 p.m.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RICHTER

Saturday, April 4

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — Secret buddies with higher-ups and those in a position to advise will result in your getting some very worthwhile ideas and methods. But be sure you do not confide in others or you may lose the potential benefit therefrom.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — A day for outside activity. Be with all those persons who can help you materially in your career, co-operate with associates, and be sure to meet brilliant newcomers. Sign contracts with key persons if that seems feasible.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — Think big and grow big today. See that all you do is accomplished in brilliant fashion because an influential person is watching you and will come forth with support you need at the right psychological time. Be very productive.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — A day for getting out of your little corner and expanding your sights. Meet influential and clever persons. Go about together socially and count to meeting of minds while thus pleasantly occupied. Don't hurry your light under a bushel.

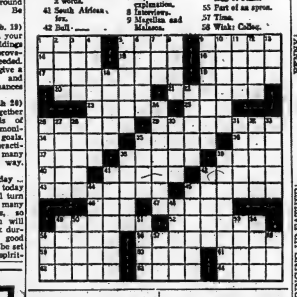
Leo (July 23 to Aug. 21) — If you will concentrate upon helping the other person today, you can achieve that abundance and social prestige you have set your heart upon. Be sure your abode is in keeping to receive guests. Be co-operative and kind.

Virgo (Aug. 23 to Sept. 23) — Much talk with associates now productive of excellent results. Plan courteously and intently to what they have to say. Then there will be a true meeting of minds and more harmonious relationships will mean greater success for the future.

Libra (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Astrologically, work is uppermost on the agenda today. Be sure you have surroundings in spotless condition, adding a bit of art here, efficiency there, too. Good day to shop, bring in supplies.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Put abode and affairs in order early in A. M. Then off to immortal parlor, beautician and get appearance at its peak so that you can go about socially to best advantage. Combine business with pleasure for real satisfaction.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Get that private, confused condition or situation straightened out properly today by using the vital person involved or clearing away what is not wanted. P. M. home should be centre of happiest activities. Be happy there.



Capricorn (Dec. 22 to January 20) — A day for making calls, shopping, visiting relations, getting all outside duties caught up. Also good time for serious study. P. M. go about socially with dear pal and round out a fine day pleasantly. Be charming and jolly.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — A day in which to scan your real estate or other holdings critically and make improvements or repairs truly needed. Add to present value and give a thought to the artistic and charming. Then get finances straightened out.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — The ideal day to get together with associates or friends of long duration to work harmoniously toward cherished goals. Impress them with your practical commonsense ways and many benefits will come your way. Co-operate efficiently.

If your child is born today, the fascinating child born today will be of both a practical turn of mind while capable of many fine inspirational thoughts, so that the rare combination will result in doing great work during adulthood. Hence, a good educational program must be set up which will take in the spiritual as well as the practical values. The potential here is remarkable and inveolvement looms large.

Sunday School Lesson

The Sinners or the Victims?

By ROY L. SMITH

It is very much easier to convince either a nation or an individual that they are victims than it is to get them to confess that they are sinners.

The secret of Hitler's success lay in the fact that he made his appeal to the German people on the basis of the wrongs they had suffered, and fair minded historians are pretty generally agreed today that some of the peace terms imposed upon the defeated nation in 1918 carried in them the seeds of new wars.

There come times, however, when the highest patriotism expresses itself in an appeal to the nation for repentance. There can be no hope of peace in this world until we have eliminated race hatreds, injustice, ignorance, hunger and disease. He who labors for the elimination of any, such is a peace-maker. And he who refuses to call a guilty nation to repentance is its best friend.

ONE MAN CAN TRY

In one of the splendid pictures of the old silent days Baron Rothschild of England portrayed as a great-hearted citizen who was about to throw his entire fortune into an effort to hold the nation solid against its foes. One of his friends remonstrated with him, saying "One man can't save England!" to which the brave old baron replied, "Perhaps not, but one man can try."

History is replete with the stories of crises in which individuals have thrust themselves into dangerous situations and saved their nations. In the darkest hour, for example, Winston Churchill was worth more to his nation than whole armies on the field.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for April 5: "SAMUEL, AS JUDGE," I Samuel 3:19-21; 7.

Modern life is hard on the individual. A thousand forces seem bent on reducing him to nothingness. Ours is a time of super-organization, with the loud-speakers drowning out the voices of the little men of the ranks. But there come times when all hope rests with our willingness to listen to the still, small voices of one man to individual.

If any man believes he has the ear of God, and knows the mind of God, let him go on trying to make himself heard. He may succeed.

WE HAVE SINNED

CNR Cancels Agreement With Pullman People

TORONTO (CP) — Some 150 long - service railway workers were without jobs today after the CNR took over operation of Toronto-Quebec sleeping car service from the United States-owned Pullman company.

A CNR contract with the Pullman company to provide equipment and staff for some Canadian runs ended Wednesday. A CNR spokesman said the railway declined to renew his agreement with Pullman "in order to give improved sleeping car service with our own equipment and our own personnel."

Pullman, using Toronto as a central point, operated trains to North Bay and points north and to Windsor and other parts of Western Ontario. The company will continue its contract with CNR for its international runs originating in Toronto and Montreal.

John R. Murray, secretary of the Toronto local, Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen (CLC) criticized the CNR for not transferring some Pullman employees to CNR runs.

However, A. R. Blanchette, Canadian organizer for the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters (CLC)—which saw 90 members left jobless—said the CNR was willing to accord the porters "homestead" rights but the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CLC) protested.

The CNR spokesman said the railway has hired some of the laid-off Pullman workers and is prepared to hire more but they will have to go to the bottom of the seniority list.

CREAM CANS

The following is an extract from the Regulations made under

THE MILK INDUSTRY ACT, 1957

CONTAINERS

Section 89—

(3) "No person shall use a container for transporting milk or cream for manufacture into a milk product except

(a) the owner of the container, and

(b) a producer to whom the container was supplied for transporting milk or cream to the plant of the owner of the container.

(4) Where the operator of a plant supplies a container to a producer for the purpose of transporting milk or cream to a plant, the producer shall

(a) not transport milk or cream in the container to any place except the plant, and

(b) when the container is no longer required to transport milk or cream return promptly the container in good condition to the plant."

Liberal Leader Outlines 10-Point Election Program

Would Speed Highways, Assume School Costs

TORONTO (CP) — John Wintermeyer has fired the opening campaign gun of a provincial election that has not yet been called by announcements made before 500 cheering Liberal delegates to a one-day party convention.

The 44-year-old Ontario Liberal leader said: "This is not a costly program, this is not an irresponsible program—it is an opportunity for Ontario."

He said there was "no suggestion of increased taxation."

The convention also heard nasty gun fire directed at the Progressive Conservative government is characterized by "confusion and uncertainty."

"It's the kind of a government that will deal with problems only until it's a crisis—and then deals with it in a piecemeal, hasty and expensive way," he considered.

APPROVE FLUORIDATION

Before Mr. Wintermeyer spoke, delegates handled many resolutions, some of which were controversial. In the 10 promises, Mr. Wintermeyer did not mention the question of fluoridation which will split the convention wide open before it was approved by a majority vote.

The Progressive Conservative government, he predicted to call an election in the late spring.

Mr. Wintermeyer's promises:

Government credit for second mortgages to help purchase of homes with a down payment of $500.

Complete immediately a road program the present government announced seven years ago but pay for it over a 20-year period with establishment of a highways authority if necessary.

Give $300 a year to every student who has graduated at a university outside his municipality.

Gradually assume the full cost of education, removing the taxation burden from local property.

Encourage secondary industry in Northern Ontario by reducing freight rates on the government-owned Ontario Northland Railway and establish a department of northern affairs.

Provide machinery for a system of portable pensions that is carried from job to job.

Pay the full amount of any age up to 80 per cent of the value of their farm and equipment.

Establish a planning program for orderly and co-operative distribution of farm products.

Assist agricultural co - operatives in providing warehousing facilities for storage of farm products.

Establish hospital insurance to cover out-patient care and stays in convalescent and nursing homes.

Rackets King Convicted In Narcotics Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal court jury Friday night found rackets king Vito Genovese guilty of master-minding a multi-million dollar international narcotics ring.

Found guilty with Genovese were 14 of 15 defendants in the three-month-long trial. Others convicted included Vincent L. (The Chin) Gigante, who was acquitted last May of the attempted murder of Frank Costello, the former underworld king.

Genovese, 61, a swarthy man of sinister repute in underworld circles, has been described as a king of the rackets. He was acquitted in 1944 of first-degree murder in a gang slaying.

He and the other defendants were accused of operating a huge narcotics ring that brought drugs from Europe, Cuba, Puerto Rico and Mexico to the United States.

LIKE BIG BUSINESS

The ring was operated like a big business organization, the government said, with the Italian-born Genovese the top executive.

The prosecution cited Genovese's presence at the Apalachin, N.Y. conference in 1957 as leaders last fall to show his status in the underworld.

As a man never before convicted for a narcotics violation, Genovese faces a mandatory minimum sentence of five years, and a maximum of 20 years.

In testimony last year before the Senate rackets committee, Genovese was linked to treason and was described as a leader of the Mafia, the criminal syndicate that grew out of the ancient Sicilian Blackhand Society.

"HELPER" SENTENCED

He would not say whether he gave financial aid to Hedi Maroni, solist although Robert Kennedy, committee counsel, said Genovese was in Italy during the war "helping and assisting an enemy of this country."

Testimony depicted Genovese as a man who has amassed a fortune of $10,000,000 in the rackets and as a kingpin in the worldwide smuggling of narcotics from Italy looted from U.S. armed forces.

Federal Judge Alexander Bicks raised Genovese' bail from $50,000 to $100,000. Bicks set April 17 for sentencing of the convicted narcotics traffickers.

Reclaiming Car Proves Expensive For Dealer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Car dealer Lloyd Lloyd-Jones determined to retrieve a 1957 station wagon, valued at $2,500, when the purchaser failed to make more than an initial payment of $800.

He traced the man to New York and found the vehicle had been shipped to Sweden.

Campbell asked his father, retired auto dealer Jack Campbell, to fly to Sweden where the station wagon was traced, seized and shipped back here. But he is still out of pocket.

He paid $1,250 for his father's plane fare, $475 shipping costs, and his father's expenses.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: — Extensive cloudiness and snowflurries have mainly the area moving throughout the lower lakes, but the barometer is rising sharply as the storm which cut across Southern Ontario Friday now moves toward the Maritimes.

Clearing skies which have already reached northern and central Ontario will move down over southern sections of the province this morning. Temperatures will not depart markedly from normal figures for this time of year.

SMALLWOOD HITS PRIME MINISTER, FED. GOVERNMENT

Files Second Lawsuit For Contract Breach

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood lashed out at the federal government and Prime Minister Diefenbaker again Friday from the floor of the Newfoundland legislature.

He announced a second lawsuit against Ottawa, again on the grounds of breach of contract. He also withdrew an amendment that would have restored the cabinet's powers under labor legislation passed last month.

The premier said his government would sue the federal Works department and Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for breach of contract concerning subsidized housing in St. John's.

Smallwood already has launched a suit against Ottawa in the Exchequer Court of Canada, contending the federal government broke a contract by refusing to send requested RCMP reinforcements during Newfoundland's violence-spattered loggers' strike.

DIEF "INEXCUSABLE"

The premier also said Mr. Diefenbaker had made an "inexcusable attempt to interfere in a matter of provincial jurisdiction" in his statement concerning the breach of contract concerning subsidized housing in St. John's.

Newfoundland already has launched a libel suit against Ottawa in the Exchequer Court of Canada, contending the federal government broke a contract by refusing to send requested RCMP reinforcements during Newfoundland's violence-spattered loggers' strike.

DIEF "INEXCUSABLE"

The premier also said Mr. Diefenbaker had made an "inexcusable attempt to interfere in a matter of provincial jurisdiction" in his statement announcing the appointment of a judge to the Newfoundland Supreme Court.

Mr. Smallwood said the CMHC had taken from the St. John's housing authority the supervision and administration of 192 rental units, contrary to a 1956 agreement. The agreement, Mr. Curtis said he had issued instructions to have immediate action taken against the CMHC and the public works department.

Mr. Curtis indicated the housing units were taken over by CMHC after the government refused to comply with a request from Premier Smallwood and W. J. Browne, Newfoundland's representative in the federal cabinet, to replace present housing authority members with Progressive Conservative supporters.

IMPERTINENT REQUESTS

The housing authority is appointed by the provincial government. Such federal government requests were "unwarranted, impertinent and constitute an authority and jurisdiction of this province."

"Only someone with the face of a robber's horse would try to do it," said Mr. Smallwood. "Only Billy Browne has a skin that thick. He is certainly a sensitive animal by comparison."

He opened the legislature by saying he regretted to announce that there would be little delay in appealing a jailed judge to the Supreme Court once the province

Bernard Shaw's Alphabet Dream May Become A Reality This Year

LONDON (CP) — George Bernard Shaw's dream of a new and simplified English alphabet may become a reality this year.

Backers of the English - language experts now is in the process of wading through 300 suggested designs, all with more than 40 letters, and later this year will decide on the best, if any, will finish Shaw's dream.

If the suggestions of the late playwright are followed, the chosen alphabet will have at least 18 letters more than the present, so no one sound will require more than one letter. Shaw never did like "ghoti" as a word for an "fish" sound, and he thought the word "through" was a "wild absurdity."

His will, published in 1951 a year after his death at the age of 94, specified that as much money as necessary could be taken from his estate to cover the development of his alphabet. The remainder of the estate, then worth £367,237, was to be divided among the British Museum, the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art and the National Gallery of Ireland.

The alphabet project was hung up for six years while the museum and the Royal Academy successfully fought off a court action that it could not be carried out. Eventually, Shaw's language reformers launched an appeal, but before it was heard in court, the two organizations agreed was reached whereby the alphabet project received £8,300 from the estate.

By this time the value of the estate had risen to £71,000, the royalties kept coming in from Shaw's dramas, and the contribution came from My Fair Lady, a musical version of Shaw's Pygmalion, that earned about £250,000 in royalties since it opened in London in 1956.

When the will was eventually settled in 1957, the enlarged estate was divided among the British Museum, the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art and Sean O'Casey, spokesman at the public trustee's office refuses to say if royalties will continue to go to these beneficiaries. "We consider this a matter of taste and we cannot predict this," he said.

Although the new alphabet is expected to be put in writing some time this year, nobody expects it to get widespread usage

Appeasement Is Dangerous Course Declares Eisenhower

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower, cautioned today against any appeasement of Russia in the Berlin crisis. He said it would be a dishonorable course and "the most dangerous one we could pursue."

Appeasement, said Eisenhower, only would embolden the Reds to step up their world domination drive.

But the president emphasized that the Western powers want to avoid war over Berlin and negotiate a settlement to reopen the question of the possibility of a summit conference with Soviet leaders. Eisenhower said of the United States and its Allies:

"They seek to maintain the rule of law for the rule of force, the conference table for the battlefield."

In a major address prepared for the Gettysburg College formal convocation, Eisenhower called the Soviet proposal for Berlin "as lits out of West Berlin "a part of the continuing effort of the Communist conspiracy to attain world over-riding goal: world domination."

"Against this background we understand that the more handing for the free world is to negotiate possibly satisfy the Communists, even though such negotiations regularly like to eliminate what has been called the 'iron curtain' and to get behind the Iron Curtain.'

"Indeed, even if we should acquiesce in the unthinkable sacrifice of [illegible] Germany, a confession of weakness would dismay our friends and embolden our enemies. Ottawa [illegible] in the Exchequer Court of Canada, contending the federal government broke a contract by refusing to send requested RCMP reinforcements during Newfoundland's violence-spattered loggers' strike.

DIEF "INEXCUSABLE"

The premier also said Mr. Diefenbaker had made an "inexcusable attempt to interfere in a matter of provincial jurisdiction" in his statement announcing the appointment of a judge to the Newfoundland Supreme Court.

Mr. Smallwood said the CMHC had taken from the St. John's housing authority the supervision and administration of 192 rental units, contrary to a 1956 agreement. The agreement, Mr. Curtis said he had issued instructions to have immediate action taken against the CMHC and the public works department.

Mr. Curtis indicated the housing units were taken over by CMHC after the government refused to comply with a request from Premier Smallwood and W. J. Browne, Newfoundland's representative in the federal cabinet, to replace present housing authority members with Progressive Conservative supporters.

IMPERTINENT REQUESTS

The housing authority is appointed by the provincial government. Such federal government requests were "unwarranted, impertinent and constitute an authority and jurisdiction of this province."

"Only someone with the face of a robber's horse would try to do it," said Mr. Smallwood. "Only Billy Browne has a skin that thick. He is certainly a sensitive animal by comparison."

He opened the legislature by saying he regretted to announce that there would be little delay in appealing a jailed judge to the Supreme Court once the province

Russian Finds New Galaxies

LONDON (Reuters) — Russ Soviet scientists have discovered "the eternal youth of the universe" by discovering a new galaxies where stars are being born and powerful cosmic rays apparently have their source.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said Friday night the discovery of these galaxies was announced by astronomer Viktor Ambartsumyan, president of the Armenian Academy of Sciences.

Roberts Annoyed As Cadi Dismisses 67 Driving Cases

TORONTO (CP) — Attorney-General Roberts has challenged the authority of a Toronto city magistrate who dismissed 67 careless driving charges.

Magistrate R. C. Jackson, who threw out the charges laid in Metropolitan Toronto during the period when the validity of Ontario's careless driving law was in question, said Friday:

"You can't change the rules half way through the game."

The law was declared legal last month by the Ontario Court of Appeal.

Mr. Roberts said he would ask Crown Attorney John Bradshaw to investigate and prepare a complete report on Magistrate Jackson's action.

QUESTIONS AUTHORITY

"I can't imagine anyone dismissing 67 careless driving charges in this manner," he said. He said he doubted the magistrate had the authority.

"The magistrate should have consulted authorities here before taking such action."

The attorney-general, in an interview, said he has not been able to study the case and could not say what action might be taken. "It is a matter that is a sensitive animal by comparison."

He opened the legislature by saying he regretted to announce that there would be little delay in appealing a jailed judge to the Supreme Court once the province

Some Highways In Ontario Are Flooded

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Skies over Ontario were clearing today after a night of light showers and a thunderstorm in the threat of river flooding diminished.

Toronto's weather official said there hadn't been enough rain overnight to cause any danger of floods.

A storm Friday shed half an inch of rain in Southern Ontario and dumped two to three inches of snow south of Georgian Bay.

But the severe weather said the storm had moved across the province and now was heading for the Maritimes.

It was still raining in Ottawa early today but throughout most of Ontario the weather was generally clear and mild.

Forecasts were mostly for sunny weather with a few cloudy periods, windy and cool.

ROAD CONDITIONS

Most Southern Ontario highways were wet and wet.

In the North, the roads were slippery with packed snow and ice in some but were generally bare and wet.

Reports of highways flooded included: Highway 133 in the Port Hope area would be closed, Highway 314 one mile east of Highway 35 which is under 18 inches of water, Highway 530 four miles east of Amborg, 18 inches; highway 537 in the Sudbury area which is closed.

SNOWDEN HIGHER

The storm Friday swelled the spring runoff and sent river levels higher throughout the Lake Bruce counties. At Walkerton, 30 miles south of Owen Sound, the Saugeen reached five feet above normal Thursday night but sub sided to 4.8 feet Friday as the serious flood stage.

The Grand River south of Brantford overflowed its banks Friday.

Elsewhere in western Ontario river levels remained mostly constant as the cold, windy weather helped evaporation.

NEHRU HUSTLES TOP ADVISERS TO LAMA'S SIDE

Expect Interviews To Be Denied Papers

NEW DELHI, India (AP)— Prime Minister Nehru today ordered top Indian political advisers to join the Dalai Lama, still on the march along the northeast frontier.

There were indications Nehru was hustling to keep the Tibetan ruler under wraps during his refuge in India to avoid any incident—or statement—that might lead to an open rift with Red China.

One government source said "no harassment but the 3-year-old Buddhist king would be permitted by reporters hastening to reach him for a direct story on his flight from the Chinese Communists.

P. N. Menon, the Indian government's chief protocol officer, was reported to be one of the advisers Nehru dispatched to link up with the Dalai Lama. Menon was consul general in Lhasa, capital of Tibet, for several years until 1956.

HEAD FOR TOWNAY

The report that any party of fugitives numbering 80 was reported still on the march through rugged mountains in Assam under the directions it would reach the small Indian city of Towang by Sunday.

The Hindustag Standard, with close government ties, said the government was "not likely to appreciate a precipitate statement by the Dalai Lama" or itself make a statement on the precise condition of the Tibetan refugees before something about the Chinese reaction is known."

Red China showed fears that the god-king's escape might spark off a new anti-communist movement in the Far East. This concern was reflected in broadcasts denouncing the Tibetan rebels as operating "under the cloak of religion" and defending the Peiping claim to being a defender of religious freedom.

Tibetan exiles heralded the refugee 23-year-old god-king as still the political leader of the Himalayan kingdom. But Prime Minister Nehru is expected to invest the Lama in his spiritual activities.

CHIANG MAY OFFER ASYLUM

In Hong Kong, a usually reliable source said Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai - shek might offer the Dalai Lama asylum in Formosa to carry on the fight against communism in Tibet.

The Dalai Lama, who slipped out of Lhasa more than 18 days ago under the noses of Communist guns, still was making little public progress in his flight with his country and, at last reports, Chinese troops.

One report from Assam state government sources said the Dalai Lama was pushing through the 14,000-foot Seal Pass.

Peiping enlisted two emergency men identified as Chinese Catholic leaders—members of a clique that does not recognize Rome—to defend Red Chinese religious tolerance. Peiping radio quoted Bishop Pierre Chang Tsung-Yao of the Shenyang archdiocese and Father Joseph Chang, secretary of the Patriotic Catholic Association, as saying the Tibetan revolt "has nothing to do with religion."

This Year's Race For Movie Oscars Seen as Among Closest in History

HOLLYWOOD (CP) — The 1959 race for Oscar honors shapes up as one of the closest in the 31-year history of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

The big interest in the film capital as it prepared for the April 6 presentation of awards was whether Elizabeth Taylor's Oscar chances were helped or hurt by her involvement in the bitter breakup of the Eddie Fisher-Debbie Reynolds marriage.

Besides Liz, there are four nominations for this year's best actress.

Rosalind Russell, who starred in Auntie Mame, is nominated for In I Want to Live; Shirley Maclaine in Some Came Running; and Deborah Kerr in Separate Tables.

Liz's nomination vehicle was on a Hot Tin Roof.

The race for the best actor category also is a four-cornered affair as veteran Spencer Tracy to win his third Oscar, Cary Grant for Indian the Old Man and the Sea, based on the Ernest Hemingway novel. Unfortunately, the movie was not a hit and this may harm Tracy's chances.

The old pro, as he is sometimes called, has some strong competition from Tony Curtis, Sidney Poitier, Paul Newman and David Niven.

Curtis, if he wins, would be the first Negro to get an Oscar. Mr. Poitier was nominated also for their performances in The Defiant Ones.

Miss Taylor was nominated for Cat on a Hot Tin Roof and Niven for Separate Tables.

Other nominations for oscars:

Best supporting actress—Cara Williams, The Defiant Ones; Martha Hyer in Some Came Running, Hope Lange, Peyton Place; Maurine Stapleton in Lonely Hearts and Wendy Hiller in Separate Tables.

Best supporting actor — Burl Ives in The Big Country, Colin Young in Teacher's Pet, Sheriff Theodore Bikel in The Defiant Ones; Lee J. Cobb in The Brothers Karamazov, and Arthur Kennedy in Some Came Running.

Gigi, The Defiant Ones, Auntie Mame, Cat on a Hot Tin Roof and Separate Tables are competitive for the best picture Oscar.

Canada Plan Has Chilly Reception From U.S., France

Draws Support From Some Smaller Nations

WASHINGTON (CP)—A three-point Canadian formula to give the United Nations a hand in the settlement of the Berlin dispute was reported today to have drawn support from some of the smaller nations in the 15-member North Atlantic alliance.

But it also was reported to have got a chilly reception from two of NATO's senior members—the United States and France—because UN intervention might weaken the right they won in the Second World War to have a hand in determining Germany's future.

There was no immediate British reaction.

The Canadian formula, advanced by Defence Minister Pearkes Friday at the NATO council's 10th anniversary meeting discussed the Berlin crisis, would involve Soviet acceptance of a UN guardianship over the access routes between Berlin and free Germany.

PEARKES FRAMEWORK

Pearkes said Canada feels a possible role for the UN in Berlin would be "to assist in working out these three points as a framework for a four-power agreement:

1. The basic UN role might be to verify that the parties are abiding by the terms of the agreement.

2. The Soviet must pledge itself and its associates to permit full freedom of access to West Berlin and accept the establishment of a UN "presence" on the lines of access from the city.

3. Any UN responsibility for Berlin would be made complementary to the existing rights and obligations of the four occupying powers.

WOULD BE UNARMED

Pearkes later told reporters that the "presence" on the lines of access routes he meant would be unarmed military observers.

He also said that NATO Secretary General Paul Henri Spaak, in summarizing the Berlin discussion, said the Canadian proposal would be referred along with those submitted by other member states to the permanent NATO council.

The Canadian formula emerged as one of the major contributions to the conference on the various methods of blunting the Soviet threat to drive the West out of Berlin. The same as the foreign representatives, including Canada's, met in their own capacities to resist the Soviet attempt to take over the old city.

Spaak said the council approved public significance because of Canada's past record of success fully proposing compromise settlements in tense world crises. It was Canada's suggestion that the UN set up the emergency force which now guards the troubled frontier between Israel and Egypt.

SECOND PROPOSAL

Along with the Berlin proposal, Pearkes also urged the Western powers to be prepared to explore, in their approaching negotiations with the Russians, the possibility of arms limitation or

Don't Swerve Car Hit The Dog Rules Judge

MONTREAL (CP) — Mr. Justice Charles-Edouard Ferland has ruled that a woman who swerved her car to miss a dog and ended up in a ditch showed "very negligence."

He ordered Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Taillon of suburban Outremont Friday to pay $17,900 to their neice, Muriel Taillon, who was injured when the Taillon auto hit the ditch.

The trial of the defendant in swerving in such a way as to land in the ditch in order to avoid the dog shows very heavy negligence", said Mr. Justice Ferland.

"Any reasonable driver, given the choice would have chosen to hit the dog while braking in order to at least certain control of the automobile."

Declare Wine Germ Killer Like Penicillin

PARIS (AP) — The French high command of soldiers and alcoholism reported Friday that wine is a powerful germ killer whose qualities are comparable to that of penicillin.

That conclusion was among those reached in a 223-page report submitted to Premier Michel Debre.

The committee said a Professor Masquelier of Bordeaux University had studies and proved wine can kill bacteria. It mentioned the bacilli that cause gland fever, colon bacillus and staphylococcus.

discouragement on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Pearkes told the council, which winds up its deliberations today, that Canadians were aware that a third world war could easily mean a much more destructive action in its cities as those of Europe.

"Knowing the responsibilities they will have in their hands, we hope that the Western negotiators will take counsel from the knowledge that a thermonuclear war might destroy us all," he said.

Italian Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella said the possibility of UN help should not be ruled out and that world Large Powers may backed up the Canadian initiative.

Everyone who spoke Friday, one informant said, used the word "firmness" to describe what he thought the basic Western attitude toward Russia should be. Another principle on which the council members appeared to be solidly agreed was that the big three, with the backing of the other Western allies must not connive with their troops from West Berlin.

Business Brisk On Local Market

Today's outdoor market was brisk in both weather and business. Local vendors reported that more people were out than last Saturday. Several stands were supplying honey syrup and maple sugar made in first appearance today. This year's supply will be 50 per cent of last year's crop. Other fruits and vegetables, which make tapping trees and collecting the sap difficult. Prices on the syrup were 95 cents for a pint, $1.65 a quart, and $6.00 a gallon. Maple sugar was selling at 45 cents a half pound block.

There were several good displays of apples, with prices ranging from 90 to 50 cents a basket and $2.00 to $3.00 a hamper. Pears were selling at 75 cents a basket and $2.00 a half bushel.

Potatoes were priced at 50 cents a basket and from $2.00 to $2.25 for a 75-lb. bag. Cabbages were selling at 15 to 20 cents apiece; onions were 15 cents a quart; turnips were priced at 10 cents apiece or $1.00 a bushel.

Also on the market were celery were leeks at 10 cents a bunch or three bunches for 25 cents. Rhubarb was available at 10 cents a bunch.

The indoor market was reported to be a little slow. The usual fine display of baked goods was to be seen, however. Cookies sold at 50 to 25 cents a dozen; cakes were priced from 50 to 65 cents depending on size and embellishments. Pies were being offered at 50 and 65 cents, the latter pries being for fresh fruit pies.

Eggs were 50, 45, 40, and 35 cents a dozen for extra large, large, medium and bullets' sizes respectively. Chickens were selling at 50 cents a pound.

TO SLASH ESTIMATES

TORONTO (CP) — Mayor Nathan Phillips said Friday he will call civic department heads into conference early next week to give them firm orders to slash budget estimates. "I am not asking them to cut out anything in them," he said at the end of a day-long budget session of the city's board of control. The budget director, Controller Jean Newman, warned recently that the city tax rate may jump eight mills this year.

Travel Series To Caribbean Starts Monday

Beginning on Monday a short series of articles will appear describing a holiday cruise to the Caribbean completed this week by the managing editor of the A. Morton and Mrs. Morton. There has been increasing interest in recent years in both scenic and more economical travel by ship to the Caribbean areas. Longer stop-overs in ports of call for unloading and loading cargoes make it possible for passengers to make more extensive visits to interesting places than are possible by cruise liners. The articles will appear on the editorial page and it is hoped they will answer some of the questions readers have been asking about this mode of travel by freighter.

Minor Baseball Subject Of Talk At Lions Club

The Lions Club of Belleville held its regular Tourday night meeting on April 2 at the Sanne Club. The meeting was opened by president Jack Doyle and the club was treated to a community sing by a quartet made up of John Rose, Tom Colden, Don Hunter and Jack Bowman. Bill Lowen played the piano. Tony immediate past president, Tom Colden, introduced the guests, Elgin Oran, guest of Lion Don Hunter and Jack Bowman; guest of Cec Farker and three Trenton Lions, Don MacPherson, Stan Linton and Bud Cooper. Secretary George Stratton reported that a $100 memorial had been bought by the club for the local association for Retarded Children.

Lion Bill Lowen reported on the results of the public speaking and jingle contest held in Kingston where two Belleville students, the Patricia McGregor and Mr. John Shannon, both won second place in a Province of Ontario contest. The contestants. This qualified both for the semi-finals which will be held at Port Hope high school on Wednesday, April 15, at 8:00 p.m. The winners of this contest will then compete in a later district final contest and all Lions Clubs in Ontario and Quebec.

It was announced that Ted Curl, TV personality of CKWS, will be master of ceremonies at a Ladies and Boys Banquet sponsored by the Lions Club to be held in the Belleville Armouries on Friday night, May 8. Lion Al Glover volunteered as chairman for a raffle to be held some time during the month of June. Lion Bill Lowen, chairman of the membership committee, reported on the slate of new officers nominated by the committee for next year. Nominations from the floor will be accepted at the next regular meeting and elections will be held the first meeting in June.

STARTED IN 1911

Historian Bill Hurst spoke to the Lions Club on minor baseball in Belleville. He said a short history of baseball in this city and pointed out that the old "sand lot" days were over and young boys are able to play baseball on vacant lots. Organized baseball is necessary, it is much more efficient and does a better job.

Mr. Hurst stated that minor organized baseball in Belleville started in 1911 with 4 teams made up of approximately 100 boys. The project was organized and administered by the Minor Baseball Association which continued on a basis until when the Belleville Recreational Committee was set up in 1950. The number of boys of all ages participating had increased to 550. Mr. Hurst pointed out that this was only a start to what could be done and he stated that the major difficulty to expanding this sport has been due to the lack of satisfactory diamonds and other baseball facilities such as dressing rooms and showers.

Mr. Hurst stated that the Parks Board has granted permission for the use of the fairgrounds, which already has baseball facilities worth $15,000 to $20,000. The main problem at the moment is the necessary construction of at least three diamonds all to be located within the athletic circle at the fairgrounds. It is expected that baseball will be played on these diamonds by the 24th of May through to September 1. If the project is successful, it is hoped that be to expand the Minor Baseball Association to "Little" and Baseball Belleville. Mr. Hurst was thanked by Lion S. J. Dixon.

Y Leaders Hold Conference Here

The Belleville YMCA is host to the seventh annual Eastern Ontario Leaders' Conference being held at the local "Y" this weekend. Members of Leaders Corps from Peterborough, Oshawa are present for the three-day session, which got underway yesterday evening with an opening banquet. Mr. John Chipman was the guest speak r and told what a person may look for at a conference. There was a tour of Belleville by many of the visitors and a basketball game between Ottawa Intermediate Leaders and Belleville Junior Leaders was played, the visitors taking the tilt.

Today's activities started with a discussion group session on leadership principles. A luncheon meeting heard Mr. Wes McIvine, secretary for the National Council for Physical Education. This afternoon a recreation period will be held for both teams and individuals. Another dinner will be held this evening followed by a bowling party for those attending the conference.

Tom orrow's program will include membership discussions and a church service at Christ Church, followed by another discussion-speaker meeting.

This conference will conclude with a business meeting in the early part of the afternoon.

proclaimed legislation increasing the number of judges to four from three.

"In effect, what he (Mr. Diefenbaker) is saying is that he will fulfill his duty to Newfoundland if certain conditions are met, conditions which he presumes to lay down.

"We will not be bullied by Mr. Diefenbaker. Even if we had been on the edge of passing the legislation, we would withhold it rather than be bullied. . . ."

Legislation to create a fourth judicial district was passed a year ago but never proclaimed law.

"I take this opportunity to inform the prime minister of Canada that it is none of his business at all whether we proclaim this act or not. The government in Newfoundland will not proclaim this act creating a fourth judgeship until after Mr. Diefenbaker has unconditionally discharged his duty to fill the existing vacancies."

"I give no promise that we will proclaim the act even after he has filled the existing vacancy. We will not be bullied by Mr. Diefenbaker."

ONLY TWO JUDGES

The Newfoundland Supreme Court has only two full-time judges after the death in December of Chief Justice Sir Albert Walsh.

The labor agreement with Crown Prince would have lasted down the cabinet's right to outlaw any union whose officers or officials in the province had been convicted of "heinous crimes."

The government wants to have required the government to prove in the Supreme Court of Newfoundland that the officers had been so convicted.

CPR Team Wins Industrial League Title

TRENTON — The C.P.R. hockey team won the Trenton Industrial League Hockey Trophy Thursday night when it defeated Trenton Specials 8-4 in a rough, fast game at the Community Centre here.

Following the game the trophy, donated by Als Tires, was presented to the captain of the winning team, L. Peters, by John Villeneuve. Over 250 hockey fans attended the game which was described as the best of the season, and also ends hockey in Trenton for the year. The ice will be taken out of the rink on Sunday.

It was the CPR's game all the way with the score 4-0 at the end of the first, 5-3 at the end of the second and both teams getting a goal each in the final frame.

Beale and Istead paced the winning team with two goals and two assists each with their teammates Villeneuve playing in two goals. Simmons and Jones got single goals.

Hutchison led the losers with two goals and Vanderwoort and Barr Bigger added a goal each also got an assist.

Penalties were few with the CPR team making four trips to the sin bin and Mourille players making three.

Picton Gets Dial Phone Service

PICTON — Dial telephone service will be introduced in Picton and Bloomfield on April 26, it was announced today. The changeover will take place early on Sunday morning and will be extended over a period of a week. The cutover climaxes almost two years of preparation.

The dial equipment is located in an attractive one-storey building at the corner of Main and Elizabeth Streets.

Semi-private testing of the intricate equipment is now under way. Thousands of connections were made when the system was installed in the exchange building during the past few months.

With the cutover, all Picton telephone numbers will be changed. They will consist of the exchange designation, GReenwood 6, and four other figures. The present numbers of all listed in the Belleville directory distributed recently.

Coincident with the cutover, a small telephone rate increase is expected but the Bell's Picton exchange will be merged with the Bell company's Bloomfield Gray G. Telephone Company Limited, which has 38 customers in the west end of Picton.

G. W. Proctor, Bell Telephone manager for this region, said that there will be virtually no interruption in telephone service here when the change of over 4,000 telephones is made because the closely coordinated work required will be completed in disconnecting the old exchange and placing the new equipment in operation.

Back when today's adults were growing up, one out of every ten babies died before its first birthday. Now, advances in medical science are saving millions of lives each year. Yet the cost of the better medical care available today is actually less than the best care you could get when you were a child.

The reason: new treatments and new medicines developed by the medical profession and the pharmaceutical industry.

A dramatic case in point is reaneddicin children. Surgery was often able to save the child's life, but sometimes left him with a deaf ear. Nowadays, the doctor is often able to cure him with penicillin and a course of potent new medicines, and thus save the expense of an operation and of hospital stay.

But most important, these new drugs are saving children's lives—by the millions! Only the four most deadly child-killers were diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever, and pneumonia. Nowadays, the number of deaths from all of these causes combined is actually less than the number of children killed by accidents.

And medical progress continues. Today, the dollar you spend for prompt and proper medical care buys more than ever before—and may well represent one of the really extraordinary bargains of your life.

Deficit of $55,965 Is Shown In Annual Hospital Report Presented to Board Friday

Belleville General Hospital did a million and a half dollar business during 1958, it is shown in the hospital annual report presented Friday afternoon at the annual meeting of the hospital board of governors.

The report of the finance committee, presented under the name of chairman J. N. Yeoever, 1958 finance committee chairman, showed a total operating expenditure of $1,534,794 with total revenue of $1, 478,829. Deficit for the year was given as $55,965, after allowing for depreciation.

The hospital balance sheet showed assets, after depreciation allowance, of $2,549,502.85. Undepreciated value of the hospital building was given as $2,- 717,902.31. Undepreciated value of equipment is $692,397.02.

EXPENDITURES LISTED

The statement of expenditures showed that nearly one million dollars, or $939,554, was paid out in salaries and wages during the year.

Other expenditures going to make up the total of $1,534,794 included $49,715 for administration, $80,734 for medical care, medical and sterile costs, drugs and medications $97,479; dietary service $97,819; housing and maintenance $28,906; power plant (heating, electricity, etc.) $66,- 417; laundry, bedding and linen $14,004; $8,294 for the nursing school; $18,482 for radiology and $17,418 for laboratory.

The year's depreciation, on buildings, equipment and furnishings and interest on debentures was shown as $134,589.

REVENUES OUTLINED

On the revenue side $838,377 was received from hospital patients for room fees, while a total of $633,725 was charged for special services, giving a total revenue from patient services of $1,472,102. This is deducted from a total of $92,952 for free service and rebates and $17,790 in provision for bad debts, leaving a net revenue of $1,379,- 160.

Provincial grants amounted to a total of $85,567 and non-operating revenue $14,092. A loaded above the total net revenue was $1,478,829.

Mr. Vanover's statement noted that operating revenue, before depreciation, showed a surplus of $53,000.

Both revenue and expenditures had been up from estimates at the first of the year. During the year there were 8,584 hospital patient-days than had been anticipated.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE

Board chairman Frank Domenico in his report noted that each year saw an improvement in the hospital, both in physical structure and equipment and in medical and nursing care.

"The year 1959 was no exception and many improvements were made in all spheres", he said. "We continued to improve the physical layout and the renovation of older sections of the hospital has been completed."

He noted that over $35,000 had been spent on capital equipment, the largest expenditure of this type made in any one year.

He was pleased to report that as the result of co-operation on the part of the various governments, construction would be starting this month on a new four-storey residence and educational building.

Patient care at the hospital during 138 totalled 87,576, with the average number daily being 240 patients. The average patient stay in hospital was 9.4 days, down slightly from the previous year.

WERE 8,564 PATIENTS

There were 8,564 patients admitted during the year, and 8,- births recorded at the hospital totalled 1,417.

Of the total number of patients admitted, 4,044 were from Belleville; 3,552 from the county of Hastings, and 935 from other counties.

Indigent patient-days totalled 10,163 of which 4,716 were from Belleville and 521 were from Hastings.

At the year-end there were 210 patients in the hospital.

During the year there were 490 major operations, 660 of an intermediate nature and 1,615 minor operations. Emergency operating room usage totalled 6,704. There were 13,946 outpatient visits.

BAD ACCOUNTS LOWER

Despite evidence of "slower payments," the hospital's "bad" accounts situation had improved noticeably, according to the report of the J. P. R. Cane, chairman of the accounts receivable committee. The net bad debt writeoff for 1958 was 1.3 per cent of gross earnings as compared with 1.9 per cent in 1957.

The department of radiology headed by Dr. P. G. Loder, showed a total of 9,415 examinations during the year of which 5,523 were done on inpatients.

In the pathology department, Dr. A. N. Rote, director, reported a total of 118,070 tests, while both teaching and research programs had been carried on. Seventy-six autopsies were performed.

ADMINISTRATOR'S REPORT

Kenneth M. Box, hospital administrator, noted that 1958 had been a most substantial year for Belleville General Hospital with noted improvement in living. been made in all aspects of operation. During the year nearly 1,000 more patients had been admitted than in the year previous.

He said the financial picture was quite satisfactory and the hospital had been able to improve salaries and purchase substantial amounts of equipment.

Mr. Box expressed his appreciation for support from the city, county councils, the Women's Hospital Auxiliary, the industrial firms, labour and the various organizations, business men and the general public.

"The response has been most gratifying and their willingness to assist has contributed enormously in making the hospital what it is today."

STAFF APPRECIATION

Mr. Box also expressed his appreciation to members of the hospital staff for their co-operation, guidance and assistance. He said the public owes much to these men and women who give many hours of their time in the service of the hospital.

Staff members of the hospital also came in for praise.

"We cannot speak too highly of our staff at the hospital," he said. "Their friendly efficiency gives an air of warmth to the hospital."

LIBERAL LEADER

proposals, among them one to give municipal care in cases of "catastrophic" illnesses. Earlier the convention passed a resolution urging the provincial government should assume catastrophic illnesses above a given ceiling to keep the premium for private insurance plans within the reach of citizens.

Other proposals by the party leader, Hon. Edward Jabor - many more conferences to assure generous industrial peace and enough financial assistance to student teachers to guarantee qualified teachers for all.

NO EXTRA COST

Mr. Winstermeyer said his proposals would mean no added cost, merely an extension of government profit. He said the whole program would be financed from highway revenues during the lifetime of the roads. A separate budget account would be established.

The roads were necessary to undertake the development of all areas of the province and would permit diversification of industry and decentralization of population.

Mr. Winstermeyer said Premier Frost has lowered the demands he made on the previous Liberal federal government and that was sacrificing the rights of the Ontario people.

Proportionately Ontario was going into debt--$60,000,000 last year, $120,000,000 this year and $217,000,000 next year--twice as fast as the federal government.

LOSING FAITH

Mr. Pearson said the people are losing faith in the federal government's ability to live up to its promises and discharge its responsibilities. He said Prime Minister Diefenbaker was elected on a promise to reduce expenditures and maintain services but expenditures had increased with a record deficit.

The fluoridation debate pitted doctor against doctor. The motion called for provincial legislation to permit municipalities to fluoridate community water.

His supporters describe fluoridation as protection against tooth decay in children.

Last month Premier Frost said in future applications from municipalities for fluoridation would be rejected even if a majority of the residents approved it in a plebiscite. The Liberal caucus group in the legislature criticized the government for its stand and the premier appointed a three-man investigating committee to study the question after his own caucus was split on the matter.

INDIVIDUAL BLASTS

The government's stand was criticized Friday by Alderman Philip Givens of Toronto and J. C. German of Cobourg, who said the "bureaucracy at Queen's Park" had deprived municipalities the right to legislate for their own benefit.

The resolution was introduced by Dr. Claude Vipond of Oshawa and supported by Dr. W. L. Lamont of Hamilton. It was opposed by Dr. C. B. Ross of Gravenhurst, Harry Ashton of Oshawa, Mrs. Archie Newman of Ottawa, Luther Clarke of Windsor, Ray Brawley of Toronto and Mrs. Eric Regan of Ottawa, organization chairman for the National Liberal Federation.

Other resolutions called for higher hospital grants, better regional planning, a provincial unemployment scheme, a "vigorous" teaching recruitment program and a guarantee of higher education to anybody regardless of financial ability.

IL DUCE DIARY FAKE

VERCELLI, Italy (AP)—After a two-month investigation police say a diary attributed to the late Benito Mussolini is a fake, Amalia Pavini Nosari, 46, was ordered arrested on charges of trying to sell the diary for 8,000,000 lire ($12,800). She claimed her father, a police official, found the diary in an investigation.

Long service pins denoting 25 or more years of service with Belleville General Hospital were received by four staff members at a luncheon held Friday. Shown being presented with pins by Frank Domenico, board chairman, are: Mr. George Williams, Miss Mary Byers, Miss Hilda Collier and Mr. Tim Norridge. Thirty employees with ten or more years of service received pins.

Service Pins Are Presented To 30 Hospital Employees

Employees of Belleville General Hospital with from ten to ten years of service were honored Friday when they were guests of the board of governors at a luncheon meeting unique in the history of the local institution.

Over 30 employees with ten or more years service attended the function and were presented with service pins denoting the number of years' association with the hospital. Four employees received 25-year pins, six received 15-year pins and 20 were the recipients of 10-year pins.

"We are all looked forward to this occasion," assured board chairman Frank Domenico as he officially welcomed the guests to the luncheon. "This occasion is unique and demonstrates the fine spirit of co-operation which exists between the staff and the hospital board of governors."

CONDITION IMPROVED

Mr. Domenico went on to say that conditions at the hospital had improved tremendously during the past few years and in addition the board was also trying to do something toward salary adjustments. He assured workers that the board was behind its staff one hundred percent and commended Hospital Administrator Kenneth Box for a fine job" in administering which, he said, left little for the board of governors to do.

Mr. Domenico presented the 25-year pins to the four senior employees. Mr. McLean Haig, former board chairman, presented the 15-year pins, while Alderman Mrs. Ettie McCabe presented the 10-year pins.

Members of the hospital board, Mrs. Anne Forrester, J. N. Yeoever, H. Legate, Arthur Whitehead, Mayor Gerald E. Hyde, Mrs. Mary Warden, A. N. Brown, Mrs. B. E. Burley, president of the women's Hospital Auxiliary, Mrs. McCabe, McLean Haig, Mrs. Bessie Marsh and board chairman Frank Domenico, were introduced to the guests by Administrator Kenneth Box.

Mayor Gerald Hyde said it was an unexpected pleasure to "attend this auspicious occasion and be witness to the presentation of long service pins.

"I hope you will wear your pins with pride and show your pride with pride to your friends", he said.

PROUD OF HOSPITAL

Mayor Hyde said he was proud of the organization of the hospital which he stated "had come a long ways in the past few years and was providing a first class service to the community."

Alderman Warden J. N. Brown said he had enjoyed very much the work on the hospital board. He said that many employers had so many years service with the institution proved that the hospital board must have functioned very well in past years.

Recipients of service pins were: Miss Mary K. Byers, Miss Hilda Collier, Mr. R. George Williams and Mr. Tim Norridge.

Fifteen-year pins were received by Mr. Lawrence Doyle, Mr. William Kokesh, Mrs. Margaret Young, Mrs. Doris Enright, Miss Anne Coumbe, who is now a patient in the hospital and Mrs. Gertrude Pinkey.

In making the presentations Mr. Haig noted that the six ten-year employees with 15 or more years had a total of 100 years service with the hospital.

Ten year pins were received by the following: Miss Mollie Connell, Mrs. Pauline McAuley, Mr. Len Burfoot, Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mrs. Shirley Kellner, Mr. George Clements, Mrs. Cecilia Taylor, Mr. Robert Wright, Mr. Bruce Hicks, Mr. Eugene Rose, Mrs. Aileen Loucks, Mrs. Mary Sworik, Mrs. Rose Tenaerus, Miss Queenie Cooke, Miss Helen Walt, Mrs. Pearl Smale, Miss Margaret Vrain, Mrs. Cathleen Smith, Miss Lucille McTernan, Miss Ruth Dickson.

Says PCs Will Ignore Issues, Depend on Frost

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario Liberals Friday were told Progressive Conservatives are planning to use advertising agency techniques to obscure the issues in the provincial election expected in May or June.

Provincial organizer James Scott told his party's annual convention that Premier Frost is a "monstrous" political machine using "cynical" tactics to "sell a political demagogue to the people of this province."

Text of Mr. Scott's address was given to the press before delivery.

He said:

"Don't ask me where I get this information from but I can assure you that it is authentic--let it suffice exactly what kind of a campaign this machine will produce.

"The emphasis is going to be placed on the premier himself and you will find when you get back to your ridings and the election is called all Conservative propaganda will be directed to building up the image of Leslie Frost.

"These are the words which are being directed to Conservative candidates and I quote: 'He has a wide appeal to citizens in all walks of life. He is identified with the welfare of the common man. He is a well behaved figure.'

"The candidate will be a second focus of the Conservative campaign. Conservative candidates in the province are being told and again I quote: 'Broader issues are regarded as incidental and are incorporated only when they can be clearly identified with the candidate as a plus. Otherwise they are completely ignored whether or not they are introduced by the opposition.'

In other words Conservative candidates are being instructed to ignore issues which might affect them at stake in any election. The whole cynical approach of this bloodless machine is directed to an electorate which the Conservatives apparently also have about the intelligence of an eight-year-old child.

"Ladies and gentlemen, the Liberal party does not believe in this sort of thing. We do not create any father image in anybody's mind. We are going to use techniques for selling soap in order to sell a political demagogue to the people of this province."

The one-day convention was billed as the start of Liberal campaign in the forthcoming election and this was reflected in a questionnaire issued to arriving delegates.

BIG GAIN IN RUSSIA

GENEVA (Reuters) — Rapid industrial progress coupled with bumper harvests increased Russian and eastern European economic production by six to nine per cent in 1958, a United Nations survey said Thursday.

Ross Ketcheson Heads Ayrshire Breeders' Assoc.

At the annual meeting of the Central Ontario Ayrshire Breeders' Association, which was held on Wednesday at the Ontario School for the Deaf, Rose Ketcheson, Ayrshire, was re-elected president. The other 1958 officers were also re-elected. Vice-president, Robert Wood, Haldimand, R.R. 2, and secretary-treasurer, Archie McCord, Campbellford.

The meeting featured a judging competition at the O.S.D. farm. Mr. Clarence Mann, Peterborough, director of the Ontario Ayrshire Club, and Mr. L. W. Roger, Ontario Holdman, and Sidney MacDonald, agricultural Representative, were in charge of the two classes of Ayrshires. Winners in the competition were Bruce Cannon, Orwell Parker, Gerald Tumenon; Owen Ketcheson and Archie McCook.

GUEST SPEAKER

An interesting speaker of the afternoon, J. M. McLean of The Quinte District Holstein Club, spoke on "The Most Common Mistake the Dairyman Makes." He said that the failure of the dairyman to get to know his cows was the first fault he stated, "if you were to make a financial investment with anybody you would certainly want to know as much as possible about him, as to his habits and other herds. We invest in the raising of our cows, the feed and equipment yet know little about the return they are likely to give. The more you know about a cow the more enjoyable the work becomes."

FOUR "KNOWS"

The speaker stated that there are four "knows"—

1. Know the name of your cow's ancestors.

2. Know and have a farm name.

3. Know the R.O.P. record of your cows.

4. Know the official classification, the type of your cows.

For too many cattle breeders use of the R.O.P. service. In the Quinte District there are 100 herds of Holstein on R.O.P. and only 20 of these are in Hastings. The Ayrshire picture is as bad. There are 30 members in the Frontenac, Lennox & Addington, Hastings, Prince Edward and Northumberland area and yet only 10 herds are on R.O.P. No herd was officially classified on last visit and only one herd in Ayrshire. Mr. McLean pointed out the daily weighing of milk was a big help in the herd, as well as showmanship in getting a herd ready for the show ring. Records of production are a guide to what cows are boarders. The herd classification will enable breeders to find out the weaknesses of their herds and will enable them to know for what to strive for to improve.

When naming calves try to grow from by cow families and if there is no really good cow in the herd to start back to build the herd, then buy, but buy wisely. Use the extended pedigree and try to keep a family story. Look for good producers in your neighborhood. What are the daughters and sons like?

Mr. L. W. Roge briefly gave a resume of the fall activities and stressed much of what Dr. McLean had stated. In Ontario last year, there were 70 new breeders; 5,152 registrations and 1,400 transfers.

Thanks for the use of the facilities at the O.S.D. were expressed by Brodie Ness, Kingston.

Thinks Electronic Detective Could Prevent Engine Woes And Landing Gear Trouble

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — For airline passengers, no more bad moments when an airplane engine conks out during flight; no more instances of landing gears sticking so that they won't come down and your plane has to belly land.

This is the prospect offered through an electronic detective system conceived here.

Dr. J. Ward, electronics engineer of Lockheed Aircraft Corporation's Georgia division here.

TROUBLE SPOTTER

This could be the next development in a high-powered scientific method already being used in flights of test, existing or impending troubles. If the complex electronic systems of some modern airplanes, carried further, it could analyze engines and hydraulic systems, even the landing gear, Jamgochian thinks.

Jamgochian played a leading role in developing the electronic detective, nicknamed MADREC, before being used regularly in flight tests of B-47 medium-jet bombers and C-130 military cargo transport planes.

MADREC checks on and analyzes specific electrical or electronic systems on these planes for any malfunction — systems controlling movements of elevators, the radio, power supply, pressurization.

EASILY FIXED

It can pinpoint the location of circuits or transistors or tubes that aren't performing properly. Then it's a simple matter for a technician to replace the faulty components. Squiggles on recording paper show where the trouble lies.

That means quick turn-around time, savings in servicing airplanes equipped with the malfunction detection system. It's that area's enormous funds in flight tests of newly-modified aircraft re-equipped with the latest systems. One flight test of a B-47 costs $2,000 an hour. The electronic detective is to take about five flights to check the plane for company acceptance, Jamgochian says. With MADREC, two flights usually are enough.

THE DANGEROUS DALAI LAMA

It is interesting to note the efforts made by the Communists to intercept the Dalai Lama before he escaped from their reach and entered India. Some 3,000 troops, assisted by aircraft, airborne troops and tanks knows what else were engaged in this gigantic manhunt.

To us one thing seems quite evident. The Communists were afraid of the power the Dalai Lama yields, not as a military or temporal ruler, but as a spiritual ruler. The faith which Tibetans place in their god-king is manifested in the action which has been place over the past few weeks. Despite the overwhelming odds of the Chinese Communists' army, the local tribesmen have taken a guerilla-type of action against their oppressors.

One may ask why. We do not see where any material gain may be realized by the action, just as the material gain was to be had by the Hungarians in their revolt. The gain seems to be that of freedom, political, spiritual, or otherwise. When a person, or people, places confidence in an ideal or a way-of-life above the material aspects of their environment there is little, outside of the complete extermination of these persons, which will extinguish that ideal or belief.

In the battle for the minds of the people of Asia and the Middle East the Communists do not want to lose a single bet. The escape of the Dalai Lama to the free world poses a very serious threat to the progress and prestige of their Minds for Moscow campaign. There is a saying that "truth will out" and this is to come to the peoples of Asia sooner or later. We hope that it "outs" before it is too late for all humanity, as well as our Asiatic friends.

There is also the tremendous advantage that with the Dalai Lama's escape the truth may be coming to the Asian people about the Soviets, not from the western democracies which age, unfortunately, held in distrust by too many foreign peoples.

This, then, is the reason that the Dalai Lama has been sought by over 50,000 Chinese troops. He could be the disrupter of years of careful work, planning, intrigation, and propaganda.

We are glad he has reached India. We hope that the Indian government will give him adequate protection against possible assassination by Communist agents. And we hope that he brings a message to the peoples of Asia -- a message which we do not seem to be able to impart to them successfully ourselves.

A RAILWAY NEWS BULLETIN SERVICE?

We notice in a recent edition of Punch, the English humor magazine, that the British railways (the U.K. equivalent of the CNR) will be publishing and distributing news sheets at regular intervals to explain to their passengers why one's train may be late.

This might be an excellent line for our own publicity-owned railway system to utilize. Canadians have often wondered why their trains are late. In fact it seems more the exception than the rule that the passenger trains run on time. This opinion, we might add, is not in all fairness, is derived from years of experience and casual rubbernecking usually, although not always, during a holiday season.

One might recollect waiting on board a train in Toronto for almost one hour after it was scheduled to leave because it was waiting for a Montreal train to arrive.

From this experience we might conclude that this happens right across Canada. The Montreal train's departure might be delayed by the late arrival of the Halifax train. The Toronto train is delayed by the former's tardiness and somewhere out west another train is possibly waiting for the train from Toronto.

It would be interesting to see the CNR explain, in a bulletin, the importance of Calgary passengers for Vancouver will be delayed two hours due to the Halifax special running into a herd of cows."

This bit of information might be accompanied by a detailed write-up of the accident complete with the-spot pictures obtained via the wire service. By the time the passengers had read through the account, with a few humorous anecdotes as well, for good measure, their train might be ready to leave and they wouldn't notice the delay at all.

Deseronto Days 1919-1932

Written expressly for The Ontario Intelligencer
by HARRY M. MOORE

ARTICLE 19

— No reference to Deseronto between the years 1919-33 would be complete without special attention to the part Naylor's Theatre was to play as a means to forget the tragedy of the war which ended in 1918.

The theatre was built some years prior to that by native-born Thomas J. Naylor, a born showman with a keen sense of entertainment values. Mr. Naylor had been reeve of the municipality for several years and it was his ambition to emulate his predecessor, James Dryden, in the capacity of county warden. Fact is, it was Deseronto's turn for the wardenship again when unexpected opposition developed, Mr. Naylor was defeated and to those close to him he was never to be the same again. His sudden death shocked the community.

It was said when first built that Naylor's Theatre was the best of its type between Kingston and Toronto. Since then there has been the Napanee, Naylor's was to become truly the mecca for entertainment lovers of a vast district. Its nightly offerings ran from silent pictures, talkies, to various road and medicine shows, to local plays and other forms of entertainment provided by various town and district organizations. Many a Saturday's during the war that Captain Vernon Fisher, the Recruiting Officer at Camp Rathbun, was to be joined by his wife from Belleville and part of a famous international dancing team, to perform before a packed house. And incidentally it was in the same Naylor's Theatre many years later that George Drew in a political speech allegedly referred to the French in Canada as "a conquered race," which he was to vehemently deny when the French-Canadians refused to accept to such terms.

In the talkies of those days we write about there were many of the old favorites, Rogers, Eddie Polo, Tom Mix, and many others. The latest invention was played by pianist W. R. Eppes with Miss Eva Kingsley as spare him often favorite Laverture operated the projection.

LIVE SHOWS BEST

However it must be admitted that the live stage had it all over the "animated" talkies when it came to quality and showmanship in Naylor's Theatre. Shortly after the war there was a run of high class stage shows that will never be forgotten. The Dumbells, that famous troupe, entered to entertain the boys in the trenches, had returned to Canada and soon rigid down into New York City, after which they broke up and some of them appeared in "The Better Ole" at Naylor's—among them Ina Nevarro and Ina Rafferty. Then there were such plays as "Dardanella" and "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." Denman Thompson (who, as a matter of fact, was the inventor of the old gold rush back in the 70s) came along with "The Old Homestead" which he had written and in which he played the leading role.

And then of course there were the Winnipeg Kiddies, starring Little Jackie Hinesliver, and there came later the Belleville Kiddies and Frank Marsh and singer Harold Barrett at his best. And Bert Johnston was there with his medicine show and "Salvere" was also at Naylor's. Salvere claimed to have originated the Brigham giant. Len Whitton, all 715 pounds of him, the champion no canoeing, would appear in the U.S.A. He did of course, cross Canada in his canoe, "England," where he was buried. At least that was the story Salvere had to tell.

There was one show that opened in Canada on tour at Naylor's with the arrival of fall and continued to do so for many years. The old showman-owned every summer would ship his paper — to Naylor in huge trunks where it awaited the time of arrival to get "The Sunny South Minstrels" on its tour of Canada. From memory the name of this old showman appears to have been "Doc" Kearns. He knew his business and was an excellent judge of what makes the minstrel show. He died a millionaire at his home in the eastern state some years ago.

No goals were spare of the past days we try to recall will still remember the efforts of a district organization to stage that old tear-jerker, "East Lynne," but which, as it turned out, was everything but.

THE PACKSACK
By GREGORY CLARK

Right now is a time of terror for nearly all the mammals the world save us and our pets and slaves, the cow, horse, hog, and sheep. Here we sit, warm and secure, the entire family.

But in the wilds, all our kindred lean and weary from the long winter, face the tragic days of retreat.

The ice is perilous. In razored blocks, it begins to rear and threaten town little brook. And in the big rivers, it goes insane.

The sky is ravenous with wind. No more it sings, the rain lashes and curses around every shelter, into every crevice. The old trees fall. The dead branches hurl down. The sleet bites.

All the world is the deer, the fox, wolf, beaver are heavy with their young. It is hard to pick.

Of all the tracks of the year, this is the most perilous for a million million bearers of the mysterious torch we call life.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Grant of Toronto were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Giles, Front Street.

Miss Hazel Halpin, Turnbull St., returned Saturday from Gananoque, where she had been spending the past two weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Mor..an.

Prof. Norman McKenzie, who addressed the Canadian Study Club Friday evening was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Archibald, Dufferin Avenue. Professor McKenzie and Mrs. Archibald were able to renew associations begun at Dalhousie University and continued during service together in the 85th battalion, the famous Nova Scotia Highlanders.

Following the concluding address in the Belleville Literary at which members had the opportunity to hear Professor McKenzie, Norman McKenzie, Mrs. P. C. MacLaurin and Mrs. T. C. Mikaelidis poured and the guests were K. S. Hill, Miss Eric Grout, Miss Reid Campbell, Miss Stewart Maxson, Miss Hilda McLaren and Miss Sabina Hamilton.

Maintenance gangs of the Canadian Pacific Railway continued the sweeping their work of strengthening the large culvert on the west side of the bridges after weekend operations in preparation for the Diesel. A system of bloodlighting the bridge has been installed to reveal any signs of trouble with the bridge in the event of a heavy ice storm during the night.

Apparently little the worse for its immersion of almost a week in Lambs' Pond, and ready to take over Dublin, the Waco biplane owned by Lawson Brothers Air Service of Belleville, which sank to the bottom after the ice had given away when a landing was attempted, was salvaged last evening. A party proceeded to dismantle the machine and return it to Belleville for repairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, a well-known fish dealer of the city, today was exhibiting an exceptionally fine trout which weighed thirteen pounds. It was caught in the bay near Massassaga Point.

Attendance was small at the Y.M.C.A. Athletic entertainment in the rink Saturday last night, but a pleasing and creditable performance was given, showing that under the instruction of Mr. L. H. To Your Good Health
By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

DON'T FORCE A CHILD TO OVERCOME A SENSE OF FEAR

"Dear Dr. Molner: Could you offer any suggestions regarding our 1 1-2-year-old son's fear of strangers? We adopted him when he was four months old and at that time he wasn't terrified by people at all. He was very friendly and responsive when anyone talked to him or held him.

"But since about 13 months he screams if anyone other than his father or grandmother tries to hold him, hug him or kiss him. He's just terrified.

"Friends have told us perhaps we didn't take him to enough strange places for him to get used to outsiders, but we have taken him everywhere we go visiting, or the grocery store, etc. I have even tried to explain to him that no one is going to hurt him, particularly his relatives. He sees all of these people on an average of once a week or so but he still screams if anyone comes near him.

"We are just wondering if maybe he doesn't act this way because of the attention he gets from us and his father and mother. — E.B."

My guess is that somebody hurt or startled him — some stranger or comparative stranger. The adage about "a burned child fears the fire" is often true. I learned something, at that age, who slipped on the cement steps at a neighbor's house when, just to look around, I let him to get over his distrust of strangers.

Another recent incident I have in mind concerns a family with a very little boy and a very old dog, the latter with a young child. Anyway, the family got in the habit of telling the dog, when he came too close to the baby, "Get back."

Gradually the little boy would run away frantically whenever the poor old dog came anywhere near. They caught on. The little fellow, right from the child's attitude began to change. Now he, too, pets the dog, and isn't afraid of dogs in general.

It sounds to me as though your youngster is getting plenty of chances to see strangers, or comparative strangers, and I wouldn't pay a bit of attention to that criticism that you "don't take him out enough." This makes no sense at all, to me.

But I do think something probably frightened or startled the child. It may be something that passed almost without notice by everyone but the little boy.

My motion is not to force things. Let him keep his distance. When just one aunt, or uncle, or cousin is around, work things very slowly and cautiously; just, "Take this pencil to Aunt Clara," or the like. Aunt Clara shouldn't grab the child or make any fuss. Reasoning Is Faulty

Brantford Expositor

One automobile association in the United States says that taxes gone up from 15 percent to 20 percent "because of inflation." What it means is arithmetic. So should a lot of tippers. There is a gaping hole in the argument.

A 15 percent tip when a meal was the limit cost at 15 cents. If that meal is now $3 "because of inflation," the same 15 percent tip works out at 30 cents — just double the old tip. So what inflation is the arithmetic for lacking up the tip percentage when the inflated bill alone fully takes care of inflation?

Many people who have fallen into the trap of spending more money by a little straight thinking and figuring. And for more courage in refusing to tip where service has been poor.

BALANCE

Creative living largely consists in our being able to maintain balance. A most common fault is to step outside the framework of our body, enabling us to keep our balance as we stand and walk.

Likewise, in every aspect of life satisfactory living largely depends upon our ability to strike a balance between two extremes. Take for instance the matter of our being close to the world. Where such aloofness means withdrawal from life's interests or the withholding of our interest and love from those around about us, it is an evil. On the other hand, the person who loses the life of abandon, who holding himself from nothing that his heart desires, soon finds his happiness wrecked and his soul irreparably damaged.

The unmistakable message of the Old Testament is that the Hebrews were to keep themselves aloof from the world. They were to be a holy people. But this came when the middle walls of partition were broken down and the grace of God, which had been held within the confines of the Jewish nation, was to go to bless the world.

We are not to hold ourselves aloof from the world as Pharisees, thinking God has set us apart as other men. Rather we are to enter into life with all its fullness but we are required so to hold ourselves aloof from evil that we will not be stained and damaged by its power.

Balance is everything. Try to achieve it.

What a privilege it is to be an adventurer! Consider the hidden forces of this earth so as to bless all humanity. Some of these we have in ourselves! We must each decide what we are going to do with it. Opportunities are everywhere. We have but to grasp them. Who has the kindness of their eyes!" A Lift for Living

Faith and Courage vs. Fear

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

There was nothing which Jesus felt called upon to challenge more frequently than fear. He saw its devastating effects.

In "Macbeth," Lady Macduff declared: "Our fears do make us traitors." How frequently we see men betray themselves and others through fear. When we get scared we lose our heads and do things out of character. We do foolish things which heighten the danger. Fear may loosen our tongues and make us talk too much, giving ourselves away. Fear may drive us into panic, transforming us into beasts.

Fear in the form of personal anxiety and petty worries is our daily devil. A cartoon, which appeared some time ago, pictured a woman saying to her psychiatrist: "All of a sudden I stopped worrying; it worries me." It is pretty serious when we worry because we have stopped worrying. It might be a good test to ask ourselves how many of our anxieties are about our personal concerns and how many are about the welfare of society.

Also it is a significant fact that although we are the strongest nation in the world, fear is more rife here than in smaller countries. There is something worth thinking about in the fact that the two most powerful nations on earth, the United States and the Soviet Union, are the ones most given to fear at this time.

OUT OF FEAR

When I was sent to Russia in 1946, our ambassador there, General Bedell Smith, said that the Kremlin had drawn the iron curtain out of fear and pride. She was afraid to have her people see how other nations lived and she was too proud to have other peoples come in to see her overcome the spirit of fear and timidity.

Thomas Carlyle was wont to say that the basic question in life is, "Will thou be a hero or a coward?" In the mind of each of us is a continuing dialogue between the coward in us who is concerned with safety and the hero in us who is out for victory. The coward would wait until he can see his way through beyond the shadow of a doubt. The hero starts while the shadows of doubt are still heavy around him. And the testimony of experience is that the heroic spirit who takes the lantern of faith even in the dark does come through. If we have faith and courage to do the duty next to us and then the duty next to that, it is amazing how the light breaks on the long road.

The Bible Today

The content of the Bible is "Explosive"! It is that.

The Right Rev. Angus J. MacQueen, Moderator of the United Church of Canada, in thanking Bishop Chanda Ray of India for the address he gave at a Bible Society Meeting said:

"I remember when I was a student in College and taking New Testament Notes, I had a large gray-covered notebook and on this book for the New Testament I had the initials N. T. on the outside cover. Some wag came along and just added 'I' in front of the N. T. That's right, for that is exactly what the Bible is. It's T.N.T. It's an explosive force, it's something powerful and dynamic. The man who once said, "A book may be more potent than a battle", may well have had in mind the Book we call the Bible or Holy Scriptures."

Mrs. Arnold Valleau on Friday returned to her home, on Farley Avenue, from Belleville Hospital.

Alpha Lambda Chapter Meets

The Alpha Lambda Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority met recently at the home of Mrs. R. Hinchey.

A film, "Peter and the Potter" was shown as the topic for the evening. A delightful story of a small boy who saved his pennies to buy his mother a vase for her birthday present, only to trip over a rood and break it on the way home. A young girl, finding him crying, took him home and the family, who were potters made, especially for him, a new vase.

Each of the came and watched each step as it was made from modeling the first lump of clay until the finished vase was taken, completely glazed, from the last oven. When it was completed a small, happy boy carefully carried his beautiful gift home to Mother.

Mrs. M. Johnson took the roll call and read the minutes. Mrs. J. Sentinger gave the treasurer's report.

The slate of officers was read for the coming year. Plans were discussed for a coffee party to be held soon. The plans for the Founders' Day banquet to be held in April are progressing favorably.

At the end of the evening a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. R. Hinchey.

Lott — Mollard

WELLINGTON (Special) — St. Andrew's Anglican Church was the scene of a pretty spring wedding on Saturday March 28, when Orlene Jane Mollard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lavender of Wellington, became the bride of William Alfred Lott of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lott, Trenton.

Rev. J. J. Rogers officiated at the ceremony. The church was prettily decorated with Easter lillies and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Jack McNeill presided at the organ console with Miss Jean Loughren, Toronto, singing "O Perfect Love," while the register was being signed. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's wedding gown was white chantilly lace ending in points over net with underskirt of ruffled net. She wore long sleeves with points over the hands and a veil cascaded chantilly lace with a fingertip sequin trim. She wore a crown with chain with matching earrings. She carried a cascade bouquet of Easter lilies.

The maid of honor was Miss Ruth Wall of Toronto. The bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Bristone, Belleville, and Miss Lynne Rushbrook of Windsor. The flower girls were Jodie Lee and Lynne Lavender of Belleville.

The maid of honor wore an Alice blue gown with powder blue trim. The bridesmaids were powder blue gowns with Alice blue trim. All wore matching pearl necklaces, gifts of the bride and carried blue tinted cascade bouquets.

Attending the groom was a cousin, Donald Wilson of Cornwall. The ushers were Robert Gardner, Windsor, and Alan Lott of Trenton, a brother of the groom.

Upwards of 100 guests attended the reception held in the Canadian Legion hall. Many were present from Windsor, Toronto, Newmarket, Oshawa, Trenton, Belleville, Cornwall and Kingston.

Receiving were: Mrs. J. B. Lavender, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Frank Lott, mother of the groom. Mrs. Lavender chose a gown of powder blue lace over taffeta trimmed with nylon blue front drape and pinned at the side with a rhinestone. She wore a blush-pink straw hat with a large bow in front and matching gloves and shoes and a corsage of pink Sweetheart roses and blue carnations. The groom's mother wore a dusty rose faille dress, trimmed with navy blue lace, a navy blue hat and accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Five friends of the bride served as bridesmaids. They were Marylin Callow, Carol Marvin, Dorothy Denard, Beverley Alyea and Marlene Hale, all of Wellington.

The bride's going-away costume was a navy shantung dress with white lace trim, white hat and gloves and a navy blue purse and shoes. She wore a shortie fur coat, corsage of pink Sweetheart roses and feathered blue carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Lott will reside in Belleville after a honeymoon spent in eastern Canada.

This - - - and That

By HARRIETT STEVENS

After mentioning the countries participating in the discussions on the Status of Women in the last column, the simple picture would be incomplete if we stopped there. To these must be added the four countries who were represented by observers: Columbia, Peru, Philippines and Romania. Romania was the best clearly interested because their capital, Bogota, will be the host for a Commission seminar in May.

The specialized agencies of the United Nations — the International Labor Organization, Unesco, and WHO were also represented and made valuable contributions. Four International trade union organizations are give Category A status. The list of groups in Category B are too long to record here, but they include the Associated Countrywomen of the World, International Federation of Business and Professional Women, International Federation of University Women, World Union of Catholic Women's Organizations and the Commission of the Churches on International Affairs.

The chief representative of the non-mentioned organization, Mrs Hanna Klep, was seated near us, and from a friend of hers we learned that she is a Polish Jewess. She is now First Secretary of the German Embassy in Washington the first woman to hold such a post in her government. She is a very handsome, dignified woman, probably in her late fifties and we were told she was a great beauty in her younger days. There is much more than beauty in her face now.

At one time her husband was German Ambassador in Washington. Later he was one of those who plotted Hitler's assassination and was executed. Mrs. Klep was imprisoned and only fate or luck or certain influence saved her life. It is hard for the average person who may lead a quiet routine life to appreciate what has gone into a life such as Hanna Klep's. But she is still living it fully, purposefully and with great charm and dignity.

One small scene we witnessed seemed to us to be a significance especially in the setting of the United Nations. In the Commission on Human Rights which was also sitting in March, the delegate from France was M. Rene Cassin, a distinguished elderly diplomat who was highly respected and revered. One day before the afternoon sitting, he came into our conference room to speak to Mme. Lefauchaux, French delegate to the Status of Women, and with the epitome of old world culture in manner and dress.

When Mme. Lefauchaux turned and saw him, she made him the most spontaneous, the simplest yet the most charming and graceful bow, full of deference and respect and pleasure.

The significance for us was this: human relations and family relations are often difficult at the best of times, yet how much closer and warmer we could make them by preserving and fostering these expressions and amenities. From viewing this small scene, we determined to send our minds and hearts to school.

It would be no more than natural that there should be underlying currents in the conference that might not be appreciated by the newcomer. Luckily and to our great interest, many of the women were pointed out to us. One instance was the following: Mrs. Sophie Grinberg-Vinaver, representing the Secretary-General at the Commission, is from France, where she has lived since the first war, but she is also White Russian. One day in discussion, a speaker from one of the Iron Curtain countries was telling about some aspects of family life in her country. Then she added, "This is something I do not need to remind the representative of the Secretary-General."

And so it went, innuendoes, compliments, barbs, pleasantries and wit, to sharpen and enliven the flow of debate.

17 Delegates Return From Convention

The Home and School Associations of the Belleville district were well represented at the 40th annual convention of the Ontario Federation of Home and School Associations, which has just concluded its session at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto. The following attended from this area:

Mrs. R. Jones and Mrs. G. Digby — Belleville Council.

Mrs. A. Fort, Mrs. P. Fry and Mrs. F. B. Henderson — Bayview.

Mrs. R. Savage and Mrs. E. R. Beatty — Queen Victoria.

Mrs. A. Burley and Mrs. R. Taylor — Queen Mary - Prince Charles.

Mrs. D. MacDonald — Quinte Secondary.

Sgt. I. Taylor — A. C. M. Bresdner, RCAF.

Mrs. A. McKenzie — Shannonville.

In addition, there were three delegates from Deseronto and two from Frankford, making a total of seventeen.

Previous to the convention, Mrs. H. Jones, president of the Belleville and District Home and School Council, attended the two-long session of the board of directors of the Ontario Federation. As the council president, Mrs. Jones is a member of the board of directors and represents Belleville and district.

Women's Activities

MELROSE W.M.S.

The regular monthly meeting of Melrose W.M.S. was held Wednesday afternoon, April 1st, at two o'clock, with fifteen present, at the home of Mrs. C. Milligan.

The president, Mrs. J. Milligan, was in the chair and conducted the worship service. She quoted the Lord's command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." The disciples felt intense sorrow over the death of their Lord, but it was turned into joy on Easter morning. "We share in that joy for we also are our talents in the service of Christ."

Hymn 88 was read by Mrs. L. Weese; Mrs. C. Hagerman read the Scripture lesson, Matthew 28, and Miss M. Bailey led in prayer, after which Mrs. R. Robinson read from Hymn 118.

Mrs. C. Osborn, stewardship secretary, read an article stressing the need of growth and advancement in the Christian life and Mrs. C. Bates, Sr., led in prayer.

Iron in the Soul

By Alma Mason

How wonderful are those who meet physical and mental torment with a smile; who carry their heads proudly through almost unbearable defeat and pain and disaster. To them the words of Kipling's apply in a very real sense—

"If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the will which says to them "Hold on."

This is angelic bravery. Those who possess it have souls fortified with spiritual iron. We brush shoulders with those daily who are forcing nerve and heart and sinew to serve their turn long after they are presumably exhausted. They meet trouble head on; when often the shield they carry is rusty with physical disability and the sword they brandish is dull with mental anguish.

We hear praises sung of the brave bright souls who have conquered many handicaps to attain worldly acclaim and renown. The humble—poor but Godly sufferer remains neglected and despised and unsung. Nobility of character and tenacity of spirit do not predominate in high and lofty areas of human existence. They more often stand guard by a wheel chair in a humble home. They hover over a cot covered with tattered remnants of bedding. They peer out from the sod windows of a blind man who lives deserted and neglected.

For many years I watched the almost futile struggle of a dear soul attempting to rise above the onslaught of an incurable disease. She had been a well adjusted happy woman, a brilliant musician, a gracious, kindly hostess, a devoted mother and wife.

HER CASTLE TOPPLED

Suddenly her golden castle of contentment toppled to the ground. Her husband met sudden death. After health failed. Possessed of an indomitable will and a deep Christian faith she fought bravely to rise above the illness crippling her body.

In time she was forced into the confines of a wheel chair. Then she became bedridden. Her former friends and relatives deserted her. One day I heard her quote from "Solitude" the nostalgic poem by Ella Wheeler Wilcox — "Rejoice and men will seek you. Grieve and they turn and go. They want full measure of all your pleasure. But they do not need your woe."

She did not quote with bitterness. She had accepted the fact that many folk seek the glittering spots of pleasure and avoid the shadows of illness and trouble. Even when she lost her sight there were no tears of remorse. She still clung to God in gratitude and leaned more firmly on her faith.

This true picture of a saint in the experiences of many Who "force nerve and heart and sinew to serve their turn long after they are gone." It is akin to the hardy fortitude by a blind friend who found himself deserted by his wife and children. It joins hands with the tales of thousands, who, crippled by disease, still exhibit undaunted heroism to a careless and heedless world.

Loneliness and suffering may seem intolerable but they often construct magnificence of soul. No wonder our Lord told us He would love those most whom He would chastise.

FAITH NEVER WAVERED

As a child I spent summer vacations in a large rambling farm home. The walls of the upstair rooms were adorned with many hand made samplers. One in particular intrigued me. The words — "No cross, No crown" were emblazoned in scarlet thread on a snow white background. She who stitched it learned to reach for her crown through the cross of physical torture. Her patience and endurance often were themselves to a slender thread but her faith in her God never wavered.

Suffering does not always ennoble and sanctify; but a persistent and profound faith coupled with suffering will conquer the grave and permit us to glimpse eternal life.

We cannot paint a perfect picture without shadows. Music needs the minor as well as the major chords. Frost and storm are necessary for a complete harvest. Let us accept the shadows in the picture of life; the minor chords in life's music; the frost and storm in life's harvest. They are faith builders. They are iron in the soul. They lead on to an open door of eternity where there is no more sorrow and no more pain.

Don't think the sorrow is in vain;
God sees the struggle; knows the pain;
His hand is ever there to guide
And lead thru' gloom and rolling tide.

Fight on and smile with head held high,
For soon the storm will leave the sky,
And faith will light a pathway thru'
To Heaven's door held wide for you.

Spring Brings Urge to Travel; Readers' Queries Swell Mail

By SHIRLEY and BOB SLOANE

In our department the first sure sign of spring is a noticeable swelling of the mail.

(A) "My brother and I are making a trip to the west coast. He is not well and we wonder whether there is any danger in using the water of different localities. Since I must cook some of his meals, are there motels with kitchen privileges?" — Miss M. H.

(A) There are chemical differences in water throughout the country and people react differently to them, but we've seen few populated areas where it was unsafe. Where there is any, you'll be warned about it by signs and by the residents. The palatable water usually is found in higher elevations. Better check with your doctor about the possible effects of water changes in your case.

Motels do not normally have kitchen "privileges" in the sense of granting guests permission to use the proprietor's facilities. Some operators may permit this, but a simpler solution is a motel with a kitchen unit. There are many of these in all price ranges.

(Q) "Can you refer me to a travel bureau that would outline a trip we have in mind for this summer? We have the AAA's Trip Tips" — C. H. P.

(A) We know of none. There's no profit in it but if you don't belong to the AAA many of the major oil companies offer such a service. Check your local filling stations for information on how to get it.

(Q) "My husband and I are thinking of our local high school senior class on a trip to New Orleans for four days. Can you advise on the main points of interest? What do you think of a budget of $100 for this group? What type of clothes will we need in April?" — Mrs. J. E. H.

(A) Your best bets for taking in all the points of interest would be a chartered sightseeing bus, arrangements for which may be made at a travel agency or through your hotel after you arrive. We wouldn't take high school seniors on a night club tour in New Orleans any more than we would in Place Pigalle or the Casbah. Sports clothes for daytime and dressy ones for the evenings, but the boys should wear shirts and ties at all times and no shorts or shorts for the girls in this cosmopolitan city.

(Q) "My mother and mother-in-law, who are in their 70's, want to visit New England this summer. They are interested in the sea for quiet and rest and accommodations that would not tax the heart (no flights of steps or noisy surroundings)." — Mrs. L. E.

(A) Cape Cod or one of the nearby islands, Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard specialize in this type of atmosphere and accommodations. Write to the Islands' own chambers of commerce and the Cape's at Hyannis, Mass., for literature and detailed information. Also the rest of New England (seaside vacations are also available in Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut), write the New England Council, 1003 Statler Office Building, Boston.

(Q) "We are a family of six, including three daughters 10, 18, and 12, and a son 15. We are interested in a week in Washington in July. Would it be too hot then? What kind of accommodations can we get reasonably? What kind of clothing should we take?" — Mrs. F. C.

(A) Washington is hot in July, but it has all decent accommodations are air conditioned. Lightweight but not casual clothing is called for. Your least expensive accommodation probably will run to $20 for either a suite or two adjoining rooms in a hotel or motel.

Stories of Famous Hymns

by HORACE B. POWELL

"PRAISE YE THE LORD, THE ALMIGHTY, THE KING OF CREATION"

Praise ye the Lord, the Almighty, the King of creation!
O my soul, praise Him, for He is thy health and salvation!
All ye who hear, Now to His temple draw near,
Join me in glad adoration!

Praise ye the Lord, who o'er all things so wondrously reigneth
Shelters thee under His wings, yea, so gently sustaineth!
Hast thou not seen How thy desires e'er have been Granted in what He ordaineth?

Praise ye the Lord! O let all that is in me adore Him!
All that hath life and breath, come now with praises before Him!
Let the amen sound from His people again! . . . . . .
Gladly for aye we adore Him.

This hymn of praise was written three centuries ago but it is still in wide use wherever Christians gather for worship. Its author was Joachim Neander, a German churchman and scholar, who was living at Dusseldorf at the time of its writing.

The hymn, turned out about 1675, was inspired by two Bible passages, Psalm 103 and Psalm 150. Written in German as were about 60 of Neander's other hymns, it was translated nearly two centuries later by Catherine Winkworth, a Londoner and scholar who won world-wide renown for her work with German hymns. Her translations made available to English speaking Christians a host of precious songs including such hymn gems as "Light Of Light, Enlighten Me" by Benjamin Schmolck, the Rev. Paul Gerhardt's, "All My Heart This Night Rejoices" by the Rev. Martin Rinkart's "Now Thank We All Our God".

As a youth, Joachim Neander had little interest in the church and in religion. He was converted by the pastor of St. Martin's Church at Bremen where he lived and that she will breed a little help in bringing up her child. Nobody can take the child from her if she doesn't want this. But she must not bind the child to her with a grip of steel. This can do him just as much harm as the kind of treatment she had in her childhood. The baby will know that she is his mother as soon as he's old enough to understand her special smile and touch — without her having to make a big issue about it.

Jane should give her sister some assurance that she isn't completely given up the idea of adopting this baby and should make every effort to see that Gloria has plenty of time alone with the child and a chance to do things for him. Bathing, dressing and feeding the baby will give Gloria a chance for the close contact she wants. These things may set the schedules a little wire, but it will be worth it for mother and child.

Gloria should think about the future. Living on a miserable charity pittance, she will not be able to give herself or her child the kind of life she would like. She is able to keep her independence, she will have self-respect and pride in her ability to bring up a child under difficult conditions.

Second Glance

By Viva Richmond Graham

"I was the giant, great and still, That sits upon the pillow-hill, And sees before him dale and plain." The pleasant land of Counterpane."—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Information, please! Calling all readers!

Has anyone a prized possession called a coverlet? (Dictionary definition — Coverlet: a bed quilt, a counterpane, a spread for a bed.) If so, would you let us know about it?

This is not a strange request really, but an effort to give aid, in response to a letter received by Miss Rose Lazier, 75 Victoria Avenue, of Belleville, from an American friend living in Massachusetts.

This American writes, in part: "In the last few years, I have been doing quite a bit of writing about weaving from various angles. These have been pamphlets on "Color Studies" and on "Lingo" — early American linens of which I have a large collection.

"For some years I have been interested in early American coverlets and I have been collecting them (I have about 100 I guess!) and information about them. Now I have started to do some serious writing on that subject. The ancestors of our coverlets and the technique used seem to have come from the countries from which our settlers came: Germany, France, Holland, Scandinavia and England.

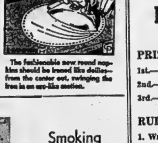
"Some of the information about early coverlet techniques is perfectly fascinating. Recently, I discovered a pamphlet on "Miniature Coverlet Patterns" by Florence Mackley from Cape Breton — but published by Lou Tate of Kentucky. It gives drafts for a lot of Scotch coverlets (some of which have come from the countries from which our settlers came) but also many from Ireland, Scandinavia and England.

"Have you ever seen old coverlets in Canada? I'd love to find out where they were and how the patterns compare with ours.

"If you do know, I'd appreciate hearing . . .

Have you any information to give?

If so, please do get in touch either with Miss Lazier or this column. As you see, any knowledge on the subject will be most welcome.



NOVA SCOTIA HANDCRAFTS

A second glance at some Maritime travel folders, we discover reveals a deep interest in all matters pertaining to handcraft. One folder, put out by the Nova Scotia Department of Trade and Industry, for the handcrafts division, put great emphasis upon using handicraft work in the home: a fine rug, a bowl or chair, rather than making small, useless objects and novelties, saying, "Handcrafts, in common, with all creative expression, give a sense of order and truth and must be associated in our lives with dignified pieces of work."

A Cape Breton folder revealed that all weaving and most handcrafts done on the island are done in the homes. "Our weaving designs," reads one, "are old coverlet patterns or variations of these, brought to our island from Scotland about 1840 by the early settlers."

HOSTESS NOT SERVED FIRST

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

To settle our discussion, will you please tell us if the hostess should be served first? This question came up at our Sewing Club gathering this week, and while some thought the hostess should be served first, others insisted that always the woman guest of honor should be served first. — E. H.

The hostess should never be served first . . . unless she is the only adult woman at the table. The important rule is that the woman at the right of the host (the woman guest of honor) should be served first, should always be given the courtesy of being offered an untouched dish.

Readers' Saturday Column

As conducted by Mary Moore

Question: . . . Some time ago I attended a wedding at which there were several salad dressings cakes and which were delicious. Knowing I had the recipe, I toted it out one day and tried it. It was the one you had sampled at a shower for Marjanne. The recipe called for baking powder and I wondered whether it should have been baking soda, with the salad dressing, because the cake was a flop, it was flat and coarse. Would this recipe be correct? I know quite a few people raved over those cakes and are seeking the recipe. Do you think you could find space for it some time? . . . "Les".

Answer:

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS

Four medium green peppers, 2½ slices cubed bread, or 1 cup cooked rice, 2 tablespoons each chopped onion, chopped celery, butter, ½ lb. ground beef, chicken bouillon cube, optional, 1-3 cup hot water, ½ cup cooked or canned or fresh tomatoes, 1-3 cup buttered crumbs. Cut peppers in halves lengthwise and cut out stems, seeds and ribs. Sprinkle with salt. Saute onion and celery in butter for 2 minutes. Add beef and saute with constant stirring until gray in color. Dissolve bouillon cube in hot water and add with tomatoes to meat. Heat well. Fold in bread cubes or cooked rice. Fill peppers with hot mixture. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes in a greased shallow baking dish. Serves 4. Note: Increase heat to 400 deg. Fahr. to brown tops, being sure peppers are done but a little crisp.

Question: I will be graduating from nurses' training . . . Could you help me in planning a buffet for approximately 100 persons? Please include the quantity of food needed for the buffet . . . J.

Answer: Buffet Menu No. 1: Chicken or turkey mousse, sliced ham, chef's salad, potato salad, pickled watermelon rind, mustard relish, hot rolls, green onion cake, frozen strawberry ice cream moulds, mints, coffee. CHECK the advantages of natural gas

1. CONVENIENT
   A gas furnace runs completely by itself . . . needs no tending, requires no handling or delivery of fuel.
2. CLEAN
   Gas is a pure, concentrated fuel. It leaves no ash, no dirty by-products of combustion to settle on walls and other surfaces.
3. SAFE
   Natural gas is a non-poisonous fuel.
   Today's modern gas appliances are equipped with a 100% shut-off valve; and all installations are under the inspection of the Ontario Fuel Board.
4. SPACE SAVING
   Gas appliances are space saving, compact units . . . especially home-heating units which require no storage tanks.
5. ECONOMICAL
   Because natural gas is such a pure fuel, it is completely consumed and has a high heat efficiency. This, plus low rates, make gas a very economical fuel.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three lawyers, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Jane N. — She wants to take care of the baby herself.

Gloria S. — If he doesn't know I'm his mother he'll resent me.

Jane N. — I am 23 and the mother of two children. I also take care of my kid sister's 8-month-old baby while she works part-time and takes a business course.

My sister, Gloria, is only 16. She got involved with a boy not much older and got into trouble. She married. Then he deserted her after about four months of marriage.

I want to help Gloria get on her feet again. I would really like to adopt her baby, but she doesn't want that. I am perfectly willing to take care of the kid while she goes to work — if only she would trust me a little bit. She worries all the time about whether I am treating the baby right and is afraid that the baby will think I'm his mother. She's very jealous about that and says she wants to take care of the baby herself and live on charity. That way she'll never get a chance to marry again.

Gloria S. — Ever since they found out I was pregnant the whole family was down on me, telling me to give my baby out for adoption. Well, I'm not like that. I love my baby and I want to bring him up — and I want him to know that I'm his mother.

I guess I'm this way because of my own childhood. My mother never wanted any of us. My father was an alcoholic and only complained about how much he had to spend on us. It took him a long time to get a budget.

Anyway, I always wanted to make a different kind of home for any children of mine. I know I've gotten off to a bad start, but I'm trying to make up for it. But if my baby doesn't know I'm his mother, how will I ever be able to be the right kind of mother? He will resent me. He'll love my sister as a mother.

*I feel it's no disgrace to live on charity if you can't help yourself.

The Council: Jane and others in the family made a mistake in trying to pressure Gloria into giving up her baby when she wanted so much to keep him. Now Gloria feels threatened about any outside influence coming between her and her child.

Gloria should recognize that she is very young and frightened and that she will need a little help in bringing up her child. Nobody can take the child from her if she doesn't want this. But she must not bind the child to her with a grip of steel. This can do him just as much harm as the kind of treatment she had in her childhood. The baby will know that she is his mother as soon as he's old enough to understand her special smile and touch — without her having to make a big issue about it.

Jane should give her sister some assurance that she isn't completely given up the idea of adopting this baby and should make every effort to see that Gloria has plenty of time alone with the child and a chance to do things for him. Bathing, dressing and feeding the baby will give Gloria a chance for the close contact she wants. These things may set the schedules a little wire, but it will be worth it for mother and child.

Gloria should think about the future. Living on a miserable charity pittance, she will not be able to give herself or her child the kind of life she would like. She is able to keep her independence, she will have self-respect and pride in her ability to bring up a child under difficult conditions.

Garden Notes

Lucky the Gardener With Heathers

By FLORA SAVILLE

Heathers are seldom seen in Canadian gardens, but those who do grow them, treasure them highly. Few Canadian nurserymen list them, The Garden Guild catalogue lists four. Carter Vicelli. This has dark bronzy foliage and carmine bloom.

The Ericas or heathers are native to many European countries. We usually think of it as being exclusively from Scotland and have a pale pink-purple-ish bloom. White heather is said to bring luck. You can count yourself lucky if you put any of the heathers in your garden. They are hardy, handsome and long lasting.

To get a variety of Ericas you will have to send to England or Scotland. The spring numbers of Amateur Gardening, and English weekly magazine lists several sources both in England and Scotland. And, since the time of planting is from November through March this will give you time to send for catalogues and make your plans in time for fall planting.

The carnea type, unlike most heathers does not require an acid soil. It thrives in a clay soil with an inch or two of leaf mold, or peat moss lightly into the surface. The buds are formed in late summer and the bloom appears in late winter, or early spring.

The Carnea types came from Switzerland and were introduced into England in 1768. From them many fine hybrids have been produced.

BLOOMS IN WINTER

Erica King George, named for George the V, is a jewel, low, shrubby, dwarf. It holds its bloom through the winter. As the buds form in November the color deepens as the delicate pink deepening as the winter advances into a rosy red by February. Through the summer it is a neat mound—like shrub suitable for edging or accent plant on rock garden, and will take the rough treatment of a family garden where children play.

E. Carnea Queen Mary has a more loose growth habit, deeper flowers of a purple-red. This is later than the winter flowering types. E. Carnea Prince of Wales, named for the present Duke of Windsor, is quite compact and has a warm pink bloom. E. C. Pink pearl is an old favorite and much prized in English gardens.

E. C. Golden drop is one of the best summer flowering heathers. It has fewer blooms than most but the foliage is a lovely shade of gold deepening to red when the frost nips it.

Most varieties of heather range from six to 12 inches. The winter flowering types are usually taller. They need an open sunny position. They need little care, but to keep them trim and tidy shear back after bloom is spent.

Granddaughter Now 83 Says Sir John A. Had Terrible Temper, Kind, Considerate

WINNIPEG (CP)—"He was a tall man, my grandfather, and he had a terrible temper; but he was also so kind and considerate."

This is how Mrs. Isabella Gainsford remembers Sir John A. Macdonald, first prime minister of the Dominion of Canada.

Mrs. Gainsford, who will be 83 on April 7, has a past full of memories and a keen interest in the present, including politics. She was 13 when Sir John died at Ottawa in 1891. She is the only surviving grandchild.

"Some things I can remember clearly about him," she said in an interview. "But a lot of things, I suppose, are what people told me about him afterwards.

NOTED VISITORS

"Sir Charles Tupper and Sir Georges Cartier were frequent visitors to our home in Ottawa. And Sir Wilfrid Laurier too." She laughed. "He was on the wrong side, of course, but he and Sir John were great friends when they weren't talking business."

Her father, Sir Hugh John Macdonald, later premier of Manitoba, was the only surviving child of Sir John A. Mrs. Gainsford herself was an only child.

"I went to England for two years after I went to school here. I was with my grandmother (Sir John's wife). She took me to a finishing school at Brighton, on the south coast. In the holidays we went to Europe, or went walking in Scotland and northern England."

Her grandmother was an extremely active woman, Mrs. Gainsford remarked. She told her Sir John's wife took it into her head to go for a train ride through the Rocky Mountains—on the cowcatcher.

"She was tied onto the front and away she went. Sir John was furious, of course. He'd forbidden her to do it when she approached him with the idea.

TUMBLED DOWN

"Another time we were in Italy. We rode to the top of a mountain on donkeys. My grandmother said we would walk down. We did about everything but walk. We rolled, stumbled, tumbled and fell. We made it safely enough, though."

Mrs. Gainsford's blue eyes gleamed as she recalled other events of the past.

"I learned fencing and shooting from a sergeant-major who was the broadsword champion of Canada. I used a rapier. My wrists used to get sore and swollen until I got used to it. It was a lot of fun and really good exercise.

"Pistol-shooting was fun too. We used to practise at the barracks, which were where the provincial legislature stands now.

NEAR MISS

"I was shooting indoors once because it was raining. The sergeant-major told me it was safe to fire and so I fired. Unfortunately I was looking out of the window at some soldiers when he said it. The shot was wide and the bullet went through the window. I fled in terror."

No one was hit, and the only damage done was "to my pride and the window".

These days, she is a mile less active.

"I like reading. Dickens, I enjoy a lot. He's sad, but a beautiful writer. And I read a lot of detective novels, if they're good."

Television? Some of the westerns, the family situational dramas and the political discussions.

VIEWS POLITICS

"I take an interest in politics—it's hard not to, with my background," said Mrs. Gainsford. "I know Mr. and Mrs. Diefenbaker well. He asked me to speak at some of the meetings last year and the year before, but I'm not really up to it."

Of the present political scene, she said:

"It's very frightening at times and I'm not sure that I like this growing dependence on the United States. But there no point in worrying; it doesn't do you much good in the end."

Mrs. Gainsford lives with her son, Hugh, her daughter-in-law and two grandchildren, a boy and girl. Another son, Lionel, lives at Selkirk, Man.

Petes Stay In Junior Fight With 4-2 Win Over Irish

PETER BOROUGH (CP)—Larry Darling, home-like centre for Peterborough Petes, kept his team in the OHA Junior A championships Friday night.

The pint - sized pivot scored three goals as Petes sneaked a 4-2 win over St. Michael's College Majors.

It was Petes' first victory in the final series and makes a sixth game necessary at Maple Leaf Gardens Sunday. Majors lead the best-of-seven set 2-1, with two games tied.

PRAYER WHERE

Darling was everywhere Friday night — he picked up the game's first penalty at 10:30 of the first period for charging.

He scored the first goal of the game — at 6:45 of the second period. Pres Brant made it 2-0 at the 13:24 mark of the second.

In the third, St. Michael's came back hard to tie it up.

Jack Costello blazed in Toronto's first goal when—the last period was only 35 seconds old. Les Costello tied up the game less than eight minutes later as St. Michael's began to rule.

The game was fast and tight and Petes drew eight of the 14 penalties. Players were called for pushing, tripping, boarding, high-sticking, charging, holding and slashing.

BREAKS THE TIE

At 12:26 of the final period, Darling broke the tie with his second goal.

Only 79 seconds elapsed before he put the game out of reach of the Toronto club with his third. No fights broke out, but there would likely have been mayhem if the game had lasted any longer. Referee Hugh McLean kept a tight rein but both teams were shoving and looking for trouble when the final buzzer sounded.

If a seventh game is necessary, the teams will move back here Monday.

Dunlops Favorites For All-Ontario Championship

Stage Famous 3rd Heat Rally To Wipe Out Dutchmen Lead In Second Game 5-2 Victory

TORONTO (CP) — Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen blasted into a two-goal lead Friday night over Whitby Dunlops in their fight to stay alive in the best-of-seven All - Ontario Senior A hockey championships. But they couldn't make it stand up.

Whitby came from behind for a 3-2 win and a 3-0 lead in the series.

Bill Saunders, who picked up three penalties during the rugged contest, put Kitchener ahead 1-0 at 10:40 of the first period—25 seconds after Whitby's Bob Attersley drew an interference penalty.

Attersley had been back little more than a minute when Ted Mak's drifter arrived from the point, well-screened by several legs, making it 2-0.

That was all for Kitchener.

Bobby Hassard cut the lead before the period ended. Pete Babando evened the score and Tom O'Connor put Whitby ahead in the second. Ted O'Connor and his brother Tom iced the game for Whitby in the third period.

Despite the score, Boat Hickey was a power in goal for Kitchener, OHA rookie champ.

In all three periods, Kitchener spurted slowly on the large ice surface of Maple Leaf Gardens before a crowd of nearly 4,300. The last two goals of the game came within 33 seconds of each other as Kitchener wilted under steady pressure.

The teams move to Kitchener for the third game tonight and the fourth will be here Wednesday.

The Dunlops, Eastern OHA champs, are favored to go all the way.

Other Teams May Be Stronger But It Looks Like Yankees

By JACK HAND

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — This is the year the Yankees lost the pennant? Don't bet on it.

Detroit may be stronger. Cleveland has added some pros. Boston has stocked up much and Chicago still has that tight pitching. But Casey Stengel still has too many horses.

Many think the Yanks will make a deal for a pitcher, possibly Washington's Camilo Pascual, before May 15. There also has been talk about outfielder Harlon Bradley and Gordie Bell showed such aptitude they won all their fees back, and stuck him for five years' free membership to boot.

Racing Season Opens Today At Fort Erie

FORT ERIE (CP)—The Canadian racing season opens today at this Niagara Peninsula track under cooler weather forecasts from auspicious.

Racing will continue here until May 2 when it switches to Toronto. The season ends Nov. 18.

The weather forecast for today was mainly cloudy with a few light showers or snowflurries and winds of 15 miles an hour. The temperature was expected to be about 40 degrees.

Rain Friday made the track sloppy but today's first eight races, Eight horses are entered in the featured five - furlong, $2,200 claiming event for horses foaled three-year-olds.

Two stakes will be run at Fort Erie, the Bold Venture and the Queenston.

Last year $83,498,433 was wagered during the 196-day meet. An average of 6,134 persons waged $367,107 a day.

Poor weather conditions here prevented serious workouts in the last few days. But as many as 300 horses worked out in the week ago. There of them setting blistering times.

Only jockey will be back this year. Avelino Gomez, jockey of a Canadian record of 387 winners in a single season, will return after a year's absence.

Alfonso Cop, leading rider last year with 28 winners at Fort Erie alone and a record of 211 winners for a season, will be back along with Hugo Dittfach, who had 206 winners, and Dan Hale.

Bisons Bow To Rochester

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Rochester Americans broke into the win column in their Calder Cup semi-final playoff series Friday night with a victory.

The triumph still left Americans down 2-1 margin in the best-of-seven series. Fourth game is here Sunday night.

Ralph Rousseau, who was sidelined for three weeks but returned to action Friday night, set up Rochester's first-period goal by Jimmy Moore and got the fourth Rochester goal.

The other two Rochester scores were by Norm Johnson and Dave Creighton.

The Buffalo tally came off the stick of Billy Dea.

Scott Punches Logart Groggy; Wins By TKO

WASHINGTON (AP)— Without less than three weeks Charley Scott has proved himself an audacious young fellow with a total lack of respect for his boxing elders.

He punched Isaac Logart groggy Friday night and whipped the Cuban veteran on a third-round technical knockout.

The 22-year-old Philadelphian won a disputed split decision over Logart in New York March 16. He ended the controversy Friday night at 1:14 in the third in what was scheduled to be a 10-rounder.

Charley caught Logart against the ropes with a jarring right and then a sweeping left hook to the jaw that floored the 25-year-old contender. Logart pulled himself up at the count of six, waited the mandatory toll of eight and then tried to recover. But Scott rushed in and reeled Issac through the ropes with a two-fisted battering barrage.

Logart was practically helpless when referee Marty Gallagher stopped the beating.

Logart, 8-to-5 favorite, absorbed his 12th defeat against 55 victories and seven draws. Scott now has won 21-12 by knockouts—and lost nine. He weighed 148 pounds to Logart's 145 1-2.

Hull Ousts Miramichi 3-2

HULL, Que. (CP)—Hull Legion heads into another round of the Allan Cup playdowns tonight.

Legion outscored Miramichi Beavers 3-2 Friday night before a record crowd of 967 to win their best-of-five series 3-1 in games. Legion meet St. Hubert de Paul, Que., in a best-of-three series beginning in the final game against either Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen or Whitby Dunlops.

Paul Seguin scored the first Legion goal and Bernie Limoges added the second before the New Brunswickers got on the scoreboard with one from Norm Bellefeuilles late in the second period.

Jerry Norman scored Beavers' second early in the first frame and Gilles Champagne the final of the game.

Palmer Takes Masters Lead Leonard Two Strokes Behind

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer is a young man who has no fear of black cats, broken mirrors and the superstition that "masters golf champions never repeat."

"Of course, I'm conscious of this tradition—they don't let me forget it," said the Latrobe, Pa., professional says. "But I don't let it worry me. I'm just concentrating on winning the tournament."

The defending titleholder and 1958 leading money winner was halfway there today with a 36-hole score at 141, one of two cards under Augusta national's par.

The first day pace-setter, Stan Leonard of Canada fell back in second place with 143 and the rest of the field looked like a New York subway train. Fifteen players were bunched at 144 and 145. Par is 72.

Three players, including British open champion Peter Thomson, were at 146. The 147 bracket looked like a U.S. Ryder Cup team with National champion Julius Tommy Bolt, PGA titleholder Dow Finsterwald, leading money winner Art Wall, Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Gene Littler Fleck headed the list at 145.

The qualifying point for the final 36 holes was 149, and there were distinguished misses. Ken Venturi, pre-tourney favorite, had 150. Two-time champion Jimmy Demaret had 152. Lloyd Mangrum and ex - champion Claude Harmon (131) were other casualties.

Palmer, a rugged, thick-necked athlete who looks like a lightweight fighter, shot a 70 on the front by adding a two-under-par 70 to a previous 71. He gave every impression that he has the strength and the attitude to stay there.

Behind Leonard at 144 were seven seasoned professionals, including two prime foreign threats —Dave Thomas, the big Welshman, and Angel Miguel, the surprising spaniard who outshot the world's best in the Canada Cup matches at Mexico City last November.

The others were Ed (Porky) Oliver, Julius Boros, Mike Souchak, Paul Harney, Doug Ford and Fred Hawkins, all toughened tournament performers.

Former national open champions Cary Middlecoff and Jack Burke were bunched at 145.

Johnny Saxton Caught Trying To Rob Store

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —Johnny Saxton, twice welterweight boxing champion of the world, was accused of trying to rob a store today. Police captured him at gunpoint on the roof of the building.

It was the second recent burglary arrest for the 28-year-old boxer. He is free on $1,000 bail in New York, accused of the theft of $8 worth of costume jewelry several weeks ago.

Police said Saxton entered the store Friday and hid until it closed.

Customs phoned headquarters about midnight to report a light inside the darkened store. Police surrounded the building.

They said Saxton broke through the roof of the store, climbed out and was captured. He was handcuffed and taken to headquarters in tears.

"This will mean 10 years for me in New York," he said.

Dressed in shabby pants, sweater and hat, the Negro fighter was booked on charges of breaking and entry and attempted larceny.

If London KO's Patterson Boxing Brass Has Problem

LONDON (CP)—The "ban" by British boxing authorities on Brian London's journey to Las Vegas in search of the world heavyweight title was greeted by case sports writer with an intriguingly scrambled metaphor:

"I am delighted that the stewards have rolled up their sleeves, flexed their muscles and proved that they are not a toothless authority."

The reasoning was about as sound logically as it was anatomically. Within an hour after the British Boxing Board of Control refused London's application for permission to fight Floyd Patterson for the title, the defiant Blackpool basher announced that he intended to keep his date regardless.

TURPIN CASE

In a similar case 15 months ago, the BBBC stepped in to stop a scheduled meeting between Randy Turpin, the aging onetime world middleweight champion, and Willie Pastrano, a United States heavyweight who had seven years his junior.

The Turpin-Pastrano ban stuck, chiefly because the bout was to have taken place in Britain and all parties concerned would have been exposed to the BBBC's wrath if they had gone ahead with it. But if London chooses to ply his trade in Nevada, the BBBC keeps an iron fist — equipped with dentures capable of making him change his mind.

The last heavyweight who dared tell the BBBC to go flex its muscles was Tommy Farr, who signed for a title bout with Joe Louis in 1937 against the board's advice and promptly had his British licence revoked.

Farr was outpointed in a memorable 15-round battle, enjoyed several lucrative paydays in American rings before the British authorities forgave him, and fought 15 times under BBBC auspices before Don Cockell decided his long career by knocking him out in 1953.

SPOTTY RECORD

London's first record offers little evidence that he is in the same class as the lion-hearted Welshman and only his most courageous partisans give him more than the barest of outside chances against Patterson.

London, with all his faults, is virtually the only active British heavyweight who packs a punch. He has some remote chance, even if his ungainly swings connects squarely with Patterson's chin, the BBBC will have a problem on its hands.

It will have to ponder whether it would be in the best interests of British boxing to allow the heavyweight champion of the world to have his licence back.

Bruins Can Get Out Of Cup Gutter Says Schmidt

'Have Come Back Before And We Can Do It Again"; Canadiens Call Up Langlois

By JIM BASTABLE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Milt Schmidt, with due respect to the mouth-saying of one Punch Imlach, says his Boston Bruins can draw themselves out of the Stanley Cup gutter.

"We've pulled ourselves out of these situations before. There's no reason why we can't do it again."

The Boston coach is optimistic his Bruins can even up their Stanley Cup semi-final against Toronto Maple Leafs here tonight. Leafs lead the best-of-seven series 3-2 following three straight victories.

EXCELLENT

Optimism isn't unusual among coaches. They live on it. But to say such confidence in the face of the uncanny prognostications by Imlach, Leaf coach, could be downright reckless.

"Why?" Milt asked Friday night. "Sure, we lost three games. We've been in a mess like this before. We have made comebacks this season. I think we can do it now. Imlach has been called some good shots. We helped him in that last game with a poor performance."

Even Imlach concedes the Bruins "have a reputation for bouncing back when the outlook is darkest."

Leafs overpowered Bruins 4-1 in Boston Thursday. They won the previous two engagements here by 3-2 scores in sudden-death overtime after Bruins had picked up 5-1 and 4-3 victories.

What of Punch's prophecies?

When he fired Billy Reay and assumed the Leaf coaching duties—as well as being general manager—he said they would make the playoffs. Everybody guffawed. After all, Leafs were struggling along in last place.

REALISTIC

Two weeks later Punch said Leafs not only would get into the playoffs but would end up with 85 points. Even his mother must have smiled at that one.

Leafs did get 65 points, winning their last five games to overtake New York Rangers for fourth place.

Imlach, obviously fortified by his accuracy, then said his boys would take the Bruins in six games in the semi-final. Furthermore, Leafs would "beat Montreal Canadiens in seven games—with the seventh in overtime—to whip the Stanley Cup."

Tonight's sixth game against the Bruins could make Imlach look mighty good. But he doesn't expect a soft touch.

"None of us will be happy until we've won this series. The players are confident they can win but they're not taking those things for granted."

The Bruins arrived by plane Friday. Schmidt gave them a light workout before dinner and an evening of relaxation.

"We could only practice for about 10 minutes," he said. "Our equipment was delayed at the airport and we had to be off the ice by six o'clock. The boys skated a bit, just enough to get the kinks out."

Schmidt was still undecided what to do about his lineup. He had earlier threatened to make some line changes.

"I may wait until just before game time to make my decision," he said.

INJURIES STILL OUT

Still out of the lineup is star Boston defenceman Doug Mohns who suffered pulled knee ligaments in last Saturday's game. Mohns won't be available for [illegible]." Milt said. "And Fern Flaman hasn't fully recovered from his groin injury."

Flaman usually works with Mohns on defence. He will dress tonight but won't be in top shape.

Leafs practised for an hour Friday. Imlach got a scare when his ace left winger, Dick Duff, rammed into a goalpost. Duff hurt his right hand but the injury is not expected to force him to the bench.

Defenceman Bobby Baun, suffering a bruised ankle bone, was excused from the workout.

If Punch's prediction goes sour and a seventh game is needed, it will be in Boston Tuesday. The winner meets either Chicago Black Hawks or Montreal Canadiens. The Habs lead that best-of-seven semi-final 3-2 and are favored to wrap it up in Chicago tonight.

CHICAGO (CP) — Coach Toe Blake plans to use a little-used defenceman tonight as his Montreal Canadiens seek to get rid of Chicago Black Hawks in the sixth game of the Stanley Cup semi-final.

Blake crooked the finger at Albert (Junior) Langlois shortly after the team arrived here Friday and said he could expect to see plenty of action as the Habs try to end it all for the pesky Hawks.

"For two reasons," Blake explained. "First of all he's big. He can slow down some of those Hawks. Secondly, he's a good money player. He went extremely well last season in the playoffs against Detroit, so there's no reason why he shouldn't carry on."

OTHERS TIRED

"A couple of my defencemen are tired. One hasn't been seeing a lot of ice and I thought his showed signs of tiredness in the game at Montreal. Tom Johnson also is tired."

Tired or not, Canadiens took last game 4-2 Thursday night and posted a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven semi-final. If a seventh and deciding game is necessary it will be played in Montreal Tuesday.

Blake said he probably would spell Talbot with Langlois, who is 24, weighs 198 and stands six feet even.

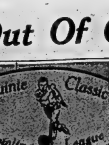
"We need fresh men against the Black Hawks, especially in this city where the crowd seems to give them a lift," said Blake. Hawks affable coach, said defenceman Doug Evans will probably play tonight. He missed the last period of Thursday's game because of a bruised hip.

USE FOUR LINES

He said, too, that Hawks will have four attacking lines in this do-or-die game.

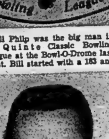
"Now that this series has centred on Montreal more than he did Thursday. Big Moe, who played 11 seasons with Canadiens then retired from the blue time after the 1956-57 season in Chicago, was called up from Montreal Royals to fill in for injured Jean Beliveau.

Mosdell was size and checking ability and the plan is to alternate him with rookie Ralph Backstrom.



HOMER SERIES

So far it's been a homer series. Canadiens won the first two games in Montreal, then Hawks roared right back to take the next two on home ice. Canadiens got the edge in Montreal Forum Thursday.



"But we haven't come all this way to lose," Blake said. "We should be able to win one in three in this city. After all we didn't lose a game here all season and they're the same team. Nothing has changed."

Rejoined Pilous:

"We'll be back in Montreal Tuesday. We're not beaten yet. The Canadiens are not always going to have things their own way."

Says Tigers Need Long Ball For Short Cut To Pennant

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If anything in this big, wide world can make Bill Norman livid, it is a fellow major league manager pointing toward his Detroit Tigers and expostulating:

"There's the team that might beat the Yanks for the American League pennant."

Norman is quick to point out that in his six years in the Tiger organization, the club has been in the first division only once. And, he adds with Plato – like logic, you've got to get in the first division before you can think of overtaking the Yanks.

FIFTH LAST YEAR

Why, only last June, the managers' union decided that the Tigers would make a battle of it with the Yanks. They even had Jack Tighe believing it. Tighe was relieved of managerial duties and Norman installed as Bengal field leader, but they were whispers going around the league again that the Tigers couldn't do it. Nobody would like them to stop, but quick.

He will admit that on paper he has a pretty good ball club but that he lacks one important basic ball element—the long ball.

For instance, the Tigers trumbled the Cincinnati Reds Friday, 10-3, in Tampa. Tigers pounded out 15 hits, seven one of them was a home run. Rocky Bridges, acquired from the Washington Senators, connected. Cincinnati, on the other hand, had two homers, Gerry Lynch and one and Frank Thomas another.

In other games, Pittsburgh Pirates, downed Kansas City A's, 5-1, in West Palm Beach; the New York Yankees shut out the Los Angeles Dodgers, 4-0, at Santa Monica; the San Francisco Giants edged the Cleveland Indians, 4-3, at Phoenix; the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the Chicago White Sox, 5-1, in St. Petersburg; Milwaukee Braves required 13 innings to drop Washington Senators, 6-5, in Orlando, and Philadelphia Phillies vanquished the Baltimore Orioles, 7-1, under the Miami lights.

The brash, young Pirates got rid of George Brunet in two innings and rolled up a total of 13 hits in whipping the A's. Don Bucco clubbed him for five singles and a double, good for four runs, in the second.

Rookie John Gabler and Zack Monroe combined to shut out the Dodgers for the Yanks. Gil McDougald accounted for the only run of the game when he homered in the second.

Yank Manager Stengel injured first baseman, will be flown home Sunday for treatment of a strained sacroiliac muscle in his back.

Bowden hurt himself while reaching for a ground ball and may not be ready to open the season April 10.

Jack Sanford became the first Giant pitcher to go nine innings. The Indians gave him a rough time at the start, but once past the second inning, he breezed in.

The Cards' victory over White Sox enabled them to break a six-game losing streak. The Birds collected only five hits, but Curt Flood's fourth inning homer provided the winning margin.

Wes Covington ended the long Milwaukee-Washington deadlock in the Milwaukee-Washington game when he hit a homer in the 13th. The defeat was Senators' seventh in a row.

Jim Owens and Jack Meyer had an easy time in the Miami nighter. The Phillies provided them with 12 hits, including homers by Harry Anderson and Carl Sawatski.

Sal Maglie, who helped pitch New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers and Yankees to four pennants, is considering an offer to serve as a pitching coach in the St. Louis Cardinals farm system.

Maglie said the offer was made by Cardinal general manager Bing Devine after announcement that the Redbirds were giving the 42-year-old righthander his unconditional release.

HAMILTON GALS LOSE

MONTREAL (CP)—St. Lambert Community Sports Association girls basketball team chalked up a 36-32 win in the first game of their Eastern Canada two-game finals series with Hamilton's United Steelworkers of America club Friday night. Final game of the total-point series is tonight.

Trenton Kids Lick Borden

WELLAND (CP)—Three teams from rural east Metropolitan Toronto were the first to be sidelined as play continued Friday in the little NHL tournament here.

In the under-10 Junior A division Niagara Falls dropped Clair Lea out of the running with a 1-0 victory. Another Clair Lea team from Toronto was whipped 11-0 by St. Catharines in the little AHL action for boys under 12. The Clair Lea team failed to get a shot on goal as Tom Davis led St. Catharines with three goals.

In the little NHL game, for under-14s a third Clair Lea club lost, this one to Thorold 5-1. It was the first time any of the three Clair Lea teams had scored in two days' play.

In other Junior A games Huntsville defeated Collingwood 6-5 and downed Camp Borden 4-1.

In the preliminary AHL competition Midland edged Huntsville 2-1 and Trenton shut out Camp Borden 2-0.

In other little NHL action Oakville edged Penetang 5-4 in overtime.

Play continues tonight.

Eastern Ontario Soccer League Is Resurrected

The Eastern Ontario Soccer League was revived after several years' inactivity when six teams officially entered at a meeting in Kingston last night.

The six teams are Batawa, Belleville Wilson and the RCAF from the Bay of Quinte district and three clubs from Kingston Sports Club, Kingston City and the Dynamos.

The league schedule will open on Saturday, May 2. Each club will play home and home games with each of the other clubs, making it a ten-game schedule.

It was also announced that an all-star team from the Eastern league will meet an all-star team from the Toronto senior loop in an exhibition tilt sometime this summer.

Election of officers also took place at yesterday's meeting. Les Digby of Belleville was named president, with Kingston's Paul Boehm vice-president and Belleville's Fred Jonesdeadlock in the Milwaukee-Washington game when he hit a homer in the 13th. The defeat was Senators' seventh in a row.

Jim Owens and Jack Meyer had an easy time in the Miami nighter. The Phillies provided them with 12 hits, including homers by Harry Anderson and Carl Sawatski.

Sal Maglie, who helped pitch New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers and Yankees to four pennants, is considering an offer to serve as a pitching coach in the St. Louis Cardinals farm system.

Maglie said the offer was made by Cardinal general manager Bing Devine after announcement that the Redbirds were giving the 42-year-old righthander his unconditional release.

Bear Coach Breaks Hand

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Frank Mathers, player - coach of the Hershey Bears, suffered a broken bone in his right hand Wednesday night which doctors said probably will keep him out of the remaining games of the American Hockey League finals. Mathers suffered the injury during a game with Cleveland Barons at Hershey. Bears won 2-1 and lead the best-of-seven semi - final series 2-1.

WHL all-star defenceman Bud MacPherson of Edmonton Flyers has been loaned to Bears for the rest of the playoffs to replace Mathers.

MacPherson will join the team for the fourth game tonight.

Flin Flon Moves Into Western Finals

EDMONTON (CP)—Flin Flon Bombers moved into the Western Canada Memorial Cup finals Friday night by easily winning the fourth game in a best-of-seven semi-final series with Edmonton Oil Kings.

Bombers demolished Oil Kings 11-6 to move into the western junior final against Winnipeg Braves, winners of the Manitoba-Thunder Bay semi-final series.

Cliff Pennington, Bombers' captain, scored four goals. George Chigol had three and Ned Bernason, Dick Meissner, Jim Baird and Wayne Hall singles.

Eddie Joyal notched two for Oil Kings, Don Chiz, Bruce Macgregor, Clare Smith and Bob Goebel shared the others.

Close Battle For Bowls Title

WINDSOR (CP) — Tony Chibi of Leamington and Gerard Lapierre of Valleyfield, Que., are staging a neck-and-neck battle for the 1959 Canadian 10 - pin singles bowling championship after the first block of five games completed here Friday night.

Chibi posted scores of 179, 188, 192, 173 and 183 for a 915 series while Lapierre bowled games of 202, 167, 190, 184 and 169 for a 912 set.

Thus Chibi will carry a scant three-pin advantage into the final 10 games of the 15-game tournament today.

The competitions will wind up tonight.

Quebec Team Wins Peewee Tourney Title

GODERICH (CP) — St. Lambert, Que., defeated Stratford Y's Men's squad 4-3 here Friday night to capture the A series championship in the Young Canada Week pee wee hockey tournament.

Quebec, defeated for the championship by Stratford last year, just had too many legs for the 1958 champions who played most of the final game with seven youngsters.

The newly-crowned champions, winners of the town of Goderich Trophy, won two previous games over Simcoe, Guelph, Woodstock and Stratford to take the title, the first time a Quebec entry has won the A series crown.

St. Lambert meets the AA winner today in the first round of the grand championship series.

Toronto Honest Ed's blanked Peterborough Petes 3-0 to win the AA series Friday.

The Peterborough - Sudbury semi-final was a much more even affair with the northerners outshooting the winners 18-14 but losing 5-3.

Roger Self, Doug Turner, Mike Redmond, Barry Hopcroft and Carmen Collins scored for Peterborough. Sudbury marksmen were Reggie White, Jim Forzcky), Ray Brisebois and Ron Bolton.

Winnipeg Mustangs were shunted to the sidelines in the AA series 11-4 earlier by Sudbury.

Sudbury had previously downed Quebec City 6-2. Peterborough had whipped Ottawa 2-1 before the teams met.

Sudbury broke the game wide open early in the contest with four goals and scored six in a row in the final period.

AT THE PARK — "Sec Kinsey" Dobbs (Jeff Richards) sounds a signal that causes the fireworks to "And God Created Woman", new Kingsley International release opening Monday at the Park Theatre in Cinemascope and Eastmancolor. On the same program is the winner of Kingsley International Prize to Eternity" starring Frank Sinatra, Burt Lancaster, Montgomery Clift and Deborah Kerr, nominated for best 1959 Academy Award Best Actress.

AT THE BELLE — Charlton Heston is co-starred with Yul Brynner, Claire Bloom, Charles Boyer and Inger Stevens in Cecil B. DeMille's last great epic "The Buccaneers", in Technicolor, which opens at the Belleville Theatre for the last times at the Belle Theatre.

Regina Ousts Port Arthur

REGINA (CP) — Regina Caps took a 5-3 game from Port Arthur Bearcats and won the best-of-five Allan Cup western semi-final 3-2 in games Friday night.

Caps lost the first two games in Port Arthur.

Regina now meets Vernon Canadians of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League, B.C. champions.

AT THE McCARTHY — David Niven is cast as a lonely man whose indiscretions find the sympathy and understanding of another lonely person (Deborah Kerr) in the film version of Terrence Rattigan's hit play, "Separate Tables", nominated for 7 Academy Awards, opens Monday at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre.

Lovely Charmer Claims TV Westerns Unfair To Girls

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Are television westerns unfair to actresses? A lovely charmer named Lisa Gaye thinks so.

"I shouldn't really complain," she admitted. "I've played in most of them. I've done two Tombstone Territories, two Bat Mastersons. I've been in Black Saddle, Wyatt Earp, Wells Fargo, and I'm doing a Colt .45 now.

"Sure, it's nice to be working, but what can a girl do in a western? They're mostly about men and horses. I'd like to have my own series. But westerns are the thing nowadays. And a girl can't star in a western."

There's another thing: The western heroes. They are so blamed tall.

"I'm five feet five and can get up to five feet eight with heels," she said, "I had to give Wayle Preston a kiss today. He's six feet four, and you can add a couple of inches for his boots. They had me stand on a board so I could reach him. Even so, I could only get as far as kissing his chin."

Lisa is doing well in TV these days despite her complaints. She has also been in films—half of them westerns—in the 2½ years since leaving Universal - International.

She can thank her UI training for much of her success. She went through the studio talent school back in the days when she was chiefly known as Debra Paget's sister. After leaving UI, she did one movie, "10,000 bedrooms," then latched onto the TV market.

Besides being lovely and talented, she runs around with a lot of interesting people. But then I did some Italians, Germans, Spaniards and even an Armenian for Have Gun, Will Travel.

She's a new generation of performers—one who has no great awe of movies. Said she: "Yes, I'd like to do a picture; they're good for prestige. But TV shows are seen by two or three times more people, and they mean more to me right now."

TV TIPS

by JOHN WETTLAUFER

"How-to-do-it" books on nearly every subject have become very popular with the modern handyman, but books dealing with home television repairs can lead to trouble and expense. A TV set is extremely complicated and amateur tinkering can easily transform a minor adjustment into a major repair job.

However, the handyman type can quite easily remove the tubes from his set and test them himself with little fear of bungling —and CIRCLE TV SERVICE, 264 Coleman St., offers a free tube testing service for this purpose. Without any charge or obligation you can bring in your TV (or radio) tubes and check them on our tube tester. As for any other type of repairs . . . it will pay you to phone WO 8-8791 (in Trenton EX 2-7669) for experienced, expert service.

Cancer (June 22 to July 23) — Be particularly careful you do not have altercation with good fellow worker or labor in such a way that you do damage and incur expense. Then be sure you guard your language or you may lose valuable pally. Be co-operative.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Being in a mood to enjoy yourself no matter what, you could very easily spend far more than you can afford today. Get your work done first instead and then have fun economically in the evening. Set up better system for future labors.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — A. M. may bring arguments with family ties if you are not diplomatic. Later in the day you may have to meet the same test with outsiders. Retain perfect control though there may be real provocation. It is just an unexplainable phase.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — A. M. is fraught with danger while out driving or while conversing with partner. Be more careful and keep your head at all cost. Work diligently and with zeal system and all is well.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Be very careful before you jeopardize your holdings and financial security by what could be a wrong investment, or you will know the ire of government officials and associates. Investigate thoroughly first. Get records straight.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Do not waste your time or energy telling other persons off today, but give attention to personal matters and appearance. Then be sure you take inventory of your financial standing, property holdings. Make improvements.

Capricorn (Dec. 23 to Jan. 20) — A private worry could so bog you down today that you fail to take advantage of the fine opportunities now present for you. Rise above it and work toward real advancement. P. M. assist those who are truly in need.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Go out of your way today to do nice things for true friends and also for those you do not as yet know too well and the response will be a very warm one for you. But take care you do not let your temper run away with you.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Do not try to get out of any obligations you have made where your career is concerned or you will regret it later. P. M. remain loyal and devoted to family also and let this be a profitable and fine day for you.

If your child is born today ... The dynamic little child born today will have to learn early the importance of politeness, tactfulness and keeping one's self in check. Do not destroy the valuable trait of stating his or her opinion honestly and off-the-shoulder, however. Be sure to have educational program include the study of foreign languages because your progeny will find greatest success and pleasure in lands far away and romantic.

Monday, April 6

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — Take care in A. M. not to fly off to some worthless place of interest. Later in the day it would be wise to be especially good to higher ups and executives, who are overworked and may take ire out on you. Get your bills paid. ♪

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — Don't fall for any seemingly ironclad get-rich scheme that one who seems to be a friend places before you. Save your money. There is an opportunity later to step out of dull — doldrum existence anyway through the courtesy of a true friend.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — Be wise and let other persons realize you do understand their opinions and ideas. Be sure to meet all obligations to the letter. P. M. a system for economy can be set up by you and then you will have more to spend on loved one.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Be particularly careful you do not have altercation with good fellow worker or labor in such a way that you do damage and incur expense. Then be sure you guard your language or you may lose valuable pally. Be co-operative.

DID YOU AS A PARENT EVER have to take time off because of your child should tragedy strike? Does your Group Insurance care for him? There are children in the care of Children's Aid Society who through no fault of their own have been deprived of the love and security of their own home and family. Foster parents are urgently needed. If you are between the ages of 25 and 45 and 25-35 and willing to share your home and heart with a child, call Quinte's Aid Society. WO 8-5704, Miss Payne. A3-3t

HORSES STILL USED — Horses still are used in woods operations of the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company. They are used mainly to haul the season's cut of pulp-wood in spots where tractors cannot be used. Here Walter Loveless tosses wood off his sleigh to the bank of a stream. When the ice goes out, the wood will be floated down to the Exploits River and on to the A.D.N. newsprint plant at Grand Falls in central Newfoundland. Drivers Benefit From Annual Economy Run

By EUGENE MILMOE

With the annual economy run coming up, car makers are probably wondering how their '59 masterpieces will meet the challenge.

Undoubtedly, this five-day road test brings out the economy best in all entries. But for the average motorist, driving techniques which help winners are of greater interest.

The economy driving tips usually boil down to these: (1) After starting, let the engine warm up a bit, then drive slowly for the first few miles. (2) Avoid spurt driving; never race the engine or pump the pedal; accelerate evenly and moderately, keeping within speed limits. (3) Use the tiptoe slowdowns for curves, downgrades, intersections, school zones, stop signals, etc. (4) Climb hills by speeding up gradually on the approach, thus getting a running start and preventing engine strain and gas waste. (5) Don't stint on tune-ups, oil changes, lubrications, alignment checks, etc.

P. G. writes: "When making a turn on a slick road, is it safer to make a tight or wide swing?"

(A) A fairly tight turn is recommended since it gives you more room to steer out if the rear wheels start skidding. Equally important is a reduction in speed before you reach the turn.

* * *

From T. M.: "Can you identify a groaning noise which, I believe, comes from the power steering unit? It is sometimes heard when my car (and the weather) is cold."

(A) Heavy oil will congeal when cold, putting a strain on the power steering hydraulic system and causing noise. A lighter oil may be needed.

* * *

L. B. asks: "I just had all new brake linings installed. The mechanic told me to take it easy on them until they are broken in. How do I break them in?"

(A) For the first few hundred miles, do your best to avoid sudden and violent braking, and don't ride the pedal. Brake gradually—with short, gentle pedal motions during this wear-in period.

Scouting activities

By CHRIS F. LEGGAT

Whenever you see a Cub with badges on his arm look for a small frog, this means he has passed his swimming tests. A Scout's badge is a boy ready to dive. An increasing number of boys proudly exhibit this mark of proficiency, and the man who is responsible, Lloyd Monteith, is very proud of them. Mr. Monteith and Lew Andrews go to the "Y" every Saturday from 1.00 p.m. to 2.c. p.m. and the list of boys they have passed this year proves their efficiency, patience and popularity. A remarkable achievement! It will never be known how many lives have been saved because of this great effort, but we do know that hundreds of boys now know how to respect water and are acquainted with water safety rules since these two gentlemen have been working with them.

The attendance during November and December was 122, and from January to now 299. A total of 521.

Lloyd reports that the 17th tiptoe slowdowns for curves, and Avondale are dead in the attendance record, but he is wondering where the boys from the 5th, 10th and Melrose are. Maybe the leaders will make Lloyd happy by sending their Cubs and Scouts along April 11.

Owing to previous plans of the YMCA, the Scouts will not have the use of the pool April 4th, but each Saturday thereafter classes will be held.

Jones, Cub Mark Tinkess qualified. We don't know what pack you are in Mark, but you'll get your badge O.K.

There are a number of boys almost ready to pass their tests. It's fun learning to swim and useful, too. Why not make your mind up and go to the "Y" — We know you will like it, and when holiday time comes you will be able to join the others in the lakes and pools, instead of sitting on the banks just watching.

Did No Wrong Promoter Says, 'Money Ran Out'

Gold-Mining Project Under Investigation

TORONTO (CP) — The Telegram says Vancouver promoter James Harris-McKee is distressed over the failure of his British Columbia gold-mining venture in which Baptists invested about $400,000.

In an interview in California, McKee is quoted today as saying: "If I thought they wouldn't get their money back I'd go there absolutely insane."

McKee's projects are under investigation by the Ontario and British Columbia securities commissions.

He told a Telegram reporter he will return immediately and voluntarily if investigating authorities wish him to do so.

"I have done no wrong," he said. "The money just ran out."

"I am absolute confidence that I'll pay back every dollar."

He said funds of $750,000 are all spent with no return as yet and promissory notes overdue, including $410,000 taken out by Baptist ministers and church members.

Some of the funds were collected by Rev. Leslie Millin, former Toronto Baptist minister, in exchange for promissory notes from McKee. Mr. Millin is secretary of the anti-Communist Freedom Foundation of Canada Limited.

TO RECOVER GOLD

The gold-mining enterprise was set up to recover gold from the Fraser River sands north of Lillooet, B.C. Some of the profits were to be used to broadcast freedom messages to Communist China.

McKee, in the California interview, said: "I never liked the Baptists to lend me money. What was done in Toronto was Leslie Millin's affair and it was his business if he approached church people."

The $51,500 the Freedom Foundation got out of the loan was in loan to them. It's supposed to be paid back.

"I want to stay here and get a mine going here that I know will pay off those notes along with the chairman of company I established."

CLAIMS POSSIBILITIES

In his statement he said several of the projects he promoted have a possibility of producing this year.

These include a new type of raw-chain, a mining operation in California and a combined milling machine and chemical laboratory for removing gold from the black sands.

He asked, in his statement, that persons who loaned money "trust me just a little longer and to help me a little further financially in the final effort."

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Securities Commission was to launch an investigation today into a strange gold-mining scheme involving $410,000 as word came that a new venture will be set up in an effort to recoup losses.

The commission seeks to determine what happened to between $50,000 and $100,000 of the money raised from Baptists to finance a mining operation on British Columbia's Fraser River.

O. E. Lennox, commission chairman, said Sunday orders will be completed to seize Solver-the suit - Communist Freedom Foundation of Canada Limited, of which Rev. Leslie Millin, a former Baptist minister, is director.

Mr. Millin said in an interview in Vancouver Sunday a venture will be launched this week in an attempt to regain the money. He said he can account for all moneys raised.

He did not disclose the nature of the business established with a view to "protecting my friends in Eastern Canada."

Mr. Lennox said some of it collected by Mr. Millin in exchange for promissory notes from Rev. James Harris McKee, Vancouver promoter, was to finance a radio station at Prince George, B.C., which would broadcast anti-Communist broadcasts to China.

Mr. Lennox said of the $410,000 collected by Mr. McKee, president of Allied Holdings Limited, has submitted receiving between $300,000 and $350,000.

"We want to see if Mr. Millin can account for the difference between the money raised and the amount received by McKee."

He said the commission also wants to know about the disposal of $51,350 Mr. McKee returned to the freedom foundation.

Mr. Millin, 46, isolated that his interview in Sunday recorded at his home at Hawkesbury.

He said "I am not going to try to justify a man acting wrong judgments or mistakes. Mr. McKee has made them and I have. But no attempt had been made to defraud anyone."

"They knew of the speculative nature of the investment. I had no possibility of predicting this year.

Mr. McKee has been in California since last fall when his loan-gathering activities came to a halt.

Mr. Lennox said if Mr. Millin refuses to co-operate he will be up to B.C. authorities to determine whether there was anything wrong with the transaction.

FLOOD ISOLATES JACKSON'S MILL NEAR KINGSTON

Water Recedes After Big Lake Formed

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ontario's oft - forecast spring floods raised the levels of several streams and lakes during the weekend but the over-all situation had improved today and no serious damage is reported in immediate danger.

Jackson's Mill, five miles northeast of Kingston, was hardest hit as remaining ice and snow rushed rapidly under balmy 58-degree weather. A 60-foot long section of the main street and a foot of water blocking the basement of a church remained in the flood's wake.

At Grand Valley 30 miles north, ice jammed in the river jam backed up three feet of water on Highway 10A, the floods had receded. Dynamite was used to restore the river's normal flow.

The Weather Bureau predicted little flooding in the next few days. Temperatures are expected to reach 50 degrees today and northeasterly winds should blow at 15 miles an hour. Showers are expected Tuesday but it probably would be too late to cause serious difficulty in the province, the forecaster said.

RAIL LINE BLOCKED

Provincial police at Kingston said the flooding at Jackson's Mill resulted when Burr's Creek overflowed into the low lying ground surrounding the community, was under control. The CPR line through the village is believed still blocked.

Jackson's Jackson's Mill residents were surrounded at one stage by a 10-foot-deep lake covering three square miles. Police said none were trapped in their homes.

Fire Chief Ken Bell, Ministry of Grand Valley said flooding became evident just before noon Sunday when ice moving down the Grand River began to jam. Dynamiting operations had been standing by but no residents were evacuated. Efforts were attempted to bypass the flooded highway 10A into Orangeville were abandoned when they became mired in mud and melting snow.

The Grand River flooding was reported around Orangeville near Toronto, Thornton, Cheltenham, Sound, and Kaladar, in the Kingston area.

WESTERN FLOODS

Supplies being flown in into Killarney on the north shore of Georgian Bay were held up when ice became too soft for skiplanes to land in Killarney. Water has been unable to use an ice road in Little Current most of the week-end, it was stated.

But general storekeeper Tom Smith said there was plenty of food 500 persons has "plenty of everything."

Residents stocked up when the winter road to Little Current on Manitoulin Island was opened up for several weeks recently after the area had been snowbound for nearly a month.

Little Current, located on Manitoulin Island, is about 7 miles southwest of Sudbury, still had a snow problem, but communications with the mainland, severed for 36 hours by a combined snow and 80-mile thunder storm, had been restored.

PLANE LANDS SAFELY

HONG KONG (AP) — A Pan American Stratocruiser carrying the Archbishop of Canterbury and 35 other passengers made an emergency landing at Kai Tak Airport with one engine out. The big American airliner was 90 minutes late in its trip from Tokyo when one engine started acting up.

Montreal Judge Orders Hunt For Woman Who Had Bonds

MONTREAL (CP) — Judge Irenee laGarde has ordered police to find a mysterious woman linked by a circumstantial testimony to loot from a $1,788,460 securities burglary at the Caisse Populaire de Ste-Emmanuelle late last year.

He issued the order Friday at the trial of Armand Roy, 39, a waiter charged with participating in the burglary at the firm in Montreal's downtown financial district January 25, 1958.

The trial in sessions court is to resume Tuesday but Judge laGarde said he will hear no more evidence until the woman is brought in to testify or it is shown that she has "passed on . . . or vanished into thin air."

Paul Emond, 41, an auto mechanic employed by a garage owned by Emond, testified the woman's name in his testimony Friday. He identified her as Solange Guillemette, a brunet about 20.

Emond said the Guillemette women appeared him four months after the burglary with two $1,000 municipal bonds signed by the Caisse's community of Chicoutimi and told him she was where "another $100,000 worth si least" could be obtained, if

He said he did not take the bonds, but noted the serial numbers. Later, he said, he found out they corresponded to bonds stolen in the burglary.

Roy, testifying in his own behalf, said he knew nothing about the theft. He also denied giving a friend more than $300,000 worth of the stolen bonds to store.

About $1,000,000 worth of the bonds have been recovered in North America and Europe. A Montreal man has been sentenced to five years in penitentiary for the burglary and seven other persons are believed in custody in Toronto, Miami, Fla., and Massachusetts.

Dalai Lama Continuing Slow Journey on Foot Into India

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Dalai Lama continued his slow journey into India on foot today after Prime Minister Nehru cautioned that India must adopt a careful course between treaty obligations to Red China and sympathy for the Tibetan rebels.

The young god-king of Tibet and his party of 80 reached Towang, near India's isolated Himalayan frontier, almost at the same time the Communist Chinese were installing the rival Panchen Lama as head of Tibetan capital of Lhasa.

At the exiled ruler neared the Towang monastery, hundreds of tribesmen moved to meet him with sacred scarlet hats and silver swords sent up a cheer.

Animal leaves were burned to purify the air as Tibet's spiritual and temporal leader took part in the monastery precincts. Villagers on the plateau 10,000 feet above sea level blew on conches, trumpets and beaten drums since to herald the Dalai Lama's coming.

It was believed the next stage of the journey would pass through Bramaputra River in Assam state, near the Chinese border, two days. Much of the route must be covered on foot, since it lies through a region of high and treacherous Himalayan country over which the Tibetans fled from the Communists after the failure of the revolt in Lhasa.

After five days of marching, they can switch to Indian army jeeps at Bomdila, about 70 miles, 68 miles from Towang, and further along to Indian airstrips where planes which would take the fugitive ruler and his aides to volt.

DOUKHOBORS SAY THEY WANT TO STAY IN CANADA

300 Hand Brief To RCMP Officials

KRESTOVA, B.C. (CP) — The 750 radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors apparently have changed their minds about how long to Russia.

Three hundred of them met here Saturday night and handed a brief to RCMP officials. Although details of the brief were not disclosed, it was reported the Doukhobors' decided they want to remain in Canada. The brief is to be forwarded to Ottawa authorities.

Police were invited to the meeting, the first time in history the Doukhobors had made such a move.

At least a dozen men and women, including militant group leaders mentioned the stay-in-Canada plan of the 2,500 Freecommiler involved.

It was reported the Sons want federal authorities to help in bringing back to Canada their spiritual leader, Stefan S. Sorokin, who lives in a 25-acre orchard farm near Montevideo, Uruguay, since 1952.

WENT TO RUSSIA

Early last year, after the Doukhobors had been in Canada for 58 years, a delegation went to Russia to seek land to start farms.

Federal and provincial governments have been hit by a series of controversy and acts of terrorism in the Kootenays, 200 miles west. Doukhobors agreed to help the Freedomites move to Russia when they received official assurance that the new settlers would be welcomed. Premier Khrushchev lived in August this assurance from Russia.

The Freedomites have their headquarters in Krestova, a shack town near Nelson, and call themselves the Christian Community of Brotherhood of Universal Doukhobors.

The Russian-born Sorokin, who is not a Doukhobor, is reported to have lived in luxury since going to Uruguay.

THEY NEED NO GUNS

"We need Sorokin to give direction and purpose to our lives," a spokesman told RCMP officers.

The bearded leader is known to have written a letter for a return to Russia.

The Freedomite ago spokesmen said representations would be made to the World Court at The Hague, Holland, and to Canadian injustices and discrimination.

Pacifists, the Sons of Freedom claimed Canadian schools forced their children to salute the flag and that man made laws could not be adhered to by sect members.

British Papers Uneasy As Monty To Visit Russia

Fear His Blunt Words Might Do Much Damage

LONDON (Reuters) — Field-Marshal Viscount Montgomery's plans to visit Russia later this month stirred a controversy in today's British newspapers.

The Daily Herald, headlining a front-page story Come Off It, declares his "One-man mission to Moscow might just do some good — it is a chance in a million," but added:

"It might also do terrible harm."

It advises the former deputy supreme allied commander in Europe to visit "old pals" in Moscow if he wants, but not "to meddle."

"The summit," it says, "is strictly out of bounds."

The Daily Sketch takes up most of its front-page with a headline declaring: Monty! The Sketch says he and old world-trotting soldier—Fade away.

AT SENSITIVE TIME

The paper warns that Montgomery would be going to Moscow "at a very sensitive moment" when the "West has at last begun to shape a policy for negotiation." The Sketch says "we are in sight" but also when "we are in danger" because the working hard to swing like back to his former anti-summit attitude.

Montgomery, due to leave April 28, will make a speech at the Macmillan probably Wednesday, an authoritative source said today. He has not been requested by Montgomery, the source added.

The News Chronicle reports that the trip was arranged with the concurrence of Macmillan and the approval of Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell, but it adds that "neither the war office nor the ministry of defence accepted responsibility for giving permission for the trip."

Editorially it says the "timing was all wrong" and warns that "Monty's unfortunate gaffes [are] bad" and that he would "annoy" the United States and West Germany. The remarks when reasons are tender enough already."

Police Save Life of Man Bitten by Snake

LONDON (Reuters) — Police made a 20 - mile chase across North London Sunday with serum to save the life of a 26-year old man bitten by an adder, Britain's only poisonous snake.

Alan Quy, one of three members of a party on an Easter embankment, collapsed seconds after being bitten on the right hand by the adder. A truck took him to hospital at Romnford, nearly 20 miles away.

Doctors sent an appeal for antisnakebite serum to Romnford, North London police and Scotland Yard. Less than an hour later the serum was handed over in line to save the man.

Cannot Slacken Preparedness

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today the world scene is "not one to slacken" in the preparedness of the free nations.

"The aim of the Western community is as imperative now, if not more so, than at any time during the 10 years," he said Saturday during a Parliament Hill ceremony marking the tenth anniversary of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"The reason for reason for cleavages within the (NATO) alliance," he said, "is not any half-hearted co-operation, 'no going it alone' must as that might appeal to nationalistic spirit and sentiment."

The days of the NATO partners were unfurled in front of the Parliament building as the RCAF Ceremonial Command band played a special medley of their respective national anthems.

Charge Student With Keeping Bawdy House

TORONTO (CP) —Suburban North York police have charged a teen-aged girl student with keeping a bawdy house.

Ronald Ewing, 18, was arrested 30 others, including seven teenagers, when police raided his house Saturday night.

In addition to the bawdy house charge, Ewing also faces charges of keeping a gaming house and one of keeping liquor for sale.

He appeared with him on the indecent show count, are Gladys Ewing, 17, and a school student, 16. The others have been charged as found-ins.

The girl is the parents' parents are holidaying in the United States.

Seized in the raid were a number of films, a motion picture camera and a quantity of beer.

Fire Threatens Business Block In Windsor

WINDSOR (CP) — A four-storey building was destroyed by fire which threatened to spread to an entire downtown business block Sunday.

More than 100 firemen brought the searing flames under control early today after the blaze had been cleared of people and equipment. Police cordoned off a three-block area to keep the streets clear of pedestrian and vehicle traffic today. Firemen said it was possible the fire-scarred walls would crumble anytime.

No official estimate of damage was likely to be available for some time but several unofficial estimate by automobile insurance sources placed it at $1,000,000 or more.

There were no serious casualties. One fireman received slight cuts when he fell through a window ledge and three others suffered minor injuries.

Polish Vessel Makes Progress Through Ice

HALIFAX (CP) — The Polish liner Batory was reported making progress in a early today through Cabot Strait ice on her bid to reach the St. Lawrence River. She carries 662 passengers.

A spokesman for Pickford and Black Limited, Batory agents here, said the ice-breaker Labrador assigned to escort the Batory would be in position by tonight to pick up her St. Lawrence River pilot.

The Batory's progress was expected to make up the minds of two other passenger ship captains approaching the ice to reach the St. Lawrence. The Seven Seas and Arkadia were scheduled to leave Bermuda today and Halifax the Batory encountered difficulties that were expected Halifax a more favorable berth.

Mountain Lion Invades City

PUEBLO, Colo (AP) — A 140-pound mountain lion got a taste of city life Saturday. It padded down streets and alleys and stirred for six hours before being shot.

"Everybody in town had a big gun and they took turns at police officer said. "It was our wildest day in 10 years."

William Kent, game conservationist, shot the animal with a single bullet from a high-powered pistol. Kent said the animal apparently came up from the mountains, to the west.

Welland Canal Opens Today

PORT COLBORNE, Ont. (CP) —The Welland Canal opened at 8 a.m. EST today but little traffic moved on the waterway.

The lightkeeper Frank Sherman and James D. Norris have been practically a one-man operation Sunday. Both ships are opposite the outer breakwall lightkeeping and are reported encountering heavy ice.

Shipping officials here said a warming sun and rain were needed to soften up the ice on Lake Erie.

Tractor-Borne East German Family Crashes Twin Barriers to Freedom

BRUNSWICH, West Germany ation Saturday.

(Reuters)—An East German family of 10 clung to a 15-year-old tractor and took them crashing through a double barricade to freedom Sunday.

The family, now staying with relatives in West Germany, are that of 39-year-old Friedrich Greave and his wife. Their eight children are aged between 2 and 13 years.

Police here said the break-through was the first East German to cross officials he approached the border in her green, padded dress. Her hands loose, crawled across it and then shifted up to top gear to crash through the fence and across a plowed field to safety.

The parents and the two youngest children squeezed into the tiny cab of his old, 100-horsepower tractor and the other six climbed aboard on a small rear platform.

They hit the first faced a barricade of three-foot-high paving blocks placed about 11½ yards apart in a strong wire fence almost eight feet high.

The eight-year German customs officials he approached the border in her green, padded dress. Her hands loose, crawled across it and then shifted up to top gear to crash through the fence and across a plowed field to safety.

The Communist East German police on the other side of the fence swarmed all over the tractor but failed to capture the Koenig said.

"It was like a beehive. Within an hour they had closed the gap in the building's basement, was unknown.

Organize Animal Dunkirk to Free Wild Life Trapped on 49 Islands

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (Reuters) — "animal Dunkirk" which has been called the greatest animal rescue operation since the Second World War, is under way here today.

Its object is to save more than 250 animals trapped on 49 islands created by the Kariba dam, a man-made lake.

The lake is a 2,000-square-mile reservoir behind the huge Kariba Dam, built to control the waters of the Zambezi River to provide electric power for the Central African Federation.

Trapped by the rising waters are rhinoceros, elephants, waterbuffaloes, lions, leopards, baboons and monkeys.

As the waters began rising behind the dam animals took refuge on the islands which soon became islands. Many of them have been drowned and others have died of hunger.

Their plight distressed animal lovers, who urged efforts be made to save them.

They proposed an "animal Dunkirk" be organized to save the trapped animals the way thousands were saved from the British army after the fall of France in 1940 by transporting them across the English Channel in any kind of boat available.

Rescuing animals was the difficulty of handling wild animals, especially the larger and more dangerous ones. Boats have been driven to a panic state by them.

Special game keepers have been successful in bringing to safety some of the smaller and more tractable animals, but they could not hope to deal with all of them or the larger ones.

Today boaters went on to the islands, which are expected to disappear beneath the surface of the new reservoir in a few months.

The boaters' job on the islands is to drive animals which have the ability to swim, but which have become so terrified

Love Finds Way to Beat Tax Collector

LONDON (AP)— Love hustled to beat the tax collector all over British Saturday.

The average bridegroom stood to gain about £42 in repaid income tax by marrying on the last day of the fiscal year. Many brides thus found it the easiest time of year to coax her betrothed to the altar.

Churches and register offices reported a record hurry-over with one wedding party plowing through each other's confetti.

Treasury rules are that a man is entitled to husband's allowance for the whole fiscal year if he marries before it ends.

Lady Shopper Strikes It Rich At Supermarket

ALLEN PARK, Mich. (AP) — Mrs. Irene Hanks, an Allen Park housewife, struck it rich at the supermarket Sunday.

She got home and began putting her groceries away she found a paper bag containing hundreds of dollars in cash, plus a lot of jewelry. She didn't bother to count it but called the store manager, who turned over to retrieve the day's receipts.

"He didn't even thank me," she said.

Communists In India Suffer Severe Setback

By PETER JACKSON

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — The Communist Party, by its support of Chinese action in Tibet, has dealt itself the severest setback since India became independent.

The Communists have clashed head-on with popular Indian feeling of anger and bitterness at the Chinese suppression of the Tibetan revolt.

Many observers compare the latest Communist action with its support of the British Indian government in 1942 during a civil disobedience campaign to force Britain to grant Indian independence.

Premier Nehru Sunday attacked the Communist party at a press conference and said it was completely schooled from Indian National sentiments.

"Red Pride"

Nehru has attacked the Communists before, but this is the first time he has done so at a time when mass feeling is running so strongly against the party. Even the party's strongest apologists have appear to be a yo tantamount against it.

Indian Communist policy has been to support Nehru and try to give the impression that he agrees with their views and that they were his true followers.

At the same time, the Communists have claimed that Nehru is "surrounded by reactionary elements who sabotage his progressive policies."

Boy, 10, Drowns

FOREST SEVERN, Ont. (CP) — Ernest Cayouette, 10, was drowned Sunday when he fell from some rocks and was swept away by a strong current in the Severn River here.

He was throwing stones in the river near this Georgian Bay community 17 miles northwest of Orillia, when, Harry Allen Alford, 10, ran home to raise the alarm.

Car Designer Guest Speaker At Auto Club

William Sadler of St. Catharines, noted Canadian sports car designer and builder, was the guest speaker at a special dinner meeting of the St. Lawrence Automobile Club at the Hotel Quinte Saturday evening Mr. Sadler gave a very entertaining talk on the development of his cars over the past few years.

Starting with a "special" built in Toronto in 1947 from parts and engine, the speaker traced the development of his machines to the current Mark III model, which is custom built to his specifications. The success of Mr. Sadler's Mark II car on the North American circuits has prompted the Jaguar Cars people of England to offer him one of their newly developed 3-litre racing engines for experimental purposes in the new Sadler car.

Present development of the "Sadler Special" is one they known to the motoring press, is being undertaken by Earl Mirsonger, American distributor of XLG spark plugs, and the carburetion is by Weber-XLG Specials. Under the auspices of this company the cars have been raced at many of the large races in the United States and the Bahamas. Mr. Walsh Glen rees, near Corning, New York, and Sebring, Florida, course, near Simcoe, Ontario, have always seen the Sadler cars as soon as they have been completed and will probably continue to.

Although Mr. Sadler is ready to admit that racing is great fun he is also considerably interested in producing only a few cars to compete in famous race courses of the world. His ultimate goal is to manufacture in Canada a sports car on a limited production basis by next year. General engines suspension and engine components will probably be used in a chassis and body developed by Mr. Sadler. This will give Canada the chance to be represented at the famous Le Mans 24 Hour Gran Prix of Endurance for sports cars.

Already Mr. Sadler has been invited to enter one of his vehicles in this French racing event, which is recognized as being the world's major production car competition. His cars will be running in the Le Mans event in 1960 but under the white and blue racing colors of the United States due to the Nissonger contract, rather than the green and white of Canada.

A brief description of the proposed production car, a two-seater roadster powered by a Chevrolet Corvette engine selling for less than $4,000, was given to the members by Mr. Sadler. The speaker's talk was accompanied by the showing of a film covering the activities of his various cars both on the North American continent and in the United Kingdom. Mrs. Ann Sadler gave a few comments on the distaff side of the life of an automobile designer-builder-competitor.

Another film showing the activities of the M.G. racing team at a recent Sebring 12 hour endurance race was also shown to the members. The evening's entertainment concluded with music provided by a Dixieland jazz group. About fifty members and guests were present, coming from as far as Cornwall and Toronto.

Thousand Chicks Die at Bayside As Barn Burns

Over 1,000 young chickens and a calf were lost in a Sunday morning fire which destroyed the large frame barn of Mr. A. Hanson of Bayside, seven miles west of Belleville. Four calves were also burned in the barn.

Origin of the blaze was not determined, with Mr. Hanson stating that no one was in the barn when the blaze started shortly after seven o'clock. There was a large quantity of hay in the barn.

Belleville firemen answered the alarm but could do nothing to save the building and stood by until the danger was past. A laundry garage was undamaged but firemen played water on the adjoining wood lot from ignition.

The barn was partially covered by insurance.

New Union Seeks Contract With Bowater Firm

By SANDY CAMPBELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CORNER BROOK, Nfld. (CP) — A representative of the newly formed Newfoundland Brotherhood of Woods-Workers (Ind.) is slated to begin negotiations in the Corner Brook area for pulp wood with Bowater's Pulp and Paper Mills Limited.

NBWW president Max Lane says the contractors indicated they would sign the same type designed between the new union and the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company last month.

The one-year NBWW agreement with A. N. D. provides a five-cent raise in the basic hourly rate for $1.40 and a nine-cent hike in the average piecework rate of $1.13 a cord.

The Corner Brook Trades and Labor Council (CLC) Sunday launched a petition to have the provincial government's "anti-union" legislation repealed. Possibly similar action in the House of assembly in St. John's were delayed tributed to about 1,100 attending the interests of working people and freedom in Newfoundland. I do not see any legislation whether or candidate whose record shows he favors these unfair laws."

CLC Atlantic education representative Harold Stafford of Saint John, N.B., told the rally the cards would be distributed to each union member in the province.

Bill 2 decertified the two Newfoundland locals of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO). Bill 1 gave the provincial government power to outlaw "substantial" members of any international union that has a "substantial" number of officers convicted of serious crimes." Premier Smallwood said Bill 1 was aimed at the two decertified locals of the international brotherhood.

Gerald Matthews of the Corner Brook local, International Office Workers Union (CLC), was the only member of the 20-union council who refused to support the petition.

He opposed repeal of Bill 1, saying labor-management precedent James Hoffa, who had a criminal record "as long as your arm" but disagreed with his intentions of taking over Canada.

Western Powers Agreed on Russian Talks

LONDON (Reuters) — Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said today the three Western powers "completely agreed" on their objectives for coming talks with Russia.

He was talking to reporters at London airport after returning from Western Big Four and Atlantic Pact talks in Washington on the Berlin and German issues and related problems.

Lloyd said there was no Anglo-American disagreement at the Washington meeting.

Port Colborne Still Icebound

PORT COLBORNE (CP) — Two freighters which weighed anchor Saturday and were the first of the season to sail from here, got little further than outside the harbor breakwall before becoming ice bound Sunday.

A spokesman for the James D. Norris said that for at the point where his ship and the Frank A. Sherman are ice bound, is approximately two feet thick. Both ships were cadets across Lake Erie for United States ports to load coal or Hamilton steel plants.

The United States coast guard cutter Ojibwa arrived in the area 11 miles east of Port Colborne and was reported lying-a until daybreak.

HAMILTON (CP) — While ports of Hamilton Bay are still ice-coated, the 1959 navigation season is officially under way.

The season was opened at 12.23 a.m. Sunday when the canal steamer Mickey Prince cleared Burlington Canal with a load of coal from Sodus Point, N.Y.

Captain Ernest Taylor was presented with a bastered old copper — annually presented to the captain of the first ship to tie up here — and a cheque.

Russ Embassy In Baghdad Is Bombed

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The local press said today a time bomb exploded inside the Soviet Embassy building in Baghdad Sunday but there were no casualties. The daily Al Wahda said the bomb went off on the first floor.

It reported that the Iraqi military cultural centre in Baghdad was dynamited Sunday. The paper said unidentified persons tossed dynamite sticks into the centre's garden, killing an army major and two soldiers.

There was no confirmation of these reports here. There is censorship of press dispatches from Baghdad.

Non-Smokers Escape Cancer

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—A group of non-smokers, living in the smog-prone city of Los Angeles, has a remarkably low record of lung cancer, a scientist reports.

They are Seventh Day Adventists whose religious principles forbid smoking, Dr. Ernest L. Wynder of the Sloan - Kettering Institute told the final session of the American Cancer Society.

Statistically their group should have yielded 13 cases of lung cancer.

But only two of them came down with lung cancer—and both of these had been heavy smokers before joining the church.

Dr. Wynder was one of an eight - man panel that discussed various studies of cancer as a disease affecting many parts of the body.

By a show of hands, the panel of scientists indicated that none of them now smoke cigarets. Three smoke pipes.

Dr. Wynder said evidence suggests that smoking contributes to 80 per cent of the lung cancer in American men. The lung cancer death rate for American men has multiplied at least ten fold since 1900.

Debbie Won't Be Present at Oscar Awards

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Debbie Reynolds won't be there to face Eddie Fisher and Elizabeth Taylor, but Hollywood still may have to find another adjective than colossal to describe tonight's academy award show.

A two-hour telecast, without commercials, will begin at 10:30 p.m. EST over NBC TV and include more than 100 of the biggest names in Hollywood. They range from Millie Perkins, Hollywood's newest star, to Ingrid Bergman, a Hollywood for the first time in 10 years.

For a while it appeared Hollywood's latest triangle might give the show additional suspense. But Miss Reynolds removed herself from the show Saturday.

Producer Mike Todd had scheduled the appearances of Debbie and Liz and Eddie with Fisher somewhere in between.

Debbie insisted that the presence of Liz had nothing to do with her withdrawal from the show. And that she returned from a movie job in Spain too late to prepare for her role.

She was to have presented an Oscar to one of the winners, the same dore Miss Taylor will perform.

Fisher will sing one of the nominated songs — To Love and Be Loved.

The race for the Oscars is especially close among the actress nominees for best actress. Rosalind Russell, Shirley Maclaine, Susan Hayward, Deborah Kerr and Miss Taylor all could win without stirring a ripple of surprise.

Among the men, most experts figure Yul Brynner to take the top male oscar, although Sidney Poitier, the brilliant Negro actor from Miami, provides for joint honoring and full co-operation at all levels in their educational selection of candidates and election campaigning.

In the policy statement, on which it will base its election campaign, the party promises to establish a commission to study educational finance aimed at relieving taxes on land and improvements if CCF becomes government in B.C.

FARM FUND

It would create a $5,000,000 farm stability fund to help disaster-struck farmers re-establish themselves in marginal areas, to relocate on productive land.

Long-term, low interest loans would be provided to young farmers to assist them in starting up.

The CCF would expand the provincial health and welfare insurance to provide hospital service plus thirty days a year in any larger mental health service. Outpatient psychotherapy and drugs would be free and federal grants used to provide comprehensive treatment services for all.

Other policies pledged public ownership of electric power, telephone services and natural gas and the public control of the forests, and criticized private operators to handle the actual logging and manufacturing.

HITS LABOR LAWS

The party also demanded disallowance of the recent New-foundland law describing the Internat ional Woodworkers of America (CIC) and pledged the CCF to fight for repeal of the B.C. Trade Unions Act which makes unions legal entities subject to suit.

Russia Says U.S. Trying to Wreck East-West Talks

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A tense Russian protest over a U.S. plane flight into Berlin has raised new questions today about Soviet willingness to settle German problems.

Moscow accused the United States of deliberately violating Berlin corridor regulations with the aim of wrecking chances of agreement at the Geneva big power foreign ministers conference slated to start May 11. The protest referred to the March 31 flight to Berlin at 20,000 feet of a C-130 U.S. air transport plane. The Soviets say all flights to the Communist-encircled city must not top 10,000 feet.

While U.S. disagreement with the Russian charge was evident, the question remained as to the response to make. Foreign ministers of the Russian-NATO have just concluded a three-day meeting with avowed determination to maintain the Geneva talks as fruitful as the Russians will allow.

A final communique Saturday declared the NATO members' united determination to defend Western rights in Berlin. At the same time, it reaffirmed readiness to negotiate an honorable settlement of German problems.

HOPEFUL SIGN

In a televised discussion Sunday, French Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and France's Foreign Minister Couve de Murville held out prospects that the Geneva meeting will have enough results to lead to a summit conference.

Lloyd said, "We believe that we can have a serious negotiation with the Soviet Union before we leave peace can be preserved by negotiation."

Heinrich von Brentano, German foreign minister, cautioned against expecting too much from Geneva parley but found "some optimism" in the fact that the Soviets have agreed to the talks. The crisis was set off by Mucove's threat to cut off the Berlin.

In a separate TV interview, Gen. Lauris Norstad said the forces under him as supreme NATO commander in Europe are adequate for the full scope of their mission to defend Europe. Norstad wanted to prevent 21 1-3 divisions expended to the planned 30 divisions, and more modern weapons such as Honest John rockets.

Norstad pictured his forces as substantial nonetheless — powerful enough to "go a long way toward backing up any decisions, any policy, any position" taken by the Western Big Three and Berlin crisis.

NATO Secretary-General Paul-Henri Spaak spurned the idea that he go to Moscow to negotiate. Spaak said he feared a trip that would be quite impossible because the Soviet would use it to get involved in the German question which they must decide.

Spaak indicated that if the troops of the Big Three in Berlin are attacked, he believes the other NATO nations will join in the defense of Berlin. He said all NATO countries understand the Big Three's responsibility for Berlin the way opens for other Red advances elsewhere.

Builders Like Liberals' Plan

TORONTO (CP) — Builders have welcomed Liberal Leader Lester Pearson's platform promise of provincial backing for second mortgages and lower down payments for home buyers.

The Liberal leader disclosed his party's plans for the coming provincial election campaign at the annual meeting of the Ontario Liberal Association Friday night. It included a promise of provincial credit for second mortgages to permit the purchase of homes with a 5 per cent down payment.

W. G. Clements, secretary manager of the Metropolitan Toronto Home Builders' Association, said: "Many young home owners living within the reach of thousands of home seekers who are looking to the government to save sufficient money for required down payments.

Maurice Joubert of Montreal, president of the National Home Builders' Association, said "the down payment is one of the biggest stumbling blocks and this might remove it."

Reuther Wants Small Autos Made in Canada

OSHAWA (CP) — Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, Saturday pleaded for unity among the 1,100,000 members of the face of fast-moving developments in the auto industry.

Mr. Reuther, here to discuss domestic problems with Canada Motors' Local 222, made two forecasts:

1. The big three will be forced by market demand to produce small cars.

2. Some aspect of the profit-sharing principle would eventually be applied in Canada.

In speeches and interviews here and at Ft. Erie on the U.S. border Reuther said that if small cars aren't manufactured in Canada, they will be "imported from abroad."

The General Motors and Chrysler don't want to manufacture small cars, he said, but are being forced into it.

"The question is where will they do it."

The UAW president said there'll always be people who'll buy cars a little long with three-foot fins, but facts are proving more customers want the small car.

"Canadian auto workers should have every opportunity to take part in their production and the international union will do all its power to compel the big three to produce small cars here."

DOCTORS MEET

MONTREAL (CP) — Some 1,500 physicians and other delegates are in Montreal for a four-day sectional meeting of the Canadian Medical Association starting today.

Forms begin to show from underneath the water which fills the hole dug to accommodate the new treatment plant for sewage disposal along Yeo Bay shore in Trenton. The work on this plant was started during the winter months and is expected to forge ahead with the arrival of warm spring weather. It is expected to be completed by the end of 1959. Seven Injured In Car Mishaps Over Weekend

TRENTON — Seven persons, two of them children, were injured in accidents during the weekend in Trenton. All of the mishaps involved vehicles.

Early Saturday morning, at 2.40 a.m. Edward P. Leyer, 23 of 25 Bay Street banged his car up over the two-foot high cement retaining wall at the head of Gilmour Hill and into an apartment house caused an estimated $1,000 damage to the front end of his car and $30 damages to the lawn and wrought iron railing around the entrance of the building. He suffered cuts and bruises to the face. In the car at the time and also injured about the face were: H. E. Cox, Jr., 127 Marmora Street, and I. M. Crawford of the R.C.A.F. in Trenton.

The accident was investigated by Constables Dave Camp and George French of the Trenton Police Department.

At 9.15 a.m. Saturday morning Mrs. J. K. Beach and her 12-year-old son John were proceeding south on Front St. in the family car when they came into a head-on collision with another car operated by Sandy Henry of R. R. 1 Hilton. It was reported that the Beach car was in the centre line of the road.

The younger in the Beach car received cuts to the hospital following the mishap and suffered a shaking up. He was wearing a safety belt at the time of the collision. A passenger in the Henry car, R. W. Whiteman of 10 Lorne Avenue, Trenton suffered lacerations to the head and face when he went forward and broke the windshield.

Estimated damage to the Beach car, which was driven backwards about 4 feet from the point of impact, was set at $500 and damage to the other car which continued on for 50 feet after the collision was estimated at $600.

Constable Mark Holden of the Trenton Police investigated.

At 5.35 p.m., also on Saturday a car owned by Lange and Fetter's garage and driven by Barbara Nutley of 18 Forest Street, Trenton and another vehicle operated by Thomas Cook of 50 Kidd Avenue, crashed on the corner of Front and Mill-dle streets causing damages estimated at $250 to each vehicle.

It was reported that the vehicle driven by Lange operated by Barbara Nutley had just left the parking space on Front Street and proceeding north was about to make a left hand turn onto Mill-dle when the accident happened. There were no injuries.

Patrol Sergeant Bruce Westfall investigated the mishap.

Four-Year-Old Struck by Car; Breaks Leg

TRENTON — Dennis Woodcox, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Woodcox of 21 College Street suffered a fractured leg when struck by a car when he rode his tricycle into the path of an oncoming car on Dundas St. in Trenton Saturday at 3.05 p.m.

The driver of the vehicle, William A. Laycock of the RCAF station in Trenton, said police he had been proceeding north on Bay Street and was making a right turn to go east on Dundas

Three Alarms Give Firemen Busy Weekend

TRENTON — Trenton firemen received three calls over the weekend but none of them turned out to be serious and one was a service call to open a locked door.

At 11.33 a.m. on Saturday the trucks were called to 80 1/2 Stanley Street to attend to an overheated chimney and at 6.40 p.m. they were called again to a faulty oil burner at the Recreation Centre on Ontario Street.

At 1 a.m. on Sunday the firemen were asked to come to 97 Wilkins Street where a couple had returned home and found they had left all their keys in the house and were unable to get in. The firemen went in through a window and opened the front door for them from the inside of the house. Said the unhappy owner of the house:—"We have three sets of keys and we leave them all inside."

In his regular monthly report Fire Chief Cecil Ellis stated the department had 23 calls during the month of March and all were of a minor nature with very little damage done. In breaking down the calls the report showed: 6 car accidents attended, 7; service calls, 4; chimney fires, 4; electrical, 2; smoke, 2; trucks, 1; dwellings, 1; factories, 1.

The report also said eight men from the Trenton department had attended the last regular meeting of the Mutual Aid at Shirley.

The chief also reported one accident involving a fire truck. This occurred on the corner of Albert Street and Dundas on April 1 when Fire Truck No. 1 scraped the side of a taxi when the taxi tried to pull out of the way of the fire truck. There were no injuries to the firemen during the month.

Street East when the 1st came out from in front of a parked car and Dundas and into the path of his car.

He said he picked the child up and rushed him to the hospital where he was treated by Dr. W. A. L. McDonald.

The child, hit by the right front end of the car, was found to have a fractured left leg, a large bruise on his right ear and one on his stomach. He had several smaller bruises.

Police have four witnesses to the mishap which was investigated by Constables Jack Graham and Gerry Martin of the Trenton Police Department.

Exhaustion, Flu Overcome Man In Restaurant

TRENTON — Bert Libling, manager of the Theatre Bar in Trenton was rushed to the Trenton Memorial Hospital early Sunday morning when he was found slumped over the counter in his store by Fireman Bob Haker.

It was first thought that Mr. Libling had suffered a heart attack, but upon examination at the hospital it was found to be a bad case of the 'flu at present sweeping over Trenton as well as a matter of sheer exhaustion.

Fireman Haker had dropped into the eating establishment before going to Mass and noted Mr. Libling with his head down on the counter and sitting on one of the stools. He was unable to raise his head or move. Haker immediately called Deputy Fire Chief Ellis and the ailing man on the scene and then sent for Weseers Ambulance to take him to hospital.

Reports from the hospital last night said Mr. Libling was feeling better but would probably be detained there for some time.

Mrs. Libling, who had been in Montreal because of her mother's sickness and passing, was notified of her husband's illness and rushed back to Trenton by car.

The Theatre Bar was kept open yesterday by Ray McGale and friend of the family.

ICE BREAKS UP

TRENTON — The thicker ice on the Trent River for many years broke up and pushed in into the Bay of Quinte Saturday morning about 10 a.m. It was noted during the weekend the ice had actually broken free from the shoreline about a week ago when water from the sanitation and storm sewers melted it. But on Saturday a force of the water rushing down from upstream finally broke and sent it out into the bay. Along with it went an old boat which had been partially sunk and apparently untied near the Jerry Zigman junk yard. On Sunday some huge ice floes continued to move out and of them about 20-feet square carried a large pile of brick and other debris which had been dumped onto the river during the freeze-up period.

SIGNS OF SPRING

Golfers at the Trenteh Country club wasted little time getting onto the golf course as some reported a good game yesterday. They reported that the fairways are almost free of holes, was fairly dry with the worst spots being in the low lying areas where it was still bit soggy and snow and ice still melting. However, on Sunday's golfers were not the first ones to try out their clubs this year, others reported they have been making the rounds about a week ago. Since last night the curlers wound up their season with the last game being played and the presentation of prizes to the various winners during the play that ended the year. Following the presentations a pot-luck supper was held and refreshments served. It is expected the ice will be taken out sometime this week.

TO HOLD MEETING

An organizational meeting for a new association in Trenton for the Air Force will be held in the Recreation Building on Sidney Street. The group will be a wing of the Royal Canadian Airforce Association for Trenton and the airforce personnel are asked to attend. Mr. Libling with his head down on the counter and sitting on one of the stools. He was unable to raise his head or move. Haker immediately called Deputy Fire Chief Ellis and the ailing man on the scene and then sent for Weseers Ambulance to take him to hospital.

SPRING SNEAKS INTO TOWN

Spring did not really arrive here with the Macs. was just that the rain, chilly though it was, revealed at Spring was already hiding here.

Spring had sneaked into town earlier, as quietly a youngster squeezing into the back pew while the mbers of the congregation raised their voices in the hymn.

A few days ago there was no sign of the hardy nchs. Now she is indubitably here, though so unracteristically self-effacing that one has to look ice to recognize her. is she ashamed for arriving e, or is she, perchance, afraid that her right to session will be disputed by Old Man Winter, enavoring to extend his tenancy past the term specified lease? It is hard to tell. This is not a year h convenient yardsticks. There are calendars, of rse, but what use is a date without a memory ached to it?

Other years it has been different. The world been dead and then, suddenly, there has been a rch of sunshine, a rush of wind, a river of melted w, and Spring has rushed down the streets and ough the back gardens, pushing and shoving and xing and stirring and letting everybody and everyng know that she has arrived.

Not this year. One day has been much like the

There has never been a day when the winter rcoat suddenly weighed a ton, when the scarf ught the little beads of sweat to the surface of the n, when feet burned in rubber-clad feet. Still, by day, the snow and ice have retreated. First re were the thin lines of snowmelt following where car wheels had worn the ice thin; then these lines ened until finally only a narrow ridge of ice reined in the centre of the road to keep company the broader patches of the curb. The centre ch disappeared—but the ice crept outward from the walk. One saw with amazement how the path on narrowed by the snowbanks and marvelled that re should now be so much space for passing vehicles. Now, occasionally at night a lonely hunk of may betray the careless motorist and bounce him ghly as he proceeds down what is so evidently his per lane.

The ice has disappeared from the river and here the only sign of hurry by Spring, yet somehow the k-up did not seem to hail her coming. It was just the ice had grown tired of its resting place and had ided to move along, without any hurrying push the season. Before Thursday's rain the river ran it it did only on those days of year it was, fast n other springs, yet with islands in the centre near mouth, hurrying as if in flood, yet shallow, as in summer's days of drought.

Even the birds have been stealthy. Are the ks on their way north yet? Of course there have robins and the other day we thought we heard cker — could this be?

The grass, just emerging from beneath the snow lce, seemed strangely green in spots, even before urday, as if it did not have the decency to wait il it had the winter debris washed from it by the rain before putting on its summer finery.

It has been a strange Spring, or maybe strangeis, like beauty, lie in the eye of the beholder and is a spring like other springs, only different by reason allure to receive its due recognition?

NOT GOOD ENOUGH

Small vessel regulations under the Canada Shipping have been revised. Within the next few weeks ers of pleasure boats will be advised of these ges. The Department of Transport will distribute oklet outlining the regulations.

One of the changes will require that boats towing ty, water sleds or surf boards carry two occupants, to steer the boat and the other to watch the skier. regulations already stipulate that such boats shall endanger navigation, life or limb and that the hours their operation be restricted to those from one hour dawn until one hour before sunrise.

All this may be very well, but we do not think these rules will solve the problem. Eventually norities will have to be aroused to zoning the waters ome of our more popular lakes - - designating certreas for fishermen, others for swimmers, setting an area for speedboats and providing water skiers their own special reserve.

Holiday Cruise To Historic Caribbean

By O. A. MORTON

Having spent a number of winter holidays in Florida and one in Mexico we decided last sutumn that a cruise to some of the islands in the West Indies would make an interesting change. From time to time in recent years more and more publicity has been given to the use of freighter or cargo boats by newspaper and magazine articles. These gave the impression that such voyages had much to offer the public and so it was we eventually booked our passages with the Saguenay Shipping Line of Montreal. For those who might be interested, a short series of articles starts today which we hope will give some idea of what the trip was experienced as such a holiday.

We had the choice of two vessels, one leaving from Halifax about the twenty-second of February the other about March fourth. The latter date was selected because it conformed to return when most of the winter weather was over. The ports of call were listed as Nassau, Santiago in Cuba, Port-au-Prince in Haiti, Kingston in Jamaica and Ciudad Trujillo in Dominican Republic. The trip was to take approximately twenty-five days. Before our departure, a couple changes were made in the itinerary. Cristobal in Panama was substituted for Nassau and Ciudad Trujillo. As we had visited Nassau last year for a few days, the change was not objected to. Saturday, N.B., is the first port of call after Halifax so in order to reduce our time away we travelled there similar period of time in the meantime we stayed at the Admiral Beatty.

SPARED ROUGH START

As it turned out this was all to the good for a storm began Friday afternoon with winds up to 70 miles. Had we left ahead of that during the whole of the first part of the voyage to Cristobal in Panama—a weather was over—we might have had days of travelling.

As expected, the Soviet Union has opposed the proposal, declaring that it would intervene in the internal affairs of member countries. The surprise came, however, on Thursday when Indian delegate joined the Soviet Union in opposition.

India's reasons, however, were very different from Russia's. The Indian delegate, Krishna Menon, said the French proposal would increase the likelihood that would produce "all kinds of difficulties" such as the need to establish refugee camps. Any country which granted asylum, he said, would become involved with neighboring countries and would have to "deal with the U.N. and all that".

His meaning was clear. India is fearful that if asylum were guaranteed, hordes of Chinese and Tibetans might flee across the border into India and thereby produce problems in economics, in espionage, but particularly problems of hostile relations with Red China. India is most careful to maintain the best relations possible with her powerful neighbor to the north.

The reasons for the Indian attitude are quite understandable. The Indian people have suffered practical considerations of self-interest, self-defence. But this position was taken only at the loss of moral righteousness which India so often adopts when discussing the affairs of other countries.

THE PACKSACK
By GREGORY CLARK

One good thing TV is doing in presenting these old, old movies in the late, late shows is to demonstrate the drastic changes that occur, in a mere matter of ten or twenty years, in the wit and humor of our own generation. What passed for real sharp wit in the movies of 1930 falls pitiably flat today. I remember laughing a little at many of the excruciating sallies in the early comedies in which Irene Dunne starred, but now they are drawer picture, revealing what better grade society was like, full of sly banter and witty quips. Man, how they have shrunken in the course of a decade, even in the early forties, bears little if any resemblance to those we gleefully accept as humorous characters today.

There are exceptions, but so few as only to prove the rule. Wit fashion changes more surprisingly than high fashion in humor and wit. The clothes in those old, stylish pictures may cause us old ones to smile ruefully, but the young ones to snicker. But the wit they just don't notice.

Exceptions? Well, such is his taste. But I would go fifty miles to see the old Will Rogers movies in which W. C. Fields appeared, if only as a bit player. I'd travel a hundred miles, on a rainy night, to see one of those inconsequential melodramas in which Bugs Baer, Benchley worked, all by himself.

40 YEARS AGO

April 6th, 1919

The Royal Templars of Belleville Council No. 297, entertained a number of friends from Trenton and Bayside Councils last evening. A short and pleasing program was given by Trenton Council. Short addresses were made by J. O. Herity, Capt. Huston of Belleville; S. Pine, Bayside; Charles Hendry, Trenton and two newly elected members, E. Pringle and W. Davis.

Mr. John McKenna of this city and his daughter, Mrs. R. McCurdy of Consecon, left yesterday to visit friends in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Way of Corbyville spent the week-end with relatives in Peterborough.

Moved pictures will be shown Saturday evening in the boys' department at the Y.M.C.A.

50 YEARS AGO

Rumor says that we are to have a Bay of Quinte Coney Island at the Massassaga Park this summer. Are the glories of the old place coming back?

The work of building the clubhouse at the southwest corner of Victoria Park is progressing satisfactorily. The thirty-five pile have been driven and the first flooring is being laid. Mr. William Alford is the contractor.

Ald. Harry Ackerman is acting mayor in the absence of Mayor Leeson who has left today on a business trip to the west.

Letter To The Editor

Enjoys Reading About Macs' Trip

Editor,
The Intelligencer.

I cannot begin to tell you how much I have enjoyed reading your paper and also following the Macs through their trip.

I live in the same neighborhood and school section as George Carver and enjoyed his writing all the more.

Thanking you again for so much good reading.

Sincerely,
Mrs. M. Sanders

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

LIKES AND DISLIKES

I dislike parades, useless conferences, conventions, jazz, bandwagon politicians, dislike dirty books and plays. I dislike quarrels and those that I often hear said about certain people. I dislike mere noise. I dislike dirt.

I like friends — lots of them. They make life worth while. I like my home and my children. I like to save its beauty. They stimulate interest that we all have. They tolerate our errors. They excuse our mistakes. They forgive our failures. They defend us from our enemies — if we have them.

I love all the seasons, especially Springtime and Autumn. I love the dogwood and the mountain laurel, the pines and white birches, the elms and oaks. I love the fragrance of all flowers. I love the rainy drop of the leaves at Autumn — each leaf a benediction. I love rippling streams and the wash of waters at the seashore. I love the songs of all the birds. I love the call of squirrels at my Nova Scotia island retreat.

I love the white pond lilies and the smell of hemlocks. I love the rising Sun and the glorious sleepiness of the late Sunset. I love the distant flower fields, for they it was put here to emphasize the beauty of the little weeds and buds of the Springtime.

I love the stars, and have built a secret upon the hills at Weskewesak where I might get the earliest and the latest glow from their far-away nests in the sky. There is a message of serenity in their whisper that I love. Every bird call is a message that can be understood. I love life, even its sorrows. Each has its compensations.

Red Ensign Controversy Ten Years

When the Belleville McFarlands defeated the Soviet team in the World Hockey Tournament at Prague, recently, that was not the only Canadian distinction. Side by side with the Red Star in the Czechoslovakian stadium flew the Red Ensign, emphasizing that abroad the Red Ensign is unmistakably recognized and regarded as Canada's flag.

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

TWO WAYS TO TREAT KIDNEY TROUBLE — MEDICALLY AND SURGICALLY

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can a kidney that is removed without removing that organ? Can a kidney be cut into in order to remove a tumor or stone without removing the kidney? — Mrs. J.N."

You want a yes-or-no answer I presume, so the answer is yes. But saying "yes" naturally does not mean that all such cases can be so treated. It depends on the type, and on other conditions.

Kidney troubles can be divided roughly into two groups, those which fall in the surgical field, and those in the medical field. (Obviously some will need both).

So let's review a few of the matters that come up. Nephritis (Bright's disease) is a good example of a medical type of kidney disease. The kidneys, essentially, are filtering devices. Blood moves through them and the impurities are collected and discarded. There are millions of tiny little units. When an infection develops in these, it is obviously impossible to work with them individually. They are too small and too numerous. So medical rather than surgical care is needed. Changes in the kidneys due to hardening of the arteries is another example.

Still another is an infection at the outlet of the kidney (known as the pelvis of the kidney) which often can be successfully treated by pills or other drugs. In such a case, however, it is also necessary to be sure that there is ample drainage, and if a stone, or kink in the ureter, is interfering, surgery may be required.

Now as to the primarily surgical problems, such as cysts and things as cysts, tumors or stones. Cysts may be single or multiple. If it is very large and causing pain because of the pressure it produces, it may best be opened surgically and drained. If it is possible for others to form, but a doctor can't be patient! — always hopes not.)

REMOVAL OF A STONE

Likewise the kidney can be cut into surgically or remove a large stone, especially if it is in the pelvis — and it is quite again that in this discourse "pelvis" means the large end of the ureter, at the outlet of the kidney. Likewise tumors, depending on their location, can be removed without removing the whole kidney.

The decision often depends on the amount of damage that already has been done to the affected kidney. There are tests to show this — they show the amount, or percentage, of effectiveness of the kidney, and thus will indicate how much of the filtering mechanism has been damaged.

To give you an example, suppose one kidney is found to be infected with tuberculosis, which sometimes happens, and is not functioning well. If, at the same time, the other kidney is free of TB and is functioning normally, the diseased kidney may be removed entirely to prevent the good one from acquiring the infection too.

The same sort of determination may be made in the case of a large stone that has severely damaged one kidney. If the other one is normal, the bad one may come out.

Naturally extreme caution is taken in making sure that the remaining kidney is in condition to handle the whole load, but the ultimate fact is that removal of a bad kidney often is life-saving, and patients afterward get along excellently with but one.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is there an effective treatment for a hemorrhoid without delay. There is also danger of obstruction of the blood from the growth itself or scar tissue that would result. — * * *."

Note to Mrs. H.: "Stripping" of varicose vein is nothing to be alarmed about. It doesn't mean removal of all the veins, but only the faulty ones.

Narrow Escape For PEI Cats

Saint John Telegraph-Journal

Prince Edward Island's pet cats can relax their arched backs, cease their angry spitting, and start purring again. The Island legislature has recalled and deleted an already approved section of the new Fish and Game Protection Act which classified them as predators, liable to be shot at sight when off their home reservations.

It was a narrow squeak, however, for the cats. Any game warden, or honorary game warden, including all members of the RCMP and every member of any fish and game association would have been empowered to shoot any cat found on the lands or in the waters of its own premises. All of its traditional nine lives would have been at risk.

Strength for The Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

TOO CLOSE TO PERCEIVE

Thomas Carlyle, son of a humble home maker, was a master of literary eminence in his generation. He opposed the literary forms of his day and adopted a form utterly unique in English literature. He stormed against his generation, calling them fools and blockheads. Many of them struck back at him during his life, but when he died, he was buried throughout the English speaking world.

Everywhere honored — that is, excepting in his own home town! There the people remembered that he was the son of a working man. Surely all this hubbub about Tam Carlyle was just nonsense. Hadn't they known him grow up in the village? Who was he to hold his head so high and believe that he was somebody in the world?

Once Carlyle went back to visit his birthplace, but no one paid much attention to the humble workingman who came up to him and said that he wanted to shake hands with a truly great man. Finally Carlyle's body was taken to his home town for burial. With the newspapers of the entire world giving page-wide tributes about this man's death, the people of Ecclefechen paid no attention whatever to the event. As one man said, "There's not an honest woman in Ecclefechen who would have stuck her head out the window to see 'Tam' Carlyle when he was living; let alone when he was dead."

No prophet is without honor or save in his own country and among his own people."

Says Unions Face Growing Threat Of Tough Laws

WINDSOR (CP) — The trade union movement across Canada is faced with "the growing threat of repressive legislation," says Donald C. MacDonald, Ontario CCF leader.

Adressing a conference on the "New Party in Canada," Mr. MacDonald said Saturday:

"In Newfoundland, Quebec and British Columbia this threat has become a reality . . . . "

Then, referring to the Ontario legislature's select committee report on labor relations, he added: "... The blueprint for the same repressive legislation has already been clearly indicated here in Ontario."

MAY FORM PARTY

The conference was called to study the possibility of the CCF co-operating with the Canadian Labor Congress to form a new political party.

Stanley Knowles, executive vice-president of the CLC, said Newfoundland's Premier Smallwood is the author of the "blackest piece of legislation in Canada in the 20th century." He also blasted Prime Minister Diefenbaker, who, he claimed, "has assured and abetted Smallwood by not doing anything . . . . "

Mr. Knowles was referring to the recent legislation passed by Newfoundland's provincial Liberal government decertifying two locals of the International Woodworkers of America (CLC) following a strike against the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Co.

COMMENTS BAD

Commenting on the select committee report, Mr. MacDonald said: "This report is a mixture of good and bad. The CCF picked three of the good recommendations . . . and submitted them to the House. The government refused to accept them, claiming that it wanted to study the whole report further.

"The real reason of course is that it cannot proceed with some of the good recommendations unless it bows to the dictates of big business and implements some of the bad recommendations. But that would raise a storm in the trade union movement—so the whole matter will be left until the election is over."

In an interview after addressing the forum, Mr. MacDonald predicted his party will pick up more than its present three seats in the next provincial election. "Ontario's political climate is so uncertain that the Conservative party could be swept out of power in the same manner the federal Liberals were defeated two years ago."

Commenting briefly on the recent declines of provincial cabinet ministers in natural gas stocks, Mr. MacDonald said: "A few more heads will fall when all the facts are known of the gas scandal. Further investigations will show high elected officials in municipal, provincial and federal offices were given tips and made money on stock."

Present at the civic service celebrating the 75th anniversary of the Belleville Citadel of the Salvation Army on Saturday were (left to right), Major Victor Greenwood, commanding officer of the Citadel; Elmer Sandercock, MPP for Hastings West; Bandmaster B. Allington of the Hamilton Citadel Band; Brigadier Stanley Gennery, commanding officer of the Mid-Ontario Division Headquarters; Sr. Major Arnold Brown, national publicity representative; and Alderman Effie McCabe.

Salvation Army Celebrates Seventy-Five Years' Service With Special Meetings, Music

The past weekend was one of celebration and rededication for the 75 years of service and the future work, respectively, of the Salvation Army in Belleville. There were over 150 "workers" of the "Army" present for the activities. Hamilton, Cobourg, Picton, Kingston, Trenton, Whitby, Tweed and Bowmanville corps were all well represented.

The two-day program started Saturday afternoon with open air meetings which the "Army" is well noted for, held throughout the city. There was a massed parade of all those gathered along Front and Pinnacle streets followed by an open air civic service held on the lawn of the county court building. Several prominent local citizens attended this meeting including His Worship Mayor Gerald Hyde, Alderman Effie McCabe and Elmer Sandercock, M.P.P. This service, held in front of the massed bands which were arranged row upon row along the hillside, attracted a lot of local people who stopped to listen and watch.

Sr. Major Arnold Brown, national publicity representative for the Salvation Army, gave a short talk following the presentation of a book, "What Hath God Wrought," to Mayor Hyde, on behalf of Commissioner Booth. The Major is a former Bellevillian who entered the service of the Salvation Army at the Belleville Citadel in 1934. He also served as a field officer with the Toronto corps prior to his appointment to the editorial staff of the War Cry and thence to his present post.

Following a supper at the Kiwanis Centre for those attending the anniversary services, there was a music festival in the Belleville Collegiate auditorium. The Hamilton Citadel Band, renowned as a fine musical group, gave evidence of its reputation with a number of selections including the band song, "Were You There?"

Sunday's schedule started off with open air meetings in the early part of the morning, followed by a Holiness meeting at the Citadel on Pinnacle Street. Following the mid-day meal there was another concert by the Hamilton Citadel Band in the Belleville Citadel. The chorus "Glory To God" by Handel was one of the musical highlights of this program.

More open air meetings were held along Front Street in the early portion of the evening as those assembled took up their familiar task of spreading the Lord's Word. The day's activities concluded with a Salvation meeting in the Citadel.

This evening the members of the local corps will conclude their anniversary activities with a "birthday supper" at the Citadel.

Suspend Editor Of College Paper

VANCOUVER (CP)—Editor Al Forrest has been suspended from the University of British Columbia by the executive council for the publication of a "goon" edition of the student newspaper Ubyssey, described earlier as "sacrilegious and disgusting."

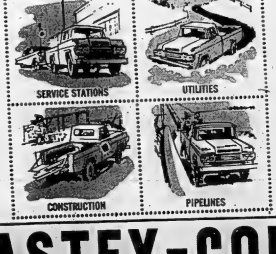
Also suspended Saturday was Rupert Buchanan, a former editor-in-chief.

The suspension will be effective until Forrest makes a public apology to the student council and the university as a whole.

It was not known why Buchanan was suspended.

Neither took part in publishing the edition, which satirized Easter in three pictures and captions, but Forrest said Thursday he would be responsible for the entire newspaper staff.

MERCURY 4-WHEEL DRIVE TRUCKS ARE HERE!



Canada's lowest-priced ½ ton 4-wheel drive models

New Mercury 4-Wheel drive trucks are now here to bring new traction, new might, new savings to rugged off-the-road jobs. Because they're made in Canada, they're the country's lowest-priced ½-ton 4-wheel drive trucks. And savings continue on the job. Canada's most economical Six actually averages 25.2% more miles per gallon than other makes as proved in U.S. tests. You also get Mercury Trucks' bigger loadspace—up to 23% bigger in the Styleside Pickup.

New Mercury 4-Wheel Drive Trucks are built from the ground up to move ½ or ¾-ton payloads where conventional 2-wheel drive trucks bog down. They master sand, snow and gravel—conquer 60% grades easily. And on off-the-road jobs, you can shift easily and smoothly from two-wheel high gear to four-wheel high gear without stopping or clutching.

See your Mercury Truck dealer soon. He'll show you how these versatile haulers, Six or V-8, will save on your toughest off-the-road jobs.

Certain features illustrated or mentioned are standard on some models, optional at extra cost on others.

Quinte S. S. H-S to Hold Rural Roundup

After months of planning, the program for Rural Roundup Night has been finalized. It will be bigger and better and fun for the entire family.

Mr. Bill Workman, recreational director of Trenton, who is well known in the area for his ability to help people have fun, will be master of ceremonies, and also the caller for the square dances. Music for round and square dancing will be supplied by the Blue Stars orchestra.

The program will feature Norman Wilcox, his guitar and songs; Al Richard, Bruce Jarva, superb showmen of Quinte Secondary School, assisted by Donna Weeks and Bob Sawyer, and Hastings County's own Miss Kay Homan and many of her Junior Farmer friends.

Tablets will be set for euchre and bridge, and for the juniors members of the family games will be provided.

There will be many prizes supplied through the courtesy of the Home and School executive at Quinte.

This is family frolic time at Quinte; the gate is to be open at 8; Friday, April 10th, 8.30 p.m. to 1 a.m., and the admission is only 50c. Refreshments will be on sale, so leave your cares at home and join us. This is open to the public and everybody is welcome.

Club Activities

Milltown Birthday Club met at the home of Ruby Kilpatrick recently.

Euchre was enjoyed and the winners were as follows: 1st — Lillian Bennett; 2nd — Annie Houston; consolation — Ruby Kilpatrick; lone hand — Olive Vance.

The hostess served refreshments, all present enjoyed the evening.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Annie Houston.

Local Nursing Registry Holds Annual Meeting, Elects Slate

Belleville Community Nursing Registry held its annual meeting recently in the Ritchie Memorial Nurses' Residence. There was a good attendance of private duty nurses, representing many schools of nursing and members of the board of directors.

Mrs. Doris Howie, president, extended a warm welcome to all and introduced the new members present. She reviewed briefly the "Institute on Registries" convention held in Toronto, stating that a tape recording of proceedings would be sent here for use later. A summary of the year's executive meetings and report of the last annual meeting were read by Miss E. Linscott, secretary.

PRESENT REPORTS

Mrs. Alice Thurston presented the treasurer's report, showing a small balance at the end of the year. Report of the finance committee was given by Mrs. E. Barclay, convenor. In the absence of Mrs. M. Newman, who has resigned to take a position on the hospital staff, Mrs. V. Doolittle gave the educational committee report.

The educational program consisted of series of lectures commencing in March, 1958. The lecturers were Doctors H. Newman and R. Billings, Kingston, Ont., and Doctors R. Bateman and K. Douglas of Belleville. Much interest was shown in these meetings with large attendance of active and non-active nurses present each week. The lecture material is a worthwhile refresher course, thus assuring the public of nurses who are well qualified to care for their many illnesses.

Mrs. Jay Campbell, director, presented the "Registry" report, showing a increase with 47 private duty nurses, and one practical nurse. There were 1,588 calls for private duty, and 1,408 days of staff duty supplied by the Registry to the local hospital.

Mrs. Campbell extended her thanks to the Registry membership for their spirit of service, and faithfulness in responding to the calls received.

Miss Doris Smith, director of nursing, Belleville General Hospital, spoke in appreciation of the local Community Nursing Registry, for their co-operation and prompt service in supplying general duty staff nurses to the hospital, thus relieving efficient nursing service to the sick at all times.

Mrs. Thurston extended a sincere "thank-you" to the directors, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Morton, and the retiring members of the board of directors, who had given many years of faithful service in the interests of the public in this important community health organization.

Alderman Ellis McCabe presented a cheque from an interested citizen to help in the Registry financing.

Mrs. J. Prentice, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following slate of officers for 1959:

Honorary chairman, Miss Dorothy Smith, Mrs. D. Connor; Belleville General Hospital, Miss M. Smith, Mrs. J. Campbell, Mrs. D. Howie, rep. from Medical Society; educational, Miss J. Churchill, Miss E. McKnight, Mrs. J. McDonnell; public relations, Mrs. V. Morton and Mrs. E. McCabe; nominating, Miss R. Windsor and Mrs. J. Prentice.

Board of directors are: public health, Miss Roman; Victorian Order of Nurses, Miss D. Connor; Belleville General Hospital, Miss S. Box; medical staff BGH, to be appointed. Women's Hospital Auxiliary, Mrs. B. Burley and municipal officer, Mrs. E. McCabe.

A pleasant half hour was spent following adjournment of the meeting.

The Belleville Community Nursing Registry can be reached daily by telephoning Woodland 6-7210.

A 24-hour duty service is maintained for: placement of private duty nurses; request for practical nurses; answering service for Victorian Order of Nurses, and answering service for Canadian Arthritic and Rheumatic Society.

Albert College Women's Guild Holds Annual Dessert-Bridge

A dessert-bridge, an annual affair sponsored by the Albert College Women's Guild, was held this past week in beautiful Ackerman Hall at Albert College.

The long tables were splendid with beautiful baskets of yellow mums and snapdragons and school colors of black, green and gold, all were set off with the Guild members' favorite desserts.

During the afternoon slides were shown by Mr. Franklin for the non-bridge players.

Bridge prizes were awarded as follows: first prize, Mrs. B. Bastedo, Stirling; second prize, Mrs. Fred Roland. Lucky prizes went to Mrs. J. W. Lawrence and Mrs. J. Sneisinger was awarded one of the beautiful baskets of flowers.

A basket of flowers was sent to Mrs. C. L. Hyde, president of the Guild, who was ill.

Mrs. W. B. Stukis, past president of the Guild, and Mrs. Taylor Franklin, welcomed the guests.

Mrs. Earl Hickey, vice-president, and Mrs. J. Fred Wilson, convened the event. They were assisted by the following; the treasurer, Mrs. S. J. Hibbard; the secretary, Miss Irma Panter; the members of the social committee, Mrs. F. W. Moon, Mrs. E. W. Phair, Mrs. H. B. Fetterley, Mrs. J. G. Little and Miss F. Down. Mrs. Taylor Franklin assisted with tallies and rules and Mrs. T. C. McMullen was in charge of table and flower arrangements. Tallies and a draw prize were given courtesy of Laidlaw's Drug Store.

Many thanks are also extended to all the members of the Guild and to the staff of Albert College who so kindly helped to make a success of the afternoon despite inclement weather and widespread illness.

Christ Church Chi Rho Elects Slate

Wednesday evening marked the election of officers for the Christ Church branch, Chi Rho Young Adults fellowship.

The following were elected to executive position of the group for the '59-'60 term: President, H. W. Cavalier; vice-president, Allan Gardiner; treasurer, Marion Bailey; secretary, Ted Warwick.

The Chi Rho fellowship, especially designed to interest young adults of approximately 23 years and over, both married and single, has toted its membership to 33 local persons in only two months existence in Christ Church.

The aim of the organization is to be a fellowship in which young adults may grow in relationship to each other, in service and responsibility to the church, and in relationship to Jesus Christ.

While the movement is under the direction of the Anglican Church in Canada, it welcomes all members of the community it serves and there is no distinction made between Anglicans and associate members.

The group is engaged in the preparation of a parish dance and social evening which will take place on Wednesday, April 15th at 8 p.m. in the church's lounge, new auditorium on Coleman St. The program will feature round and square dancing, refreshments, cards, and presentations of door prizes, donated by local merchants for the affair. All are welcome. Tickets will be on sale at the door on the 15th.

S. H. Knowles To Speak Here

Mr. Stanley Knowles, B.A., B.D., will address the annual meeting of the Women's Canadian Club this evening in Tabernacle United Church hall on "The Problems and Point of View of Canadian Labor".

Following his graduation from the University of Manitoba, he prepared for the ministry at United College.

He served two years in municipal office in Winnipeg and later, on provincial level, as secretary and chairman of the C.C.F. party in Manitoba.

In 1954 Mr. Knowles became national vice-president of his party and was elected as deputy leader in the House of Commons. He was a member of the Canadian delegation to the first session of the U.N. General Assembly in 1946.

Mr. Knowles was elected to his present position as executive vice-president of the Canadian Labor Congress. He represents the C.L.C. on the board of governors of the Institute of Public Affairs and on the national executive of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs.

He will outline the viewpoint of labor as well as show the critical contribution labor can make to the Canadian economy.

Church Group Addressed By Mrs. D. Taylor

The regular monthly meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies of St. Andrew's Church was held at Farley Avenue, Sunday School.

Mrs. R. Brain introduced the speaker for the evening, Mrs. V. Deeton Taylor, chairman of the Building Campaign Committee for the new proposed Deaconess Training School in Toronto. Her interesting topic was "Education of Instincts in the Presbyterian Church in Canada".

The Deaconess Training School founded in 1897 was originally intended for overseas missionary work. In 1908 it was enlarged to include the Designation for the Order of Deaconesses Students from coast to coast which consist of teachers, graduate nurses and university graduates enroll and train in this building, which includes missionary work in Canada as well as overseas.

The present house is most inadequate and quite overcrowded, the speaker said. The campaign which was officially opened on March 1st, 1959 has an objective of $400,000 for a new building. Tremendous interest in this building campaign is shown in the Presbyterian Churches from the tiny hamlets to the big cities throughout Canada. We should be interested in the Christian Education of our church as it is a nature of concern to each one of us, she concluded.

Plans were made for the spring tea in May and also to cater to another birthday party as the first one was most enjoyable.

The group welcomed three new members: Mrs. J. Brownlee, Mrs. M. Duesbury and Miss A. Logan.

Scripture was read by Mrs. M. Turnbull. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Fullerton.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Beare Celebrate Diamond Wedding

Congratulations from the Queen, from Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and personal good wishes from a host of Belleville and district friends were received Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. George F. Beare, 82 Pine Street, as they were "at home" on the occasion of their diamond wedding anniversary.

In addition the happy couple received congratulatory messages from Mayor Gerald R. Hyde, from Lee Grills, MP, and from Elmer W. Sandercock, M.L.A.

Born in England, Mr. and Mrs. Beare were married just before the turn of the century in Hereford, and came to Canada in 1907. After two years in the Queen City they moved to Belleville and have since lived here. Mrs. Beare is the former Elizabeth Ballinger. Mr. Beare is 84 and his bride of 60 years is 82.

Yesterday the Beare home was a profusion of flowers received in honor of the occasion. Also the couple were the recipients of many gifts from members of the immediate family and from friends.

Mr. Beare is a former boilermaker with the Canadian National Railways at the Belleville shops and during his brief residence in Toronto worked for the John Inglis Company.

They are members of Christ Church and formerly took an active part in the work of the church.

Family members were all home for their parents' 60th anniversary. They are Mrs. Thomas (Gwen) Ford, Sarnia; William Beare, Belleville; Mrs. William (Kate) Cook of Belleville; Jack Beare of Tweed, and Dick Beare of Belleville. There are nine grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Two of Mrs. Beare's sisters, Mrs. J. Anderson, of Toronto, and Mrs. William Parry of Belleville, were present for the occasion. The couple also received a congratulatory cable from Mrs. Beare's brother, William, in England.

Lovely Lines

By ALICE ALDEN

The success of the season is the hat of fine felt, devoid of trimming, but so expertly manipulated that it outshines the trimmed hat. William J., a firm exponent of this type of hat, uses feather-weight felt in pastel tones for this cloche. A tiny brim turns up archly in back to point up the fluid lines. Such a hat is perfect for sports clothes or casual suits and coats.

Asparagus — Sign of Spring

by Mary Moore

Weather-conscious Canadians have a pathetic bedraggled air this spring and are doing anything to coax spring into action.

My neighbor and I were out with axes making a channel between curb and ice for the melted snow to flow. I gingerly lifted the leaves and straw from the tulip beds and behold have 3" and 3" tips showing!

I saw two robins.

Dinner Menu

by Mary Moore

MONDAY

Mixed Vegetable Juices; Grilled Shoulder Lamb Chops; Grape Jelly; Spanish Rice; Broccoli au Gratin; Onions; Raisin Tarts with Ice Cream; Coffee.

For 35 cents I bought a beautiful pound bundle of asparagus and, like my robins, the lovely flavor as a harbinger of spring.

BOILED ASPARAGUS

After cutting off woody end I peeled the stalks for about 2". I tied them tips up in leg of double boiler (because it is tall and narrow) added 1 cup boiling water, inverted bottom of double boiler over protruding tips and boiled them nearly 12 minutes. I drained these and served them in a hot vegetable dish and passed hot melted butter.

Note: The white sauce given in Asparagus Casserole (see below) could be made as is, or of all milk and grated cheese (the "whis" or process type), could be added or chopped hard cooked egg, especially if the asparagus is to be served as a main luncheon dish.

MARION FARNAN'S ASPARAGUS CASSEROLE

One-pound bunch of fresh asparagus trimmed and cut into 1" pieces and parboiled 7 minutes to half cook it; 2 cups medium white sauce made by melting together 4 tablespoons each butter and flour and when blended stirring in 1 cup each rich milk and asparagus water until thick. Add 1 teaspoon salt, and the drained partially cooked asparagus. Cut bread into small dice until you have 2 cups. Lightly brown and toast these bread cubes in frying pan in 3 tablespoons butter, stirring. Arrange creamed asparagus and bread cubes in casserole in alternate layers starting with asparagus and ending with the bread cubes. Cover top with about ¾ cup grated old Cheddar cheese. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. about 30 minutes or until golden and bubbly.

ASPARAGUS SIDE SALAD

One cup raw tender asparagus, cut in ¼" diagonal slices, 2 to 3 tablespoons French dressing, 2 to 4 small lettuce cups. Break off tough ends from asparagus, remove scales and wash stalks thoroughly. Cut tips into ½" pieces, pour French dressing over asparagus and toss well. Chill thoroughly. Pile asparagus in lettuce cups.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

SHE HAS A SUPER-SECRETIVE SISTER-IN-LAW

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Will you please tell me if I was correct or incorrect in the following incident? My husband's sister is a very reticent woman, dislikes discussing family doings, and keeps many things, even important happenings, to herself. Last week I received an announcement-card from her daughter, who lives in the Midwest, announcing the birth of a son. I did not say anything to my sister-in-law about receiving the birth-announcement, as I figured it was her place to tell me first, if she wished to tell me.

Was I correct in waiting for her to tell me? She did not mention a thing to me about it until this morning, when I telephoned to her and, during our chat, mentioned that a very dear friend of mine had a baby on Valentine's Day and that I had received a birth-announcement card. She started to berate me and said I knew of her daughter's baby's birth, since she too received a birth-announcement card.

But I still didn't mention to her the fact that I had received it (even As a matter of fact, she had not even mentioned to me that her daughter was going to have a baby, and when I received the announcement-card the whole thing came as a complete surprise. What is your point of view about what I did?

— Reader

It is extremely difficult to know just how to deal with a super-secretive person, particularly one who, like your sister-in-law, goes to such lengths to keep news to herself. Since she has apparently made it so obvious to you that she "dislikes discussing family doings," I think you were very wise indeed not to tell her that you had received the birth-announcement from her daughter.

Since she, even though she is such a close connection as your husband's sister, is so persistently silent about family news, I believe you should follow her cue and be just as silent about family news as she is. Chat with her pleasantly and intriguingly about other news, impersonal news.

HOW MOTHER SIGNS LETTER TO TEACHER

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Please tell me the correct way for me (mother) to sign the notes or excuses for absences I write to my youngster's teacher. I seem to be confused about this. Thank you for your advice.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Mary Reid

I see that you are confused as to your correct signature to these notes . . . because you signed your note incorrectly. Never should you sign a letter of any kind with the title before your name: never Mrs. Mary Reid, if've changed your name, but not the form you signed.)

Begin the note or letter to your child's teacher like this:

Dear Miss Richardson.

And sign it (as you should have signed your letter to me):

Sincerely yours,
Mary Reid
(Mrs. Charles Reid)

Instead of signing "Mary Reid," you may also correctly sign "Mary Smith Reid or Mary S. Reid" . . . but not any one of these with the "Mrs." before the name.

Neat Nightie

By VERA WINSTON

A dacron and batiste blend is used for a little waltz - length nightie that should be coolly comfortable during warm weather and, of course, a cinch to launder. It comes in white or in a nosegay print with solid color bands. The white gown has pastel bands embroidered in white and lace trim at the old-fashioned neckline and hem.

BRIDAL ATTENDANT PAYS FOR OWN COSTUME

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

A dear friend of mine has asked me to be a bridesmaid in her wedding in June. She told me she'd let me know very soon about the dresses we are to wear, but she didn't mention if she pays for them. I've never been a wedding attendant before, but my cousin, who has been in two bridal parties, tells me I am expected to pay for my dress and for all the accessories of my costume. True? — L. B.

True. Each bridal attendant pays for her own costume, although every detail of the costume is chosen by the bride-to-be. The only accessory supplied by the bride's family is the attendant's bouquet.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Kirk J. — Marian has an obsession about her age.

Marian J. — It isn't simple for a woman in my position.

Kirk J. — My wife and I have been married 20 years and have two teenaged children.

Our marriage has been very happy until recently when Marian started getting an obsession about her age. It happens that she is six years older than I am, but it never made the slightest difference to me. She'll always be young and beautiful in my eyes and I tell her so a couple of hundred times a week.

All my reassurances don't seem to do the least good. I tell her she is making more wrinkles by worrying about each one that comes. I have never been interested in any other woman so I can't understand why she should carry on like this.

* * *

Marian J.— I realize that it's silly but I just can't help myself. Until recently, Kirk and I looked about the same age. But suddenly I realize that I am beginning to look every bit of my age, which is 50. At 44, Kirk still looks under 40. Any woman would find that hard to take.

It's all very easy for Kirk and others to talk about growing old gracefully, but it certainly isn't so simple for a woman in my position. I try to dress youthfully and to keep my figure, but there are some signs of age you can't escape no matter what you do.

No outsiders, not even the children, know about our age difference, but I am sure everybody wonders why I look so much older than Kirk.

The Council: We'll wager a few of our own gray hairs that it is attitude, not age that is showing in Marian's face.

In our society, a healthy woman of 50 who takes an interest in her appearance must look pretty good — unless her expression is one of fear and discontent. Unfortunately, this society that provides us with so much ease and comfort also provides us with some attitudes that make life exceedingly difficult at times. One of these attitudes is that maturity is not desirable or attractive in a woman.

Gray hairs and wrinkles are thought to make a man distinguished, but supposedly they make an old hag of a woman. Even on the movie screen, the romantic hero may show his wrinkles and the bags under his eyes, but the heroine mustn't have a trace of a crow's foot — even if the actress is known to be middle-aged.

Of course, the problem is made harder for Marian by a younger husband. Perhaps it would help her to realize that her position is not as unique as she probably thinks. Many women marry younger men and, like her, guard the secret closely because society stresses youthfulness as a woman's most desirable characteristic.

It is obvious that Kirk's reassurances just aren't enough to help Marian through her maze. The solution, we believe, lies in an entirely different direction. Marian must find out that she is useful, interesting and desirable person, no matter what her appearance.

Marian will have to choose her own road. A job, volunteer work, study are all good possibilities. When she becomes thoroughly engrossed in one or more of these, she will forget her appearance — unless she happens to notice a lively, smiling face in the mirror.

Newfoundland Loggers Begin Getting Wood to Streams by Horses and Tractor Trains

By CHARLES BRUCE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BADGER, Nfld. (CP)—Deep in the woods across the Exploits River the boys from Tack's Beach are getting the wood to the streams.

Now while the snow lasts, horses and tractor - trains haul the cut to the banks or the snowface of the ice from the woods around Pope's camp. With the break-up it will be driven down West Brook, boomed across West Lake to the Sandy River, and driven on down the Exploits to the giant millpond at Grand Falls.

The haul to the streams from the scattered piles of "cuts" left by the cutters may be a mile or more. In the drive the wood may travel 30 miles of water.

BUSY CAMPS

Pope's camp is one of 12 new operations in the Badger division of the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company's limits in central Newfoundland. Each camp houses from 30 to 40 men. In each of the other divisions, Bishop's Falls, Millerton and Terra Nova, the handicuff process is with variations. Bishop's Falls, for instance, is downstream from the Grand Falls mill. The wood is hauled or driven to the river bank and trucked from there. From Terra Nova, 100 miles east, it comes by rail.

Enough, all told, to keep the mill rolling out its 700 to 800 tons of newsprint a day.

Why the boys from Tack's Beach?

Tack's Beach is a fishing settlement on King's Island in Placentia Bay on Newfoundland's south coast, far from the timber limits.

Early in March a score of young men in that area wired the company, looking for work. They were told to come along. Twenty hours on the train and they were here.

EARNS $18 A DAY

One of them, Cecil Williams, watched Hubert Bennett swing his caterpillar to spot a sled at a brow, and said he figured he was making $18 a day in his first month of logging. He hoped the job would last till June. Another of this six-man crew is Lewis Heath from Springdale, 40-odd miles north of Badger. Both approaching 18, they are the youngsters of the crew.

Together with Joseph Oake of Lushes Bight in Notre Dame Bay, a long - time logger, and Lloyd Elliott of Twillingate, who worked last year at Gander airport, they load the sleds of Bennett's tractor-train. Bennett has been driving for the company for 15 years. His helper, called a brakesman, is Max Elliott, brother of Lloyd.

All pay $3 a month, while they work, as members of the Newfoundland Brotherhood of Woodworkers, the union Premier Smallwood called into being to displace the International Woodworkers of America in Newfoundland.

The make-up of this particular crew illustrates a point at issue in the strike called by IWA against A.N.D. last Dec. 31. IWA's opponents claim the big international union seeks to form a corps of 5,000 or so professional loggers and cut off work from the fishermen and casual laborers who depend on logging part of the year.

Whatever the facts on that, the boys from Tack's Beach and scores of other settlements around the coast are in the woods, grouped with regulars for whom logging is a full-time or nearly full-time job. Cecil Williams with his $18 a day—he pays $1.65 board—is one of an obviously happy crew.

Pay rates are complicated. Company officials say that the general labor rate, which was $10.50 for a 10-hour day before the strike, and is $11 under the agreement with NNSW, applies to less than 10 per cent of its men. Cutting is piecework. Before the strike the average rate listed was $7.13 a cord, and the average wage earned by cutters using power saws was given as $14.43 a day. The rate went to $7.52 a cord under the new agreement. Power saws, owned and maintained by the cutters, have largely displaced the buck-saw.

Hauling also is piecework. A three-sled tractor-train gets seven or eight cords to the stream each trip, and makes four or five trips a day. The lump sum earned by the crew is split among them.

John Green, another Tack's Beach boy attached to another crew, said he was making $17, and that the average would be $15, or $16. Melvin Hillier, 18, driving a horse-sled, figured he was making about $12. Melvin comes from Windsor, near Grand Falls. It's his first experience with horses.

Horses, incidentally, are still a big part of the woods operation in Newfoundland, used on short hauls or where tractors can't go. A.N.D. has 37 of them in the Badger division, along with 30-odd tractors.

Between them, horses and tractors and 1,200 men, they get to the streams in the 40-day hauling season about 330,000 cords of wood felled through the previous summer and fall—enough to produce the 250,000 tons of newsprint produced each year by A.N.D.

Bowaters, the other giant of Newfoundland's newsprint industry, turns out, at capacity, another 330,000 tons.

Umbrella Bank Faces First Test

NEW YORK (AP) — The Long Island Railroad's umbrella bank has survived its first rainy day.

The bank is a scheme devised by an employee. He took the umbrellas left on trains and put them in bright containers for commuters to borrow on rainy days, and return on their honor.

Thursday's drizzle led to a run on the bank, and all 85 umbrellas were taken. By noon Friday, 49 were back.

Whether or not the bank will remain in business will depend upon the honesty of borrowers, the number of absent - minded passengers who continue to leave their own umbrellas on trains and forget to claim them, and the number of rainy days.

DROVE ON NERVE

GUELPH (CP) — John Brown Friday was sentenced to 30 days in jail because he couldn't pay a $50 fine for driving an unsafe auto which he hadn't the money to fix. Police said the car had a loose steering, bald tires, no emergency brake, a foot brake that was "just there," a transmission stuck in low gear, no door handles, no window glass and no stop lights.

Pirates Have Speed, Finesse But Lack a Knockout Punch

By JACK HAND

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)— ember Pittsburgh's Billy Cox, the only roster who al- ost beat Joe Louis? Pittsburgh rates are built along the sane . They have the speed, dan- and finesse to win on potato on the sluggers but they'll ver knock out anybody in the ional.

The youthful Pirates are tail- ed for the vast acres of Forbes Field where outfielders have a chance to catch long fly balls. And where every pitcher's ame lake does not cost him a home run.

The defence is sound but the Pirates often need three hits and a walk to get a run.

MANAGER OF YEAR

Danny Murtaugh was named manager of the year in 1958 after leading the Pirates from a last place tie to second money. He believes the team that Branch Rickey built finally has come of age.

"The turning point came after the all-star game last July," he said. "We stopped making those little mistakes that a young club makes."

Murtaugh is painfully aware of the club's lack of punch. He figured he needed a lefthanded pitcher (Harvey Haddix), tighter defence at third (Don Hoak) and a hitting catcher (Smoky Burgess) more than he needed Frank Thomas' 35 homers and 109 RBIs. That was why the Pirates made the deal with Cincinnati.

"The power has to come from first base," he said. "We should get 25 or 30 home runs from that position." Dick Stuart (.268 and 16 homers in half a season) is the likely starter although 24-year-old Ted Kluszewski (.292) appears sound again. A third candidate is Rocky Nelson (.326 at Toronto), the perennial minor league champion.

Bill Mazeroski (.215 and 19 homers) is touted by Murtaugh as a future hall of famer. He is the second baseman. Dick Groat (.301), a castly underrated shortstop, and Hoak (.261 at Cincinnati) round out the infield.

Bob Skinner (.321) is in left, Bill Virdon (.267) in centre and Roberto Clemente (.289) in right. Virdon and Clemente are as fast as any outfielders in baseball.

Hank Foiles (.205), a right-handed batter, probably will split the catching with Burgess (.283 at Cincinnati).

Bob Friend (22-14) is the big man of the pitching staff. Ronnie Kline (13-15), Vern Law (14-12), George Witt (9-2) and Haddix (6-7 at Cincinnati) are the starters.

So Doubleday Stole It From Russia!

MOSCOW (AP) — Well, perhaps it was bound to come out, but now we know how baseball started. The Russians say it grew out of the ancient Russian game of lapta.

The magazine Little Light, a weekly pictorial, said lapta was carried to the United States and Canada by emigrants in the 18th and 19th centuries, where it became the forerunner of baseball.

Lapta is played with a ball and bat and players on opposing sides. That is the main similarity with baseball.

The players line up on opposite sides of the field. One side hits the ball toward the other, and the player tries to reach the other side and return before being touched out by the ball recovered by the opposing team

O.A.S.A. Names Don Lee First Vice

PRESTON, Ont. (CP) — Of 11 by-law amendments introduced at the annual meeting of the Ontario Amateur Softball Association Saturday, only one was carried. Another was withdrawn.

The lone amendment approved was the executive's recommendation that all semi-final and final games do not have to be handled by neutral umpires.

Delegates turned a complete about-face when it came to balloting on playing rule amendments by passing seven of eight, but none resulted in any major change. Peterborough's proposal to deny hit batsmen a free ticket to first base was the lone amendment defeated.

Northland Fastball Association's attempts to gain three player replacements and a direct bye into the provincial playoff finals were turned down.

W. C. Perkin of Simcoe was installed as president, succeeding Roger F. Stewart of Grimsby Beach.

Don Lee of Belleville, Art Roy of Windsor and A. K. Davidson of Stratford were elected vice-presidents. L. G. Pickard and W. L. Alquire of St. Catharines were re-elected by acclamation as secretary and treasurer respectively. Auditors H. K. Champion of Hannon and D. Leether of Peterborough were re-elected.

Executive directors elected include H. F. Dormer, Peterborough; D. H. Flynn, Hamilton; H. E. Dodds, Chatham and Stan Reeve, Sarnia, with three more to be appointed later this week.

The 1960 convention will be held April 1, 2 and 3 in Woodstock.

BALL LEAFS SHOW LOSS

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Baseball League had a $37,683 net loss for the year ended Oct. 31, 1958, president Jack Kent Cooke said in the club's annual report.

Racing Season Away to Good Start

FORT ERIE (CP)—The Canadian racing season got away to a promising start Saturday as an opening-day attendance record of 14,125 was established at Fort Erie Jockey Club—The previous mark of 14,000 was set April 14, 1956.

Canada's champion jockey, Ilpboso Coy, was injured slightly in a freak accident at the starting gate before the featured inaugural purse for Canadian-bred three-year-olds.

Coy was riding Menfiora, in the No. 1 post position. The No. 2 horse, Toujours, suddenly lunged over the side of his stall and one of his feet struck Coy in the back. Coy tumbled over the front doors of the gate but, after a rest of three minutes, remounted and finished last, after setting the early pace.

Here's Truck Design that makes good sense!

Functional Styling!

Costs less to keep like new. Practical truck operators know that 'fancy' styling just doesn't pay. Exaggerated body lines, complicated grilles and 'flashy' chrome trim add nothing to a truck's performance—but they can add a lot to repair and maintenance expense.

Isn't it passing strange that the Whitby Dunlops - Kitchener Dutchmen have played three games of their best-of-seven all-Ontario finals and the metropolitan scribes and other Toronto experts have yet to mention "Leafs" once?

For the Dunlops have three or four venerable players who kicked the slats out of their cribs about the same time as the "greybeards" who helped the McFarlands win the world title.

Sid Smith, Bobby Hassard, Long John Henderson and Pete Babando, who, incidentally have been rating stardom in the current hassle with Lex Taylor's knock-eating Dutchies, have been casting votes for a period of time greater than some of them care to mention.

However, there is lots of time. That pore of the seers, one Ken Farmer, blurpis of the hale-wearing "amateurs" hasn't come forth with his nickelsworth yet. It could be he is concocting an adjective compliment other than "tired" since his beeper rating reached an all-time low after what the Maze did following his statement "Canada can't expect much from the McFarlands.

Mayhap he has learned a lesson. He probably won't go off half-cocked again because if he does he will be greeted with a shot-gun blast from the Dunsley big-range gun, Wren Blair, who doesn't daily when on the firing range but pulls both triggers at the same time.

However, that can wait. The point at the moment is the boys who put their hard-earned lettuce on the Dunsley to take the all-Ontario series four straight (and there were quite a few of them, eh, Cliff), parted with their fadding money Saturday night after the Dutchmen cut loose their windmills and set the former world champions back on their haunches.

However, Dunnie fans are not unduly alarmed. One swallow doesn't make a spring, nor does one setback mean a series. They recall the Dutchmen took the Eastern league "upstarts" to seven games before they said "uncle" two years ago. That could happen again. In fact Len (Kitchener Record) Taylor has forecast the series will go seven and possibly eight games before taps sound.

While this department believes the Dunnies will take the series, it does so far as to predict they will win the Allan Cup this season. It was foolhardiness to say they would sweep the Kitchener series four straight. The Maze is a veteran and no slouch. They have a well-balanced, hard-playing squad who has the advantage in youth over the Whitby veterans.

The Dunlops have had their warning. These Dutchmen are bastiling for keeps and the Blairmen will have to go all out from here in to cop the all-Ontario goofalos.

A HOT "STOREY"

That was a hot "storey" that came out of Chicago Saturday night. All that was needed was a figurative Mrs. Leary's cow to kick over a lantern, and a riotous fire would have resulted.

As it was it nearly happened. From the safety of the press box at Wednesday fifty-yard line seat, we expected something to explode when that fan ran out on the ice and gave Red Storey 'a miniature shower bath. Beer cans, bottles, programs, a deck of cards, a fish or two and other assorted forms of debris littered the ice and held up the game for some fifteen minutes.

Nineteen thousand roused fans chanted "We want Storey," and the situation looked anything like a peace meeting for a minute or so. The fans charged Montreal players tripped Hawk defenders on two occasions when Hab goals were scored. The players were dumped all right but whether intentionally or not we could not tell from our living room bleachers.

There was a bit ofr diversion, too, in the Leafs Boston game. Some fan wag tossed a giant firecracker on the ice and stopped the game. A cloud of smoke rose after the explosion — and the culprit was eventually located and ousted. There was the sound of a dull thud and at first, after seeing the smoke, we thought it was the backfiring of Imlah's prediction the Leafs would take the series in six games.

The amazing comebacks of the Leafs in their drive for a play-off berth, and later the Stanley Cup rated the headlines. But Punch, who hates publicity like Khrushchev does vodka, wasn't going to be out-publicized by his up-and-coming youngsters. So he developed a haunch-from-Punch system. He "hunched" the Leafs would win a play-off spot and go on to defeat the Canadiens in seven games or so for the coveted Stanley pewterware.

He has batted .500 so far. But the odds are against the .750 mark when the Leafs tangle with the Bruins in Boston tomorrow night in the playoff duel. It should be a thriller. The Leafs' comeback qualities in the face of defeat have been thoroughly seen more than once in this hectic semi-finals series. But the Bruins are at home — and that should make the difference.

'Same Old Storey' Chant Debris-Tossing Chi Fans

Two Hotheads Rush Official, Cards, Fish, Paper Litter Ice As Habs Oust Black Hawks

CHICAGO (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks' Stanley Cup dream was shattered Saturday night by Montreal Canadiens on a goal by Claude Provost that touched off an uproarious demonstration by referee-hailing fans.

The goal came at 18:32 of the first period, the last in a spectacular, seesaw struggle that gave Canadiens a 5-4 victory and a 4-2 win on games in the best-of-seven cup semi-final.

Provost's goal was his second of the night. Dickie Moore also counted two for Montreal and Doug Harvey scored once.

The Hawks' ace line looked after all the Chicago scoring. Eddie Litzenberger and veteran Ted Lindsay each scored two goals and Tod Sloan assisted on all four.

After Provost's game-winner it was nearly 20 minutes before the remaining minute and 22 seconds could be played out.

HEART OF STOREY

Disgruntled over what they felt was referee Red Storey's failure to call a penalty against Montreal just before Provost's big goal, the crowd broke into an uproarious demonstration.

First programs and newspapers were showered in the air. Then came missiles of all kinds —bottles, cans, coins, decks of cards and even a chair. Two fans invaded the ice to attack Storey. One was laid low by Montreal defenceman Doug Harvey.

At the height of the uproar a couple of fights started among spectators behind the Montreal bench.

Montreal goalie Jacques Plante hustled from his net to engage the missiles. Some of the players—both Montreal and Chicago — remained on the ice. A couple of the Montrealers sat on the ice with their backs against the boards a near Canadiens' bench.

The unruly demonstration finally wore itself out. The rest of the game was anti-climax, although the Hawks fought until the final buzzer.

BIG CROWD

The game brought out a crowd of 18,331, second largest in the history of Chicago Stadium. There were 20,004 at a regular-season game of 12 years ago.

The victorious Canadiens left for home by train immediately after the game. They will meet either Boston or Toronto in the final.

Montreal coach Toe Blake said it makes no difference which team he meets. "It's going to be a tough fight to a finish." He was quick to declare that the Hawks "went down fighting, and we didn't walk away with any of the four games we won."

Asked about the fans' outburst over the refereeing, Blake said: "It depends on where the game is played. If we had our fans here, they would have bottered just as loudly about officiating we didn't like."

He said he didn't think the Chicago fans were particularly bad-mannered. "They're just as bad, the bad ones, as any around the league."

PILOUS UPSET

Hawk coach Rudy Pilous was spitting fire over the refereeing.

"Storey didn't have the guts to call two tripping fouls," said Pilous, who gave the "choke-up" sign—hand across throat — to Storey during the big rumpus. Eddie Litzenberger and Bobby Hull were both tripped in the final minutes.

"We have the most wonderful fans in the world. They thought the officiating was lousy and I was."

Hawk president Jim Norris said: "Those people paid to get in and they wanted to see us get a fair shake."

Nevertheless, both Pilous and Norris went to the Montreal dressing room to congratulate Blake and his team.

Storey called 22 penalties, 12 against Montreal.

The game was a thriller from start to finish for sheer explosiveness of play, break-neck speed and the spectacular goaltending bolo by Plante and Chicago's Glenn Hall.

PENALTIES PLAY PART

Harvey sent Montreal in front at 2:20 of the first period, seven seconds after a penalty to Hawk Glen Skov had expired.

Lindsay pulled the Hawks even at 13:38 but Harvey was sitting out a penalty.

Litzenberger scored at 5:32 of the second period, while he was flat on the ice in the midst of a scramble for Sloan's rebound.

Moore garnered a brilliant goal at 9:09, instead of passing from the goal mouth he sprinkled over and jammed the puck past Hall.

Provost gave Montreal a 3-2 lead at 10:22 on a breakaway while his own team was shorthanded.

Litzenberger tied it up again at 3:24 of the third period, taking a pass from Lindsay as he circled the Montreal net. Moore moved Canadiens ahead again at 13:18 on Marcel Bonin's rebound and Lindsay scored 24 seconds later. He attempted to centre the puck from the end boards. It struck Plante's stick and flipped into the net.

Then Provost banged in his winner with Lindsay, Litzenberger and Phil Goyette supplying the relay from a faltering near the side of the Chicago net and just outside the crease.

Hardest Game He Handled Says Referee

MONTREAL (CP)—The wife of National Hockey League referee Red Storey says life gets "pretty awful at times."

"I hope we don't have to go through a game like that again. It's hard on the nerves. I guess we're the only people who don't get criticized."

Helen Storey and her sons, Bobby, 13, and Doug, 12, watched Saturday's final game between Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks.

The game ended in a near-riot as Chicago fans booed Storey for his calls. They tossed bottles, cans and paper on the ice.

Two fans went after Storey on the ice.

"Red called us this morning," Mrs. Storey said Sunday.

"He said it was one of the hardest games he ever handled. He said Doug never probably put an end to a terrible riot by whacking that fan over the head."

The fan was taken to hospital and needed 15 stitches to patch him up . . .

"I don't think the average fan has any idea what a life a referee leads," Mrs. Storey said. "It's no sissy sport."

"He worries as much over a game as any player."

Braves, Yankees Are Favored But Going Will Be Tougher

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball is the gun Thursday and in the earliest start ever after the greatest player shuffle since the end of the war.

Once again New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves are favored to meet in the world series although the going may be tougher in each league.

Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland are expected to push the Yankees with Boston as an outside threat. San Francisco and Pittsburgh generally are counted upon to press Milwaukee with some support by Cincinnati and new pioneer.

Such established major leaguers as Frank Thomas, Jerry Piersall, Billy Martin, Eddie Yost, Vic Wertz, Ted Kluszewski, Del Ennis, Ruben Gomez, Wally Moon and the bullpen pair of Ray Narleski and Don Mossi will be wearing new uniforms.

The season's gambling with the weather in starting four days earlier than usual. Their bonus is an extra weekend that could be profitable both at the gate and on the television-radio series. As usual, the season will end on the last Sunday in September. There will be a few extra open Mondays.

Thursday's schedule calls for only two games. In the ceremonial opener at Washington, President Eisenhower may throw out the first ball before Cookie Lavagetto's Senators take on Baltimore Orioles. Lavagetto said he would use Pedro Ramos, the rubber - armed Cuban, at his pitcher and not Billy Loes, acquired in a trade with the Orioles Wednesday.

The Senators are minus Yost and Rocky Bridges, who also was Baltimore has an interesting rookie in centre fielder Willie Tasby. Paul Richards has been trying to find a little more punch. He may use Whitey Lockman, ex-Giant, Chico Carresquel, ex-Athletic, and Billy Klaus, ex-Red Sox.

The other Thursday game will be played in Cincinnati with Pittsburgh Pirates as the guests. This game provides a first-hand look at some of the big deals of the winter that brought Frank Thomas to the Reds and sent Don Hoak, Smoky Burgess and Harvey Haddix to the Pirates.

The Reds have a fine looking young centre fielder in Vada Pinson and a promising young pitcher in Jim O'Toole. Pittsburgh boasts a tighter infield and has strengthened its fine pitching staff with Haddix.

Habs Welcome Four-Day Rest

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Canadiens arrived here quietly Sunday night with prospects of taking things easy for a few days after eliminating Chicago Black Hawks Saturday night from the Stanley Cup semi-final.

They will not play again until Thursday, when the winner of the Boston Bruins—Toronto Maple Leafs series comes to Montreal to start the final.

"This layoff can't do us anything but good," said coach Toe Blake after arriving home. "We are certainly glad to get the opportunity to have a rest.

"The rest is going to help us in the next series," Blake said. "It doesn't matter which team we meet, it will give us plenty of trouble."

He said he didn't want to make any predictions, but "the team which beats us will certainly have to earn it."

Blake said he understands there is a chance Maurice (Rocket) Richard, out of action with an ankle fracture, may play in the final. He expected to know more about Richard today.

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Nevada gamblers are rating New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves as heavy favorites to keep their American and National League baseball pennants.

The bookies will pay only 10 for every $3 you bet if the Yankees win. And they'll put up just $3 for every $5 you wager on the Braves to walk off with the National League title again.

Last year, Nevada gamblers favored the Yankees 2 to 5 and the Braves 4 to 5.

"Punch" Must Deliver Knockout To Bruins Tuesday

Boston Weathers Hurt Streak And Hot Leafian Comeback To Square Sizzling Series

By JIM BASTABLE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—The Stanley Cup semi-final series was ripe today for a dramatic one-game struggle between Boston's durable Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs, a young team that has the knack of scoring upsets. Bruins are favored to win it.

Boston banged into the favorite's role Saturday night by surviving an almost-crippling streak of injuries and visiting Leafs' comeback to defeat Toronto 5-4 and deadlock the best-of-seven series at three games apiece.

Seventh engagement will be in Boston Tuesday night.

"We showed we can come back," said Boston coach Milt Schmidt. "Now we have the advantage of home ice."4 don't think they'll catch us as they did the last time." Leafs whipped the Bruins 4-1 in Boston last Thursday.

UNLUCH CONFIDENT

Just as confident is Leaf coach Punch Imlach, the eternal optimist.

"We've chartered a plane to stand by in Boston after the game," he said. "We expect to be going to Montreal to meet Canadiens in the final series." The Habs edged Chicago 5-4 Saturday to capture that best-of-seven series 4-2.

Bruins twice had a two-goal edge Saturday. Twice they lost it. And Leafs, whose formula for success is skate, skate, skate, threatened to snatch victory.

Bruins had other ideas. They scored the winning goal at 12:26 of the third period when Vic Stasiuk's 40 - foot blast bounced into the Leaf net past goaltender Johnny Bower off centre Bronco Horvath's knee.

"The Ukes came out of their slump and that could be a very good sign," Schmidt said. The Leafs are Bruins' top scoring threat of Horvath, Stasiuk and Johnny Bucyk.

TWO FOR BUCYK

Bucyk scored twice to lead Bruins, giving them 3-2 and 4-3 margins in the second period. Right winger Jerry Toppazzini and centre Don McKenney accounted for the other Boston goals.

Left winger Frank Mahovlich fast emerging as a glittering performer, scored twice for Toronto. Left winger Bert Olmstead and centre Gerry Ehman, with his fifth of the series, had singles.

Bucyk, who hadn't scored in the series before Saturday night, credited a shot he had with Schmidt and Boston general-manager Lynn Patrick for getting him out of the slump.

"They told me before the game that I was too defensive-minded. I was determined to go out and score."

Schmidt and Patrick were elated at upsetting Imlach's prediction that Leafs would win the series in six games.

CRYSTAL BALL FAILED

"We finally broke through his crystal ball," Patrick gloated.

Bruins ran into their injuries in the second period. Toppazzini was flattened by Leaf defenceman Allan Stanley. It was thought he suffered cracked or broken ribs but he insisted on playing. X-rays taken later were negative.

Boston rearguard Jim Morrison was struck on the upper lip by a puck deflected by Toronto defenceman Carl Brewer. Fifteen stitches were needed.

Then Bruins defenceman Bob Armstrong pulled a groin muscle. He re-entered playing. Schmidt is hopeful all will be fit for the final game. Not expected back in the lineup is defenceman Doug Mohns, out for the last three games with strained knee ligaments.

Toppazzini sent Bruins into the lead at 7:28 of the first period, while Olmstead was in the penalty box. Two minutes later McKenney made it 2-0. Leafs surged back into the fight when Olmstead tipped Brewer's shot past Harry Lumley. The Bruins were short two men — Stasiuk and Fleml ngMackell—on penalties at the time.

Mahovlich tied the score at 3:50 of the second period. Bruins had their second two-goal lead before the end of the period, however, when Bucyk again beat Lumley at 17:19.

Ehman deflected Harris' shot behind Lumley at 2:53 of the third period. Less than five minutes later, Ehman scored from behind the net, backhanded Ron Stewart's rebound past Lumley for a 4-4 tie. Brewer was off for highsticking at the time.

Terry Sawchuk was set up by Boston defenceman Leo Boivin. Bowling over a Leaf rearguard, Bobby Baun and laid down a 40-foot pass to Stasiuk.

Baun, on the verge of tears with self-reproach, said later he should have nailed Boivin before he got the pass away.

Leafs are expected to have centre Larry Regan back in action Tuesday night. He missed seven games with a broken right hand, which it still in a cast.

"It's all or nothing now," Regan said. "I can hold a stick. I'll be ready."

Raging Blair Storms on Ice, Offers to Lick All, Sundry After Dutchies Nip Dunnies

KITCHENER (CP) — Wren Blair, a man with two hockey championships under his belt this season, is trying for another.

His chances of getting it dimmed somewhat Saturday night, however, when Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen halted his Whitby Dunlops 3-1 in a stormy All-Ontario Senior A final.

The loss ended an eight-game playoff win streak for Dunlops and left them behind 2-1 in the best-of-seven series.

Fourth game goes in Toronto Tuesday night.

OTHER TEAM WINS

It was a night of win and lose for Blair. Clinton Comets—which he coached in the Eastern Hockey League — polished off Johnstown Jets 5-1 in the seventh and deciding game of their championship.

The Dunlops are already champions of the Eastern OHA circuit. Their opponents in the All-Ontario scramble are top dogs of the Ontario OHA.

It was Blair who picked up a bench penalty in the first period for "disputing" a non-existing a penalty to Mac McBeth. It cost him another man in the penalty box, allowing Dutchmen to run their 1-0 lead to 2-0 and put the game out of reach.

When the final horn blew, Blair was seen to tie the line-up and challenged officials and anybody else who cared to do battle. Nobody did.

The game saw both goaltenders11:30, Ted O'Connor 16:31.

Art Wall Used Glass Putter To Win Masters Tournament

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—An unorthodox baseball grip and a glass-shafted mallet putter are the trademarks of the new Masters golf champion—quiet, modest Art Wall, Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa.

"When I first started playing I never knew there was another way to hold the club," Wall said today at his Mickey Mantle style of whacking a ball. The putter is a recent addition to his bag which glecing an old wooden-shafted blade he had carried for 10 years.

The putter played a major part in the most dramatic last-day comeback in all the 32 years of Masters tournament play.

Starting six strokes back and in a tie for 25th place, Wall rocketed a brilliant six-under-par 66 Sunday for a total of 289 which left the pace-setting Australian for runner-up money.

Cary Middlecoff finished second at 285. Defending champion Arnold Palmer took a terrible trey six at the 12th hole, the key hole of his success in 1958, and wound up tied for fifth place at 290.

The old Canadian war horse, Stan Leonard of Vancouver faltered with a 75 for a 287 tie and 10th place money. Leonard was champion Charlie Coe, three-putting five greens, fell back to 75 for 288.

The masters never has seen a rally such as Wall's. In 1956 when Jack Burke backed in after being eight shots behind he only had to burdie three players. In 1957 when Doug Ford won with a last-round 66 he also only had to push ahead of three rivals. Wall leaped over 12 players in a spectacular surge to the front.

He sank one putt of 30 feet, three of 15 feet and finished with a 12-foot birdie putt on the last hole.

"I never doubted I could make it," he said.

He had five birdies on the last six holes.

Wall's victory earned him $15,000 and pushed his year's money winnings past $30,000, giving him the richest wallet on the tour.

The prize money was increased by 200 per cent over the initially announced $20,000 minimum. The total awarded was $70,400, a record for the tournament. Every professional who accepted an invitation this year received $1,000 even if he didn't fire a shot.

Leonard, at the oldest of the contestants, received $2,625. The Vancouver pro couldn't come up with another round like his great three-under-par 69 Saturday that enabled him to play Friday and the last 2 312 after 54 holes. He shot a 75 in the final round.

DRIVING CONTEST

Wall, 35, made a driving finish —going birdie-birdie-birdie - par-birdie-birdie — one of the great rallies of all-time. But even then he couldn't beat one-time Bobby Locke, needing a birdie on one of the final three holes to tie, came home. The Memphis dentist failed to come through.

The masters drew more than 100,000 spectators during the four days—close to 50,000 on Saturday alone—and proved itself one of the big spectacles of sports.

Toronto Team Wins Peewee Grand Title

GODERICH (CP) — Toronto Honest Ribs captured the grand championship Saturday night in the Young Canada Week minor hockey tournament by blanking a Six Nations sextet 7-0.

Ernest Ida, AA series champions, downed Goderich, B champs, 3-1, and St. Lambert, Que., A champs, 5-0, before taking on the four Sprigs, D series winners.

The well - balanced Toronto team overpowered the Six Nations team, sentimental favorites with the crowd.

Six Nations got into the finals with a thrilling 4-3 win over Point Edward.

Redheaded Brian Martin scored the winner with 17 seconds left to play, and Dennis Wilson scored the clincher in the last second. Other Six Nations scorers were Ralph Davis, and Bobby Jamieson. Jeff Geesa and Mike Leaven scored for Point Edward.

Bisons Need Win to Enter Finals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Buffalo Bisons are well on their way to proving that it was their first-place finish in the American Hockey League schedule was no accident.

The Bisons took a 3-1 lead over the Rochester Americans in their best-of-seven semi - final playoff for the Calder Cup by winning 3-2 in overtime Sunday night. The fifth game will be played Tuesday night in Buffalo.

OTHER SERIES TIED

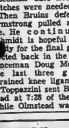
The winner goes against either Hershey or Cleveland in the best-of-seven finals. That series is also tied at 2-2 following Cleveland's 3-0 victory Saturday night. Finale next game is scheduled for Cleveland Wednesday.

Bill Sweeney's second goal, at 2:07 of overtime gave Bisons their triumph. His first goal, in the second period, sent Buffalo ahead 3-1 after Bruce Gamble of the Bisons and the Amerks' Al Smith had traded goals.

Bill Hicke, the league's regular-season top scorer, got his first goal of the playoffs in the second period and tied the game again.

The Saturday game at Hershey was capped by an eight-minute melee in which nine players received penalties.

With 20 seconds left to play, Bob Perreault skated from the Hershey bat and headed toward the bench. He was checked by Bill Sheetz, Baron left winger. The clash produced bedlam.



Within seconds every member of both teams and the officials of the club were struggling mass of men, hockey sticks and equipment. It took eight minutes to restore order. Four Barons and five Bears were sent to the showers. Six miscreant penalties, each carrying a $25 individual fine, were assessed.

The Barons took the lead in the second period when Bob Blaisy scored on a pile-screened shot. Fred Glover scored the final goal at 19:01 of the third.

Quebec Hockey

MONTREAL (CP) — Jean Paul Denis and Jean Mondell scored with less than two minutes left to play Sunday to give Montreal Royals a 5-4 victory over Trois-Rivieres Lions and a 4-3 lead in the best-of-nine Quebec Hockey League playoffs.

BLOWING BUBBLES

Bubble blowing may be fun for children, but it can be costly in an automobile radiator.

To check for this condition look in the radiator while the is running at normal temperature. If you see bubbles in an oily scum, it's an indication of a combustion leak causing wasted gasoline. The cause may be anything from a blown gasket to a cracked block — with a wide variation in the cost of repairs.

By carefully checking and servicing their used cars, KEN PINDER, LTD., 149 Front St., bring these troubles to light and remedy them. The smallest defects are carefully corrected, even though they might pass unnoticed by the average car buyer.

Virgil Trucks Given Release

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Virgil Trucks, 40-year-old righthanded pitcher, was unconditionally released by New York Yankee today.

The Yankees obtained him last June in a deal which also brought them pitcher Duke Maas from Kansas City Athletics. Trucks broke in with Detroit Tigers in 1941 and has a lifetime record of 177-135 for a .567 percentage in the American League. He also played with St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox.

Trucks said he will shop for a job with a National League team.

The Yankees returned outfielders Ken Hunt and Russ Snyder to Richmond Virginians of the International League.

Ottawa Slides By Tillsonburg In Cage Battle

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ottawa Fellers tied up the Eastern Canada Senior A basketball finals at one game apiece by defeating Tillsonburg Livingstons 77-75 Saturday night in Ottawa. The third game will be played tonight.

The defending eastern champions from Tillsonburg fell apart in the final five minutes to let Ottawa overcome a 15-point lead and tie the contest at 75-75 with 14 seconds remaining.

Kevin McGuire, Ottawa centre, sank two free throws for the winning margin.

McGuire led the winners with 16 points, Howie Triano, Tillsonburg's shortest man at five-eleven, hooped 28 points.

Montreal Golden Knights moved into the Canadian Senior B semi-finals with an easy 85-49 win over Sudbury YMCA in the second game of a two-game total point quarter-final series.

The Knights won 63-58 Friday night and took the round 128-107. They now meet Centreville, N.B., at Centreville in a two - game total pointig semi - final series starting Tuesday.

The Centreville winner is to meet St. Francis Xavier University of Antigonish, N.S., for the national crown. The Canadian finals will be staged at Antigonish April 10 and 11.

St. F.X. qualified for the final by whipping St. Dunstan's University of Charlottetown 119-98 on their round which finished up Saturday.

Jackie Golfman led the Golden Knights with a 19-point performance in the second game against Sudbury. For Sudbury, Doug Trotter was high man with 14 points. Wayne Eadie rolled 12 and Jack Luptak and Gene Roy eight each.

OBA INTERMEDIATE

Toronto Township Saints defeated Sault Ste. Marie 73-57 Saturday to take the first game of their two-game total-points OBA Intermediate A semi-finals.

High scorer for Toronto was Hal Brown with 21. For Soo, Rae Burns netted 19 and Al Foster 10.

Ottawa All-Stars beat Leamington Falcons 78-74 in the first game of their OBA Intermediate semi-finals.

Bert Oldfield scored 25 points for Ottawa and Allan Cook and Davidson had 22.

Leamington's top scorer was Dick Hicks with 17 points.

Western Hockey

(By THE CANADIAN PRESS)

Seattle Totems, a come-from-behind team all season, defeated Vancouver Canucks 4-3 Sunday night after trailing twice to the best-of-seven Coast Division final in the Western Hockey League 1-1.

Calgary Stampeders beat Winnipeg Warriors 3-2 Saturday night for a 2-0 lead in the Prairie Division.

Stampeders play at Winnipeg Tuesday and Seattle is at Vancouver Wednesday in the next games.

'Ole Archie' Now Promoter

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Archie Moore says he is going to turn boxing promoter and will apply for a California license next Saturday.

"Does this mean your fighting days are over?" a reporter asked him.

"Well, I'm going to fight Yvonne Durelle again July 15," said Archie. "There's nothing in the rules that says you can't fight and promote."

AT THE McCARTHY — Rita Hayworth depicts a tempestuous woman who can't live with or without her ex-husband, played by Burt Lancaster, in "Separate Tables". The film version of the Terence Rattigan play opens today at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre. The film also co-stars Deborah Kerr, David Niven and Wendy Hiller.

Chicubs Big Bob Anderson Gets Start-Day Assignment

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bobby Anderson, a towering 23-year-old righthander who was something less than sensational last year, has developed into the key man in the Chicago Cubs' pitching staff so much so that manager Bob Shefling today decided to give him the opening-day starting assignment.

Despite his tender age, Anderson has toiled for five minor league clubs and now is going into his fourth hitch with the Cubs.

Anderson, all 6-4 of him, spent most of last season with Fort Worth in the Texas League where he compiled a 17-9 record. He hung on with the Cubs for a while and posted a 3-3 mark.

Sunday he held Boston Red Sox to three singles during a seven-inning stint. The Cubs won 5-0.

Three other top veterans oiled there arms for their opening day appearances.

Warren Spahn shut-out Detroit Tigers 5-0 on six hits for the Milwaukee Braves; Billy Pierce whitewashed Washington Senators 3-0 for Chicago White Sox, and Bob Friend, Pittsburgh Pirates' ace, cut down Philadelphia Phillies 3-1 in Fort Myers, Fla.

San Francisco Giants edged Cleveland Indians 7-6; Los Angeles Dodgers downed Kansas City Athletics 3-1; Cincinnati outlasted New York Yankees in 16 innings, 7-6, and Baltimore Orioles turned back St. Louis Cardinals 3-0.

Friend outpitched another veteran, Robin Roberts. The Pirate righty gave up only six hits. Roberts was touched for 13, including homers by Bill Virdon and Dick Stuart.

Some runs were the big factor in the victories of the Giants, Dodgers and Reds.

Jackie Brandt lined a three-run job in the eighth to earn the Giants their come-from - behind victory over the Tribe. Charlie Neal sent the Dodgers ahead with a homer in the third, and John Powers came up as a pinchhitter for Clarkmail in the tenth with one on and blasted one of Jim Bronstad's pitches over the right field wall and the Yanks were dead.

Clipped Fan Has Headache And Regrets

CHICAGO (AP)—A 33-year-old machinist who was injured when he rushed on the ice rink Saturday night during the Montreal-Chicago Stanley Cup playoff hockey game said Sunday he is sorry he lost his temper.

Jean Rey, struck on the head with a hockey stick when he chased referee Red Storey, said he hopes he would not be barred from future games in Chicago Stadium.

Rey said he became disgusted when he thought Storey should have called a penalty against Montreal.

After being injured, Rey was taken to a clinic where eight stitches were taken in his head.

Breaks Auto Racing Record

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) Jim Rathmann smashed his own world auto racing record Saturday, winning two fantastically fast races on the new high-banked Daytona International Speedway, the first of which took the life of veteran George Amick.

The 34-year-old Amick, a pinsized driver from Rhinelander, Wis., was killed instantly on the last lap of the 100-mile U.S. Automobile Club championship race that opened the program.

Rathmann set a closed-course world record of 170.26 miles an hour in the 100-miller, rubbing out his own record of 166.72 made in the Nassau, Italy, 500-mile race last year.

Amick, No. 2 speedway car driver in the U.S. last year, smacked the outer guard rail and his car flipped end over end.

In two other crashups, the drivers escaped injury.

16-PIN CHAMPION

WINDSOR (CP) — Gerard Lapierre of Valleyfield, Que., rolling up a 15-game total score of 2,739, won the Canadian 10-pin bowling singles championship here Saturday night. Lapierre's total was 22 points better than runner-up Tony Chibi of Leamington.

Petes, Irish Play Third Tie, Meet in Peterborough Tonight

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto St. Michael's College Majors, who salvaged a couple of games in their OHA Junior A final with Peterborough Petes with ties, could win the best-of-seven series with one tonight.

But if Sunday's game, tied 1-1, is any indication they will have to go some to do that. They go into the seventh game in Peterborough leading 2-1 in the series with three games tied. Petes must win to force the series to an eighth game here Wednesday.

Should the Majors win, it will be their first title since 1947.

Right winger Jack Costello saved the day for St. Michael's against a revitalized Peterborough team Sunday, when he tipped a goal with two minutes and eight seconds remaining in the game, watched by 6,287 fans.

CASEY TALLIES FIRST

Petes took a 2-0 lead when Pat Casey scored in the first period and protected it throughout the rest of the game until Costello, who had missed two shots earlier took careful aim and tied it.

The game was marked by the fine work of goalies Jacques Caron of Peterborough and Cesare Maniago of St. Michales'. Petes had the edge on play and took eight of the 14 penalties.

St. Michael's coach Bob Gold, who took over later the Majors' their goal "because they were doing what they were told . . . they were shooting at be net."

Scotty Bowman, Peterborough coach, said he was disappointed with the scare but pleased with his club's newly - found skating ability."

Bowman exchanged swings with a fan in the corridor after the second period.

"He was swearing at me, using filthy language," Bowman said.

INTERCOUNTY OFFICERS

PRESTON, Ont. (CP) — Don Mullan of Preston was re-elected president of the Intercounty Softball Association Saturday.

AT THE PARK — Donna Reed and Tab Hunter, two Academy Award winners, in the picture that won 8 awards "From Here to Eternity" opening tonight at the Park Theatre. Deborah Kerr, nominated for Best Actress, Academy Award winner, also stars in the same movie. Now playing at the Park program "From Here To Eternity", Frank Sinatra, Deborah Kerr, Burt Lancaster, Ernest Borgnine, Donna Reed and Claudia Cassidy, Tab Hunter, Jack Warden and Mickey Shaughnessy.

AT THE BELLE — Conveyed—Anthony Perkins and Shirley MacLaine share one of the romances in Paramount's hilarious comedy, "The Matchmaker," opening today at the Belle Theatre. Co-starring in the film are Shirley Booth and Paul Ford.

MR. TWEEDY by Ned Riddle

Wellington

WELLINGTON — Miss Jean Campbell spent the Easter holidays with her aunt, Miss J. A. Campbell, Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ford, Terry and Gail, of Seaforth, spent the holiday weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ford. On Easter Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Ford received telephone greetings from their daughter, Mrs. Sam Jenkins and Mr., Jenkins, Mississippi. They told their parents that the flowers were all blooming in the garden down there while we were still having snow.

Miss Patsy Hastie of Ottawa spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. James Callow and family.

Miss Lynda Taylor and Miss Jean Campbell were birthday guests of Miss Yvonne A'Barr, Prospect Ave., Picton, last Tuesday evening.

Another friendly card party was held in the Legion Hall on Monday evening when a nice crowd gathered to play euchre and crib bage.

Prize winners for cribbage during the evening were: ladies high and low, Mrs. E. Carson and Mrs. J. Callow; gents high and low, Gordon Morton and F. Orser, for cribbage. Prize winners for euchre were, ladies high and low, Mrs. Charles Broadbridge and Mrs. D. Greenfield; gents high and low, Lavender and Charles Broadbridge.

A birthday prize was given to Mr. Wes Cunningham when everyone sang "Happy Birthday". Mrs. Sam Gentile of Picton donated a box of groceries. Mrs. Sam Trips held the lucky ticket on this. The ladies served lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Campbell of Toronto were Saturday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ellis.

Mrs. Norman Foster and daughter, Miss Gladys Foster, spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Moreland in Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Scott, who spent Easter weekend in Picton, called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris on their way home to Barrie on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Jones of Toronto were Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Adams.

Bob Palmer spent Easter week with his brother Mr. John Palmer and Mrs. Palmer and Miss Jane Palmer in Collingwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Adams, Lyla and Keith of Campbellford and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Parks, Marlene, Dorothy and Gary were Easter Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Adams.

Mr. Lanny Huff of Waterloo College, "Waterloo, spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Huff.

Bob McIntyre of Simcoe spent the holidays with Mrs. Douglas Taylor and family.

Sympathy is being extended to Mrs. S. Down and Mrs. W. Harvey in the passing of their father, Mr. Covert, of Rosmeath.

Dr. H. H. Hillis, Belleville, was the guest speaker at the annual Easter candle service held in the United Church on Sunday morning.

The annual Easter Bunny Tea under the auspices of St. Andrew's choir, took place in the church hall on Monday afternoon.

The hall was decorated with lovely Easter lilies and white and yellow 'mums.

The tea table, covered with a pretty lace cloth, was centred with a huge bow of colored eggs with Easter bunnies on each side.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Godfrey Upton and Mrs. Rod Blower while members of the choir served the refreshments. They were Misses Joanne Herrington, Lynda Bryans, Margaret Bailey and Anne Spriggings. Mrs. J. Callow and Mrs. S. Tripp assisted in the kitchen.

The domestic table was in charge of Mrs. M. Wray and Mrs. D. Murphy. Miss Suzanne Callow drew the lucky ticket for the hamper of groceries and Mrs. M. Way was the lucky winner. Mrs. S. Tripp was the convener of this successful affair and Mrs. Way was in charge of the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Grossen and family, of Toronto, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Upton.

14 FLEE FIRE

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Smoke forced some 14 residents of apartments above a real estate office in the downtown section Sunday night by a fire in a law office at the rear of the realtor's offices. Loss was estimated at $20,000.

Inner Councils of Organized Labor's Biggest Club Having Time Feuding and Fussing

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sounds of bickering and bluster continue from the inner councils of organized labor's biggest club, the AFL-CIO.

Despite feuding and a fussing among the leaders, it still appears the merged labor movement is going to stick together.

What's all the arguing about?

Fundamentally, "former CIO chiefs led by Walter Reuther, head of the big auto workers union, feel the AFL is ducking and compromising on too many of its problems.

SEEMING TOO HARD

By and large, leaders of the old AFL, where AFL-CIO President George Meany has his roots, regard the veteran CIO crowd as upstarts and even rather ungentlemanly for pushing favored labor aims too hard. AFL statesmen counsel more patience.

However unsightly evidence of these clashes of personalities and methods may appear to the outsider, they were freely—and, it turns out, accurately—predicted by the labor scholars themselves at the outset of the merger three years ago.

But somehow the wounds have been patched up. Basically, AFL forces have the upper hand. Disgruntled CIO chiefs apparently have never been so disgruntled as to seriously consider quitting the merged organization.

This was the situation at the most recent flareup within the AFL-CIO executive council at the winter session at San Juan, Puerto Rico. Tempers soared, but words flew. There was little give and take on problems and in the end fundamental differences remained unsettled.

Reuther wanted a mass march of unemployed on Washington. He talked in terms of 20,000 to 50,000. Meany balked at such a show of pressure on the administration and Congress, a view shared by many other council men.

OTHER COMPLAINTS

This led to other complaints. Too little attention to organizing; a disposition to let jurisdictional rivalries between unions slide along unsolved, and other points of friction. A broadside charge was made that Meany makes too many policy decisions on his own.

It was finally decided to give the AFL-CIO more ground work on the Washington unemployed rally. Plans are to stage it April 30 with a theme there of 5,000 to 10,000 delegates. A smaller group will proceed on Capitol Hill the next day to buttonhole congressmen for aid for the idle.

There was internal bickering, too, whether to oust carpenters union boss William L. Hutcheson as an AFL-CIO vice-president and council member. Hutcheson is under indictment in an Indiana highway land scandal and charges have been made to the Senate rackets committee of certain fund irregularities.

But on this point the AFL-CIO chiefs closed ranks, Reuther included, to avoid a serious split in the federation. Hutcheson's carpenters had threatened to secede and take other unions with them. This problem is not one that the AFL-CIO has solved, but merely put off.

Most bystanders at the San Juan sessions felt the fuss may have cemented rather than weakened AFL-CIO. It brought differences out into the open and got them discussed.

NO SCHOOL BUS PROBLEM HERE — These children at Gulgik, near Modena in northern Italy, have no bus to carry them to school. In fact, there has not been a bridge over the Panaro River since World War II. So, to make their way to school each day they use a chair lift arrangement, the only link between the town and the countryside across the river. (AP Wirephoto).

TEACHERS RETURN

ST. EDMOND LES PLAINES, Que. (CP)—Nine lay teachers under the Roman Catholic school board of this community north of Lake St. John returned to class Friday after a two-day strike in protest because salaries were in arrears. None had been paid since December and some got their last cheque in November.

CANCELS WEDDING

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Anna Maria Alberghetti, 22, Friday called off her plans to marry musical director Buddy Bregman. Her decision came just nine days before the scheduled wedding. Miss Alberghetti, whose mother once strenuously objected to the marriage, said "marriage at this time would be premature. For that reason I have, on my own, decided against the wedding."

WANT WITNESSES BANNED

SALZSBURY, Southern Rhodesia (Reuters) — Prime Minister Sir Edgar Whitehead was asked Friday to ban the convention of Jehovah's Witnesses here April 9-12. The request was made by the Central Africa wing of the League of Empire Loyalists in a letter which said the Witnesses had been declared a subversive organization in New Zealand and an illegal organization in Australia.

Konrad Adenauer Will Retire To President's Post

Reich's Grand Old Man To Quit Active Politics

BONN, West Germany (CP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has accepted his party's nomination for the presidency, which will take him out of active politics, the West German news agency DPA said today.

The Christian Democrats have been having a great deal of difficulty in choosing their candidate to succeed Theodor Heuss, who completes his second five-year term next July. Under German law a president may serve only two terms.

Adenauer, 83, was proposed by a special commission of ranking Christian Democrats set up to select a candidate for president.

The new president will be elected at a special meeting of the National Assembly in Berlin in July.

The assembly is composed of all 518 members of the Bundestag, the lower house of parliament, plus an additional 518 members representing the 10 West German states.

The Adenauer would be elected is a foregone conclusion despite the fact the Socialists have put up their own popular candidate, writer-scholar Carlo Schmid.

The Christian Democratic deputies, aware of Schmid's popularity, have been seeking a strong candidate to beat him.

There was no immediate announcement of a possible successor to Adenauer.

LONDON (Reuters)—The government is expected to propose an early visit to London of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Adenauer took the initiative in suggesting the visit amid reports of a rift between Britain and West Germany over how to approach negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Adenauer in a recent letter asked Prime Minister Macmillan to suggest a convenient date.

Adenauer is due to leave Bonn Wednesday for several weeks vacation in Italy and is reported to have asked Macmillan to suggest a date after that.

The most likely time for Adenauer's visit appeared to be the week-end meeting of the four Western foreign ministersin Paris April 29 and the foreign ministers conference in Geneva May 11.

PRESS ACCUSES

The 83-year-old chancellor is said in some sections of the British press of wanting to block British efforts to negotiating with the Soviet Union about Germany, under the suspicion that Macmillan is willing to go to appeasement.

However, diplomatic observers understand that a recent intergallied consultations West German leaders around Adenauer have appeared to reassure themselves to be less rigid than they appeared in public.

Western Europe's big three foreign ministers returned home from Washington Monday. Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, Maurice Couve de Murville of France and Heinrich von Brentano of West Germany conferred last week with the United States in four-power talks and attended the 15-nation meeting of the Atlantic pact ministerial council.

Brushing aside any hint of depression, they spoke with assurance of the West's united stand on the Soviet Union.

But newspapers in Britain, West Germany and France seemed so certain that a widening gap between London and Bonn over how the "West" should treat the Soviets threatens to end the four-power status of Berlin and sign a German peace treaty.

Fierce Fighting Breaks Out In Red China

TAIPEI, Formosa (Reuters) — Fierce fighting broke out in the west Chinese province of Sikang, east of Tibet, after rebels learned of the Dalai Lama's escape to India, reliable Chinese sources in government sources said today.

The sources said anti-Communist rebels seized three counties —Shih Shen Chu, Yoko and Batang — on the Communist-Tibet bordering Chinghai province.

The Chinghai government is fierce fighting between revolutionaries and Communists was going on in the area, largely populated by Tibetan tribesmen.

The anti-Communist forces, the Nationalists said, were encouraged by the news that the Dalai Lama, Tibet's god-king, had arrived safely in India. Rebels who had been underground then emerged again to attack the Communists.

'Our Worries Over, Children Dead' He Tells Wife, Then Dies in Fire

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — An unemployed father killed his three children and sister with gasoline Monday, tried to strangle his wife, then set his home afire. He died of smoke inhalation.

Firemen rushing into the flaming three-storey home found the father, 47-year-old Kirk Kraus, dying in the blazing attic. They carried him to his wife and raced to a nearby home for rescue.

Downstairs, the husky ex-factory worker — who had been beaten, their lives snuffed out, with rope. His petite sister, Elizabeth, 43, was pretty dying. Her children quoted his wife Frances, as saying she arrived home from work in the afternoon and was met by her blood-soaked husband.

"Our worries are over. The children are dead."

Then he began to beat her and tried to wrap a rope around her throat. She fled to the home of neighbors and later was taken to hospital.

Police said all three children had been strangled with clothesline.

They were Linda, 12, Donald, 9, and Richard, 8.

WORK ON BUDGET HAS NOW REACHED FEVERISH PITCH

Final Touches Made For B-Day Thursday

OTTAWA (CP) — Drafting of the annual federal budget has become a virtual year - round operation, but a feverish final round of activity in the three weeks before the budget is unveiled to Parliament and the Canadian public.

At this stage, two days before B-Day, perhaps only a half dozen persons know all aspects of the budget statement to be unveiled in the Commons Thursday night.

They would include Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Finance Minister Fleming, and his key associates: Kenneth Taylor, deputy minister; Claude Isbister, assistant deputy minister for taxation; and A. F. W. Plumptre, assistant deputy minister of economics.

LEAKS ARE COSTLY

As the government moves closer to budget day, more persons are let in on the secret, on the theory underlying that it will not be divulged to the public prematurely. A major leak would bring the sudden end to a finance minister's cabinet career. One such case in Britain in 1947 when a "leak" brought the resignation of Hugh Dalton, then chancellor of the exchequer.

Mr. Fleming is understood to be discussing the state of the general trends in his cabinet colleagues a month or so ago. He may well fill them in on all remaining details today or Wednesday.

Inherent in all his discussions is the underlying fact that he will not be divulged to the public prematurely. A major leak would bring the sudden end to a finance minister's cabinet career such as was the case in Britain in 1947 when a "leak" brought the resignation of Hugh Dalton, then chancellor of the exchequer.

British Budget Cuts Taxes As Expected With Visible

LONDON (Reuters)—The government today reduced purchase taxes and cut income taxes on a wide range of consumer goods, including automobiles and television sets.

Derick Heathcoat Amory, chancellor of the exchequer, announced the cuts in the annual budget message to a crowded House of Commons. Newspapers, with an eye on a general election expected later this year, had already predicted the tax cuts.

Income tax changes come into effect on June 30 this year. The purchase tax reductions take effect immediately.

Amory, who fortified himself with a mixture of milk, honey and rum during his marathon address, also announced a tax reduction of two pence (about 19 cents) on a pint of beer. A pint now costs about 30 p. (71 cents) and comes into effect Wednesday.

The standard rate of income tax was cut from 8s 6d (about 96 cents) per cent. This rate, charged on a man's earnings after deductions, will be seven shillings nine pence (about $1.08) on the pound ($2.80—nine pence (08 cents) less than the current rate.

Besides giving a lower rate of income tax, the rate is reduced by six pence (seven cents).

The chancellor said the total tax cuts would cost the government nearly £300,000,000.

"It is as far as I can go in taxation relief," he said.

Purchase tax drops to 50 per cent from 60 for automobiles, for pottery, glassware, records, cosmetics and other such hard goods.

Goods such as watches, bicycles, toys, refrigerators, and jewelry will be taxed 25 per cent instead of 30. The sales tax on kitchenware drops to 12½ per cent from 15.

Amory said his budget was designed to stimulate industrial production, which has shown hardly any gain during the last five years because of anti - inflation moves curtailing credit.

Africans Threaten Rebellion If Rhodesia Made Republic

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—A threat—or possibly a plea—by Prime Minister Sir Roy Welensky to declare Britain's Central African Federation a republic has provoked a bitter political row. Angry protests have come from the federation's African nationalists.

The present political temperature in the Commons, since the African - nationalist rebellion erupted in Nyasaland a month ago.

The secretary of Northern Rhodesia African Representative Council, Titus Mukupo, warned:

"We are fighting that this day he declares this country a republic, that is the day he fails to rule this country. On that day we will declare an African republic."

Mukupo's warning came after Welensky told a newspaper man that the federal president, Sir Roland Northern and Southern Rhodesia, Nyasaland, Bechuanaland, is alone if the British Labor party won the next general election and disbanded agreements made by its Conservative predecessors.

He was referring to 1957 agreements with the British government that it should not legislate for the federation except at the request of the federal government. British Laborites have indicated they are not ready to honor those agreements.

The storm blew up on the eve of the arrival here of the federal Parliament in eight months.

Lord Home, secretary of state for Commonwealth relations, on the possible status of the federation scheduled 1960 revision of the constitution.

Will Produce Electricity Directly From Atomic Power

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A way has been discovered to produce electricity directly from atomic power, a University of Michigan scientist said today.

Robert W. Fidd, Michigan professor of physics, said the discovery already has been tested in the laboratory.

Fidd predicted the development also would pave the way for interplanetary space travel and "star-to-star" trips.

The process does away with the generators, turbines, transformers and generators now used in both conventional and atomic power plants.

Electric power under the process is produced when a special carbide source surrounded by a plasma or electrified gas made from cesium, a metal.

Susan Hayward, David Niven Win Oscars for Best Acting

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Susan Hayward, who once despaired of ever winning an Oscar, and David Niven, after 25 years of pleasing movie audiences, won their Oscar for best actor.

The Brooklyn-born, redhead and the debonair Scotsman received the Academy Awards for their performances in separate films with most of the big names in the entertainment industry. They shared honors with the movie Gigi, which won in every one of the nine categories for which it was nominated — including best picture.

Miss Hayward and British actress Wendy Hiller won Oscars for best supporting performances.

Miss Hayward's big surprise from Ingrid Bergman to Eddie Fisher — showed up for filling in a big-biggest night of the year. The acceptance speeches were so short that the show ended some 20 minutes before its two-hour schedule.

Miss Hayward, 40, hope: "They time this thing with a sun dial."

Miss Hayward got the award for her role of condemned murderess Barbara Graham in I Want Live!

While the picture was being made she sold a reporter, after a long interview: "I'm no longer in the business for Oscars. Just say that. I do it now for the money and the joy of doing a good part."

Niven won his award for playing a pathetic woman-molester in Separate Tables.

Gigi got awards for best picture, best screen play based on material from another medium, costume design, color cinematography, musical score and song.

HINT PRODUCTION ATOMIC BOMBS FOR PEACE JOBS

Would Be Outlet For Canada Uranium

OTTAWA (CP)—J. W. Murphy, chairman of the Commons mines committee, has hinted in the Commons that he favors Canadian production of atomic bombs for peaceful purposes.

The Progressive Conservative MP for Lambton West suggested in debate Monday on research that a Canadian bomb might serve for such projects as the planned underground atomic explosion to separate oil from oil sands in northern Alberta.

Mr. Murphy said Canada, as a producer of 30 per cent of the world's uranium ores, has some certainty of marketing it in three to five years from contracts with the United States end.

He indicated that a Canadian bomb project might result from requirements for uranium for nuclear power, ecclesiastical uses and quantities would provide an outlet for uranium production.

SUGGESTS BOMB HELP

Mr. Murphy suggested that to help pay the required millions of dollars for such a project, Diefenbaker be approached now to share in it.

"Such experiments were made in isolated terms without any reference to the public," he said during this session by Prime Minister Diefenbaker that his government's policy is not to undertake the production of nuclear weapons. "I think that very little Canadian scientists and technicians are quite capable of producing them."

Mr. Murphy suggested $750,000,000 figure "drawn out of a hat"—as the possible cost of a Canadian bomb project. But he was sure the uranium industry would support the idea and in addition to Prime Minister Churchill to get the project launched before the Canadian atoms explosion depending on use of a bomb from the U.S., gets under way.

Stunt Backfires On TV Show, Man Burned

NEW YORK (AP)—A contestant on a nationwide television show suffered burns over 80 per cent of his body from burns suffered when a stunt backfired.

Manfred Hadikin, 28, a builder of Tuckahoe, N.Y., was taking part in a stunt with his wife Monday when he was suddenly wrapped in a flash explosion, in view of television audiences.

The studio was thrown into confusion. The show's host, Jack Barry, Sr., Weber's clothes had caught fire, but this was not the case.

The problem for the show said a match was touched to a long fuse, which would ignite the blindfolded wife was supposed to stamp out. Soon after there was a flash.

Bail-tation Chief Alfred Eckert of the New York City fire department said the flour and sawdust formed an explosive mixture which was ignited by the burning match.

Cairo Declares New Rebellion Flares In Iraq

Report Russia Shipping Kurds Through Canal

LONDON (Reuters) — Cairo radio said today a new revolt has broken out in Iraq and army mutinies are "widespread."

The radio is controlled by President Nasser's United Arab Republic, at odds with Premier Gen. Abdul Karim Kassem's leftist Iraqi regime.

Earlier, Egyptian newspapers under huge red banner headlines reported Russian "volunteers" are being hurried to Iraq to defend the Kassem government.

Cairo radio claimed "a fierce battle" is going on in the oil town of Kirkuk, northern Iraq. Rebel forces were said to control the northern part of the town.

REPORT MUTINIES

The radio said Iraqi refugees arriving in Syria, a part of the United Arab Republic, reported "a revolutionary movement has broken out against Prime Minister Kassem and mutinies in the Iraqi army are widespread."

"Certain army forces have joined the rebels and the chief of Shammar and Jabbour with their equipment and armor."

Cairo radio said government planes attacked one northern Iraq town, Ramadi.

It said a "great number" of rebels and government troops have been killed.

Kassem's government, which overthrew the monarchy last July, crushed an earlier revolt led by pro-Nasser elements in northern Iraq last month.

CAIRO (AP) — Reports that Soviet-armed Kurdish subsemen are being shipped through the Suez Canal to Iraq aroused speculation today that Russia is helping Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem put down a pro-Communist foreign legion.

Egyptian authorities said three Soviet ships—one carrying 850 fully-armed Kurds and the other having crates of arms—have passed through the Canal on Sunday bound for Iraq's big Persian Gulf port of Basra.

The Kurds, though not Arabs, are scattered through Arab regions as well as into the Soviet Union and make up 1,000,000 of Iraq's 6,000,000 people.—Many have long dreamed of carving out their own nation of the areas of northern Iraq, western Iran and eastern Turkey which they inhabit.

PARDONS OFFERED

In Baghdad today, Kassem promised a pardon to any member of the powerful Shammar tribe who seeks it. The Shammar tribesmen have been in the forefront of the revolt in northern Iraq last week, fired by Arab and have since been reported in border battles with Arab and Kurdish forces loyal to Premier Kassem government. Maj-Gen. Kassem gave the pardon offer in a radio broadcast.

Observers at Port Said reported the tribesmen joined Kurdish rebels were Soviet citizens of Kurdish origin. The Middle East News Agency said the Soviet Kurds were trained in guerrilla fighting.

The agency, without giving any source, said more Soviet ships carrying groups of Communists are expected to hit Port Said en route to Iraq.

There was no foreign confirmation of the Egyptian reports. Nasser has been waging a bitter propaganda against Kassem, accusing the Iraqi premier of letting the Communists get the upper hand in Iraq.

Cairo papers say the mission of the Soviet-armed Kurds is said to be to oppose Arab nationalists in Iraq who want to see the Iraqi country closer to the U.A.R. and Nasser.

MYSTERIOUS REMARK

AP correspondent Stan Carter reported from Bagdad—in a dispatch which through censorship — that Kassem predicted three nights ago "we shall have a very serious revolution in the state machinery this month."

Carter said the revolutionary leader did not elaborate on his remarks, but he assumed apparently to mean such development projects as dam and road building which Kassem has announced will be undertaken, carrying on for Iraq might be a source for the arming of anti-Russian experts.

Russian experts and British oil and Allied diplomats are concerned lest Kassem demand a bigger share of the profits from the foreign companies which control hot oil fields.

Sons of Freedom Deny Giving Up Plan to Migrate

NELSON, B.C. (CP) — British Columbia's radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors have sent a telegram to the Soviet Embassy at Ottawa branding as false press reports that they intend to abandon plans to go to Russia, leaders of the second sect said today.

The telegram was sent by Peter Elasoff, secretary of the sect's "spiritual committee" of elders.

Mike Hadikan, chairman of a meeting of the Sons of Freedom Friday at which RCMP were handed a brief to be delivered to the federal government.

Reports Saturday from the sect's stockton headquarters in Grand Forks said the brief contained a statement that the Freedomites did not wish to change their plans for a mass migration to Russia.

Elasoff and Hadikin said in their telegram the reports were false distortion of the brief. However, declined comment when asked what the brief actually contained and said nothing would be released until a response has been received from the Soviet government.

Other Freedomites refused to discuss the brief, but one gave the impression it asked government assistance in getting Stefan Sorokin, spiritual leader of the sect, from Uruguay.

Sorokin is held in Canada, supposedly to find a homeland for his followers in South America.

Firemen Want To Re-Open Wages Question

Claiming that wage discussions with the city were not finalized before completion of next year's tax budget and the first they had known of what they were in receive was when they read it in the newspaper, Belleville city firemen want to re-open wage negotiations with city council.

Representatives of the local fireman's union appeared before council last evening with the request that negotiations be resumed. They said no agreement had been reached as to hours and wages.

Fireman Irvine Browning, spokesman for the group, said it had been an "embarrassing position" to hear the firemen's wage scale had been decided by council when no agreement had actually been reached with the local.

He observed that firemen work 16 hours more per week than men in any other city department and that the union was prepared to carry on negotiations under the procedure suggested by city manager Drury Denyes.

Later in the meeting Mayor Gerald Hyde asked firemen had asked about the board of arbitrators' recent increase but council had felt a $300 increase was adequate.

With the increase granted by council a captain of the department now receives $4,325 and an inspector $4,185. A first year fireman receives $3,000 and the next year $3,565; third year, $3,715 and a first class fireman $4,000 per year.

Complete City Re-assessment Gets Approval of Council

A complete re-assessment of the entire city to commence as soon as possible and to be completed by September 1963, has been approved by city council in committee.

The re-assessment would take in all properties, including residential, commercial and industrial and would be carried out by the city assessment department. If additional help is required the assessment department would be authorized to secure the needed assistance.

Assessment Commissioner Leighton Thompson said the re-assessment would get under-way this summer with a start expected to be made on Bridge Street. He said he still offered all types of properties except industry.

He was unable to say whether assessments generally would increase but indicated there was a strong possibility that land assessments would be upped.

Land values had increased four or five times in recent years as opposed to about a two times increase for buildings. By the same token he was unable to say whether assessment on old residences would be increased.

Such matters would all have to be worked out on studies to be made, he said. The Department of Municipal Affairs assessment manual would be used for the re-assessment.

Mr. Thompson noted that it was important that the public be advised as to what the assessment department was trying to do. In this way much good will could be created among property owners.

Although the re-assessment would be carried out over the next three years, the actual effect of the assessment would be withheld until the program was completed. Then the complete new assessment would take effect as the same time.

Familiar Names Disappear From Annexed Area Streets

Such familiar names as Marshall Road, O.S.D. Lane, Kingston Road, and Trenton Road will disappear from the map of Belleville in the program of street re-naming being undertaken as the result of annexation.

Under the program over 30 street names in the new city area are to be changed, some because of duplication of names in the old city area and others simply because a change was deemed advisable.

The report of the special committee on street re-naming, headed up by Alderman William Argue, was presented to council committee last night and received with approval of members. However, Ald. Argue said any actual changes felt advisable could still be made.

Under the proposed program, Marshall Road will become Bridge Street, West; the O. S. D. Lane will be known as Palmer Road for its entire length; Kingston Road will become an extension of Dundas Street, East, and what was formerly known as Trent Road will become Dundas Street, West.

Routes of No. 14 highway and No. 37 highway within the new city limits will become North Front Street and Canniffon Road respectively.

Names of prominent Belleville families will be perpetuated in the new schedule of streets.

In the former Sidney township area Sidney Street will become Pepper Ave., and William Street will be known as Tripp Ave., thus honoring local families whose sons paid the supreme sacrifice during World War II.

Brown Street in Parkdale will become McFarland Drive; Joseph Street will become William Ave., and the name Joseph will be given what is now James Street in the former Sidney township area.

To avoid duplication with streets in the Bayview area, numbered streets in the former Hillcrest area will get new names.

First Street will become Bayron Street; Second Street will be known as Safe Street; Third Street will be known as Robin Drive; and Fourth Street will become Marsden Road.

University Avenue, in former Hillcrest will be known as Franklin Avenue.

North James Street in the former College Hall area will become Prince of Wales Road, thus carrying the same name as the public school on the same street. George Street in former Thurlow township will be known as Carman Road and an unnamed street in Hillcrest will become Rue Dumont.

It's a minor change, but residents of Selena Drive in former Sidney Township got together and decided they would like their drive called Selena Ave.

Curling Club Expected to Pay Taxes

The Quinte Curling Club will be expected to pay full municipal taxes the same as any other private club in the city.

This was the consensus of city fathers Monday evening after a letter from the curling club appeared on the agenda asking that a grant be made to the club in lieu of taxes. Taxes on the curling club property at the commercial rate of .96% mills would amount to $831.16, it was stated.

"If this consideration is given to the curling club, then the Quinte Skating Club should be treated the same way," observed Alderman George Wishart.

"And also the C.N.R.B.A.A." added Alderman Carman.

"The Belleville Yacht Club is exempt," noted Alderman Dr. J. Forrester.

General opinion of aldermen was that the curling club was a private organization, not a charitable one, and should expect to pay regular taxes. No action was taken on the request other than referral to the matter back to the city manager.

MISS ETHEL E. RICHMOND
(Madoc)

The funeral of Miss Ethel R. Richmond, lifelong resident of Madoc, was held on Friday afternoon, April 3rd from the MacKenzie Funeral Home to Trinity United Church where a service was conducted by Rev. R. A. Milley. There were many beautiful floral tributes and the funeral was largely attended. A silent testimony to the high esteem in which the deceased was held in her community. On Thursday evening a Rebekah Lodge service was held in the Funeral Home under the direction of Oakdale Rebekah Lodge, Madoc. Interment took place in the family plot, Lakeview Cemetery.

Bearers were: Thomas Lakey, John Bristol, G. C. Moon, Leo Ney, Harold Bristoll, Fred Fleming.

JIM MCGRATH.

Mr Jim McGrath of Marysville died in St. Mary's-of-the-Lake Hospital, Lake Dore, on Monday, April 6th, 1959. He had been in failing health for three years.

Born in Ireland 84 years ago, Mr. McGrath, a widower, had been the victim of the Holy Name of Mary Church in Marysville for a number of years, when health permitted. He was active in the work of the church and was a member of the Holy Name Society.

He is survived by a son, George, of Dartmouth, N.S., and a daughter, Mary, also of Dartmouth.

Resting at the George F. Davies Funeral Chapel, 30 Moira West, Belleville. Funeral arrangements appear elsewhere in this edition.

City's Share Will Be Paid By Debenture

Belleville's share of the cost of the proposed new Hastings County Courthouse, amounting to an estimated $200,000, will be paid by the issuing of debentures for the relief during a five year period.

This was decided last night by city council at their regular bi-monthly committee meeting when the matter was briefly discussed. City Manager Drury S. Denyes told council that the courthouse project would have been the city would pay its share of the courthouse cost at this time but it was expected construction would go ahead this year.

Mr. Denyes recommended that the money for the city's share of the cost be raised by debentures for a maximum of ten years and council approved his suggestion.

Plans for the new courthouse are now being drawn by a Toronto firm of architects and are expected to be presented to county council for approval of that body at their April meeting.

Quinte Retarded Children's Group Holds Meeting

TRENTON — Arthur Holdsworth, president of the Oshawa Retarded Children's Association, was the speaker at the meeting of the Quinte Association for Retarded Children held at the Queen Elizabeth School, Trenton, last night.

Keynote of the meeting was the emphasis on the great necessity to open the eyes of the public in Trenton to the great good being done in their midst by the Quinte Association for Retarded Children.

Fred Stovell, chairman, said in his opening remarks that there were two classes of retarded children from Trenton and Belleville under instruction and it is expected to have three by Fall. The advisability of locating this third class in Trenton, accommodation could be found for it was stressed by Mr. Stovell.

Also present at the meeting was V. P. Cragg, superintendent of Trenton Public Schools, who spoke briefly on the problems in the past and the proposed class. When the new public school, which is being built in Trenton, is ready, said Mr. Carswell, a room would be available in the Eastern School. Failing this, he said a room might be found in the basement of College Street School. He also said education was needed in Trenton as to the Quinte Retarded Children's Association was doing.

Keith Ralston spoke on the Regional 8 Committee which he had attended as a delegate.

Arthur Ward spoke on an educational committee in Toronto which he had attended.

Mr. Ralston then introduced Mr. Holdsworth, who has come from Oshawa, accompanied by Mrs. Holdsworth, Mrs. Swinson and Mrs. Yolle.

TELLS OF WORK

Mr. Holdsworth showed most interesting coloured films of the school for retarded children at Peterborough which "entailed four classrooms, cost $45,000, and was endless saw retarded children and retarded young adults in many activities in the school, including a birthday party, picnic and cookery lessons. Examples of work being done by these retarded youngsters who are trained to take part in the life of the community were also shown, a great interest by those present.

Mr. Holdsworth then spoke of the school which is coming in to being in Oshawa, which is to have six rooms and will cost $70,000. He enquired if any service club in Trenton had been asked to sponsor the association, and said that in Oshawa both large and small clubs had been giving most generous help.

"Let your cause be known, forcefully," said the speaker.

Mr. Stovell thanked the speaker. Mr. Stovell said that the Trenton Dramatic Group was giving a benefit performance of Emlyn Williams' play, "Night Must Fall," on April 24 and 25 and that 25 per cent of the proceeds would go to the Quinte Retarded Children's Association.

He remarked that anyone interested in the Association, whether active or non-active should become a member by paying $1.50 to Mrs. Coulombe, 9 Reynolds Crescent, Belleville. Tag day for the association would be held in Trenton on June 13, announced Mr. Stovell, and helpers in Trenton would be needed for this.

Mr. Stovell thanked Mr. Carswell for his presence, for allowing free use of the school, and for his offers of future help.

OPPOSE FARE BOOST

WINDSOR (CP) — Windsor and Detroit have decided to unite in opposing a proposed fare increase for the Detroit - Windsor auto tunnel. Each city has filed a petition opposing the increase with the Board of Transport Commissioners in Ottawa.

ing service. It operates so rapidly each telephone user believes he is enjoying the undivided attention of the switchboard. But there is in reality a sharing — timesharing.

To perform this job, the master uses two separate kinds of memory — long and short. The short memory is consulted about how to set up the connection when switching devices and lines must be brought into use.

Mr. Eadie listed these advantages:

"Above all it will be tremendously flexible, offering much more varied services than present installations are able to. For example, you could give it instructions to call up 50 numbers each day at a specific time—one after the other.

"What an opportunity for the bookmaker with a lot of good friends—and a little time on her hands.

"It will also be able to route your calls to another number if you're going to be away from home—at a bridge game or even a poker session. And it will keep an eye on a busy number until it can put your call through.

"It is also our hope that electronic switching will make considerably the physical bulk and capital cost of the telephone exchange of the future."

Will Request Water Meterage Be Discontinued

As the result of complaints on the part of city residents who claim they are being penalized by having domestic water requirements metered while industrial consumers are not, a petition was circulated to the public utilities commission to discontinue the use of domestic water meters.

Mr. Robinette agreed and said he understood 75 per cent of Ontario's metered water users were committed under section 35.

Mr. Robinette argued that the provincial legislation was sound and can be applied in arrests under the Criminal Code because there is treatment, not punishment. It fell within the province's jurisdiction as a mental health program.

In discussion arose during preliminary consideration of Mr. Justice Ferguson's 97-page Ontario Royal Commission report on Metropolitan Toronto and Crown Attorney Kenneth Leslie.

Final argument is not expected until later this week with Toronto lawyer Lewis Duncan appearing for Mr. Kennedy. Lawyer Campbell Grant of Walkerton is assisting Mr. Robinette's appeal on behalf of all five appellants.

Fees Not Paid, Students Locked Out of School

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Almost half the enrolment of Catholic Central High School grades 11, 12 and 13 was locked out of classrooms here Monday for failure to pay fees.

Parents were sent home when the $50 fee for the 1958-59 term was unpaid at the deadline.

The cost of educating a student in the Roman Catholic High school is calculated at $160 a term, of which the parents pay $50 and the balance comes from the parish.

The fee system, in effect since the city separate Catholic secondary school opened, applies only to students of grades 11, 12 and 13.

Says Province Has Interest In Civil Case

TORONTO (CP) — Attorney General Roberts should take a look at a recent court ruling which challenges Ontario's legislation covering committal of insane persons, an Appeal Court judge has suggested.

Mr. Justice J. F. Shoesdee made the comment Monday as Toronto lawyer John Robinette appealed a decision by Mr. Justice R. I. Ferguson assessing damages of $5,153 against five persons sued by former William Lyle Kennedy of Arran Township in Bruce County.

Mr. Kennedy claimed damages for malicious prosecution and for unlawful arrest when he was convicted of vagrancy last May and sent to a mental hospital for examination.

Mr. Justice Ferguson in a January judgment said Magistrate O. C. McClevis—one of the defendants—was wrong in ordering an examination for Mr. Kennedy because he had been arrested under the federal Criminal Code and not a provincial statute.

Section 35 of Ontario's Mental Hospitals Act permits committal for mental examination can be ordered for any person "if he is arrested with or without warrant and charged with any offence."

Mr. Robinette challenged the judge's ruling Monday, Mr. Justice Schroeder declared: "That's a constitutional question. I think the attorney-general should be interested in this."

Mr. Robinette argued and said he understood 75 per cent of Ontario's mental patients were committed under section 35.

Mr. Robinette argued that the provincial legislation was sound and can be applied in arrests under the Criminal Code because there is treatment, not punishment. It fell within the province's jurisdiction as a mental health program.

In discussion arose during preliminary consideration of Mr. Justice Ferguson's 97-page Ontario Royal Commission report on Metropolitan Toronto and Crown Attorney Kenneth Leslie.

Constable Ivan Wade and Crown Attorney Ken Leslie.

Final argument is not expected until later this week with Toronto lawyer Lewis Duncan appearing for Mr. Kennedy. Lawyer Campbell Grant of Walkerton is assisting Mr. Robinette's appeal on behalf of all five appellants.

City and PUC Dispute Blame For Road Break

Whether it is the responsibility of the city public works department or that of the public utilities commission to repair a large hole in the roadway in the Crestview - Bertram district has occurred following a break in the utility watermain, is being considered by insurance adjusters.

According to reports heard last night at city council, the watermain break which occurred several weeks ago undermined the roadway with the result that the surface settled and a large hole appeared.

The hole has since been filled in by Deputy Engineer Malcolm Turnbull feels that when the frost is out completely a big section of the roadway will collapse with repair costs possibly running to $2,000.

Mr. Turnbull feels the hole in the road resulted from the water break and as a result it is the responsibility of the utilities commission to make repairs.

On the other hand the utilities commission was quoted as saying the break in the road was not the result of the watermain break and denying responsibility for road repairs.

District Roads Affected By Winter Weather

Extreme weather conditions during the past winter with long periods of zero weather, combined with heavy falls of frost roads and high-axle.

Macedon pavement on highway No. 33 and on No. 33 in the Concession district of Prince Edward are in particularly suffering from severe frost boils with long stretches of roadway in some areas completely broken up.

Highway patrolmen are going what they can to make temporary repairs until the spring break-up period is passed but in the meantime "bump" signs mean just what they are supposed to indicate.

Obituary

WILLIAM CHARLES OSTROM

Mr. William Charles Ostrom, 23 Gilbert Street, Belleville, beloved husband of Marie Casselman, died suddenly at his home this morning, Tuesday, April 7th, 1959.

Born in this city 63 years ago, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Abram Ostrom, he had resided here all his life.

Mr. Ostrom and Mr. Ostrom leaves to mourn his death one daughter, Mrs. Harry (Dorothy) Wooler; two sons, John S. Ostrom of New Toronto and Carl W. Ostrom of Detroit; one sister, Mrs. Jack (Georgina) Vrooman of Toronto; one brother, Clarence Ostrom of Belleville.

Mr. Ostrom was a member of the Anglican Church. For many years he was a valued employee of Corbin's Loan here, retiring in 1951.

Resting at the John R. Bush Funeral Home; the funeral arrangements are not complete. An announcement appears elsewhere in this issue.

Budget Paring Will Eliminate "Free" Work

Paring of the city public works budget to the bone minimum in order to keep the city tax rate as low as possible will rule out any free culverts or free gravel and stone for city-owned parts of private driveways.

This was agreed Monday night at city council committee meeting after councillors were asked to set a definite policy on the matter of free services for residents.

The effect of the policy making will be felt mostly in the newly annexed areas of the city where many homes are being built and where roadways and sidewalks are not completed.

In the past in many instances it had been the custom of the city works department to provide free culverts where necessary at driveways and also to provide free gravel and stone for the city-owned portion of private driveways.

City Engineer Malcolm Turnbull said the 1959 public works budget is a minimum budget just would not allow continuance of this practice.

Neither will there be any free fill to level up holes or other depressions on the street right of way outside of the travelled portion of the road. This applies mainly where there is no sidewalk.

Tree planting, flushing and rodding of sanitary sewers will be carried on as formerly but three free flushing or rodding operations per year to be provided.

Where sewer laterals have to be dug up this will be done by the public works department on a pay basis as at present.

Also installation of driveway culverts will provided that stone and gravel for driveways will be done on a payment basis.

Salvation Army 'Adventures' Outlined to Rotary Club

Sr. Major Arnold Brown of the Salvation Army was the guest and main speaker at the weekly dinner meeting of the Belleville Rotary Club. A description of several new "adventures" in servicing the needs of society was given by the one-time Belleville resident.

One of these "adventures" has just successfully concluded its experimental phase in London, Ontario. That is the "Children's Village"; a new method which the Salvation Army devised to give children from broken homes the experience and benefits of a family life in a wholesome environment. Instead of dormitories, mass feeding and grouping of individuals with others of their own age and sex, this new approach involves the creation of family units, headed by a husband and wife team, who may or may not have children of their own, housed in a normal individual cottage or house. There may be up to fifteen children of a family with the children of assorted ages and sex, just as they would be in a real family.

The success of the London pilot project has been well established and the Salvation Army is now in the process of converting all of their children's centres over to the cottage unit like "Children's Village" type of operation.

The other "adventure" the Salvation Army which Major Brown described is one which we just launched here a year ago when Ontario's Attorney-General Kelso Roberts opened the House of Concord in Lansing, near Toronto. This place has been established as a rehabilitation solution for the problem confronting a judge when a person is brought before him in court whom the court feels may be straightened out without being sent to prison but who obviously does not have a chance of being set free on probation and allowed to return to his home environment.

The House of Concord aims at providing a residence for about 12 months, where they may place them in this home while under probation. Here is a place for people who are or school age will receive their education from qualified teachers. Those boys who have completed their schooling will be given help in finding a job to suit; boys who held a job at the time of their conviction may be allowed to continue with their job but obliged to reside in the home for the period of which off the job. There is a special daily bus service into Toronto to allow the latter to get to work. They return via the same bus at 5:30 p.m. Each bedroom has a radio.

Presently there are 19 boys who have been placed in this home since the House of Concord opened last month. The residence will be able to accommodate around 60-odd persons. The initial stages of the project are a great success and there is some interest in the creation of similar residences under government subsidy in several of the western provinces.

Major Brown also spoke briefly on the work of the Harbor Light Missions in the work of rehabilitating alcoholics. An excellent documentary movie "Out of the Shadow" was shown to those present. It was an authentic story concerning the complete rehabilitation of a Vancouver man who had once been a Skid Row bum. The scenes were filmed in the very location where, but a few years previously, this man, who played the part in the film, had once existed.

The National Publicity Representative for the Salvation Army was introduced by Newt Thompson. At once Major Brown's employer before the Army entered the work of the "Army" on a full-time basis.

The Reverend Ralph Middleton ably thanked the speaker for his talk and film showing. He commended favourably on the work of the Salvation Army.

The fourth speaker of the evening was Frank Ruggle who gave a brief account of his visit to a Rotary convention in West Virginia. Art Francis introduced the guest pianist Tom Willis and Jack Ireland were honored by the visits on the occasion of their birthdays.

A sing-song led by Bill Hurst accompanied by Gaby Boyce at the piano.

A new member, Dr. McCabe of Belleville, Belleville's Health Officer, was introduced to the club in the absence of Jack Vanneer, club president, Fred Wilson took on the duties of chairman of the meeting. Grace was given by Harold Mott.

Sleeping Driver Hurt When Car Overturns

Losing control of his car when he fell asleep at the wheel, Gerald Parker, Tyrone, was forced a cut hand and a broken collar bone in the early hours on No. 401 highway this morning.

Mr. Benson was on his way home from Toronto where he had taken his aunt and uncle to catch a plane. He was eastbound on 401 when his car went out of control, rolled over a couple of times and came to rest on the shoulder of the highway. He was taken to the Belleville General Hospital by Bush's Ambulance.

EXPLOITED OR EXPLOITER?

J. M. Appleton, vice-president of the Quaker Oats Co. of Canada, says the belief that Canadian farmers are been exploited by city dwellers has not been true for 200 years.

There is just enough truth in this statement to give rise to the danger that the accompanying error may be missed.

Determining who is the exploiter and who is the exploited is a difficult question, requiring exhaustive analysis, and by the time this study is completed the conditions on which the conclusion is based may no longer be true.

We suspect that the farmer has been both the exploited and the exploiter at differing periods of our history - - and perhaps both at the same time, in different fields.

Mr. Appleton states that urban residents pay most of the taxes in our present society. That, however, can hardly be said to provide convincing proof of his claim that the farmer is not exploited. Corporations pay a major share of the taxes and almost all of them have their offices located in urban centres. Even if the reference by Mr. Appleton was intended to apply to taxes paid by individuals, the farmer might argue that the fact the urban resident paid heavier taxes only indicated that urban residents had larger incomes.

The question of whether or not farmers are exploited is much too involved to be either proven or disproven by such a simple method as reference to the amount of taxes paid.

BORED MAN'S MISTAKE

Female dancers of Les Ballets Africains, from Guinea, have been ordered to cover their bosoms for their performances in Montreal.

The order was issued by Lieut. Lucien Quintal, head of Montreal's morality squad. Lieut. Quintal was apparently sticking to his customary yardstick - - how many inches of bosoms are permissible providing the semi-nude does not move. This is the same yardstick as that used in England. If predominantly French Montreal had adopted an English custom, it is a pity that it chose the wrong one. Surely a moment's reflection would have revealed that a bare bosom adds to its obscenity more than it does to its ostensibly more objectionable contention. In any case Lieut. Quintal declared that Les Ballets Africains was neither obscene nor suggestive - - to him it was just boring.

Everyone who viewed these dancers in other cities have lauded their performance entranceing.

Now, however, they will have to perform native dances, what Lieut. Quintal calls "that savage mumbo-jumbo," in attire as out of place as a top hat on Hamlet. Which gives us an idea. Perhaps Ghana could enact a law which compel the Stratford festival players to perform in the semi-nude if they present "Othello" or "Midsummer Night's Dream" in Ghana audience. Turn about is fair play.

TV BLACKOUT

We wish the residents of Tewin, in Hertfordshire, England, had had the wits to remain silent.

They have complained that when the lights in the Tewian parish church are switched on, the voltage at nearby houses drops so much that they cannot watch television.

Now we suspect that this is just a coincidence, the result of a defect in the wiring arrangements, but by their insistence on their right to watch television at any time the residents of Tewin have placed all in jeopardy.

What an ideal system this would be for introducing effective system of television censorship! If they could get the secret from the rector of Tewin, almost any organization could set itself up as the guardian of the television morals of a community. We can also suggest the modus for groups wishing to black out undesirable programs: "Let there be light!"

THE GARDEN

By EDGAR A. GUEST

You're planning now their garden,
Their minds they see it grow;
They are planning beds of pansies
And for sweet peas in a row.
And they're planning a pond for lilies—
It's the latest garden fad;
And a bigger show of asters
Than before they'd ever had.
They'll have beets to give the neighbors,
They'll have Brussels sprouts to grow;
They'll have cauliflower and kohlrabi,
And they'll have a row of hoe.

When the ground he starts to turn,
All the blossoms that are blooming
In the catalogs today
Will make redolent their garden
When the frosts have passed away.

It's a pleasant winter pastime,
Planning gardens for the spring;
For it's then the back yard's fertile
And the soil grows everything.
But when April days have passed us
And the sun is climbing high,
Dinner's worth of nasturtiums
He will wander forth to buy.

Holiday Cruise To Historic Caribbean

By G. A. MORTON
ARTICLE 2

Our stateroom, we found, were large, well furnished including a desk, dresser, with windows about eighteen by four inches, lots of closet space, a single bed in each and a bathroom with shower. The rooms adjoined the captain's quarters on the upper deck and to say that we were pleased with what we saw is putting it mildly.

Captain Coltan then took us down to the second deck and introduced us to the nine passengers who were in the lounge. We would like to give their names and addresses as some of them may be known to people in this area. Two of them, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moulte of Toronto are friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fuke who are well known in Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Simpson also of the city. Mr. Simpson is manager of the Belleville branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, replacing Mr. Fuke who moved to that city.

The other passengers, besides ourselves, were: Major and Mrs. Stephen Gittus of Quebec City; Miss Edna Kelly, Montreal; Dr. and Mrs. W. Riggs of Mount Hope, Ontario and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Scott, Cowansville, Que.

The lounge over twenty feet wide and square was lined with mahogany and furnished with comfortable chairs, settees and tables, the latter with ash trays, conveniently placed to the floor. There was a library section well filled with books and magazines, a radio and record player with a large selection of records and a piano. Adjoining the lounge was a small bar completely equipped with stools and fully upholstered seats with windows above the bar. Opening off the lounge was an attractive dining room large enough for four tables with windows on two sides and a long sideboard on one wall.

SITTING FOR A MEAL

Fifteen persons could be served at one sitting and there was only one sitting per meal except besides the passengers and the captain, the first officer and chief engineer also took their meals here. Two stewardesses served the meals which were prepared in the kitchens one deck below the lounge. There were 27 of us were also cooked here and were substantially the same minus name of the menus which the passengers enjoyed.

All the passenger accommodations was located amidships.

Here, too, deep in the hull were the auxiliary motors and generators which supplied power and light for cooking and heating and all the living quarters for no steam was used except for cooking. Each had a window motor for propelling the ship was located in the same housing.

Below the lounge and adjacent description of such a ship gives a better idea of what can be expected on board a cargo boat in comparison with a passenger vessel. There were twelve, had complete bathroom facilities. Each had a window and fans to give enough ventilation even in the sultry weather of the tropics. There was the only passenger accommodation on the upper deck but this was reserved probably because we made reservations early enough to get a first stateroom. The officers' cabins were on the deck below along with the lounge.

Deck space is necessarily limited on freighters so it is not possible to get things exercise by walking although that does not mean we were cramped. We were permitted to use deck chairs on the bridge deck which is not generally on passenger ships. Awning protected this area from the hot sun and it was very pleasant to use this space occasionally in the morning. Another exercise space was available on the lower deck where there was shuffleboard court and more freedom for moving about. Below this lower deck was the hold after leaving St. John we did not reach one occasion where more than two or three used the bridge deck. Such is human nature that it had been restricted there likely would have been some grousing but as it happened everyone was happy with the prospect that the privilege could be made use of if desired.

The meal routine was always pleasant. The passengers and any of the ship's officers who could get away from their duties usually gathered in the lounge a half hour before lunch and dinner for cocktails or other beverages. This custom helped to make getting acquainted at the beginning of the voyage, particularly, easy and without formality. Soon after the meal coffee was served in the lounge. Cards and other games were played for awhile or we just listened to some of the very good records according to the mood.

AFTERNOON TEA

Every afternoon at four, tea and cookies were served in the lounge but no hot drinks such as bouillon were served during the morning. One of the stewardesses was on duty until ten p.m. to provide tea, cold drinks or coffee. After that hour anyone could go into the pantry and get ice from the refrigerator. Thus it can be seen that no one suffered from lack of nourishment or beverages during the voyage.

The two main meals were served at 12:30 and six o'clock and always six and seven courses with second helpings if desired. Breakfast was equally bountiful with a choice of fruit or juices, cereals cooked to suit any, eggs in all the familiar forms with omelettes, bacon or ham, fresh baked bread or toast, jam and marmalade and each table always had a large container of coffee. Contrary to some ideas we have read the coffee was invariably bad and strong enough to satisfy everyone.

Is it any wonder we all had reducing troubles after our return?

To be continued tomorrow.

Missile-Mail Is Proposed

Montreal Gazette

West German missile experts have proposed that a West European six-nation missile organization open "postal rockets" to deliver mail quickly enough to pay its way. The German proposal has been well-received.

In the United States, the use of guided missiles to carry supplies or weapons will soon be tested with special missiles designed for the purpose. An obvious next step would be to use Canadian use for carrying mail. It is reported that arrangements are now being made by the Post Office Department and the Pentagon to begin preliminary tests this year.

The American plan is to use guided missiles which would be radio-controlled at all times. Hundreds of military tests have proved the reliability and accuracy of such missiles, which operate on jet engine power and can be used over and over again.

"It is astounding to us, the rocket pioneers," said one of the German team recently, "that the economic possibilities of rockets have been pushing into the background . . . the world seems to be overlooking the two most logical functions of a rocket — the transport of post and passengers."

Passengers may prefer to wait a few years to see how the postal service gets on.

BEGINNING WITH THE INDIVIDUAL

Much of the potency has gone out of modern preaching because it often consists of little more than the setting forth of the preacher's ideas on social and economic questions, or is a plous exhortation to the congregation that they be kind and good. That is justice, but justice through righteousness are of the Christian gospel, no one can deny. But these are not the Christian gospel, they are the fruits of the gospel. God sent His Son into the world to save men's souls in the stupendous experience of forgiveness. From this has followed a truth everything else in the gospel springs. Love, concern for men's souls, and then saved men nations.

go forth with the same remedy in an attempt to save the world. In this fresh setting in this profession, are evils eliminated, indolence defeated, 'and cruelties thrust aside.

The gospel of Jesus Christ is not an exhortation but a proclamation. God is in the world working out the perfect plan which He originally created. It all starts with the individual. Problems of society are solved in mass production, we like to think of multitudes being redeemed, great evils swept aside and a better order of life emerging. But it doesn't work that way. God's projects start with individuals and go on to embrace

THE PACKSAD

By GREGORY CLARK

The prosperous father of a family of four sons and one daughter has had an interesting experience with one of the four sons. In keeping with the traditions of prosperity, three of the sons and the daughter went to the university and then were launched on business and professional careers. But the fourth son has balked at education ever since boyhood. All he wanted to do was be a farmer. That was one of his teens all he wanted to do in spring, summer and fall was live in camp. And in winter he haunted the museums, avidly studying the animals, birds, plants. He did not want to be a biologist. He just wanted to live with the wild, primitive world.

"So," says the father, he is a failure, sometimes driving trucks and tractors, for eating money, trapping in winter, partner of an experienced prospector in summer, having a wonderful happy life entirely to his liking. At first we were distressed. But the more I think about it, the more pleased I am. Because, if our statements are really serious, and if the civilized world is really in peril of disaster, then it is a comforting thought that at least one adventurous family is becoming competent to survive, and to pass on others to survive, in a primitive state deprived of all the conveniences that are now considered our way of life. I think the time has come when every family should have one member up in the bush."

MANY HOLLYWOOD STARS HAVE THEIR TEETH CAPPED

"Dear Dr. Molner: Why is it that movie actors and actresses, television performers and public speakers in general always appear to have a perfect set of teeth, though by the age of some of them, I know that many must wear false ones? Is there any special type of denture? — Mrs. H.F."

Can you tell the difference between a $7.95 dress and a Paris original that cost $500? Of course you can.

It's the same with teeth. But to let you in on a secret, a lot of stars have their own teeth—they've only had a lot of work done to make them all even and gleaming. "Capping" is one method. The root and a part of each of a tooth is retained, and an artificial cap, or artificial outside of the tooth, is then applied. It is painstaking dental work, and most of us are satisfied with teeth that chew, without demanding flawless appearance also. As we used to say, you pays your money and you takes your choice.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Recently our 4-year-old son had a penicillin shot and fainted while still in the doctor's office. Once a person has a reaction to penicillin, is there any real danger if he has more shots? — F.E."

Yes. He should avoid penicillin. Happily there are other antibiotics that will be effective but will not cause the reaction that occurs in a penicillin-sensitive person.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please comment on a person who, no matter how many hours of sleep he has the night before, is quite likely to go to sleep holding a cup of coffee in the breakfast table, or going to sleep while talking to a friend on the telephone, or talking a bath. Is tells me he is actually unable to control this. — V.M."

When this sort of case comes up — and it does from time to time — my first question is: Has his metabolism been checked lately, as well as his general physical condition? Are there signs of hypothyroidism, anemia, or chronic infection? These are common possible causes.

There is, of course, the possibility of narcolepsy, which is an unconscionable desire to sleep. But I also always ask this question: Are you sure the patient is getting enough sleep, regularly? Being sleepy one day is understandable enough. But the fellow who tries to get along with too little sleep, and succumbs for a limited time, may finally fall asleep from sheer exhaustion.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Would you explain how a person can get vitamin poisoning? And what vitamin? — R.H."

Just by taking too much. Some people, knowing that vitamins in small daily quantities are healthful, take an excessive number of capsules, thinking that more will be better. Too much Vitamin D can cause changes in bone and blood calcium. Another one that can cause trouble, if taken to excess, is Vitamin A. Both of these are "fat-soluble" vitamins and are readily stored in the body. The water soluble vitamins like B and C are less readily stored by the body, so the excess from large doses is eliminated.

There is a tendency toward overdosage with vitamins. They are not a cure-all, and if one is satisfied that his vitamin supplements are not really necessary—

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can anything be done to reduce high blood pressure in a man of 71? I may have driver's license suspended because of it. I live clean and very seldom taste liquor. — E.M."

The only answer is, "Yes," depending on how high pressure can be reduced." Medicines in the last few years have at last begun to be developed for this. I don't say it always can be controlled but I do say I'd certainly have a try with my doctor rather than give up without a struggle.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, send for my booklet, "Ear Noises—Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

TODAY'S TALK

DO IT!

All through life we are constantly stopped to make some sort of a decision. Sometimes the Evangelist, speaks over and over again of "the Hour of decision." We meet such hours often suddenly, and must gain or lose by these decisions.

How many times I have been confronted with a decision and wondered what I should do. Sometimes I have learned to listen to an invisible voice, which I define as "Inner Wisdom" — and that is what that voice says: Do it! Calgary Mayor Admits Receiving Personal Gifts

CALGARY (CP) — A judicial inquiry into Calgary's civic administration resumed Monday after a five-week adjournment and continued its investigation into gifts to city officials from persons having business with the city.

The inquiry, under Judge L. S. Turcotte of Lethbridge, heard Mayor Don Mackay testify that:

He received an electric dishwasher and $200 in building materials from Stanley Vineberg, a Montreal financier having apartment interests in Calgary.

He may contribute to charity an amount equal to the value of all personal gifts he has received in his capacity as mayor.

He received $5,000 and a car as settlement for the part played in organization of Stampede Motors.

Samuel Helman, council for the mayor, told the hearing that since the inquiry adjourned Feb. 27, Mayor Mackay has paid off more than $6,000 in debts.

Included were $1,750 for a fireplace at his summer home in Banff, $1,000 for the remainder of the down payment on the summer home, $1,300 for repairs to his Calgary home; and $2,000 to Alderman Cliff Walker for back loans.

Each of the items had been discussed during earlier phases of the inquiry. The mayor earlier had testified he had refused to pay for the fireplace because it didn't work and couldn't complete the down payment because he didn't have the money.

Replying to questions, Mayor Mackay said he had received gifts from Mr. Vineberg, developer of the Spruce Cliff apartment project, at a time when Spruce Cliff was seeking sewers, roads and bus service from the city.

Pressed further about gifts he might have received, Mayor Mackay said he was considering turning over to charity an amount equal to their value.

"I am not grabbing a thought in the air. These items have come to the point in my personal life when I would like to give the whole thing to charity", the mayor said.

Asked about his association with Stampede Motors, the mayor said he had been instrumental in 1955 in obtaining a General Motors franchise and had planned to go into business with Mervyn (Red) Dutton, Mr. Dutton's son and Reginald Jennings.

He added, however, he hadn't been able to afford the $30,000 each partner was expected to put up.

He withdrew shortly after the business started, he said, because he had decided to continue with his municipal career and because he had been having disagreements with Mr. Dutton Sr., on how the business should be run.

Mr. Jennings suggested $5,000 and a car as a settlement, he said.

P. N. Menon, chief of press relations for India's foreign ministry, headed toward the northeast frontier meanwhile to intercept the Dalai Lama before foreign reporters reach him.

Prime Minister Nehru dispatched Menon to learn whether the Tibetan ruler intended to say anything about the Communist Chinese campaign to subjugate his homeland that could endanger relations between New Delhi and Peiping. Nehru was expected to insist that in exchange for refuge in India, the Dalai Lama refrain from public statements that would incur Peiping's wrath.

Tibets God-King Pauses to Bless Faithful on Trip

By WATSON SIMS

NEW DELHI (AP) — Tibet's Dalai Lama prepared to leave the remote monastery town of Towang today and push deeper into India.

The Buddhist faithful flocked to pay homage to the fugitive god-king, who is expected to continue his slow journey today through the mountainous northeastern zone.

The party was reported moving in two groups—with a large advance patrol serving as guard to the 23-year-old ruler and his aides. With the 80 Tibetans is a strong guard of Assam state riflemen and constabulary in addition to Indian army units.

The young ruler, venerated by his people as the reincarnation of Buddha, was reported making frequent stops along the route to bless followers who flock in from the surrounding countryside.

Reliable sources at Shillong, 150 miles south of Towang in Assam state denied reports the Dalai Lama was sick and fatigued.

Joey Smallwood Leaves Montreal Press Puzzled

MONTREAL (CP) — Irrepressible Joey Smallwood was to depart for Ottawa today, leaving the city's reporters just as baffled as his political opponents in Newfoundland.

The bouncy little premier landed in Montreal Monday and parried questions with a counter-barrage of quips, then departed on a round of appointments believed to concern Newfoundland development.

He and his companion, Gordon Pushie, director-general of economic development for the province, could not be reached during the rest of the day and evening at the Montreal hotel where they were registered.

PLANS TWO SPEECHES

The controversial 58-year-old politician is to make an appearance on television in Ottawa tonight and will address the Ottawa Canadian Club Wednesday. But he did not say how or when he will be going to the capital, nor how long he would stay.

When he walked off the TCA aircraft here Monday, he was immediately surrounded by reporters, all of whom wanted to know whether he would meet Prime Minister Diefenbaker in Ottawa.

"I'm a little nervous about calling on him," the premier replied. "The results might prove fatal to Newfoundland.

"I met him in January and the results were pretty disastrous then. He has broken two written contracts and breached the constitution."

Child, 7, Drowns

BEAVERTON, Ont. (CP) — Garry Bullock, 7, fell into the Beaver River here Monday and was swept away by the current.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Bullock, he slipped and fell into the swollen river while playing under a bridge in the centre of this village 25 miles southeast of Orillia.

American Farmer Will Find Ontario Has Controls, Too

By NEVILLE NANKIVELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — When Ohio farmer John R. Donaldson moves to Ontario he'll be able to grow as much wheat as he likes.

The New London farmer is fed up with United States federal wheat controls and plans to sell his farm and resettle in Ontario.

He won't have to bother about controls and regulations here if he feels his wheat to his chickens or sells it to another farmer for use on a farm.

But if he wants to market his crop through commercial channels, that's another matter.

"I know the controls in the United States are terrific," says Theodore Parker, a hog farmer near Stratford, Ont., who has fought against compulsory marketing in Supreme Court of Canada cases. "But this Ohio man probably doesn't realize all the controls we have in Ontario.

"It's practically useless for a farmer here to run his own business. We're being controlled more and more all the time."

Donaldson will need a licence from the Ontario wheat producers' marketing board if he wants to raise a crop for commercial sale. The board is one of 16 set up under provincial legislation to control and regulate the sale of farm products.

Donaldson's wheat farm would be open to inspection by the board. So would his books.

But here are some wheat acreage controls in the province and that's his biggest beef about the American farm system.

A U. S. federal court decision last week turned down an appeal of a $322 penalty for overplanting his allotted wheat acreage in 1957. A previous penalty amounted to $225.

He says his self-imposed exile is the only alternative to "abject and ignominious surrender" to federal controls.

In Ontario he will be able, to grow and sell as much wheat as the trade will buy, says Bob Smallfield, director of information for the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

The only control on growing Ontario farm products is a poundage limit set by a tobacco board.

Most of the controls are on sale of the product. There are boards for asparagus, beans, berries, grapes, hogs, peaches, pears, plums, cherries, soya beans, seed corn, sugar beet, tobacco, vegetables and wheat. These operate under the Farm Products Marketing Act.

Some boards regulate only produce sold to processors. Farmers can sell the remainder of the produce on the free market.

The boards all levy farmers. Last year, the wheat board deducted 10 cents for every bushel sold in commercial channels. One cent was used for operating costs. The other nine cents went into a stabilization fund into which the board dipped to buy wheat when its price dropped below a fixed minimum.

Four Miners Hurt in Blast

GLACE BAY, N.S. (CP) — Four men are in hospital here suffering burns and shock following an underground explosion Monday night in the Four Star coal mine about 15 miles from here.

Hospital officials said the men Jack Dean and Henry Rohrbeck of Glace Bay, Finley Power of New Waterford and Brenton Hayes of nearby Birch Grove, had extensive burns about the face, arms and back.

Mine manager Carlyle Johnston described the incident as a "minor blast"—In mining language, "a puff." He said the blast, caused by gas, was only momentary and was not serious enough to call a halt to mine work.

Child Clinic At University Aids Students

VANCOUVER (CP) — A new child clinic at the University of British Columbia provides students with practical training in public health.

Medical students watched and listened as a young mother discussed her baby's growth problems with a doctor in the clinic. She did not see the students, nested behind a one-way mirror, and discussed the baby's problems frankly.

The baby lay on a specially-designed plastic-covered desk and gurgled happily as he watched himself in a ceiling mirror.

The clinic provides a free health service for babies of university students, and teaching and clinical facilities for research on the growth and development of the normal child.

Dr. John Reid, of the department of preventive medicine, is director and his staff comprises a public health nurse, a social worker and a secretary. An assistant resident in pediatrics will be added later.

The clinic will be kept busy as 605 of the university's 1,182 married students have a total of 1,058 children, mostly in infant and pre-school-age groups.

The clinic's duties will be preventive, not curative. Sick children will be referred to the family doctor.

"More than half the child doctor's time is taken up with children who are well," said Dr. James Maher of the department of preventive medicine. "Illness is no longer the major problem among children."

Christ Church W. A. Holds April Meeting

The April business meeting of the Afternoon Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary of Christ Church was held in the Parish hall on Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. H. Pitt, president, in the chair.

After a devotional period conducted by Mrs. F. Clare, Mrs. C. Hayes and Mrs. H. Wright as pianist, Mrs. E. Hickey, guest speaker of the afternoon, brought the members an inspiring Easter message of the four Marys of the Bible, Mary Magdalene, Mary of Cleophas, Mary of Bethany and Mary, the Blessed Virgin, who each witnessed for Christ in her own way by going, sending, giving and praying.

Mrs. Hickey was thanked by Mrs. G. Dimmit.

Mrs. B. Godden, immediate past president, was presented with a suitably engraved silver platter in appreciation of her untiring services in the work of the Woman's Auxiliary.

A poem entitled "The Joy of Spring Flowers" preceded an interesting demonstration in the art of making flowers by Mrs. F. Clare.

After the closing benediction a social period was enjoyed with tea being served by Mrs. E. Orser and Mrs. H. Keith.

No-Gimmick Co-Op Mart Doing Well

HAMILTON (CP) — A Winnipeg housewife said today Ontario shoppers should follow Winnipeg's example and set up their own supermarkets.

Mrs. Nena Woodward told a national meeting of women co-operators Winnipeg's "no-gimmick, no-giveaway" co-op shopping centre is proving today's shoppers welcome a sane approach to merchandising.

"Despite the absence of free automobiles, free appliances and other modern gimmicks, the opening of the Red River Co-Op Shopping Centre last June 23 attracted more than 13,000 persons, and the co-op has since done more than $2,500,000 business," she told the meeting held in conjunction with the Co-operative Union of Canada's 20th anniversary conference which opens here Wednesday.

Mrs. Woodward, a representative of the Manitoba Co-op Women's Guild, said the only hope the average Canadian family has in getting a square deal "in today's merchandising jungle" is for the householders to establish their own business co-op stores.

But, she said, the Canadian co-operative movement will not reach fruition until large co-op centres are established in the big Eastern Canadian cities.

Her statements were included in excerpts of a speech issued to the press before delivery.

Speaker Says

Canadian Labor Movement Playing Influential Part

The Canadian labor movement through the Canadian Labor Congress and its affiliates is playing an influential part in international affairs and in improving the country's educational standard, a capacity audience attending the 40th annual meeting of the Women's Canadian Club was told last night by Mr. Stanley Knowles.

Mr. Knowles is the executive vice-president of the Canadian Labor Congress and he addressed the club on the topic, "The Problems and Point of View of Canadian Labor."

In explaining the influential work being undertaken by the Congress in these fields, the speaker noted the second largest portion of the Congress's $1,000,000 - a - year budget is poured into its extensive education department and department of international affairs.

He said the Congress participates in the Canadian Institute of Public Affairs, and the Canadian Conference on Education, to mention a few. Regarding the latter, Mr. Knowles said the Congress is crusading for a greater share of dollars to be spent by the government on education so that a higher level can be achieved.

Internally, the Congress holds numerous conferences, seminars, and courses in economics, foreign affairs and such. The department of international affairs also provides courses of interest to labor officials and trade union members, and participates in international labor affairs, he said.

He said last year a total of $50,000 was spent by the Congress and affiliates in foreign affairs.

Mr. Knowles said less than half the yearly budget is spent on the organizational section of the Congress although a part of the labor movement.

Despite the unfavorable publicity recently given labor, and the few problems it has to cope with, the speaker described the organized labor as a "social force" anxious to improve not only the lives of its members, but the community as a whole.

He said the trade union movement is "an organization of workers, over one million strong, with identical aims, and composed of dedicated people trying to make things better for the workers and the community as a whole".

"You read about it in the press when anything goes wrong", he said in referring to the recent labor dispute in Newfoundland, "but one out of every 17 Canadians is a member of a trade union, and these people are active in Home and School Associations, in their churches, and in other community activities and projects. There give a much truer picture of the labor movement."

While not condoning the one per cent of labor officials who have been found to be corrupt (principally in the United States by the McClelland Commission), the executive national vice-president of the C.C.F., urged his audience not to judge the 99 per cent "good" labor officials by what the one per cent does.

Regarding the charges made from time-to-time that trade unions are ruining the economy, Mr. Knowles said the rapid changes made over the past 10 or 15 years, such as developing automation which enables a "tremendous" quality of goods and services to be provided, make it a "sheer necessity to pursue idealistic dreams."

In mentioning the labor movement's crusade to achieve a wider dispersal of the country's wealth among its citizens, Mr. Knowles stated: "Is it brotherhood, or sensible . . . some people are trying to live on monthly wages equal to the price of some high-priced luxury item we can afford to buy several of?"

Regarding the charge there are too many "racketeers" holding top positions in labor movement, the speaker said the McClelland Commission, a U.S. commission designed to ferret out corrupt labor leaders, has found only 10 of a total of 40,000 U.S. labor leaders guilty.

In answer to the charge of U.S. domination of Canadian trade union branches of international unions, the speaker explained there is only one way in which the U.S. headquarters may appear to interfere. This is when the Canadian counterpart wants to strike, but the U.S. headquarters is the international union deems it unwise.

"In fact", he said, the U.S. headquarters merely won't support the Canadian strikers, financially or otherwise," he said. "There is nothing to stop the Canadian unions from striking if they wish."

He added more money in the form of strike relief is received from the U.S. headquarters' general fund than goes to the headquarters in Canadian union dues, the speaker noted 30 per cent of all unions in this country are purely Canadian.

The United Church minister, and former Winnipeg aldermen suggested the trade union movement is a working example of industrial democracy, and as such, could be exported to South America, south-east Asia, and other parts of the world where standards of life are so low they endanger the world.

"The labor Congress is making a contribution, but the government should make a greater effort in underdeveloped areas of the world", he said.

At the conclusion of his speech a question-and-answer period was held, during which the "behind-the-scenes aspects" of the tragic labor dispute in Newfoundland was thoroughly explained.

Mr. Knowles stated the right to belong to the association of your choice was seriously threatened in Newfoundland by Premier Smallwood's actions.

"He changed the rules in the middle of the game", Mr. Knowles said.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Fairman and thanked by Mrs. Tanner.

At the beginning of the meeting Mrs. Fairman, the chairman, ship of Mrs. Fairman, annual reports were read.

The secretary's report, read by Mrs. J. G. Demeza, showed a lengthy list of activities and a variety of subjects from life in a mayor's office to the Middle East question, and brief; also three receptions, four coffee parties and three executive meetings were held during the past year. Donations were made to the United Nations Appeal and the Inter-Provincial.

The treasurer's report, read by Mrs. Simone McFadden, showed the increase in fees last year and a balance in the budget. Receipts and expenditures both totalled $1,607.29. Receipts included a bank balance as of April 15, 1950, of $370.11, while membership fees (334) totalled $1,169. Expenditures included $220.25 speakers and accommodation; $484 for affiliation fees in the Association of Canadian Clubs; $106 to send two delegates to the national convention; and a bank balance as of March 31,

Women's Activities

The monthly meeting of the W.M.S. of Stanleyville United Church was held in the church hall on April 3rd. The president, Mrs. Charles Wood, welcomed the ten members present.

Mrs. Wood read a poem, "At Easter," and offered prayer.

An Easter hymn was sung, Mrs. Damon Hinchey played the piano accompaniment for all the hymns, which were in keeping with the Easter season. Mrs. Everett Stirton, group leader, took charge and gave the call to worship prayer. Miss Robertson read the Scripture lesson from the fourth chapter of Mark.

Mrs. R. Stratton read the comments on the Scripture read. A reading was given by Mrs. Arthur Houston, "Easter and the Cross." Mrs. Asa Cook read the story of Dr. Mary Verghese, which was very interesting.

The group leader read "Where the W.M.S. Money Goes," and closed the devotional with prayer.

Mrs. Stratton thanked her group and all who helped with the program. The president thanked the group and took charge of the business.

Mrs. Will Ross, treasurer, gave her report. Supply work was discussed and it was decided to buy new cotton sheets and a shower of remnants was asked for at the June meeting. Draper remnants are used to make cushions. Used cotton sheets and paper slips are needed to make bandages and worn nylons are still requested. Regular offerings and Easter thankofferings were dedicated by the president, with prayer specifically remembering the absent member who is still in Belleville hospital.

After the benediction grace was sung and refreshments were served by the group and a social time was enjoyed.

A take sale was in charge of Mrs. Will Ross and Mrs. Arthur Houston, and the delicious pies, candy and honey, donated, were soon disposed of. $6.25 was added to the treasury.

The W.M.S. wish to thank the W.A. and especially Mrs. Hall for so long to both for their help with pie social and those who helped with the program.

1959, of $323.28.

In her president's report Mrs. Fairman stated it was a "privilege to have been president for the past two years."

"Any success we have achieved has resulted from the efforts of the fine executive with which I have worked," she said.

Mrs. Fairman highly commended and thanked her executive, committee chairmen, and those who opened their homes for the regular meetings and for the executive meetings; also the various churches, and the Public School Boards; Mrs. Henderson of the Ontario Intelligencer, and Miss Harriet Stevens of CJBQ, and Mr. A. J. Wolfenden.

Mrs. Hickey presented Mrs. Fairman with the past president's pin. Mrs. Fairman graciously responded and complimented the new president and executive.

The new president, Mrs. Tanner, commended Mrs. Fairman for her two years' work as club president, particularly for her organizing ability, and promised this year would be as interesting for club members as last year.

Mrs. A. May presided over the election of officers.

Children Like Dieting Better Than Adults

EDMONTON (CP) — Children like to dieting better than adults do, says Edith Stern, dietitian with a medical clinic here.

Miss Stern, a graduate in household economics from the University of Alberta, explained that even children sometimes have to lose weight, gain weight or be treated for stomach disorders.

But children are wonderful patients, particularly when they have family co-operation and encouragement, she said.

Miss Stern, who did her internship at the Vancouver General Hospital, is a friend and adviser for those who must diet. She is given medical instruction on what to prescribe, so far as the menu is concerned, for young and old, stout and thin.

But, she said, "consultation is more satisfactory than giving a patient a diet sheet. Sometimes we can meet each other half way."

Sometimes in districts where dietitians have more spending money, they are actually less well nourished, she said. When they buy sweets they lose their appetites for wholesome foods such as eggs, fish and vegetables.

On the other hand children in poorer districts, who get adequate proteins, sometimes have deficiencies in citrus fruits and fresh leafy vegetables.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Hilda K. — He ogles everything in skirts.

Jack K. — She criticizes me on every step.

Hilda K. — My husband and I are in our early 30's and have been married six months. I am very much afraid that we are already about to split up. We fight constantly and it's really getting me down.

One of the main reasons for our fights is that Jack just can't keep his eyes off other girls. He doesn't seem to care whether or not I am with him. He ogles everything in skirts. He says he doesn't mean anything by it, but I think it is insulting.

My own parents split up when I was five years old because my father was unfaithful, so perhaps I'm apt to be a little suspicious of men. Just the same I can't help thinking that if he ogles now, what will he do five years from now?

Jack K. — It is Hilda's jealousy that causes all the trouble. She can't understand that a man could want to look after a nice dish and mean nothing serious by it. Plenty of happy long-married men do the same thing.

One reason Hilda may be suspicious is because I picked her up. I "ogled" her and she smiled and that was it. I proposed to her on the second date and we were married three weeks later. But things like that, happen only once in a lifetime — at least I hope so.

Another thing that causes a lot of our fights is that Hilda is constantly finding fault with me. According to her, I make a monkey out of myself everytime I open my mouth. I've managed to get along 23 years without her telling me how to act.

The Council says Hilda and Jack are serious about wanting to make their marriage work, they will recognize that they started it with two strikes against them. They'll have to bat carefully now to make up for it.

When two people marry in haste they don't want to know one another's habits and failings. They want to believe they have married that ideal person they always dreamed about. When the faults inevitably come to light, each one becomes a violent blow to that dream. This disillusion leaves a bitter taste. Each partner is blamed for spoiling the other's dream. That's strike one.

Strike two is just the other side of the coin. Each partner knows he or she is not being seen clearly. The Dream Man known in his heart that he's just an ordinary Joe and the Dream Girl knows that she's an average Jane. Each fears what will happen when the other finds out. They cannot have the security that other couples know — the security of being loved as a whole person, faults and all.

Hilda and Jack could not really have loved and accepted one another when they married. They know this and each is terribly afraid of being hurt by the other. To avoid being hurt, each attacks the other in a special way — Joe by ogling the girls, Hilda by criticizing Joe at every step.

The best way Hilda and Joe can fight their way out of the vicious cycle is by trying to forget their own egos and doing what they can to help and please one another. Hilda needs reassurance that Joe only has eyes for her and Joe needs reassurance that Hilda thinks he's great. Undoubtedly, they both have much that is desirable and lovable in them, and this is where they should place the accent.

BIRTHDAY CARD TO BROTHER'S EX-FIANCEE?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Several months ago my brother became engaged to a very good friend of mine. She and I went all through school together, and have always been close friends, exchanging birthday cards, sometimes birthday presents. Now she and he have just broken their engagement. I don't know why, but I haven't seen her since. Her birthday is coming up soon, and I'm wondering if I should send her a birthday greeting card, as I always have done, or if this would seem inappropriate under the present circumstances. What do you advise? — Sister

Indeed I advise you to send your friend a birthday greeting card, just as you always have done. Not to send her a greeting card on her birthday would be most unfriendly. Since neither your brother nor your friend has confided to you the reason for the breaking of their engagement, it undoubtedly has no connection with your friendship, and so that friendship has the right to endure. Of course, in your message on your greeting card make no mention of your brother or of the broken engagement.

Canadians Are Eating A Healthier Menu

by Mary Moore

You have two eyes too, and may read the report from the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa on changed Canadian eating habits.

But some high-lights are well-worth repeating.

Potatoes, Sugar and Cereal products have slipped in popularity, and tied to this drop Butter and Margarine consumption has gone down.

Nutritionally important Milk and Eggs have remained fairly stable.

We are eating more red meats such as Steaks, Roasts and Poultry — up from a prewar 118 lbs. to 141 lbs. per person.

But what I like the best is the healthy fact that we are eating more fresh Fruits and Vegetables — sources of vitamins, minerals and bulk. Fruit and Tomato consumption had a meteor-like rise from 139 to 239 lbs. per person per year. Vegetables, other than Potatoes and Tomatoes, increased from 78 to 101 lbs. per person per year. The Department officials boldly report that they "believe the modern menu generally is healthier too". Could a civil servant come out boldly and say "Canadians are eating a healthier menu!"

Ithink it is cause for great rejoicing.

Dinner Menu

by Mary Moore

TUESDAY

Calves' or Baby Beef Liver with Sausage; Cream Gravy; Hot Blend Potatoes; Marion Farman's Asparagus Casserole (see Monday); Celery Hearts; Rhubarb Betty with Coffee Hard Sauce; Coffee.

I want to point out one poor trend though. That is the drop in popularity of cereals. This does not refer to exploded puffed-up packed ready-to-eat cereals. It does refer though to rolled oats, whole wheat, barley, and many other Canadian-grown grains of inestimable importance to our diet because of their valuable mineral and vitamin content. Witness how carefully we feed them in perfectly balanced form to our newborn infants in the form of pablum.

I am going to keep on plugging 100% whole wheat bread for everyone and have a new-to-me Barley and Mushroom casserole for you which I served for dinner last night.

BARLEY AND MUSHROOM CASSEROLE:

(Highly recommended). (Start this at 4 P.M. if dinner is to be served at 6.) Three tablespoons butter, 1-2 Spanish onion chopped, 1-2 lb. fresh mushrooms quartered 1 cup raw, dry pot barley, 3 cups hot water, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 chicken bouillon cube. Saute gently together the onion and barley in the butter until they are soaked with it, but not brown at all. Add salt, bouillon cube and 2 cups of the water and simmer until water is absorbed. Add remaining 1 cup hot water and turn into casserole, cover and bake at 325 deg. F. for 1 hour. Remove from oven, add washed and quartered mushrooms, stirring them in gently, replace cover and bake half hour longer. This was a sensation with crumbed broiled baby halibut fillets and asparagus with cheese sauce. You girls who recognize a good tip when you see it take heed.

Mother's Helper

ONE of the beautiful and amazing changes that takes place in nature can be brought sharply to your children's attention by a bare branch of forsythia or apple. Snip off enough to make an attractive arrangement in a water-filled vase, set it in a sunny spot in your house. Buds and blossoms will appear while outside the trees still seem to sleep.

CHURCHILL HOME

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill boarded an airplane in Nice Monday smoking a cigaret. But when he got off the plane here a short time later he was sporting the more familiar cigar, one perhaps even larger than usual. The former prime minister, home from a month's stay in the south of France, walked down the steps unaided and presented a posy of spring flowers to his wife.

Old German Culture Shaken, Prussian Caste System Ended By Division Into Two States

By RICHARD O'REAGAN

BERLIN (AP) — In the desolate days of Berlin's capitulation, Karl and Max Freund threw down their guns, shook hands as brothers and went in different directions.

Karl fled westward and Max succumbed to the Soviets. East now is a prosperous West German shoe store owner. Max, he has learned, has an engineer's job in Communist East Germany.

"It will never see each other again," Karl says. "We have grown too far apart. The fact is that there are two Germanys. People keep saying that Germany one day will be one nation again. But not in my lifetime. We might as well accept that."

This spring there may be East-West discussions that may result in some co - operation between the two separate Germanys. But whatever is said or done, there appears little doubt that the map of Europe is going to show two Germanys for many years.

VITAL TO RUSSIA

East Germany, with its 17,500,000 inhabitants, is too far along the road to communism for the Soviet Union to allow it to turn back. It is too vital, militarily and politically, to the Soviet World. Its industrial production is second only to Russia.

West Germany, with its 31,000,000 people is a flourishing capitalist economy. Industrially, its production is second only to the United States in the entire Western world.

Whether the diplomats say it is a good thing or not that Germany is split, it is a fact that the division has:

1. Shaken the old German culture and traditions.

2. Cracked the old class and Prussian caste systems.

3. Checked the fanatic nationalism of the German people that caused three world wars.

RESISTANCE CRUSHED

What has been substituted is:

In the East — thorough-going communism. For 24 years, Marxist concepts have been stamped on a people whose resistance has been crushed in the Berlin uprising June 17, 1953. Now these people have little will, even, to hope.

In the West — The concept of a united Western Europe in which Germany is the key to a leading role culturally, politically and economically in the interests of preventing a third world war. These are the ideas of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Today, West Germany's industrial production is 232 per cent of what it was before the war under Hitler. West Germany is in the middle of its biggest boom in history. There is virtually no unemployment.

The "German miracle" has disrupted the old economic society. Tens of thousands of new businessmen have elbowed their way to places side by side with those old industrial barons who survived, such as the Krupp family. The former upper classes have disappeared as an elite.

ATTRACTS EAST GERMANS

West Berlin is the bright window of Western life that attracts East Germans. This is a reason why Nikita Khrushchev is so anxious to smash that window this year.

Life, however, in Eastern Germany has improved recently.

A crash program of industrialization is in full swing. The Soviet Union is building a 2,000-mile pipeline to bring oil from the Urals to East Germany's chemical industry, which is to be developed as the greatest in the Soviet empire. Private business and farming, which had not already been nationalized, has been given a temporary stay of execution to help the program.

The Communist theory is that West Germany is going to go into an economic decline. In time, they think, West Germans will be attracted by progress across the frontier and will be more inclined to talk business—on Communist terms.

Where Stalin hoped to win all of Germany by starvation by the Berlin blockade in 1948 - 49, Khrushchev hopes to win it by economic saturation.

Once Sold at Rummage Sale For 20 Cents, Now Canadian ...nting May Bring $3,000

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — A group of ... paintings by the 19th - century ...an artist Cornelius Krieg- ... including one bought at a ...rage sale for about 20 cents, ... will be sold April 22 at Sotheby's ... London.

With collectors paying high prices for Krieghoff's pictures of pioneer life in Canada, art experts believe the rummage sale canvas may be sold for upwards of $3,000.

The painting is owned by Mrs. E. L. Bartlett of Bideford, England, who purchased it at the sale for 25 6d. It shows Hudson Bay Indians at a portage and is signed and dated 1865. It measures 13¾ by 21 inches.

The group of about 10 canvases to be sold at Sotheby's include some excellent examples of Krieghoff's style. Two of these, owned by Dr. J. E. R. Lortimer, are particularly well documented. They were originally in the collection of Dr. Lortimer's great-grandfather, Alexander Ross, who obtained them from Krieghoff whom he met while working on the Grand Trunk Railway in Canada. The Ross family later went to New Zealand and took the paintings with them.

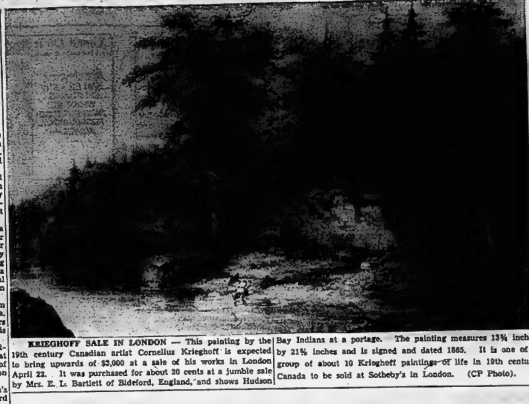
One, showing three Indians in a canoe and entitled "Shooting the Rapids," is an oval canvas measuring 12¾ by 17¼ inches. The second, measuring 14 by 18¾ inches, shows two Indians in a canoe shooting a deer at the approaches to a portage.

Other examples of Krieghoff's work on offer April 22 include a pair of small paintings, one showing an Indian trapper, the other a woman; an unframed canvas 13¾ by 21¾ inches entitled "Bilking the Toll;" and a winter scene showing two trappers with a horse sleigh by a crossroads' shrine.

Soharie

SCOHARIE — Mr. Theodore Foster was a dinner guest on Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Foster and family and Mr. Merrick Foster.

Ann and Randy Foster spent the supper hour Thursday with their grandmother, Mrs. Harry Foster, while their parents attended the seed fair banquet at Picton.



Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hanna and Stanley were Friday supper guests of Mr. Theodore Foster and Miss Norma Foster. They had motored to Kingston during the day and brought Norma home from the General Hospital where she had undergone an eye operation on Monday.

Sorry to report Mr. William McGee is ill with pneumonia. He is improving. Several others have 'flu. A speedy recovery is wished for all.

Darlene Foster spent Good Friday night and Saturday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. McWilliam, of Picton.

Members of the Live Women's Circle met at Prince Edward County Home on Good Friday afternoon with a program and treats for the residents. Owing to the rough weather and illnesses, not as many as usual were able to attend.

Members of the Women's Institute met at the Sunday School rooms of Bloomfield United Church, on Wednesday.

KRIEGHOFF SALE IN LONDON — This painting by the 19th century Canadian artist Cornelius Krieghoff is to bring upwards of $2,000 at a sale of his works in London April 22. It was purchased for about 20 cents at a jumble sale by Mrs. E. L. Bartlett of Bideford, England, and shows Hudson Bay Indians at a portage. The painting measures 13¾ inches by 21¾ inches and is signed and dated 1865. It is one of a group of about 10 Krieghoff paintings on sale in 19th century Canada to be sold at Sotheby's in London. Honors came to Belleville and Eastern Ontario at the annual convention of the Ontario Amateur Softball Association held in Preston over the weekend.

Taking another step toward the presidency of the governing body of this popular summer sport, was Belleville's Don Lee, who was given an acclamation to the first-vice chair. Lee will occupy the position for the next two years and then, as all Eastern Ontario hopes, will be given the highest official honor the association can bestow.

Also honored was Harry (Senator Claghorne) Rollins. Harry was given the post of honorary president of the OASA for the third consecutive year, which indeed is what the ebullient senator did for softball when he was more actively engaged.

The Ontario Amateur Softball Association like its hockey counterpart, the Ontario Minor Hockey Association, has always been blessed with a hard-working official executive. The tremendous strides made by the game, and its increasing popularity throughout the province can be laid more or less directly to these men selected and elected by the rank and file.

According to reports submitted at the recent convention, last season was by far the most successful in the long history of the association. While a lot of the credit goes to the men in the hub places, not a few of the kudos must go to the fellows in the little places. These are the smaller cogs in the machinery, but they are vitally necessary to the strength and success of the organization.

Here in Eastern Ontario, softball has not only provided months of entertainment and activity for fans and players, but has opened an outlet for baseball-minded athletes.

Through no fault of baseball men in this city, the senior division of the game has been somewhat dormant for some years now. Actually Belleville has the baseball horse, so to speak, but no pasture in which it can kick up its heels. Belleville Baseball Association executive member Jack Carson, manager of the Belleville senior baseball club, could, it is safe to assume, organize a team of top calibre here, but to find a league in which to play, is the issue of major color.

That is where softball has entered the picture. It has provided a sphere of activity for these baseball people. And softball would not suffer in the event senior baseball is resurrected. The steady progress of the game has resulted in the development of younger players who could more than fill any vacancies caused by the advent of baseball. After all there is plenty of talent and material for both sports here.

Speaking of the OASA committee, a ghost of Belleville's hockey past came out of hiding during the annual confab in Preston.

Don Lee tells us he struck up an acquaintance with an employee of the Kress Hotel in the western Ontario town, where the convention delegates were quartered.

Riding down the lift-Oops,—there's that European touch again—elevator was the operator, an oldish type, asked Lee whence he came.

"Belleville," replied Don.

The elevator stopped with a jerk. "Belleville," the old boy shrilled. "Then you must know Gunner Arnott."

Lee admitted that he did. "Gosh," exclaimed the oldster, "I knew the Gunner well when he was playing here with the old Riversides, one of the best danged senior hockey clubs that ever pulled on a skate."

"I was connected with the Riversides," the old boy went on. "In fact I looked after their sticks. You ask the Gunner if he didn't use a size four. Yessir, I remember the Gunner well. Ask him if he remembers Ed."

For the benefit of the younger hockey generation, Gunner Arnott was one of the best centre-ice players ever developed in this city.

After learning his hockey here and playing for his native city for some time, he went to Preston where his name became a household word with hockey fans. He starred with the Riversides for a number of years when that club was rated one of the best in Ontario.

Half-Pint Is Petes' Darling Scores Three In Big Victory

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—Leaf Gardens.

Peterborough Petes are back in the middle of the OHA Junior A playoff picture and a pint-sized centre who scored only 16 regular-schedule goals privided the big punch that put them there.

Garry Darling, a wispy 129 pounds on a five-foot-six frame, potted three goals for Petes Monday night to help topple Toronto St. Michael's Majors 6-1 and level the series at 2-2 with three games tied.

For Darling it was his 13th goal in the playoffs. For Peterborough it crowned—if major comeback from a slump that three games ago had them just one St. Michael's win from oblivion.

Wayne Connelly, Barclay Pilsner and George Monlague collected Petes' other goals as the home team's dollard 4,333 fans with a lead that rolled from 3-0 in the first period to 5-0 early in the third.

DRAPPER FOR MAJORS

Dave Draper put St. Michael's on the score card with a goal late in the final period.

Won't Be Easy Says Schmidt Even With Doug Mohns Back; Habs Indicate Rocket Ready

MONTREAL (CP)—The wild windup of the National Hockey League semi-final playoff series between Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks still was having repercussions today.

Canadiens eliminated the Hawks 4-2 in games in that series and today were making plans to meet either Toronto Maple Leafs or Boston Bruins, who decide the winner of the other semi-final tonight.

There was some hope that their injured arm, Maurice (Rocket) Richard, and Jean Beliveau would both be back in the lineup for the finals.

Montreal's 5-4 victory in Chicago Saturday night, which was accompanied by a wild, missile-throwing demonstration by Chicago fans, brought a peroxide observation Monday from NHL president Clarence Campbell.

STOREY ON HOT SPOT

He permitted himself to be quoted on the refereeing of Red Storey, who has been under hot fire from Chicago fans, Hawks coach Rudy Pilous, other Chicago team officials, and several commentators for not calling penalties after Bobby Hull and Eddie Litzenberger had apparently been tripped late in the game.

"It is my personal opinion, and nothing more, that Junior Langlois of Chicago might have been given a tripping penalty late in the game," said Campbell. He felt his decision wouldn't be emphasized.

His reference was to an incident in which Hull went sprawling. Almost immediately afterward Chicago scored the game-winning goal for Montreal.

The top job of NHL referee, Campbell continued, "is that judgment must be left to the man on the ice. If my personal opinion differs from the referee's opinion, the slightest difference. The officiating job is his.

"More than anything, that I feel dissapointed that the revival of hockey in Chicago this season ended the way it did. I don't mean the result of the game itself but the circumstances surrounding the finish of the season in Chicago.

"I didn't have a goodview of the Litzenberger incident again and I don't want to say anything wouldn't have the slightest thing to do with it."

SELKE'S JAB

Canadiens managing director Frank Selke took a jab at the refereeing critics. Commenting on the forthcoming cup final he said:

"We'll win or lose on our own ability, not because of what a referee did or didn't do."

Selke and Canadiens coach Tom Blake said it looked as if Hull and Litzenberger "took dives."

Selke was of the belief that "no one has seen fit to remind Pilous that Glenn Hall put out Beliveau "as a result of a butt-end without any penalty being given.

Storey was the referee in that game also, lost by Canadiens.

"Some of Rudy Pilous' boys are losing team is going to accept defeat graciously and half the referees in Canada will die of shock."

Richard, veteran of 121 playoff games, geared himself for an all-out scrimmage session today that may decide whether he's ready to play.

Result of the 37-year - old Rocket after a three-month layoff might be an ominous indication that hockey history will be repeated, whether Canadiens meet Boston or Toronto.

DEADLY IN PLAYOFFS

In November, 1957, Richard suffered an almost severed achilles tendon. He came back in the end of the season and in the playoffs got an amazing 11 goals, one short of his own record set 14 years previously.

Last Jan. 18 the Rocket was again laid low with a foot bone fracture, but since mid-March he has been skating again, aiming to return in the final.

"We're still leaving it to the Rocket as to when he is ready, but we expect to have him in the finals," said Blake.

Nobody will be surprised if Richard takes up his old right wing spot when the series opens in Montreal Thursday. Second game is here Saturday, then the scene shifts to either Boston or Toronto for games the following Tuesday and Thursday.

Beliveau suffered a painful spinal injury in Chicago March 26 in a game against the Hawks. When Jean hits the ice in Maple Leafs Gardens, Blake had the surprise of his life.

There was no indication yet when or if he will be able to play but Canadiens is defending a good chance he will get into the final at some stage."

Denies Rumor Dodgers May Drop Montreal

LOS ANGELES (CP) — Los Angeles Dodgers were rumored today to be considering shunning one of their Montreal franchise in 1960 but Dodger president Walter O'Malley says it's a goodbody's guess.

Reports have said the Dodgers will fetch their franchise with Montreal Royals of the International League unless Montreal builds a stadium seating at least 15,000 fans.

"Somebody is anticipating what might happen, I suppose, in the event there wasn't a place to play there," O'Malley said in an interview Monday night. "I believe the City of Montreal plans to build a stadium. That's what they told me several years ago.

"Montreal has always been an excellent baseball city and it would be unfortunate if they should delay building a stadium too long because, if the man who bought the present stadium plans to tear it down, the team may have to have some place else to play."

The Montreal team's present home was built by Montreal for 20,000, was sold by the Dodgers several years ago. They have an agreement to rent it until 1960.

Bobby Hull May Play In Europe

CHICAGO (AP) — Ed Litzenberger and Bobby Hull of Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League have been given permission to join Boston Bruins and New York Rangers on a European tour later this month, Hawks general-manager Tommy Ivan said Monday.

Ivan said permission to make the trip but we don't know if they have been official-ly invited," he added.

Earlier Monday, Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings turned down an invitation to make the tour.

The veteran star added:

"I talked with my doctors about my injured knee," he said Howe, "and we feel I should rest them as much as possible. Also, we have a new baby girl and I'd rather spend the time at home."

The Rangers and Bruins will leave later this month on the tour.

Player Fined Suspended for Quitting Team

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Eddie Kenney, left wing of the Indianapolis Chiefs International Hockey League, was fined $150 and suspended indefinitely Monday for quitting the team during a game Sunday.

Frank Gallagher, IHL president, said Kenney would not carry over into the 1959-60 season if an agreement isn't reached between Busch and Max Silverman, general manager of the Chiefs.

Silverman said Busch never told a word to anyone about leaving after Friday's practice. "He just packed his bag and returned to his home in Chatham, Ont., where he has a summer job as a golf pro."

Peewee Champs Get Welcome At Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Canadiens arrived home from Chicago Sunday night to a rousing, placard-waving welcome.

Only the welcome wasn't for them.

It was for a pee-wee team. Several hundred people—parents, friends and fans — showed up to welcome home the St. Lambert, Que., pee wees who won the class A championship at the Canada Pee-wee hockey tournament at Soderich Saturday.

The youngsters were treated to a parade through St. Lambert streets and welcome-home speeches by officials of the city council and Montreal Canadiens.

The Canadiens players — who gained a berth in the Stanley Cup semi-finals by defeating Black Hawks — slipped home quietly and mostly unnoticed.

Wren Blair Still Sizzling Over Last-Game Officiating

TORONTO (CP)—Whitby Dunlops meet Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen here tonight in the fourth game of the Allan Cup Senior A hockey final with Whitby's manager Wren Blair still sizzling from Saturday's defeat.

Dunlops, who lead the series 2-1, lost 3-1 Saturday and Wren Blair had some things to say about the refereeing.

Kitchener will be going all out to tie the series tonight. They plan no changes in the lineup. Defenceman Ralph Hosking, who tore a muscle in his right leg, will not be in the lineup and may be out of hockey for the season.

HITS OFFICIATING

Blair Monday was still angry about the way referee Hugh McLean of Hamilton who refereed in the Western Hockey League during the regular season.

"We took five penalties to one. I'm not quarrelling with ours, either, but only about the differential because all those Dutchmen players certainly aren't angels."

He said he thinks McLean is carrying a grudge "from two years ago when we defeated the Dutchmen in the seventh game of the Allan Cup finals in Kitchener."

And the team my players gave Hughie a ribbing after we had won the game, although he had called only two penalties against Dunlops and only three against Dutchmen."

SAYS MAKING AMENDS

He said McLean "has been in hot water a lot and I think he's trying to make amends with the Kitchener fans now."

Blair said Saturday he walked out to congratulate Whitby goalie John Henderson who played a tremendous game and made the defeat. While he was talking Henderson made a remark to Mac Leon.

Bout Move to Indianapolis Has Fight Moguls In Tizzy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A 25-year-old young New Jersey steel executive, making his debut as a fight promoter, returns here today to complete plans for a world's heavyweight championship fight May 1 between champion Floyd Patterson and challenger Brian London of England.

It will be the first title bout ever held in Indiana.

Cecil Rhodes Jr., Cranford, N.J., industrial-promoter, announced Monday that the fight had been switched from Las Vegas, Nev., to Indianapolis to escape rumors of gamblers' backing.

Rhodes, a 34-year-old Harvard law graduate, said there weren't any gamblers backing the Las Vegas fight but added: "I don't want that kind of implication."

LAS VEGAS SCOFFS

In Las Vegas, civic leaders scoffed at the announced reason for the switch and said the real reason was that "resort operators refused to give the financial support requested by the fight promoter."

Braves Have $64,000 Quiz, Can They Win Without Red?

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—The shadow of Red Schoendienst hangs over the Milwaukee camp this spring. The absence of the second baseman, who is fighting a winning battle with tuberculosis, leaves the National League champions without a leader on the playing field. Every visitor has the same question for manager Fred Haney—"Can you win without Red?"

Haney realizes the important role Schoendienst played both on the field and in the intangibles that do not show in the record books. He was the man with a world of encouragement that could steady a struggling pitcher, or Red Rolfe Hall Aaron the big man of the club, in right. Both Schoendienst and Bruton appear to have recovered from last year's knee injuries.

Haney will edge the burden on regular catchers? Del Crandall and Carl Sawatski. Del Rice (.229).

The front line pitchers, Warren Spahn (22-11) and Lew Burdette (20-10), are backed up by Joey Jay (7-5) and Carlton Willey (6-4). Bob Buhl (12-13) and Juan Jarro (6-4) on the borderline. Bob Buhl (5-2).

Haney's second base; this is a set ball club. The same team that blew a 3-1 lead to the Yankees last Series is back again.

To help the second base situation, Braves got scrappy Johnny O'Brien from the Phillies for Gene Conley.

"What I have in mind right now," Haney said, "is to have Felix Mantilla open the season at second base. Even though Mantilla is a rookie, I'm glad to pick him up with the idea of making him a regular right away."

Mantilla (.221) may have to share the job with Joe Jonny Logan (.228) has any more leg trouble after he broke his leg last year. Frank Torre (.309) and Joe Adcock (.273) starters at 1st and Eddie Mathews (.251) will be at third. Mathews' bat is a potent weapon that kept up his power production with 31 homers, 103 RBIs.

Del Covington (.330) will be in left, Billy Bruton (.280) in center and Hank Aaron (.328) the big man of the club, in right. Both Covington and Bruton appear to have recovered from last year's knee injuries.

Injury Jinx Hits Pirates, Starry Witt Is Sidelined

Associated Press Sports Writer

Want a new look on Pittsburgh's fussy - lamented chances for the National League 2 pennant? They forget those exhibition game linescores and cock an ear for the baleful moaning of George Will's troublesome arm.

The young righthander, a pitching sensation as a rookie last season when he shrugged off arm trouble and won seven straight for the longest string of the year in the National League, has been sent back to Pittsburgh for an examination by the club physician.

The trouble centres in a painful elbow, which forced the freckle-faced redhead from the mound Sunday after one inning as the Pirates finished their stay in Florida with a 2-1 victory over Kansas City.

GIANTS WIN IN 11

In other games, San Francisco Giants, figured to join the Dodgers in the National League pennant pursuit, won their innings battering Cleveland 8-6 on Don Taussig's home run; Boston Red Sox beat Chicago Cubs 11-3; Detroit Tigers defeated St. Louis Cardinals 7-2; Houston White Sox beat Washington 9-6; Cleveland defeated Los Angeles Dodgers 6-4 and Cincinnati smacked Savannah 12-2.

Harvey Haddix, Ron Blackburn and Fred Green took charge of the Pirates pitching after Will's quick exit and kept the athletics scoreless until the ninth as the Pirates won their fifth in a row for a 15-12 spring record.

Taunton's Kevin shot off loser Hal Woodeshick was one of five home runs by the Giants. Jim Brosgard hit two and Danny O'Connell and Felipe Alou one each. Curt Flood was 4 for 4, after Minnie Minoso's 10th - inning homer had tied it for the Tribe.

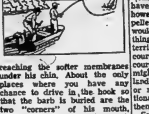
Fishing Tarpon With a Fly Rod

There is a saying of some years standing down in the Florida Keys which goes: "You don't have to be crazy to fish for tarpon with a fly rod, but it helps." Even fishing for tarpon and a fish weighing around 150 pounds with a seven-ounce rod and a five-pound leader point really should not appeal to a man who has good common sense.

Yet that is exactly the way in which my son, Dick, and I are spending our time these days on the sand flats of Florida Bay and adjacent waters, all of which lie west of the upper Keys, a part of the Gulf of Mexico.

Tarpon, the great silvery of them, are migratory. To be sure, here and there in Florida Bay waters you will find permanent residents who stay there the year round, but about 90 per cent of the tarpon in that area through the end of March and April pass through the summer are migrants.



The influx of these big fish from mid-March on is prompted by the spawning urge. Before they move in schools, working their way gradually north, they progress by stages largely by water temperatures. Where there fish come from is not clearly known but they do show up, year after year, usually in March.

Their common objective is the chain of reefs which extends from Key to the west of the Keys. These broad areas, fringed by their shallower edges, are also paved with what is generally known as "tarpon grass." They are ideal areas for the protection of the tarpon eggs, marks the end of the spawning season, and the big fish seek them out annually, returning probably to the very grounds on which they were born.

Tarpon are known as "free spawners." They do not make nests but the female deposits her fish and deposit therein their eggs in a group. Immediately schools swim slowly in circles and broadcast their eggs which are fertilized by the male swimming over the tarpon grass, there to germinate and hatch. Usually in that spawning act done in this way the eggs would be consumed in quantities under by the myriads of smaller fish which inhabit these same waters.

FEW NATURAL ENEMIES

The tarpon, being the king-size fish that he is, has comparatively few natural enemies. His sides are sheathed in tough scales sure does help.

reaching the softer membranes under his chin. About the only places where you have any hope that the barb is buried are the bony structures of the mouth where upper and lower lips meet.

Thus, hooking him solidly is a problem, particularly with a fly. If you try to set the hook while the fish is leaping, your chances are 50 to one against you. The only way to hook a tarpon with a fly with any degree of consistency is to wait until he turns and is going away from you. This is easier than it sounds.

When a tarpon rises to take a fly, rarely does he do so with a lip-up rise. Instead, he drifts up slowly, his big, wide, bony lip and mouth (it looks like a bushel basket) usually inhales the fly in turns with a swirl of his big tail. As he turns, that is your cue to strike back and hit him even as everything the tackle will stand in the reverse. Then you have to engage in the comparatively soft membrane of the hinge. If you can get the fly well back in the hook will hold; otherwise, the fish will jump, open his mouth and shake his head, and out comes your fly.

Should the hook set and you are fast to the fish, then it is you and the fish for a few minutes of fly reel, and a 12-pound leader point against 150 pounds of 100 pounds of strong, active, angry fish, is an even game — the fly-rod record now stands at 136 pounds — but, believe me, it takes some doing.

As the Florida guides say, you don't have to be crazy to fish for tarpon with a fly rod but it

Canada Outdoors

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario's timber, wildlife, game and waterfowl by large numbers of wild red deer have been known to be poised for its final attack.

The target is Southwestern Ontario. If the attack succeeds, the livestock is likely. But observers hope the outbreak will be spread a year from now, with little harm to humans and wildlife.

"It looks as though the disease is down to Lake Erie and that will be it," says Dr. Ian Mac Lennan, chief of the fish and wildlife division of the province's lands and forests branch.

"I don't want to go out on a limb but I think this will prove to be the last serious summer."

STARTED IN 1954

The disease has been self-extinguishing since hitting the Cochrane district of Northern Ontario in 1954. It has moved like a wave, with foxes behind the crest but wiped out by the disease itself.

This is evident in the Bruce Peninsula where the vacationland resorts reached a peak last fall. Dr. G.H.L. Bennett, veterinarian supervisor for the federal agriculture department, says cases of rabies have declined steadily in that region during the last two or three months—especially among livestock. Rabid foxes no longer are seen.

The decline has became apparent in Waterloo, Perth, Huron and Halton counties in addition to Bruce, Grey and Simcoe.

Now the disease has moved into Lambton, Middlesex and Oxford. Other flareups have been reported in Essex, Kent, Haldimand, and in Eastern Ontario.

NEXT IN LINE

Experts are looking out to spring pasture, the Lake Erie counties of Welland, Haldimand, Norfolk, Elgin and Brant as the next in line.

Dr. Keith Reynolds, district forester with the lands and forests department-station at Aylmer in Elgin county, says cases of rabies have been reported in all the lake counties—even Essex, at the province's southwestern tip. The disease is high for population.

Gottstmen, says Dr. Harkness, should take the initiative in hunting foxes as has been done elsewhere. Recently, 5,000 were killed within two months after the provincial government offered a bounty last fall.

Whatever happens farmers now face only a new government compensation plan offering up to 50 per livestock killed as the result of rabies, retroactive to April 1, 1958.

FOOT OR DISEASE

At last count the disease had claimed 1,149 cattle, 48 horses, 122 sheep, 19 dogs and one goat since last April. This amounts to less than 0.2 per cent of the province's 5,000,000 livestock.

Humans have been protected by vaccination. The epidemiological health authorities last year distributed vaccine to about 1,000 persons exposed to the disease, not one infection was reported. The added safeguard has been the vaccination of more than 100,000 dogs in the rabid territories since the epidemic began in 1954.

Wildlife, too, seems to be getting off nearly scot-free. Besides foxes, only skunks and raccoons have been found dead of rabies.

"We haven't heard of any incidents of game being affected by the disease," says Dr. Harkness.

Well, Where Did They Invent It?

NEW YORK (AP)—If German reports about what doctors advised Nikita Khrushchev are true, the Soviet boss owes the Americans a big vote of thanks. It he does that, he is likely to shake the Soviet system to its foundations.

Golf and the Communist system are not likely to mix. There is nothing a golfer hates more than the thing which is dearest of Soviet athletes every day: Criticism and self-criticism.

Anyway, if Khrushchev should have to copy President Eisenhower and begin battling a white pellet about the greensward, he would have to do one of three things: Conquer European territory so he could have a golf course to play on; develop a golf craze in the Soviet Union, which might cut in on his "virgin lands" project for the farmers; or resurrect the old pre-revolutionary golf course at Leningrad, St. Petersburg.

So far as can be determined, that was Queen Europe's crowded golf course in Russian history.

Piston Pushers Hold Test

The piston Pushers Motorcycle Club held its initial endurance test of the season over the weekend when Ray Lucas topping a field of six entries.

Five of the starters completed the 50-mile course over wet and built 1,300 yards of elementary hazardous roads although some schools and enlarged another 300.

were forced to take detours and others became lost.

Ray Lucas was rated first with Bruce Wallbridge second, Al Dryden third, Tom Mulvihill fourth and Jim Wallbridge fifth. Larry Sherman, the sixth starter, was forced out early with tire trouble.

NORWAY SCHOOLS

Between 1946 and 1958 Norway built 1,300 new elementary schools and enlarged another 300.

ICE PLUG — A great ice field—called the worst in 25 years —lies in the Gulf of St. Lawrence across the sea approaches to gulf and St. Lawrence River ports.

With the help of ice-breakers, the German freighter Volunmia made her way through the ice into the relatively ice-free St. Lawrence River and reached Montreal April 1 to launch the 1950 shipping season. But other ships have been reported making slow progress through the ice pack.

Shaded area on this map shows the extent of the ice as reported by the transport department's aerial ice patrol.

The Strait of Belle Isle between Newfoundland and the north shore of Quebec is impassable. The ice field also lies across the 90-mile-wide Cabot Strait between the eastern tip of Nova Scotia and the southwest corner of Newfoundland.

Because of the ice, the ferry William Carson has taken as long as 60 hours to make the normal six-hour run between North Sydney and Port aux Basques.

Ice-forecasting headquarters at Halifax says conditions vary slightly from day to day because of winds. At times the wind blows the ice away from the southwest shore of Newfoundland leaving open water. At other times, the wind makes an opening on the Nova Scotia side and blows the ice into the Newfoundland shore. (CP Newsmap.)

May Institute East-West Rah-Rah Playoff

TORONTO (CP) — The secretary of the Ontario-Quebec Athletic Association said Monday a playoff between the Eastern and Western Canada university football champions may be held this year "providing it can be financed."

J. P. Loosemore was commenting on reports that the Western Canada Intercollegiate Athletic Union had voted in favor of such a game at a weekend meeting in Winnipeg.

Loosemore said the matter was discussed at a meeting of the association a week ago and it was agreed the eastern champion would participate if the game was properly underwritten.

Profits would go to the Canadian Paraplegic Association.

Vancouver has been suggested as the site for the first contest.

Hull Shades St. Vincent 4-3

HULL, Que. (CP) — Two third-period goals gave Hull Legion a 4-3 victory over St. Vincent de Paul in the opening game of their Eastern Canada Allan Cup semi-finals series Monday night.

Second game of the best-of-three series will be played Wednesday night in St. Vincent de Paul, a Montreal suburb. The winner will play the Ontario champion in the eastern final.

Defenceman Gilbert Lacelle scored the winner for Hull and other Legion goals came from Gil Chouinard, Pit Richer and Ken Blondin.

Jacques St.-Pierre scored twice for St. Vincent de Paul and Jean Desautels got the other.

AT THE McCARTHY — A scene from the picture, "Separate Tables" (starting left) David Niven, Gladys Cooper, Deborah Kerr, Wendy Hiller, Rita Hayworth and Burt Lancaster as they sit in the dining room of a British seaside hotel. The picturization of the Terence-Rattigan stage hit is now on the screen at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre.

Wally Cox in 'Wagon Train' Doesn't Have Greenhorn Role

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Wally Cox who appears altogether too infrequently on television these days, was talking about the role he plays in a Wagon Train episode April 15.

"No matter what you expect," he said, "I don't play a greenhorn. True, I'm a college graduate who plans to teach in San Francisco when the wagon train gets there. But I know a lot about Indian languages, I'm very savvy with a rifle.

"So I walk up to the wagon master and produce an arrowhead the size of a big dog and tell him not to take the trail ahead, but to go around because there are real bad Indians up ahead. Naturally this makes the wagon master mad, but just then a scout gallops up and says, 'we've got to go around because there are real bad Indians up ahead.'

"That's the way it begins, at any rate, and I'm not going to tell you how it ends."

Cox, best remembered by television viewers as Mr. Peepers, has a long-term contract with NBC-TV that will run for 2½ years longer.

He has abandoned nightclub appearances. As he puts it, "I've forgotten my club act. Now I'll never have to work clubs again. It's a miserable life to me, though I suppose it's all right if you don't mind people talking while you work. Personally I do.

Since he appears rarely on television and admittedly enjoys working, how does he pass his time? Living in a New York apartment with his wife and child? Does he find it demoralizing not to be working?

"But I'm working steadily," he said. "I'm doing a great deal of carpentry and I'm writing a play."

Ottawa Upsets Tillsonburg 2-1

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa Fellers upset the favored Tillsonburg Lumberjacks 74-56 Monday night to take their best-of-three Eastern Canada Senior A basketball final series 2-0.

Fellers now meet the winner of the Western Ontario series between Corn A'berta Chinooks and Winnipeg Maroons.

Fellers outplayed the highly-touted Tillsonburg team on relentless checking and floor play. Kevin McGuire and guard Glen Pettinger starred.

McGuire paced Ottawa with 20 points, followed by Pettinger with 18. Fred Ingalsbee led Tillsonburg with 28 points.

Fellers will play host to the western winners in the Canadian final.

KEEP SOCCER CUP

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The American Cup, symbolic of South American soccer supremacy, will stay in Argentina for another year. The Argentines made certain of that Saturday night by playing a 1-1 tie with Brazil, the world champion team. Argentina has won the last three South American championships.

African Dancers Cover Bosoms In Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — The girls of Les Ballets Africains danced with covered bosoms Monday night, but the producer said he would appeal to morality officers today for permission to unveil them.

Producer Luben Vichey said the dancers who usually perform with bared breasts in two of the show's numbers, decided to cover up after two women from the morality squad visited staid Royal Alexandra Theatre during the day.

He said they explained that unless all bosoms were covered, it might be necessary to take the troupe's representatives before a court. There it would be up to a judge to decide whether there was anything lewd about the performance.

In some cases the small, filmy coverings the girl donned did little more than pay lip service to the law.

DETROIT NEXT

Ernest M. Rawley, manager of the theatre, said the officers did not suggest there was anything suggestive about the dances. However, the troupe didn't want to risk being tied up in court and missing a Detroit appearance next week.

'Got the League by the Tail' Chortles Crafty Ole Casey

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) "I've got the American League by the tail," said Casey Stengel Monday as he named Bob Turley as the New York Yankees' opening day pitcher against Boston Red Sox Friday at New York.

"I'll will Turley in the first game and Whitey Ford in the second," said the Yankee manager whose team finished the Florida phase of its training schedule with a 16-11 record.

"I also think I can play-two teams if I have to," he continued. "That is, I can play a right-handed and a lefthanded team."

Casey was speaking about right and lefthanded batters. He quickly named a "lefty" team that had only one righthanded batter—Gil McDougald at second base. His "mighty" team has one "lefty"—catcher Yogi Berra.

This is the way Stengel lined them up:

"Lefty"—Mary Throneberry on first, McDougald at second, Tony Kubek at short, Jerry Lumpe at third, Norm Sieburn, Switch-hitting Mickey Mantle and Enos Slaughter in the outfield and Berra catching.

"Righty" — Bill Skowron on first, McDougald on second, Bobby Richardson at short, Andy Carey at third, Elston Howard, Mantle and Hank Bauer in the outfield and Berra catching.

Skowron, sidelined for a few days with a sore back, will be able to open the season Friday, the Yankees' club physician, reported.

Vernon Edges Regina In Western Finals

REGINA (CP) — Vernon Canadians scored three times in the third period Monday night to overcome a 2-1 deficit and defeat Regina Caps 4-3 before 2,000 fans in the first game of the best-of-seven western Allan Cup final.

Second and third games will be played here Wednesday and Friday.

Jim Moro, Bill Hrycluk, Art Hart and Willie Schmidt scored for Canadians, with Schmidt getting the winner. Brian Whittal, Pat Lundy and John Reeve got the Regina goals.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

EDMONTON (CP)—Vern Buffey, Calgary Stampeders Western Hockey League referee, pleaded not guilty Monday to a charge of assault laid by a fan after a WHL game here March 26. Buffey was remanded to appear for trial April 17. The fan alleged after the game that the referee struck him when he made a remark to Buffey.

PICKED WRONG FAN

TORONTO (CP) — A National Hockey League playoff ticket cost Syd Walsh $127.50 Monday. Walsh, 22, was convicted of trying to sell the $2.50 ticket to a policeman for $7. Magistrate H. D. Foster fined him $25 for scalping. The extra $100 fine was for being illegal possession of a liquor permit, discovered when he was arrested.

Two Persons Die In Rooming House Fires in Ontario

By The Canadian Press

Two persons were killed and seven injured in separate Ontario fires Monday.

Wilfred Pinkham, 54, was killed when fire destroyed a rooming house in central Windsor Monday night. Four other persons, including a fireman, were injured.

Mrs. Olo Keanes, 48, bedridden for five years after being paralyzed by a stroke, was burned to death when fire swept through her second-floor room in a rooming house in Niagara Falls. A man who tried to rescue her was injured.

OTTAWA AREA FIRES

At Kranktown, 45 miles southwest of Ottawa, a seven-month old baby suffered severe burns in a fire which destroyed his home. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rosebrough.

Fire also destroyed a 10-room frame farmhouse at Clayton in the Ottawa valley with loss estimated at $20,000.

At Windsor, the second major fire in as many nights, and at least 15 persons running outside in night attire. The three-storey brick structure, at the corner of Ouellette Avenue and Elliot Street was destroyed minutes after the flames were discovered in the basement.

Saved From Creek

HAMILTON (CP) — Artificial respiration restored the breathing of a five-year-old girl snatched Monday from Red Hill Creek where he lay face down after falling 100 feet down an embankment.

Police said Zingaro Florindo saved the life of David Curtis by jumping into the water and applying artifical respiration.

Leo (July 23 to August 21)—Since there is so much for you to do today, it is best to plan your labors and work methodically so that you clear the table for the important days ahead. Attend to most important affairs first. Also, be sure you show appreciation to fellow workers.

Virgo (August 22 to September 22) — Early A. M. is fine for visiting hairdresser or barber, getting your appearance at its very best. Then be alert while at the wheel or in motion. Make all vital social visits and attend those functions that combine business with pleasure.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23)—Home and family ties should occupy your thoughts today, even while out in the world of affairs. Be loyal to the nth degree. P. M. buy pretty little gifts, then relax at fireside.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—A day for calling, visiting, corresponding — whether for business of socially. Aspects fine for reaching real understanding with everyone important to you in the future. Then shop and spend late evening in serious study.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — No time today to dwell on ideas and dreams of the future. Concentrate on the important financial and security matters that require attention now. Impress all with your practical good sense and you get desired results.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Think of yourself today. Dress in best taste, put your best foot forward and be off to see those persons who can help you materially in your endeavors or social career. Don't be such an introvert. Be sociable.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Forget about gadding about today and give your attention to pressing financial and personal matters at home, with kin, or at office and with business associates. Also, be sure you lend a helping hand where most sorely needed.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Excellent day to analyze and know what your true aims in life are, so that you can quickly start the ball rolling in the right direction by seeing key people. Get their co-operation and find out how you can be helpful to them, too.

If your child is born today —

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plate. Hold firm. Gives more POWER, so they feel more comfortable. Does not contain gummy, gooey stuff for sure breath! Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

The delightful child born today is a rare combination of the visionary and the practical individual. Pioneering is early evidenced though a secure footing is insured at first. Hence, a careful course of education should be planned to give impetus to both the practical as well as the spiritual. Fine material for New Era pursuits. However, early teach that what is once started must be completed.

Loggers' Union Appears to Be Adding Strength

CORNER BROOK, Nfld. (CP) Premier Smallwood's new logging contract appeared to be getting strength Monday as 29 independent contractors in the province's biggest paper company were reported willing to negotiate with it.

Lawyer Albert Martin said he had received authorization from contractors of Bowater's Newfoundland Pulp and Paper Mills Limited to negotiate work agreements with the Newfoundland Brotherhood of Woods - Workers (Ind).

Mr. Martin, son of Bowater's vice-president and general-manager Albert Martin, said the contractors indicated willingness to join the Newfoundland Contractors Association. The association organized by Mr. Martin would eventually represent all 60 Bowater contractors.

The NBWW, promoted by Premier Smallwood to replace the decertified International Woodworkers of America (CLC), claims more than 8,500 members.

Mr. Martin said Martin said Bowater's tried to frustrate the IWA "every way they could."

"The IWA was preceded into the province by an unsavory reputation," Mr. Martin said in an interview. "We didn't like it much when they kept set out to represent our loggers.

"We had more trouble with the IWA than the A.N.D. Company had. Our contractors' camps were raided, men were pushed around and injured, food stolen and equipment smashed. Our people were certified they made no attempt to negotiate with us and they just kept chased them around trying to arrange a meeting. They just called a strike.

"The IWA raided four independent unions in this membership. Now they have been raided by NBWW. It's a taste of their own medicine.

"The IWA has not the British Columbia lumber industry out of business, and I am implacably opposed to it because I think it could do the same to Newfoundland logging."

A.N.D. operations began after a new contract was signed with the NBWW and loggers' camps were reported ready to close this week as the haulbot neared completion. Driving the world to the A.N.D. plant at Grand Falls will begin when ice goes out of the rivers, probably in mid-April.

HINT PRODUCTION

preserve its national integrity. Canada's was dependent on reports of Russian scientists for knowledge of this country's northern region.

Support for the motion was given by Liberal Jean Lapointe but the Commons reached no decision on it when an unusually short despite the indignant accusation of W. H. McMillan (Lawrence-Stormont) that government supporters were deliberately talking out the motion.

"One would suspect that they have orders from higher up to keep this debate going on," he said as he made an unsuccessful attempt shortly before 6 p.m. adjournment to bring about a decision on the resolution.

UNRIGGED FREE VOTE

Mr. Argue urged that a free vote be allowed on the resolution, remarking that the government seems to pay no attention to private members' resolutions and allows them to be talked to death.

A.B. Best (PC—Halton), scientist-farmer and son of Inuits's co-discoverer, Sir Charles Best, said during the debate that the National Research Council is in the difficult position of having an unwise position of operating its own laboratories for research and at the same time making financial grants to universities for scientific research.

The proposed committee should investigate whether these two functions might be separated in future.

The committee also might survey the research done by industry.

James A. McBain (PC—Elgin) favored research into uses of wool, lanolin and skim milk, possibly finding uses other than for food. Another Liberal, Paul Martineau, said matters for greater research are a soil survey, improvement of agricultural surpluses and loss of export markets because of high prices. Unless these problems are soon solve these problems, he said.

Alfred D. Hales (PC—Wellington South) who was speaking on the 10 p.m. government hour was reached was frequently interrupted by opposition members by shouts to permit a vote on the motion.

WORK ON BUDGET

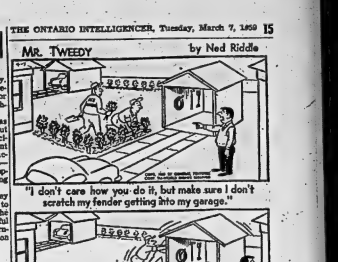
reviewing the government's operations for the year just ended. This is made public a little after B-Day. It is printed in a security vault of the government printing bureau.

No sooner is one budget finished than officials start considering aspects of the one to follow. Many changes are suggested as to what impact they have on industries and the economy. Suggestions are received and considered as to what new policies might be implemented in the next budgeting.

Gradually, over the months, this information is boiled down to its essentials. The finance ministry estimates what the tax revenues to see what revenue he can expect in the following year. If this fail, he tells the six-minister treasury board, which passes on the government's expenditure program, how things are shaping up. This gives the treasury board some form of "direction" on whether to chop proposed expenditures or allow them to increase. About three months before the budget is to be given parliament's "blue book" of proposed spending is placed before Parliament.

Then comes the big job of determining whether the government is to plan for a budget deficit, a balanced budget or a surplus. Periodically, the finance minister consults with the prime minister.



There have been deficits in the last two years, and next one, perhaps much smaller than the estimated peacetime high of $100,000,000 for 1950-51, is probably coming up.

STARTS SWIM FRIDAY

MONTREAL (CP) — Louis Lamontagne, 36-year-old frogman who last December swam the Fraser River in British Columbia, starts Friday on his go's going to try and swim from Montreal to Quebec City this summer. He told a press conference he hopes to start Friday and make the 90-mile distance in "three-or four stages amounting approximately to 50 hours.

20 DROWNED

JAKARTA (AP)—The Antara agency reported Monday night that an Indonesian boat capsized in a violent storm in the South Celebes last Tuesday, drowning 20 of its 60 passengers.

Mine Promoter Got Only $12,000 Pay in 8 Years

VICTORIA (CP)—The man behind the unsuccessful mining venture in British Columbia which cost about $400,000 made a total salary of $12,000 in eight years of promoting.

J. Stewart Smith, superintendent of brokers in the provincial general's department, announced this Monday night in comments to Coroner James Harris Matson.

Mr. McKee, now living in Santa Rosa, Calif., promoted a scheme to extract gold from sands of the Fraser River at Lillooet. B.C. Residents in Ontario and B.C., many of them members of the Baptist Church, invested thousands of dollars.

Mr. Smith said in an interview that Mr. McKee was given a ticket return to Canada from California to explain the loss.

PLANNED RADIO STATION

Much of the money for the venture, now being investigated by the Ontario Securities Commission, went through Baptist ministers Rev. Leslie Millin, director of the anti-Communist Freedom Foundation of Canada. Funds were to have been used for a radio station at Prince George, B.C., to broadcast freedom messages to Communist China.

Mr. Smith said "the grass flag" ore speculated with Mr. McKee appears to have been $800,000 of which $400,000 was contributed directly to Mr. McKee and the balance to Mr. Millin.

Mr. Smith said Mr. McKee's salary from 1951 to 1943 was only $12,000.

NO BOORS IN TORONTO

The Ontario Securities Commission says it can find no books in Toronto relating to the scheme. The commission launched an investigation Monday to determine what happened to the money.

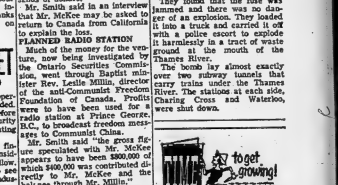
It said that of $410,000 raised in Ontario by Mr. McKee between between $300,000 and $350,000, Mr. Millin said in a Vancouver interview he can account for all the money.

Promissory notes signed by Mr. McKee were given persons who contributed to the plan.

Mr. McKee has been quoted as saying he has "absolute confidence that I'll pay back every dollar." He said $750,000 was spent.

Bomb Gives Old London Five-Hour Scare

LONDON (Reuters) — London held its breath for five agonizing hours early today, waiting for an explosion that might have wrecked the heart of the city in the Waterloo area.



The alarm was given shortly after nightshift construction workers uncovered a 2,000-pound German bomb dropped in 1941.

The dragline of an excavating machine nudged the object several times before the construction men realized what it was.

Army experts of the Royal Engineers probed the huge steel shell. Finally at 6:15 a.m. they signalled the all clear.

They found that the fuse was jammed and there was no danger of an explosion. They loaded it into a truck and carried it off with a police escort to explode it harmlessly in a tract of waste ground at the mouth of the Thames River.

The bomb lay almost exactly over two subway tunnels that carry trains under the Thames River. The stations at each side, Charing Cross and Waterloo, were shut down.

Canada and U.S. May Move Closer This Week to Accord About Columbia River Power

By JOHN N. BIRD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada and the United States may move closer this week to some form of international arrangement for joint development of the rich hydro - electric resources of the mighty Columbia River.

The International Joint Commission will tackle the main obstacle to such an agreement at a four-day meeting opening Wednesday in Washington.

This stumbling block is known as downstream benefits — what Canada should get from the U.S. for damming the Columbia and storing water in Canada which could be fed to American power plants to generate power when the river normally is low.

CANADA'S DEMAND

Since 1951 Canada has demanded that the U.S. make payment in power for downstream benefits. For years the U.S. took the view that it would make no payment, but it recently agreed in principle that this power should receive a share of power generated at American plants by water stored in Canada.

The Canadian and American representatives on the IJC will consider the share of power Canada should receive. Unofficial reports in Ottawa say Canada will press for half the additional electricity developed in the U.S. in exchange for Canadian administration and regulation of the year-round water flow.

Canadian officials are optimistic about the chances of an agreement being reached, either at this week's meeting or at subsequent ones. However, if the Americans refuse to make what Canadian officials describe as a reasonable payment for downstream benefits, negotiations may collapse.

The Washington meeting also will consider a report by the International Columbia River Engineering Board concluding that it is "physically and economically feasible" to go ahead with joint development of the Columbia.

The river rises in British Columbia, crosses the international boundary near Trail, B.C., and flows through the powerhungry northwestern U.S. to the Pacific Ocean.

ALTERNATE PLANS

The board proposed three alternate plans, each calling for expenditures of up to $1,600,000,000 in Canada and $2,500,000,000 in the U.S. Its report was a technical examination of the three proposals and did not deal with the touchy question of downstream benefits.

However, the report did say that for any further progress toward co - operative development "some measure of general agreement between the two countries should be reached with respect to principles for sharing benefits and costs."

A draft defining downstream benefits will be placed before the Washington meeting as a basis for discussion. This follows instructions to the Canadian and American sections of the IJC by their respective governments to make a joint recommendation on a definition of downstream benefits.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, chairman of the Canadian section of the IJC, said in a recent interview that "the commission now has a mandate to come up with a recommendation."

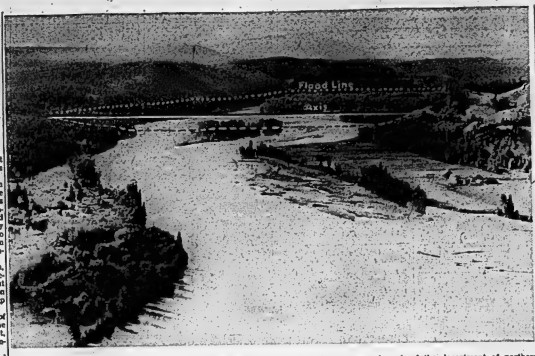
International development of the river also will depend on the attitude of the B.C. government, which controls the water in Canada.

Ray Williston, B.C. lands and forests minister, said last month that the engineering report is a good basis on which to work out the problem of hydro development on the river. However, he said downstream benefits still is the top question and B.C. is cooperating with Ottawa in presenting the Canadian case to the IJC.

Agreement on downstream benefits must precede IJC consideration of the three proposals by the engineering board.

Once such agreement is reached, the commission will be able to assess each of the proposals. Its next step would be to recommend to both governments that a particular project that should be undertaken.

The development program proposed by the engineering board would be capable of meeting 60 per cent of all electric power demands in B.C. and the U.S. Pacific northwest by 1985. It would double current electric output on the Columbia to 18,000,000 kilowatts.



At least eight huge dams would be built on the Canadian section of the river, providing a steady regulated flow of water year-round for throbbing hydro plants downstream.

The three proposals made by the engineering board: (1) Diversion of the Kootenay River into the Columbia at Copper Creek near Canal Flats, B.C., where the Kootenay comes within a mile of Columbia Lake, headwater of the Columbia River; (2) diversion of the Kootenay into the Columbia at Dorr, about 10 miles north of the international boundary; (3) no diversion.

Biggest of the proposed dams on the Columbia would be at Mica Creek, 90 miles upstream from Revelstoke, B.C. It would cost a maximum $327,000,000 and have a maximum generating capacity of 1,624,000 kilowatts.

The engineering board appeared to favor the Copper Creek diversion. It would call for dams in Canada at Copper Creek, Luxor, Calamity Curve, Micak, Downie Creek, Revelstoke Canyon, Arrow lakes and Murphy Creek.

The dam at Calamity Cove would be eight miles downstream from Donald; the dam at Downie Creek 4½ miles upstream from Revelstoke, and the dam on the Arrow lakes about 4½ miles upstream from Castlegar. All three would be on the Columbia.

POSSIBLE DAM SITE — The International Columbia River engineering board has proposed development of the Columbia River with the building of at least eight power dams in British Columbia costing up to $1,000,000,000. This week the International Joint Commission meets in Washington to discuss the proposal and figure how the benefits will be shared between Canada and the United States. This photo, released at Ottawa by the water resources branch of the department of northern affairs shows the site of a proposed dam at Dorr on the Kootenay River, 10 miles north of the international boundary. One proposal is to build a dam at Dorr, diverting the Kootenay into the Columbia. This photo, taken last May, carries the engineers' marks showing the flood line which outlines the upstream area to be flooded when the dam is built. The axis indicates the top level of the water at the dam. (CP Photo).

NEED TOURIST BOOST

TORONTO (CP) — James M. McAvity, president of the Canadian Tourist Association, says Canada's tourist industry needs to analyze its assets and liabilities and come up with a fresh approach to tourism. He told Canadian Restaurant Association directors Monday that last year Canadian tourists spent $192,000,000 more outside Canada than visitors spent here.

LIVING STANDARDS IN CANADA DECLINE

Peacetime High Budget Deficit Is Indicated

Spending Hit Peak Revenue Fell Sharply

OTTAWA (CP)—A peacetime record budget deficit of $618,000,000 is indicated for the fiscal 1958-59 fiscal year, Finance Minister Fleming told Parliament today.

Budget spending soared to an all-time high of $5,287,400,000, he estimated in a white paper, while budget revenues fell by $278,000,000 to $4,770,800,000 in the year ended March 31.

FIRST FULL YEAR

In opening the new Progressive Conservatives' first full fiscal year in control of the treasury, Mr. Fleming presented the financial picture of the last year as a curtain - raiser to his 1959 - 60 budget which he will submit to Parliament at 8 p.m. EST Thursday night.

The new budget will set taxes for the 1959-60 fiscal year of government spending for the new year.

The 1958-59 deficit compared with one of $38,600,000 in the previous year. Total revenues of $5,048,800,000 and expenditures of $5,087,400,000.

It is the largest speech last June, Mr. Fleming had forecast a deficit of $540,000,000 based on revenues of $4,552,000,000 and spending of $5,300,000,000. He later revised the deficit estimate to about $700,000,000.

SUBJECT TO REVISION

The figures are subject to revision about August, when final accounts for the year are in. But the white paper estimates are customarily close to the mark.

The 1958-59 deficit compares with an all-time high of $2,538,557,000 in the war year of 1944-45. The previous peacetime record was $390,542,000 in 1919-20. The last since the Second World War was $151,849,000 in 1956-57.

A variety of normal non-budgetary transactions left the government's cash balances up by $80,000,000 compared with the year earlier.

At the end of the year, the net debt stood at $11,685,800,000, an increase of $629,500,000.

Largely because, the personal income tax continued as the single largest source of income, bringing in $1,371,000,000, down from $1,459,800,000. The white paper said the decrease resulted from decreases in rates and increases in exemptions for dependents.

CORPORATE TAXES DOWN

Corporation income tax yielded $1,029,000,000, down from $1,234,800,000. It was the principal producer. The drop of almost

Pension Fund Set Record "In the Red"

OTTAWA (CP)—The old age pension fund went into the red by $14,000,000 in the fiscal year just ended—an all-time high.

This was an increase of $8,000,000 over the deficit for the previous year.

In his pre-budget white paper, tabled in the Commons today, Finance Minister Fleming said the fund's year's revenue to cover the $55-a-month pension to 1,600,000 persons will total $570,000,000. Pension outlays were $560,000,000.

Russia and Jap Plans to Double Fish Catches Disturb Two Experts

OTTAWA (CP)—The Fisheries Council of Canada has been told that plans by Russia and Japan to double their catches in the next few years are a "real challenge" to world fish conservation efforts.

Dr. J. L. Kask, chairman of the Fisheries Research Board, told the council's annual meeting that if these bigger catches operate in areas where fish stocks are already depleted, "the problem of conservation will be much more critical than in the past."

Dr. Kask said that this year Russia's 94 big Russian vessels of up to 4,000 tons—vessels having a "terrific fishing potential"—are expected to operate off the Grand Banks off Newfoundland. Last year there were eight Russian vessels on the banks.

In the next 10 years world population would increase at a rate to produce 1,000,000,000 more fish eaters, stressing the importance of conserving fish stocks.

"The picture is disturbing when you look into the future," said C. Gordon O'Brien, manager of the fisheries council.

Budget Likely To Bring Boosts In Some Taxes

Can't Balance Books But May Cut Deficit

OTTAWA (CP) — The crystal-gazers have called the shot: Some taxes may be raised Thursday night. But which ones and how much are the big mysteries.

One thing appears certain—taxpayers are not likely to be able to pull out many plums from Finance Minister Fleming's second major accounting to Parliament and the public.

Faced with the prospect of record government spending, the budget Mr. Fleming presents at 8 p. m. EST Thursday is likely to be one based on the need of obtaining higher revenues.

MAY REDUCE DEFICIT

The huge budget deficit may be reduced, but there is no likelihood at this stage that Mr. Fleming will try to balance the books. The aim would be to increase confidence in the government money by increased borrowing next year amid heavy government spending.

Authorities emphasize that the size of the deficit for this year—the last before a general election—is not the point at issue. Mr. Fleming took steps to boost some taxes to reduce the deficit.

Part of the deficit is caused by the "in-the-red" pension fund. Some speculation has centred on the possibility that the special corporation income and commodity sales—for pension revenue—may be increased to make the pension fund pay its way.

There also has been speculation that some personal taxes on luxury goods may be increased.

HEPC Watching New Way to Get Atomic Power

TORONTO (CP)—A spokesman for the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission said Monday the commission is watching with interest a new method of producing electricity from atomic power, discovered in the United States.

However, he said the process which produces electricity directly from atomic power would have no bearing on Hydro's nuclear energy program.

Hydro now is building a nuclear power station near Chalk River. This method uses nuclear energy to produce steam.

The U.S. discovery was announced at Ann Arbor, Mich., by Robert W. Fuller, professor of Michigan professor of physics. The process eliminates boilers, turbines, gas condensers and generators now used in both conventional and nuclear electric plants.

The electricity under this process is produced from a uranium carbide source exposed to high temperatures and a special gas from cesium, a metal.

CONTRACT SIGNED

ST. THOMAS (CP)—A contract granting office workers a 4½ across-the-board increase has been negotiated at Canada Iron Foundries Ltd. here. A minimum Monday. The minimum wage will be $268 a month. Office employees are members of Local 4815, United Steelworkers of America.

Don Johnson of Columbus, Ohio, straight-line driving wide Insurance Company, commented that he is not surprised that Americans invest heavily in Canada, because Canadian insurance companies don't.

"In the States we have heard that Canadian rates are critical of the extent to which Americans have invested in Canada," he said in general discussion at the CUC's 50th anniversary conference. "We must say that on hearing that your insurance companies have only one per cent in Canada, it is certainly no wonder."

Offers from the CUC's expansion in Canada "satisfactory" . . . "Any qualifying of practical means of assisting less-developed countries" must be considered.

Deficit Amount Was Reduced By Special Defence Account

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming's deficit in the last fiscal year would have been $828,400,000 instead of $618,000,000 if he had not drawn every last dollar out of a special defence account.

This was indicated today in the pre-budget white paper, tabled in the Commons, giving a preliminary accounting by the federal government of the 1958-59 year ended March 31.

The document said the year's deficit, based strictly on budgetary accounting, was an estimated $618,000,000.

But Mr. Fleming—as he had announced in his budget speech last June 17—liquidated the balance remaining in the special defence equipment account. That provided $211,800,000 for defence expenditures that did not have to be accounted for in budget bookkeeping on which the official deficit figure is based.

The special account, which has existed for several years, was a bookkeeping device. Money since had been built up before 1958 by authorizing a $1-billion stated value of equipment and supplies given to NATO partners under mutual aid.

The $211,800,000 charged against it—a sum handed 1958-59 in winding it up compares with $24,000,000 in the previous year.

Liquidation of the account had a big effect on the year's accounting of defence expenditures in the budget accounts show a whopping drop of $250,000,000 dollars to $1,437,200,000 from $1,687,600,000 in the previous 1957-58 year.

But when the special equipment account and two other non-budgetary accounts are counted in, actual cash outlays for defence fell by $58,600,000 to $1,634,700,000 from 1957-58 levels.

Defence still takes by far the largest share of government expenditures, but the share is steadily declining.

Last year defence accounted for almost 37 per cent of budgetary spending—compared with 39 per cent the previous year, 37 per cent in 1956-57 and 40 per cent in 1955.

Budgetary spending on the army, navy and air force also dropped by $229,200,000 to $1,172,700,000. The 1957-58 figure was $1,401,700,000.

NATO expenditures, including infrastructure, fell to $97,000,000 from $118,600,000.

Adenauer's Successor Likely To Follow Flexible Policy

BONN (Reuters)—A more flexible West German attitude on talks with Russia was predicted here today following Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's announcement Tuesday to seek the West German presidency.

The 83-year-old chancellor's reasons for his decision were expected to be given by him in a radio broadcast tonight.

One of his two rivals likely successors, Eugen Gerstenmaier, Speaker of the lower house, has been known for a more flexible line than his colleagues.

And the other rival, vice - chancellor and economics minister, Tuesday night made a speech in which he hinted at a loosening of the ruling Christian Democrat party he was prepared, in principle, to negotiate with Russia.

But Adenauer, as recently as last week's Atlantic part conference in Washington showed that he was against any flexible approach to the Russians on Berlin.

He also is reported opposed to the plan by Prime Minister Macmillan's suggestions for drastically thinned-out forces in Europe.

Election of Adenauer to the presidency in succession to retiring Theodor Heuss is considered a certainty.

The election will take place in Berlin July 1, and if elected Adenauer would lay down the office of the chief of state of Germany Sept. 15—10 years to the day after his first election to the chancellorship.

Adenauer's decision shook western capitals.

Government officials made no attempt to conceal their surprise, but both the British and French governments declined offthe-record comment. Diplomatic observers in both countries saw it as a victory for those in the Western camp who have been arguing in favor of a flexible attitude toward the Soviet Russia.

In Washington, Adenauer's decision was applauded. U.S. foreign policy makers say privately that by choosing to step up to the presidency instead of remaining chancellor until death or disability overtakes him, Adenauer has almost certainly thwarted Soviet hopes that end of his regime would be followed by a struggle for power, creating uncertainty abroad weakness in Bonn.

Says Insurance Firms Invest Too Little Here

HAMILTON (C)—The Canadian Union of Insurance Employees a look at its international status Tuesday and in return hopes some action will be taken of Canadian business practices from a United States insurance executive.

Ralph Stapley of Ottawa, president of the CUC which is holding its annual convention here criticized the Organization for being "woefully behind" other countries in promoting co - operative investments abroad.

Dr. D. Ralph Campbell, economist at the Ontario Agricultural College of Guelph, brought topics nearer home with a statement that Canadian insurance companies put only one per cent of their investment funds into mortgages shares in Canadian companies.

Don Johnson of Columbus, Ohio, straight-line driving wide Insurance Company, commented that he is not surprised that Americans invest heavily in Canada, because Canadian insurance companies don't.

"In the States we have heard that Canadian rates are critical of the extent to which Americans have invested in Canada," he said in general discussion at the CUC's 50th anniversary conference. "We must say that on hearing that your insurance companies have only one per cent in Canada, it is certainly no wonder."

Offers from the CUC's expansion in Canada "satisfactory" . . . "Any qualifying of practical means of assisting less-developed countries" must be considered.

Electrical Firms Oppose Further Cuts in Tariffs

TORONTO (CP) — Changes in the tariff regulations to help direct cabinet representation for Canadian electrical manufacturing industry "should be afforded whatever protection, assistance, encouragement and protection government policy can make available," the obligations and responsibilities relating to principal manufacturing industries, as well as trade and international commitments."

It estimates that between 1947 and 1957 the total contribution by manufacturing to the gross national product exceeded the contributions of agriculture, forestry, fishing, mining and quarrying, oil wells, construction and transportation by some $11,000,000,000.

TRADE BARRIERS CUT

The brief says that no further tariff concessions be made affecting the electrical manufacturing industry.

It also asks "a simple statutory amendment" to the electrical schedule in the customs tariff to restore the meaning which we believe Parliament intended."

A wide range of electrical apparatus now is duty classified at varying rates of duty under items outside the electrical schedule.

CHEVRIER FEARS PILOTAGE RULES TO HURT SEAWAY

Urges Canada Oppose Proposed U. S. Bill

OTTAWA (CP) Lionel Chevrier says the Canadian government should oppose legislation now before the United States Congress affecting pilotage on the Great Lakes.

The former Liberal transport minister and ex-president of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority said Tuesday in the Commons a government proposal for amendments in the Canada Shipping Act "arises out of the insistence of the United States authorities to pass a bill which, if passed in its present form, may well be detrimental to Canadian interests."

Transport Minister Hees, the sponsor of the bill, said the amendments would empower the government to decide where it should be compulsory to carry pilots in the seaway - lakes section.

SHIPPING SUBSIDY

Earlier, the Commons gave first reading to a government bill to pay railways a $20,000,000 subsidy in the next year in compensation for reductions in freight rates. Mr. Hees also said the effect will be to reduce to about 17 per cent the 17-per-cent rate boost awarded the railways last fall on class and commodity rates.

Mr. Hees said the changes in the Canada Shipping Act are designed to fit in with any pilotage legislation the U.S. might adopt, or make it possible for Canada to proceed independently.

At present, masters of foreign vessels hired a sailing master from the pilotage authority in sections of the Great Lakes system.

Whatever other arrangement for lake pilotage was made, Mr. Hees said, "should be a reciprocal one as between Canada and the United States."

CANADA'S APPROACH

Canada's basic approach would be to require vessels to carry a pilot through certain restricted waters to be defined by the seaway - lakes section, but qualified navigation officers familiar with the waters could use a radio-telephone would be required aboard.

Mr. Hees said that, the legislation might play into the hands of those organizations who would like to see its costs made prohibitive. Mr. Chevrier professed a willingness to step up quickly to propose a complete overhaul of the Canada Shipping Act.

He also suggested pilotage problems could work out the same way tolls were — by a three man commission from each country threshing out a joint solution.

It appears that the United States authorities and particularly the Congress will pass a law that will make pilotage compulsory on the Great Lakes for vessels from other than Canadian or United States waters, Mr. Chevrier said.

"The government should oppose . . . the legislation that is now before Congress."

Buying Power Lower As Prices Outpace Wages

Fleming Makes Report On Eve of New Budget

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian living standards underwent a slight decline in 1958, Parliament was informed today.

Living costs outpaced small gains in wages, reducing real earnings and paring consumers' purchasing power for the first time in recent years, Finance Minister Fleming reported in his pre-budget white paper.

Adding up the over-all economic picture, he concluded that while recession may have hit Canada hard, recovery now is under way.

The big problem for 1958 was unemployment, which hit a post war high.

EXPORTS DECLINE

A lot of key exports, such as newsprint and metals, declined. Interest rates increased. Bond prices fell.

But there was "mounting evidence" late in the year "that recovery was under way," Mr. Fleming said.

This reflected contrast to the same period 12 months earlier, economic activity in the fourth quarter of 1957 was substantially. The volume of non-farm output was seasonally adjusted rates expanded by approximately two per cent.

The over-all production rise in 1958 was "modest." The gross national product—value of all goods and services produced—climbed by 2.5 per cent to a record $32,200,000,000, but four-fifths of this rise was in prices.

As the economy struggled to get back on its feet, farm folks may have fared a bit better than city dwellers. Farm cash income, which had eased in 1957, swelled by eight per cent to $2,806,000,000, two per cent below the 1952 record.

MORE UNEMPLOYMENT

Labor, generally, had its troubles. While the over-all civilian labor force rose to 6,127,000 from 6,000,000 in 1957, the number of persons with jobs slipped to 5,772,000 from 5,746,000.

The number of persons without jobs and seeking work climbed on average 405,000 from 257,000 in 1957 and 180,000 in 1956. The unemployment rate, or proportion of the labor force, went up to a seasonally adjusted 7 per cent, compared with 4.3 per cent in 1957.

Employment began to pick up towards the year-end.

Average annual wages rose by $61 to $3,534, up 1.8 per cent, compared with a rise of $138 or four per cent in 1957. However, living costs increased by 2.6 per cent, "advance that more than

Joey Smallwood Exudes Defiance As He Moves Into Camp of Enemy

OTTAWA (CP) — Breathing defiance Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland is carrying his warfare against the federal government into the heart of enemy territory and Ottawa today anticipated fireworks tonight.

He would not have signed the terms of union 10 years ago if he had known then what he would add to the province—Newfoundland's "right" to secede after 1962, the nimble-tongued Liberal premier told reporters in the capital for a two-day visit.

He said Works Minister Green is a "downright lie" if he had alleged that the provincial government was selecting inmates for federally-subsidized housing on a political basis.

In his speech to J. Browne minister without portfolio and Newfoundland's representative in Prime Minister Diefenbaker's Progressive Conservative cabinet, should resign and is the largest slum owner in St. John's.

He also made these other statements before attending today's engagements — a Canadian Club luncheon address which is to be followed by a tea and an afternoon press conference:

1. He won't see Mr. Diefenbaker and he won't call a provincial election until after the federal election.

2. Newfoundland, while shocked and disappointed at defeat of Confederate Joseph R. Smallwood, and he has no intention of entering federal politics.

3. Newfoundland will review its contentious labor legislation at a later date—in a cooler atmosphere—to see whether the province should retain its present power of banning unions whose members within or without

Buy Canada Oppose Proposed U. S. Bill

OTTAWA (CP) Lionel Chevrier says the Canadian government should oppose legislation now before the United States Congress affecting pilotage on the Great Lakes.

The former Liberal transport minister and ex-president of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority said Tuesday in the Commons a government proposal for amendments in the Canada Shipping Act "arises out of the insistence of the United States authorities to pass a bill which, if passed in its present form, may well be detrimental to Canadian interests."

Transport Minister Hees, the sponsor of the bill, said the amendments would empower the government to decide where it should be compulsory to carry pilots in the seaway - lakes section.

SHIPPING SUBSIDY

Earlier, the Commons gave first reading to a government bill to pay railways a $20,000,000 subsidy in the next year in compensation for reductions in freight rates. Mr. Hees also said the effect will be to reduce to about 17 per cent the 17-per-cent rate boost awarded the railways last fall on class and commodity rates.

Mr. Hees said the changes in the Canada Shipping Act are designed to fit in with any pilotage legislation the U.S. might adopt, or make it possible for Canada to proceed independently.

At present, masters of foreign vessels hired a sailing master from the pilotage authority in sections of the Great Lakes system.

Whatever other arrangement for lake pilotage was made, Mr. Hees said, "should be a reciprocal one as between Canada and the United States."

CANADA'S APPROACH

Canada's basic approach would be to require vessels to carry a pilot through certain restricted waters to be defined by the seaway - lakes section, but qualified navigation officers familiar with the waters could use a radio-telephone would be required aboard.

Mr. Hees said that, the legislation might play into the hands of those organizations who would like to see its costs made prohibitive. Mr. Chevrier professed a willingness to step up quickly to propose a complete overhaul of the Canada Shipping Act.

He also suggested pilotage problems could work out the same way tolls were — by a three man commission from each country threshing out a joint solution.

It appears that the United States authorities and particularly the Congress will pass a law that will make pilotage compulsory on the Great Lakes for vessels from other than Canadian or United States waters, Mr. Chevrier said.

"The government should oppose . . . the legislation that is now before Congress."

No Charge Of Tampering With Males

FULTON, Kan. (AP) — The men of Fulton thought the Ladies' Citizens ticket was the funniest joke in town — until Tuesday.

That's when women won control of the town government.

The voters turned out in record numbers (total vote: 583) and elected 72-year-old Mabel Austin mayor. Three other Ladies Citizens' candidates were elected to the five-member city council.

"They (the men) were joking and kidding us about it when we first started talking about running for office," Miss Austin said last night.

"We just wanted to show the men we could do it."

Miss Austin, a retired employee of the U.S. internal revenue service, succeeds Mayor Howard Post, a grocer, 46 votes to 35.

Further Study Of West German Proposal Urged

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker has suggested further study of a West German proposal for a commission to supervise any future moves at reunification.

He said in the Commons Tuesday to the NATO council meeting at Washington last week, the prime minister said: The Canadian delegation expressed the hope that there would be lasting co-operation at the technical level between the federal republic and the East German regime."

He would, in the Canadian view, be fruitful to give further study to a proposal originally made by the federal German republic to institute a continuing commission for Germany which would be charged with the responsibility for supervising and encouraging any moves at unification." Mr. Diefenbaker said.

No Berlin agreement should be accepted by the West which jeopardized the security of West Berlin, Mr. Diefenbaker said.

"It is also the Canadian view that the NATO countries could not accept a solution which would create a gap between the federal republic of Germany and the other countries of Western Europe.

Oklahoma Votes To End 51 Years Of Prohibition

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—By a margin, Oklahoma voted Tuesday to end 51 years of prohibition and allow liquor to be sold by the bottle. The only "dry" state now in the United States is Mississippi.

The vote was a sharp reversal to five previous actions on the whisky issue.

The vote was 275,448 for repeal and 228,719 against.

The state was "dried" than at any time since statehood in 1907. A whisky crackdown started in January drove scores of night clubs and hundreds of bootleg gers out of business.

KIWANIS OPENS NEW HEADQUARTERS

Kiwanis International has a new general office building in Chicago, according to Belleville Kiwanis President Cecil Burkhart. The completion of the new building, which will house some 115 office employees, is the result of a five-year effort on the part of Kiwanis in finance, design and construct the building. All of the current 256,000 membership donated to the new building.

The modern, three level, air-conditioned structure is built of masonry, marble, structural steel, and glass and is surrounded by landscaped grounds. Highlight of the interior design is probably the 25-foot curved mosaic mural, depicting Kiwanis' community service work, which stands in the foyer.

Y.M.C.A. FEATURES SPECIAL TESTS

The local YMCA will be giving a special test of ease to the boys attending the Saturday night gym and swim this coming Saturday, April 11th.

Known as the Hi-Lo Program, these tests are a part of the National YMCA physical education program designed to improve a boy's fitness through competition in certain events with other boys of his own age group.

The events will include high jumping, broad jumping, chinning on a high bar, a 'potato' race, and basketball scoring. Up to three points may be obtained by a competitor in each of these five events. Thirteen points are required for a competitor to receive an award. The points are awarded for achieving a certain standard of performance calculated for each age group. Coaching will be given each boy to help him improve his performance.

Re-assessment Brings 30-Mill Tax Rate Cut

PICTON — Picton's tax rate for 1959 was struck by town council Monday night. The rate for Belleville ratepayers is 97.13 mills residential and 71.8 commercial. For separate school supporters the residential rate is 80.51 mills; for commercial, 65.32 mills.

Last year the residential rate for public school supporters was 97.55 mills, with a commercial rate of 101.92 mills. However, the lower tax figure is re-assessed and the new rate is based on an increase in assessment. Actually, about $14,000 more is to be raised by taxation this year than last. Neither grants nor local debentures account for the increase.

Council decided that daylight saving time would be effective from April 26 to October 25.

Kiwanians Told About Aid for Crippled Kids

What happens to your Easter Seal campaign contributions was dramatically and graphically illustrated to members of the Belleville Kiwanis Club Tuesday when they heard a report from Kiwanian Mr. Steve Tripp, this year's chairman of the Belleville Rotary Club's Crippled Childrens' committee.

Mr. Tripp showed colored slides of a trip through two crippled children's treasure camps, Northwood Camp, near Kirkland Lake and Merrywood Camp on the Rideau, near Perth. Also included were pictures of two thrivers' hospitals for the incapacitated, one in Montreal and one in Winnipeg and rehabilitation centres such as the new centre in Kingston, Ont.

Following the showing of the colored slides, the speaker presented a running commentary, explaining where the contributions go and what they are used for.

He said 50 per cent of the total local Easter Seal campaign contributions is sent to Toronto headquarters and the other half stays right here in the district to help Belleville and district crippled children.

The speaker informed his audience of the fact that the province's 15,000 incapacitated children reside in the countries of Hastings, Lennox, Addington and Prince Edward.

TWO-FOLD USE

He explained campaign contributions are used for a two-fold purpose — to care for those already crippled and to help eliminate the causes of this crippling disease.

Belle Seals help to finance summer camps for those who would otherwise be unable to enjoy summer fun, a rehabilitation program, such as courses at Variety Village, and at Kingston's new rehabilitation home and good medical care, to mention a few projects.

"They (crippled children) are afflicted with a physical handicap . . . but with just a little help from us, they can carry their burden", he said.

Mr. Tripp noted funds are still to be raised in the soon-to-be-realized Ontario Crippled Children's Centre in Toronto. He explained this new and much-needed rehabilitation centre is being financed through a separate campaign, spearheaded by the Rotary Club, through voluntary contributions and government grants.

Objective for this year's Easter Seal campaign for Belleville and district, sponsored by Belleville Rotary Club, is $5,000. The speaker said all but approximately $1,200 had been collected.

At the conclusion of his comments Mr. Tripp read the Crippled Children's Hymn, written by Fred Adsett, district representative of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, and past Club's Crippled Children's committee.

The speaker was introduced by the Rev. C. W. Coleman, and thanked by Don Burkett. He was presented with a token of the club's appreciation by vice-president Gerry Ryan, who was in the chair in the absence of president Gerry Wishart.

It was announced the April 21st meeting has been scheduled for "Mars' Day", and members of the team, team officials, and Mayor Hyde and Mayor McFarland, are expected to be on hand. It was tentatively decided children of Kiwanis members may also attend this meeting.

Among the guests present was Rev. Richard "Dick" Jones, Toronto, executive director of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews. Mr. Jones, well-known in this area, was en-route to Kingston where he was scheduled to speak at the Children's Aid Society meeting.

City Pays Tribute to Macs With Gifts of Mantel Clocks

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

The world champion McFarlands received tangible appreciation from a proud city and outstanding verbal tribute from the parental nest of amateur hockey last night.

The Macs were feted by the city fathers at a banquet held in the Hotel Quinte with a cross-section of fans and officials enjoying the show and food.

Mayor Gerald Hyde was the master of ceremonies and with Mrs. Hyde centred a group of outstanding civic and hockey personalities.

The Macs were honored with beautiful mantel clocks, the gifts of an appreciative city, and verbal tributes from two mayors, hockey officials and silent congratulations from the Booster club.

Head table occupants were Mayor Hyde and Mrs., Reeve Mayor H. J. McFarland of Picton and Mrs. MacFarland; OHA president Jame Gook; Canadian Amateur Hockey Association president Jack Gibson; Allan Armstrong and Mrs. Dudley of Midland Ont., Manager Drury Denyes and Mrs. Denyes; guests of honor Billy Reay and Mrs. Reay, Eddie Carter and Mrs. Carter, representing Hastings County, and Mrs. Denyes; playing coach Ike Hildebrand and Mrs. Hildebrand; Macs' captain Floyd Crawford and Mrs. Crawford; Aldermen Frank Grandame and Mrs. Grandame and Alderman Robert Wills and Mrs. Wills.

Mayor Hyde in his welcome address said the city presents represented the thousands of fans who backed the Macs. He added his personal thanks and personally presented the city's gifts to the players and officials.

Secretary-manager Dudley of the CAHA paid the tribute to the world champions on behalf of the county they represented. "There was a time in Canada had to stay at world tournaments" he said, "but with the emergence of Belleville as a world threat, Canada had to send her best amateur teams to the world championships.

"We need civic - minded communities such as you have here. We had many people who could not give you money but lent their moral support and that is what makes a community great. There is also the matter of a sponsor and good fans. You have both. You had the nucleus of a good team last year. You added to it and you became worthy world champions."

GLORY NOT DIMMED

"A lot of people did not take the Czech defeat with grace. What they forgot was the bigger game of the year was won by the McFarlands' finest triumph was their defeat of Russia. Any team that can defeat a formidable army of foemen is not exactly downed at a world meeting. What happened in the Czech game did not put the McFarland glory one iota."

"I want to thank the McFarlands on behalf of the CAHA, for the splendid job they did in Europe for Belleville and for Canada. We are proud of them, so is the country even as is this fine city" Mr. Dudley said.

Mayor McFarland reiterated his pride in "my boys". "I am proud of them as citizens. It was every minute overseas. No team ever did a finer job than

Skindiving Club Formed in City

A new skindiving club, the "Sportsmen Neildivers" was formed at the first last night when the first slate of officers was elected at a special meeting.

Heading the club is President George Woodhouse. Charles Clarke is the vice-president and Gaila Cranston is the secretary-treasurer.

Jerry Severin was named diving captain with Jim Ling, Don Hamilton and Gary Chandler the alternate captains.

Another meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, April 21, at Cranston's Front Street store. An invitation to any interested in this fast-growing sport has been extended by Miss Cranston.

Theatre Guild Is "Talented Team" But "Lacks Experience" for Play

KINGSTON (CP) — Belleville Little Theatre presented Gershon Kanin's comedy Born Yesterday here Tuesday night as the first play in the Eastern Ontario Drama Festival.

Adjudicator Richard Ainley described the company as "an obviously talented team" but felt the actors lacked the experience to succeed with a play that "needs a good deal of effervescence."

The production was "a little bit on the surface" and lacked resonance in matters of timing and phrasing.

He described the entrance of the crooked junkyard tycoon Harry Brock as "a family — a rather disgusting family — and a wolf pack" and said that the Belleville actors have convinced the wolf notes but not the feeling of the pack.

He said they engaged the audience's sympathies with the characters — "they may be crooks but we must have some kind of affection for them just as we used to have for Jessie James in our childhood."

APPLAUDS DIRECTOR

Mr. Ainley thumped his desk to lead the applause for Dr. Syd Rose, the play's director, who took over the part of reporter Paul Verrall at three days' notice owing to the illness of Lee Jourdan.

Of Carol Albert, who played the dumb blonde role that brought fame to Judy Holliday, he said: "She was stiff at first and a little shaky but soon they must have smoothly and ably than she began."

He found Ted Schwab's acting as the tycoon "too sustained" and in need of a few "lame breakdowns."

Phil Flasier's portrayal of a corrupt senator could have been a little more greasy and Doug Ingle as a tippling member of the reformist press "reminded that a round, seasoned soak has fairly good lines."

The Brockville Theatre Guild will present Sam Spewack's comedy Two Blind Mice tonight.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials eased quietly lower as the stock market moved down today in moderate morning trading.

Speculatives, with a few exceptions, were quiet.

Industrials were quietly easier in Bank of Montreal, Canada Packers B and Canada Iron Foundaries down about a point. Senior rails were weaker, but a number of juniors were slightly firmer. Noranda dipped ¼ at 51. Consolidated Mining, International Nickel and Steel Rock lost ¼.

Base metal mines lost ¼ with Hudson Bay down ¾ at 57½ and International Nickel and Noranda down ¼ at 52.

In golds, Hollinger lost ¼ at 33, Inter-Ribbon ¼ at 19 and Preston East Dome 10 cents at 87.00.

Royalite added 40 cents at 10¾ but Home Pete lost ¼ and several juniors were off a few cents in oils.

Index loses: Industrials .01 to 225.33; golds .33 to 89.56; base metals .02 to 177.80; western oils .51 to 132.85.

Only three speculative mines passed the 100,000-share mark. Can-Erc led ahead 22 cents at 1.00 on a turnover of 376,800 shares. Four of the five most active speculatives gained.

Among industrials, Lobiaw Inc. had the best win, up 4 at 100. Imperial Tobacco was up 3 at 34½. Calgary Power added 1½ at 39. Bell Telephone added ½ at 39. Atlas white dipped ¾ at 24¾ as the company reported an 18-per-cent increase in 1958 earnings from 1957.

Works Dept. Busy Cleaning Streets, Walks

Belleville's city works department has been busy cleaning up the city's streets and sidewalks of ice and sand remaining after winter winter's departure. A large number of previously unemployed men are being used in this project.

Road patching is also being carried on particularly in the main part of the city. In the recently widened areas culverts and ditch inspection and repair is more prevalent. Grading and gravelling of roads is also being conducted.

New sewer connections are being installed at many points throughout the annexed areas, which has caused many road ways and streets to be marred by excavations. The department is attempting to restore these roads to use just as quickly as possible once work on a sewer connection has been completed.

The department is presently preparing its annual construction and tree-planting programme and will be putting these plans into action in the near future.

March Building Permits Set City Record

The coming of spring residential and commercial construction in the city is expected to be a booming start with the list of building permits issued for March being possibly one of the largest in the history of the city.

A total of just over 80 were issued for the month, the majority of these being for the construction of new dwelling units in the eastern annexed area of the city.

Total value of permits for the month was $907,500 with $810,000 being inspector Grant E. Sickels stating that it had been the busiest month for building since his association with the department.

Biggest builder in new housing is the local contracting firm of Lamarsh and Rollins who took out a total of 65 permits for the construction during the month. Twenty-five of the new houses are in the $13,000 class and 13 in the $10,500 class and 15 in the $11,000 class. The balance ranges from the $14,000, one in the $20,000 class.

Mr. Sickle said that practically all of the new dwellings are already started.

The largest building total including one factor structure to be built by T. K. Manning of Peterborough at a cost of $48,000, alterations to a British American Oil Company service station costing $17,000, and a new garage for R. P. Jones, 433 Dundas St., costing $10,000.

Frank Folwell, 388 Front St., is building a new home to cost him in the $10,000 class, while R. W. Brooks, 164 North Front Street, is building one to cost $11,500 each.

February was also a good month for issuance of building permits with an 11-suite apartment building being constructed at 53 being commenced by Anstey and Cox Ltd., and a three-suite apartment building is costing $70,000.

February also saw the permit for the new James Textile store taken out by Hall Bros. This new two-storey structure, replacing the building destroyed by fire on Victoria Day, is also costing $70,000.

In the February building list were permits for six new dwellings.

Leaders Hold Contests at Y

During the past weekend's seventh Eastern Ontario Leadership Conference held at the local "Y", a gymnastics and team competition was held. Some 60-odd people competed in seven teams from Ottawa (3), Peterborough, Sudbury, and Belleville (3) and 22 persons competed in the individual competition. Winners of the team competition were the Belleville Intermediate Boys with 78 points; closely followed by the Peterborough Junior Boys team with 77 points. The Belleville Girls team took third place honors with 75 points.

The team award was a newly-presented trophy from the Leaders' Corps of Belleville. It is known as the Peter Bennett Memorial Trophy and is presented in memory of a former Leader Corps member who died in the spring of 1957. He was remembered by his fellows as a keen athlete, swimmer and lifeguard as a regular attender.

The individual competition in Belleville gymnasts took the majority of the top honors. In the classification for boys, Howard Weatherall of Ottawa was first with 36 points; Greg Bellamy also of Ottawa, placed second with 469 points; third place went to John Tighe of Peterborough with 468 points. The oldest competitor in the group Belleville swept the top honors. Chris Blaker was first with 557 points; Rod Turner was second with 519 points; and Bill Hunter came third with 341 points.

A similar sweep occurred in the girls' competitions. Susan Skelly took top honors in this class with 475 points. Helen Walsh placed in second position with 431 points, closely followed by Elizabeth Linscott with 429 points for third place honors.

The points were awarded for proficiency in gymnastics, tumbling and performance on the rigs and trampoline.

Worrall Opposes Providing Services Outside of Town; Says It Blocks Annexation

TRENTON — The supplying of water and sewage services to residents outside the town limits, coupled with the question of annexation, brought rumblings into the town council meeting on Monday night, but the double-barrelled issue was left over until the next meeting of council when delegations can be heard.

Following is the address to the council on the matter made by Councillor Lloyd Worrall:

"I'm certain that this subject does not come as any surprise to us. It is a matter that has been discussed in hushed tones for many months, but the unfortunate situation is that the problem must be brought to a head by the opening application of two of Trenton's most influential citizens. I have discussed the matter with two individuals who have different opinions and have been given considerable thought to what I, as an individual, think is right and I trust that the decision that I have made will not be construed as a personal attack on any party but rated a judgment based on my thinking and mine alone.

"Firstly, the town of Trenton is in dire need of funds for the construction of first-rate houses. If this were not so, there would certainly be applications for in-town services out of town would be few and applications few to be sent time. We on council are continuously talking about new industry in Trenton. One of the first questions that arises is what is the present situation? "Many corporation executives feel that they would like to build and own their own homes. Thus it would appear to me annexation proceedings in Trenton is the only solution.

"Let us leave politics out of consideration for just a moment and consider the rental of town services to out-of-town residents, To give or rent services to out of town residents in town is taking a very narrow viewpoint. The point will be unanimously related a big boom when they attempted annexation four years and the latter request turned down. There was absolutely no support for the move from the out-of-town residents.

"And why not. Because the people who already had town services could not see that they would be anything to gain. It is my thought that only by democratic form of the services will they themselves support annexation, in fact will demand it.

"It has been said that these people are willing to pay for what they are getting. This statement is in fact only partly true. We are permitting them to choose what services they wish and discard others, but I contend there is no direct gain.

"Which one of you gentlemen who are here tonight would not be very pleased to pay water and sewage rates and have the remainder of the taxpayers to pay for $75,000 for police protection, $15,000 for public health, $41,000 for recreation, $196,154 for public debt charges, indebtedness debt on hospital, the debenture debt on the Commercial Street sewer, the cost of the new courthouse in Belleville, to mention only a few? I contend that by leasing town services to out of town people we are not only benefiting against them but rather are discriminating against our local citizens. I further suggest that the only card that this town has to play is the supply of these services and that if we give this card away we are not well throw in our whole hand.

Girl Guides Hold Meeting

TRENTON — Plans for the Father and Daughter banquet next week were finalized at the April meeting of the East Trenton Girl Guide Local Association, which was held at Colborne Street United on Monday night.

Mrs. N. Davis, in the chair, opened the meeting with the Guide Prayer, and minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Plans were made for a Campers' meeting to be held at the Queen Elizabeth School on April 26, when it was hoped that many interested in camping in this area would attend and discuss ways and means. All Guides and parents interested were asked to go to the meeting.

Among other announcements made by Mrs. N. Ferguson, Commissioner for East Trenton, was that the Guides' church parade will be held on May 24, and that a rummage sale will be held on May 29 and 30.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Walling's committee.

REACH AGREEMENT

BRANTFORD (CP)—Local 237 of the United Auto Workers (CLC) has reached agreement with employees of the Brantford Cordage Co. and the Super Oil Seal Co. by conciliation and direct negotiation. Details of the contracts have been withheld pending ratification.

Will Sell Land as Industrial Site

TRENTON — Town Councillors backed up a statement by Mayor Ross Hurst said agreed to sell the land south of the CNR and Stanley Street to Senator W. A. Fraser for the sum of $1 provided a new industry is established on the property.

In addressing the council Senator Fraser said he and Mr. "Buster" Alyea were quite willing to pay the town the amount they had paid the railway company for it, but that they had to have the land to attract a large industry to establish in the town and would give it to the industry for the sum of $1.

"It is something that has to be done right away," the Senator said, "representatives of the company will be in town soon and we want to be able to tell them the property is theirs if they want it. If you (the council) agree to sell the land to us I will see to have good tidings for you and every business merchant in town within the next 10 days.

"Our only thought in this is to help Trenton grow and continued the Senator, "and if we are successful in getting this industry to move here it will mean a lot to the town. The land would have served and all services but only when they are part of this town."

Fire Chief Gets Appointment

TRENTON — Fire Chief Cecil Ellis was appointed to the rank of Probationary Chief for the year of Captain at the town's meeting on Monday night. Up until now the Fire Chief had held the rank of Captain and was officially only Acting Chief for a six month period.

The report also recommended that the Fire Chief become a resident of Trenton during the year. At present Fire Chief Ellis lives at Bayside.

The committee also decided that the new serial ladder truck will be kept on the north side of the river in the town sheds and will be left there until needed for fire or for training purposes.

In presenting the latter recommendation Councillor Graham said it would require the hiring of four more firemen on permanent staff to man the extra piece of fire gear on the east side and the trucks there now would have to be moved out to the east side to make room for it.

He told the council the committee felt it should be the only truck in the built which would be large enough to contain all the pieces of fire equipment.

He also told the council that the possibility of repairing the old police station for the time being is being considered and that at the present the town engineer is looking into this.

Legion Plans Spring Clean-up Program

TRENTON — Executive members of Branch 110, Canadian Legion met at the Memorial Hall, Monday evening, with branch president, W. T. Lawson in the chair.

House committee chairman, Orvell C. Smith and committee supervisors R. (Pat) Wannamaker and Earl Donaldson advised members that the committee had undertaken the spring house cleaning and that plans had been made for the annual outside clean-up after the long winter months. Chairman Smith also advised that the repairs to the tables and chairs in the auditorium had now been completed.

Branch service bureau officer, James Patterson reported he had received a ruling from the department of Veterans Affairs regarding the filling of prescriptions for veterans who are in receipt of war disability pension. It is as follows:

"D.V.A. request all prescriptions be submitted to them, wherever possible. However in cases of extreme emergency, prescriptions, relating to their respective disabilities for which they receive their pensions, may be filled at any drug store with agreement will be made through D.V.A."

Horace Ketcheson, who for the past number of years has been responsible for the Legion's participation in the Salvation Army Red Shield Appeal, will head that campaign for 1959.

Branch 110 will be holding its Combined Vimy and V.E. Day banquet on Wednesday April 22.

Youth Pleads Guilty to Car Theft

TRENTON — Gary Ibbotson, 16-year-old Trenton youth was charged with the theft of seven tires, when he appeared before Magistrate T. Y. Wills in Trenton county yesterday afternoon.

He pleaded guilty to all seven charges and elected to be tried by magistrate. He had previously pleaded guilty to two other charges, one of trespassing and the other of attempted theft.

Also appearing before Magistrate Wills on charges of car theft were Melvin Lawes, (r. c. Wooler, (one charge); Keith Dunkley, 17, of Trenton, (one charge); Harold Dunkley, 19, of Trenton, (one charge). They all pleaded guilty as charged and elected to be tried by Magistrate.

Carl Buck, 17, also of Trenton appeared on two charges of car theft and was remanded by R. Gregory Buller...Sr case will be heard on Thursday afternoon.

In remanding the youths for sentencing, Magistrate Wills said he now had the picture but could not pass a sentence right away. He remanded the youths for one week and will pass sentence on Tuesday, April 14.

Inspector Bob Rutherford gave evidence for the crown and told of the various cars stolen and how and where they were recovered.

Woman Loses Purse in River

TRENTON — Mrs. Robert Foshay, 28 Louis Street, was thrown into the river at Bridge yesterday, when her foot slipped on the slippery surface, and she fell, dropping her purse as she did so. The purse disappeared under the railing, landed in the swift waters of the Trent River, and was carried away downstream.

Mrs. Foshay suffered severe bruises on her leg and hip, and was quite shaken up by her experience.

The purse contained about $25.00 in cash, and a number of valuable papers.

NATIONAL WILDLIFE WEEK

This is National Wildlife Week. It is one of the few "weeks" to be so designated by an act of Parliament. It has a two-fold aim, firstly to promote an educational campaign among the rising generation to conserve our natural resources with emphasis on the country's wildlife and, secondly, to serve as a living memorial to the late Jack Miner, famous naturalist. If the former objective is achieved, the latter purpose will also be served in impressive style.

More education and less legislation was Miner's recipe for conserving wildlife. He had a point. If people understood the practical value of wildlife and if they appreciated the natural beauties of the feathered and furred inhabitants of forest and field, hill and marsh, there ought not to be any need for compulsion in preserving the environment which makes it possible for these creatures to exist and reproduce. "Ought not to be any need," we said. Unfortunately, even many who know better break the sound rules of conservation. This makes legislation necessary. But legislation will become increasing difficult to enforce if people do not understand the practical reasons for its existence. Thus education is essential. There was a time when a goodly proportion of Canadians knew something about the mode of life of bird and beast, but with the increasing proportion of urban residents this knowledge is now less likely to be acquired accidentally to the enjoyment of rural life. National Wildlife Week will thus become an increasing necessity. A love of living creatures is in itself no guarantee of wise management.

MONTY AND THE RUSSIANS

Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery's plans to visit Russia this month are interesting. The annoyance of British newspapers at this visit is even more so.

The Daily Herald and the Daily Sketch seem to be afraid that Monty will say something to annoy the Russians. We would regard this as highly likely. We would also suspect that it is highly unlikely that the realistic Russians will associate anything Montgomery says with British policy unless it serves their interest to do so. In other words, if they use Monty's words as an excuse to alter their policies it will be because they desired to alter their stand in any case, and they are adept enough at manufacturing excuses to find some other reason for doing so even if Monty were to stay at home. The Russians may act as if they think Monty is an official of the British government, but to argue that they really believe this to be true would be to suggest that they are stupid, of which there is little evidence.

The News Chronicle takes a different tack. It seems to think that Montgomery may say something to annoy the U.S. or West Germany. Now the West Germans and the Americans know full well that Monty will be speaking as an individual. If they do not like an individual talking at the critical stage of world affairs, they can endeavor to practise what they preach. Men with much closer connections to the government than Monty are frequently "sounding off" in the U.S.A. A little bit of sauce for the goose might not do any harm.

BUT WHERE ARE THE ANGELS?

The Ontario Association of Trustees and Ratepayers has voted down a proposal that French be taught in schools in this province at the earliest possible age.

We do not know how many of the 92 votes cast against the proposal were swayed by the appeal of William J. Miller, an Orange stalwart from the rural village of Bognor, but we doubt whether it was many. "If any language is to be spoken it should be Gaelic," said Mr. Miller. "It is the language the devils don't understand and that the angels in Heaven praise God with." The flaw with this argument is obvious. If full-grown devils, with the principal in full-time charge, cannot learn the language, how does Mr. Miller expect the average teacher to drive it into the heads of the little devils under his or her temporary care.

FOLLY OF COMPLAINING

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Because all things don't go my way,
Because it rains when I want shine,
Because I cannot have my say
In everything right down the line,
I ought to sit right down and grow
And mutter loud my discontent
And let a long and dismal howl,
But I don't run the continent.

I know a lot of men who sit
And kick about the way things go,
Who throw a sort of mental fit
Because the good Lord sends us snow.
They yelp because it rains, and then

They yelp because the summer's dry;
And then they loudly yelp again
Because the years are rushing by.

In spite of all their kicking, though,
The world still wags along its way,
And when the good Lord sends us snow,
It snows, in spite of all they say.

On rainy days, it rains; and I
Believe somehow it always will.
If kicking helped, a kick I'd try,
But since it won't, I just keep still.

Holiday Cruise To Historic Caribbean

By G. A. MORTON

ARTICLE 3

Acting on the advice of friends experienced in ocean travel, we took along a generous supply of sea-sick pills. Thinking we would be leaving the day we arrived in St. John we started taking them Friday morning then stopped until Sunday morning and continued doing so for three days. Learning on the way to port late that afternoon the ship ran into some heavy seas during the night in the Bay of Fundy when even walking about the cabin was difficult for landlubbers. The next morning several passengers did not arrive for breakfast, but we felt no ill effects from the rolling action of the ship. There are several different brands of such pills and we have used a couple different makes with satisfaction both on this trip and on plane flights. One's physician and druggist should be consulted before purchasing.

It was bitterly cold when we left port here on Wednesday it was warm enough to do some walking on deck without using clothing other than sport jackets. The next day we all gathered on deck and changed to summer clothing for by that time we were in the Gulf Stream and in the tropical village of Jacksonville, Florida.

SMOOTH SAILING

After the first night we were blessed with smooth sailing to such an extent there was not even the least bit of the ship to the almost imperceptible motion. Those who usually looks rougher in summer than the ocean as we had it from noon on the day we left Halifax. There was only a slightly greater motion in the Gulf of Cristobal in the Panama isthmus, a two-day journey. We think that the other passengers, for our ship astonished us most. Captain Hollis told us that this trip was one of the smoothest he had had so it seems we were most fortunate.

Another thing which we found surprising was the warmth of the ocean. During the whole trip south no more than a half dozen times did we see ships during daylight hours. It was expected that Queen Mary arrived at Nassau on the day we left Halifax. There was only a slightly greater number in the Caribbean Sea and $206,000,000 was accounted for largely by lower corporate profits in 1958.

The income taxes do not include revenue from the special two-per-cent tax for old age security — the universal pension paid at the age of 70.

Defence remained the heaviest budget expenditure at $1,427,300,000, but the special draw-down from the defence equipment fund helped bring it below the 1957-58 figure of $1,687,400,000. These totals include defence production and civil defence.

Second-largest item was the financing of the public debt, which accounted for $644,400,000 against $587,400,000 in the previous year.

NEWFOUNDLAND GRANTS

Subsidies and tax-sharing payments to the provinces came to $467,200,000, up from $382,700,000. These included $13,800,000 to Newfoundland as the 1957-58 and 1958-59 payments which the federal government has agreed to undertake as special assistance to the province until 1962.

The federal decision to extend this aid only until 1962 now is under fire from Premier Smallwood.

Family allowance payments of $474,000,000 were up from $437,900,000, reflecting an increase in the number of children in the eligible age groups and an increase in the monthly allowances effective in late 1957.

Lake Ontario Fish Landings Unchanged

TORONTO — The Ontario Department of Lands and Forests estimates of commercial fish landings for the province in 1958 shows a total production of 66,- 958,000 pounds valued at $6,986,- 000, A decrease of 7 per cent.

In Lake Ontario, production remained constant at 2,021,000 pounds. Whitefish taken increased slightly to 321,000 pounds. Smelt increased from 191,000 pounds to 256,000. Carp was up from 513,000 pounds to 559,000 pounds pickerel up from 119,000 pounds to 188,000, eels from 85,- 000 pounds to 127,000 and perch from 53,000 pounds to 78,000.

Decreases were noted in bullheads, down from 403,000 pounds to 371,000; sunfish, down from 204,000 pounds to 167,000, and herring from 76,000 pounds to 47,000.

ECONOMY NOTE

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Transit Commission Tuesday decided against spending $300 to display pictures of the Queen in every subway car during the Royal Visit. It was decided to buy only 25 pictures, at $4.50 each.

Appeal Court Finds Couple 'Well-Regulated'

TORONTO (CP)—Chief Justice Dana Porter of the Appeal Court of Ontario Tuesday suggested that there was nothing in the evidence relating to Lyle Kennedy and his wife, Isabel, "that indicates anything more than would be found in any other well-regulated families."

The chief justice made the comment after John J. Robinette, counsel for five defendants appealing a $5,133 judgment in favor of Kennedy, read testimony of disagreement between the couple.

Mr. Justice R. I. Ferguson assessed the damages against the five persons sued by Kennedy, a farmer of Arran Township near Owen Sound.

The appellants were Magistrate O. C. McClevis of Walkerton, Crown counsel F. W. Fred born of Walkerton, police constable Ivan Wade, W. R. Tomlinson, a Port Elgin lawyer who one time acted for Kennedy and Kennedy's wife.

CONVICTED OF VAGRANCY

Kennedy claimed damages for malicious prosecution and false arrest after he was convicted of vagrancy last May and sent to mental hospital for examination.

Mr. Robinette said Const. Wade, who arrested Kennedy, went after him because he was told Kennedy had a gun and was going to see his wife.

WHITE CHIEF — Mrs. Genevieve Mussel, 30-year-old mother of six, is the first white woman in Canada to be named chief of an Indian tribal band. She heads the Sikwah band near Chilliwack, B.C. Here, Mrs. Mussell, whose husband is an Indian, stops to chat during a tour of the band reservation with Mrs. Gordon James. (CP Photo).

The chief justice said: "All this goes towards the atmosphere of the case but does not appear the relevant in the appeal."

Mr. Robinette said the police officer could not properly be found liable for damages for false arrest "because there was no arrest" by Const.- Wade on the highway.

"Kennedy came to the police station willingly," Mr. Robinette said.

Mr. Robinette read lengthy evidence showing events that led up to Kennedy's eventual confinement to a mental hospital.

earnings in 1958 failed to keep pace with the rise in consumer prices and there was a slight decline in real income."

This compared with a slight rise in real income in 1957 and an advance of four per cent in 1956.

Amid the unemployment problem, Canadians generally were able to spend and still save more. Total consumer spending increased $20,713,000,000 from $19,768,000,000 in 1957. Personal savings totalled $2,086,000,000, sharply higher than the $1,467,- 000,000 in 1957.

But this saving was offset by heavy spending by governments, particularly the federal administration. Total deficits for all governments came to $1,048,000,000 in 1958, compared with a $32,000,- 000 surplus in the year previous.

"The nation's total saving fell by $549,000,000 or nine per cent in 1958, compared with a drop of $130,000,000 or three per cent in 1957."

Wedding

PALMATEER — BLACKBURN

Marriage vows were exchanged between Albert Milton Palmateer and Eva Irene Blackburn on Saturday April 4th at a pretty Spring wedding at the home of Mrs. Stanley Webb, Tweed with Rev. Douglas Loule officiating.

The bride is the younger daughter of Mrs. Thomas Blackburn of Englehart and the late Thomas Blackburn, and the bridegroom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Palmateer, Tweed.

The bride wore a beige suit with matching hat and brown accessories and was attended by her sister, Mrs. James Booth of Toronto, wearing a grege jacket dress with white flowered hat. Mr. Ray Colson of Thomasburg attended the bridegroom.

Mrs. Fred Gray, Miss Doris Ingram, and Miss Helen Palmateer, assisted Mrs. Webb in serving light refreshments.

The bride and bridegroom will take up residence on the bridegroom's farm near Tweed after a short honeymoon.

DIES AT 106

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Adelaide Marie Nichols, who would have been 107 May 29, died Tuesday in hospital. Mrs. Nichols was born in Glastonbury, Conn., one of 11 children, all of whom she outlived. Of her own five children, she leaves a son, Robert R. of Springfield.

Women's Activities

W.M.S. MEETING

The Victoria Ave. Baptist Church Ist Women's Missionary Society met in the ladies' parlor on Tuesday evening with the president, Mrs. J. Powe, in the chair. Mrs. Wellbanks was pianist.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Wallbridge, and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. A. Wells. Mrs. J. Madill, White Cross convener, reported the quilt and crib sheets for India finished and the baby layette for Japan now becoming along nicely.

Mrs. C. Campbell presented the worship service which had been prepared by Mrs. C. Hay. The theme was "The Power of the Resurrection," stating in part: "Through Christ's resurrection a full and free salvation is offered to all who will repent and trust entirely to the work of Christ for their salvation.

"Paul preached the gospel of a crucified and risen Savior. It is the power that is so unfamiliar with the risen Lord that enables him to live a life of courage, faith and self sacrifice and endurance. He said "That I might know Him and the power of His Resurrection." We did not know the power of His Resurrection for he could say 'I can do all things through Christ, who strengthens me.'

"As we are willing to do God's will no matter what the cost, we shall experience more of God's mighty power which He wrought in Christ when He raised Him from the dead and that power will be experienced and manifested in a life of freedom from the fear of man, of any future happenings or even death. By His resurrection we have the gift of eternal life, if we are saved through Him and every believer shares the victory over death. Jesus said, "I am the Resurrection and the Life, He that believeth in Me though he were dead yet shall he live."

"We become free from the penalty and power of sin through faith in Christ who died for us and rose again for our justification.

The topic for the evening was "Baptist Work among the Canadian Indians at Shawkenagan." This was presented in the form of a radio skit. Those taking part were: Mrs. C. Campbell, Mrs. A. Sampson, Mrs. J. Madill, Mrs. Mollison and Mrs. A. Berry.

Baptist work was started in 1780 but it was not until 1840 that the decision was made to form a church. On the banks of the Grand River at a point where the shadows of five oaks met, a church was built of logs and it was known as the Tuscorora Baptist Round church.

Local Aux. Ties for Banner At J. A. Rally

The Diocesan Rally of Anglican Junior Auxiliaries was held April 2nd, in the Cathedral Church of St. George's Parish Hall, Kingston.

Registration commenced at 2.30 a.m., followed by service in the Cathedral, conducted by the Rev. A. Wakeling. Mission gifts were dedicated and presentation of "Special Thankofferings" was made.

Leaders of J. A. branches attended a meeting chaired by the J. A. Diocesan secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Treadgold, of Kingston.

The afternoon program featured a period of worship, followed by a business session.

The highlight of the day was the presentation of the shield and banner to the J. A. Auxiliary receiving highest marks for proficiency in junior work for the diocese of Ontario during the year March '58 to '59.

The shield was awarded to St. James', Kingston, with 43 marks. A tie for the banner with 40 marks was awarded to St. Margaret's, of Belleville and St. Mary Magdalene of Napanee. An honorable mention certificate went to Christ Church, Belleville. The presentations were made by the Diocesan W.A. president, Miss W. Burns, Kingston.

Resolutions of thanks, a hymn and benediction concluded the rally.

St. Margaret's Junior Auxiliary is under the leadership of Mrs. W. H. Slovin, and assistants, Mrs. F. Woodcock and Mrs. P. Huson. Christ Church branch is under the leadership of Mrs. Cherry and St. Thomas' under the leadership of Mrs. A. S. McConnell.

This has long since disappeared but the work belonging to Him in whom there is no end, still endures. The new church is called Chesleken Baptist church and at the present time great work is being carried on there by Rev. J. P. Pryce.

Following the meeting a social half hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the group in charge.

This - - - and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

The winds of spring are blowing full gale as we write this and the day is all clear and sunny, the wind still carries a reminder of winter and makes a warning that we must not expect too much too soon. There are large patches of ice, and snow in parts of the fields, but the bare earth looks glorious after all the snow, is receding, has left a lot of debris. The wind is having a re-arranging all this and the job of cleaning will be difficult. Spring, must not be spring without the wind which is needed to assist the sun in drying off process.

After such clean whiteness is our often discouraging piles of snow this past winter, the grays and browns of earth and shrub look very dreary and we begin to long for the first buds of color and the freshness of the new spring grass.

We heard some people wondering the other day just where the "fun" actually did come from. This question will probably never be satisfactorily answered. Though our various versions of the "fun" are quite as devastating, it does no good to mention that fact to anyone just recovering from the illness. And though no siege of flu is to be taken lightly, it is amazing to hear that in Italy, it is called the Australian flu; last year, our epidemic was called Asian flu; in most of Europe, it is called American flu. The main thing seems to get rid of it — both the disease and the reputation.

We warned that we would not apologize for going back to New York for more stories. Here is one. Early one evening, we were walked along a couple of blocks on Broadway just so that our new Pakistani friend, Begum Ahmed, could say she had done just that.

She was, of course, dressed in one of her beautiful saris and wore the elaborate jewelry beloved of Indian and Pakistani women. Her earrings that night were large thin silver hoops, worn through pierced ears in the bottom half of the hoop covered by many little silver shell-like ornaments.

A Japanese curio shop caught her eye and we went in to look at little carved figures and such. The young *Japanese-American girl behind the counter had eyes for nothing but the earrings and paid no attention to her selling job. She kept repeating that she had never seen such beautiful earrings while we went on looking at objects.

Finally Begum Ahmed selected a tiny shell with seven tiny carved men in it. She took it to the counter and at the same time, took her earrings off and gave them, to the girl. She, in turn, made a gift of the little curio to her customer from Pakistan. We were merely an interested bystander from Canada.

Here is another. This story is a second hand one, told me by a woman who was present at the scene. When the first Russian sputnik was successfully launched causing such a stir in international affairs, the air over the United Nations was electric. One of the top officials of the United States delegation gave a large party in his roof top penthouse. The position of the apartment was being explained to some guests that there was nothing about his home at all. A member of the Russian party caused a lull when he laughed and said, "Nothing but Sputnik."

Garage Lady Highlight at Male Confab

OTTAWA (CP)—The most unusual figure at a garagemen's convention here was a garage woman.

Anna Crowhurst operates a highly successful gas station, repair shop and car-rental agency in North Vancouver. She also sells and services Rolls - Royce cars.

A native of North Vancouver, who served with the Canadian Women's Army Corps overseas in the Second World War, she is not only a keen businesswoman but is also no slouch as an auto mechanic.

Miss Crowhurst started out in 1946 operating a service station in partnership with her father and brother. In 1950 her father died, and in 1951 she bought out her brother's share in the business. As it boomed, she hired back her brother in 1955 as shop foreman.

Six girls operate the service station end of the business—Miss Crowhurst believes it is the only station operated only by girls — and they help in other phases of the enterprise.

She says she services 16 of the 18 Rolls Royces on Canada's West Coast, including what she believes is perhaps the only Rolls convertible on the continent, a $12,500 beauty.

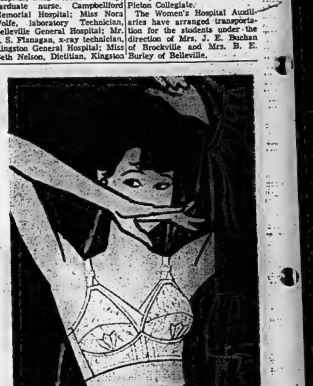
Besides the girls, there are eight male mechanics in her garage.

Her firm's girls' softball team has won British Columbia and Western Canada championships several times in recent years.

Students to Look At Hospital Careers

Students representatives and guidance teachers from thirty high schools in the district will gather in Kingston on April 11th to tour the two Kingston hospitals — Kingston General and Hotel Dieu — to get a close look at the various careers open to young people in hospital work. The meeting and tours are sponsored by the Regional Hospital Council No. 9.

The students and guidance teachers will meet at Etherington Hall, Kingston General Hospital for registration and examination of a display of nursing costumes and uniforms from the past, x-ray plates and literature displays. These displays have been planned by Mr. George Carson, chairman of the Regional Hospital Council. Highlight of the morning session will be a panel discussion by persons representing many of the available hospital careers. The panel will consist of: Mr. Lloyd Trull, Moderator Guidance Director, Kingston Collegiate; Miss Bonnie Segin, 1st year student nurse, Hotel Dieu Hospital; Miss Barbara Wickett, 2nd year student nurse, Ontario Hospital; Miss Doreen Mahoney, graduate nurse, Campbellford Memorial Hospital; Miss Nora Wolfe, Laboratory Technician, Belleville General Hospital; Mr. J. S. Flanagan, x-ray technician, Kingston General Hospital; Miss Beth Nelson, Dietitian, Kingston General Hospital; Miss Jean Perry, Record Librarian, Trenton Memorial Hospital; Mrs. Jessie O'Brien, nursing assistant (Cert.), Kingston General Hospital; Mrs. Marjorie Houston, Physio and Occupational Therapist, Rehabilitation Centre, Kingston; Mr. J. G. Wilson, Brockville General Hospital, who has arranged the panel and who will discuss other hospital occupations.



Among the district high schools participating in Hospital Careers Day are those of Madoc, Marmora, Bancroft, Campbellford, Stirling, Trenton, Tweed and Brighton, Belleville Collegiate, Napanee Collegiate, Quinte Secondary School, Albert College and Picton Collegiate.

The Women's Hospital Auxiliaries have arranged transportation for the students under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Buchan of Brockville and Mrs. B. E. Burley of Belleville.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

IT'S SPRING! . . . TIME TO PLANT NEW MANNERS

Springtime . . . and a good time it is to plant the seeds of a new crop of fine new manners. Then watch the garden grow!

AN EVER-RECURRING QUESTION

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

It has always been my understanding that it is not correct to enclose the engraver's tissue in a formal invitation (such as a wedding invitation, and so forth) when the invitations are mailed. We have had much discussion about this. However, all are friends insist that the only correct way is to enclose the tissue paper, because they have only seen it done in this way.

I do know that the printer should insert the tissue when delivering the engraved invitations and announcements to the customer, as that is the work of one of the engraving men. However, I have always insisted that one must then remove the tissues before mailing the invitations. Will you please advise me? — A.R.S.

Always we have with us this question! There are two schools of thought about this . . . and you'll be a mighty persuader if you change the mind of a member of either school! Many people, like the friends whom you quote, insist that the tissue should always be retained, though very often they have no very clear idea why. They unanimously have an idea that these tissues protect the engraving, keep it from smearing.

They don't realize that if there is sufficient time for the invitations to dry before mailing (and with today's better processing, there usually is), it is entirely safe to remove the tissues. Also . . . let's face it . . . there are many people who regard tissues as evidence that the invitations are really-and-truly engraved (not printed)!

Many other people (and I'm one) think that the tissues detract from the harmony of the unit (the invitation or announcement, the two envelopes, the enclosed cards), that they are definitely not an attractive addition, that they are generally non-necessary, and that as much as possible they should be avoided.

Since today the most popular wedding invitation is the small invitation that goes in the envelope without folding, it is a comfort that in this case no tissues may be considered necessary, because if any offsetting does occur, it will be on the inside of the envelope, where it cannot be noticed.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Paul, F. — They won't let me take a job at a swank hotel.

Mr. T. F.—He has gotten too big for his breeches.

Paul F. — I am 18 and am having a lot of trouble with my parents. They want me to work in my father's store this summer, but I have better ideas.

I have been working in the soda fount of a store for the past four summers and I am sick of it. A friend of mine can help me get a job at a swank resort hotel, where I could make twice as much money in tips and have a good time besides.

The worst of it is that my folks don't really need me in the store. I know that they just want to keep an eye on me. They don't like my friend and they think we are up to something funny. I think the folks should realize that I ought to have some wider experience than just working in their store.

Mr. T. F. — Paul sure has one thing right. We do want to keep an eye on him. We do think that he and his buddy are up to something — not exactly good.

Paul has gotten too big for his breeches in the past year. He boasts about how much he can get away with. He is one of the smartest kids to write his school papers. He bluffs through his exams and constantly tells stories about how he made a fool of some teacher. But next thing we hear is that the same teacher has given him a high grade.

Paul is a smart kid and a good-looking one, but he thinks he can get away with too much. He has the attitude that life owes him everything without his having to do a thing.

The Council: — The T.F.'s are wise to recognize that Paul has a problem. Occasionally the parents of such a boy are fooled into thinking that he is indeed, quite a wonder and will manage to breeze through life in fine style.

It is true that some individuals manage to acquire a good deal of worldly success on a minimum of brain and a minimum of work and ability, but parents who are concerned about more than the superficial aspects of their children's lives should strive to give them a different outlook.

Paul's problem is basically psychological, but it also has to do with some false values he has acquired. A person who tries to get ahead by outwitting or hurting others rather than by honest effort has a very sorry sense of inferiority. He needs to belittle others to keep up his own self-esteem.

Some people strive to overcome a sense of inferiority by setting high goals and making a strong effort to achieve them, but others, like Paul, get the idea that bluffing is a better and smarter way. Such individuals have unwanted to get some approval from parents or other adults for this behavior — or they have seen this technique used successfully by someone they admire. In addition, they are afraid of making a real effort because they believe that would prove their inferiority.

It is none too early for these parents to straighten out Paul's sense of values. He should get no praise whatever for high grades or any other achievement that is not earned by his own effort. If his stories about "making a fool of some teacher" met with rigorous censure at home, he would soon learn to dispense with such disgraceful behavior.

We agree that a swank resort hotel probably isn't the right place for a boy with Paul's attitudes. Many boys work hard and gain valuable experience at such jobs, but in his present frame of mind Paul is more likely to use phony techniques to get his tips. He ought to be put to work at a job which requires honest effort for success.

JUST A HOBBY — Sue Burgess, a fragile former British debutante, climbs into a plane for another fling at her favorite hobby — parachute jumping. Action jumping — waiting as long as possible before opening her parachute — and holds the English record with a wait of 47 seconds. She hopes to hit a minute before she retires, which will likely be when she obtains her pilot's licence and takes up racing and aerobatics. (CP Photo).

Her Hobby Parachute Jumping And She Does It the Hard Way

By SYLVIA HACK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — A fragile English girl who says height make her dizzy spends her weekends making parachute jumps — the tricky way.

"It's a wonderful feeling," says Sue Burgess, a former debutante, whose hobby is seeing how high she can count before she pulls the ripcord of her parachute.

A onetime model who now works as a secretary, Sue holds the British women's record for delayed-action jumping as a result of an effort in which she waited 47 seconds before tugging on the lifeline. She hopes to hit 60 seconds before she retires.

Sue says fear of heights doesn't bother her in the air.

"It's such a wonderful feeling of wild exhilaration," she explains. "It's comparable to the feeling one has after listening to a beautiful piece of music."

But Sue, who has performed a variety of slow rolls, loops and figure eights in the course of 90 odd jumps, doesn't plan to stick to her hobby forever. She's working on her pilot's licence and hopes to go in for racing and aerobatics.

Piloting planes has always been her first ambition, but since it is expensive to learn, she satisfied herself with gliding and then graduated to parachuting after observing it in Yugoslavia.

One exploit Sue is planning before she retires from parachuting is a drop into the English Channel next June.

"I'm, hoping the water won't be too cold then," she says. "And I'm also hoping a lifeboat will be there to circle me up."

"The more adding of years in life is not living," says the girl who got her way about parachuting after strong family opposition. "Men have lived long and died at 30, and others who may boast of 90 years have never lived at all."

A quietly - spoken girl whose other hobby is reading philosophy, Sue says she's prepared to renounce the air for marriage and children.

"Parachuting and flying runs away with an awful lot of money and it wouldn't be fair to take chances then. Besides, bringing up a family is probably just as exciting—but in a different way."

Remember Cookies — And A Chocolate Bavarian

by, Mary Moore

We were talking about Aunt Rachel's cookies and Uncle Harry's cream-colored horses and livery service. It made me nostalgic for some sour cream cookies with raisins in them.

Years ago I gave you this recipe of Aunt Rachel's and subsequently received many happy letters. One of them told how the writer could remember holding a bite —from a sour cream cookie in her mouth and sucking it to extract a characteristic "cool" flavor.

For cooks who cook for the sheer love of it, these sour cream raisin cookies are an ideal product. They can roll and cut them out with a scalloped cutter to their hearts' content, and feed all comers and kitchen kibitzers.

Dinner Menu

by Mary Moore

WEDNESDAY

Pork Chops Baked on Spiced Applesauce; Delicate Mashed Turnip; Frenched Green Beans; Asparagus Side Salad (see Monday); Banana Meringue Pie; Coffee.

AUNT RACHEL'S COOKIES:

Delicious, buttery; retain scalloped shapes and crispness. Two and one-third cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1-4 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt — scant, 1-2 cup butter plus 1 tablespoon shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1-3 cup sour cream, 1-4 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 to 2-4 cup steamed and dried raisins. Sift sifted flour 4 times with soda, baking powder and salt. Cream butter and shortening until smooth; stir in flavoring. Then add sugar, in 2 or 3 portions, creaming well. Beat in eggs until fluffy, then stir in flour mixture and the cream alternately in 3 or 3 portions, mixing until just smooth after each. Add raisins. Chill dough. Roll out on a lightly floured pastry cloth or board about 1-16" thick. Cut out with a 2 1-2 or 3" cutter. Place on greased cookie sheet and bake 13 to 15 minutes at 375 deg. Fahr. Remove from pan to cake rack immediately. About 4 dozen.

A modest dessert companion that I served with these cookies while they were fresh was

CHOCOLATE BAVARIAN:

One and one-quarter tablespoons gelatin, 1-4 cup cold water, 1 square unsweetened chocolate (1 oz.), 1-2 cup boiling water, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1 1-2 cups whipping cream, 1-3 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Sprinkle gelatin over 1-4 cup cold water. Let soften 5 minutes. Put chocolate into a saucepan and set over hot water to melt. Now stir in boiling water and salt and 1-2 cup of the cream then the sugar. Place directly over moderate heat and cook and stir about 4 minutes or until smooth and thickened. Remove from heat and stir in softened gelatin until dissolved. Add vanilla and cool to consistency of unbeaten egg white. Now beat remaining cream until stiff. Quickly scrape cream onto top of chocolate mixture and cut and fold in lightly. Turn into mould or individual moulds to chill and set.

GIRL GUIDE, BROWNIE NEWS

Pack 3 — Brown Owl Mrs. Walkley, Tawny Owls, Mrs. Chilcott, Mrs. Miles and Mrs. Bridrick.

These Brownies have been very since the new year and five ts have passed their Golden ter test. They are Ruth Bale-han, Nancy Brown, Valerie Bennett, Lindy Fairman and Margaret Lewis. The pack was also pleased to welcome two Brownies transferred from other ollies, Nancy Brown from Owen Sound and Susan Montgomery from Bagotville, Que.

While year for their Thinking they meeting the Brownies tried to learn about Holland, and order their meeting had been ghened they all stood in a circle and spoke some magic words — special Brownie ones — which caused the doors of the big hall to be opened. There they found a Brownie in Dutch costume standing beside a windmill de-corated with flowers, and there they learned from Tawny Owl about the Dutch Brownies, who are called "Kabouters." Then everybody made a daffodil from crepe paper, and the best of these were chosen as a bouquet for the hobby show.

Following this, a film on Holland, taken and narrated by Mrs. E. Follwell, was much enjoyed. The Brownies would like to thank Mrs. Follwell for her kindness in showing it to them. To top off a lovely afternoon the pack sang a Dutch song, and each Brownie received a paper windmill packed with a miniature bulb to plant, and made a notebook in the shape of a windmill which she will keep a record of its growth. The pack hopes that soon again their guests of the day, Mrs. Follwell and Lorna, will pay them another visit.

Pack 7 Brown Owl Mrs. Bonsall, Tawny Owl Mrs. McCoy.

Pack 4 are pleased to have another willing helper since Mrs. E. Jones. It seems so much more is accomplished when Packs and Companies have adequate adult assistance.

Karen Fort has gone on to the Guide Company, and six new little people have joined the pack — Jenifer Davis, Gail Hayman, Gwendolyn Jones, Janice Lynch, Jeanne Marriott and Jane Rutan, all of whom have now been enrolled. For Valentine's day the Brownies made an original and very lovely greeting for her sister, and for Thinking Day a special service was held, ending in a birthday party in honor of Lady Baden Powell, and a special contribution to the World Friendship Fund.

Golden Hand Badges have been presented to Meredith Clarke and Barbara McCracken, and Meredith and Mary Lee Duggan received 2nd year service stars while a minstrel badge was presented to Shirley May, Meribeth Clarke, Mary Lee Duggan, Jill Roulet and Sharon Sweet all won Princess at the Hobby Show.

Pack 11 (O.S.D.) Brown Owl Miss Fox, Tawny Owls Miss Angelin, Miss Denis, Miss Munro and Miss Shantz. Shirley Bales, Marilyn Fisher and Diane Wilson have been working very hard for their Golden Hand and made tasty appliances which they enjoyed for supper one evening.

The pack held a lovely tea, for which the girls made and served tea and cookies. As their guests they welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Deenese, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Moore, Miss Huffman, Mrs. Kennedy. The Pack are looking forward to an enthused soon.

Pack 16 — Brown Owl Mrs. Sisler, Tawny Owls Mrs. Green, Mrs. Soares and Mrs. Street. This is a new Pack and already a very full one. Since the beginning of the year the following little people have become full fledged Brownies — Betty Bannon, Pamela Conley, Joan Gray, Sharon Laney, Jeanne McKenzie, Cathy Palmer, Betty Reid and Susan Robinson. Two Brownies — Fredris Morry and Donella Rice have passed their Golden Hand 1st Avondale Pack: - Brown Owl, Mrs. Ineson; Tawny Owls, Mrs. Denike, Mrs. Lockhin. For Thinking Day the Avondale Brownies each made a paper doll and chose from the book pictures of Brownies in other lands a costume for their doll. Then they went home to learn some special thing about their country from which their Brownie doll came.

There are three new Tweenies: Lynne Elliott, Andi Miller and Marilyn Pingle. 1st Year service stars have been presented to Marylin Corbin, Susan Hunter, Patty Keegan, Betty Lamberts, Hazel Locklin, Lindy Lucas, Doris May, Marie Tweedy, Leslie Ineson and Marie White. The Pack had a recent visit from their Commissioner, who was pleased to enroll their Tawny Owl Mrs. Denike. The Brownies of the Pack were very thrilled and happy to witness this big event!

Company 2: Captain Mrs. A. Watkin, Lieutenant Miss Featherstone. Company 2 had a very enjoyable visit with Company 7 for Thinking Day. 1st Year stars have been presented to Ruth Bannon, Diana Chapman, Sharon Garlepy, Linda Guest, Beth Keene, Patti Wallace and Marilyn Wilson. Meribeth Crawford passed her Second Class badge, Ruth Bannon her Second Class and so was presented with Swimmer and Life Saver's previously passed. Karen Hanna has also earned her Swimmer's badge.

Company 7: Captain Mrs. Steenburg, Lieutenants Mrs. Koetlich and Miss Cornish. A successful father and daughter coffee party has been held at Company 7, when the following Guides planned a most enjoyable evening, and this was made known by badges — Barbare Gannon, Tanya Koetlich, Marilyn Brown, Carol McGuire and Anne Middleton. Guests with the fathers for the evening were form the Ranger Company Miss Doyle and Marianne Corke, Badge Secretary, Mrs. McCormick and District Commissioner Mrs. Sellick.

A fashion show, games, a sing-song and refreshments made the evening a pleasant one.

Company 3 was welcomed to a Thinking Day meeting when the film "Guides All Guides" was enjoyed by girls and leaders alike, as well as a sing-song and games.

The following girls have been enrolled — Erica Featherstone, Penny Loy Middleton, Mary Pigden, Sylvia Smith, Trina Steenburg, Judy Yaxpenli and Linda Wilson. 1st year services stars have been presented to Maureen King and Mimi Wright. 2nd year stars went to Shirley Furney, Doris Koetlich, Anne Middleton, Donna Trueman, 3rd year stars to Marilyn Brown, Tanya Koetlich, Carol McGuire and a 4th year star to Gail Cox.

Company 8 (O.S.D.) — Captain Miss Huffman; Lieutenants, Mrs. Ryan, Miss Crabtree and Miss Watts. The commissioner was pleased to be present recently to witness the happy enjoyment of the following girls as Guides: Donna Burford, Diane Chappell, Shirley Dorlan-ter, Sharon Duffin, Angela Hagen, Marilyn Harrison, Gail Young and Nancy Tull. 1st year stars were presented to Judy Ewen, Roberta Ferguson, Margaret Morgan, Anita Ville, Susan Cooper, Louise Harley, Raymond Calhoun and Anne Tye. 2nd year stars went to Ruth Gray, June Pilkie, Margaret Jane Grant, Mary Nickey, Gloria May, Carol McLeod, Patsy Trask, Barbara Caron, Jackie House and Lillioee Lorenz. 3rd year stars have been won by Jean Shaw, Beth Spark, Beatrice Brennan, Gwenda Alcock, Annabelle Cronk, Gail Williamson, Lois Smith, Carol Ann Palmer, Anna Todd, Elaine Carlyle and Judy Ann Wilson. Judy Ann was also presented with her Second Class badge.

For Thinking Day candles were lit on birthday cakes for Lady Baden-Powell and the countries of the world where there is Guiding and the cakes later provided a tasty ending for an enjoyable and happy meeting.

1st Carmel Company — Captain Mrs. Howes, Lt. Carmel held an enjoyable St. Patrick's party with the 1st Foxboro Scout troop and the Carmel Scouts as their guests. Fancy lunch boxes to be shared, dancing and a well planned program made for a most enjoyable evening.

The company welcomes a new Guide, Mary Romanchyk, from Foxboro, and bids goodbye to Susan Bayley who will be living in Pointe a Frairie.

With the roads now a little more passable, it should be a lot easier for the Carmel Guides to get to meetings, and for their commissioner to get to see them!

Enthusiasm of Khrushchev For Increased Farm Output Once Nearly Cost Him Head

In this story by Associated Press news analyst William L. Ryan, the writer draws on his long experience in Moscow to assess from an American view Soviet Premier Khrushchev's background.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Stubby Nikita Khrushchev planted himself in the middle of a field, surrounded by awed farmers and communist functionaries. A brisk breeze fanned to motion the tiny wisps of white hair on his nearly bald head.

"Here," exclaimed Khrushchev, pointing dramatically to the corn, "is the complete sausage on the handle! Here is beefsteak; here is bacon. How will these plants look in a month and a half, when harvest comes? The cobs will be half a yard long. Now you understand why I am so enthusiastic about corn."

This was the new Khrushchev of recent vintage — Khrushchev the boss. He spoke about the pressing need for animal fodder. Who would dare remind him that his own experimenting in the past had gravely endangered the U.S.S.R.'s livestock population?

Khrushchev owed much of his career to his interest in agriculture and his knowledge of the farmer. Born at last, he could talk confidently about his big ideas. It hadn't been so in the past. His first big idea about farming, in fact, almost cost him his head.

As a member of Stalin's inner politburo and chief of the Ukraine, Khrushchev conceived the idea of revolutionizing collective farming as a step toward the goal of communism.

In general charge of Soviet agriculture was Andrei Andreyevich Andreyev, old, weak, inefficient, always tottering on the edge of disaster. For the aggressive Khrushchev, Andreyev was a postover.

Farms, said Khrushchev, would be transformed into agricultural factories. Farmers would become farm-industry workers. Small collectives would be merged on a vast scale into huge farm factories.

Khrushchev's real goal, inspired by Stalin, was to abolish all private plots, the kitchen gardens by which the peasants set great store. He would build instead communal agrogorods—farm cities.

He reckoned without the peasants. There was grumbling, resentment, even resistance. He pushed through thousands of amalgamations, but suddenly Stalin clapped him down and halted the program.

The former miner from Kursk listened in brooding silence at the 20th Communist congress in October, 1952. Georgi Malenkov, then Stalin's right hand man, referred to Khrushchev as one of "our individual executive workers" who erred in trying to force farm consolidation.

"They tried," thundered Malenkov, "to bring about at a forced tempo the mass resettlement of villages in large collective settlements, to demolish old collective farm installations and homes of collective farmers, to create instead agrogorods."

But Khrushchev had bounced. Despite this awesome blast, he emerged from the 1952 congress a member of the expanded praesidium that supplanted the politburo, and secretariat. He lost no time in nailing down his influence.

Malenkov would live to rue his words. Long after Stalin's death, Khrushchev would revert to 1952 and blame Malenkov for the sorry state of Soviet agriculture then. He would succeed in having Malenkov thrown out of the hierarchy.

To hear Khrushchev tell it, he had nothing to do with the whole business until he stepped in with the cure.

Shortly after the 1952 congress, the lives of all politburo members were in grave danger. Stalin, to quote a diplomat of the day, had "reached for the bottle again." A new blood purge was in the making. Stalin's assistants fabricated a fantastic story about a plot of doctors, most of them Jewish, to poison Stalin and other leading figures.

Luckily for the politburo—some say it was more than coincidence—Stalin died in March, 1953.

At that moment, Khrushchev seemed only an also-ran in the power sweepstakes, scarcely noticed in the tearful obsequies for the dead dictator. But Stalin's body was not cold before the plotting began.

Malenkov took both Stalin jobs: Premier and first party secretary, in control of both party and government. Within two weeks, Khrushchev nudged Malenkov from the party job.

Those were nervous days. The new leadership, called itself "collective," fell impelled to primize abundance to the long-suffering public. It apparently felt the need of popular support, something unheard of in Stalin's day. The whole fantastic story of the doctors' plot was reversed. But not for three years did the Soviet public learn why.

At the 1956 congress, Khrushchev gave out the terrifying story. Not a man on the politburo had been safe, he recalled, after the obscure Dr. Timashuk unfolded her fantastic tale of the plot.

"Let us recall the affair of the doctor - plotters," said Khrushchev. "Actually there was no affair outside the declaration of the woman- Doctor Timashuk who was influenced or ordered by someone—after all she was an unofficial collaborator of the organs of state security—to write Stalin a letter in which she declared that doctors were applying supposedly improper methods of medical treatment.

"Such a letter was enough for Stalin to reach the immediate conclusion that there were doctor-plotters in the Soviet Union. Stalin personally called the investigating judge and gave him instructions, advising him which investigative methods should be used. These methods were simple: Beat, beat and once again beat."

So much for the man who was, for so many years, Nikita Khrushchev's "great genius leader and teacher." Khrushchev's own methods were to seem more refined by comparison.

White Paper Highlights

OTTAWA (CP) — Highlights of the pre-budget white paper tabled in the Commons today by Finance Minister Fleming:

Budget deficit for fiscal year ended March 31 estimated at peacetime high of $616,600,000, compared with $18,600,000 in previous year.

Expenditures rise to all-time high of $5,367,400,000, compared with $5,067,400,000 in 1957-58.

Revenues drop to $4,770,800,000 from $5,048,800,000.

Budget spending does not include $376,000,000 for old age security and $211,800,000 drawn from special defence equipment fund.

Personal income tax larger revenue item at $1,371,000,000, but down from $1,496,800,000.

Defence largest budget item at $1,437,200,000 but down from $1,687,600,000.

Finance minister says Canada past unemployment peak.

Gross national product rises 2.5 per cent to record $32,200,000,000, but higher prices mainly responsible.

Federal net debt at March 31 estimated at $11,685,800,000—a rise of $839,500,000 in the year.

Personal income rises to $24,586,000,000 from $23,142,000,000.

Corporation profits slip to $2,820,000,000 from $3,009,000,000 beforehand.

Built Loans To Pay off Foreign Debts

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government has been building up its foreign loans in the Far East as Western countries pay off post-war debts to Canada.

Loans to finance wheat and flour sales to south and southeast Asia increased by $18,800,000 during the 1958-59 fiscal year, Finance Minister Fleming reported today in his pre-budget white paper tabled in the Commons.

Canada's major debtors, however, still are the United Kingdom and certain European countries.

During the year ended March 31, the U.K. paid off $38,600,000, reducing its debt to $1,080,500,000.

Debts owed by Belgium, France, the Netherlands and Norway were reduced by $18,000,000 to a total $285,700,000.

WILDLIFE WEEK

OTTAWA (CP) — Observation this week of national wildlife week is a time for rededication to the protection of natural resources and particularly wildlife, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Tuesday in a statement.

"Jest a Second"

"Now clutch ze left knee, give ze groan, and contort ze face in agony."

Net Debt Was Rough $685 For Each Person

OTTAWA (CP)—The net debt of the federal government was an estimated $11,685,800,000 at March 31—roughly $685 for each of the 17,340,000 people in Canada.

The pre-budget white paper, tabled in the Commons today by Finance Minister Fleming, showed the net debt rose $839,500,000 during the 1958-59 fiscal year.

At the start of the year the net debt of the government—$11,046,200,000—represented $643 for each of the 17,000,000 population at April 1, 1958.

The increase was due to the record peacetime deficit estimated at $618,600,000 for the year plus an adjustment of $22,900,000 covering previous years' transactions.

The cost of financing the public debt—mainly interest payments—rose to $644,400,000 for the year, up by $77,000,000 from the 1957-58 year. The total represented 12 per cent of budget expenditures.

REDS LOSE SEATS

TURIN (Reuters) — Communists lost six seats in Italy's biggest annual trade union election at the giant Fiat Motor Works here Tuesday. The communists now have 30 seats out of 201 on the shop stewards' council, where the anti - communist unions have held a majority since 1955. More than 66,000 Fiat workers were eligible to vote.

Vessels Free Selves From Ice, Return to Port

PORT COLBORNE (CP)—The freighters James D. Norris and Frank A. Sherman were successful Tuesday in breaking free of Lake Erie ice and returned to Port Colborne harbor.

The ships gave up their futile three-day battle with the ice after the United States Coast Guard Ojibway cleared Buffalo in an effort to assist them.

The coast guard still had another four miles to go before reaching the two ships when they managed to clear the ice field under their own power.

With the return of Norris and Sherman a total of five ships are in port awaiting better ice conditions on the lake before venturing out.

Capt. J. Eric Fox of Wiarton, Ont., master of the Sherman, said unless favorable winds arise it may be a week or more before ice - bound eastern Lake Erie shipping lanes are navigable.

He described the ice field as the worst in 20 years. The astern end of the lake is frozen solid, clear across to the other side, at least as far west as Erie on the American side and past Port Maitland on the Canadian shore, Capt. Fox said.

APPOINTMENT

'Urgent, Intense Problems, Being Caused by Rate of World Population Increase

By JOHN TALBOT

GENEVA (Reuters)—The unprecedented rate at which the world's population is increasing is causing "urgent and intense" problems, according to the United Nations Population Commission.

The world population is at present about 2,900,000,000 and will total between 3,800,000,000 and 3,900,000,000 by 1975, the commission said in a report to its 10th session here. And, according to some forecasts, it may reach a figure of between 4,000,000,000 and 6,900,000,000 by the year 2000 unless current trends change unexpectedly.

During this year and in 1960, the world's population will increase by about 100,000,000, the report added.

Some representatives at the commission's meeting declared that the rate of population growth is more acute, particularly in the under-developed countries, may already be an obstacle to economic development.

In view of the "uninterrupted acceleration of the present trend," the commission felt it now should shift the emphasis of its activities and concentrate more on helping countries to study the interrelations between population growth on the one hand and economic and social development on the other.

The representatives at the session stressed the need to assist the under-developed countris, especially those on the African continent.

If was suggested that a world population conference under the auspices of the UN should be held in 1964. With regard to the commission's next session, it was felt that this should be held in 1961 or 1962, if possible in the region served by the Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East.

In drawing up its program of work for the period 1959-1961, the commission studied the main needs for information and for demographic data and forecasts, studies and the methods by which those needs could be met.

In its report, to be submitted to the UN Economic and Social Council (UNESCO) at its meeting in New York in May-June, the commission expressed the opinion that in view of the rate of population growth, both the UN and national services urgently need demographic data and forecasts to permit practical decisions in the field of economic and social development.

The commission expressed the wish that the UN secretariat should carry out continuous assessments of population trends, if economically by a parallel assessment of economic growth. These should cover periods of not more than 20 years, since longer-range projects were considered more dubious.

The commission submitted to UNESCO a draft resolution requesting the UN secretary-general to make available to under-developed countries, on their request, the co-operation of the UN in carrying out, in the next few years, a limited number of demographic pilot studies or other projects calculated to demonstrate the value of utilizing demographic data, and especially the results of censuses, in preparing and implementing development programs.

The commission voiced the hope that, "by one means or another," increased funds would be made available for the demographic field. work of the UN in view of the extreme importance which the commission attaches to the population problem at the present time.

Calgary Member Alone Upholds Use of Lash

OTTAWA (CP) — Abolition of corporal punishment was supported by members of all three parties in the Commons Tuesday but one dissenting voice suggested it be retained for such crimes as rape.

Opposing abolition, Art Smith (PC—Calgary South) said such crimes as rape deserve to be punished by the lash.

"He may deserve it, but what good does it do?" interjected Harold Winch (CCF—Vancouver East), long-time advocate of the abolition of the lash.

Before Mr. Smith could reply, the Tuesday hour reserved for private members' legislation was over. The bill, sponsored by Frank McGee (PC—York-Scarborough), has little chance of coming up for debate again this session.

Demands Reduce Unemployment Insurance Fund

OTTAWA (CP) — Heavy demands by jobless have driven the unemployment insurance fund down to $512,600,00, the government reported today.

Finance Minister Fleming in a pre-budget white paper told Parliament that at the March 31 end of the federal fiscal year the fund stood at this amount, compared with more than $900,000,000 two years ago.

During the fiscal year, the fund dwindled by $342,500,000 from $754,800,000 as benefit payments of $483,000,00 to unemployed far outweighed government - employer-employee contributions of $220,000,000 and other fund revenue.

Benefits during the year were $96,000,000 higher than in the 1957-58 fiscal year.

FIVE-CENT COFFEE

TORONTO (CP)—The five-cent cup of coffe is back in Toronto. And the restaurant owner responsible for it says it's here to stay. Peter Bazzel introduced the nickel coffee in his Yonge Street establishment with the explanation that recent cuts in coffe prices made it possible.

U.S. EMPLOYMENT RISE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment declined 382,000 in the United States during March to 4,362,000. Employment rose 1,- 000,000 to 63,528,000. The government said it was the biggest February-to-March drop in unemployment since 1950. The employment rise for the month was the biggest since 1951.

Change Record Of Birth of Prince's Bride

TOKYO (CP)—A maroon, 28-year-old sedan Friday will carry Michiko Shoda to the Imperial Palace to become the first commoner in 2,000 years to join Japan's royal family.

Officially, the 24-year-old bride of Crown Prince Akihito will become a princess as soon as she arrives on her wedding morning.

When the car taking her to the palace rolls out the driveway of her father's Tokyo home at 8:30 a.m., it will mark the beginning of the greatest display of pageantry Japan has seen since the war.

The girl who met Japan's future emperor on a tennis court not only will get a new name and a new title but even the records of her birth will be affected.

As soon as convenient, local officials will remove the name Michikoan from her family records.

Like his bride, the prince will travel across Tokyo from his private residence in one of the ancient cars used by the imperial family.

He sets off at 9:10 a.m. for the 10:15 ceremony—after having extra time at the palace to enable sent an emissary to escort his attendants to dress her in the traditional 14-layer wedding gobride to the palace.

The new princess will need the ments.

Baltimore Faces Senators In Baseball Opening Thurs.

By JED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The exhibition schedule slid into the background today as major league baseball made a final dry run before Thursday's traditional regular season openers at Cincinnati and Washington.

The early opening, designed to let all extra weekend to the schedule, starts a second century of baseball in the United States capital with the Baltimore Orioles facing the Senators before an expected 25,000. The Nats, who finished last in the American League last season, will send righthander Pete Ramos (14-16 last year) against southpaw Jack Harshman (12-13).

Vice-President Nixon is a third starting pitcher, tossing out the first ball in the absence of President Eisenhower. He prefers golf.

The predicted close National League race starts with Pittsburgh's pennant-primping Pirates sending righthander Ron Kline (13-10) against the darkhorse Reds. New manager Mayo Smith of Cincinnati, the former Philadelphia Phillies boss, is undecided between righthander Bob Purkey (17-11) and southpaw Joe Nuxhall (12-11).

That one also gives an expected crowd of 32,000 Cincinnati fans a quick appraisal of the winter deal that sent power-hitting third baseman Frank Thomas to the Reds for catcher Smoky Burgess, third baseman Don Hoak and lefty Harvey Haddix.

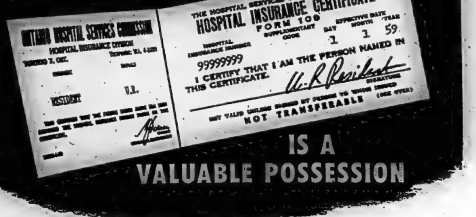
All the clubs get rolling Friday, in the American League, the world champion New York Yankees open manager Casey Stengel's expected romp to a record-tying 10th pennant with a home debut against Boston Red Sox. Chicago White Sox are at Detroit and Cleveland Indians are at Kansas City.

Friday's National League schedule sends the defending champion Milwaukee Braves to Chicago in afternoon games while San Francisco is at St. Louis and Cincinnati at Philadelphia in a pair of night openers.

Pitchers had final warmups Tuesday. Lefthander Johnny Antonelli, who'll open for the Giants, pitched a scoreless three innings and gave way to Mike McCormick, who continued the shutout string until Cleveland unloaded three runs with two out in the ninth for a 3-2 victory.

Brooks Lawrence and Hal Jeffcoat kept the Yoankees in check as the Reds beat the champs 3-2 on Gus Bell's 10th-inning home run. Moe Drabowsky pitched nine innings for Chicago Cubs, but Morrie Martin got the decision when Brutus scored twice in the 11th for an 8-7 victory over the Red Sox.

The Braves' were blanked for six innings by the Dodgers' Don Drysdale, Clem Labine and Art Fowler, then beat Los Angles 5-4 with two in the ninth off rookie Gene Snyder. Los Angeles got its four in the first off Bob Buhl.



The exhibition tour reached a major league park at Baltimore and the Orioles beat the Phillies 5-3, scoring all their runs off Ruben Gomez, who gave up a grand slam to Gus Triandos.

YOUR ONTARIO HOSPITAL INSURANCE CERTIFICATE

IS A VALUABLE POSSESSION

AND . . .

It is your means of identification at the hospital

HOW TO USE IT . . . Always keep your Ontario Hospital Insurance Certificate handy, and present it to the hospital Admitting Department if hospital care becomes necessary for you or your eligible dependants.

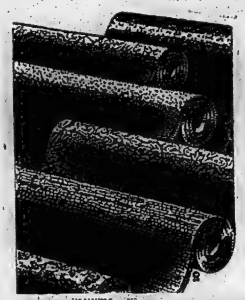
ONLY ONE CERTIFICATE is issued to each Insured Single person and to each Insured Family.

As a precaution, each member of the family should have a separate note of the Hospital Insurance Number for ready reference in case of sudden illness or accident.

WHAT IT DOES . . . Your Certificate and paid-up premiums entitle you and your eligible dependants to essential "in-patient" hospital services in standard ward accommodation of approved hospitals only, for as many days as such services are medically necessary. Benefits cease when the physician indicates hospital care is no longer necessary.

"Out-patient" hospital services are not covered EXCEPT in the case of emergency out-patient care received within 24 hours following an accident.

Hospital services must be medically necessary



Ontario Hospital Insurance benefits cannot be provided for 'custodial' or 'domiciliary' patients i.e. persons whose medical conditions do not justify use of hospital accommodation and services, and who could be cared for at home or in some facility other than an approved hospital.

PREPAID PREMIUMS mean PREPAID PROTECTION

It is important that your Ontario Hospital Insurance premiums be paid on or before the date they are due. This is necessary to maintain a period of prepayment during which your protection will continue if it ever becomes impossible for you to pay your premiums.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

One of the more memorable occasions of the sojourn in Czechoslovakia was the visit to the showrooms of Glass-export, foremost manufacturers of the most exquisite glass-ware in the world.

The McFarlands and their non-playing compatriots were the guests of the company that day in their beautiful St. Wenceslaus Square showroom in Prague.

It was there we saw the famous "Dance of the Moser Snifters." These were beautiful long-stemmed glasses which ranged in height from six inches to three feet manbrowning into bush of varying sizes.

A quick twist of the wrist on an expert and these shimmering beauties spun in glittering circles until they came to the table edge when they would stop abruptly.

They gave forth the tinkling music of miniature chimes when touched with one another. In fact one of the Czech officials gave an excellent rendition of "Alouette" on six of the goblets.

Czech reporters and cameramen were there, flashing bulbs and scribbling impressions.

One of the hometown journalists covering the story confined his column to the metamorphosis of the Canadian players. He could not understand the Dr. Jekyll—Mr. Hyde complex of these hockey players who were "entirely different among glass to what they were on the ice."

Thanks to a Czech friend in Belleville who received a clipping of the story and translated it for us, we learned of the reporter's reactions to the Macs' behavior while guests of their Prague sponsoring company.

"They seem to be self-conscious, yet walked around with confidence," he wrote. "They were dazzled by the brilliant display and showed a keen interest in the beautiful objects they examined. They showed extreme delight with their gifts."

"Dewsbury, the bad man of the ice, was a vastly different person. He was gentlemanly, and acted like a knight of the red carpet. (That's a compliment, indeed, Al). He cocked his head on one side and manifested keen interest in everything he saw."

"Mr. Hildebrand, the small man of the Canadians, was most co-operative. He willingly posed for pictures and especially those taken while he was holding his glass gifts. It seemed he liked to have his photograph taken."

"The most of the Canadians stooped and examined the glass objects closely, but Mr. Dewsbury always stood erect with his head cocked on one side and a pleasant smile on his face."

"Mr. Benoit, it seems, never smiles. He had a serious look on his face all through the visit. He was pleasant but never once displayed his emotions."

"Mr. Bell was darkly good looking and occasionally smiled while he was very quiet. He has features that remind us of those of a famous clown, but there was nothing clownish about him."

"Mr. McFarland, the father of the team was the life of the party. He was generous with his humour and appreciation. He had learned to say in Czech 'Give me a kiss' and he took much merriment from saying it to the girls."

And so he went on. However, what he thought was a dual personality club definitely puzzled the Czech writer. He could not understand how such a group of hard-hitting rugged hockey players on the ice could change their personalities with their clothes.

"Among the glass," he wrote, "they were jovial, cheery and cordial. On the ice they were different."

After the inspection and refreshments, the Macs and others were presented with long-stemmed "snifters" with the press and radio gang receiving those beautiful hand-cut crystal vases. like, Billy Reay and Drury Denyes also received them.

DUFFY GRATEFUL

Booster president Armand Duffy, taking a long breath of relief after the hectic happenings of the homecomings said, "Tell 'em I love 'em all and thank 'em all. I can't mention all the names so I'm not quoting any. The Boosters from Dick Beare and Jim Matthews down were grand guys and gals and I cannot thank them too much. They apparently do not get any recognition or thanks from other sources, but tell 'em their executive thanks 'em and we'll be back again bigger and better than ever next year."

Now Imlach Sees Stanley Cup In His Crystal Ball

Gerry Ehman Scores Winner In Last Minutes of Third; Meet Canadiens on Thursday

BOSTON (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs, the miracle workers of hockey who should copyright the word "comeback," crashed into the Stanley Cup championship series Tuesday night with another glittering victory over Boston Bruins.

The man of the hour in their bid to become a team of destiny was Gerry Ehman, a bouncy right winger plucked by Leafs from the minors in a mid-season trade.

Ehman fired the winning goal, a 25-footer, at 17:27 of the third period, that sent Leafs winging into the finals against Montreal Canadiens. Toronto took the best-of-seven semi-final set 4-3.

Canadiens who rated as favorites because of destructive scoring power they showed during the National Hockey League schedule when Leafs met in Montreal Thursday night. The second game in this first best-of-seven Canadian series since 1951 will be in Montreal Saturday. The third in Montreal Monday and the fourth, if necessary, in Toronto next Tuesday and Thursday.

COME FROM BEHIND

Leafs, as they had done throughout the season, battled their way from behind to win the big game. They trailed 2-0 and 3-2 before they broke through for two goals in the final period.

Ehman, hero of the winning goal and winning goals in Leafs' 3-2 overtime win in the third game, also was on hand when he grabbed a pass from Frank Mahovlich at the Boston blueline and broke Harry Lumley, a magnificent performer during the game.

Ehman ran his total to six goals for the playoffs, his most than justified Coach Imlach's decision to acquire him in a trade that sent Bronco Marshall, a major-league bust, to the American League.

BRILLIANT SPANISH

Boston had a great chance to score in the dramatic minutes after Fern Brain Larry Regan drew a tripping penalty at 17:42. They threw six attackers at the Leafs—Lumley was on the bench —but were dead.

Regan, wearing a cast on a broken right hand, and centre Bobby Pulford, a fast-rising star, scored the other Toronto goals. Left winger Vic Stasiuk and defenceman Leo Boivin tallied for Boston.

Leafs' amazing stretch drive started when they won the last five games of the regular schedule to displace New York Rangers for the fourth playoff spot. They dropped two straight games to Boston in the playoffs, battled back to take the next three, then were beaten in the sixth in Toronto Saturday.

Much of the glory must go to Imlach, who whipped the team into shape when, as Leaf general manager, he fired coach Billy Reay last December and started moving his boys out of last place.

CRYSTAL GAZER

He predicted all along that Leafs would get into the playoffs. He said they would knock off Bruins in six games, then revised the forecast when Boston tied the series 3-3.

"We're going to take the whole thing," he said. "I have no doubt about it. When we beat the Bruins we beat the best. This gang of mine is the best."

"People didn't think we could do it—but we knew," chimed in veteran defenceman Allan Stanley. "They wrote us off when we were in last place and now we've got a chance to win it all."

The Bruins were stunned.

"We were really flying out there but we couldn't put the puck in," said Leo Labine.

Boston coach Milt Schmidt: "They got the goals and we didn't. They played well and scored. We were up and doing everything out there except scoring. And old Lum was tremendous."

LUMLEY STITCHED UP

Lumley made brilliant saves despite a painful injury suffered in the second period when Dick Duff's shot bounced off his chest and struck him in the mouth. Two of Lum's teeth were knocked out—one his own, the other an artificial piece. Seven stitches were needed to close a cut in his mouth.

Harry was spitting blood when he went off for repairs. He was spitting red foam when he returned 30 minutes later but he wasn't weakened. He saved sensationally on a shot by Leaf defenceman Bobby Baun, then kicked out two by Ehman.

Lumley, a 32-year-old native of Owen Sound, didn't have a chance on the two goals that beat him in the final period.

He said in the dressing room: "The mouth hurts quite a bit. But I don't know which hurts more—the mouth or being beat."

He stopped a total of 26 shots. Toronto netminder Johnny Bower stopped 25 either, many of them remarkable.

FIRST-PERIOD FIGHT

The game threatened to get rough but referee Eddie Powers, a late substitute for Red Storey, who resigned Tuesday, clamped down in the first period, collecting penalties. Two starters in Baun and Stasiuk for fighting at 16:38. There was only one penalty after that, Regan's third-period minor.

Stasiuk opened the scoring on a power play at 1:11 of the first period while Labine was off for slashing. Regan tied it up on another power play in the middle period. Two were for chopping down Ron Stewart at the goalmouth—four minutes later Danny Poliziani sat out Lumley's minor.

Boivin's spectacular solo rush at 14:20 of the second period gave Bruins a 2-1 edge.

At 8:36 of the final period, Lumley blocked Bert Olmstead's shot and made a dive for the rebound. Pulford beat him to it and put the puck into the cage. That set the stage for Ehman.

Dutchies Fail to Overcome Dunlops' Early 3-0 Margin

TORONTO (CP)—Time ran out on Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen Tuesday night—just as it is running out on them in their fight for the All-Ontario Senior A championship.

Whitby Dunlops blasted to a 3-0 lead in the fourth game of their best-of-seven final, but Dutchmen roared back in the third period. However the lead was too insurmountable and Whitby took the game 3-2 to pull ahead 3-1 on the series.

As it was, the fighting Kitchener club scored their second goal with only five seconds remaining in the game.

Sid Smith gave Whitby a 2-0 first-period lead. George Samolenko stretched it with the only score in the second.

Bill Wylie got the range for Kitchener's Kenny Laufman and a score.

Outstanding Kitchener - Waterloo stars were Bobby Saunders, former Winnipeg junior brought east by Toronto Maple Leafs last season.

The win for Whitby marked the second time in this series that Kitchener has been behind two goals.

This time, it's all or nothing—either they come back again in Friday night's game in Guelph, or it's all over.

Red Storey Hangs Up Whistle After Criticism by Campbell

MONTREAL (CP) — Referee Red Storey looked forward today to a quiet rest at home, convinced that his resignation from the National Hockey League staff was the only honorable course he would take to retain his self-respect.

"There was a principle at stake, so I quit," said Storey Tuesday night on arrival by plane from Boston.

"I was subjected to unwarranted public criticism by league president Clarence Campbell, the man who should defend his referees.

"What else could I do? I've taken all I can. Somebody had to do it."

Storey was met at the airport by his wife and two sons, Bobby 13, and Duggie, nearly 12. His face broke into a big grin as he stepped from the plane.

TOUGH GUYS

"Maybe I shouldn't say this, but I feel it took guts to do what I have done—more guts than it takes to handle a tough hockey game.

"I had my wife and family to consider, and our future, too. But I knew I did right. I reached my decision after walking the streets of Boston all Monday night.

"I could never work under Campbell again."

Asked if he would consider refereeing football, a job he had in the Big Four league he began confining his time to hockey, he said:

"I haven't the slightest idea about anything yet. I'm still pretty much upset about all this. "I have given up something I love—hockey refereeing—as well as money."

Storey told referee-in-chief Carl Voss he was quitting, then left Boston for home. He was to have handled the Toronto-Boston game wedding up the Stanley Cup semi-final, Eddie Powers refereed the game.

Storey said Powers and referee Frank Udvari, in the past, have been criticized by Campbell.

MIGHT HELP OTHERS

"The way things have been going, it appears is a joke. If what I have done can help some of the younger officials coming up, then I'll be happy."

Near the end of the game in Chicago Saturday in which Canadiens wrapped up the semi-final series, fans went into a near-riot demonstration, protesting that Storey should have called two tripping penalties against Montreal players.

Storey said that following the game Campbell's only reference to Red's work was to the two incidents.

"I told him that in my judgment both Chicago players took dives.

"Then the next thing I know about it is this public statement I read in Boston."

He arrived in Boston to find his wife had left him a message. He phoned her, fearing something had happened to his mother, who lives in Barrie, and she told him Campbell had phoned.

CAMPBELL APOLOGIZED

He then went to Campbell's hotel room where the NHL head said he wanted "to apologize about a newspaper article."

He later read the article by sports editor Bill Westwick of the Ottawa Journal which quoted Campbell as criticizing Storey particularly over two incidents near the end of the game.

Campbell was also quoted as saying Storey "froze."

"I was never so shaken in my life. I couldn't believe Campbell would so subject me to public criticism. He has no license to do it as NHL president.

"I can take constructive criticism from him privately, but this was something else. I think, however, that Campbell hasn't had any particular liking for me for some time; maybe because I've told him what I think."

Referee-in-chief Voss, attending the Leaf - Bruins game in Boston, said Storey's decision to quit was entirely his own.

"I am sorry to see Red go," said Voss. "He was an experienced referee and has been a good one."

Campbell, also in Boston for the Toronto - Bruins windup, called Storey "a good referee" and said he was sorry that Red was quitting.

"If I said I blasted him for his officiating in Chicago it's far from the truth," Campbell said.

"I told him he called a good game for 55 minutes. I was standing behind him to do the final series and go overseas on the New York-Boston exhibition trip after the season."

The question of whether Campbell's remarks to Westwick were off-the-cuff or the record was commented on, both by Campbell and by Westwick in Tuesday's Journal.

Campbell, in a telephone talk with The Canadian Press, said:

"On or off the record was not mentioned at any time. I considered that under the circumstances I would not be quoted. I assumed the discussion was in confidence.

"My only quarrel with Westwick is that he employed a number of statements put together out of context.

"If he is trying to defend himself that the discussion, under the circumstances, would normally lead to a quotation, then his standards are a little different from those I have encountered before."

Campbell said he had no recollection of using specific words, such as "froze" as mentioned by Westwick — "in a discussion of some 20 or 30 minutes, but it says never in this respect Westwick is quibbling."

In his column Tuesday Westwick said there was no question of his comments about Campbell being taken from context.

"The only request made by Campbell about Storey of an official-record basis was respected by me but I would be glad to repeat them if Mr. Campbell gives permission."

Mr. Campbell knew very well that when he spoke to me I was there in the capacity of a newspaperman and not in Chicago for no other reason. . . ."

WILLIAMS OUT OF HOSPITAL

BOSTON (AP) — Baseball slugger Ted Williams, who had been confined to hospital for more than a week with a pinched nerve in his shoulder will be released today. The Red Sox office said he will play Thursday. The Red Sox open in New York Friday. Dr. James Fitz said Williams has been making satisfactory progress but he had no idea when the outfielder will begin swinging a bat again.

Powers Backs Red Storey In Referee Feud

BOSTON (CP)—Eddie Powers, expected to draw the starting assignment in the Stanley Cup finals, today backed fellow-referee Red Storey in his feud with the National Hockey League's top brass.

"I'm 100 per cent behind Red," Powers said.

Powers officiated at the Toronto-Boston game Tuesday night after Storey, a nine-year NHL veteran, resigned and flew home to Montreal because of published criticism by league president Clarence Campbell.

"Red is 100 per cent right in this deal," Powers said in an interview.

"The front office has not backed up the officials this year. We don't work under an ideal situation. Let his record this year talk for itself. There has been criticism of our work and nothing has been done about it."

GIVEN BOSTON RAZZING

Powers, 41, and with three years of NHL service, had his own share of trouble as the Leafs edged the Bruins 3-2.

"We want Storey — we want Storey — we want Storey," the fans chorused midway through the first period when Boston's Jim Morrison was penalized for flagrant bodying of Frank Udvari after being elbowed in a 10-minute misconduct for arguing with Powers. Things tamed down thereafter and only one penalty was called after the first period.

Storey, Powers and Frank Udvari are rated the top NHL referees.

NIXON TO TOSS FIRST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice-President Nixon will throw out the first ball of the 1959 major league baseball season, the Washington club announced Tuesday. President Eisenhower gave up the opportunity to make the opening pitch for a seventh straight season and left Tuesday for a golfing vacation at Augusta, Ga. Washington Senators meet Baltimore Orioles at Griffith Stadium Thursday afternoon in the opener.

Storey's Farewell Dramatic As Was Entry 20 Years Ago

TORONTO (CP)—On Dec. 10, 1938, the name of Red Storey blazed across the Canadian sports horizon when he scored three final-quarter touchdowns as Toronto Argonauts whipped Winnipeg Blue Bombers 20-7 in the Grey Cup football classic. He has been in the news frequently since.

Tuesday, the 41-year-old redhead resigned as a National Hockey League referee after nearly 10 wild years. And his farewell was almost as dramatic as his entry 21 years ago into big-time sports.

Storey's surprise exit came a few hours before he was due to referee the final game of the Toronto-Boston Stanley Cup semi-final at Boston Gardens. He gave up a job that paid him more than $10,000 a year because of the criticism he received after officiating at last Saturday night's Montreal-Chicago cup semi-final.

STORY CONVINCED HIM

Carl Voss, NHL referee-in-chief, said Storey was convinced he should quit after reading a newspaper report quoting NHL President Clarence Campbell as saying he "just froze" on a couple of last-minute plays that gave Montreal a 5-4 victory and shunted the Black Hawks out of the cup picture.

His resignation recalled the words of Mickey Ion, one of the NHL's all-time great referees, who used to tell fledgling league whistle - blowers that the only name person in the building during a game was the referee. Storey now is probably convinced of this.

Players, coaches, team officials and fans have borne out Ion's observations by their antics, particularly at Stanley Cup playoff time when hockey excitement reaches its peak. Everybody, it seems, wants to get into the act.

Losing coaches have a habit of publicly criticizing the work of the referees. Players many of whom have developed reference-baiting into a fine art, do a first-class job on the officials.

THE FANS' METHOD

Fans, like those in Chicago last Saturday night, have their own peculiar method of showing their displeasure at the refereeing. Some fansgell in the gallery at Chicago tossed a bottle on the ice. Another threw a folding chair and two, foolish enough to dash on the ice, were promptly belled around.

Storey, who refereed Big Four football games for a time after his tremendous effort in the 1938 Grey Cup final and who graduated into the NHL refereeing ranks nine years ago after a long term as linesman, is the most immune to the ravings of coaches, players and fans.

Five years ago, for instance, during a Montreal - Detroit cup final, Ted Wing manager Jack Adams announced after the second game that he would quit the league. Red Wings had lost the game 3-1 and Adams charged that Storey's play was scored from the building—was on the Montreal payroll.

Canadiens Out To Win Cup Fourth in Row

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP)—Now that Toronto Maple Leafs have come a-romping into the Stanley Cup final, coach Toe Blake of Montreal Canadiens wants it known that his club hasn't deviated 10 the slightest from its announced aim at the start of the season.

"We set out to win the cup for a fourth straight time and we're going to try to do it," said Blake after watching on television the Leafs' win over Boston Bruins Tuesday night.

If the Leafs think they have the best team in the league right now, that's the way we want to win it—against the best."

Blake said he heard general manager - coach Punch Imlach jubilantly saying, "We will wear them down."

"I hope Punch doesn't start crying, in trying to wear us down by getting penalties. Then we'll have the same old story about penalties hurting or the refereeing was bad or something.

"If the Leafs think they have all right."

More seriously, Blake said: "The Toronto club has been playing with a lot of heart, and that's something that can be hard to overcome.

"But don't forget that our fellows have a lot of gumption too. We'll be ready."

Silently from his TV look-see Blake said he thought Boston was doing well in the third period until Toronto got the tying goal at 2-2. He thought goalie Harry Lumley of Boston was careless in playing the rebound; after that, it was pretty much Toronto although Boston had a good chance when Don McKenney went in on Toronto goalie Johnny Bower.

Canadiens practise again today and Maurice (Rocket) Richard will be there.

Blake indicated he may use the Rocket only on the power play at first.

Jean Beliveau, injured against Chicago Black Hawks, isn't ready to go yet.

Bisons Enter League Finals; Oust Rochester

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Buffalo Bisons advanced to the Calder Cup hockey final Tuesday night by defeating Rochester 3-2.

The Bisons took a three - goal lead and then held off a Rochester rally in the final seven minutes to win the game and their best-of-seven American Hockey League series 4-1.

Gerry Foley and Eddie Kachur scored for Buffalo in the first period. Dick Gamble made it 3-0 early in the second.

Buffalo goalie Marcel Paille didn't have a save for the first 13 minutes and 18 seconds of the final period. Then Rochester caught fire. Terry Gray scored at 13:39 and Guy Rousseau tipped in John Longarini's long shot at 16:27.

Gerry McNeil, the Rochester goalie, left the ice with 55 seconds to go but the Americans managed only one more shot on goal.

Says Campbell Criticism Was "Terrible Thing"

CALGARY (CP) — Mervyn (Red) Dutton, a former president of the National Hockey League said Tuesday that public criticism of NHL referee-in-chief Clarence Campbell is a "terrible thing."

Dutton, now a Calgary businessman, said in an interview:

"I never criticized any of my officials publicly when I was president and I never would. When Campbell took over from me, I told him to back up his officials at all times. I just can't understand him—it's a terrible thing."

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

AT THE BELLE — Gary Cooper, Maria Schell and Karl Malden star in "The Hanging Tree", from Warner Bros. and Technicolor, beginning tonight at the Belle Theatre. A choice program of color treats precede the feature attraction.

AT THE PARK — Co-star Karen Steele draws a head on Randolph Scott in Columbia Pictures' drama of Western revenge, "Ride Lonesome", in Eastman Color and CinemaScope opening Thursday at the Park Theatre. On the same program the showingest, swingingest, singingest affair you've ever been to "Senior Prom", Louis Prima and Keely Smith and guest star Ed Sullivan. Both features are first Belleville showings.

AT THE McCARTHY — Deborah Kerr has a change of pace with her role in "Separate Tables." She plays the part of a rather plain, unready, frustrated girl dominated by her mother. The picture, based on Terence Rattigan's famous play, is currently showing at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre.

AT THE McCARTHY — Starring Cooper, Maria Schell, Karl Malden, Rita Hayworth, Deborah Kerr, David Niven, Burt Lancaster, 2:30-5:30-8:35.

AT THE PARK — In CinemaScope and Technicolor "And God Created Woman", Brigitte Bardot, Curt Jurgens, 1:50-5:35-9:20. From Here to Eternity, Frank Sinatra, Deborah Kerr, Burt Lancaster, 3:45-7:30-11:15.

Astrological Forecast

By CAROLE RIGHTER

Wednesday, April 15

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — This can be a very delightful day for you, both at home or abroad in the world of affairs. See that you remember loved ones with tiny gifts. P.M. smooth the ruffled feathers of temperamental member of family with sweet talk and affection.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — Fine opportunity today to express your devotion to good comrades, and this will bring about some very fine ideas that will prove most lucrative in all, especially so, in the early future. P. M. be most careful in driving and also in speech.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — Excellent day to get all monetary affairs in finest order. Be sure you follow the suggestions received by highest authorities in this realm. P. M. take care you save assets instead of adding to liabilities. Don't revert to old habits.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Dress in height of fashion early, then go about talking with those persons who appreciate your ideas and are willing to help you in the furtherance of your career. P. M. follow every regulation regarding own life and safety or there is danger.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Good day to think of improvement, both in personal characteristics and in surroundings. You can easily get invaluable advice from authorities now, since they are eager to help you. But you must go after it. P. M. don't be sarcastic, temperamental.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) — Fine day to unite your energies with those of good pals and admirers toward some mutually lucrative effort. Respond to their devotion sincerely. Tonight, stay clear of costly entertainment that is not worthwhile.

Libra (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — You can go much farther carefree-wise now if you exude warmth and charm, friendliness instead of being so taciturn. P. M. do nothing to jeopardize your position with authorities.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — Step out of that dull routine today and seek greater achievement in the dazzling active world of progress. Find more lucrative and interesting outlets. Meet new people, those of another country. Expand. P.M. be steadfast.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Pay attention to that intuitive flash which is guiding you as to how you can have more harmonious relations with others. Be less talkative and listen to views of fellow man. P.M. know how to get a new esteem from loved one.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — The best way to show your appreciation for any good associates is by being very co-operative now. Impress competitors with your understanding and wisdom, too, and you gain prestige. P. M. steer clear of one who likes to gossip.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Much can be accomplished today by making a thorough plan of your work and setting up a good schedule. Then, full speed ahead. Also, be more co-operative with fellow workers than usual. P. M. retire early and get needed rest.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Devote any free time now to treatments for health and improve your looks. Have luncheon and dinner engagements that are pleasurable and lucrative. P. M. avoid spending any more than is absolutely necessary. Economize.

If your child is born today ... The delightful child born today is the type who can whittle down all creative expressions to a workable reality. See to it that your youngster has a varied assortment of activities planned, or the interest will wane quickly in any one routine endeavor. The mind is quick and the physical energy great, but guard against propensity for self-pity. Success comes early if progeny is properly guided and trained.
